

Cox, Rupp Receive Highest Press Awards

Johnny Cox and Coach Adolph Rupp were recognized nationally by press polls today.

Cox was picked on the Associated Press All-American first team. Rupp was chosen "Coach of the Year" by United Press International.

Rupp, who won the coaching honor in 1950, led the Wildcats to a 23-2 record this season and the No. 1 spot in both press polls. Cox is UK's only senior starter and high scorer this season for the Wildcats.

Cox's selection was the fourth All-American team he has made this season. He had been named on the Police Gazette, United Press International and Sporting News teams.

Also selected on the AP team were Bailey Howell, Mississippi State; Oscar Robertson, Cincinnati; Bob Boozer, Kansas State, and Jerry West, West Virginia.

Cox is the 21st UK All-American and the 19th under Coach Adolph Rupp. Vernon Hatton made the All-American team for the NCAA champions last season.

Cox averaged 18.4 points during the regular season and led the Wildcats in rebounds, point proficiency and total points scored.

He also had been selected on the AP and UPI All-SEC teams. He was second in the balloting for the UPI squad behind Howell.

Cox, from Hazard, averaged 32.2 points as a freshman, one of the best freshman averages compiled by a Wildcat. In his next two years on the varsity, he scored 976 points and grabbed 675 rebounds.

As a sophomore, Cox was UK's leading scorer with a 19.4 average. It was the highest ever made by a UK sophomore. He was named third team All-American by one rating system during his sophomore season.

Cox sparked the Wildcats to the NCAA championship last year. After UK beat Seattle in the final game, he was named runner-up for most valuable player of the final session. Elgin Baylor, Seattle's

All-American and now a professional player, won the first place award.

Cox's best performance came in his final game against Tennessee Saturday night. Hitting his hook shot regularly, he scored 38 points, his career high as a varsity Wildcat.

His previous high was against Maryland in 1956 when he connected for 34.

Cox is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon and the K-Club.

Kernel Winners Head National Contest's List

The Kernel's two first-place awards headed all winners in the recent national highway safety contest, according to an announcement today.

The announcement came from James S. Kemper, board chairman of Lumbermen's Mutual Insurance Co., Chicago, contest sponsors.

The Kernel was named best in the nation among daily publications for its safety campaign, conducted just prior to the 1958 Christmas Holidays. It received a $500 award.

In addition to the campaign prize, the Kernel's Andy Epperson won $100 for the best feature article submitted. This was one of four awards given for individual entries.

Second in the daily division was the Daily Illini, University of Illinois, receiving $250. Third place and $100 went to the Daily Texan, University of Texas.

In the non-daily division, winners were the Anemone, Black Hills Teachers College, Spearfish, S. D., $500; the Delaware Review, University of Delaware, $250; and the Trinitonian, Trinity University, San Antonio, Texas, $100.

Besides Epperson, other individual winners were David F. Mertz, Bowling Green University, Ohio, editorial; Jim Goodnight, the Daily Texan, cartoon; and Paul Norman, the Syracuse Daily Orange, Syracuse University, N. Y., photograph.

A contest official told the Kernel by telephone Wednesday that 361 papers, including 88 dailies, had entered the contest. Today's release, however, said 106 colleges and 352 entries had been received.

The Kernel was the only paper in the contest receiving two first-place awards.

Lances To Award 6 Stipends

Lances, junior men's honorary, will award more scholarships this year while reducing the total amount of the scholarships.

Six $50 scholarships will be given to men students in the University. The scholarships are awarded with proceeds from the Lances Carnival and Dance held last fall.

Four $100 scholarships were granted in 1958.

To qualify, students must have attended UK for one semester, not be receiving another scholarship or grant-in-aid and have an over-all academic standing of 2.0.

Lances President Jeff Brother and members Whayne Priest, Carleton Godesy and Douglas Morgan compose the scholarship committee.

