

Minutes of the Meeting of the Board of Trustees of the University of Kentucky,
Tuesday, May 2, 1967

The Board of Trustees of the University of Kentucky met in regular session in the Board Room of the Administration Building on the campus of the University of Kentucky at 1:30 p.m., Eastern Standard Time, on Tuesday, May 2, 1967 with the following members present: Governor Edward T. Breathitt, Chairman, Dr. Ralph Angelucci, Vice Chairman, Dr. H. B. Murray, Secretary, Mr. William R. Black, Mrs. Rexford Blazer, Mr. Smith Broadbent, Dr. Harry Denham, Mr. Sam Ezelle, Mr. Robert Hillenmeyer, Mr. B. Hudson Milner, and non-voting faculty members, Professor Stephen Diachun and Professor Paul Oberst. Absent were Mr. Wendell P. Butler, Mr. Richard Cooper, Dr. R. W. Bushart, and Dr. Harry Sparks. The administration was represented by President John W. Oswald, and Vice Presidents A. D. Albright, William R. Willard, R. F. Kerley, Glenwood L. Creech and Robert L. Johnson, and Provost Lewis Cochran. Members of the various news media were also present.

A. Meeting Opened

Governor Breathitt called the meeting to order and requested Mr. Smith Broadbent to give the invocation. Following roll call, Dr. Murray reported a quorum present and the meeting was declared officially open for the conduct of business at 1:35 p.m.

B. Minutes Approved

On motion by Mr. Ezelle, seconded by Mr. Hillenmeyer, the reading of the Minutes for the February 17, 1967 meeting of the Executive Committee and the March 17, 1967 recessed meeting of the Board of Trustees was dispensed with and the Minutes were approved as published.

C. President's Report to the Trustees

Dr. Oswald briefly reviewed the items contained in PR 1, copies of which were available to all those present, and concluded his remarks by reporting that Mrs. Lucile Blazer had represented the Board of Trustees at the meeting of the Association of Governing Boards at the University of Illinois in mid-April and that Dr. Glenwood L. Creech had also attended as Dr. Oswald's representative. Mrs. Blazer thanked the Board for affording her the opportunity to participate in the meeting and said she had found it most helpful.

Having determined that there were no further additions to the report, Governor Breathitt thanked Dr. Oswald and the report was ordered accepted and filed.

D. Recommendations of the President (PR 2)

Dr. Oswald said that he would be pleased to answer any questions the Board might have but inasmuch as copies of PR 2 had been mailed in advance for prior study, he had no special comments to make other than to call attention to the list of promotions and tenure appointments on pages 16 through 18. He said that the list of names was not complete and additional names would be submitted for approval at a later meeting.

The Board members expressed gratification at the number of persons recommended for degrees or certificates from the various community colleges and without further comment, on motion by Mr. Ezelle, seconded by Dr. Denham, and passed, PR 2, Recommendations of the President, was approved as a whole and ordered made an official part of the Minutes of the May 2, 1967 meeting of the Board of Trustees. (See PR 2 at the end of the Minutes.)

E. Supplemental Recommendations of the President (PR 3)

Since the Board had not had an opportunity to examine PR 3, Supplemental Recommendations of the President, in advance of the meeting Dr. Oswald called attention to the recommendation that Dr. Jesse Hobson be named to a three-year term on the Board of Directors of The University of Kentucky Research Foundation as a citizen member and that Dr. Wendell DeMarcus be reappointed to a three-year term as a faculty member. He reminded the Board, that at the March 17 meeting, Mr. Richard Cooper had been named to a three-year term as a Trustee member.

Dr. A. D. Albright's one-year term on the Board of Directors of Lincoln School has expired and Dr. Oswald called attention to item II in PR 3 which recommended the appointment of Mr. Robert L. Johnson to replace him on the Board for a three-year term ending December 31, 1969.

Item III of PR 3 recommended approval of three departmental chairmen, Professor Robert D. Grieves, Professor Roger Eichhorn, and Dr. Hans Conrad. Dr. Oswald indicated he would like to add the name of a fourth person for the Chairmanship of the Department of Electrical Engineering -- Dr. Robert Cosgriff, who is presently at Ohio State University. Dr. Grieves is at the Illinois Institute of Technology at the present time, while Dr. Conrad has been Technical Director of the Materials Science and Engineering Division of the Franklin Institute, and Dr. Eichhorn is at Princeton University. All four of these men are outstanding in their particular discipline and the University of Kentucky is fortunate to have been able to attract them. They will provide the quality of leadership which is essential if the College of Engineering is to continue to strengthen and develop its programs, particularly at the graduate level.

Governor Breathitt, having determined there were no questions relative to the report, called for a motion for adoption. On motion by Mr. Ezelle, duly seconded, and approved, PR 3, Supplemental Recommendations of the President, was approved as a whole and ordered made an official part of the Minutes of the May 2 meeting of the Board of Trustees. (See PR 3 at the end of the Minutes.)

F. Approval of Degree Candidates (PR 4)

Under the Statutes, one of the quarterly meetings of the Board of Trustees is set for the Tuesday preceding the annual commencement exercises at the University of Kentucky. This is done in order that the Board of Trustees may approve the candidates for degrees; therefore, Dr. Oswald said that PR 4 was probably the most important item on the agenda and certainly the reason for the meeting today. The list presented to the Board for approval contained only the names of persons completing requirements in May 1967, approval having already been given to August and December candidates. A total of 2,398 persons are scheduled to receive degrees at the commencement exercises on May 8, 1967, distributed as follows: graduate degrees, 593; professional degrees, 224; and undergraduate degrees, 1,581. While the number of undergraduate degrees to be conferred shows a decrease of 3.6 per cent from 1966, there is an increase of 19 per cent in graduate degrees and 21.8 per cent in professional degrees.

On motion by Mr. Black, seconded by Mr. Hillenmeyer, and passed unanimously, the President was authorized to confer upon each individual whose name appears on the list the degree to which he is entitled upon certification by the Dean of Admissions and Registrar that said individual has satisfactorily completed all requirements for the degree for which he has made application. (See PR 4 at the end of the Minutes.)

G. Approval Given to Student Code (PR 5)

As Chairman of the Board Committee appointed by Governor Breathitt at the April 4 meeting of the Board, Mr. Smith Broadbent reported that his committee, which was composed of Mrs. Lucile Blazer and Mr. Sam Ezelle, had met on April 26 with members of the Senate Advisory Committee on Student Affairs, which had prepared the recommendations relative to student discipline and procedures, with the Senate Council as representatives of the University Senate, and with members of the Cabinet of Student Government. He commented that the committee had found it a rewarding experience and were quite pleased with the cooperative and helpful spirit shown by the faculty as well as the students with whom the committee had talked. As a result of the conferences held, the Board Committee had made a few modifications in the original document and a copy of the document with the recommended modifications was before each member. He pointed out the specific changes made by page and section and indicated the proposed changes would not alter the original intent of the document appreciably but would serve to clarify certain areas which had been of concern to members of the Board, to parents, and to taxpayers.

in the State. As a matter of record, the changes as recommended by the committee are included as an addendum to PR 5 at the end of the Minutes.

With the modifications suggested, the committee felt that the document was now acceptable as a policy statement of the Board of Trustees from which subsequent governing regulations might be formulated and recommended to the Board that the document, as modified, be approved. On behalf of the committee, Mr. Broadbent so moved and his motion was seconded by Mr. Black.

In the discussion which followed, Dr. Diachun, as Chairman of the Senate Council, indicated that the discussions with the members of the Senate Council had been free and amiable and said that the Council, acting on behalf of the Senate, had no objections to the changes recommended by the Trustee Committee. He felt the changes were desirable and in spirit with the recommendations of the Senate. Mr. Ezelle complimented the students who had met with the committee on their interest, understanding, and concern for the welfare of their fellow students.

Dr. Denham asked Dr. Oswald if he would like to comment inasmuch as he had not been present at the March and April meetings when the student code had first been discussed. Dr. Oswald said he would like very much to express his high regard for the faculty - student committee which had spent much time and thought on drawing up the original document and to the University Senate and the Student Government which spent much time in considering it. He continued that it is an important document and in view of the general unrest and uneasiness prevalent throughout the nation, it is significant that the University of Kentucky has been able to draft a policy statement, not in the context of crisis, but with mutual understanding and respect. It is equally significant that the policy has the wholehearted endorsement and support of the students, faculty and the Board of Trustees. The University will now have a document which clearly delineates the relationships of the student to the institution, and of the institution to the student. It further sets forth certain behavioral aspects of the students, sets clear standards for the students, lists specific disciplinary procedures, and makes quite clear the policies which exist on the campus. In the past, the University has attempted to handle disciplinary matters on an ad hoc basis with fair play in mind. It will now be possible to follow an orderly procedure of review and action by the J-Board with provision for appeal by either the student or the President from the J-Board to the Appeals Board which will involve members of the faculty as well as students. Final decision in matters of punishment for disciplinary violations is delegated to the President who is responsible to the Board of Trustees in fiscal, academic, and disciplinary matters.

In closing, Dr. Oswald said the Board might be interested to know that as a result of an item in one of the recent newsletters of the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges which referred to the proposed University of Kentucky Student Code, over 50 requests for copies have been received from sister institutions. He read the following quote from one of the letters as an example of the tone of all of them, "Congratulations to you and the University for your timely efforts. Such a document is particularly needed in every college and university in the country today, and many of our misunderstandings are caused from the lack of such a clear-cut policy."

There being no further discussion, the Governor called for a vote on the motion for the adoption of the modified document on student discipline and procedures, and all present voted affirmatively. (See PR 5 and Addendum at the end of the Minutes.)

H. Approval "In Principle" of the Preliminary Development Plans for the Ashland Community College (PR 6)

Although the Board members had already received copies of the Preliminary Development Plan for the Ashland Community College, Mr. Kerley made additional copies available, explaining that the plans for Ashland were essentially the same as those already approved for other community colleges. He said that the people of Ashland have made available 47 acres as the new site for the Community College and the plans presented are based on long-range planning as it is currently seen with an ultimate goal of 500,000 square feet for an eventual enrollment of 5,000 students. As soon as the first facility is completed the College will be able to move from the downtown area and it will then be possible to provide in Ashland the type of facility which is desired for all community colleges.

On motion by Mrs. Blazer, seconded by Dr. Denham, and unanimously approved, the Ashland Community College Preliminary Development Plan was approved "in principle" with the understanding that the plan will be periodically revised as the program requirements of the College become more fully expressed. (See PR 6 at the end of the Minutes.)

I. School of Home Economics Established as a Coordinate Unit in the Division of Colleges (PR 7)

In 1963, as with other units in the institution, a study of the Home Economics program began which resulted in certain recommendations which appeared in the Academic Plan adopted by the Board of Trustees in June of 1964. In order to implement some of these recommendations, Dr. Oswald said he invited four eminent persons in the field of home economics to come to the institution to look at the program and to make recommendations about the future. After the reports of these consultants were received, many people examined the program and many discussions were held with the faculty of Home Economics, the College of Agriculture, and other units of the University. The final outcome has resulted in the recommendation presented to the Board, namely that the School of Home Economics be established as a coordinate unit with other schools and colleges in the Division of Colleges, that a position of dean be established for the purpose of administering the School of Home Economics, and that the School be organized into appropriate departments. Dr. Oswald recommended approval with the effective date to be July 1, 1967. He added, that with the establishment of the School of Home Economics as a coordinate unit the words "and Home Economics" would be deleted from the present name of the college and it would henceforth be known as the College of Agriculture.

Dr. Albright added that the recommendation which Dr. Oswald had presented had the endorsement and support of representative groups of persons in the field of home economics, not only locally but throughout the State.

On motion duly made, seconded, and carried, the recommendation presented by Dr. Oswald, which is set forth in PR 7, was approved and, effective July 1, 1967, the School of Home Economics will become a coordinate unit in the Division of Colleges and the words "and Home Economics" will be deleted from the present name of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics. (See PR 7 at the end of the Minutes.)

