ABOUT THE LIBRARIES

AIDS Reactivation:

The AIDS office (Academic Information/Developmental Skills) is about to become active again. The new AIDS Librarian is Karen Boucias who has transferred to the Reference Department from Central Serials Record. The office has a new location - in the area directly behind the Reference desk in MIK South. This area, formerly the Reference office, is now open to the public. The reference staff will service the AIDS collection as another aspect of information services. Karen will have responsibility for making contact with faculty and staff throughout the academic community and for maintaining the collection of AIDS materials. The AIDS phone number will remain the same 258-2684. We hope to expand the functions of AIDS during the coming year so that it will be a central source of information on what's going on on campus. We would welcome any input from the staff.

Faculty elections:

The following were elected by the Faculty at their August meeting:

Claire McCann - Faculty Secretary
Rhoda Channing - Representative to Administrative Committee
Bess Clotfelter - Representative to Administrative Council

Missing pottery:

The Staff Organization would like to make a final appeal to fellow staff members to check their belongings and see if they accidentally picked up our large, round pottery serving plate. If you have, return it quietly to the Staff Room and no questions will be asked!

Medical travellers:

The following librarians attended the Medical Library Association annual meeting this summer in Minneapolis: Bernie Baldini, Chris Lavin, Sara Leech, Mary Evelyn Minter, Kay Saillard, and Janet Stith. Sara, Chris, and Janet participated in a poster/panel session describing the extramural programs on-going at the Medical Center Library and particularly the 3 year grant from the National Library of Medicine for development of health science library network in 20 counties in northeastern Kentucky. The theme of the 75th annual meeting was Frontiers in Health Science Librarianship with programs directed to history, landmarks and new ideas of medical librarianship.

MANAGEMENT COMMON SENSE CORNER

In the August issue of Bits & Pieces a piece beginning on page 1 discusses a trait of good leaders, specifically that of the extent people feel free to question the leader's point of view and suggest alternatives.

A good leader will play down the personal side of the opposing view, realize that even a leader will make a certain amount of mistakes and in the long run this will cut down on mistakes before they are made.

To encourage subordinates to speak their minds some of the following are suggested:

- asking their opinions before you have formed yours.
- showing in your attitude and actions that you value a person who speaks her or his mind.

A suggested reading:

Gardner, Jeff, and Duane Webster, Goals and Objectives; Occasional Papers #3 August 1974, ARL Office of University Library Management Studies, Washington, D.C.

Both items can be found on the Management Common Sense reading shelf in the Staff Collection, 2nd floor King North.

COMPUTING CENTER ORIENTATION SESSIONS

Informal orientation sessions are again being offered by the Computing Center for interested faculty/staff members. Sessions will include instruction in the use of their facilities. Sessions are offered from 3:30-4:30 in Room 103, McVey Hall, on the following dates (you need attend only one): 18, 25 August; 1, 8, 15 September.