Application blanks are available in the Dean of Men's Office and must be returned by March 20. Scholarship winners will be announced at the Honors Day program.

The Jimmy Dorsey Orchestra, conducted by Lee Castle, will play for the Military Ball at 8 p. m. tomorrow in the SUB Ballroom.

Also the queen and six members of her court will be presented. The seven finalists were selected from more than 100 nominees of military and air science cadets.

Cadets voted Monday and Tuesday to select the queen.

Finalists are Judy O'Dell, Katie Maddux, Nina Warren, Pixie Priest, Susan Bradley, Jane Morris and Lynna Chase.

Castle, known as the "Prince of the Trumpet," wasn't sure he wanted a musical career until he heard Louie Armstrong's trumpet.

While playing for Artie Shaw and Glen Miller, Tommy Dorsey noticed Castle's potential talent and asked Castle to study under him. Castle became so popular with the Dorseys that they accepted him as a "third son."

After completing his training Castle joined the Benny Goodman band, but soon left to form his own group. He specialized in sweet trumpet and dixieland music.

Once again he joined forces with the Dorsey. Tommy and Castle both disbanded their groups and joined with Jimmy to create the new group known as "The Fabulous Dorsey Orchestra." Lee became musical conductor and featured trumpeter for the new group.

It had long been established that if someone other than a Dorsey had to lead the Dorsey band it would be Lee Castle. Upon the death of the Dorsey brothers Lee began conducting the band that had given him his first chance at stardom.

All of the SUB will be used for the dance except the grill and cafeteria. Programs will be given to all couples.

During the intermission the Pershing Rifles Confederate Squad will put on an exhibition. The members of the Scabbard and Blade will form a sabre arch for the queen and her court when they are presented.

The dance is sponsored by Pershing Rifles, Arnold Air Society and Scabbard and Blade. Co-chairmen for the dance are Donald Kaufman, Don Harmon and Dave Craig.

Tickets will be sold from 11 a. m. to 2 p. m. today at the SUB ticket booth for $4 per couple. Tickets will cost $4.50 at the door tomorrow night.

Concert Series Sets Up 13 Events Next Season

Next season's Central Kentucky Concert and Lecture Series will include the first "bonus" concert since the series moved to the Coliseum, Prof. R. D. McIntyre, artists committee chairman, announced Tuesday night.

The bonus attraction, the U. S. Navy Band, means that 13 events will be included in next season's program.

Van Cliburn will definitely not be able to fulfill this year's engagement because of a hand operation, McIntyre said.

"Every effort will be made to re-book Mr. Cliburn next season," he said.

The new date will be announced as soon as the pianist is able to revise his schedule.

The 1959-60 concert series includes the Philharmonia Hungarica Orchestra, Vienna; Roberto Iglesias and his Spanish Ballet; the International Opera Festival's production of "La Traviata" by Verdi; Eileen Farrell, soprano.

The Detroit Symphony Orchestra, Paul Paray, conductor with Mischa Mischakoff, violinist; Rudolph Serkin, pianist; a joint recital by Metropolitan Opera stars Dorothy Kirsten, soprano and Daniele Barioni, tenor, and the Navy Band.

Forums will be given by Norman Cousins, editor of the Saturday Review; Martin Caiden, space scientist; Barbara Ward, British economist and journalist, and Eddie Dowling actor and producer. Dowling's lecture is "From Shakespeare to Saroyan."

Waterfield, Carpenter Talk At Campus Political Rally

Lt. Gov. Harry Lee Waterfield and Hubert C. Carpenter, Democratic candidates for governor, spoke yesterday at Memorial Hall.

An estimated 150 UK students and faculty attended the rally sponsored by Student Congress and the Political Science Club.

Waterfield spoke first, relating his record in 22 years of participating in legislative affairs. He pointed to his past performance in behalf of education in the state.

Waterfield stated, "I have submitted my candidacy on the basis of my record and experience. I hope that you will consider it on that basis and that basis alone."

