

RULES RELEASED FOR CONTEST IN PUBLIC SPEAKING

E. K. Extension Department and K. E. A. Sponsor Oratorical Contest KENTUCKY COLLEGES WILL PARTICIPATE

Complete plans, rules, and regulations for the recently announced Public Oratorical contest to be sponsored by the University extension department and the Kentucky Education association were released today by Dr. Wellington Patrick, director of the department.

KYIAN PHOTOGRAPHER

Photographs for the Kentucky will be taken Friday and Saturday until 5 p. m. in the basement of the Alumni building...

PERSHING RIFLES NAMES OFFICERS

Company C, Crack Drill Unit Selects C. W. Kaufman To Act As Commander; Clo Is Second FRESHMEN CHOSEN

GUIGNOL SEASON OPENS MONDAY NIGHT AT 8:30

Complete Theater Orchestra To Play During Run of First Play "WHEN LADIES MEET" IS POPULAR COMEDY

Friday 13th Is Not Dangerous For Everyone

Misfortunes Probably Would Have Fallen Anyway, Says Writer By VIRGINIA ROBINSON

FRESHMAN CAPS TO BE ON SALE BY OCTOBER 23

Styvesant Clothing Company To Have New Stock of Fresh Lids. STUDENT COUNCIL TO ENFORCE TRADITION

APPLICATION FOR DEGREE

Seniors who expect to complete their work for graduation in January, June, or August, are requested to make application for a degree today or tomorrow.

CATS WILL CLASH WITH CINCINNATI TOMORROW NIGHT

Big Blue Unseated Following Victory Over Golden Tornado SHANKLIN EXPECTED IN STARTING LINEUP

SUKY SENDS TWO CHEER LEADERS

J. B. Croft and Lucy Jean Anderson Will Lead Yeas For Cat Fans At Cincinnati SWEATERS ORDERED

Date Is Selected For Fall Festival

Block and Bridge Club Sets November 3 For Annual Agriculture Event

Y.W. RECOGNITION CEREMONY HELD

Impressive Annual Candle Lighting Service Takes Place in Memorial Hall SENIOR CABINET ASSISTS

FIRST "K" DANCE DATE IS GRANTED

Affair Will Be Held The 28th Of This Month, Following the Kentucky-Duke Football Game

Dramatic Circle Plans To Hold Dance On Nov. 4

Strollers' dramatic circle has planned a dance to be held November 4, in the Alumni gymnasium.

FINANCE DRIVE LEADERS NAMED

Committees Are Appointed For Soliciting Of Various Group Funds DANCE PLANS REPORTED

Agriculture Dean Speaks At Smoker

Horchler Addresses Students And Faculty On "Push"

Band To Accompany Cats to Cincinnati

The University band under the direction of John Lewis, Jr., will be accompanying the cats to Cincinnati to give support to the Wildcats when they clash forces with the U. C. Bearcats.

Men's Music Frat Plans Pledging

Phi Mu Alpha To Take In Ten New Men On November 9

Journalism Frat Has National Meet

Wesley E. Carter, editor-in-chief of The Kernel; Professor Victor Portmann, department of journalism, and Albin Parry, member of Sigma Delta Chi, honorary journalism fraternity, left yesterday at 9 a. m. to attend the national convention of Sigma Delta Chi, which will be held October 13, 14, and 15 at Levere Memorial chapel, Northwestern University, in Evanston, Illinois.

Kampus Kernels

Chi Delta Phi meeting at 3 p. m. Monday in the Women's building. Activities and pledges please attend. Important. There will be an important meeting of Alpha Phi Omega at 7:30 p. m. Friday in the Y.M.C.A. room. The Catholic club will have a breakfast meeting at 10:15 a. m. Sunday in the Gold room of the Lafayette hotel. The French club, Le Cercle Français, will meet at 3 p. m. Wednesday, October 18, in the Women's building. Home Economics club will meet Monday at 7:30 p. m. in room 205, Agriculture building. Pledge meeting for the freshmen will be held in the Student Union at 7:30 p. m. Monday in charge. A social hour will follow the meeting.

PLANS ARE MADE BY HONOR FRAT

Keys, Honorary Sophomore Group, Discusses the Selection Of Candidates TO PRESENT FROSH CUP

At a meeting Tuesday night of the active chapter of Keys, sophomore honorary fraternity, tentative plans were laid for the present year in regard to selection of candidates and formulation of a point system. Negotiations have been established with the freshman class, and are chosen for their qualities of leadership, and activities exhibited. In accordance with the new expansion program of Omicron Delta Kappa, honorary leadership fraternities are to present a cup to the outstanding fraternity freshman who in the opinion of the active chapter merits the award, and will be presented at the honor convocation at the end of the year, or at one of the spring social occasions.

