GLSO NEWS AUGUST 1993

"Don't ask, don't tell, don't pursue." Don't bother.

President Clinton has finally made his decision on where he stands on the issue of gays in the military. After much political pressure and an overwhelming drop in the approval polls, Clinton has decided to propose a policy of don't ask, don't tell, don't pursue.

Under this plan homosexuals will be able to march in gay pride parades, go to gay bars, or attend gay churches. Unfortunately, they wouldn't be able to have relationships, tell friends who they really are, or be free of unreasonable witch-hunts.

This new policy doesn't ask gay men and lesbians who serve in the military about their sexuality, but it also doesn't allow them to talk about it either. The new proposal suggests that by not talking about homosexuality, gay men and lesbians can continue to serve honorably and amiably just as they have done for centuries before.

Unfortunately, it isn't about being able to serve, it's about not lying about who we are. This law would force people to lie and be dishonest. How can anyone think that simply by not talking about something that it will not exist?

This policy is dysfunctional at best and grossly unfair at worst. Clinton's plan would still allow people to be discharged if it is even suspected that they are gay. Anyone who is suspicious or has a grudge against a gay service person could out him or her and have him or her discharged, destroying a career and sometimes, a life long dream and career. If someone reads your private mail and discovers you are gay you can be discharged. It isn't simply about gays announcing their sexuality in the military (which is very rare). It is about not doing anything wrong and having your career ruined.

Maybe Clinton is just being very shrewd and is actually planning on this proposal not working. Maybe Clinton has thought about all of this, and realizing how constitutionally weak this proposal is, he is hoping it will go to the Supreme Court and eventually become a springboard for gays being given nation-wide constitutional protection. Whether this is the case or not I don't know, but I do know that it's more important than ever that you call your senators and state representatives (Wendell Ford opposes lifting the ban) and let them know how you feel. This could be just the beginning.

Kate's Coming!!!

Internationally famous lesbian comic Kate Clinton is coming for a performance here in Lexington. Hosted by UK LAMBDA and Iris Events, Kate Clinton will appear September 18th at the Singletary Center for the Arts on the University of Kentucky campus. Tickets are on sale now and going quickly. Prices range from $13 (seniors/ students), $15 (advance) to $17 (at the door). For tickets, please call the Ticket Office at Singletary: 257-4929.

Diplomacy in Queerdom: A Year As GLSO News Co-Editor

by Jeff Jones

With my dissertation looming ahead, it is time to turn over the reins of the newsletter to new, fresh and able hands: new co-editor Bo Robertson, his partner James, Lisa Scott, B.R. and the ever-able co-editoress Kristin Smith. I am excited about new additions that these energetic souls will add to the newsletter's continuing evolution. Equally, I take delight in being able to direct callers to Bo, Lee and Kristin's numbers: the newsletter can be considerable work.

Despite the work the GLSO News has been at times, I can say I have truly enjoyed this position. I have come to know, appreciate and at times disagree with individuals here in our amazingly diverse community. From a core of individuals, our city bubbles with laughter and concern for helping make everyone's lives better. Some of us wear leather or sequins; some prefer lipstick to Birkenstocks; and some march in parades and some shop together at Krogers. I may stay at home on Fridays to work on the newsletter with my cats while a friend may go-go dance with "wolves" as it were. Although Lexington can surely be said to have cliques that often do not know nor understand each other, there are also many wonderful people who bridge these gaps with humor and integrity. I can only wish the new volunteers an equally enlightening, quirky and laughter-filled exploration of Lexington through these pages. Good luck to this fine group.

To The Editors:

Dear Editors,

I am keeping my name concealed for fear that my opinions may cost me some valuable friends and yes, this is a submission for the newsletter.

I moved to Lexington from Southern California six years ago. I like Lexington and care much for the community, especially the gay community. I care even more about those in our community having to live with AIDS.

To date, I have lost 38 friends. One, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten, eleven . . . thirty-eight good friends.

Six years ago, when I arrived in Lexington, I was struck hard by ignorance and intolerance. Then soon, I saw volunteers, fundraisers, and buddies: people I thought were going to create change. The Gay Community had its ignition key turned. The engine roared, purred and then quickly died.

