UNIVERSITY RECEIVES $290,000.00 CUT AT GOVERNOR'S HANDS

Eastern and Western State Normals Suffer Also

WILL PAY STATE DEBT Financial Condition of Kentucky Necessitates Decrease

Governor Edwin P. Morrow, on March 25 vetoed items F and G in the budget Bill passed by the General Assembly, thus decreasing the income of the University for the next two years by $290,000.

The University of Kentucky received the hardest cut at the hands of the Executive, the total of $290,000 of which $240,000 had been added to the budget bill by legislature.

The University of Kentucky is not the only educational institution of the State to suffer by the Governor's veto. The Eastern and Western State Normal schools each lost $54,000 which had been added by the Legislature.

The $200,000 of the University proposed budget bill was to be used for maintenance, construction, and repair of the University buildings. The $90,000 item was for an old indebtedness incurred several years ago.

Governor Morrow states that he would not have vetoed these items had he not been driven to do so by the financial condition of the State and by the tremendously increased appropriations made by the General Assembly. He further states that the budget commission, with full knowledge of the State's financial condition, knowing the source of its income and its output and after having stated fully this financial condition to the Legislature, urged that appropriations be held within limits of their report, yet the Legislature has made appropriations totalling $950,000 more than was recommended by the Budget Commission. Governor Morrow continues, "I am not unmindful of the needs of the University nor its usefulness and I sincerely wish for its growth and progress which it deserves. The only possible way of making it what it should be was denied by the Legislature."

English Club Holds Meeting With Miss Jewell

One of the most enjoyable meetings of the English Club this year was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Miss Frances Jewell on Ashland avenue, when modern literature, non fiction, biography, essays, travels memoirs and letters were discussed.

There was a short talk by Professor Farquhar on "Modern Literature." Miss Amy Allen gave a talk on some new books in the library.

Short book reports were given by the following students: "Queen Victoria," by Ruth Hughson, "The Amenities of Book Collecting" by Myrtle Moore, "The Gentleman With the Duster" books by Amanda Forkner, "The Americanization of Edward Bok" by Lucille Bush and "The Mirror of Washington" by George Taylor.

A delightful social hour followed the program.

PRESIDENT PATTERSON CELEBRATES 89th YEAR

"Grand old Man" Receives congratulations on Anniversary

Dr. James Kennedy Patterson, president-emeritus of the University of Kentucky, celebrated the eighty-ninth anniversary of his birth at his home on the campus, Sunday, March 26.

Although an invalid for several years, the "grand old man" was up in his wheel chair and received a number of the visitors who came in a steady stream all day to bestow upon him their best wishes and "many happy returns". He was the recipient of many flowers and of a shower of letters and telegrams.

Doctor Patterson became president of the University in 1869 and was head of the institution until his retirement in 1910 after forty-one years of faithful service. The length of his service as president is greater than that of any other college president in America.

MISS EDGINGTON GIVES TALK ON JOURNALISM

Interests Students With Suggestions for Reaching Literary Success

"Journalistic success, especially success in magazine writing is a goal toward which many have striven but few have attained", according to Miss Grace Edgington, of Chicago, national organizer of Theta Sigma Phi, Woman's national journalistic fraternity who lectured to the women students in the University of Kentucky Chapel at 11:40 Monday.

This was the fifth of the Vocational Guidance Series.

Though such success is hard to attain, Miss Edgington in a heart to heart talk gave splendid advice to aspiring young journalists. The field was considered from two viewpoints, first, free lance work, and second, straight news-paper work. Under free lance work, Miss Edgington emphasized the personal style of writing as well as originality and material. In cultivating this personal style it is necessary to get into the work, to understand human nature, and to make intensive study of articles written by others, by taking sentences and paragraphs to pieces and by reading the articles over and over.

Another important phase is making the editor believe in the writer. Editors are inclined to take articles only from well known writers. It is therefore necessary to make the editor think that you know your subject and make yourself great in his opinion. Dress, manners, voice, letters, and the fact that the applicant is a steady girl are all important in winning the favor of the editor.

Straight newspaper work is valuable to any journalist. The writer, however must not be content with general reporting but must aspire to a desk position.

In conclusion a story was told of Lucille Sawyer, who proved to the editor of the Oregonian that she was worthy of a position as reporter, but even with the procuring of this position she was not satisfied until she was an editor of a paper in Buenos Aires and is now writing books of her own.

STROLLERS ANNOUNCE LEADING MALE ROLE FOR "THE THIRTEENTH CHAIR"

John Albright to Carry Heavy Part as Donahue, the Inspector

PLAY HERE APRIL 20-21

Art Department Resumes Painting of Scenery

The date, as announced last week for "The Thirteenth Chair" has been changed from March 29 and 30 to April 20 and 21. This change was made necessary by the absence of Professor Carol Sax, supervisor of the painting of the scenery to be used in the play. The place where the Stroller production will be given has not been definitely decided upon, but will be announced soon.

