CATS DOWN ALABAMA IN LAST GAME OF SEASON PLAYED ON HOME FIELD

Southerners Lose Hard Fought
Battle on Wet and Muddy Field.

SANDERS GROUND GAINER

Pribble, Hollowell, Fuller, Colpitts Make Last Appearance On Home Ground.

Making their last local appearance for the present season, the Wildcat eleven forced the famed Crimson Tide, conquerors of Pennsylvania, to take the short end of a 6-0 count last Saturday, in a game which was, despite the muddy condition of the field, replete with spectacular plays that kept the result in doubt until the final whistle sounded.

The contest was the last local appearance of Colpitts, Fuller, Hollowell, Fest, and Captain Pribble in the Blue and White and each any one of the five played a game that was a fitting close to their gridiron career on Stoll Field.

The first half of the game was a punting duel between Fuller of the Cats and Bartlett of Alabama, with the honors about even. The oval was in Alabama territory most of the first two periods, but the Cats were never within striking distance of the goal. In the third quarter the Cats started a march from their own 40 yard marker, and coupling two passes, Fuller to Sanders and Gregg to Colpitts, each good for about 15 yards, with line plunges by Sanders the Cats worked the oval to their own eight yard mark. Fuller then went off left tackle for the only score of the contest. Fuller missed the try for goal.

Immediately after the Kentucky score, Alabama opened up a passing attack that netted her considerable yardage and enabled her to threaten the Blue and White goal line twice, but was unable to make the required yardage when it was needed and lost the ball on downs. The Crimson attempted 22 passes and completed 10 of them for large gains.

The entire Cat team played one of the best, if not the best game, that have been witnessed on Stoll Field for some time and it would prove exceedingly difficult to select an outstanding star for Kentucky. But if one is picked Curtis Sanders, at full is undoubtedly the one to be selected. "Sandy" gained yard after yard thru the Crimson line and was largely responsible for putting the Cats in a position to score. He was the main cog in the defense, making a large number of the tackles, even on the line of scrimmage, and showing considerable knowledge in the art of grounding enemy passes. Captain Pribble backed up the line in excellent form and aided in the pass defense against the numerous Alabama forwards, Bruce Fuller, next to Sanders, was the principal ground gainer for the Cats and scored the only touchdown of the game when he crossed the Crimson goal line with several Alabamians clinging to him. Dell Ramsey at left tackle was a power on both the defense and offense and stopped practically everything that came his way. Bartlett was the outstanding star for the Crimson. His passing was accurate, and with McCartee on the receiving end, the Crimson gained

ALPHA DELTA SIGMA INITIATES NEW MEN

Prominent Editors Speak at Banquet Following Ceremony

Alpha Delta Sigma, men's honorary journalistic fraternity, announces the initiation of five new members: Raymond Kirk, of Paintsville; F. H. Carter, of Somerset; Eugene Moore, of Covington; Dan Bowmar, of Versailles, and Madison Cawein, of Louisville. The initiation which took place Tuesday evening, was followed by a banquet to which alumni of the fraternity and a number of prominent newspaper men in the state were invited.

The members of the active chapter are John Whitaker, J. A. Estes, Emmett Bradley, L. B. Hall, Troy Perkins, Henry Taylor, Arthur Hodges, Herbert Graham, national secretary, and Prof. Enoch Grehan.

LEXINGTON ALUMNI TO BE HOSTS AT DINNER

Transylvania Graduates, Faculty, University Seniors to Be Guests

A number of Transylvania graduates, faculty members and seniors of the University have been invited to a dinner given by Lexington Alumni Club tonight at six o'clock at the Phoenix Hotel. The purpose is to form a closer relationship between the two Universities and between the Alumni Club and the senior students.

Dr. A. D. Harmon and President Frank L. McVey will be the chief speakers on the program. Music for the occasion is in charge of Prof. Carl Lampert of the University.

A feature of the dinner will be the introduction of a number of seniors to the Alumni. A representative from each of the men's and women's fraternities has been asked to bring some senior student to the dinner, in order to get acquainted with the members of the club.

It is hoped that at this dinner a

CHAMPIONSHIP TITLE OF SOUTH TO BE DECIDED BY KITTENS AND RATS HERE

Gridiron Title at Stake in Game
Between Two Crack Frosh
Elevens

WEBB'S MEN ARE READY

Pigskin Tussle Expected to Be Hardest Fought Game on Stoll Field.

The Wild Kittens will occupy the center of the local sport spotlight Saturday when they take the field against the University of Tennessee Yearlings for a battle that should decide the Freshman championship of the South. Coach Webb's charges are in excellent condition for the fray and can be expected to do their part in the bringing of the southern title to the Wildcat lair.

The Rats, as the Tennessee first termers are called, have no mediocre eleven, and boast to their credit victories over many of the best Yearling outfits in the southland, including a 19-12 win over the Vandy Frosh and an 18-12 victory over the Sewanee outfit. The Vol youngsters have a heavy line and a comparatively heavy backfield. The backs are as fast as chain lightning and passers of great ability. It will take all the Kittens have in their system to stop the Rats, but the Green eleven has enough and will use it.