J. Faculty Memorial Scholarships Established (PR 8)

Dr. Oswald said that the week of April 2, 1967 was probably one of the most tragic in the history of the University for during that week four members of the faculty lost their lives in a plane crash, and a fifth died of a heart attack. All five were comparatively young men on the threshold of their most productive years and four left children still to be educated. This tragic week brought into sharp focus the fact that the University provided no educational assistance for families of members of the faculty who die while in service at the University. In order to do what should have been done earlier, President Oswald said he would like to recommend to the Board of Trustees that faculty memorial scholarships for children of full-time faculty members who die while in service of the University of Kentucky be established, these scholarships to be underwritten by the University to the extent of undergraduate registration fees, resident or non-resident, and receipt of such a scholarship to be dependent upon the admissibility of the student. He added that the scholarships might be enriched through gifts donated to the scholarship fund in the name of the deceased. He emphasized that the scholarship should be applicable not only to the children of those who died most recently but should be open to those eligible children who are now in the baccalaureate program at the University and others currently below the collegiate age. In closing, he said that it was impossible to give an estimate of the numbers involved but an effort would be made to seek out all those eligible for such scholarships.

Mr. Hillenmeyer made the motion that the recommendation to establish faculty memorial scholarships as set forth in PR 8 be approved. His motion was seconded by Mr. Ezelle. Dr. Denham said he hoped these scholarships would serve as a tangible expression to the faculty of the Board's appreciation and of the concern which they feel for the children of deceased faculty members. Governor Breathitt called for a vote on Mr. Hillenmeyer's motion, and it passed unanimously. He thanked the Board for its action and said he felt that the provision of these scholarships would meet with widespread public approval and asked members of the news media who were present to give broad coverage to the establishment of the faculty memorial scholarships since a wide dissemination of the information would be helpful in locating children who might be eligible for such scholarships. (See PR 8 at the end of the Minutes.)

K. Dr. Wethington Named Director of Maysville Community College

Dr. Oswald said he wished to recommend that Dr. Charles T. Wethington, Jr., be named Director of the Maysville Community College effective July 1, 1967. Dr. Wethington came to the University in 1964 as an instructor in educational psychology and became Acting Director of the Lexington Technical Institute in 1966. His experience prior to coming to the University includes teaching at the secondary level in Kentucky and in California and in USAFI evening classes at Misawa Air Base in Japan. He said Dr. Wethington, an assistant professor of education, holds the A. B. degree from Eastern Kentucky University and the M. A. and Ph. D. degrees from the University of Kentucky. Dr. Oswald reported that the recommendation had the endorsement and support of Dean Ellis F. Hartford.

Dr. Denham said that he was delighted that the Maysville Community College had such a well qualified young man as its first director and made the motion that his appointment be approved. His motion was seconded and passed without dissent.

L. Board Committee Appointed as Liaison with Joint UK-UL Committee

Under HR 43, President John Oswald of the University of Kentucky and President Philip G. Davidson of the University of Louisville were asked to appoint a joint committee to study the future role of the University of Louisville in the state system of higher education. The following committee was named: Lisle Baker, Chairman, Thomas A. Ballantine, William H. Kendall, William F. Lucas, Albert G. Clay, H. Lee Cooper, Ed Paxton, and Clair Vough. The committee employed the firm of Heald, Hobson and Associates as consultants and the consultants submitted a preliminary report during the late winter which Dr. Oswald discussed informally with members of the Board. The Joint UK-UL Committee prior to drafting its final report for submission to the two presidents and to the Governor has indicated its wish to learn the reactions of the Boards of the two institutions to some of the recommendations made by Heald, Hobson and Associates. The Board of Trustees of the University of Louisville has already named a committee and President Oswald requested Governor Breathitt to appoint a similar committee from the University of Kentucky Board. These two Board committees, after first meeting together, would then meet with the Joint UK-UL Committee for full discussion of future relationships between the two institutions.

Governor Breathitt appointed Dr. Ralph Angelucci, Mr. William R. Black, Dr. Harry Denham and Professor Paul Oberst as the committee from the University of Kentucky Board of Trustees and named Dr. Angelucci chairman.

M. Feasibility Study of Relocation of Stadium Authorized (PR 11)

In the early stages of the long-range planning of the central campus, it became evident that building sites would be of prime importance if the needs of a student body of 20,000 or more were to be met satisfactorily. The present stadium now occupies an area which should be made available in the near future for academic purposes. The fact that the stadium is utilized only five times during a year, makes its present location extremely costly in terms of land use.

In June 1966, the Board of Trustees authorized President Oswald to undertake all actions necessary to conduct physical and financial planning for a new stadium to be located on Coldstream Farm. Subsequent to this authorization, city and county officials as well as representatives of the student body and faculty requested that consideration be given to the selection of alternate sites within walking distance of the campus. An ad hoc committee under the chairmanship of Mr. Robert L. Johnson and composed of representatives of the community, the students, the faculty and administration, and the alumni, was named by President Oswald and requested to study alternate sites and to recommend several such sites to him for presentation to the Board of Trustees. The committee has carried out its charge and has recommended three possible sites as follows: (1) on the University farm, south of Cooper Drive; (2) near the Jefferson overpass which is involved in the urban renewal and track removal project; and (3) another urban renewal area between Limestone and Broadway and north of Euclid. The first site is recommended over the other two possibilities since the University already owns the land there; however, discussions with community leaders will continue on the feasibility of the other two sites.

Dr. Oswald read the recommendation as set forth in PR 11 which recommended that the Athletics Association be requested to conduct a feasibility study of constructing a 50,000 seat stadium and adjoining parking lot for 2,000 automobiles on the University of Kentucky farm, south of Cooper Drive, emphasizing that the parking should be fitted into the University's long-range needs and possible multiple uses of the stadium itself should be explored.

Governor Breathitt complimented the University administration, faculty, and the students for the wisdom of their thinking. He said that an investment as large as would be required to construct a 50,000 seat stadium with attendant parking facilities should be of benefit to the entire institution and not to a small segment of it. The day-to-day use of the parking area and the provision to accommodate several of the facilities now programmed in the Physical Education Complex would insure the best possible return on the investment.

Mr. Hillenmeyer moved that the recommendation as stated in PR 11, which is included at the end of the Minutes, be approved. The motion was seconded by Dr. Denham. All present voted "aye" with the exception of Mr. Sam Ezelle who voted "nay". (See PR 11 at the end of the Minutes.)

N. Meeting Dates for 1967-68 Established (PR 12)

Dr. Oswald called attention to PR 12 which listed the meeting dates for the Board of Trustees and the Executive Committee for the fiscal year 1967-68. He commented that the recommended dates would provide for monthly meeting of the Board of Trustees from September through May. The monthly meetings were set at the request of the members of the Board of Trustees. The Executive Committee would still meet during the summer months and at such times as deemed desirable or necessary between monthly meetings of the Board.

On motion by Mr. Ezelle, seconded by Mrs. Blazer, the Board established monthly meetings from September through May and approved the dates for such meetings as set forth in PR 12. (See PR 12 at the end of the Minutes.)

O. Executive Committee Elected

Governor Breathitt said that under the Statutes of the Commonwealth the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees must be elected yearly. The present Executive Committee was elected on May 3, 1966 and action was needed at this meeting. He asked for nominations and Mr. Black moved that the existing Committee be thanked for the outstanding job which it has done and that the present members (Dr. Ralph Angelucci, Chairman, Mr. Smith Broadbent, Dr. Harry Denham, Mr. Robert Hillenmeyer, Dr. H. B. Murray) be re-elected. Mr. Ezelle seconded the motion and it passed unanimously.

P. School of Mathematical Sciences Activated (PR 13)

Dr. Oswald called attention to PR 13 which recommended the activation of the School of Mathematical Sciences effective July 1, 1967. He said that the establishment of such a school had already been approved as a part of the general plan for the organization of the College of Arts and Sciences presented to the Board earlier and the Board was merely being asked to approve activation of the school and the appointment of Dr. Wimberly Royster as Director of the School of Mathematical Sciences and Associate Dean, College of Arts and Sciences.

On motion by Mr. Broadbent, seconded by Dr. Angelucci, and passed, the recommendation made as a part of PR 13 was approved. Dr. Diachun commented that he was sorry he did not have a vote for he would like very much to have the opportunity to vote in favor of the appointment of Dr. Royster as Director of the School and Associate Dean, College of Arts and Sciences. (See PR 13 at the end of the Minutes.)

Q. Board Committee Named to Work With Athletics Association Committee on Stadium Feasibility Study

Governor Breathitt said that if the members approved, he would like to name a committee from the Board of Trustees to work with the Athletics Association Committee conducting the feasibility study for the relocation of the stadium. The members agreed that such a committee would be extremely desirable and the Governor designated Mr. Hillenmeyer, Dr. Denham, and Mr. Ezelle to serve as a committee to work with the Athletics Association Committee.

R. Jefferson Community College Offices Opened

Dr. Oswald said that invitations had been issued to attend the formal opening of the offices of the Jefferson Community College on May 9, in Louisville. He expressed the hope that some of the members of the Board might be able to attend and reported that work had already started on the renovation of the Presbyterian Seminary building and the old Pharmacy Building and that the first students should be admitted in January 1968.

S. Meeting Adjourned

Governor Breathitt asked if there was any further business to come before the meeting. Dr. Diachun replied that inasmuch as the Board had approved as a part of PR 2, a leave of absence for him from August 1, 1967 through July 31, 1968, he would not be attending any more meetings of the Board and wished to say to the Board that he had found his term of service of great value. For himself personally and for the members of the faculty who elected him to the Board, he expressed thanks for the sincere interest and concern evidenced by the Board in all matters relating to the faculty and the academic affairs of the institution.

Governor Breathitt said that the Board had been aided in its deliberations by the advice and counsel they received from the non-voting faculty members. He thanked Dr. Diachun for his contribution and wished him a pleasant and enjoyable leave.

On motion by Mr. Ezelle, seconded by Mrs. Blazer, and approved the May 2, 1967, meeting of the Board of Trustees adjourned at 3:20 p. m.

Respectfully submitted,

H. B. Murray, Secretary
Board of Trustees

PR 2, PR 3, PR 4, PR 5 and Addendum, PR 6, PR 7, PR 8, PR 11, PR 12, and PR 13, which follow are all official parts of the Minutes of the May 2, 1967, meeting of the Board of Trustees of the University of Kentucky.

PR1

PRESIDENT'S REPORT TO THE TRUSTEES

May 2, 1967

1. ALUMNI ASSOCIATION HAS SUCCESSFUL REUNION WEEKEND

The Alumni Association reports a successful reunion weekend. A check for $1,911.50 was presented to the association by the class of 1957, which held its 10th reunion, and the Senior Associates announced commitments of $1,221,500 under the Fellows Program. Senior Associates president Hampton C. Adams said 26 men and women have enrolled as University Fellows, 19 of them alumni. Half are Kentuckians, he said.

The association named Ervin Nutter of Xenia, Ohio, as president, and Charles O. Landrum of Park Hills, as vice president. Mrs. Joe F. Morris was reelected treasurer. Samuel M. Cassidy, Mt. Lebanon, Pa., was elected chairman of Senior Associates, an organization of UK alumni who have been out of school 30 years or more. Other officers: James W. May, Louisville, vice chairman, and R. E. Shaver, Lexington, secretary-treasurer. Alumni Awards for distinguished service to their communities and to UK went to Miss Madileen Small, Washington, D.C.; Nutter; J. Winston Coleman and Mrs. Morris, both of Lexington.

Teaching awards of $500 each were presented to Dr. Nicholas Pisacano, chairman of the Department of Hygiene and Public Health, and assistant dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, and Dr. James P. Noffsinger, associate professor of architecture. They were chosen by student organizations. Research awards, also of $500 each, were presented to Dr. Walter G. Langlois, associate professor of French; Dr. C. Oran Little, associate professor of animal science, and Dr. Donald E. Sands, associate professor of chemistry. The awardees were chosen by their fellow faculty members.

New members of the Alumni Association Board of Directors who took office April 22 for three-year terms are: District 1--Douglas E. Williams, Hopkinsville; District 2--Walter "Dee" Huddleston, Elizabethtown; District 3--Joe Creason, Louisville; District 4--Richard L. Rushing and Mrs. B. L. Kessinger, both of Lexington; District 5--Mrs. G. D. Beach, Frankfort; District 6--J. Roger Caudill, Morehead; District 7--Dr. George P. Archer, Paintsville. District 8 (Kentucky-at-large)--Cecil D. Bell, Lexington, and Joe F. Rupert, Ashland; District 9--Daniel M. Van Sant, Nashville, Tenn.; District 10--C. Robert Yeager, Attleboro, Mass.

