SCHOOL OF ARCHITECTURE

CHARLES P. GRAVES, Dean

CANDIDATE FOR THE DEGREE OF BACHELOR OF ARCHITECTURE

NAME	ADDRESS
John Walter Wells, Jr.	Lexington

Dean Rudd of the College of Commerce and Dean White of the College of Arts and Sciences presented motions jointly to suspend the University Faculty Rule which states that a student who has been dropped a second time shall not be readmitted to the University and to readmit three persons. The Faculty approved by a two-thirds vote the motion to suspend the Rule and approved the following three persons for readmission to the University:

COMMERCE: Kenneth Burke
Joseph B. Warren

ARTS AND SCIENCES: Douglas Helton Medley

Dean White presented resolutions on the death of John Bond Wells, Jr. with the recommendation that the resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the University Faculty. The Faculty stood for a moment of silent tribute in acceptance of the resolutions.

RESOLUTION ON THE DEATH OF JOHN BOND WELLS, JR.
FOR THE FACULTY OF THE COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

NOVEMBER 30, 1964

Dr. John Bond Wells, Jr. was born in Lexington, Kentucky, January 20, 1923.

He received his B.S. degree, graduating with Honors in Mathematics in 1949, his M.S. degree in 1950 and Ph.D. degree in 1957 from the University of Kentucky. After being awarded the doctorate, he became an Assistant Professor of Mathematics at the University of Louisville where he taught and consulted with several engineering firms. In 1959, Dr. Wells returned to the University of Kentucky as an Assistant Professor of Mathematics.

Dr. Wells served the University of Kentucky, the College of Arts and Sciences and the Department of Mathematics and Astronomy in an extremely generous fashion. He was director of the lower division program in mathematics and director of an in-service institute for secondary school teachers of mathematics. Last summer, Dr. Wells made a proposal to the National Science Foundation for funds to conduct a summer institute for secondary school teachers of mathematics for 1965. This past week the University was notified that the funds are granted for the institute. He was corresponding secretary for Pi Mu Epsilon, a mathematics honorary society, and past international librarian for Mu Alpha Theta, a mathematics honorary society for secondary schools and junior colleges.

He was a member of Phi Beta Kappa, serving valiantly as chairman of the elections committee for several years. He was a member of various professional societies and fraternities: The American Mathematical Society, The Mathematical Association of America, the International Congress of Mathematicians, Sigma Xi, Sigma Pi Sigma, Phi Delta Kappa and the Kentucky Academy of Science. He was secretary of the Arts and Sciences faculty for the past three years.

Dr. Wells was a member of the Porter Memorial Baptist Church where he had been a church school teacher for the past four years.

Dr. Wells served as coordinator of advising in the Department of Mathematics. In addition to this, he served as adviser to a large number of students each semester. Dr. Wells was always patient, kind and understanding with his students and advisees. Their problems became his problems. One thing that frustrated him more than anything else was being unable to work out difficulties that arose in connection with his advisees.

Due to his interest in teaching, Dr. Wells had very close contact with teaching assistants in the Department. He spent a considerable amount of time helping these beginning teachers prepare to face the realities of the teaching profession.

In addition to performing these manifold duties, Dr. Wells found time to help his colleagues in their research. Dr. Wells was a very capable statistician. He was always willing to help those colleagues whose training in statistics was not sufficient for their tasks. He collaborated with several colleagues in research that required statistical analysis. He also had helped the Department in several research projects.

To those who knew him as a friend, he was jolly, congenial and personable. To those who knew him as a teacher, he was stimulating, extremely helpful and always kind. The sentiments of those who knew him as a colleague can best be expressed by the words of a recent colleague who also knew him as a graduate student. The colleague writes:

Professor John Bond Wells was a perfect gentleman, completely honest in his dealings with his colleagues, and utterly devoted to serve the University of Kentucky to the best of his ability. In the many years I was at the University of Kentucky, I do not recall ever hearing him say a mean thing about anyone. He was pleasant, affable, industrious and, in every way, a credit to the Department of Mathematics. I am certain that his departure will be felt by every member of the Mathematics Department and I want to assure you that I share the sense of loss that must be present in the hearts of his many friends.

Dr. Wells assumed a large administrative load in the Department of Mathematics and Astronomy. Moreover, he completed many tasks without the knowledge of the other members of the staff. Only after his passing were his many duties in the smooth operation of the Department realized. This is a prime example of his modesty.

The members of the faculty have lost a friend for whom they had affection. The University has lost an able, devoted associate who put the University first in all of his efforts. In recognition of our loss, I move that this document be made a matter of record in the Minutes of the Faculty of the College of Arts and Sciences; that a copy be sent to the widow and to the Board of Trustees.

(Approved unanimously by the Faculty of the College of Arts and Sciences November 30, 1964)

Dr. Rudd, Secretary of the University Faculty Council, reported that the recommendation by the Rules Committee to change the admission rule for out-of-state freshmen which was circulated under date of December 28, 1964 was still under consideration by the Council and its presentation to the Faculty would be delayed until the next University Faculty meeting.

Recommendation was made that the Secretary, University Faculty, be directed to send a letter to Dr. John Kuiper expressing regret in the loss of his wife. The Faculty directed the Secretary to comply with the recommendation.

The Faculty adjourned at 4:15 p.m.

Charles F. Elton
Secretary