CORRECTION

In Tuesday's edition of The Kernel there appeared the story of the appointments of radio announcers by Prof. Elmer G. Sulzer, and the name James Fayer was included. The name should have been that of James Fayer, junior in the College of Arts and Sciences, from Louisville, Ky. The Kernel gladly makes this correction.

The Kentucky Kernel
 PUBLISHED ON TUESDAYS AND FRIDAYS
 Member
 National College Press Association
 Kentucky Intercollegiate Press Association
 Lexington Board of Commerce
 A member of the Major College Publications, represented by A. J. Norris Hill Co., 155 E. 42nd St., New York City, 17; W. Madison St., Chicago; 1064 2nd Ave., Seattle; 1208 Maple Ave., Los Angeles; Call Street, San Francisco.

Associated Collegiate Press
 1933 (INCORPORATED) (INCORPORATED) 1914
 OFFICIAL NEWSPAPER OF THE STUDENTS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY, LEXINGTON

Subscription $2.00 a Year. Entered at Lexington, Ky., Postoffice as Second Class Mail Matter

HERE SHALL THE KERNEL ALL STUDENTS RIGHTS MAINTAIN

WESLEY E. CARTER Editor-in-Chief
 F. FRANK ADAMS Managing Editor

ASSOCIATE EDITORS
 Joe S. Reiser Editor Hamilton
 John F. Day Editor Patterson

ASSISTANT EDITORS
 Virginia Lee Moore Editor Watts
 Jack Wild Editor Woodson Knight
 Arthur Mather Editor

JANE A. MATTHEWS Literary Editor
STARR MENDEL Feature Editor
JOHNNIE BRADDOCK Art Editor
ELIZABETH HARDIN Society Editor
WILLIE H. SMITH Asst. Society Editor

Nancy Becker Eleanor Hillenmeyer
Frances Bush Virginia Bosworth
Lucy Jean Anderson

SPECIAL WRITERS
 Virginia Robinson Lorraine Lepere
 John St. John Naurerie Calhoun

MARY C. TERRELL News Editor

ASSISTANT NEWS EDITORS
 Ed Shannon Ben F. Taylor
 Jay Lucian

REPORTERS
 Mary A. Brand Florence Kelley
 Basil Baker Sig Cash
 Dorothy Nichols Harry Kremer
 Malcolm Shewell Earl Bourgeois
 David Salzer Frank Bortus
 Aleta K. Smith James D. Stephens
 Wallace Briggs Carl Boone
 Billy Arthur Wallace Briggs
 Billy Huston Helen Coffey
 Charles Bennett Charlotte Alford
 Margaret Glushko

J. DELMAN ADAMS Sports Editor
JAY LUCIAN Asst. Sports Editor

SPORTS WRITERS
 J. B. Wells Max Lancaster
 Jack Anthony Norman Gortling
 Carey Burchett Roy Hoeg
 Henry McCowen

NED TURNBULL Business Manager

ADVERTISING STAFF
 Dave Dillard Robert Hall
 Leo Moore

C. V. COPFMAN Circulation Manager

PLEASE

Students who sell, lend or give away their athletic books are forgetting their loyalty to the University.

A spirit of loyalty and a sense of pride in everything connected with the University of Kentucky should be foremost in the mind of each student. It is not a revolting sight to enter the gates of the stadium on the afternoon of a football game and be followed through the entrance by a local "sportsman" who also presents the ticket-taker with a student book. Some student who did not realize what he was doing doubtless sold that person his pass book and in doing so has also sold his University! This statement may seem a bit far fetched, but is, nevertheless, the truth.

The maxim, "of two evils, choose the less," does not apply in this instance. For example, if a personal friend requests you to secure for him a student book for a certain important game, it is hard for you to refuse the request. However, if you do not start this habit of supplying your friends with tickets to the contests, you will not find yourself in an embarrassing situation.

This appeal is directed to the spirit of loyalty manifested by the entire student body in other similar situations. The Kernel is confident that this spirit will prevail in this matter when the individual considers all factors concerned with the selling or lending of student athletic books.

THE WOMAN'S BUILDING

The new Women's building, which was formerly the home of James K. Patterson, president of this University for forty-one years, is now a place for the women students to spend their vacant hours, and spare time. The house is beautifully furnished with modern and tasteful furniture. Miss Sarah G. Blanding, dean of women, had the first idea of converting this old residence into a place for the women students. It was formally opened last spring with a tea.

Various organizations on the campus have their meetings here; such as the Women's Self Government Association, Pan-Hellenic, Mortar Board, the Young Women's Christian Association, Greens, and Phi Beta.