2. DR. CLARK TO DIRECT SEMINARS AT STANFORD

Dr. Thomas D. Clark, distinguished professor of history, is one of 16 outstanding teachers of history from across the U.S. who have been invited to participate in Stanford University's summer Institute of American History. The eight-week program will center on a seminar, "New Findings in American History." Institute director is Prof. George Knoles of Stanford. Dr. Clark will conduct the seminars.

3. UNIVERSITY HOSTS 762 HIGH SCHOOLERS AT SPEECH FESTIVAL

A total of 762 students from 143 state high schools, participated in the 47th annual State High School Speech Festival and Debate Tournament on the campus April 20-22.

The three-day event was sponsored by the University Extension Division and the Kentucky High School Speech League.

Recipient of the Phil Cornette Trophy for debate was the team from Sacred Heart Academy, Louisville. The trophy is presented by the Lexington Herald-Leader Company. Trophies for individual performances went to Dan Miller, Murray High School, original oratory; David Rosenberg, Henry Clay High School, extemporaneous speaking; Lee Hisle, Berea Foundation High School, interpretative reading, and Beulah Smith, Red Bird High School, Beverley, Ky., exemplary conduct award.

4. DR. SCHWARTZ TO DIG IN GRAND CANYON

Dr. Douglas W. Schwartz, professor of anthropology, will head a 14-man archaeological team from the University this summer to the Grand Canyon, where they will undertake the first major excavation in the ruins of a large pueblo of more than 30 rooms. The excavation, financed by a $48,000 grant from the National Science Foundation, will seek to determine if the pueblo was built as the result of a single migration and what specific cultural changes resulted when the group migrated into the canyon. Dr. Schwartz says he is primarily interested in the question: "What happens to a group of people when they move from one place to another?" The team will fly into the canyon May 8, and leave June 22, spending the rest of the summer analyzing their findings.

5. NINETEEN INITIATED INTO PHI BETA KAPPA

Dr. William Pratt, of Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, discussed the modern versus the contemporary in literature, at the annual banquet of the University chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, scholastic honorary, April 19. New initiates into Phi Beta Kappa numbered 19. They are: Linda Rae Gregory, Washington, D.C.; Anne Concetta Simonette, Lexington; Joyce Ann Hancock, Sulphur; Mary Lee Gosney, Alexander; Johnnie Keilene Cross, Somerset; Marilyn Joy Driskell, Lexington, Mary Anna Hovey, Bala-Cynwyd, Pa.; Paula Darlene Fletcher, Nicholasville; Patricia Lynn Rogan, Middlesboro; Robert Wallace Fleishman, Lexington; Shelby Allen Sherrod, Lexington; John Baynard Baxley Jr., Lexington; Manfred Harwood Ledford, Lexington; Charles Embry Anderson, Mayfield, Muriel Lynn Robertson, Greenville; Edwin Campbell Jr., South Ft. Mitchell; Sara Prather, New Castle; Kenneth Chastain, Elizabethtown, Pa., and Vonnell Doyle, Louisville

6. ARCHITECTURE SCHOOL'S DR. NOFFSINGER HEADS NORTHSIDE SURVEY TEAM

The School of Architecture will cooperate with the Lexington Northside Neighborhood Association and the City-County Planning Commission in a survey of buildings of architectural and historical importance in a several block area between Jefferson, Limestone and Second Streets and the Beltline Railroad.

Dr. Phillip Noffsinger, associate professor of architecture, will direct the survey, with the assistance of William Mailfald, Chicago, a senior in the School of Architecture. They will be assisted by volunteers from the Northside Association, and are expected to complete the survey by the end of the summer.

George T. Lamason, Northside president, said the area "is the seat of much of Lexington's early history and continuing architectural charm, and we hope to familiarize people on the Northside, as well as other Lexingtonians and visitors of what we have on the Northside." He said the survey also is important from the standpoint of preservation. The project is being undertaken on a voluntary basis. No foundation or tax money is involved.

7. MOTION PICTURE SERVICES GETS $15,000 GRANT FOR PLANNING FILM

The Motion Picture Services Department of the School of Communications has received a $15,000 grant for a color film on Lexington area community development plans. The grant was made by the Lexington City-County Planning Commission. Don Collins, director of the UK department, will direct the film, whose purpose is "to dramatize problems facing suburban areas and show how Lexington can preserve its beauty, build lovely recreational areas, and functional, attractive homes, at the same time providing for orderly industrial and commercial growth."

8. JOHN R. MCGEEHAN HONORED BY RADIO, TV, FILMS DEPARTMENT

This year's Professionalism in Communications award from the Department of Radio-Television-Films went to John R. (Jack) McGeehan, associate producer of Sullivan Productions, Inc., Long Island, N.Y. It was the second such annual award "for superior adherence to the art and ideals of professional communications." Last year's award was won by David Dick, now with CBS News, Washington, D.C. McGeehan, a UK graduate, class of 1953, is associate producer of "The Ed Sullivan Show," and has been associated with such programs as "Sergeant Bilko," "Play of the Week," and "The Big Payoff."

9. SECOND MAYSVILLE STUDENT RECEIVES CORNING GLASS FELLOWSHIP

For the second year in a row, a Maysville student has received the Corning Glass Fellowship, awarded annually to an outstanding senior. It is one of the most coveted awards by members of the graduating class. This year's recipient is Don C. Little, graduating senior in the College of Business and Economics. Last year, the fellowship was won by Arthur D. Henderson, also of Maysville, an honor student in chemical engineering. Little plans to travel to Europe, where he will make a study of price level adjustments as reflected in financial statements of foreign companies. Among his other awards at UK are the $500 Haskins & Sells Accounting Award and the $100 Yeager, Ford & Warren Accounting Award.

10. FRIENDS, COLLEAGUES, HONOR DR. MCFARLAN

Approximately 140 friends, colleagues and students of Dr. A. C. McFarlan, head of the Geology Department from 1927 until his retirement last year, honored him at a dinner on April 15. A bound volume of more than 75 letters from friends, associates and former students, was presented to the veteran geologist. It was also announced that a portrait of Dr. "Mac" is being completed by Alfred Domene, Lexington artist, to take its place in the Department of Geology alongside that of Dr. A. M. Miller, who headed the department from 1892 until 1927, when Dr. Miller was succeeded by Dr. McFarlan.

11. LAW PROFESSOR STUDIES LEGAL ASPECTS OF WATER

Dan Tarlock, assistant professor of law, with the aid of James Ronald Henson, law student from Murray, is examining the legal aspects of the diversion, transfer, storage, and distribution of water in the state. The U.S. Department of the Interior Office of Water Resources Research, Washington, is financing the study, which will be completed by late Spring of next year, at which time a report will be issued. Prof. Tarlock said Kentucky water law "is a subject of pressing interest because of increasing emphasis on control of water resources. A contributing factor is the state's expanding industries using large quantities of water."

12. L. BERKLEY DAVIS HEADS ENGINEERING ADVISORY COUNCIL

L. Berkley Davis, vice president, General Electric Company, Washington, D. C., is chairman of the newly formed advisory council to the College of Engineering. Dean Robert M. Drake says the council will provide "a much closer link between engineering education at the University and the world's changing requirements." Other members of the council are: Joseph A. Boyd, president, Radiation, Inc., Melbourne, Fla.; R. E. Shaver, director, UK Physical Plant Division; M. P. O'Brien, General Electric Company, New York; James W. May, American Air Filter Company, Louisville; Robert P. Brown, W. T. Congleton Company, Lexington; Ervin J. Nutter, president, Elano Corporation, Xenia, Ohio; Robert C. McDowell, chairman, McDowell-Wellman Engineering Company, Cleveland, Ohio; David C. Scott, executive vice president, Colt Industries, Inc., New York; Russell H. Gray, executive vice president, Carrier Corporation, Syracuse, N.Y.; J. Stephen Watkins; Watkins & Associates, Inc., Lexington, and Samuel M. Cassidy, Pittsburgh, Pa.

13. EMPLOYEES HONORED AT HOSPITAL ANNIVERSARY OBSERVANCE

A reception and awards ceremony for service to the University highlighted the fifth anniversary celebration of the University Hospital on April 24. Seventy-two hospital employees were recognized for service ranging from five to 25 years.

Among the honorees were Ed Crowe and Louise Welch, 25 years each; Mary Hall, 20 years, and Dorothy A. Hawkins, Lelene A. Baynham and Richard D. Wittrup, ten years each. Sixty-six others received five-year pins, which service parallels the history of the hospital. Dr. William R. Willard, Medical Center vice president, made the presentations. The University Hospital was officially opened on April 24, 1962, with 65 available beds and six patients. In the last year, 53 additional beds have been put in service, bringing the number now activated to 345, plus 26 bassinets.

14. REMOTE CONTROL MINING IN COAL'S FUTURE

Remote control mining probably will be the chief mining method of the future, the University's annual industrial coal conference was told on April 12. Herman Van Houton, vice president and general sales manager, Joy Manufacturing Co., Pittsburgh, told the 100 coal-industry leaders that his company is pushing ahead with research toward the day when pushbutton mining becomes a reality.

Another speaker, Stephen F. Dunn, president of the National Coal Association, Washington, said that one of the most immediate threats to the future of the industry and to its customers is the problem of air pollution. He reported that there are promising laboratory results, "but translating those results into operating equipment is going to take a lot more testing, a lot more money, and some time." He said the coal industry recognizes the air pollution problem.

15. EDITOR SAYS WE SUFFER FROM SOCIAL INDIGESTION

Alton Blakeslee, science editor for the Associated Press, told a luncheon audience at the spring meeting of the Kentucky Intercollegiate Press Association here on April 14 that "changes in our society are so rapid, we are suffering from social indigestion. Parents struggling to help their children with the 'new math' wonder if science is a friend or foe. Time is fast losing its meaning as a means of enjoyment." He added that scientists are not miracle workers and that many people are involved in finding a solution to the problem. A panel discussion in the afternoon featured newspapermen Tommy Preston, Cynthiana Democrat; Tom Gish, Whitesburg Mountain Eagle, and Bill Blakeman, Winchester Sun, discussing the nonmetropolitan press's coverage of higher education in the U.S. Other speakers included Gerald Grant of the Washington Post; Dr. Richard Butwell, of the Patterson School of Diplomacy; Bill Billeter and Fred Luigart of the Courier-Journal, and Dr. Frank Marini, of the Department of Political Science. Joseph Benti of CBS News, New York, was the banquet speaker.

16. UNVEIL PORTRAIT OF DR. PELLEGRINO AT MEDICAL CENTER

A portrait of Dr. Edmund G. Pellegrino, first professor and chairman of the Department of Medicine in the College of Medicine, was unveiled in a ceremony on April 8 at the Medical Center. Painted by Edmund Giesbert, the portrait was hung alongside the likenesses of Dr. John S. Chambers, Dr. Francis Massie, Dr. Fred W. Rankin and Dr. Edward H. Ray, in the hospital auditorium. Dr. Pellegrino was in Lexington from his new post at State University of New York to chair the opening session of the fourth Lexington Phenomenology Conference, which also featured among its speakers Dr. Jesse DeBoer, professor of philosophy, and to attend a meeting of the Kentucky Thoracic Society.

17. MEDICAL COLLEGE SENIORS HEAR DR. ROUSE

College of Medicine seniors were urged on April 11 by Dr. Milford O. Rouse, president-elect of the American Medical Association, to be "self-disciplined and dedicated," and to use their skills to help others. His talk was part of the annual Senior Day program given by the Fayette County Medical Society for the graduating class. Dr. John F. Berry Jr., society president, presided at the Tuesday night session at the Imperial House. An afternoon session was presided over by Dr. Hoyt Gardner, chairman of the Senior Day Committee. Other speakers included Dr. Robert E. Pennington, London, president of KMA; Dr. Thomas Wayne, acting dean of the College of Medicine; Dr. W. L. Burke, Lexington, and Dr. Henry Asman, Louisville. About 200 physicians and guests attended.

18. DENTAL EDUCATORS HERE FOR CONFERENCE

More than 100 of the nation's top dental educators and dental public health personnel were on campus for a conference on "The Teaching of Preventive Dentistry and Community Health," sponsored by the College of Dentistry in early April. The purpose was to stimulate planning for the organization of departments such as the Department of Community Dentistry.