He referred specifically to the progress made in increasing state appropriations for UK. He said the amount of state appropriations to the University had almost doubled in the past four years.

Waterfield said he intended to carry on his policy of educational aid not only at UK but throughout the state.

Referring to his platform, Waterfield said, "It is in my heart, it has been there all the time." He emphasized the importance of timing in politics and said that his specific platform would be announced "at the proper time."

With Waterfield were his wife and daughter Nancy. Dianne Vit-tow, Waterfield's state co-chairman, and Jay Spurrier, college chairman, both UK students, were present.

Presenting himself as the "Harmony Candidate," Hubert C. Carpenter was the second speaker of the program.

Carpenter stated that though the Courier-Journal and the Lexington Herald-Leader had failed as yet to recognize him as a candidate, he would formally begin his campaign April 1.

"I came into this election to take the place of the bickering factions and to take the place of the Republican nominee, who would win if I were not here," Carpenter said.

Both speakers were introduced by Jim Steedly.

Spindletop Signing

Eckstrom To Tell Illinois Company Of New Method

Dr. Hartley C. Eckstrom, UK associate professor of chemistry, will be guest lecturer Monday at a special staff meeting of the Universal Oil Products Company Research Laboratory at Des Plaines, Ill.

His topic will be "Heterogeneous Reaction Studies by Infrared Absorption."

His talk will be one of a special series of lectures by outstanding scientists and technologists in fields which have some bearing on petroleum chemistry.

Dr. Eckstrom's discussion will deal with a new and unique method of determining the structural characteristics of molecules attached to surfaces in such a way that they rapidly produce especially desired chemical reactions.

This principle is important to the petroleum and other industries.

Before coming to UK in May, 1958, Dr. Eckstrom was for 10 years a Brown University faculty member and for 11 years section supervisor of the Fundamental Research

Section in the Research Laboratory of the Pan American Petroleum Corp.

Draft Law Called Vital To Defense

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP) —The Eisenhower administration today called for extension of the draft law as a vital defense step that would reassure Allies and "alert and potential enemies to the fact that there is to be no lessening of efforts on our part to resist aggression."

The appeal came in a statement filed with the Senate Armed Services Committee by Secretary of Defense McElroy and testimony by Asst. Secretary, Charles C. Finucane.

The committee is conducting hearings on a House-passed bill to extend the draft law four more years to July 1, 1963, without any change.

The assistant secretary flatly rejected suggestions voiced in prior hearings that men over the age of 21 be exempted from the draft.

ROTC Honorary Installs 11 Cadets

Eleven advanced Air Force ROTC cadets were initiated in Arnold Air Society, AFROTC honorary, last night in the SUB.

New initiates and actives had a banquet at Adams' Restaurant following the initiation.

Seniors who received blue and gold actives' cords were Bill Hammonds and Billy Harlan.

Juniors initiated were Bill Abel, H. R. Bishop, J. E. Johnson, W. T. Judy, E. N. Loy, R. D. Quisenberry, R. H. Steekler, Jim Steedly and Al Sullivan.

Wayne Priest, junior, was in New York last night and will be initiated later.

Peerce Shows Vocal Power

By ALICE REDDING

"You were all prepared to hear a piano program by the great Van Cliburn, but his misfortune was my good fortune." These were the comments of Metropolitan Opera star Jan Peerce following his Tuesday night concert.

Mr. Peerce was called to fill the ailing Cliburn's engagement after the young artist cancelled his program Friday afternoon. Student attendance, especially, was unusually small, but the concert itself was not at all disappointing.

A leading tenor at the Met for 20 years, Mr. Peerce is a native New Yorker. He began his career at the Roxy Theatre and Radio City Music Hall in New York. Since then, he has sung in every major opera house in the world.

At the Met, the tenor has sung the leading roles in such operas as "La Boheme," "Madame Butterfly," "Rigoletto," "Tosca" and others.