Miss Augusta Roberts, secretary of the Y.W.C.A., has her office in this building. She has many girls stopping to talk to her daily. There are many means for the students' entertainment; in magazines and books, a radio, and a piano. Beginning this week for the rest of the year, tea will be served every afternoon to the women students and faculty of the University in the Women's building. The following organizations will act as hostesses: Monday, Phi Beta; Tuesday, Cwens; Wednesday, Mortar Board; Thursday, Y.W.C.A.; Friday, W.S.G.A. This will give the women students on the campus an opportunity to become better acquainted.

PREVENTION IS EASIER THAN CURE

Many editorials and articles have been written about the University campus. Always lovely, it has been ever more improved during the last year. It creates an atmosphere of quietness and peace. How would you like it, student, entirely transformed into a training ground for soldiers with a warlike, belligerent attitude prevailing?

According to many international figures, who should know what's what in the world, another war is on its way. Hitler is preparing Germany to renew her offensive move for world supremacy. All nations are rushing to build bigger battleships, faster aeroplanes, more destructive armaments. Even talk of peace, usually so much indulged in between nations, has been given up. This prediction does not mean that a war will come in the next year or so, but certainly in the very near future.

Transportation has been developed to the point where it will enable the next war to affect everyone in the world. It is up to the students of the country—the girls and boys in high schools and colleges—to prevent war. It is up to them to create a sentiment so strong against it that their governments will be influenced. Most office holders realize that in two or three years a whole crop of new voters will be at large in the country. If those voters know what they want and what they do not want and hold out for these things, they will get them.

War may be thrilling and romantic seen from a distance, but when it affects a nation it no longer creates illusions of grandeur. This depression was partly caused by the last war. Slowly, the world is emerging from it. Do you want to graduate and look for a job in a world again saddled with war and its results?

Take an interest in the affairs of your country! Learn how you may take a share in the government and proceed to do so! If the older people of the nation will not safeguard it for the younger ones, it is up to the younger ones to care for their own interests. Prepare yourselves to do so, and manly youths feel so strongly that the ones now in command will listen to you. Otherwise, you may find yourselves without a country when the time comes for you to go forth and conquer it.

The number of student autos parked off the campus may be accounted for in two ways: shortage of parking quarters, or just shortage of quarters.

LAUGH LONG—AND LOUD.

Humor, according to the dictionary, is that sense which—well, as we have no dictionary, we cannot very well give its definition. Let it suffice for us to say that humor is that sense by which we know that most of the jokes we hear are not funny. Everyone has a sense of humor, although some people seem to work backwards. Instead of saying that such people have no sense of humor, would it not be better to say that they have an over-developed sense of humor going the wrong way? Or is that too long an explanation?

No two people have similar senses of humor. If they did have, surely once in the millions of times small boys stretch a piece of string across a dark sidewalk, they would trip up someone who would think it was as funny as the boys themselves did. Instead, the "tripper" sees no humor in the situation until the tripper is in his clutches and he has administered his own form of justice. And when the speaker tells a joke he considers funny, surely the law of averages would provide enough people in the audience to create a ripple of applause instead of an ever-deepening silence.

Seriously, for one can be serious about humor, more attention should be paid to cultivating this quality, and less to squelching it. It is the saving sense in otherwise dull personalities. Those people who are popular and welcome in any sort of gathering are those who are witty. If they cannot make wise cracks themselves, they can listen to and appreciate the wit of others. And how people do love to have their jokes laughed at! It all comes back to that good piece of advice which states that if you cannot be an entertaining conversationalist, you can be an entertaining listener. It is easy, however, to overbalance and laugh at people at a time—and perhaps the only time—when they are being serious.

Tolerance is the characteristic most necessary in order to have humor. Nearly everything is funny from some standpoint. Try to see what the other fellow is laughing at and laugh with him, even if he is laughing at you. This has much more effect than becoming angry. If one is in a particularly dignified mood it is easy to grow wrathful at an incessant giggler (or rather, at several incessant gigglers, for they usually come in bunches) but besides adding fuel to their joke, it shows a lack of tolerance. Tolerance and forgiveness are most Christ-like virtues, so let us have more of them. There cannot be too much well-balanced humor, but let us catch the balance, and not turn into practical jokers.

Alphagum plebeite Kay Gover always has two escorts wherever she may go.

Who nominate Starr Mendel as the world's best word-juggler... She can really manufacture those tongue-rolling phrases...

The most popular campus song at the present seems to be "Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf"... Trying to act nonchalant about the bad old wolf of "Depression," eh?

Alphagum plebeite Kay Gover always has two escorts wherever she may go.

Have you ever had anyone ask you to take five nines and get the total of a thousand?... Just try it... It can be done...

We firmly believe that after managing to pull through the last quarter of the Kentucky-Georgia Tech game, we are able to withstand anything, no matter how nerve-wrecking.

Although it is the lowly saxophone against which most of the jibes have been directed, we do wish that that fellow across the street who toots a trumpet so faithfully would blow a valve or something.