19. SENIOR CLASS ENGINEERS STUDYING ARMY DEPOT ACCESS, EVACUATION ROUTES

Civil engineering seniors, under the direction of Dr. John W. Hutchinson, associate professor of civil engineering, are conducting a study to determine the possibility of future development of access roads and evacuation routes to the Lexington Army Depot.

20. TEACHERS' ATTITUDES STUDY IS BEING CIRCULATED

How teachers believe their strength should be used through local professional associations--the result of a University study--is being circulated nationwide. The study, authorized by the Central Kentucky Education Association, was directed by Dr. Paul Street, director of the Bureau of School Services, and Don Ralph, a research assistant. The synopsis is being mailed to education association leaders throughout the country by the Urban Services Division of the National Education Association. The study concerns itself with the attitudes of the teachers toward a statewide professional protest day on Feb. 3, 1966.

21. LAW JOURNAL CALLED AMONG BEST IN NATION

Thomas L. Hinds, Chester, Va., is the new editor-in-chief of the Kentucky Law Journal. Other staff members include Charles R. Simons, Flemingsburg, associate editor; Steven L. Beshear, Dawson Springs, Joe B. Campbell, Bowling Green, Carl Timothy Cone and C. David Emerson, both of Lexington, assistant editors. The new staff will assume its duties at the Fall semester. A banquet on April 15 honored staff members of the Journal. Paul Porter, UK alumnus, former journalist, public administrator and ambassador to Greece, told banquet guests that he ranked the journal among the best in the nation. He added that the main issue facing the lawyer today is "to exercise responsibility not only in the courtroom, but to the indigent and needy." Porter urged the young lawyers and potential lawyers to "take an interest in the community."

22. ASHLAND COLLEGE HOSTS SEMINARS ON URBAN DEVELOPMENT

The third in a series of eight seminars on urban area development will be held today at 7:30 p.m. at Ashland Community College. Designed to inform local area leaders and interested citizens in the techniques of analyzing and seeking solutions to urban area problems, the series will continue through June 13. The first seminar was held April 17. The second, on April 25, featured Dean Charles F. Haywood and Dr. Al Winger, of the College of Business and Economics, discussing the economic base and growth of urban areas. Prof. David Blythe, chairman of the Department of Civil Engineering, will discuss developing industrial sites and parks on May 16.

23. COMMUNITY COLLEGE STUDENT COUNCIL FIRST IN NATION

The presidents of student governments at the University's Community Colleges have formed what is believed to be the first such organization in the nation: the Inter-Community College Student Council.

The Council will discuss common problems of the community college students at least three times a year. A recent meeting of the group at Elizabethtown featured discussion of such problems as sophomore registration and "extra-mural sports."

Council members include: Ronnie Mason, Hopkinsville Community College; Jerry Booher, group coordinator, Somerset Community College; Betty Bowling, Southeast Community College; George Hagan, Elizabethtown Community College; Dale Chapman, Northern Community College; Timmy Martin, Henderson Community College; Richard Hughes, Ashland Community College; Danny Looney, Prestonsburg Community College, and Danny O'Neal, Quicksand Wood Utilization Center.

24. CONGOLESE AMBASSADOR URGES CONTROL OF DISEASES

Cyrille Adoula, Congolese ambassador to the United States, addressing a College of Dentistry audience on April 20, said that "nothing else can delay more the development of underdeveloped nations than continuation of the harshness of those diseases which could be controlled otherwise." Sponsored by the college and the Board of World Missions of the Presbyterian Church, the ambassador was a guest of University and state officials at an official state dinner at the Imperial House later that day.

He said "the poor resources of developing nations do not allow them to use the necessary funds to relieve these health problems," and called for American research be put at such countries' disposal. "Such research can be for us of great use if it is made available, and this will mean for us the promise of a better future," he added.

25. ENGINEERS NEED LIBERAL EDUCATION, DEDICATORY SPEAKER SAYS

Dr. Richard G. Folsom, president of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N.Y., keynoting day-long ceremonies officially dedicating the new engineering building on April 8, said that "engineers today badly need the guidance of a liberal education." He said that engineering in the late 1960's "cannot do without the judgments and values of the humanistic society," and "because of advances in basic knowledge, production is now largely a problem of engineering." At the laying of the cornerstone, Gov. Edward T. Breathitt said there is no longer any need for Kentucky to lose engineering talent to other states. He said he believed that Kentucky "is the state of opportunity for young engineers." Other speakers at the day's dedicatory events included L. Berkley Davis, vice president of General Electric Co., and Robert P. Brown, president of the Kentucky Society of Professional Engineers.

26. DISTINGUISHED PROFESSOR CALLS FOR NATIONAL FITNESS ACT

Dr. Ernst Jokl, professor and director of the Physical Education and Research Laboratory, told colleagues of the College of Arts & Sciences upon the occasion of the annual Distinguished Professor of the Year lecture, that "we need a National Fitness Act to do for physical training in our primary and secondary schools what the U.S. Vocational Rehabilitation and the Defense Education Acts did for the sectors in which they deal."

Dr. Jokl's lecture to the faculty on April 4 climaxed a year's travel and research during which time he visited four continents, and served as physical fitness consultant to several governments. As a member of the Executive Board of the International Council of Sport and Physical Education of UNESCO, he took part in meetings on both sides of the Iron Curtain, in Canada and Mexico.

He explained that in most parts of the world a three-fold change in human development is taking place: an acceleration of growth, a deceleration of aging, and a lengthening of the span of life. He said that as a result of these factors, increasingly larger numbers of young as well as older men and women are competing in international sports events.

A member of the UK faculty since 1954, Dr. Jokl was the first Kentucky physician to be elected a Fellow of the American College of Cardiology and the first to hold a specialist degree in sportsmedicine. He is recognized as one of the founders of sportsmedicine in this country.

27. PEACE CORPSMEN TRAIN PARTLY AT UNIVERSITY, PARTLY IN INDIA

Dr. George H. Gadbois Jr., assistant professor of political science and projects director for the Peace Corps Training Center at the Center for Developmental Change, reports a new "in-country" approach to the training of Peace Corpsmen. The new concept, he said, involves training for six weeks at the University and seven weeks in the country to which the Corpsmen will be assigned--in the present case, India. Until recently, the Corpsmen trained the full 13 weeks at UK. They then were promptly assigned to India. To get "the feel for farming," UK trainees were sent to farms in Pulaski and Wayne Counties, where they learned first-hand about farming from local farmers. They spent 16 hours a day in farm work, then returned to the campus for more technical training, such as learning Kannada, the language of Mysore State, India, and how to grow hybrid corn, and sorghum, two products that adapt well to the Mysore State climate and soil.

28. APRIL RESEARCH AWARDS TOTAL QUARTER MILLION

During the period April 1 to April 24, a total of fifteen awards were received by the University Research Foundation, amounting to a total of $220,855.73. The April awards were distributed as follows:

COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE

Department of Agronomy--J. F. Reeman, $500, Research with Herbicides, Stauffer Chemical Company.

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

Motion Pictures Services Department--D. Collins, $15,000, Film on Community Development Plans, Lexington City-County Planning Commission.

COMMUNITY COLLEGES

Ashland Community College--R. L. Goodpaster, $5,236, Ashland Community College Title VI Grant, U.S. Office of Education.

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

Department of Vocational Education--C. F. Lamar, $123,739, Continuation of the Kentucky Research Coordinating Unit, U.S. Office of Education.

COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING

Department of Electrical Engineering--E. B. Bradley, $19,000, Research Initiation-A Laser Raman Study of Two Halides of Sulfur, National Science Foundation.

COLLEGE OF DENTISTRY

Department of Oral Diagnosis and Oral Medicine--S. Dachi, $19,542, Cavity Medications in Restorative Dentistry, National Institutes of Health.

COLLEGE OF MEDICINE

Department of Anesthesiology--M. Carnes, $50, Anesthesiology Fund, Dr. Marion Carnes.

Department of Community Medicine--M. L. Furcolow, $10,000, Studies in Production, Testing and Field Evaluation of Fungus Antigens for Time Testing, American Cyanamid Company.

Department of Medicine--B. Surawicz, $500, Symposium on Myocardial Infarction: Controversial Problems, The Lilly Research Laboratories.

Department of Radiology--J. C. Calkins, $9,193, Further Studies on the Recovery of Irradiated Protozoa, James Piker Foundation.

COLLEGE OF NURSING

M. A. Poulin, $17,360, Professional Nurse Traineeship Program, (Short Term Training), U. S. Public Health Service.

GRADUATE SCHOOL

L. W. Cochran, $4,525, National Science Foundation Graduate Trainee Program (One Graduate Trainee), The National Science Foundation.

SCHOLARSHIP

The Lawrence Allen Bradford Scholarship Fund, $300.

OTHER

Kentucky Library Associates, $145.

29. FESTIVAL OF THE ARTS CALLED SUCCESS

The Festival of the Arts on April 22 concluded 18 days of intensive emphasis in every field of the fine arts--music, drama, art, literature, and architecture. Community participation and attendance at each of the events and stimulation of the state, community, and campus in the arts are described as direct consequences of the emphasis and speak for the success of the month-long event.

In keeping with the theme, "The Modern University: Patron of the Arts," many guest panelists and lecturers arrived at the consensus that the modern university has a definite role as a patron of the arts. Dr. Peter Selz, of the University of California Art Museum, Berkeley, the first lecturer, set the tone: "the University is rapidly becoming the center for the arts in our society". . . "the University is a major force in the center of everything". . . and "culture is no longer for the 'elite'; rather it has become democratized."

Dr. William Doty, dean of the College of Fine Arts, University of Texas, offered similar ideas at the Festival Banquet. He said the contribution of 20th century America will be "cultural democracy", citing three areas that "cultural democracy" must incorporate: co-operation in all areas of the arts; diversity and pluralism, and involvement of government at every level either directly or through education, both public and private.

Although many of the panelists on April 20 disagreed with the means whereby the University serves as a patron of the arts, they agreed that it was a force and protector without which many valuable art movements could not exist.

Not only was the role of the University explored through lectures and panels but through performing and visual arts. A highlight is the current Gallery Exhibition "Masterpieces from University Collections," featuring outstanding paintings and prints from University galleries throughout the U.S.

In the performing arts, the Festival was enhanced with the performance of the Lexington Philharmonic Orchestra under the direction of Robert Craft, Stravinsky's associate, the performance of the Merce Cunningham Dance Company, Actors Theater of Louisville, "An Evening's Frost," the premiere of Vincent Persichetti's work for organ by Haskell Thomson, the premiere of John Vincent's commissioned work for string quartet by the Heritage Quartet, the presentation of Beethoven's Ninth Symphony by the Lexington Philharmonic and the Lexington Singers, and the commissioned work for chorus and orchestra by John Barnes Chance, presented by the University Choristers and Symphony Orchestra.

30. SIGNIFICANT ACTIVITIES OF FACULTY AND STAFF

Dr. Joseph R. Schwendeman, chairman of the Department of Geography, has been honored by the Association of American Geographers for "meritorious contribution to the field of geography." He was one of two geographers to be honored at the association's meeting in St. Louis, Mo. The citation noted that he had edited and published 18 volumes and one supplement of the "Directory of College Geography in the United States."

The invitation address to the Genetics section of the Ohio Academy of Science at the academy's annual meeting recently in Dayton was given by Dr. Herbert P. Riley, distinguished professor of Botany.

Dr. Clair Smith Waltman, professor of horticulture, has received the Alpha Zeta award as the "outstanding professor of the year in the College of Agriculture." The student honorary cited Dr. Waltman's 43 years' service to the University.

Dr. Lawrence S. Thompson, professor of classics, will become chairman on July 1 of the Rare Books Section of the Association of College and Research Libraries. This is the largest section of ACRL. Dr. Thompson also is an ex-officio director of the association.

Dr. John Douglas, chairman of the Department of Business Administration, was elected secretary-treasurer of the Midwest Division, Academy of Management, and chairman of the Public Relations Committee, of the National Academy of Management, at the former organization's recent meeting in Chicago.