The Kittens have a line that will average about 190 pounds and a backfield with two men heavier than 180.

TURKEY DINNER THANKSGIVING DAY

A turkey dinner will be served in the Cafeteria dining rooms on Thanksgiving Day to university people who are not going to the Tennessee-Kentucky game. Faculty and students are invited. Music while you eat. 12:30 to 1:30. 50c a plate.

GIRL SCOUT LEADER TO ARRIVE THIS WEEK

Will Begin Class in Leadership For Girl Scouts.

Miss Elizabeth Haney, director of the Girl Scout Leadership Course, arrives on the campus the latter part of the week to conduct the training classes to be held on the campus beginning next Monday, under the management of the Physical Training Department. A large number of girls are expected to enroll for the classes and derive the benefits of training in leadership from them.

A meeting of the mothers of the students of the University of Kentucky was held in the Little Theatre with women faculty yesterday afternoon to discuss matters of common interest. A tea in the Rest Room given by Dean Jewell followed.

DR. McVEY HONORED BY STATE UNIVERSITY BODY

Was Elected Head of American
Body of State Universities.

President Frank L. McVey returned Thursday night from Washington, where he received the distinguished honor of election to the presidency of the American Association of State Universities, the highest office within the gift of those institutions.

President McVey's election represents a promotion in official rank from the office of secretary and treasurer of this organization, which he has held for several years. It is an honor that is rare, and by reason of that fact the University of Kentucky is duly proud of the unique distinction—a distinction that has never yet been awarded without merit. This honor has been accorded only to the outstanding educators of America, and the selection of Doctor McVey is but additional gratifying evidence of his outstanding prominence in the field

PETITION CIRCULATED IN BATTALION ASKING FOR MORE SPACE IN ANNUAL

Four Pages Given to Military Department in Place of Eight.

ENTIRE BODY HAS SIGNED

President May Be Asked to Intercede With Staff of 1923
Kentuckian

During the last week a petition has been circulated among the members of the Battalion, for the signature of its members, asking the President to intercede for them, with the staff of the Kentuckian. The Military Department has been given four pages in the 1923 annual in place of the eight they received last year and in previous years.

The petition was signed by all the members of the Battalion.

The petition follows:

We, the undersigned members of the R. O. T. C. of the University of Kentucky, respectfully submit the following petition to the President of the University with the request that he consider the facts presented herewith and exercise his good offices in an effort to secure for the petitioners a reasonable and adequate allocation of space for featuring R. O. T. C. activities in the University Year Book, The Kentuckian, for 1922-1923.

The issue has been created by the announced policy of the Kentuckian to reduce the space devoted to R. O. T. C. affairs to one half that provided in previous years. We regard this decision as arbitrary and unfair. Moreover the question of sales on which our annual largely depends for successful publication, might be seriously compromised, should the management persist in its untenable position against the wishes of the collective membership of the largest and one of the most active Departments of the university.

The petitioners wish to emphasize and make clear at this point their position which is not to obtain additional space in the annual in spite of the large increase in the R. O. T. C. unit, but to maintain that which by precedent and tradition has heretofore been readily granted. We feel that in consideration of the splendid growth and increased interest manifested in our organization in recent years, that it stands today a vital factor in our university life and deserves the loyal and generous support of the men in whose hands we have entrusted the matter of publishing the history of the University for the year.

In submitting our case, we invite the attention to the following facts:

(a) Our enrollment is the largest in history having exceeded six hundred. Six hundred potential subscribers want adequate space provided.

(b) Our membership is recruited from every college in the University and is entirely representative of the student body.

(c) We protest against the action of the management in reducing our space at a time that our enrollment so materially increases.

(d) Our unit is making good. We have received the commendation of inspectors and the corps area commander. We are advertising the University.

(e) It seems reasonably certain that we will be inspected for distinguished classification this year, in view of recent correspondence between the 5th corps area headquarters and the head of our military department. One of the points stressed by the General Staff Inspecting Board is the support and co-operation accorded the R. O. T. C. unit by the University as a whole. If we are to put Kentucky in the distinguished college class, we must have the loyal support of all campus organizations, including the Kentuckian.

(f) The proposed four pages is absolutely insufficient to properly rep-

From New York City and from Spain have come two epistles from alumni describing "the Kentucky man." Attributes brought out in the answers of the alumni to a questionnaire sent out several weeks ago in the Kernel have sometimes described the writer's ideal. In others they were the pronouncement of an opinion formed from passionless analysis.

The concurrent ideas of these two distant alumni may be summarized briefly: "Kentucky men take what they have and make it do the work."

The resourcefulness, daring and the high moral courage that makes for the success of the true son of "Kentucky" is plainly pictured here.

Holding firm to a belief that the University of Kentucky trains its men and women so as to strengthen these qualities, alumni everywhere have spoken the word with such conviction that more and more is the best type of young manhood and young womanhood attracted to the University from other states and countries as well as all parts of Kentucky.