For his first number, Mr. Peerce chose the hymn-like "Only Be Still" from J. S. Bach's Cantata No. 93, followed by "Che Vuol innamorarsi" by Scarlatti. The first section also included "Dall sua pace" and "In mio tesoro" from Mozart's opera "Don Giovanni."

Numbers in the pre-intermission sections of Mr. Peerce's concert were well balanced between the stirring, dramatic songs which gave the artist an opportunity to display the range and power of his voice and the softer, more lyric numbers.

"Recitative, Aria and Finale."

from Donizetti's "Lucia di Lammermoor" was especially well executed and, judging from audience reaction, was the best appreciated.

After the intermission, Mr. Peerce sang the mournful "Nebbia" by Respighi. Three numbers sung in English, "The Drooping Corn" by Rachmaninoff, "Music I Heard with You," by Hageman and "Blow Thou Winter Wind" by Quilter, furnished a change from the rest of the concert, sung, with the exception of the Bach number, in Italian, German and French.

Two of Mr. Peerce's five encores were true crowd-pleasers: "Serenade" from "The Student Prince" and "Because," sung because Warner Bass, Peerce's accompanist was, the singer said, "in a sentimental mood."

WHERE RADIO AND TELEVISION IS A
BUSINESS . . . NOT A SIDELINE

A Shimmy, Like Kate's

Cooperstown residents, upset over the forthcoming rise in their rent, have a legitimate complaint. But we recently found out about a bargain being offered them which is unobtainable at few places in the Blue Grass—nay, the United States.

We allude to the Cooperstown television antenna rental rate, which has somehow become solidified at the mere pittance of 35 cents per month. And that 35 cents buys them more entertainment than it would have bought back in the days when steak was a nickle a pound and granny shyly referred to table legs as "limbs."

Ponder, if you will, the wondrous electronic miracle that takes place whenever a Cooperstown resident turns on his TV set. Some, we understand, receive three and four pictures—at once—on Channels 3 and 11. That means they are getting three or four times as much for their money—a bargain in anyone's book.

And that's not all. No indeedy.

How can Cooperstown TV owners forget the times they've been treated to the untold hilarities of the undulations and contortions which their screens go through, at no extra charge. It's not uncommon, during the course of a given half-hour program, to see TV images do graceful Immelmans, barrel rolls, figure eight's, peel-offs and power dives, with an occasional shimmy not unlike that of Sister Kate. This is attributed to the fine construction of the antenna system, one of the greatest feats of electronic engineering in the country.

Tuition has gone up, Cooperstown rents have been hiked not once, but twice, and we can't understand how in the world the TV antenna rental rate has escaped a raise, in view of the extra treats and tremendous reception enjoyed by the subscribers.

Someone should investigate this giveaway.

On The Spot

A Letter Concerning Principles

By DAN MILLOTT

Dear Priscilla,

I don't know quite how to write this letter. You know how I feel about government; how I have continually been outspoken as a liberal in almost all phases of politics.

I have always tried to make Student Congress more liberal. I have fought within my own political party to make it more liberal, and, if that didn't work, I have fought for the nomination of liberal candidates in the primaries and their election to office later.

But, alas, I have been disheartened. The powerful liberal elements in my party in 1956 and 1957 have lost their voice and now the basic philosophies are being played on a conservative harp, a harp which strikes a resounding discord on my progressive ears.

You probably weren't aware, Priscilla, of the early philosophies of my party when it was founded. If you watch very carefully you may see them crop up every now and then, but don't blink your eyes. If you do, you may miss this split-second flashback.

We shouldn't condemn those in control now; I guess they are content with the crawl to the right our party and SC are taking now. I can only ask myself a simple question: "What has happened to the vision my party and student government used to have?"