What happened? Is the token "gay with AIDS" no longer the trendy crowd pleaser? Do you know if he/she is even still alive? Is it so "in control" now that we need not be concerned anymore? Do you think all the social workers and clinicians are doing everything necessary and someone like yourself would just get in the way? When you just don't have the spare time or energy to do anything about it, will you even make it to your friends funeral next year?

Yes, I see a few individuals burning themselves out beyond no return. Some are my friends.

The Gay Community is supposed to be the battlefield of the AIDS epidemic. Lexington! Where are you?

Signed, the trouble with anger
(not "troubled with anger," but "the trouble with anger")

P-FLAG - Lexington!

Plans are now going forward to form a chapter of P-FLAG in Lexington this fall. This national organization, known as Parents and Friends of Lesbians and Gays provides a support system for parents, siblings and friends of lesbians and gays in their effort to understand, accept, and support their loved ones with love and pride. P-FLAG's national office is located in Washington DC and currently consists of 300 chapters throughout the nation.

If you are interested in becoming part of this support group or wish to inquire about it, watch for further details about it in this publication in September. At that time a phone number to contact will be available. If you know of others who might be interested, please share this information with them.

DOT CELEBRATES LESBIAN, GAY, AND BISEXUAL PRIDE

Federico Peña, Secretary of the U.S. Department of Transportation (DOT) is among the first cabinet level officials to support actively the lesbian, gay, and bisexual employees in his department. The Secretary issued policy statements on May 27, 1993, covering diversity and EEO. These statements are historic in that they are among the first policies issued by a Cabinet Secretary that include protections based on sexual orientation. The Secretary defined diversity as "inclusion—hiring, developing, promoting and retaining employees of all races, ethnic groups, sexual orientations, and cultural backgrounds; the old, the young, and the middle-aged; the able-bodied and the disabled; men and women." In his policy statement on EEO the Secretary stated "it is the policy of this Department that no one be denied opportunities because of his or her race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, disability or sexual orientation."

In addition to being among the first cabinet-level Departments to provide protection for the Department's lesbian, gay, and bisexual employees, the Department will be the first cabinet-level agency to have activities to observe lesbian, gay, and bisexual pride. The major event will be addresses by Secretary Federico Peña, and Congressman Barney Frank. The address will be on Tuesday June 15, 1993 at 11:30am in the DOT Courtyard. Other activities at the Department to observe lesbian, gay, and bisexual pride are a lesbian, gay, and bisexual history display in the lobby of the FAA building, a seminar led by a panel from the Federation of Parents and Friends of Lesbians and Gays on June 23, and a seminar on the effect of AIDS on workplace, family and friends led by the Department's Employee Assistance Program on June 30.

Coffee House Fund-raiser

Momma always told you that beans and rice were good for you but did she also tell you that it was also good for your community?

The New Morning Coffee House and Community Peace Center has begun a weekly fund-raiser. Each Sunday night from 6:00 to 8:00pm you can get beans and rice with optional fixings for $3.00 a plate.

This money is shared with worthy groups in town like the Fairness Campaign and CKCPJ.

Everyone is welcome and you'll be helping these groups help you.

NATIONAL GAY AND LESBIAN BUSINESS GROUP FORMED

April 12, 1993 — Twenty Gay & Lesbian professional, business and social organizations from around the nation met recently in New Orleans to officially establish and fund Global: Gay and Lesbian Organizations Bridging Across the Land. These groups represent over 10,000 individual members. To date, more than 40 other groups have asked for information on membership in Global.

Global is a non-profit association of Gay and Lesbian organizations which is inclusive of a broad range of social and professional groups. Its mission is to facilitate communication among its member organizations, support their growth and success, and encourage the sharing of ideas and opportunities for professional development and social interaction.

"Global will create a sense of national community and provide a forum for the leaders of member groups to network and exchange ideas for the betterment of their organizations," said Global co-chair Maureen O'Leary.

"As Gays and Lesbians mature into an established community, with above average median income and education and combined household income of over $400 billion, there is the need for our many diverse professional and social groups spread nationally to join together and realize the potential of our economic clout," acknowledged the group's co-chair Craig Nadborne.

This sharing of management experiences and programs will enrich each member organization and expedite the creations of new groups by their being able to call upon the national association for guidance. Individuals on their business and social travels will be able to participate in the functions of the Global member organization in the city they are visiting. A quarterly newsletter will be provided for participating groups to include in communications with their members. There will be an annual conference of Global that will blend the sharing of ideas, programs, seminars and fun.