The University of Kentucky, as such, is the youngest of the institutions for higher education in the state, but it has far outstripped the rest. A purpose to serve the whole state characteristic of the alumni is typical of the institution itself with its varied curricula. Let the good work go on.

o-o-o

Chicagoans Change Plans

The Chicago club has departed from its rule to have only monthly stag luncheons and will have a more varied program in deference to the alumnae and the wives of members who have indicated a strong desire to have a definite part in their work.

Speakers from the faculty of the University will be available in larger numbers and more frequently for the meetings of alumni clubs, especially in Kentucky.

o-o-o

GET MORE PUBLICITY

Alumni Influence is Seen in Favorable Stand of Press.

More frequent and complimentary references to the University in newspapers of the state is attributed to the influence of alumni on the staff of leading newspapers and the news services and to the frequent communications from alumni generally to the editors. In the last few days the Alumni Secretary has received copies of a number of letters addressed to editors in Kentucky and other states, emphasizing the right of the University to greater recognition.

There is no other association of alumni in Kentucky with as many members or as many local clubs. Few other institutions in the South have an alumni body as active.

o-o-o

You Made It So.

Interest of former students in The Kernel and the Alumni page has trebled in the last three months. Typical of this is the following note:

"The Alumni page is full of vitamins and is more interesting than whole wheat or rye."—Margaret Tuttle, '19.

This new value and interest is attributed solely to the alumni, who, by their contributions have made it so.

o-o-o

PROGRAMS VARIED

Local Clubs Indicate Universality of Interests.

Programs of meetings for Alumni Clubs have showed a marked change, denoting a broad interest on the part of alumni and a conclusion that the interests of the University are coincident with the best interests of the state-at-large.

Leading workers for other institutions have been invited to have a part in the program of the local clubs and in some instances their alumni have been invited to joint meetings. The Lexington Alumni Club, in its observance of Kentucky Day, postponed to November 24 on account of the death of Dean W. T. Lafferty, invited alumni and faculty of Transylvania College to attend in honor of their president, Dr. A. D. Harmon, who will be one of the principal speakers.

The New York club has inaugurated a series of monthly stag luncheons with an address by Dean Hughes, of the Harvard School of Engineering, opening the series.

o-o-o

Organize in Somerset.

"The spirit moved, the S. O. S. was sent out and thirteen responded to the call and met at my home in Somerset Friday eve. No permanent organization was perfected but temporary officers were selected to serve until Friday, December first, when a dinner will be served and a Kentucky Alumni Club formed. We expect to start with a fairly good membership as there was such good feeling manifested at the first get-together meeting."—V. D. Roberts '05.

They Prayed.

"In the humble opinion of the writer, the banner displayed November 4, 'Let's make Centre pray,' was an unfortunate selection. To quote the Kernel of Nov. 10, 'The Colonels came back into the game in the second half a new team and in sixteen plays bucked over for a touchdown.' 'Let us keep alive the spirit of reverence and devotion we had among the student body when Professor Roark was so deeply interested in the spiritual welfare of the students. Get the student body to pray secretly each day, for the mind to be in them, which was also in Christ Jesus' and with this end in view, why not print a verse from the 'Great Light,' the Bible, each week. Let us begin with Proverbs 15-29, 'The Lord is far from the wicked; but he heareth the prayer of the righteous.' H. H. '05.

Major Walter C. Gullion, -ex, Adjutant General's department, Fort Hamilton, N. Y., has been ordered to Tien Tsin, as commander of the American Expeditionary Forces in China.

Fred Houston Shaw, '21, was a visitor in the alumni office this week en route to St. Louis, Mo., where he will be connected with the Armstrong Cork & Insulating Co., 204 So. Third St. He has been with this company ever since graduating, in their Pittsburgh office.

Old friends were re-united last week when Henry T. (Doc) Hardin and David Kahn -ex, both of '14 met to visit old and new friends around the campus. Mr. Hardin was accompanied by his wife and his brother, Edw. E. Hardin '20. The Hardins are making a success in Evansville, Ind., senior and junior members of the law firm of Hardin & Hardin. Paul E. Ashby, '22, is with them. "Doc" recently was elected commonwealth's attorney, first judicial district of Indiana. Mr. Kahn is an oil operator, 1157 Lafayette street, Denver, Colo.

The wedding of Miss Mabel Claire Huston and William K. Adams was solemnized Thursday, November 16, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Nutter, on South Limestone street. Mr. Adams is a member of the class of '18 and is connected with the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, of Akron, O. After a short wedding trip they will be at home at 791 Kenyon street, Akron, Ohio.

Dr. Thomas H. Morgan, '86, was made an honorary member of the Dutch Zoological Society upon the occasion of the celebration of their 50th anniversary. Dr. Morgan is on the staff of Columbia University, New York City.

Henry Pope, '05, died October 20, after an illness of two years. He left a little son, Henry Dobbs Pope. Mr. Pope had recently been connected with the Kentucky Rock Asphalt Co., at Asphalt, Ky.