The leading male role, that of Donahue, the inspector has been assigned to John Albright. He took one of the leading parts in "The Admirable Crichton," given by the Strollers last season, and after much deliberation it was decided that he was particularly suited to this part, which calls for a keen interpretation as a character part.

Minor parts have been assigned to: Frances F. Smith who will handle the part of Grace Standish; Ann Hickman as Mary Eastwood; Mary Peterson as Elizabeth Erskine.

J. W. Owens of the College of Engineering has been elected stage manager and will have charge of properties to be used in the setting of the stage. This office was made vacant by George Rouse leaving school.

This year will probably be the first time in the history of the Stroller organization that so much emphasis has been placed on the scenery, but this setting calls for elaborate stage design. In fact the desired effect can be obtained only by such scenery as will fit the nature of the play. Ordinary scenery would not harmonize with the plot and for this reason Prof. Sax is giving his time and talent in order that this production may excel all former productions. Tom Pinnell, Ed Gregg, Eleanor Morse and Mary Lyons and other students of the Department of Art are assisting Prof. Sax in the painting of the scenery.

Rehearsals are being held daily, much time being devoted to expression and interpretation of the individual roles. Every one is thoroughly familiar with his lines and during the latter rehearsals held at the Woodland Auditorium the entire play was gone thru with little interruption. The remainder of the time will be devoted to the stage positions and acting.

After the performances in Lexington the Strollers will start on their annual tour of neighboring cities and towns and those in the western part of the state.

Life is all joy,
One round of laughter;
The night before
The morning after.

My tongue is thick
My head is sore;
The morning after

SECOND CONCERT OF SERIES PRESENTED

Miss Mary Campbell Scott Delights Audience With Vocal Solo

The second of the annual series of orchestral concerts was given in Chapel Sunday afternoon at 3:30. Despite the inclement weather an enthusiastic crowd attended the concert.

A feature of the afternoon was the solo "My Heart at thy Sweet Voice" from Saint Seans, sung by Miss Mary Campbell Scott, and her encore "Annie Laurie." The program included the following numbers: Overture, "Beautiful Galatea," by Suppe; "The Unfinished Symphony," by Schubert; "Melody," by Friml (Selection from Saens); "Peer Gynt Suite" (a) "Morning Mood," (b) "Ase's Death," (c) "Anitra's Dance," (d) "In the Hall of the Mountain King," by Grieg. It was concluded by a group of charming Scotch Folk songs.

The next concert will be given two weeks hence.

STAGECRAFTERS PRESENT "SUCH A LITTLE QUEEN"

Stroller Cast is Guest of Transylvania Dramatic Club

The Stagecrafters of Transylvania College under the direction of Prof. Edward Saxon, head of the department of expression presented "Such a Little Queen" at the Ada Meade theatre Tuesday evening March 28. This is the seventh annual play given by this dramatic organization.

Miss Violet Dewey Young, was entrusted the leading role of Anna Victoria, charming queen of Herzogovian displayed the same rare histrionic ability which she displayed in the leading role of "The Christian," given by the Stagecrafters last year. However this role was much more difficult than the one entrusted her last season, and she excelled in this production. She handled this role with skill and cultural understanding, reflecting both unusual native talent and the excellent training she received at Prof. Saxon's hands. Fritz Leiber, the eminent Shakespearean actor invited Miss Young to join his company for the forthcoming season in the East.

Miss Dorothy Grubbs, a servant girl, furnished much of the comedy of the play and the audience gave her frequent applause.

Among the male members of the cast, Lawrence Ashley, Joseph Ceydeco, Francis J. Simmons, Henry Edwin Shannon were justly adapted to the character parts which they interpreted and enacted with skill of Stagecrafters renown.

Minor parts were admirably handled by Wickliffe Curtis, John E. Moore, Thomas Shephard, Fred Glow, Susan Wallace and Fay Castleman.

The Stroller Dramatic Club of the University were guests of the Stagecrafters for their evening performance. This courtesy was extended to the cast of this season's production, "The Thirteenth Chair," and to the director, stage managers and those connected with this production.

One of the most elaborate affairs of the season was the dance given by the members and pledges of Kappa Kappa Gamma fraternity at the Phoenix Hotel, Friday night, March 25.

The ball room was decorated to resemble a Japanese garden. Ropes of poppies and chrysanthemums from GALLEY SIX, which say colored lanterns were suspended formed a lattice work across the ceiling. Under the illuminated emblem of the fraternity was placed a bower festooned with wistaria for the chaperones to occupy. Hand painted Japanese screens were used for the walls and the railings of the house were decorated with blue iris. An archway of the Japanese flowers and lanterns bordered the balcony where the orchestra played.

The programs, which carried out the idea of the fraternity colors were light blue booklets tied with dark blue silk cords and embossed with the Kappa Kappa Gamma coat of arms in silver on the front leaf. During the grand march led by Elizabeth Kimbrough and James Parks, before the special Kappa dance dainty flower corsages were given out to the girls by Mary Peterson and Frances DeLong and rose boutonnières were the favors for the boys. CONFERENCE ON HOME EDUCATION AT U. K. NEXT MONTH

"It is impossible out of the current income having any regard for the states financial condition to meet the $290,000 increased appropriation given by the Legislature and at the same time provide for the payments of other appropriations. I must face conditions as they exist. I must have due regard for their business."