Jest Among Us

STUDENTS and FACULTY!
 For Your Convenience

THE
BEN ALI THEATRE

WILL PRESENT THE
KENTUCKY-CINCINNATI

Football Game

Without Interruption

Hear Neville Dunn's colorful, detailed play by play account of the game in the comfortable Ben Ali Theatre. See the feature picture before and after the game.

SATURDAY NITE 7:15 O'CLOCK
 No Advance in Prices

"Plan a Party"

PETITE PIECE

By LOORRAINE LEPERE

It was a dinner party. There were the usual soft candle lights, the sound of faint sweet music, the noiseless coming and going of perfectly trained servants, and about the table were seated the customary congenial group of friends and acquaintances one finds at most affairs of this sort when the season is open in London.

The host was an elderly man who looked to be of middle age, a bachelor he was, and a man of conceded knowledge and wealth. People came to his dinners because of their own selfish reasons: it was an opportunity to talk about the stock, which was entirely satisfactory to the host, who seemed to delight in toying with his silverware or his long stemmed glasses.

Scandal Snickerings

By KAY BEE

Well, folks, everybody seems to be acting too good these days... business is sorta on the rocks...

Alphataomega Tommie Whitley seems to have successfully taken the place of Pink's long-legged track man around the Alphadelta-theta house these days...

A little dog has found his use in this big, big, world... He has become the new mascot for the Kaydees... His keeper is Jane Ann Matthews... This little black and white fellow was a gift of the sheriff of Harrodsburg... The Kaydees seem quite pleased with their new addition to the chapter...

Continuing the list of romances that have survived through the summer—we have Chio Martha Lowry and Sigal Gene Shanklin, Jean Foxworth and Deltaw Bill (Greadhouse), Tridell Margaret Walker and Kay Billy King... It must be love...

Sigal Marshall Mahan must have a weakness for collecting trinkets... He has quite a collection of rings, charms, and whatnots on the end of his watch-chain...

We nominate Starr Mendel as the world's best word-juggler... She can really manufacture those tongue-rolling phrases...

The most popular campus song at the present seems to be "Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf"... Trying to act nonchalant about the bad old wolf of "Depression," eh?

Alphagum plebeite Kay Gover always has two escorts wherever she may go.

Have you ever had anyone ask you to take five nines and get the total of a thousand?... Just try it... It can be done...

We firmly believe that after managing to pull through the last quarter of the Kentucky-Georgia Tech game, we are able to withstand anything, no matter how nerve-wrecking.

Although it is the lowly saxophone against which most of the jibes have been directed, we do wish that that fellow across the street who toots a trumpet so faithfully would blow a valve or something.

PETITE PIECE

By LOORRAINE LEPERE

It was a dinner party. There were the usual soft candle lights, the sound of faint sweet music, the noiseless coming and going of perfectly trained servants, and about the table were seated the customary congenial group of friends and acquaintances one finds at most affairs of this sort when the season is open in London.

The host was an elderly man who looked to be of middle age, a bachelor he was, and a man of conceded knowledge and wealth. People came to his dinners because of their own selfish reasons: it was an opportunity to talk about the stock, which was entirely satisfactory to the host, who seemed to delight in toying with his silverware or his long stemmed glasses.

The hostess considered his watch carefully before answering. The table was entirely quiet. No body dared speak, for it was unbecomingly glancing in what he thought was his own individualism. "A factory that smells of machine oil or flings up great clouds of black smoke into the air, is lovely to the man who designed it—or to the man who owns it—or to the people who are interested in it."

"You're going off on a tangent, man," said the younger one rudely. "What have factories to do with a cynic?"

The host considered his watch carefully before answering. The table was entirely quiet. No body dared speak, for it was unbecomingly glancing in what he thought was his own individualism. "A factory that smells of machine oil or flings up great clouds of black smoke into the air, is lovely to the man who designed it—or to the man who owns it—or to the people who are interested in it."

"You're going off on a tangent, man," said the younger one rudely. "What have factories to do with a cynic?"

and inwardly smile over his guests. Some of them were wont to call him a cynic. And that evening he stepped away from his usual course.

"The conversation was centered around a young writer whose novels dwelled on the ways of the world or the effect of emotion on the soul, but at any rate, he was down on life."

"I am indifferent," he said. "I dare anybody to stir me from my own mould!"

There was a murmur of approval. Evidently the guests were egging him on. They wanted him to make some admissions. So they nodded assent and encouraged him. But the host cleared his throat and asked:

"Is there nothing in life that you love?"

"What is there in life for a cynic to love?" the young man inquired scornfully, glorying in what he thought was his own individualism. "A factory that smells of machine oil or flings up great clouds of black smoke into the air, is lovely to the man who designed it—or to the man who owns it—or to the people who are interested in it."

"You're going off on a tangent, man," said the younger one rudely. "What have factories to do with a cynic?"