Four members of the faculty were initiated into Omicron Delta Kappa, senior men's honorary, at ODK's recent spring banquet. They are Dr. Carl B. Cone, chairman of the Department of History; Dr. Thomas R. Ford, chairman of the Department of Rural Sociology; Dr. Robert W. Rudd, professor of agriculture economics, and Dr. Paul G. Sears, professor of chemistry.

Dr. Malcolm Jewell and J. E. Reeves, of the Department of Political Science, and Mrs. Elizabeth E. Taylor, of the Department of Radio-TV-Films, represented the University at the Kentucky-Tennessee regional meeting of the American Assembly, a national, non-partisan educational organization designed to stimulate wider participation of citizens in the discussion of vital current topics. The University was a co-sponsor of the meeting, with Vanderbilt and the University of Tennessee. Dr. Jewell served as conference director, and co-authored a 62-page booklet that provided background material for the discussions at Gatlinburg.

Dr. John L. Fulmer, director of the Bureau of Business Research, and Dr. LeRay R. McGee, assistant professor of economics, were recently inducted into Beta Gamma Sigma, economics honorary.

Woodrow W. Wilkins, lecturer and assistant to the dean of the School of Architecture, will head a team of architects and student architects who will research historic architecture of buildings in Hawaii this summer.

The Southeastern Section of the American Society for Engineering has given its annual award for "Outstanding Contribution in Research-1966," to Dr. Oscar W. Dillon Jr., chairman of the Department of Engineering Mechanics.

Dean Joseph V. Swintosky of the College of Pharmacy has been installed as president of the Academy of Pharmaceutical Sciences of the American Pharmaceutical Association. At the same meeting of the association in Las Vegas, Nev., Dr. Norman H. Franke, associate professor of pharmacy, was named first vice-president of the American Institute of the History of Pharmacy. Papers to the association's delegates were read by Dr. Franke; Dr. Ronald E. Orth, assistant professor of pharmaceutical chemistry, and Dr. Mark M. Luckens, assistant professor of materia medica. Paul F. Parker, director of pharmacy central supply at the Medical Center, received the Harvey A. K. Whitney Award, also at the meeting in Las Vegas.

Dr. S. Sidney Ulmer, chairman of the Department of Political Science, has been named to the Edward S. Corwin Committee of the American Political Science Association, and to the Advisory Committee for the Universal Reference System.

Dental health programs for children in the U.S. was discussed by Dr. Wesley O. Young, chairman of the Department of Community Dentistry, on April 21, for the International Symposium on Paedontics, at the London (England) Hospital Dental Institute.

The Legion of Merit has been presented to James P. Alcorn, former chairman of the Department of Military Science and currently special assistant to the University president. The honor was for "conspicuously demonstrating professional competence, sound judgement, unusually skillful and resourceful direction in revitalizing and improving" the ROTC program at the University.

Drs. John Douglas and Lawrence X. Tarpey, associate professors of business administration, are co-authors with Dr. George A. Field of Wayne State University, of a textbook "Human Behaviour in Marketing," published recently by Charles E. Merrill Books, Columbus.

Members, Board of Trustees:

RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE PRESIDENT

I. Financial Report (See Attachment 1)

Recommendation: that the financial report covering the period July 1, 1966 through March 31, 1967, be accepted and made a part of the May 2, 1967, meeting.

Background: The letter of transmittal from Mr. Robert F. Kerley is self-explanatory and indicates that the University is operating on a sound financial basis.

II. Certification and Verification of Cremation of Bonds and Coupons (Attachment 2)

Recommendation: that the attached certification of destruction of principal bonds and coupons be accepted as verification of said destruction of bonds and coupons and that the certification be made a part of the permanent record of the May 2, 1967, meeting of the Board of Trustees.

Background: These bonds and coupons were received from the paying agents of the respective issues after payment and cancellation. At the January 20, 1967, meeting of the Board of Trustees, Mr. Clay Maupin and Mr. George Kavanaugh were authorized to incinerate these bonds and coupons and to certify to the Board that such had been done.

III. Changes in Investment Portfolio

Recommendation: that the report submitted by Mr. Clay Maupin, Assistant Treasurer, relative to changes in investments be accepted as presented.

Background: On December 8, 1964, the Board of Trustees authorized the Treasurer and/or Assistant Treasurer to purchase as well as sell and transfer stocks, bonds, and other securities and investments for and in the name of the University of Kentucky and to make quarterly reports on both sales and purchases. The following report is submitted in accordance with the aforesaid directive.

Members, Board of Trustees:

SUPPLEMENTAL RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE PRESIDENT

I. Appointments to UKRF Board of Directors

Recommendation: that Dr. Jesse Hobson be appointed a citizen member and Dr. Wendell DeMarcus be reappointed a faculty member on the Board of Directors of the University of Kentucky Research Foundation for three year terms expiring in May 1970.

Background: Due to the expirations of terms of office, two vacancies exist on the Board of Directors of UKRF. It is recommended that Dr. Jesse Hobson be named to the Board as a replacement for Mr. Beardsley Graham and that Dr. DeMarcus be reappointed.

II. Appointment to Board of Lincoln School

Recommendation: that Mr. Robert L. Johnson, Vice President of Student Affairs, University of Kentucky, be appointed to the Board of Lincoln School for a term which expires December 31, 1969.

Background: The 1966 General Assembly enacted H. B. 89 which added two new sections to Chapter 166 of KRS and repealed one section. (KRS 166.190) to establish a secondary school for the education of "exceptionally talented" children of the Commonwealth.

The governance of the School was, and is, vested in a Board of seven members, three of whom are appointed by the Board of Regents of Kentucky State College, three appointed by the Board of Trustees of the University of Kentucky, and one appointed by the State Board of Education. Initially, the appointments by the Regents and the Trustees were made as follows: One each for a term of one year; one each for a term of two years; one each for a term of three years. Thereafter, the term of all appointees is for three years.

The first one-year appointment made by the University's Board of Trustees has expired and thus, an appointment is recommended to a three year-term on the Board of Lincoln School, which Board has two major functions; namely, to establish policies, rules and regulations for the operation of the School and to enter a contractual arrangement with the University of Kentucky for the operation of the School. Both of these functions the Board has consummated.

III. Waiver of Nepotism Regulation

Recommendation: that the regulation relative to nepotism be waived in order to permit the employment of Mrs. Elizabeth Bull Howard to the position of Librarian IV effective June 1, 1967, and of Mr. Richard Eimas and Mrs. Joan Eimas both as Librarians III effective September 1, 1967.

Background: Mrs. Howard is a sister of Dr. Jacqueline Bull. She will not work in the same library department as Dr. Bull nor will she be in any way supervised by Dr. Bull.

Mr. Eimas will serve as assistant librarian of the Medical Center Library and Mrs. Eimas will be appointed as a cataloging librarian in the general library. Mr. or Mrs. Eimas will not work in the same department nor will they have any supervisory responsibility for the other.

IV. Appointments and Other Staff Changes

Recommendation: that approval be given to the appointments and/or other changes which require Board action and that the report relative to appointments and/or changes already approved by the administration be accepted.

Background: Approval of the Board of Trustees is required for all appointments to positions with the rank of Associate Professor and above, for promotions, for the granting of tenure, and for salary changes above $12,000 for non-academic personnel and $15,000 for academic personnel. All other appointments and/or changes may be made by the President and reported to the Board.

Members, Board of Trustees:

APPROVAL OF DEGREE CANDIDATES

Recommendation: that the President be authorized to confer upon each individual whose name appears on the attached list the degree to which he is entitled upon certification by the Dean of Admissions and Registrar that said individual has satisfactorily completed all requirements for the degree for which he has made application.

Background: Attached is a list of names of persons who are candidates for degrees at the close of the current semester. The list includes only the names of those persons who expect to complete their work in May 1967.

Since the commencement exercises will be held this year immediately following completion of examinations, it will not be possible for the Office of the Dean of Admissions and Registrar to certify satisfactory completion of requirements for this group prior to the commencement exercises. Candidates will, therefore, be presented with folders containing a certificate stating the following: "In your studies at the University of Kentucky, your name has progressed to the status of candidacy for a degree and, as soon as it has been determined that all degree requirements have been satisfied, your diploma will be mailed."

PR 5

Members, Board of Trustees:

NON-ACADEMIC RELATIONSHIPS BETWEEN STUDENTS AND THE UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY

Recommendation: that the Report of the Senate Advisory Committee for Student Affairs as endorsed by the University Senate and the Student Government and modified by a committee of the Board of Trustees, and the attached statement entitled "Financial Delinquency" be accepted as a policy statement of the Board of Trustees from which subsequent governing regulations will be formulated.

Background: At the April 4 meeting of the Board of Trustees, PR 6, entitled "Non-Academic Relationships Between Students and the University of Kentucky", was tabled pending an opportunity for a committee of the Board of Trustees to further study the document. Specifically, the Chairman appointed a committee comprised of Mr. Smith Broadbent, Chairman; Mrs. Lucile Blazer, and Mr. Sam Ezelle to meet and discuss the report with representatives of the students, faculty and administration as designated by the President.

On April 26 this committee of the Board met with:

- 1) Members of the Senate Advisory Committee for Student Affairs
- 2) Representatives of the Student Government Cabinet for the past year and the President and Vice President of the Student Government for the coming year
- 3) Members of the Faculty Senate Council
- 4) Representatives of the University administration

As a result of this day-long study and discussion, the committee presents the attached document for approval as a policy statement.

Action: Approved X Disapproved Other With addendum

REPORT AND RECOMMENDATIONS OF COMMITTEE ON STUDENT AFFAIRS

At its first meeting in March, 1966, the Committee reviewed the charges given it by the Senate under the Academic Plan and discussed them with Vice-President Johnson. It then established a list of priorities for each of the charges. The first priority, at the request of the Vice-President for Student Affairs and with the full concurrence of the Committee, was given to the question of the so-called "in loco parentis" doctrine as applied to the university-student relationship with particular regard to student discipline. The recent report by Committee S of the AAUP (attached as Appendix A) concerning student rights on matters of discipline, recent federal court decisions on civil rights in general, and the unfortunate exposure of the lack of attention to student rights recently demonstrated by a sister institution, convinced the Committee of the urgency of this matter. Accordingly, it began its study by investigation of present rules and procedures.

An investigation of the Governing Regulations revealed the fact that student discipline is mentioned only in connection with the enumeration of the powers and duties of the Dean of Men and Dean of Women. In both cases the Dean is charged with the investigation of all allegations of misconduct. He or she is also given authority to take disciplinary action. Each is further directed to see to the enforcement of the Rules of the University Faculty. No specific procedures or offenses of any kind are enumerated in the Governing Regulations.

An examination of the Rules of the University Faculty revealed a section entitled "Student Discipline and Control" (Section VIII pp. 18-20). The first paragraph of this section states as follows:

"In issuing rules for the regulation of the affairs of the University and the government of its students, it is not deemed necessary to set out details. The University expects all students to hold to the strictest standards of honesty and to conduct themselves in a seemly manner, bearing in mind that their conduct determines in a large measure their reputation and that of the institution."

Following this broad general statement there is only one specific offense enumerated - hazing. There is a general reference to state law on alcoholic beverages with an interpretation of its meaning (a major portion of which the law member of the Committee believes legally unjustifiable) with a final statement that the University "expects" (not requires) all students to obey the laws of the Commonwealth. Then a general statement is made on class discipline which by inference pinpoints cheating as another offense. This statement further provides for the applicable punishments for violation of academic discipline while a footnote thereto establishes a special faculty-student committee to investigate any case involving academic misconduct. (It is interesting to note that in the memory of the Deans this Committee has functioned only once and the permanent members of this Committee have never been appointed.) Then there is a section requiring all students to be financially responsible. Failure to meet financial obligations may result in disciplinary action. All delinquent obligations to the University or any department or any organization are to be reported and the Registrar directed to refuse registration until they are met. With the exception of a list of the various punishments which may be imposed for breaches of discipline, this concludes the section on student discipline.

These rules also contained a section on student organizations (Section IX pp. 20-22). This section established the purpose for which student organizations could be formed, required the appointment of a faculty advisor, stated the procedures for formation and recognition of such organizations, and enunciated the duties of the faculty advisor. It also contained a section on academic requirements for social organizations (which the Committee discovered had been eliminated) and a provision requiring all student organizations to deposit their funds with the University business office for disbursement only on the signature of the appropriate officer and the faculty advisor. The section concluded with a charge to the Committee on Student Organizations and Social Activities (now defunct and replaced by the Committee on Student Affairs) to prepare a social program for the University, and a general statement on participation in intercollegiate athletics. Most of the material contained in this section had either been eliminated or amended or was the subject of the last report of the Committee on Student Organizations and Social Activities which is attached to this report as Appendix E.