The University must continue to strive for growth under the adverse conditions which failed to be lifted from it by the lack of appropriations of sufficient funds. It means that the University must continue to pay interest on the $90,000 indebtedness which was incurred several years ago. The building program which must be carried out for the growth of the University is nipped in the bud for the present time by his vetoing the appropriation bill.

The new equipment for the electrical, mechanical, chemical and other laboratories which were anticipated by the students and faculty is no longer hoped for.

The vetoing of the appropriation bill also means that the University will not be able to employ the needed additional instructors for various departments at the present time.

Radio Unites Alumni

Alumni in all parts of the country have taken up the radio phone as an evening diversion and for experimental purposes. Sons of "Old Kentucky" are prominent in the Westinghouse organization where this new development has gained its greatest impetus.

"I had noticed in The Kernel that the Pittsburg Alumni Club would hold a meeting but the date had slipped my mind. Imagine my surprise when I turned on a radio receiving outfit I have, tuning with the Westinghouse station at East Pittsburg and the first thing I heard was 'The University of Kentucky Alumni Club are having a meeting to-night at Glen Avon and have asked us to render My Old Kentucky Home,'" writes Henry K. Marsh '14, who is with the Hercules Power Company at Wilmington, N. J. "We are very glad to do this and our next selection will be 'My Old Kentucky Home' written by Stephen Foster," continued the message. Then we heard very clearly that song which makes us want to go back. It was just as if I had been at the Pittsburg meeting."

Dean F. Paul Anderson has been asked to speak at the East Pittsburg Station next Monday night, April 3, at 8 o'clock eastern time. His subject will be "Engineering and Happiness." It is estimated that more than half a million people hear each of these programs.

Philadelphia Club Meets

A farewell to George Mills '10 and Mrs. Mills was the feature of the Philadelphia Alumni Club's meeting March 18. The twenty-one members present were seated at a long table with a miniature asphalt road running its entire length, one end representing a city was designated Lexington, where Mr. and Mrs. Mills were sitting. At the other end, designated Philadelphia, sat Henry N. Marsh '14, toastmaster.

A miniature steam roller was presented to Mr. Mills and a "tin lizzie" to Mrs. Mills. Mr. Mills was also given a book on "Road Building," in which business he will be engaged in Lexington.

Thornton Lewis read "The Tobaccoer Yap" and "A Friend" by our own Cotton Noe, and then expressed the regret of the club on losing Mr. Mills "but our loss is Kentucky's gain," he continued, "because he is going back to render a real service to the State."

Frank Daugherty '01, presented a humorous monologue on Kentucky roads.—C. L. Templin '19, Secretary.

CLUBS ARE GROWING

Twenty-one alumni clubs in good standing have a total membership of 1221 former students and graduates of whom 424 are paid up members of the Association. The annual spring drive for new members is in progress now in several clubs, notably Lexington. The Kernel will be sent to those paying dues after March 1 until December 1, although the Association year ends June 30. This is to allow more time for renewals for 1922-23.

"I enclose check for $2 to extend my subscription to the "Kernel" and membership dues for another year. I generally read the "Kernel" from front page to back, including all the ads, with great interest. It is very creditable student publication. The editorial in the March 17th number on evolution fight was very good. Living near New York and Philadelphia, I read papers from both of these cities daily, as well as Wilmington papers. All of them have editorially commented on the recent exhibition of the spirit of the Middle Ages by the learned minority of the Kentucky Legislature, but I have not seen anything that so neatly hit the nail on the head as the Kernel editorial."—Guy B. MARCH 31, 1922.

"SIT STEADY IN THE BOAT"

The news that the Legislature had added a large sum to the University of Kentucky appropriation recommended by the Budget Committee was received with joy by the students and faculty of the University. This joy was changed to grief and bitter disappointment when the Governor vetoed the items not recommended by the Budget Committee. Two hundred thousand dollars of this money was to have gone for construction and repairs. The lack of this will make it utterly impossible for the University to expand in the next two years in order to make a place for the ever increasing number of students who are seeking admittance. It will not however prevent the University from giving the same amount and character of instruction as is given at present. The floating and unfunded indebtedness amounting to $90,000 was to have been taken care of also, but the Governor has seen fit to deny that as well.

In our disappointment and in our regret at the failure of our plans, we must not give way to rash statements and to hasty action. We must remember, however much we may differ from Governor Morrow, that he is the Head of the Budget Committee; that he is the Governor of the State of Kentucky; and that he is the chairman of our Board of Trustees of this University. As he states that there is a large unfunded indebtedness hanging over the State, and that that debt should be paid as soon as possible. The Governor chooses to pay off this debt even at the expense of curtailing the appropriations for educational institutions. At a time when the revenues of the State are falling below normal the Budget Commission recommends not only that there be no further indebtedness incurred, but that the old debt be paid. The Kernel means no disrespect to Governor Morrow and other members of the Commission, but it does feel that this is not the year to pay the State debt. A great state like ours can easily pay a debt of two or three millions of dollars, but it cannot afford second rate educational institutions.