The host considered his watch carefully before answering. The table was entirely quiet. No body dared speak, for it was unbecomingly glancing in what he thought was his own individualism. "A factory that smells of machine oil or flings up great clouds of black smoke into the air, is lovely to the man who designed it—or to the man who owns it—or to the people who are interested in it."

"You're going off on a tangent, man," said the younger one rudely. "What have factories to do with a cynic?"

The host considered his watch carefully before answering. The table was entirely quiet. No body dared speak, for it was unbecomingly glancing in what he thought was his own individualism. "A factory that smells of machine oil or flings up great clouds of black smoke into the air, is lovely to the man who designed it—or to the man who owns it—or to the people who are interested in it."

"You're going off on a tangent, man," said the younger one rudely. "What have factories to do with a cynic?"

The host considered his watch carefully before answering. The table was entirely quiet. No body dared speak, for it was unbecomingly glancing in what he thought was his own individualism. "A factory that smells of machine oil or flings up great clouds of black smoke into the air, is lovely to the man who designed it—or to the man who owns it—or to the people who are interested in it."

"You're going off on a tangent, man," said the younger one rudely. "What have factories to do with a cynic?"

The host considered his watch carefully before answering. The table was entirely quiet. No body dared speak, for it was unbecomingly glancing in what he thought was his own individualism. "A factory that smells of machine oil or flings up great clouds of black smoke into the air, is lovely to the man who designed it—or to the man who owns it—or to the people who are interested in it."

"You're going off on a tangent, man," said the younger one rudely. "What have factories to do with a cynic?"

The host considered his watch carefully before answering. The table was entirely quiet. No body dared speak, for it was unbecomingly glancing in what he thought was his own individualism. "A factory that smells of machine oil or flings up great clouds of black smoke into the air, is lovely to the man who designed it—or to the man who owns it—or to the people who are interested in it."

"You're going off on a tangent, man," said the younger one rudely. "What have factories to do with a cynic?"

The host considered his watch carefully before answering. The table was entirely quiet. No body dared speak, for it was unbecomingly glancing in what he thought was his own individualism. "A factory that smells of machine oil or flings up great clouds of black smoke into the air, is lovely to the man who designed it—or to the man who owns it—or to the people who are interested in it."

"You're going off on a tangent, man," said the younger one rudely. "What have factories to do with a cynic?"

The host considered his watch carefully before answering. The table was entirely quiet. No body dared speak, for it was unbecomingly glancing in what he thought was his own individualism. "A factory that smells of machine oil or flings up great clouds of black smoke into the air, is lovely to the man who designed it—or to the man who owns it—or to the people who are interested in it."

"You're going off on a tangent, man," said the younger one rudely. "What have factories to do with a cynic?"

The host considered his watch carefully before answering. The table was entirely quiet. No body dared speak, for it was unbecomingly glancing in what he thought was his own individualism. "A factory that smells of machine oil or flings up great clouds of black smoke into the air, is lovely to the man who designed it—or to the man who owns it—or to the people who are interested in it."

"You're going off on a tangent, man," said the younger one rudely. "What have factories to do with a cynic?"

The host considered his watch carefully before answering. The table was entirely quiet. No body dared speak, for it was unbecomingly glancing in what he thought was his own individualism. "A factory that smells of machine oil or flings up great clouds of black smoke into the air, is lovely to the man who designed it—or to the man who owns it—or to the people who are interested in it."

"You're going off on a tangent, man," said the younger one rudely. "What have factories to do with a cynic?"

The host considered his watch carefully before answering. The table was entirely quiet. No body dared speak, for it was unbecomingly glancing in what he thought was his own individualism. "A factory that smells of machine oil or flings up great clouds of black smoke into the air, is lovely to the man who designed it—or to the man who owns it—or to the people who are interested in it."

lan and May Robson. As a bolster-American Mary Boland is a riot.

"Her Bodyguard," featuring Edmund Lowe and Wynne Gibson, will be on the screen of the Ben All the last part of this week. Wynne Gibson, as a showgirl, has to hire a bodyguard to keep her producer and her "angel" from pestering her. Naturally the bodyguard, who is Edmund Lowe, falls in love with her. It's all grand fun; there is a lot of the typical Lowe wise-cracking, and several show numbers are brought in to doll it up a bit. Johnny Hines turns in a grand performance as the press agent.

Friday and Saturday "Arizona on Broadway" will be presented at the Strand. This show possesses an exceptionally strong cast—Joan Bennett, Jimmie Dunn, Herbert Mundin, Sammy Cohen and Merna Kennedy. Even if the plot is rather time-worn you will enjoy Joan Bennett and Jimmie Dunn, and surely laugh at Sammy Cohen.