We have talked about government and I know you disagree with some of my thoughts, but I think you can see my point. When SC rejected a UK membership in NSA last fall, my liberal soul was boiling. To think that mere group-think sorority women should have the right to control the welfare of an entire student body. These same women talked about dictation "from the outside," referring to NSA. At the same time these self-appointed virtue queens were willingly accepting dictation from the ultra-reactionary National Panhellenic.

It wasn't so bad that the NSA question was defeated; it was the manner in which was done. Our "sisters in the bond" proceeded to interject idle hearsay about "Communism" and "integration" just to remove any objectivity in considering the question.

This was the first episode in this "rightist" thinking that I am writing about. It passed and I guess all the talking in the world won't change that. But Monday night something else happened.

A member of an SC committee investigating University fees started talking about the money under the control of the UK newspaper and the annual. Fortunately the representative speaking in regard to the paper was not a member of my party, but no matter; my fellow liberal party members didn't even bother to question her statements. She said "the Kernel didn't devote enough space to news of campus organizations."

Priscilla, if a newspaper is to be required to publish certain items and prevented from publishing others what kind of state would we be in? The SC idea of investigating a newspaper is so off base. It forgets that this country of ours fought a war for freedom of the press, among other things. I do hope the people in SC will come to their senses.

To the liberal, SC has fallen into the same category as the University Faculty did when it passed its ex post facto ruling on probation standings for fraternities. Please, Priscilla, talk to someone about this.

If SC were to get control of the press, it would be a violation of every American principle known.

Several Scapegoats?

To The Editor:

Since I once lived on the fourth floor of that . . . den of bad house-keeping known as Donovan Hall, I couldn't help but notice that some of my successors are now find themselves faced with the prospect of paying for the damage done by an overflowing shower. This shower damage was allegedly done by one of these unfortunate fourth-floor men.

This is debatable. If I wanted to stop up a drain, I think I would go to another floor and let them get blamed.

But even if the damage was done by the fourth-floor residents, I can see no reason to demand mass payment. This reminds me of a third-grade teacher whipping every boy in class when they refuse to tell who stole her goldfish bowl.

If I were a resident of Donovan Hall, I think the "possibility" that I would pay for damage I did not cause would be very slight.

PHIL COX

Thanks For Assistance

To The Editor:

I would like to express my thanks, along with that of the entire steering committee of Religion in Life Week, for the fine coverage the Kernel has given us.

Religion in Life Week could not and would not be a success if the Kernel and other campus groups would not lend their support in publicity and participation.

I am extremely sorry for the inconvenience caused by the change in the time and place of the convocation.

Dan Millott helped us greatly in our purpose of RIL Week. The purpose is not to present a cut and dried program, but to encourage students to raise questions in their religious thinking. By doing this, we hope they may attain better understanding of their relationship to God, and that this understanding may help mold their lives in the weeks and months to come.

Again, I say, thank you!

I would like to answer John R. Mitchell's letter in the Wednesday Kernel concerning the dogs in Shawneetown. The lease he spoke of was originally set up for Cooperstown, and to save time it was just applied to the new project.

The dean of men made this clear when I mentioned having a dog before I moved into Shawneetown. He said Shawneetown wasn't as confining as Cooperstown and dogs would be accepted until they became a bother to other tenants.

So far I believe there have been no direct complaints about dogs (belonging to) residents in Shawneetown. If and when stray dogs can be kept out of the area, the dog trouble should end. Of course those dogs in the project should not be allowed to run free, either.

I would also like to point out that if the dog is in a crowded apartment, that shouldn't bother anyone but the owner of the dog.

A Tale Of Hogwash

To The Editor:

In a recent issue you complained about not receiving letters for the Readers' Forum. I personally have written several. They have never been published. This is probably due to the fact that I destroy them. I do this because I have a dirty habit of telling the truth. If one of my "truthful opinions" were published, it would probably result in my being banished to a rural school. (I am an education major.)

I am in favor of beer, cigarettes, poker, movies, dances and girls. These alone, from what I have gathered are all sinful. I am also against Religious Emphasis Year, Baptist Back-Scratching Year, and other mutual admiration societies.