SOME STUBBORN FACTS

One of our wise old forefathers remarked one day to his wife who was too proud of her culinary skill, "The proof of the pudding is in the eating." We have never referred with more force the simple truth that facts are better than theories. So we greet the critics of higher education who say that the college youth has lost his religion, with the facts in our school as shown by the great success of the Bible study groups conducted under the auspices of the University Y. M. C. A. Thirty groups were organized, and twenty-one continued through the entire course. There was an average attendance of 312. When we take into consideration the fact that more than half of our pupils are unorganized, and are scattered in their homes and in private rooming houses where it is impossible to reach them, this will be seen to be a remarkable record.

These Bible classes have been a help to the University as a whole as well as to the students. During the evolution fight before the Legislature, President McVey spoke of the success of the classes as a proof that there was no atheism in the University. Dean Boyd, too, has called attention to the wholesome effect of these study classes. For one hour a week the pupils met to study the word of God under the direction of open-minded teachers of their own choosing. The life of the University is better for these meetings, and the ideals of the students are higher.

EDITORIALETTES

The United States has stood long enough for the atrocities in Mexico. We have decided to get even with her at last, and have sent "Hard Bolled" Smith to be a Colonel in her army.

During all this talk about ten-year naval holidays and ten-year athletic holidays, it suddenly occurred to the enterprising freshman that a ten-year holiday in taxicabs, flowers and dinners might be in order.

We have always had a secret curiosity as to the origin of the term "Flapper," but after having seen a pair of the new galoshes worn by the fair sex, we understand it.

HEALTH AND POSTURE

Man was made to stand erect; this is so much of a truism that it seems unnecessary to comment. Yet from the loafer's "slump" to the debutante "slouch," from the desk worker's "hump" to the automobilist's "semi-recline," we see this rule constantly violated.

Parents, teachers, and others for years have taught "toes out." The Indian knew better; likewise does the four year old child. The weight of the body should be supported on the strong outer part of the foot, not the weaker inner side.

In sitting, put the weight on the thighs and bones of the pelvis, not on the small of the back. When standing or walking keep the feet parallel, the legs straight, abdomen slightly retracted, shoulders dropped and held back, head balanced. This makes an erect but not a stiff, exaggerated posture. It causes the chest to expand and minimizes muscular effort on back and legs by balance.

These simple and primitive suggestions outline elementary requirements. They cost nothing more than self-discipline and yield dividends of better health, less fatigue and more symmetry.

CURTAIN RAISER FOR BASEBALL SEASON TO BE PLAYED SATURDAY

Coach Jim Park Cuts Down Squad For Georgetown Game

PLAYERS ARE GOOD

Probable Lineup of Initial Event Announced

Last Monday afternoon baseball coach James Park made his first cut of the season thinning the squad down to a workable size for the curtain raiser with Georgetown to be played on Stoll Field 2:30 P. M. Saturday afternoon.

The men surviving the first blue pencilling of Coach Parks are: pitchers, Jones, Lafferty, Walden, Slomer, T. D. Williams, Fleahman, Neal, Netherton, Robertson, Weingartner, Byrd; catchers, J. L. Brown, Pribble, Stallard, Gregg, Weisenberger, Morison, Truitt, Dismuker, Henry; infielders, Gregg, Pergem, Orr, Brown, Underwood, King, Burnham, Arnold, Rohs, Jackson; outfielders, R. S. Miller, Walden, Beam, O. Jones, Barnes, Tinsley, J. D. Williams, J. H. Johnson, Boren, Sauer.

Owing to a wet field Monday's practice consisted mainly of knocking out flies and the warming up of the pitchers. Coach Park, however, promises plenty of stiff work for the rest of the week.

Monday Morning Coach Park received a wire from Clarence Rowland, manager of the Columbus American Association team asking if he could arrange for the team to practice here, the field at Nashville where the team is now in training, being in poor condition.

Later in the day word was received from Rowland stating the team would not be here.

The Wildcats are fast whipping into shape and are in excellent condition for Saturday's game. The team facing Georgetown Saturday will be unique in that it has at present a one man pitching staff in Captain "Bud" Slomer. This does not mean, however, that Coach Park does not have anyone else to fill the mound position, there being ten other aspirants clamoring for a trial in the box. The Wildcat infield is one of the best that has ever graced the diamond on Stoll Field, while one would have to travel far to find better men than those in the garden plot. The men are all anxious for a try at the Tigers and promise to give them the fight of their lives.

Georgetown, however, is determined to put up a terrific struggle and with six letter men from last year back the squad can be depended upon to make things interesting. By coincidence the captains of both teams will head the fray from the pitcher's box, Bailey of Georgetown being the Tigers' mainstay in the pitching outfit last year.