Probably the most serious picture of the week is being shown at the State Friday. This is "Song of Songs" in which the leading roles are played by Marlene Dietrich and Brian Aherne. In the picture Miss Dietrich plays the part of a model. She falls in love with a sculptor, Brian Aherne, and is jilted by him. On the rebound she marries a disreputable member of the nobility, only to hit the downward path and be brought back by her sculptor lover. In the supporting cast are Alison Skipworth, Hardie Albright, and Lionel Atwill.

FOUND—Pair of black kid gloves. Name, Elizabeth Brent, inside. See C. B. Coffman or call Ash. 3021X.

LOST—Alpha Gamma Delta pin. Finder call Ash. 4426 or return to Kernel Business office.

at the
LOIS BRONSON SCHOOL OF DANCING

You may begin classes in tap, acrobatic, ballet, ballroom dancing at any time.

For information call
 Ashland 6120
 170 Eppanade
 Elkin-Heering Bldg.

Have one in your locker for unexpected showers. Wear one in the rumble seat... at the football game. Tuck one in your golf bag. Throw one 'round you when you wash your hair. Bright, light, 40 inches long. Weighs only 24 ounces. Orchid, black, white, blue-green, red, brown.

COME TO CINCINNATI

Kentucky vs. Cincinnati
 SATURDAY, OCTOBER 14 (Night)

Then Follow the Crowd to

KENTUCKY-OHIO NIGHT

PAVILLON CAPRICE

The Midwest's Smartest Supper Club

$1.50 per person—includes couvert and supper. Tax extra. During the week $1.00 per person.

CHARLE DAVIS

and His Orchestra direct from New York

MAKE RESERVATIONS NOW

To enjoy "Kentucky Hospitality in Cincinnati stop at the Netherland Plaza. Wm. O. Seebach, formerly of the Seebach Hotel in Louisville and the Phoenix Hotel in Lexington, and Max Schulman, formerly of the Henry Clay Hotel in Louisville, welcome all their Kentucky friends to Cincinnati for Kentucky-Ohio night.

Rates from $3 3 Restaurants

NETHERLAND PLAZA

Cincinnati's Newest and Finest Hotel
 WILLIAM O. SEEBACH, Manager
 MAX SCHULMAN, Assistant Manager
 Directed by RALPH HITZ
 Other hotels under Ralph Hitz direction: Hotel New Yorker and Hotel Lexington, New York; The Van Cleve, Dayton; The Book-Cadillac, Detroit.

The newest place to wear fraternity pins is on the underslip. In that way, the pin of the true love is worn next to the heart and the other boy friends need know nothing about it.

The FAIR STORE

(Incorporated)
 All the Rage!
 THE NEW
Drizzle Cape

Featured at the Chicago Fair

Have one in your locker for unexpected showers. Wear one in the rumble seat... at the football game. Tuck one in your golf bag. Throw one 'round you when you wash your hair. Bright, light, 40 inches long. Weighs only 24 ounces. Orchid, black, white, blue-green, red, brown.

Have one in your locker for unexpected showers. Wear one in the rumble seat... at the football game. Tuck one in your golf bag. Throw one 'round you when you wash your hair. Bright, light, 40 inches long. Weighs only 24 ounces. Orchid, black, white, blue-green, red, brown.

Have one in your locker for unexpected showers. Wear one in the rumble seat... at the football game. Tuck one in your golf bag. Throw one 'round you when you wash your hair. Bright, light, 40 inches long. Weighs only 24 ounces. Orchid, black, white, blue-green, red, brown.

Have one in your locker for unexpected showers. Wear one in the rumble seat... at the football game. Tuck one in your golf bag. Throw one 'round you when you wash your hair. Bright, light, 40 inches long. Weighs only 24 ounces. Orchid, black, white, blue-green, red, brown.

Have one in your locker for unexpected showers. Wear one in the rumble seat... at the football game. Tuck one in your golf bag. Throw one 'round you when you wash your hair. Bright, light, 40 inches long. Weighs only 24 ounces. Orchid, black, white, blue-green, red, brown.

Have one in your locker for unexpected showers. Wear one in the rumble seat... at the football game. Tuck one in your golf bag. Throw one 'round you when you wash your hair. Bright, light, 40 inches long. Weighs only 24 ounces. Orchid, black, white, blue-green, red, brown.

COME TO CINCINNATI

Kentucky vs. Cincinnati
 SATURDAY, OCTOBER 14 (Night)

Then Follow the Crowd to

KENTUCKY-OHIO NIGHT

PAVILLON CAPRICE

The Midwest's Smartest Supper Club

$1.50 per person—includes couvert and supper. Tax extra. During the week $1.00 per person.