DEATH OF A FRIEND

by Steve R.

Montie J. Ham (Monique) was murdered on July 3, 1993. He was acquainted with most of the gay community in Lexington. While we like to think that we know a lot of people, Montie knew practically everyone. He was always boisterous and outgoing—he never met a stranger. He has been called the "Pied Piper" of gay Lexington—he introduced hundreds of people to each other. Montie started Green Earth Landscaping almost 20 years ago. Among the larger interior landscaping jobs he did were the Home Federal Bank in Paducah, the Coca Cola Plant and the Marriott Resort in Lexington. He did much work over the years for Ball Homes. He started Green Earth Florist, and for a while had a retail shop at French Quarter Square. In the early days of the Gay Services Organization (now G.L.S.O.) Montie was a strong supporter. He gave benefits at his home on Rain Court. In the past few years he has been a consistent supporter of A.V.O.L., donating many floral arrangements and services. Montie was buried at Mount Carmel Cemetery in Paducah on July 10. He is survived by a sister, step-father, and 2 step-brothers. A Memorial Service was held at the Bell House last Sunday, with around 100 people attending. Five speakers gave the service along with a minister. A donation of over $300 was presented to A.V.O.L. in his name. Anyone who would still like to contribute should send the money under his name. If the Lexington gay community learns anything from the death of Montie J. Ham, I hope that it is to be more careful and that we all have to take care of each other. We, as a whole, have to love and support every single one of our gay brothers and lesbian sisters. Montie will be missed by many close friends and hundreds of acquaintances.

LLDEF Case of the Month

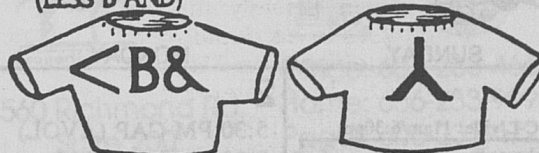

by Jeff Jones

These cases are drawn from The Lambda Update, the newsletter of the Lambda Legal Defense and Education Fund. Gressin v. Slattery -(New York): The New York District Office of the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) rejected a request to reconsider a decision denying Bruce Gressin permission to a Russian child to the U.S. as his adoptive child. INS rejected his claim on the grounds that although unmarried US citizens can adopt foreign orphans, this statute does not cover legally single people who will co-parent with a domestic partner. LLDEF's Suzanne Goldberg is appealing the ruling to the INS Commissioner arguing that Gressin fulfills all legal requirements and that INS has no basis in law or social policy to deny a visa because a child will have more than one functional parent.

Are you a closet Thespian?

If you are, then the women's theater group, "Between the Acts," is for you.

Between the Acts is holding auditions for a new play they're doing this November called, "Coming Soon."

"Coming Soon" is a comedy of errors taken from a book of plays called, appropriately enough, Lesbian Plays 2.

Barbara, one of three original members of the women's theater group, describes the play as "a funny, silly play with a nun in it."

"The play says it all, 'how can an army of ex-lover's go wrong?'" Barbara said.

Proceeds from the play go directly back to Between the Acts in order to produce more plays.

Between the Acts does one to two plays a year, sometimes in conjunction with other women's theater groups like "Athena."

Between the Acts has three officers but lots of people who work on each play. The group has been in existence since 1986 and has produced past shows such as "8X10 Glossy" by Sarah Dreher, "This Broadway Sky" also by Dreher, "After All We've Been Through" by Leslea Newman, and "Dos Lesbos."

Most of their plays have lesbian themes but some deal with feminist issues.

Between the Acts is looking for five women for this production. No experience is necessary and all are welcome to come. Auditions will be Sunday, September 12 in the Main Street Public Library, Room C at 2pm. For more information contact Barbara at 277-3119 or Mojra at 223-9121.

NEW LESBIAN BOOK CATALOG LAUNCHED

Two Vermont women have announced the opening of Heartland Books, a catalog business carrying exclusively lesbian and feminist books. Linda Weiss and Joyce McKeeman, of East Corinth, Vermont are offering a wide variety of lesbian fiction and non-fiction by mail. The 16 page annotated and illustrated Heartland catalog contains 125 book selections, covering such categories as fiction, erotica, biography, relationships, sexuality, health and humor. Linda and Joyce are distributing the catalog free upon request. They can be reached at P.O. Box 1105E, East Corinth, VT, 05040.