I dislike women's civic organizations, the DAR, fraternities, PTA's, the American Legion (I am a veteran) and other pressure groups. It is fortunate that at present there is no Inquisition, lest I be sacrificed at the stake.

We have been born, raised, and fed on hogwash (of which your paper, like others, is full), and I say hogwash on hogwash. (I cuss sometimes when I am alone.)

Justice may be blind, but as a rule truth is censored and censored. Generally truth is suggested in a college classroom, but there are enough hogwashers around to stifle that.

If you people have to editorialize, why not do it over something important rather than over the number of phone booths in the men's restroom?

Politics, UN, Drama Draw Campus Attention

By BILLIE ROSE FAXTON

Hang on, because we're really sounding off today.

First, congratulations to their highnesses J. B. Johnson, Pete Perlman and Bob White. And we, for one, think a king now and then gives added and needed spirit where the ever-constant queen combat gets stale.

Second, we missed a couple of parties last weekend. The Phi Tau pledges threw a Go-To-Hell, Active! party at their house last Friday night, while the ZBT's lived royally for a few hours at the Campbell House, swimming, dancing and so forth.

Third, should Van Cliburn ever read this little bit, we entreat you to reschedule your appearance here at UK as soon as you get over your finger.

NOW!

Blessings on those souls who traveled to New York for the United Nations Seminar, et cetera, and blades, and their dates in formals. Jimmy Dorsey's orchestra will play and a queen will be crowned.

Now, may I say something not very social? I have steam to let off.

To put it bluntly, it is my opinion (and not necessarily that of the Kernel staff) that Student Congress had made a perfect mess of taking into its little hands the Decors' gubernatorial campaign on campus. In my opinion, SC has enough to do in Lexington without journeying to Frankfort.

Furthermore, the big objective of the UK Young Decors' Club for this semester seems to have been the promotion of political interest here, especially with the approaching Democratic primary. Why, pray tell, did you, Student Congress, deprive the club of this? At any rate, Mr. Waterfield was with us yesterday morning and Mr. Combs will be here this coming Thursday. And the Young Decors will meet tonight at 7 o'clock in Room 128 of the SUB.

Tennis, anyone?
With a tiny wave of the hand, we say so long to you and you and you, Slick the Sneak.

HUSBANDS, ANYONE?

It has been alleged that coeds go to college for the sole purpose of finding husbands. This is, of course, an infamous canard, and I give fair warning that, small and spongy as I am, anybody who says such a dastardly thing when I am around had better be prepared for a sound thrashing!

Girls go to college for precisely the same reasons as men do: to broaden their horizons, to lengthen their vistas, to drink at the fount of wisdom. But if, by pure chance, while a girl is engaged in these meritorious pursuits, a likely looking husband should pop into view, why, what's wrong with that? Eh? What's wrong with that?

The question now arises, what should a girl look for in a husband? A great deal has been written on this subject. Some say character is most important, some say background, some say appearance, some say education. All are wrong.

The most important thing—bar none—in a husband is health. Though he be handsome as Apollo and rich as Croesus, what good is he if he just lies around all day accumulating bedsores?

The very first thing to do upon meeting a man is to make sure he is sound of wind and limb. Before he has a chance to sweet-talk you, slap a thermometer in his mouth, roll back his eyelids, yank out his tongue, rap his patella, palpate his thorax, ask him to straighten out a horseshoe with his teeth. If he fails these simple tests, phone for an ambulance and go on to the next prospect.

If, however, he turns out to be physically fit, proceed to the second most important requirement in a husband. I refer to a sense of humor.

A man who can't take a joke is a man to be avoided. There are several simple tests to find out whether your prospect can take a joke or not. You can, for example, slash his tires. Or burn his "Mad" comics. Or steal his switchblade. Or turn loose his pet raccoon. Or shave his head.