CHARLE DAVIS

and His Orchestra direct from New York

MAKE RESERVATIONS NOW

To enjoy "Kentucky Hospitality in Cincinnati stop at the Netherland Plaza. Wm. O. Seebach, formerly of the Seebach Hotel in Louisville and the Phoenix Hotel in Lexington, and Max Schulman, formerly of the Henry Clay Hotel in Louisville, welcome all their Kentucky friends to Cincinnati for Kentucky-Ohio night.

Rates from $3 3 Restaurants

NETHERLAND PLAZA

Cincinnati's Newest and Finest Hotel
 WILLIAM O. SEEBACH, Manager
 MAX SCHULMAN, Assistant Manager
 Directed by RALPH HITZ
 Other hotels under Ralph Hitz direction: Hotel New Yorker and Hotel Lexington, New York; The Van Cleve, Dayton; The Book-Cadillac, Detroit.

SOCIETY

ELIZABETH HARDIN, Editor Phone Ashland 6990

Isn't it strange that princes and kings, and queens that caper in gaudy rings, and common folk like you and me, are builders for Eternity?

To each is given a bag of tools, and hour-glass, and a book of rules, and each must build 'er his time has flown.

A stunting-block or a stepping stone.

Averill-Cox

The marriage of Miss Mary Nash Averill and Mr. Louis Lawrence Cox, II, was solemnized last Saturday afternoon in the Church of the Ascension, with Canon Edward W. Baxter, rector of the church officiating.

Church decorations were of palms, ferns, and white chrysanthemums, and Miss Annie Brown, organist of the church furnished appropriate music.

The bride was gowned in wild raspberry velvet, and wore a hat to match. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

Miss Rebecca Averill, maid of honor and sister of the bride, wore brown velvet gown and hat. Her bouquet was of yellow chrysanthemums and tulle and roses.

Mr. Ernest Clark, Louisville, acted as best man, and Mr. Thomas Page Averill, father of the bride, gave here in marriage.

The bride is a former student of the University and a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma. Her home is in Frankfort.

The groom is a former University student also and resident of Frankfort. He is a member of Phi Delta Theta, and is engaged in the practice of law in Frankfort.

They will make their home in Frankfort.

The following announcements have been issued:

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Page Averill announce the marriage of their daughter Mary Nash to

Mr. Louis Lawrence Cox, II on Saturday, the seventh of October Nineteen hundred and thirty-three Frankfort, Kentucky

Woodridge-Murray
Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Lewis Woodridge, Versailles, announce the marriage of their daughter, Mary, to Mr. James Harry Murray, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Murray, Huntington, W. Va.

The young couple were married Sunday afternoon by Mr. Leslie Clugston, at his home. Witnesses were Miss Jean Campbell, Lexington; Mr. James Gatewood, Mt. Sterling, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Turpin, Atlanta, Ga.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Murray will start house-keeping in Lexington, while they continue their studies at the University, where Mr. Murray is a senior and the bride is a junior.

The bride who is the only daughter of the home, is young and lovely. She was one of the winners in the U. K. beauty contest last year; is a member of Chi Omega and Chi Delta. Phi sororities and Strollers dramatic organization. She attended Rollins College in Virginia before coming to the University of Kentucky.

Mr. Murray is a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity and will graduate in June. Both are socially prominent and are widely prominent.

Rush Party Wednesday
Alpha Theta of Delta Zeta entertained rushes at a cabaret party from 4 to 6 Wednesday at the chapter house, 218 South Line.

The house was decorated with crepe paper, balloons, and serpentine; and a salad course was served to the guests. Dancing was enjoyed, with music furnished by a colored musical group. Miss Carolyn Stewart, chairman of the social committee, was in charge of arrangements.

Active members of the sorority are Misses Gayle Elliott, Carolyn Stewart, Mary Hopper Laytham, Mary Higginson, Margaret Tartar, Billie Irvine, Joan Enoch, Helen Frye, and Virginia Murrell.

Pledges assisting were Misses Katy Woodburn, Mary Neal Walden, Elizabeth Hardin, Miriam Smith, Louise Payne, Edith Denton, Mary Edwards Bouldin, Sarah Louise Cundiff, and Margaret Stewart. Mrs. Sarah Jovett, housemother of the group, received with the hostesses.

Sigma Chi Banquet
Lambda Lambda of Sigma Chi fraternity entertained at 6:30 o'clock Tuesday night with a banquet at the Lafayette hotel. Guests included the active members, alumni, and pledges. Inappropiate speeches and songs were enjoyed during the evening.

Active members of the chapter are Messrs. Walter Alva, Charles Bringerdier, Dodd West, O. L. Davidson, Paul Davis, William Dawson, Erwin Faber, Reynolds Faber, Bill Gotschall, Ralph Griffin, Howard Isaacs, Alvin King, John Lawhead, H. Clay McKee, Donald McGurk, Jack Phillips, William Reed, Howard Smathers, and William Swen-helm.