Shoes. Which kind gets you there the quickest?

TWO college men were walking down the road, when a classmate whizzed by in his car.

"Pretty soft!" sighed one.

Said the other, "I'll show him: Some day I'll own a car that's got his stopped thirty ways."

The more some men want a thing, the harder they work to get it. And the time to start working—such men at college know—is right now.

All question of classroom honors aside, men would make college count for more if they realized this fact: You can buy a text book for two or three dollars, but you can sell it for as many thousand—once you have digested the contents.

This is worth remembering, should you be inclined to the self-pity which social comparisons sometimes cause. And anyway, these distinctions are bound to be felt, even though your college authorities bar certain luxuries as undemocratic—as perhaps they are.

The philosophy that will carry you through is this: "My day will come—and the more work I crowd into these four years, the quicker I'll make good."

VANITY OR PUBLICITY

The attention of the Kernel has been called to the fact that there is now being circulated among the members of the University battalion a petition, which when signed by a certain number of cadets, will boycott the sale of the 1923 Kentuckian, unless that publication will agree to give them free of charge, eight pages in its year book. The petition as it now stands and as read by Major Tucker before the various cadet companies this week is in the nature of an appeal to the President to exert his influence in obtaining the desired number of pages free of cost. If the petition is disregarded, the next step, we are reliably informed, will be in the nature of a movement generally confined to children or at least the hopelessly unsophisticated—that is to boycott as nearly as possible the sale of the Kentucky. A measure which is so crude and so unbecoming to well bred folk that the Kernel and its staff prefer to believe that the instigators of it are not in earnest. We find it difficult indeed to harmonize its project with the act of men inspired by motives that have animated Kentucky gentlemen since time immemorial.

The attitude taken by the Military Department in its appeal for publicity is to the effect, that beyond a shadow of a doubt their department gives more publicity to the University than any other one department or college. It is undoubtedly true that this excellent institution does reflect marked credit upon this University. Other publicity agencies of the University will doubtless challenge this interesting expression of conceit. Every week throughout the entire collegiate year the Kernel sends approximately 1,500 copies of its publication to alumni, former students, colleges and high schools throughout the states. This brings before the thousands of people the activities of the University, including those of the Military Department. The press association under the auspices of a department of the College of Arts and Sciences, broadcasts throughout the United States news of this University, and stories about students attending this institution are sent to their home papers for publication throughout the country. Thru this means the residents of every town and city in Kentucky and in other states are kept in touch with and interest is stimulated in the University.

The Kernel, University Press Clubs, Weekly Bulletin, etc., have never had a single page in the annual given to them free of charge, notwithstanding their work in behalf of the University. Familiar with the prices of engraving, paper and cost of production these organizations have always and will always continue to pay for the support of the student annual. Last year one man made a personal contribution for space for these clubs.

The College of Engineering produces engineers and sends them to every corner of the globe. Their record made is a creditable reflection upon the University. The college is satisfied with the regular quota of two pages. The Strollers and Glee Club, two excellent and superb advertising mediums for the University, have always paid for their space.

The Kernel commends the student personnel of the Military Department and believes that it is as complete as the average compulsory attendance class, which at its best could not be put on a plane with volunteer department attendance upon the campus. So far we have been unable to obtain intelligent information as to the nature of the superior advertisement that the cadets give to the college.

It is the opinion of the Kernel that the matter is entirely a personal one among certain cadet officers. We would be pleased indeed if their vanity could be satisfied without cost, and we do here commend their intelligence in selecting the Kentuckian as a means for giving public expression to such pride.

This column is not for the purpose of dictating, but may we suggest that the cadet officers use a part of their salary which they receive for services rendered to the Military Department, in reserving the section known as "Vanity Fair," heretofore used as the beauty section wherein they may artistically adorn the pages with exhibits which we are quite sure their superior grace would embellish to the lasting credit of the University.

ATHLETICS IMPROVED

The Kernel finds it impossible to express its appreciation of and pride in the achievement of and pride in the achievement of the Wildcat team last Saturday afternoon, when, by sheer pluck, intelligent generalship and brilliant playing, it checked the out from Tuscaloosa and submerged so many valiant opponents in signal defeat in hard fought battles of the South.

It was a clean, sportsmanlike game, participated in by gentlemen on both sides, that serves anew to establish confidence in the blue and white warriors and is comparable to their customs and wont for more than twenty years.

It is a matter of pride that at last in the midst of all the implied charges and counter charges of "ringerism" and the playing of ineligible students of the South, the day has come when the University of Kentucky is entitled to claim leadership for clean sportsmanship as exemplified so admirably on our field in the contest with Alabama.

Conditions athletically have not been so happy on this campus for many years as they are today, and the Kernel confidently predicts that next year will see the old blue and white banner back in the skies, where the pluck and courage of former players placed it, and where the team of 1923 will sustain it.

DESERVED HONOR

Students of the University and faculty folk are gratified beyond measure at the distinction that came to President F. L. McVey, when, in its annual meeting in Washington, the American Association of State Universities chose him as its head.

