שָׁנָה מְזוּבָּה

WHAT DO YOU SAY WHEN YOUR CHILD ASKS "CAN I SING CHRISTMAS CAROLS WITH MY CLASS IN SCHOOL?"

All parents of school-age children and all children age 13 or older are encouraged to attend a Community Relations Committee program to discuss the problems of religious celebration in the public schools. This program will be held at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday evening, September 21, 1982 in the auditorium of Temple Adath Israel, N. Ashland Avenue. The program will provide the community the opportunity to discuss the problems associated with mixing religion into the public schools. Members of the Community Relations Committee will be present to listen to the problems, provide you with answers to some of them, and identify problems which must be addressed on a community-wide basis. Please mark your calendars now and plan to attend this meeting. If you have a specific problem either before or after the meeting, please don't hesitate to call either Marilyn Moosnick (277-3040) or David Wekstein (269-4454), co-chairs of the Community Relations Committee.

IF-

you were sipping coffee on Dizengoff Square - or back packing in the Negev - or just want to know how to - you can learn Modern Conversational Hebrew. Modern Hebrew, a practical every day language, is alive and well in Lexington. This beginner's course, taught by an Israeli with vast experience teaching Hebrew, is designed for those with no previous experience with the language or those who wish to refresh their skills.

Interested persons may call the Community Education office for details (257-3294) or may simply send name, address, phone number, the name of the course and a check for $35.00 (payable to UK) to the following address: Community Education Program, 106 Frazee Hall, University of Kentucky, Lexington, Kentucky 40506-0031.

Course: Modern Conversational Hebrew
Dates: September 15 - November 17
Location: 437 Commerce

Instructor: Edna Shochat
Time: Wednesday, 7:30-8:30 p.m.
Fee: $35.00

TRADITION! TRADITION!

We all know that education is a Jewish tradition - and educating oneself can go on forever.

The University of Kentucky offers a special educational opportunity, the Donovan Program, to all adults over 65.

Through this program any course offered at U.K. may be audited or taken for credit without charge. Scholars enrolled in the Donovan Program may work toward a degree or not, as they wish.

For further information call the U.K. Multidisciplinary Center on Aging, 233-6603.

YISKOR SERVICES

A beautiful spot, a moment of reflection, a time honored custom: the Yiskor Service held jointly by Temple Adath Israel and Ohavay Zion Syangogue.

The annual memorial service that comes before Rosh Hashonah and Yom Kippur will take place Sunday, September 12th at 2:00 in the Jewish plot of the Lexington Cemetery. The service is conducted by Rabbis Leffler and Schwab and they welcome the attendance of all who want to come. Should you wish to participate and you don't know how to reach our part of the cemetery, please gather in the parking area just inside the gate at the Lexington Cemetery on West Main Street and someone will meet you there at 1:45 and lead you to the peaceful spot where we hold our service.