Pledges are Messrs. Jack Smith, Harold Dotson, Al Halsey, Dean Payne, Walter Rodes, Gordon Sympton, Elvis Stahr, Jeff Baynham, Frank Coffey, Bruce Phillips, Bob Forsythe, Harold Bush, Don Bringerdier, Dick Butler, John Ward, Tom Baker, Bill Boland, Bright Samuel, Joe O'Brien, Tom Cole, Tom Reed, Jim Chisten, Dick Alven, Charles Ryan, and Morton West.

Alumni present were Messrs. William Hansen, Lawrence Grump, Chet Malasky, Wade Jefferson, Richard Clark, Hargis Hughes, Cuba Hardin, Miles Hardin, Wendell Redding, J. F. Van Mefer, Paul F. Anderson, J. Walter Rodes, Preston Powell, Dr. Edward Ray, and Col. Richard Johnson. Mrs. J. B. Louden, house mother, was a guest at the banquet.

Students invited to attend The University Club of Christ Church Cathedral Church and Upper Streets invites you to attend its meeting Sunday, October 8, 6 to 7:30 p. m.

Supper served at 6 o'clock. Kindly call the Cathedral office, Ashland 3210, before

KENTUCKIAN Beauty Salon

PERMANENTS $2 to $8
HOT OIL TREATMENT .75
FINGER WAVE .50
AND SHAMPOO .50
FINGER WAVE .35
ARCH .25

Miss Josephine Stone
formerly of Rose Ann Beauty Shop

Saturday noon. The above notice has been mailed to large number of students on the campus.

Woman's Club Reception
The Woman's club of the University of Kentucky invites you to a reception for the faculty of the University in honor of the new members, from eight until ten o'clock, on October nineteen, at the faculty club in McVey Hall.

Please notify Mrs. Columbus R. Melcher, 104 Cherokee Park, if you will be present.

University Club Meeting
The University Club will hold its annual meeting of the members for the election of officers at 7:45 o'clock this evening. After the session, refreshments and entertainment will be provided.

Epsilon Phi chapter of Lambda

Chi Alpha announces the initiation of Mr. James Richardson, Ashland.

Alpha Gamma Delta held a winter roast at 6 o'clock Wednesday night for their pledges. The Mother's club of Alpha Gamma Delta met Monday afternoon at the chapter house. Misses Balle Stewart and Florence Kelley, and Messrs. Bing Miller, Dick Rankin, and Perry Froman will attend the Cincinnati game tomorrow.

Miss Dorothy Grimm, Alpha Gamma Delta, spent last week-end in Ft. Thomas.

Chi Omega sorority will have open house Friday afternoon for the Sigma Chi fraternity.

It's America's Greatest Shirt Value!

...Trump at $1.95

We want to show you this outstanding ARROW shirt value at your first opportunity. For TRUMP is as smart as a shirt can be...

and as thrifty because Sanforizing guarantees it will always stay your size, no matter how many times it goes to the laundry. In white, colors and stripes, $1.97.

GRAVES, COX
AND COMPANY, INC.
Established 1888

You need starch in your diet!

We refer, of course, to your style diet as a well-dressed man! And there's no smarter way to get that starch than in Arrow's brilliant new collar—The Olympic. A low-cut collar, shaped and tailored with your comfort in mind.

"Follow the Arrow and you follow the style"

Nature's Gift to LUCKY SMOKERS

The Cream of the Crop

It's not by accident that Luckies draw so easily, burn so evenly. For each and every Lucky is fully packed—filled to the brim with sweet, ripe, mellow Turkish and Domestic tobaccos. Round, firm—no loose ends. That's why Luckies are so smooth.

"it's toasted"
FOR THROAT PROTECTION—FOR BETTER TASTE

ALWAYS the finest tobaccos
ALWAYS the finest workmanship
ALWAYS Luckies please!

KENTUCKY

—Now Playing—
"SOLITAIRE MAN"
with
HERBERT MARSHALL
MAY ROBSON
—Starts Sunday—
TILLY & GUS
W. C. FIELDS
ALISON SKIPWORTH
BABY LEROY

Ben-Ed

—Now Playing—
"HER BODY GUARD"
with
EDMOND LOWE
WYNNE GIBSON
—Starts Sunday thru Wed.—
This Year's Greatest
Football Picture
"SATURDAY'S MILLIONS"
with
ROBERT YOUNG
and the All-American Football Stars

Arizona

—Now Playing—
JAMES DUNN
in
"ARIZONA TO BROADWAY"
—Sunday-Tuesday—
SHE HAD TO SAY YES
—Wednesday-Thursday—
HEADLINE SHOOTER

STATE

—Now Playing—
"SONG OF SONGS"
—Saturday—
DANGEROUS
CROSSROADS
—Sunday-Monday—
3 CORNERED MOON
CLAUDET COLBERT