This honor is one that has hitherto been accorded to men only of outstanding prominence in the educational world of America, and is but another evidence of his leadership in that field which has so often and so forcefully been emphasized by our chief.

Nerve or Brains?

"I beg your pardon, but are you girls going south?" inquired a nice looking man as he leaned over the steering wheel of his Packillac in front of a Limestone Sorority house. "Oh! yes!"—gurgled one of the two co-eds, as she reached a niftily booted foot for the running board. "Thank you so much. I never can keep my directions straight in Lexington"—and the car glided away.

FORGIVENESS, I CRAVE

If you play with the hearts of women,
Be they old or merely maids,
Be sure, my son, you'll regret it,
As surely as spades are spades.

You've laughed and joked with the other boys,
At the way you've strung 'em along,
Never considering the pain you've caused,
Nor thinking of the wrong you've done.

But wait, some time you'll really love,
And then you'll begin to pay,
For the hearts you've broken will give you no rest
In your dreams, your work, or your play.

For the day you find yourself in love
With a girl so wondrous fair,
You'll think of the hearts you trifled with,
And you'll begin to doubt she's square.

You'll see their faces as you talked to them,
You'll remember the look in their eyes,
As you speak of love and other things,
God! but you'll hate those lies.

Some day it will all come back to you
And the question you'll ask will be,
"I've fooled and played with a dozen girls,
Do you suppose she's playing with me?"

When you kiss the lips of the girl you love,
As you leave her at the door,
You'll wonder, in spite of all you can do,
If she's been kissed that way before.

For the things she does in innocense
Will fill your heart with doubt,
And the moments you spend away from her
Will tear your heartstrings out.

You'll never think she's doing right,
Tho she does her and tries her best,
You'll be jealous of every man you see
And think she's like the rest

10

For you'll think of the many girls

you've kissed
And you'll reason that this is true—
The things I do to the other man's girl
The other man to my girl can do.
—Rollins Sandspur.

EXTRA PICTURES FOR ANNUAL CAN BE PROCURED

Extra pictures for the annual can be obtained by placing your order with the campus representative of the firm of Canfield and Shook. These orders must go in this week as all pictures for the annual will be shipped within the next few days. The delay of the annual is being caused by not having the correct number of cut prints there when the work is assigned next week.

Mr. Canfield wishes to thank the student body for their co-operation in making the individual sittings. He promises every attention in retouching your proofs.

Two of us sat in a chair one night,
Her hand held fast in mine;
I held it tight with all my might,
For 'twas a hand divine;
Ah, bless that hand so fair and sweet,
It was a wondrous thing,
I held it once, long years ago,
Four aces and a king.

yard after yard by the aerial route. The Wildcat line was practically impregnable, the enemy gaining very little ground through the Cat forward wall. On the other hand the Cat backs were able to plunge through the Crimson line time after time, working their way down the field for their only marker in this manner. After playing a scoreless first half in which one first down a piece was the total first downs, the Cats received the Alabama kick-off and were held for downs. Fuller punted 30 yards out of bounds. The Crimson kicked back and the Cats started their offensive that resulted in their score. After Sanders had made one yard through the line, Alabama was penalized five yards for offsides and the Cats were given first down. Sanders made four yards off right guard, but Fuller lost it all back on the next play when he was thrown for a loss on an attempted end run. Fuller then passed to Sanders for a 13 yard gain and first down. Fuller hit left tackle for eight yards and in three attempts Sanders bucked offer for first down. Sanders was again called upon and responded by making four yards thru left tackle. After Fuller had failed to gain Gregg passed ten yards to Colpitts who ran three more before he was downed. Fuller then went off left tackle for eight yards and the touchdown. Fuller missed the try for goal.

Bartlett, quarterback of the visitors, then opened a desperate passing game in an effort to tie the score and the Crimson completed pass after pass and threatened the Blue and White goal. But twice with Alabama in possession of the oval near the Cat goal the Blue and White pass defense proved too much for the Crimson and the ball went over on downs.

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

By Jasper Reed McClure. The stock judging team of the University of Kentucky left Thursday evening for the International Livestock Show to be held at Chicago on Friday of next week. Enroute they will stop at the farm of G. E. Woodruff, of Shelbyville, and at Harry Stamp's farm at Roachdale. Next Monday they will stop over at the University of Illinois and from there will go to Perdue.

There will be 25 stock judging teams at the show. The members of the University team include: Casper Acree, E. S. Langsford, Paul Miller, Campbell Wade, P. R. Watlington, R. H. Woods. The team has been coached by Professor L. J. Horlacher, who will make the trip with them.

The Livestock Show given at the stock judging pavillion under the auspices of the Hoof and Horn Club proved to be a great success. About 150 people viewed the parade of the livestock of the University farm after which a demonstration was given by the stock judging team on the judging of horses, cattle, sheep and hogs.