In light of the paucity of specific information contained in the Governing Regulations and the Rules of the University Faculty, the Committee decided to hold meetings with those engaged in the handling of student discipline. A report of the data elicited from these meetings is attached hereto as Appendix B. As can be seen the basic student and administrative objections to the disciplinary rules are their lack of specificity and the concomitant lack of uniformity in application. The Committee was concerned therefore with the lack of any really concrete rules on what is a violation of discipline and how to determine and punish any such alleged violation. Accordingly, the Committee continued to meet during the summer in order to formulate its recommendations regarding student discipline for action by the Vice-President for Student Affairs and adoption by the Faculty Senate and the Board of Trustees.

In making the recommendations below, the Committee operated under the basic premise that University students have both legal and moral rights to know the specific areas of prohibited conduct and to be judged as to accusations of commission of such conduct by a fair and impartial tribunal. Today's student is an adult not only by virtue of recent legislation in Kentucky but also by the responsibility placed on him by today's society (military, political and social obligations). He is at the University as a member of a community of scholars seeking to acquire and communicate knowledge and so long as his conduct in and out of the classroom does not impinge on the rights of other such scholars the University should not exercise its powers to either condone or condemn. The University is not responsible for imposing punishment for violation of state or local laws. That is the sole prerogative and duty of the state and local police and judicial systems. The sole concern of a university is to provide protection of, and facilities for, those who seek knowledge.

It must be understood that this report deals only with university disciplinary offenses and procedures. Accordingly, it is not intended to cover, and does not cover, decisions of the faculty of a professional school as to the character, moral or ethical, required of a student for purposes of awarding a degree or certificate, or for continuation as a candidate for such degree or certificate. Therefore, such decisions are not subject to review within the procedures established herein.

Recommendations

Introduction: In formulating the recommendations which follow, the Committee first identified five separate areas of student-university contract: 1) the student as a scholar, 2) the student as a tenant, 3) the student as a member of a student organization, 4) the student as an employee, and 5) the student as a customer for goods and services. Only in the first of these areas can the University appropriately apply its distinctive disciplinary punishments (such as suspension and expulsion), although, it can employ analogous measure against student organizations and thereby indirectly affect the student himself. In the second, fourth and fifth categories, however, the University has the same rights and privileges as any other person or organization in the same capacity. Thus as a landlord it can set the rules and procedures for admission to and tenancy in its various residences. As an employer it can establish and enforce requirements for securing and continuing employment. As a retailer or seller of goods and services it can employ the normal legal rules and procedures of any retailer to prosecute or sue any student who violates his duties and obligations in his relationship with such retailer.

In these last two areas, the Committee believes the University must act only as an employer or retailer and apply only those powers which any employer or retailer enjoys in his relationship to his employees or customers. While it is true that as a landlord the University is also acting in a normal business enterprise, the relationship thus established is one designed solely for students to assist them in their scholarly endeavors. As such it directly affects the environment in which the student operates. Therefore, the Committee believes that some attention should be devoted to establish procedures in this area as well as in the two primary areas involving the student-university relationship. Accordingly, the material which follows is divided into these three categories and each is handled separately.

Within each of these three areas, the Committee has also subdivided its recommendations so as to cover in order the three basic divisions of any disciplinary system--: a) the offenses which call for disciplinary proceedings, b) the proceedings themselves, and c) the punishment which may be imposed for the offense.

RECOMMENDATIONS ON STUDENT DISCIPLINE AND PROCEDURES

I. The University As Landlord

A. The Offenses - In the area of offenses against the University as a landlord the Committee felt it unwise to suggest any specific offenses because of its somewhat cloudy memory regarding the activities of the students within dormitories and rooming houses. It therefore suggests and recommends that the University be given the authority to promulgate the rules of conduct for students who use or dwell within University dormitories, cooperatives, housing projects or rooming houses, i.e. all buildings owned, or leased to, and operated exclusively by the University. These rules should be posted prominently in all such University buildings where students reside. In addition the Committee suggests and recommends that the residential Housing Councils be given legislative authority to establish additional rules and regulations regarding conduct within their jurisdictions.

B. The Procedures - House Councils should be established for each comprehensive geographical housing unit(s). Election of members to this House Council shall be generally in accordance with present regulations affecting election of existing House Councils except as necessarily expanded in order to provide adequate representation to the house councils where there is more than one individual unit. In addition, in accordance with present procedures each such housing unit(s) shall have a resident advisor appointed by the University. This advisor shall have the duty to counsel and advise students having disciplinary problems affecting that student's relationship with the University as a landlord. (He shall also be under the obligation of investigating any complaint of violation of the rules to determine the facts regarding such alleged violation.) Such advisor shall have no authority to impose disciplinary punishment upon the student but, after counseling with the student, may suggest that the student accept certain voluntary disciplinary punishment or counseling and, if the student agrees to accept such punishment or counseling, the resident advisor shall be obligated to see that the student carries out his agreement.

If the advisor and the student cannot agree on the appropriate punishment or counseling, or if, at any time, the student refuses to discuss the matter with the resident advisor, the resident advisor shall then present the results of his investigation of the facts to a body which shall be known as the Residence J-Board. This Residence J-Board shall be composed of at least five students and not more than nine who shall have been selected by the resident advisor from a list of names which shall be supplied to him by the House Council which governs the particular housing unit(s). The Residence J-Board shall have jurisdiction over the entire comprehensive unit and, where the unit is composed of more than one individual unit, the House Council is advised to choose sufficient names so that there is at least some attempt made to include representation from all of the individual units. In order to be a member of such Residence J-Board the student must be a full-time student, must have been in residence at the University for at least one year and at the housing unit at least one semester and must be a member of a class other than the freshman. (NOTE: Neither the residence requirement nor the class requirement shall apply where the housing unit is composed solely of freshmen.) Furthermore, the House Council should establish procedures with regard to its recommendations to make sure that any person suggested is willing to serve in such capacity.

The Residence J-Board then shall have jurisdiction over all cases involving violations of the rules of conduct occurring within the comprehensive housing unit to which it is connected. The Residence J-Board shall be responsible for determining the guilt or innocence of the accused student and shall have the primary authority for imposing punishment upon the student if it determines that the student has, in fact, committed a violation. Notice of the punishment determined shall be communicated to the resident advisor for action.

Any student who believes that he has been improperly adjudged guilty or who believes that his punishment is too severe for the nature of the offense, shall have a right to appeal from the decision of the Residence J-Board to the University J-Board. Such appeal must be in writing, setting forth the areas of disagreement with the Residence J-Board and must be filed with the University J-Board within 30 days of the announcement of the decision of the Residence J-Board. The University J-Board (whose composition and general structure is set forth infra) shall have the right to reverse the decision of the Residence J-Board both as to the existence or non-existence of a violation and as to the scope or size of the punishment to be imposed. However, in the latter case the University J-Board shall have authority only to reduce the punishment, not to increase it.

C. The Punishment - The Residence J-Board may impose any punishment up to and including dismissal from the housing unit. In other words, the discipline may consist of social probation, reprimand, fines, and any other appropriate punishment. It is important, however, that the Residence J-Board understand that it cannot impose traditional University disciplinary punishments, e.g., suspension or expulsion, for violation of housing rules and regulations. It is suggested that the Residence J-Board establish, as much as possible, a system of possible punishments which will be imposed for violations of various rules. The Committee is making no suggestion on this point because it feels that the variety of possible rules which might be violated require greater discretion on the part of the Residence J-Board in order to "make the punishment fit the crime."

II. The University As A Community Of Scholars

A. The Offenses - There are two categories of offenses against the community. The first can be designated academic and the second disciplinary. In the first category there are two specific offenses - cheating and plagiarism. In order to avoid misunderstanding as to the meaning of the second, the Committee has prepared a rather detailed definition of the term (attached hereto as Appendix C). The Committee decided not to define "cheating" in order to avoid the possibility of creating loopholes for the ingenious. The word is sufficiently well-understood as it stands to warn the student and the Committee felt it wiser to leave the final determination of what might constitute cheating to the judicial agencies.

In the disciplinary category the Committee chose only those actions which directly affected the University community. Accordingly, it recommends the following be designated the only disciplinary offenses:

- 1) Lifting, taking, or acquiring possession of, without permission, any academic material (tests information, research papers, notes, books, periodicals, etc.) from a member of the University faculty or staff or any comparable violation of academic security;

2) Abusive, obscene, violent, excessively noisy or drunken misbehavior in the classroom;*

3) Stealing any item of tangible or intangible personal property from the University or from a member of the University community (faculty, staff or students);

4) Abusive, obscene, violent, excessively noisy or drunken misbehavior on or in University property at anytime (University property is defined as "all real property owned, or leased to, and operated exclusively by the University and all such property leased to or operated by nonstudent organizations which are under the control and regulation of the Board of Trustees of the University of Kentucky.");

5) Malicious or otherwise unwarranted destruction of property belonging to the University or to a member of the University community;

6) The threat of, or commission of, physical violence against any member of the University community or any person present on University property except while engaged in authorized sports activities;

7) Knowingly passing a worthless check or money order in payment of any financial obligation to the University or to a member of the University community acting in an official capacity;

8) Any violation of University rules regarding the operation and parking of motorized vehicles or regarding the use of University property;

9) Hazing of any kind;

10) Any misuse by a student of his position as a student, or of his right to use University property, to commit, or induce another student to commit a serious violation of local, state or federal laws.

The Committee also decided on a general statement of policy regarding the relationship of the University disciplinary procedures and the local authorities and/or local establishments. The policy is as follows: "The University is not a sentencing authority for violations of state or local law and therefore cannot undertake to impose punishment for violations of such law - that is, the prerogative of state and local courts. Therefore, the University will not accept remand of students charged or convicted of violations of such laws for the purpose of imposing disciplinary punishment. However, a University representative may accept court appointment of probation of a student to his care and impose such requirements as he sees fit. If such student violates these requirements he must be returned to the court for such further proceedings as the court shall determine but not for University disciplinary punishment. On the other hand, the University feels an obligation to assist any student charged with a violation of state or local laws and accordingly, if the student requests assistance, a University representative shall be made available to advise and assist him. Furthermore, the University is not a policing authority for activities of a student outside the University community and therefore cannot act as a collection agency for landlords, retail stores, etc., nor can it impose disciplinary punishment for the student's misconduct in such places unless that misconduct falls within the offenses previously stated."

*While this offense is listed as a disciplinary offense subject to disciplinary procedures, it should be clear that the instructor has the ultimate control over classroom behavior and can, therefore, eject from the classroom, any student engaged in such conduct.

Students should be reminded however, that while violations of state and local law may not call for University disciplinary proceedings, University officials may report such violations to state and local police authorities for appropriate action.

B. The Procedures - Before outlining the exact procedures to be recommended, the Committee believes it important to elaborate on its concept as to the role of the Office of the Dean of Students in the structure it seeks to establish. The Committee believes that the deans should provide counseling and advising service to students in both academic and disciplinary matters. They can best provide this kind of help if the student regards them as a friend and confidant rather than as a prosecutor or judge. Obviously only the deans have the knowledge and facilities to investigate alleged academic and disciplinary violations, but they need not be required to act as judge nor as prosecutor. Accordingly, the power to impose disciplinary punishment is to be placed in the hands of the University Judicial Board. However, when either of the deans, after investigation into an alleged violation of the disciplinary rules, believes a student has committed a disciplinary offense, he should counsel with such students and may outline disciplinary punishment or treatment. Within the rights of the student at the University of Kentucky the Vice President for Student Affairs may contact the parents, or such other persons as he deems appropriate, in matters of discipline. If, after so counseling with the Dean, the student is not willing to accept the course of conduct outlined by the Dean, or if the student so desires at any time after notification of alleged complicity in a disciplinary offense, the Dean shall forward the reports and evidence concerning the alleged disciplinary violation to the University J-Board for appropriate action. From that point on the Dean is concerned with the keeping of the records of the University J-Board and the Appeals Board and in aiding the student to comply with the punishment decreed by either board.