The probable lineup for Saturday is as follows: Kentucky: Oakley Brown 1b; Burnham 2b; King ss; Pergem or Underwood 3b; Beam lf; Jones cf; Walden or Boren or Miller rf; Brown or Pribble or Gregg c; Slomer p. Georgetown: Berry 1b; Martin 2b; Funk ss; T. Perry 3b; D. Perry lf; Trunnell cf; Beckley rf; Clear c; Bailey p.

ORATORICAL CONTEST TO BE HELD TONIGHT

The Patterson Literary Society will hold its annual oratorical contest on Friday evening March 31. The contest will begin promptly at 7 o'clock, and will close in time for the Alpha Zeta dance. All the faculty and pupils interested in public speaking are invited to be present at this contest.

EMMETT'S EDLETS

Sitting in "Dady" Boles' office the other day baseball Coach Jim Park was discussing with "Daddy" the advisability of ordering another carload of baseballs. It seems that after every practice when the roll is called some of the baseballs have taken A. W. O. L. As the honor system is being used everywhere else Coach Park may use this method in preventing the baseballs from skipping "classes."

The other day the manager of the Model High football team walked into Coach Buchheit's office and told him to step outside so they could shoot him. From the record of the team, which Coach Buchheit had directed along with his many other duties, he thought it ought to be the other way around. However, he was game and stepped out to face the firing squad which proved to be a battery of cameras taking pictures for the Model High annual.

"Daddy" Boles reports that the loving cup donated by the athletic association which will go to the winning class in the coming inter-class meet scheduled for April 10 and 11 has arrived. It is the intention of the officials to make the class meet an annual affair. The winners for the first three years will have their names inscribed on the cup. In the fourth year the class winners the meet will be awarded the prize with the names of the preceding winners affixed and inscribed thereon, therefore, etc.

Coach Buchheit reports that the senior engineers who are making the annual engineering trip may make time and distance trials on April 7 and the points made will count toward the final score in the inter-class meet. The tryouts for the hurdles will also be held on this date, the hurdles of the meet being limited to five sets. Each class may enter two men in the 100 and 220 yard dash. In the other running and field events the number of entrants is not limited.

The inter-class meet will practically take the place of trials for the dual meet with Miami April 22 to be held here. Those who fail in this meet automatically eliminating themselves according to the plan adopted by Coach Buchheit. The seniors and Juniors seem to be well organized for this event and unless the sophs and freshmen make a raffle the honors are likely to settle on the shoulders of the upper classmen. Coach Buchheit urged that the men who have ability along these lines to come out and make try for the meet. Coach Buchheit especially urged the sophomores and freshmen to work up on this event, there being little interest in the meet shown in the sophomore and freshmen ranks so far.

R. L. "Red" Davidson, star discus twirler was made a member of the athletic council at the council meeting held at the Phoenix Hotel last Monday night. Davidson fills the vacancy created by the departure of Ryan Ringo.

An important subject discussed by the Athletic Council in routine meeting at the Phoenix Hotel Monday evening was the project looking toward the construction on Stoll Field of a modern up-to-date cinder track. The University has never had a cinder track on which to hold its contests in track work and frequently has been compelled in the early rainy Spring to give track meets actually in mud ankle deep. The Su-Ky Circle through Warren Clare, student member of the Athletic Council, presented a communication asking whether the Athletic Council would match dollar for dollar an amount raised by popular subscription among the students to pay for the construction of such a track. The Council took it under advisement and will meet a Su-Ky committee for further discussion. The proposed track would cost probably $2,000.

the records of his teaching to follow. Following him today means loyalty to him. We will have to determine which standard of loyalty to Jesus is the best, since there are several standards which are as follows: belief in the creed; living up to accepted standards of decency in the community; obedience to those who have the right to speak in the name of Jesus; having certain moods of happiness and joy in one's life; the entertaining of a vivid hope of the coming of a better day.

"But there in one view which always rings true and that carries with it the accent of love. There were two ideas which seemed to sustain Jesus all the way. Every human being is a child of God with great possibilities, and God is a God of love. And this is the heart of what it means to follow Jesus today. All other elements are strengthened by this. If a man loves God and his fellow beings and serves even the least of his fellow men he is a follower of Jesus."

Dean Thomas Cooper, of the College of Agriculture, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Y. W. C. A. held at Patterson Hall next Sunday evening at 6:30.

CHI OMEGA SORORITY WINS CHAMPIONSHIP

Basketball Stars Receive Silver Loving Cup

The Chi Omega basketball team won the inter-sorority championship Tuesday evening when it defeated the Alpha Xi Delta quintet by the score of 15 to 3. The Chi Omega aggregation had a comparatively easy time in defeating the Alpha Xi five in contrast with the struggle in the semi-finals with Kappa Kappa Gramma.

In winning the championship this year the Chi Omegas become permanent owners of the silver loving cup given by the Woman's Pan-Hellenic Council of the University. The cup was to go to any sorority team that won the championship two successive years. The Chi Omegas won the cup last year, and the victory of last Tuesday evening made them permanent possessors of the cup.