Professor E. S. Good delivered an address on the Development of Animal Husbandry Department of the University. Music was furnished by the University band and Harold Enlow exhibited his prowess by taking on the mat three men at one time. The decision was declared a draw. Cider and doughnuts were served by the Home Economics Department.

BENNETT PRIZE TO BE GIVEN THIS YEAR

Doctor Edward Tuthill, Department of History and Political Science, wishes to remind the students of the annual competition for the Bennett Prize of $20. This prize is awarded annually for the best essay on some topic related to the growth and development of parliamentary government. A list of the subjects used the past two years will be found in the introductory matter of the University catalog. It is important that students who wish to enter the competition should begin work as early as possible. Doctor Tuthill will be glad to confer with any who are thinking seriously of the matter.

The competition is open to all students of the University in all colleges.

LARGE NUMBER LOCAL PEOPLE GO TO KNOXVILLE

About 250 University Booster Students Planning to Make Trip

It was announced this week by prominent members of the Lexington Alumni Association and University boosters that over 250 persons from this city were planning to attend the Tennessee-University game to be played in Knoxville on Thanksgiving Day. Up to the time that we went to press three cars had been chartered and word was received from Pineville to the effect that about the same number of persons from that and surrounding towns were planning to attend the game.

A unique feature of the trip will be a distribution of hats and canes just before the train reaches Knoxville. This was announced by the Hat Committee earlier in the week. In selecting these hats and canes the committee said "We want to let them know we're coming and what could possibly cause more comment or be more conspicuous than about 300 persons wearing high, blue and white stovepipe hats and carrying canes with our colors on them?" These hats were bought by several Lexington men, not for the purpose of making profit off of them, and in order that every person from Kentucky attending the game may have one. They are going to sell them at absolute cost.

Engineering Sells, Too!

A whole lot of the make-believe has been eliminated from selling operations in the past ten years. The old idea that salesmen were born to the sample-case, that they carried some sort of a special diploma from the University of Pooh, has had to break camp, along with the other exploded theory which insisted that a salesman must be a "good fellow", a man of strange habits, tremendous stories, and unquestioned qualities both as a mixer, and as an assimilator.

Now we believe—nay, we know—that the best salesman is the man who knows most about his goods, and can talk most interestingly about them.

This being the proven case, it isn't so queer that engineering should find a real and effective application in the selling field, especially if the merchandise marketed is an engineering product that is bought and operated by engineers.

Every engineer who now engages in the sale and distribution of Westinghouse products feels that he is doing work worthy of his training—for he is carrying Service and Sincerity to Industry, and to mankind! He is out where the fighting is often the fiercest, and he is putting up a battle for the things that he believes are right. And a man can't expect, nor ask, a bigger chance than that!

Sixty percent, approximately, of the engineering graduates who come to Westinghouse find their way eventually into some phase of selling. And we are proud to have them there—and they are glad to be there!

Westinghouse

ACHIEVEMENT & OPPORTUNITY

The above Freshmen, Montgomery, left, and Stephenson, right, hold down the guard and tackle positions on the left side of the Yearling eleven. Both men tip the scales well over the 200 pound mark and make the port side of the Kitten line practically impregnable. Both are players of great ability and should prove valuable additions to the Varsity next year.

"SCRAPS"

The Freshman squad could furnish a Turkey Day dinner that would satisfy anyone. With "Turkey" Hughes, "Possum" Derrick and "Rabbit" Evans in the lineup, the Kittens would furnish a very palatable Thanksgiving menu for even the choicest of gridiron fans.

The Cats will "enjoy" an off week on the schedule Saturday, their next game being with the University of Tennessee Volunteers, at Knoxville on Turkey Day. The annual scrap between the two institutions appears to be a hot one with the odds about equal. Tennessee has defeated the Sewanee Tigers 18-7 and lost to Vanderbilt 14-6, while the Cats defeated Sewanee 7-0 and lost to Vandy 9-0. The Vols have always had to be exceedingly better than the Cats in order to win and will have to look elsewhere than the dope sheet for the result of the Tennessee-Kentucky game.

The dope, however, otherwise it may be proved true in last Saturday's clash, for the Cats were slated to win by exactly one touchdown. Sewanee and Alabama played a 7-7 tie and Kentucky defeated the Tigers 7-0, thus giving the Cats a 7-0 dope prediction.

With the Varsity inactive Saturday the Freshmen will occupy the sport spotlight when they clash with the University of Tennessee Yearlings on Stoll Field in what will probably prove a battle for the Yearling Championship of the Southland.

Coaches Webb and Rhodes have been working the Yearlings hard and will have them in excellent shape for the classic.

Vandy's 12-0 win over Georgia removes some of the bitter taste in the Cats' mouths after their 9-0 loss to the Commodores.

CAMPUS CHATTER

Professor W. S. Webb spoke to the Board of Trade at Jackson, Ky., November 21.

Prof. L. L. Dantzer, head of the Department of English, was called to Orangeburg, South Carolina, November 17, on account of the death of his father.