The Committee then feels that the basic disciplinary body should be a quasi-judicial board composed of the student's peers and holding full authority to judge and, where appropriate, to sentence an offender for violation of disciplinary rules. On the other hand, where an academic offense has been committed, the Committee feels that the interest of the faculty requires the Board to be composed primarily of academic personnel. In either case the Committee believes that an appeals process should also be provided. Accordingly the Committee has established two major boards to conform to these principles - the University Judicial Board (hereinafter referred to as the J-Board) and the University Appeals Board (hereinafter referred to as the Appeals Board). The following material explains the jurisdiction, composition, procedures and selection for each such board.

1) The University Judicial Board - the J-Board - shall receive appeals from decisions of any Residence J-Board. Only a student has the right to appeal these decisions. As an appeal board the J-Board shall have the authority to reverse the decision of the Residence J-Board regarding the student's guilt or to mitigate the punishment. The J-Board shall also have authority to try all cases involving violations by students of University disciplinary rules. In such capacity it shall determine the issue of guilt or innocence and it shall have authority to set any punishment short of actual suspension or expulsion. If the J-Board believes that actual suspension or expulsion is the appropriate remedy, it shall recommend such action to the President of the University. In its procedures it shall follow the statement of student rights attached hereto as Appendix D.

In composition, the J-Board shall consist of seventeen persons; seven graduate or professional students, five male undergraduate students, and five female undergraduate students. There shall be three co-chairmen; one selected from each of these groups. Where the purported violation was committed by a graduate or professional student, the court shall be composed only of its graduate or professional members. By like token, when the purported offense is committed by an undergraduate student, the Board shall be composed of a mixed board of undergraduate students with at least two members of each sex represented. In the event, however, that the accused student so requests prior to his or her hearing, he or she is entitled to a board composed of his or her own sex only.

In order for any proceeding to be taken against a student for a violation of University rules, at least five members of the J-Board from the appropriate groups as designated above must be present to hear the case. Any decision of the University J-Board must be by a majority of the members of the court sitting on the case.

The selection of members of the J-Board shall be made as follows: for the undergraduate members of the Board, any full-time student, other than a freshman, who has had at least one year of residence on the Lexington campus and has at least a 2.5 cumulative average may apply to the Senate Advisory Committee on Student Affairs for appointment to the J-Board.

As to the graduate or professional members - any full-time student enrolled in the Colleges of Dentistry, Law, Medicine or in the Graduate School who has been in residence at least one semester and is in good standing within his or her appropriate school or college may apply to the said Senate Committee for appointment.

The Senate Advisory Committee on Student Affairs shall screen all applications for membership and forward those approved to the Student Government President who, with the advice and approval of the Vice President for Student Affairs, shall make the final appointment of the J-Board members.

All graduate or professional members shall be appointed for one-year terms and shall be subject to reappointment. Three of the male and three of the female undergraduate members shall be appointed on the same terms. The remaining undergraduate members, however, shall be appointed for two-year terms on a staggered basis. Since it is important that all members of the J-Board sit as members of a court to try violations within their jurisdiction, three unexcused absences in any one semester shall constitute automatic dismissal from the J-Board. Furthermore, the J-Board acting as a unit may make such additional regulations regarding absences as it deems appropriate. All requests for excused absences shall be made to the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs and his decision shall be final.

2) The University Appeals Board - This board shall have jurisdiction over appeals from the J-Board on all matters of University disciplinary violations and from the faculty member involved as to all academic violations. Any student who feels aggrieved as to the decision of the J-Board either on the issue of fact as to the commission of the offense or as to the severity of the punishment imposed may, within 30 days of the receipt of the decision of the J-Board, appeal in writing for review by the Appeals Board. This request shall be directed to the Vice President for Student Affairs who shall then forward the request to the Chairman of the Appeals Board for appropriate action. Also, if the President of the University in his official capacity believes that the punishment imposed by the J-Board was inadequate for the offense committed, he may request a review thereof by the Appeals Board. This request shall be directed to the Chairman of the Appeals Board within 30 days of the decision by the J-Board. Where the appeal by the student requests review of the issue of fact regarding the commission of the offense, the Appeals Board shall review the evidence and make its decision. Such decision shall be final. Where the student appeals on the issue of the nature of the punishment, or where the President requests a review of the punishment, the Appeals Board shall make its determination and then recommend what it believes to be the appropriate punishment to the President. The President shall then determine the punishment. Where the student is appealing the punishment, the Appeals Board cannot recommend a more severe punishment than that imposed by the J-Board, but when the President requests a review the Board shall recommend any punishment it believes appropriate to the offense. Any decision and/or recommendation by the Appeals Board must be by a majority vote of those sitting on the case.

As previously stated, the Appeals Board shall sit on appeal from the decision of the faculty member involved on all matters of academic violations. Its jurisdiction shall be as follows: 1) To hear all appeals by a student from a decision of a faculty member that he has in fact cheated or plagiarized in any examination or paper given by, or submitted to, the faculty member. In this connection the Appeals Board shall be the final determinant on the issue of fact as to the occurrence of the offense; 2) once the fact has been determined that cheating or plagiarism has occurred, the faculty member shall have the right to impose punishment up to and including the awarding of an E grade on the test or paper on which the cheating or plagiarism occurred and such punishment is not subject to appeal. If, however, the instructor imposes punishment greater than an E grade on the test or paper, the student shall have the right to appeal to the Department Chairman of the department in which the offense occurred and the Department Chairman may in his discretion recommend a review by the Appeals Board of the punishment proposed by the instructor. Furthermore, in any case where the punishment proposed by the instructor is suspension or expulsion of the student, there shall be an automatic review by the Appeals Board. All requests for review must be made in writing within 30 days after the student has been notified of the action taken by the instructor, and must be forwarded, within the same period, to the Department Chairman in the case of an appeal on the punishment or to the Chairman of the Appeals Board in the case of an appeal on the facts.

In rendering its opinion on the facts issue, the Appeals Board may agree or disagree with the instructor as to the fact of the alleged violation. Where an appeal is made on the issue of the punishment imposed, if the Board agrees with the faculty member its decision shall be final. If it believes the punishment is too severe it shall set the punishment unless such punishment involves the changing of a grade. In such case the Board shall recommend to the Department Chairman the grade it deems appropriate for consultation between the Department Chairman and the faculty member. In the case where the punishment requested by the faculty member is suspension or expulsion, the Appeals Board, if it agrees, shall so recommend to the President of the University for his approval and implementation. If it disagrees, it shall return its decision or recommendation to the Department Chairman as aforesaid.

The composition of the Appeals Board, which shall consist of nine members, will be three full-time students and six faculty members. The students will be a graduate or professional student, a male undergraduate and a female undergraduate. The undergraduates must be seniors with at least a 2.5 over-all average and the graduate or professional student must have been in residence at least one year and in good standing in his or her school or college. They will be selected by the President of the University by such methods and procedures as he shall deem appropriate. The faculty members will be selected by the President upon the recommendation of the University Senate Council and the Chairman designated by like procedure. The Vice President for Student Affairs will be an ex officio member of the Appeals Board. The students will be appointed for one-year terms and the faculty will be appointed on staggered three-year terms. A quorum for the conduct of business will be seven members, not less than five of whom are faculty members. The Appeals Board must meet at least once a month at a fixed time and place unless the Chairman informs the members that no business requires attendance.

With regard to the Summer Session, the Committee decided that the individual boards should have the authority to delegate their duties during the summer school session by creation of special boards if necessary. If sufficient members of the board will be present during the summer, they will continue to function and any member of the board who is present will be automatically a member of any special board created for that purpose.

Where any school or college has established, or shall establish, an Honor Code or comparable system, which is governed by the students with approval by and/or appeal to the faculty of such school or college, the procedures outlined above shall not govern the following offenses to the extent that they are included as offenses subject to the Honor Code and committed by a student subject to such system:

- 1) The academic offenses listed on page two;
- 2) disciplinary offense number two listed on page three;
- 3) disciplinary offense number one listed on page two to the extent that it is committed within the school or college subject to such system.

Such Codes may include as offenses such other actions as are deemed appropriate but cannot cover the offenses described in this report except as stated above.

The punishment meted out to a student governed by such a system shall be as designated thereby except that actual suspension or expulsion shall be imposed only with the recommendation of the Dean of the School or College and upon the approval of the President of the University.

The procedures of all such Honor Code systems must conform to the statement of student rights attached to this report as Appendix D and such systems are subject to review for fairness and clarity by the Senate Advisory Committee on Student Affairs on the request of the Vice President for Student Affairs. Furthermore, such systems must have been or be installed by majority vote of the students to be covered by such system and approved by the faculty involved.

C. The Punishment - The Committee decided that the following were to be the punishments possible to be given to any student found guilty of the commission of a disciplinary crime in their order of severity:

- 1) Expulsion - permanent forced withdrawal from the University;
- 2) actual suspension - forced withdrawal from the University for a specified period of time;
- 3) undated suspension - same as actual suspension except that the student is permitted to remain on campus provided he follows stated conditions imposed with the punishment;
- 4) disciplinary probation - placing of the student under such social and behavioral restrictions as the J-Board shall establish and publish after consultation with the Vice President for Student Affairs;
- 5) fine - forced compensation to the person or the University whose property rights have been violated by the offender;
- 6) reprimand - an admonition which can include a reasonable requirement for additional academic or nonacademic labor in keeping with the offense committed.

Punishments for academic violations shall be as follows:

- 1) Any grade on the paper or exam in which the offense occurred;
- 2) any grade for the course in which the offending paper or exam was submitted;
- 3) forced withdrawal from the course and/or department in which the offense occurred either with or without credit for the course;
- 4) undated suspension;
- 5) actual suspension;
- 6) expulsion.

The Committee, while firmly committed to the concept that the University should exercise its disciplinary powers only after careful deliberation by a duly constituted body, also realized that there may be occasions when a student's misconduct raises the spectre of serious threat to the community of scholars under circumstances which might well create a prejudice against the student in any contemporaneous legal proceeding should the J-Board be convened. Accordingly, in order to protect both the student and the community of scholars the Committee believes certain temporary disciplinary powers should be conferred upon the Vice President for Student Affairs. The Committee therefore recommends the following statement as to such power:

In the event that a student has been accused of an offense against the University and/or against the city, state or federal government, the nature of which may present a clear and present danger of serious physical or mental harm to the student or to any other member of the University community or to University property, the Vice President for Student Affairs, after consultation with the University Appeals Board, may impose such temporary sanctions on the student as are reasonably necessary to protect the student, the University community and/or University property from such danger.

Such temporary sanctions may exist and be enforced only until such time as final disposition has been made of the case by the appropriate University Judicial or administrative entity or, in the event the offense is not one subject to University disciplinary procedures, until the student's trial by the properly-constituted authorities has been completed.

III. The University As Supervisor Of Student Organizations

A. The offenses - A student organization may not retain registration or may be subject to some lesser punishment if it is guilty of the following:

- 1) Hazing;
- 2) disorderly conduct;
- 3) interference with activities of the University, of any other registered organization or, of any individual; except that peaceful picketing will be permitted so long as it does not directly inhibit the carrying out of an activity on University property. It is suggested that any organization intending to picket inform the University authorities of the time and place;
- 4) poor academic performance by the membership of a social or specialty organization or social misconduct by any organization;
- 5) discrimination against any person due to race, color, sex, or religious affiliation or belief except when the express and legitimate purposes of the organization require limitation as to sex or religion.

Also no student organization may enroll as an official member nor elect or retain as an officer or committee chairman any student on academic probation.

B. The Procedures - The control over student organization shall rest with the Vice President for Student Affairs. Such organizations are creatures of the University and without legal status. Accordingly, no specific procedures for adjudicating the commission of any of the "offenses" or for any punishment other than refusal or cancellation of registration have been established. There are however, certain procedures which are necessary to control the operation of such organizations. These are as follows:

- 1) Any organization which wishes to use the U. K. name or University property or to solicit thereon must be registered with the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs. Similarly any organization whose voting membership is limited solely to students or students and faculty or staff must be so registered. In order to register the proposed organization must acquire and complete the registration form presently available in the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs and attached hereto as Appendix F.