After each of these good-natured pranks, laugh gaily and shout "April Fool!" If he replies, "But this is February nineteenth," or something equally churlish, cross him off your list and give thanks you found out in time.

But if he laughs silverly and calls you "Little minx!" put him to the next test. Find out whether he is kindly.

The quickest way to ascertain his kindness is, of course, to look at the cigarette he smokes. Is it mild? Is it clement? Is it humane? Does it minister tenderly to the psyche? Does it coddle the synapses? Is it a good companion? Is it genial? Is it bright and friendly and full of dulcet pleasure from cockcrow till the heart of darkness?

Is it, in short, Philip Morris?

If Philip Morris it be, then clasp the man to your bosom with hoops of steel, for you may be sure that he is kindly as a summer breeze, kindly as a mother's kiss, kindly in his very marrow.

And now, having found a man who is kindly and healthy and blessed with a sense of humor, the only thing that remains is to make sure he will always earn a handsome living. That, fortunately, is easy. Just enroll him in engineering. © 1959, Max Shulman

The Dope Sheet

By
SCOTTIE HELT

With the possibility of a 23-3 record, Coach Eddie Hickey's Marquette Warriors should rate as the team to watch in the Mid-East NCAA Regional slated for Memorial Coliseum next Tuesday night.

Presently rated 13th in the AP poll and 15th in the UPI balloting, the boys from the Milwaukee, Wis., Catholic institution will be one of three tourney teams rated in the nation's top 22. Louisville holds down the No. 18 slot and Eastern Kentucky the 22nd peg in the UPI votings of the country's basketball coaches.

Hickey gave up his long-held post as St. Louis University coach at the end of last season to attempt to bring a team with an 11-11 mark back to winning form in a short period.

The master basketball strategist's job was cut out for him, too.

For from that .500 club of a year ago, only 6-9 center Mike Moran was left from the team's top three scorers. Then, too, a big question was whether Moran, while the top point-getter for the last two years, could adjust to the three lane fast break advocated by Hickey.

The results speak for themselves, for only Nebraska, DePaul and another Mid-East participant, Louisville, have been able to defeat the Warriors. At the same time, wins have come over such formidable foes as Illinois, NYU, Xavier, Wisconsin, Loyola, Louisville, Bowling Green and Notre Dame.

Combining with Moran for the kill in the majority of the Marquette achievements have been rubber-legged Walt Mangram, a great rebounder who led the team in that department last year despite being only 6-3, and veteran guards Jim McCoy and Jia Kollar.

Both homestate representatives in the Coliseum show have completed their schedules while Marquette must meet Notre Dame again tomorrow night.

Eastern has the best mark of the two at 16-5, but a tougher Louisville card ranks the 16-10 Cardinals as a slight favorite.

Eastern of course has that tremendous win over North Carolina State, but other than a win over Miami (Ohio), the remaining of their notable successes have been picked up within the Ohio Valley Conference.

Louisville, under veteran Peck Hickman, has come back after a bad start to merit the at-large bid they received with wins over opposition the likes of Georgia Tech, Alabama, Wake Forest, Xavier, Bradley, Dayton, Kansas, Marquette, and DePaul. UL also owns a 86-73 over Paul McBrayer's Maroons.

For the 'Cats to win the NCAA they must win four games. This would give them a 27-2 mark for the season, Rupp's eighth squad to lose but two games or less. Tops was the 1953-54 squad's 25-0.

Jerry Rump, 6-6 center from Covington Holy Cross has signed a UK basketball grant-in-aid. He is the third basketeteer in fold, following 6-4 Bob Rice of Sandy Hook and 6-6 George Atkins of Hopkinsville.

Track Victory Hope Rests On Plummer

By SCOTTIE HELT

Steadily improving E. G. Plummer will lead the UK trio representation into Saturday's Jaycee Invitational Track Meet at Chattanooga, Tenn.