Mr. W. H. Grady, general superintendent of the American Croosoting Company, will address the Juniors and Seniors of the Engineering College, Friday, at the third hour in Dicker Hall. Mr. Grady is a graduate of the class of 1905 of the College of Engineering of the University of Kentucky and alumni representative of the Board of Trustees. His subject will be "Wood Preservation."

At the third meeting of the Philosopherian Literary Society held in the Little Theater, Monday evening, an unusually interesting program was given on Schools and School Life in Kentucky.

Miss A. E. Crane gave an interesting teeth.

talk on Mountain Schools with particular stress upon the work being done by and the accomplishments of the Pine Mountain Settlement School, and the impressions she received and the observations made when she made a visit to the school during the summer.

A paper on Higher Education in Kentucky was read by Luanna Duckwall and Mary Adams concluded the program with a talk on the Consolidated School System in the State.

LAFFERTY WILL PROBATED

The will of the late Dean William Lafferty, has been probated and filed with the court. Judge Lafferty bequeathed all his properties to his widow. In the will he expressed regret at being unable to leave anything to Transylvania as he had planned to do. The deceased was a member of the Christian church and was at one time a curate of Transylvania University.

When two girls are in love with the same young man they always smile as they pass by—then grit their teeth.

STROLLER PLAY WILL BE GIVEN AT FRANKFORT

Two Local Reappearances Were Successful Dramatically and Financially.

"The Thirteenth Chair," the Stroller production of last year was presented for the second time in Lexington at the Ada Meade Theatre Thursday and Friday nights, November 16 and 17.

The cast played to large and appreciative audiences both nights and the presentations were pronounced a success both from a financial and dramatic point of view. The roles were portrayed with the same excellence and skill which characterized the presentations of last year. The original cast had charge of the roles with the exception of the part of Wales, which was skillfully interpreted by Troy Perkins, Mr. Trent, enacted most admirably by Harry Leyman, and Pollock, the butler, done in a most dignified and stately manner by William Tate.

The Strollers are making preparations to take the play to Frankfort December 8, where it will be presented at the Capitol Theatre.

MARY GARDEN TO SING AT AUDITORIUM NOV. 29

Prima Donna to Make First Appearance in Kentucky.

The long expected and much talked of concert planned to be given in Woodland Auditorium, Lexington, by Mary Garden, prima donna soprano and ex-director general of the Chicago Civic Opera Company, will take place the evening before Thanksgiving, Wednesday, November 29, at 8:15 o'clock.

Much interest has been manifested in this, Miss Garden's first appearance in Central Kentucky, which was announced to have taken place at an earlier date, but was postponed on account of a slight illness of the artist.

Miss Garden was given a veritable ovation the second night of the Chicago Civic Opera this season, when she appeared in the title role in "Carmen" singing opposite Richardo Martin. This, the second week of the opera, Miss Garden is appearing in the stellar role in three different operas—"Tosca," "Carmen" and "L'Amore der Tre Re." The critics state that Miss Garden is in better voice and form than ever.

Miss Garden's work in recital has proved quite as fascinating to the great throngs that flock to hear her wherever and whenever her appearance is announced.

Tickets are now on sale at the Lexington College of Music and will be on sale in Ben Ali Theatre Lobby, beginning Monday, November 27, at 9 a. m.

CO-EDS TO GIVE VODVIL IN CHAPEL DECEMBER 8

Different Women's Organizations To Take Part in Stunt Night.

Co-ed stunt night to be given in chapel December 8, marks the introduction of vodvil on the campus with nine high class acts given by groups of girls from prominent circles in the University. Absolutely clean and harmless even for freshmen.

The tentative program is as follows: Mirrors of the Campus—Kappa Delta.

Classy Dress—Chi Omega.
Musical Review—Kappa Kappa Gamma.
Short Play—Alpha Gamma Delta. Evolution of Dancing—Alpha Xi Delta.
Aesop's Fables—Local Fraternities.
Movie Burlesque—Patt Hall.
Minstrel Show—Boyd Hall.
The Girls We Know—Smith Hall.
Candy girls in unique costumes will add sweetness to the evening by vending their wares. Tickets, 35c; reserved seats, 50c, are now on sale on the campus. Get yours for yourself and her before they are all gone. Remember the chapel seats only 600. You want to be among the first to witness vodvil at the University of Kentucky. Watch the Kernel and posters for later developments of the program.

"Have you felt slippers, sir?" she said.
The young clerk blushed and scratched his head, then smiling back, he found his tongue:
"I felt 'em often when I was young."

PETITION CIRCULATED

resent our department for the following reasons:

1. There are four cadet companies this year instead of three as last year. A full page is required if the pictures of the companies containing 100-150 students, and a cut of the company cadet officers and sponsors are to be at all presentable. Therefore four pages are required for the four companies.

2. Our cadet band is larger and better than ever before. The excellent showing the band has made at football games and on other occasions has been the subject of favorable comment and pride on the part of visitors from all over the state.

Surely the band deserves one page in the Annual. This will require five pages.