The lineup is as follows:
Chi Omega 15 Alpha Xi Delta 3

STUDENTS ORGANIZE TENNIS CLUB TUE.

Will Hold Next Meeting Tuesday At 4 p. m.

At a meeting of University students in the Y. M. C. A. rooms Tuesday, the University of Kentucky Tennis Club was organized with about fifty members. Roscoe Little was elected president, and Anna Russel Moore treasurer and secretary of the club.

The meeting was called to order by Professor Downing, and Charles Spillman was elected chairman pro tem. After the election of officers the president appointed a committee composed of Anna R. Moore, Robert Barber, and Professor Downing to draw up the club's by-laws.

It is the intention of the club to have an inter-class tournament and possibly to have a varsity team, with contests against other universities.

There will be another meeting next Tuesday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. rooms. Anyone interested in tennis is invited to come and join the organization. The courts have been turned over to the club and those who desire to play are expected to join.

Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. Notes

Mr. M. W. Lante, associate secretary of the General Board of Education of the Presbyterian Church was the speaker at the joint meeting of the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. held last Sunday at Patterson Hall. His subject was "What Does it Mean to Follow Jesus?"

Mr. Lante said in part: "It has been nineteen hundred years since the first disciples gathered around Jesus. Then following him seemed to be simple and easy since it just meant following him. But since his death we have only had

SYNTHETIC GOLD WILL NOT PAY WAR DEBT

Dr. Peter Sees Limited Future for Germany's New Alchemic Process

Dr. R. H. Peter, head of the Chemistry Department of the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station, in discussing the report that a German scientist had discovered a process of making artificial gold, stated that 'Made in Germany' gold may be a possibility, but there is slight chance that it will afford that nation a means of paying her world debt.

At present, the process is so expensive and the yield of metal obtained so small that the value of it would be negligible as compared with the cost, Doctor Peter said.

"Chemists and physicians dare not say that this process is impossible however improbable it may be," Doctor Peter pointed out. "If an atom of lead weighing 207 may be obtained by splitting an atom of uranium weighing 238, it is conceivable that an atom of gold, weighing 197 might be made by splitting a heavier atom of some other metal such as mercury, lead or bismuth, the relative weights of which are 200, 207 and 209 respectively."

"The study of radio activity in the last 20 years, including radium and the substance associated with it, has changed our conceptions of the nature of chemical elements. The old idea that the so-called atoms of chemical elements are ultimate particles, incapable of further division, no longer is believed."

"For instance, it has been found possible to produce exceedingly minute quantities by the action of certain rays upon nitrogen, boron, fluorine, sodium, aluminum and phosphorus. The theory is that one or more atoms of hydrogen, the relative weight of which is one, have been driven out of the nuclei of the atoms of nitrogen, the relative weight of which is fourteen, by the force of the rays. Atoms of the element uranium, the relative weight of which is 238, are believed to break up spontaneously in to atoms of lead, the relative weight of which is 297, atoms of helium, the relative weight of which is four, and of radium and other radioactive substances of small relative weight. Both these examples are of a process of breaking down by which relatively simple atoms are produced."

FRIEDA HEMPEL

When Frieda Hempel, who will appear in concert at Woodland auditorium Tuesday night, April 4 made her debut in Copenhagen, Denmark, last June 3,000 persons were turned away and the second night the house was sold. It is as soon as the tickets could be handed out and a third concert was given as an extra to satisfy those who had been turned away. The prima donna created a furore that has few parallels in Danish history; in fact it recalls nothing so much as the debut of Jenny Lind in America 70 years ago.

The greatest excitement prevailed before Frieda Hempel arrived. Everyone was curious and some people were doubtful for marvelous things had been promised. But she carried victory before her and lived up to her fame. People admired and spoiled her and one prophesied they would only she refused to be spoiled and thousands begged her to return.

The Hempel concert tickets are now on sale at the Lexington College of Music and may be ordered by mail or telephone 639-x. The down town sale will begin Saturday, April 1.

How do they get that way?

ASK the man with the big income his "secret of a success," and you will generally find that it is some copy-book maxim known to everybody.

"Be sure you are right, then go ahead."

"If anything is in your way, go over it."

"Learn something about everything and everything about something."

Trite! Anybody could give you as good advice. It simply means that success is not a problem of discovering some obscure short-cut. The path is plain enough, but only alertness, energy and self-discipline will push you along it.

All this holds a special force for you because what you do at college will influence what you do afterwards. If you start right, the chances are you will finish right.

You can begin now to earn your place in the high-salaried class. Each honest day's work in laboratory and lecture hall will bring you nearer. It will help you to master the fundamentals of your profession —so that later on you may handle problems more easily and make decisions more quickly and surely.

Then and only then, in proportion as you clear your mind of detail, can you give time and energy to those larger questions of policy in engineering, selling, management and finance which fix the executive's market value.

