My Dear Cousin.

I suppose you will be surprised to hear from me. How are you any way? I am fine. We were all over to <sup>see</sup> your folks labor day. They were all well. I think my mother looks so much like Aunt Mary. She can tell they are sisters.

Clarence I shake you and Eddie meet some time. We haven't heard from Eddie for some time. Owen is still in England and Chauncey is in Australia.

Mother & Dad has been sick. We girls had to go home to take care of them. Then Hettie & her husband came. and Hettie stayed till they were up again. I just can't hardly believe that our baby sister is married. Clarence I want you to write to me soon. I told Aunt Mary I would write to you. But I have been sick and just didn't have time. Oh. say are the girls Betty where you are. I wish you would find you a real Betty little one. for when you come home. The weather here is cool here. The leaves are falling fast. Guess we will soon have frost.

I will have to close. I sure hope you have a very happy Xmas. try to look Eddie up. Here is his address.

Christmas
GREETINGS
From Somewhere in Sicily

Our Christmas here can not be one
Such as those we've passed at home;
Of gifts, of friends, of family feast,
In the days we did not roam,
It must consist of thoughts of you,
Of a Christmas spent before.
Yet just because we're far away,
We think of you much more.

"Ages are to roll by; nations are to die, and nations are to rise and to take their places; laws are to grow old, and from new genius laws are to unfold; old civilizations are to crumble, and new eras are to dawn with higher culture; but to the end of time it will be seen that Jesus Christ stands high above every other in the history of man! "A Name which is above every name" was given to Him-not for the sake of fame, but in a wholly different sense; a name of power; a name of moral influence; a name that shall teach men how to live, and what it is to be men in Christ Jesus."
