ABOUT THE LIBRARIES

Library Staff Organization News:

First, some good news...

The Library Staff Organization wishes to welcome Alice Morgan as its new Secretary. Nancy Congleton will leave the staff on August 13 and Alice will take over the responsibilities of Secretary until the next regular election of officers. The officers would like to thank Trudi Bellardo and the members of her nominating committee, Gwen Curtis, Jane Dean, and Mildred Moore, for handling the balloting so expertly.

...and some bad news...

Complaints are being made again concerning the recurring problem of non-existent dishwashers in the MIK North Staff Room. The Staff Room facilities are our responsibility. All that is asked is that you please wash, dry, and put away any dishes that you use. If a glass is simply rinsed and "drip dried" on the counter, it remains there forever. Unfortunately, some staff members simply leave dirty dishes in the sink unwashed. It is not and should not be the responsibility of any one staff member to wash a sinkful of dirty dishes that have been left by others. PLEASE COOPERATE!

. . .and some more good news. . .

THE PICNIC IS ON!!!

Date: Friday, July 30th

Time: 3:00-8:00 pm

Place: Carnahan House (directional map will follow in the next Green Bean)

Persons/families who have not signed up are not precluded from attending, but will be asked to bring their own picnic dinners.

Thanks to everyone who did sign up; it looks as if we will have ample food. We would like to ask that those who signed up for sandwiches to bring a dozen. Please remember that the Staff Organization will only be providing drinks and paper cups. All food and other eating utensils (plates, silverware, napkins) must be provided by individuals. Also, please include a serving spoon if the dish you bring requires one.

NO RAIN DATE, so hope for a sunny 30!

Open Records Law:

A state law dated 19 June requires that records of all state agencies (including the Libraries) must be open to public inspection, and copies must be furnished upon request (and payment of copying fee). The requester must submit a written application to Mr. Blanton's office; any questions relating to Library materials should be directed to Ruth Brown. Although a list of exemptions has not yet been compiled, it is expected that personal and oral history files are two certain exemptions.

One More Call for Guide Revision:

Larry Greenwood is still entertaining suggestions to improve the Guide to the University of Kentucky Libraries, which will appear this fall in a revised format.

PERSONNEL

Mildred Moore's title has been clarified as an Administrative Liaison Librarian, working out of the Director's Office with direct responsibility to John Bryant. Mildred will perform those duties in special projects as those projects are identified and continue to offer supervisory assistance in the branch libraries on a need basis.

Medical Appointments:

Two promotions were recently announced at the Medical Center Library: Sara Leech will be Associate Director; and Janet Stith will be Assistant Director for Planning and Development.

Another New Library Assistant:

Sharon Smith's name was accidentally left off last week's list of new library science student assistants working this summer in Instructional Services. In the fall they will be working at Reference.

Position open:

LT III Cataloging (Medical). Call Bernadette Badini, Ext. 35949.