Heartland is the culmination of a passionate lifelong love of books by both women. For Linda, a native New Yorker, compiling the booklist has been a treat. "It's been really exciting to discover so many new and terrific writers of whom I was unaware. There's so much variety and talent in our community. For someone like me, putting a book catalog together is like dying and going to Heaven." Joyce takes a slightly different view. "I grew up in Colorado and attended the University of Wyoming in the 70's. The frustration and loneliness of trying to come out in an area devoid of lesbian resources was awful. I would have given anything for a service like this in those days."

The women live and work in an old farmhouse in rural Vermont. They share their home with an assortment of sweet-tempered dogs and eccentric cats. When they're not selling books, they can be found growing vegetables, building birdhouses, planning the new woodshed, and, of course, reading.

LOUISIANA: A lower court has struck down the state's sodomy law as a violation of privacy. It is unknown if the decision will be appealed at this time. NEVADA: The state legislature has repealed the Nevada consensual sodomy law. The law covered only same sex couples. DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA: The House of Representatives stripped DC's new domestic partnership law of any funding. This law would have given same sex couples equal benefits to opposite sex couples legally able to marry. Local Rep. Scotty Baesler voted in support of removing funding.

LOS ANGELES: Openly lesbian City Council candidate Jackie Goldberg won a close race on June 8 to become the only openly lesbian/gay member of the LA City Council. Goldberg gathered 51% of the vote.

DALLAS: Openly gay City Council candidate Craig McDaniel became the second openly gay elected official in Texas on May 29 as the first openly gay member of the Dallas City Council. He gathered 68% of the vote. State Rep. Glen Maxey is the first openly gay elected Texan.

WISCONSIN: With 13 years of courtroom experience, Shelley Gaylord became the first openly lesbian/gay judge in Wisconsin in an April 6 election. Gaylord becomes a municipal judge in Madison.

LONDON: Amnesty International is considering support for the case of Larry Meholick, a former US Navy sailor convicted in 1990 of consensual sodomy and sentenced to 12 years in prison. Witnesses in the case have since recanted, and Meholick has faced mistreatment and solitary confinement in Ft. Leavenworth.

WASHINGTON, DC: Secretary of the Dept. of Transportation, Federico Pena, has issued a May 27 policy statement prohibiting discrimination on the basis of sexual orientation in the DOT. He also addressed a June 15 celebration of Pride Week for DOT employees.

Gay Magazines Not Easy to Find

by Lisa Scott

It seems the news stand has been filled with covers about gay and lesbians lately. There was "Newsweek" and "U.S. News and World Report" to name a couple. There is always a story on the cover of one of those "True Confession" type magazines with a title like, "My Son Is In Love...With Another Man!!".

However, if you are looking for a lesbian/gay magazine, not just one with a gay cover they are not quite as easy to find. Joseph-Beth and Special Media both have a lesbian/gay magazine selection. A few other news stands about town offer them as well. If you are looking for something "different", not found here in Lexington, or so you thought, the place to look is "The Hypnotic Eye". I could easily spend a weeks paycheck in there and probably not get all the lesbian/gay/bisexual magazines and comics they have to offer. (yes they do have gay and lesbian comics!!) Over fifty magazines dedicated just to us. Besides the usual offerings such as "The Advocate", "Out" and "Genre", there is "Invert", a beautiful zine showing the diversity of the gay-lesbian community. "On Our Backs", the magazine for the "Adventurous" lesbian. "Big Ad", a zine for large and lovers of the large gay men. "Girljock": "Leather Journal"; "Lesbian News"; "RFD"; "Round Up!"; I could go on and on.

Whatever your interest, whatever your taste, they have you covered. They are striving to have the largest gay/lesbian magazines and comic collection in Kentucky. I think they must be near that goal now.

GLSO NEWS will be featuring a new column devoted to Kentucky campus GLB organizations. If you have information on the "missing in action" groups listed please contact me at (606) 231-8303 or write to GLSO, POB 11471, Lexington, KY 40575. Campus organizations are invited to contribute information concerning their student group (50 words or less) to be placed in this column each month.

As Gay, Lesbian and Bisexual students and faculty head back to school, the search for G/L/B campus organizations is of great importance. New students need to know that they are not alone on their campus and outing students need the support of their peers.

The following is a list of Kentucky Campus GLB student organizations that appear in the GLSO NEWS directory.
