Berryman & Clay
with } Agreement.
Payne }

An agreement between E. K. Berryman and H. Clay of the one part and Buckner H. Payne of the other part.

The said Berryman and Clay have sold to the said Payne one third of the imported horse Stamboul, for which he has given to them his note for one thousand dollars, and they have delivered to him possession of the Horse.

The said Payne is to keep the said Horse the ensuing year, at his own proper cost and charges, and free from any expence whatever to the said Berryman and Clay; and he is to receive, also at his own proper cost and expence, all mares sent to be put to the said horse, during the seasons in the said year. The price of the season to the said horse of a mare is hereby fixed at twenty five dollars, and in proportion for a leap and for insurance.

The said Payne is to collect all the money what the said Horse earns, but is not to be held responsible for the solvency of the debtors. In consideration of his greater trouble and expence, he is to receive one half of the amount so collected and to pay the other half to the said Berryman and Clay.

Each of the partners is to be accountable for the mares he may put to the said Horse in like manner as other persons.

The parties will mutually agree about the place and terms of keeping the said horse another year and succeeding years.

Witness the hands and seals of the parties this 17th day of November 1831.

Sealed & Delivered
In presence of

H. Clay for himself and for E. K. Berryman.

B. H. Payne

Memo. Mr. Payne is to be at liberty to allow any number of mares of extraordinary blood and promise not exceeding six to go to Stamboul gratis, what mares and their owners he is to designate, upon future settlement.

The expence of a doubling Stamboul, and of getting an engraving descriptive of him, if it be deemed necessary, is to be common to all the parties.