Miss Grace Edgington of Washington, national inspector of Theta Sigma Phi, woman's national honorary journalistic fraternity, spent considerable time during her visit here in the Department of Journalism, where she was particularly interested, as she teaches of journalism at the University of Washington. Miss Edgington was very complimentary in speaking of the work done by this department of the University and had a number of informal talks with embryonic young journalists. Miss Edgington's observations concerning the young woman in Theta Sigma Phi were that they appeared to be young women of marked adaptability to journalistic work.

Davidson, Breathitt county, who was appointed by President McVey, as successor to Ryan Ringo, student representative on the Athletic Council, adds an outstanding figure to the personnel of that aggressive body. Davidson stands six feet two in his stocking feet and is physically well nigh a giant.

Davidson, who modestly declines at all times to tell the story of his achievements in France as a soldier of his country, rendered service so courageous that as a result he now possesses but does not wear the emblem that indicates distinguished service. The story of Davidson's services in France have been frequently reproduced in Kentucky papers.

The new books which the library has ready for circulation now are "The Beginning of Wisdom" by Stephen Vincent Bennett, "Enter Jerry" by Robinson, "Mitch Miller" by Edgar Lee Masters, "Young Enchanted" by Walpole, and "The Book of Mormon," an account written by The Hand of Mormon upon plates, by Joseph Smith. Another book, "Life in Ancient Britain," a survey of the social and economic development of the people of England from earliest times to the Roman conquest, by Norman Aul, is also ready for circulation.

Other books which are being catalogued and will soon be ready for circulation are "Turkey, A World Problem of Today" by Talcott Williams, "Of All Things," wit and humor by Robert C. Benchley, a very entertaining book of travel in Canada, entitled "Down Columbia," by Freeman, "The New World of Islam" by Lothrop Stoddard, "Easy French Plays" by Benton, "Oliver Cromwell" a play by John Drinkwater, "Women Professional Workers" a study made for the Woman's Educational and Industrial Unions by Elizabeth K. Adams, "The Grand Strategy of Evolution," the social philosophy of a biologist by William Patten.

"A Wanderer in Venice" by E. V. Lucas is a book of foreign travel. Mr. Lucas goes into great detail about the art and history he describes, and gives a very scholarly account. In the book there are many colored plates of buildings and street scenes of Venice. "The Alps," described by W. Martin Conway, painted by A. D. McCormick, gives many colored plates of Alpine scenes and much interesting material.

Barth N. Peak, University Y. M. C. A. secretary was named custodian of the alumni student loan fund at a meeting of the alumni association executive committee Tuesday night. He will represent the association on the faculty student loan committee.

Herbert Graham, general secretary of the association, was elected a delegate to the annual convention of alumni secretaries to be held at the University of Illinois May 4, 5 and 6.

Parliamentary drill, under the leadership of Hugh Peal and Mr. McCree, was the chief feature of the program of the Philosophian literary society which met Wednesday evening. The drill such as is used in woman's clubs and literary societies was practiced, and proved to be very interesting as well as informing. The proposed honor system for the University was discussed. Mary Faith Huffaker gave a delightful violin solo.

Many interesting programs have been planned for the coming meetings of Philosophian.

BIG SUMMER SCHOOL SESSION PLANNED BY UNIVERSITY FOR 1922

Classes Offered in all Colleges; New Faculty Members Added

200 COURSES OPENED

Lecture Program Promises to be Good

The 1922 summer session of the University of Kentucky beginning June 26 and running to August 5 promises to surpass all former sessions in size and prominence of faculty, in enrollment of students and in number and variety of courses offered. The cause of this growth is the fact that Kentucky teachers, realizing the advantages of higher education, are seeking it. It is estimated that at least 700 teachers will enroll in the various colleges. Patterson Hall and the new men's dormitory will provide rooms for the summer students.

Besides the program at the University the State Department of Education is planning to establish schools running six weeks or more to take the place of the usual teachers' institutes in perhaps 100 counties. High school subjects will be taught. It is believed that these schools instead of decreasing attendance at the University and normal schools will serve as recruiting stations for them as their students will go on into the educational departments of the higher institutions for advanced work later.

Among the approximately 200 courses to be offered by the seventy-five members of the faculty, which will include prominent lecturers and will represent twenty-five departments of the different colleges, are classes not included in the University's former programs for summer sessions.

The College of Law will offer its initial special summer session. Special courses, principally in the Education Department, will be created for the benefit of county superintendents, who despite the failure of a bill in the last General Assembly requiring higher qualifications for county school superintendents, are planning to attend school in the summer. Experimental education, inconclusive to the old idea that the art of teaching could not be scientifically taught like salesmanship or any other job, will be offered, and it is thought these classes will be crowded.

Home Economics which has been left out of the summer program recently, will be reinstated under the direction of Miss Maybelle Cornell, head of the department. This work will begin with a conference for teachers engaged in Smith-Hughes work during the week preceding the summer session.

