My Dear Wife

I am beginning to feel quite anxious to hear from you, & shall be greatly disappointed if I fail to get a letter from you to-morrow. I hope the children are getting along well & that you have got rid of your sore throat, but I fear you have exposed yourself in the garden again & increased it.

I am very well, attended high mass at St. Xavier's church this morning, where I heard the sweetest toned organ ^{I ever heard} & as fine a female singer as Margaret Anne. After mass at Father Peckus suggestion whom I saw a few moments on the way to the Cars at Lexington, I introduced myself to Father Hill Head of the Jesuit College who is a Kentuckian & told me his father was a great admirer of mine.