3. There are forty students in the Advanced Course this year nearly 100 per cent increase. We do not believe the Annual would be complete without a cut of the Cadet Officers. The young lady sponsors of the Battalion represent an attractive and rather unique group and should be pictured in the Annual. There are eighteen sponsors this year. The Cadet officers and sponsors will require one full page for both groups. (Six pages).

4. The Military Staff detailed here by the War Department should certainly be included, requiring one page. (Seven pages).

5. The introductory page or front-piece with art design introducing the Military Department will require one page. (Total, eight pages.)

It is believed these eight pages are absolutely necessary for the foregoing reasons and on account of the general improved appearance of the Annual as a whole, which these pictures will lend. The proposed arrangement of space is of course subject to modification, but the total of eight pages is a minimum space that should be allotted to the Military Department.

6. Attention is invited to the following statistics:

1918 Kentuckian, Military Department—eight pages.

1919 Kentuckian, Military Department—24 pages. (S. A. T. C. year.)

1920 Kentuckian, Military Department—eight pages.

1921 Kentuckian, Military Department—seven pages.

1922 Kentuckian, Military Department—eight pages.

The Georgia Tech Annual of 1922 devoted eighteen pages; other universities accord similar recognition to their Military Departments.

of American activity, in the field of advanced education.

Earlier in the week arrangements were in the making for the University faculty folk and friends to make recognition in an appropriate way of the distinction that has come to their leader, but up to the time that this story was written plans to this end had not been given out for publication.

The Kentucky youngsters have a combination of backs that it hard to find. "Rabbit" John Evans at quarter is one of the fastest men that has ever stepped on Stoll Field and a field general of the first magnitude. He carries 145 pounds through the line or around the ends with equal ease, and has an uncanny ability at the art of snagging passes. All the passer has to do is to heave the oval in the general direction of "Rabbit" and the youngster does the rest. Given the right kind of instruction under a good coach, Evans should evolve into one of the best field generals Kentucky has ever had and possibly one of the best in the South. Tracy, line plunger extraordinary, Sauer, passer, kicker, and line plunger, and Captain Kirwan, who can hurl the pigskin with accuracy, besides skirting the ends or hitting the line, completes the Yearling backfield.

With the removal of Sauer to the backfield, Will Milward, lean, lanky product of Lexington High, has been holding down center position, and doing it with the ability of a veteran. Montgomery and Cisco huge guards, both tipping the beam well over the 200 mark are the choices for Saturday's conflict, with Alexander taking Cisco's place in the event that the Mt. Sterling youth is unable to enter the scrap because of an injured foot. "Wild Man" Stevenson and McFarland, mammoth tackles weighing over the 200 pound mark also are slated to start at the tackles. King and Shelton are to start on the flanks.

The Cats have a punter of great ability in Sauer, 180 pound half who has a habit of booting the oval for an average of 45 yards. Tubby is a versatile griddler, having held down the center position up to this point, being shifted to the backfield to give the Kittens a kicker.

Either Sauer, Kirwan or Tracy can pass with a great amount of accuracy and with Evans, King and Shelton on the receiving end, the Kittens have a passing game that is hard to stop.

Saturday's game will be the last appearance of the present Yearling eleven in Freshman togs and the last chance for local fans to see Kentucky's future stars in action this year. It will also be the last appearance for any Kentucky eleven on the local field this year. The seating capacity of Stoll Field is expected to be taxed to the limit by fans who are waiting for next year to see the downfall of the Centre College Colonels.

The probable lineup of the Kittens is:

- Tracy ----- LE
- McFarland ----- LT
- Alexander ----- LG
- Milward ----- C
- Montgomery ----- RG
- Stevenson ----- RT
- King ----- RE
- Evans ----- QB
- Hughes ----- RF
- Thomas ----- LH
- Kirwan, (capt.) ----- FB

MUSICAL PROGRAM TO BE GIVEN IN CHAPEL

Miss Triplett, graduate of the Conservatory of Chicago, and a teacher of music, and Miss Mary Campbell Scott, vocal teacher at the University of Kentucky, will present a musical program, Tuesday November 28, at the five hour in Chapel.

Both Miss Triplett and Miss Scott have gained considerable fame in their field of art and the Kernel can assure the students who attend and for those whose entertainment the concert is given, that the program will be one of excellent and enjoyable selections.

GIRLS' FOOTBALL TEAM ORGANIZED ON CAMPUS

The "Electrics" have been organized and challenge any similar organization on the campus. This team is made up of the best material available in the state. They are called "Electrics" because they go through their opponents like a shock.

- Blanding ----- LE
 - Davis ----- LT
 - Beatty ----- LG
 - Potter ----- C
 - Wilson ----- RG
 - Carrol ----- RT
 - Tarlton ----- RE
 - Hebden ----- QB
 - Gifford ----- LH
 - Jackson ----- RH
 - Harrison ----- FB
- Jackson, Captain.
Potter, Publicity.
Hebden, Manager.

See manager soon about schedule as few open dates are left. The games will be played on Stoll Field.