Joining the former Danville High School cinder star will be Bardstown's gift to Coach Don Seaton's forces, Press Whelan, and Buddy Gum of local Henry Clay High School prep fame.

Over 20 of the South's top track squads are figured to compete in the meet which will be run in a new field house in Chattanooga.

Although the UK team has seen action only three times previously this year, Plummer has already established himself as top dog in the 'Cat kennels.

In his very first showing of the season in a meet at Columbus, Ohio in which the Seatonmen dualed with Ohio State and Purdue, Plummer recorded a time of 1:56.5 in the 88 yard run, the best time he had ever done in that particular event. This was good for the runner-up spot to Dick Stayer of Ohio State.

Picking up more momentum in his climb to the apex of the Wildcat track heap, Plummer turned on before a crowd of track authorities in the famed Michigan State Relays, coming in ahead of the pack in the 1,000-yard run.

His bid for a record, with a time of 2:14.9, was a single second off the meet standard.

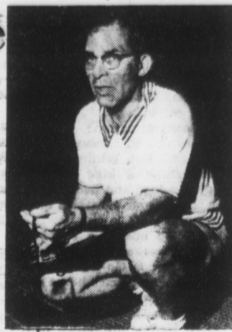

At East Lansing, Whelan picked up a fifth in the mile chase, while Gum failed to place in the 600-yard run, an event which he won the year before.

Plummer kept on the winning trail in the school's last appearance, the Feb. 14th Montgomery Relays, with a near-record victory in the one-half mile contest. He had a 1:58.3 time which was a mere three-tenths of a second off the record.

Although no team awards were made, UK gained an unofficial fourth-place position in the Steel City classic with a 10-point total. Whelan was third in the mile race.

At Chattanooga, Whelan will vie in the mile and two-mile events; Gum in the 440-yard and 880-yard runs, and Plummer in the 880-yard and mile races.

Coach Seaton and his pupils will leave by automobile for the Tennessee city this afternoon. The group plans to return Sunday.

Swim Coach Aigie Reece checks the time on his 'Cattfish sprinters as they compete in the SEC Meet in Gainesville, Florida. The six-team competition started yesterday and will continue through Saturday. UK was fifth in the league last year.

Scrimmage Pleases Collier

Coach Blanton Collier, who sent his gridmen through their first spring workout last Monday, said that he was very pleased with his squad's showing in the first scrimmage Wednesday.

The Wildcat mentor employed the three-plateau system similar to that used by the national champion LSU Tigers last season in the initial scrimmage.

The 'Cats went through the usual head-knocking yesterday.

They have a 36-day period in which to get 20 practices.

Cox's AP All-American Choice Tops 'Cat Awards

It took the NCAA Championship last year to make poll voters aware UK had any All-Americans on its squad.

This year, not even having begun tournament play, names of UK basketballers have popped up on virtually every star group picked. Ace forward Johnny Cox leads the newest edition of the "fiddling five" in gaining the praises. Latest jewel in his crown is his selection to the Associated Press, first-team group along with Bailey Howell of Mississippi State, Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati, Bob Boozer of Kansas State and Jerry West of West Virginia.

Additionally, the Hazard hero has gained a spot on the All-American unit chosen by Police Gazette publication, second-team spots on the UPI and Sporting News and first-squad ranking on all All-SEC combinations chosen to date.

Cox also gained support in SEC Most Valuable Player, best rebounder and UPI Most Valuable voting.

McGuire, 43, is a native of Manhattan, and attended St. Xavier High School, Brooklyn, where he was outstanding in football, basketball and baseball.

While a student at St. John's University, he was All-Metro in basketball and played in the first big college game in Madison Square Garden.

After coaching at St. Xavier, he returned to St. John's where he coached for five years. He won 106 games and lost 36 there. Four of his teams were in the National Invitation Tournament, and two were in the NCAA eliminations.

McGuire, who holds a citation as the best-groomed coach in the nation, went to North Carolina in 1952.