The Department of Public Health and the Department of Physical Education, assisted perhaps by the State Department of Health, State Department of Hygiene and Physical Culture, United States Public Health Service, United States Bureau of Education and National Social Hygiene Association are discussing plans for staging a health exhibit. An exhibit such as has been carried out in larger cities will not be possible but plans for the best possible exhibit with the materials available are being made by Wellington Patrick, director of the summer session, Dr. P. K. Holmes, head of Department of Hygiene and Public Health at the University, S. A. Boles, head of Department of Physical Education, and J. W. Carr, state director of hygiene and physical education, Frankfort.

The courses of the art department open to teachers and students of art are worthy of special mention. The Art Department has not offered summer courses in previous sessions.

Besides the new features of the summer program just described, the College of Arts and Sciences, which will play the largest part by far in the summer's work, will offer courses in ancient languages, art, botany, bacteriology, chemistry, economics and sociology, education, English, German language and literature, history and political science, hygiene and public health, mathematics, music, physical education and athletics, physiology, psychology, romance languages, sociology and vocational training.

The College of Agriculture embodying the Home Economics Department has enlarged its work greatly, offering courses in every usual branch of study taught during the regular scholastic year, with special courses in gardening and fruit growing in the Department of horticulture. Special courses are offered in the subjects of clothing, costume and design, home economics and the community, and food and nutrition.

The College of Engineering will teach its usual courses.

Courses of special interest will be offered to teachers in bird and insect study. These classes will include long hikes in search of birds and insects. There will also be special courses for teachers in the teaching of various high school subjects, drawing, painting and music.

The summer session of the University, which has been growing rapidly during the two years immediately past, reaching a maximum attendance of 500 during the summer of 1921, promises to exceed its former record in 1922, making a long stride toward realizing its ambition of becoming one of the best summer schools of the South.

New members who have been added to the faculty to meet the needs of the increased student body are: Dr. Christian A. Ruekmick, associate professor of psychology, Wellesley College, Wellesley, Massachusetts. Dr. Ruekmick is to handle the work of the Department of Psychology, Dr. Miner, the head of the department, being engaged in writing and research for the summer. Dr. James L. Douglas, recently appointed in the Department of Education to succeed Dr. Raymond Stes, is to conduct courses in the field of educational administration. M. E. Ligon, principal of the Ashland high school, is to conduct courses in the field of history of education. Mr. Ligon was last year superintendent of the schools of Henderson, and was formerly principal of the Lexington high school. He is a graduate of the University of Chicago, having taken his master's degree in education, specializing in the history of education. Superintendent Lee Kirkpatrick, of the city schools, Paris, is to give courses in the field of experimental education, and educational measurements. He has specialized in this work at Columbia University, where he has taken his degree. Wellington Patrick, director of the summer session, it also to give courses in education. He will conduct courses in the principles of education and the administration of public education in the United States.

The lecture program has not been definitely arranged. It is said however that a few lecturers have been engaged. Among these are: Dr. P. P. Claxton United States Commissioner of Education, and now provost of the University of Alabama; Dr. Charles A. McMurry, writer and lecturer on education and now on the staff of Peabody College, Nashville; Dr. A. P. Bourland, Washington, now secretary of the Southern Education Society.

In addition the following will probably be used on the lecture program: Mrs. Anna Burdick, Miss Anna B. Richardson, Miss Adelaide S. Baylor and Miss Genevieve Fisher of the Federal Board for Vocational Education, Washington; Miss Martha Van Rensselaer, of Cornell University; Miss Sophronisa Breckinridge, of the University of Chicago; Miss Ruth Lindquist, of the University of Minnesota, and perhaps others.

AGRICULTURAL NEWS

A meeting of the Live Stock Breeders of Kentucky was held at the Stock Judging Pavilion on Wednesday, March 29, for the purpose of discussing sterility and abortion in live stock. In connection with this meeting the committee arranged to have on hand a number of microscopes with which to study the organisms that cause these diseases. At this meeting Cassius Way of Brooklyn, N. Y. delivered an address. Dean Cooper presided and talks were made by Professors W. S. Anderson, E. S. Good, and Doctor Dimock. Lunch was served by the girls of the Home Economics Department of the University.

Doctor Way will visit some of the largest herds in the state and offer his advice to their owners concerning sterile animals.

The extension division of the Animal Husbandry Department is cooperating with the Bureau of Animal Industry in the eradication of the scrub sire and the introduction of pure bred sire in the State of Kentucky. Three years ago Kentucky was forty-seventh in the Union as to the number of sires enrolled, while today the State stands sixth.

An illustrated article appeared in a recent issue of the Weekly Kansas City Star showing the results of Professor J. L. Hurlacher's lamb breeding demonstration that he has been conducting for the last six years. The experiments have proved that much better and more profitable results are obtained from using pure bred sires.

In Selecting a University--

1. The men at the head of the Institution.
2. The Scholastic standing and ability of the Teaching Staff.
3. The location and advantages of environment.
4. Equipment, buildings, laboratories and libraries.
5. Cost.

In all these respects the University of Kentucky Commends itself to those seeking a higher institution in which to carry on their education.