Also, each such application must contain an affirmative statement that the organization does not and will not discriminate against any person due to race, color, sex or religious beliefs except when their approved purpose requires limitation as to sex or religion. No organization can be formed for illegal or immoral purposes.

- 2) Any organization whose voting members and whose officers are limited to students, faculty and staff of the University is automatically entitled to registration so long as it completes the required application form and abides by the rules and regulations set forth above. Any other organization, to the extent to which it is covered by the wording of subdivision 1) at the bottom of page 9 of this report, is required to secure the necessary registration but is not automatically entitled to registration. Its registration is at the discretion of the Vice President for Student Affairs and may depend upon any additional criteria he may prescribe. Such criteria shall be established and published by the Vice President and made uniform for all similar organizations. Furthermore, as to such organizations, the Vice President may similarly limit the registration, with its concomitant permission, to a fixed period of time, the length to be determined by him in his exercise of his discretion.
- 3) Each such organization must comply with the following rules:
The University Senate recognizes the following types of student organizations:

Social Sororities and Fraternities
Honors and Leadership Organizations and Recognition Societies
Departmental Organizations and Professional Fraternities
Political Organizations
Government Organizations Specialty Groups (Religious, Athletic, Military, etc.)

Each such organization must have an advisor as follows:

- 1) Every social fraternity or sorority shall have a University Advisor, who shall be appointed by the Office of Vice President for Student Affairs. The organization is also required to elect at least one faculty member to serve as a faculty representative.
- 2) Every honors, leadership, or recognition society is required to have a faculty representative.
- 3) Every departmental organization and professional fraternity shall have for guidance purposes a faculty consultant. If no such faculty member is available for a departmental organization, then upon approval of the department, the Vice President for Student Affairs may waive this requirement for a period not to exceed five years.

- 4) Every political organization shall have a University advisor elected by the membership or, failing that, appointed by the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs as well as a faculty representative.
- 5) Every government organization shall have a University advisor appointed by the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs. Such organizations should also solicit a faculty representative.
- 6) Every specialty organization shall have a sponsor, who must be approved by the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs. Such organizations should also solicit a faculty representative.

These requirements for University advisors, faculty representatives, faculty consultants, and sponsors must be complied with upon submission of an application for University registration, or in the case of existing organizations, within one year after the promulgation of these rules.

The definition and scope of the various advisors required above is as follows:

- a) University advisor - a member of the staff of the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs or any administrative office under his jurisdiction whose duty shall be to counsel and advise the organization and its officers as to their powers and responsibilities. However, he shall have no authority to prohibit any proposed action by a political organization.
- b) Faculty representative - a member of the tenured faculty of the University whose sole function is to make himself available to meet with members of the organization at their regular meetings or at a special meeting called for that purpose. He can use this opportunity to bridge the wall between faculty and students and discuss matters of interest in a more informal atmosphere.
- c) Faculty consultant - a member of the tenured faculty of the University connected with or interested in the organization who shall offer support and advice to the officers in carrying out the purposes of the organization.
- d) Sponsor - a responsible adult interested in the purposes of the organization who shall give guidance and counsel to the officers in carrying out the purposes of the organization.

4) Whenever the Vice President shall refuse or cancel registration of an organization whose voting membership is limited to students, faculty or staff of the University, the officers or proponents of such organization shall have a right of appeal to the President via the Appeals Board. The President's decision, after receipt of the advice of the Appeals Board, shall be final. Such appeal must be made in writing to the President within 30 days of receipt of notice of refusal or cancellation of registration.

APPENDIX B

The Findings of the Faculty Senate Committee on Student Affairs

The Dean of Men

Disciplinarian

The Dean of Men and his staff investigate all instances of alleged male misconduct. Those occurring in the men's residence halls are handled by the Head Resident. He refers all violations of residence rules and regulations (drinking, gambling, damaging property, etc.) to an Advisory Board appointed by each residence hall government (Cooperstown, Haggin Hall, Donovan-Kinkead Halls). Advisory Board disciplinary recommendations are usually accepted by the Head Resident and the Director of the Men's Residence Halls although they may overrule the Board. Action taken may consist of a reprimand, disciplinary probation, disciplinary undated suspension, and suspension from the residence halls.

Misconduct occurring outside the residence halls is handled by the Dean and his staff or is referred by the Dean to the J-Board. Disposition of a case varies according to the attitude of a particular Dean at a particular time towards the student involved and his offense. A student may always request that his case be adjudicated by the J-Board but it is not evident that students are apprised of this privilege.

The Dean briefs the J-Board about cases that he refers to it. Because of this action and because he must approve J-Board decisions, the Dean indirectly influences J-Board trials. Therefore, it is not surprising that nearly all J-Board decisions are approved by the Dean.

Intermediary

The Dean and his staff serve as an intermediary between male students and local individuals conducting business with them. A student who fails to meet some financial obligation is usually reported to the Dean's office. The student is then contacted, informed of the legal action that may be taken against him, and urged to fulfill his obligation.

The Committee feels that the Dean and his staff spend too much time serving in this capacity, and that the information and advice given the student, although in his best interests, convey the idea that the University might discipline him according to the state of his personal nonacademic affairs.

Counselor

The Dean stands in loco parentis to students apprehended by the local police. A staff member goes to the jail regardless of the hour, informs the student of his legal rights, warns him about unscrupulous bondsmen, and often obtains his release. Prior to trial, unless the student has obtained legal counsel or is accompanied by a parent, a staff member will appear in court with the student, inform him how to conduct himself, and advise him how to plea.

Because past and present judicial policy has been lenient in favoring the avoidance of a permanent police record that might exclude students from sensitive government and industrial positions in future years, the judge dismisses, files away, or probates charges against a student and paroles him for punishment to the Dean. Thus within a few minutes, the Dean changes from counsellor to disciplinarian.

The Dean of Women

Because the present Dean of Women has been in office for over eight years and has persuasively expounded and personally exemplified towards women violators a liberal, tolerant attitude, characterized by the abhorrence even of the term discipline, the Dean's staff and its student counterpart, AWS, is merely the lengthened shadow of the Dean. No criticism is implied in this observation. It is pointed out to justify the following discussion of the Dean's philosophy and practice, and to indicate their importance.

Philosophy

The Dean believes that women students have special problems because of their fewer social freedoms, lesser athletic opportunities for emotional release, and greater susceptibility to physical danger. For these reasons, women's misconduct usually stems from tensions and frustrations. Consequently, the Dean conceives of herself and her staff as being guidance counselors rather than disciplinarians. The objective is not to force the student to abide by rules and regulations but to enable her to understand why she has violated them and should not continue doing so. Explorations are conducted with the student to discover the source of her trouble and anxiety. Usually parents and others are consulted in examining all facets of the problem. The harmonious discussions with the student are considered to be educational and part of the student's learning process about herself and her adjustment to college life. The decision finally arrived at about the student often takes the form of some learning experience. For example, a student missing from her residence hall for several hours after midnight may be awakened on several future occasions to search for similar violators, thereby realizing the inconvenience and anxiety caused.

In summation, the Dean believes in reason rather than force, in therapy rather than punishment, and in examination of motivation rather than discipline of action. It should be added that the present Acting Dean of Men and the Dean of Men on leave share this philosophy but do not expound it as eloquently or practice it as widely. To some extent, they are hampered by the greater number of male students, and the presence among them of some flagrant, hard-core offenders.

Practice

The Dean of Women has imbued her staff and student representatives with her philosophy to such an extent that they execute it to the letter.

In the women's residence halls, the Resident Advisor, Head Resident, and Director of Residence Halls investigate violations and according to their seriousness and the previous record of the student, refer her to the House Council in each residence hall, to the Woman's Advisory Council of AWS, or to the Dean.

The House Council handles infractions of residence rules and regulations, such as noise and improper use of the telephone.

The Women's Advisory Council is concerned with violations of hours and related matters.

The Dean and her staff handle all other cases except for an occasional one or two that they refer to the J-Board. Failure to send others to the J-Board is attributed to its difficulty in handling delicate and sensitive cases due to the presence of male students, and probably also to the J-Board's failure to abide by the Dean's philosophy.

The Dean and her staff conduct in-depth studies and examinations of students alleged to be guilty of violations. In this process and in the final decision about a case, parents are customarily consulted and involved to provide background information about the student and to assist her in whatever therapy is prescribed, be it expulsion, psychiatric treatment, or dormitory restriction. The Committee feels that this practice may be helpful in many instances but that notification of parents sometimes has the undersirable effect of embarrassing and harrassing the student more than traditional disciplinary measures would have had.

The Dean of Women and her staff follow the same practices as the Dean of Men in standing in loco parentis for arrested women students, and in serving as intermediaries between students failing to meet their financial obligations and local businessmen and landlords. Because few women students are involved in these difficulties, the Dean's office is not burdened.

J-Board

J-Board is the judicial branch of Student Congress. Student appointments of seven students - two of which must be of minority sex are made by the President of Student Congress from a list of applicants screened by a committee usually after consultation with the Deans. Because this committee makes the initial selection, campus politics may easily be involved. No independents are included on this year's board.

The J-Board hears cases referred to it by both Deans, although as mentioned, the Dean of Women sends few. The J-Board, therefore, because it mainly adjudicates male students, serves in fact as a branch of the Dean of Men's Office, and as such, establishes a working relationship with him. The recent changes in this office have created some problems resulting from the J-Board's practice of recommending discipline acceptable to a particular Dean so that he will not overrule it.

Last spring the Student Congress established a new judicial procedure for J-Board in order to guarantee the accused student a fair hearing.

Women's Advisory Council

One branch of AWS is the Woman's Advisory Council, a group of eight to nine women students who apply for this position, are screened by AWS, and are finally approved by the Dean of Women. No campus politics appears to be involved in their appointments.

The Woman's Advisory Council is solely concerned with violations of hours, and drinking. In handling a case, one member is assigned to contact the involved woman student, explain the "learning experience" philosophy of the Council, and discuss the violation informally with her. Prior to meeting with the student, the Council collects pertinent background information. At the meeting, the atmosphere of a trial is avoided. The Council tries to make the student aware of her responsibilities and why she should fulfill them. At the end of the meeting, the Council recommends some action that will be meaningful to the student. Usually Dean Seward concurs with the recommendation and notifies parents of any decision more severe than a reprimand.

The Matter of Parental Consultation

Because the Committee wished to obtain professional opinion about the advisability of contacting parents in disciplinary cases when adult students disapproved, it consulted with Dr. Jack Mulligan of the University Health Service; Dr. Harriet Rose, Head of the Counseling Service; and Professor Ray Wilkie of the Counseling and Guidance Division of the College of Education.

Dr. Mulligan and Dr. Rose described present practices in their respective services, pointing out that parents were not consulted without student permission unless a clear and present danger existed to the student or others, or unless the student was professionally judged to be in a physical or emotional condition that would prevent him from competently caring for himself. Both Dr. Mulligan and Dr. Rose opposed the practice of contacting parents of adult students without their approval, questioning the legality of such an invasion of privacy, and pointing out that it was not advantageous as a counseling technique.

Professor Wilkie shared their views about parental consultation but suggested a plan that would require every student and his parent to complete a University form indicating the source of the student's financial aid and agreeing upon the responsibility that the University would assume toward the student. Professor Wilkie envisioned the University's playing different roles in the lives of different students according to the student-parent relationship.

APPENDIX C

A STATEMENT OF PLAGIARISM

All academic work submitted by a student to his instructor or other academic supervisor is assumed to be the result of his own thought, research, or self-expression. When a student submits work purporting to be his own, but which in any way borrows ideas, organization, wording, or anything else from some other source without appropriate acknowledgment of that fact, the student is guilty of plagiarism.

Plagiarism may take many forms. The most flagrant form of plagiarism consists in reproducing someone else's work, whether that be a published article or chapter out of a book, a friend's paper in another class or school, or an old essay in some file. Also serious is the practice of employing or even allowing another person to alter or revise work which a student submits as his own, whoever that other person may be--friend, relative, roommate, professional typist, tutor, or anyone else. Students may, of course, discuss assignments among themselves or with an instructor or a tutor; but when the actual work is done it must be done by the student, and the student alone.

Similarly, when the student's assignment involves research in outside sources of information, whatever they may be, he must be careful to acknowledge exactly what, where, and how he has employed them. If he uses the words of someone else, he must put quotation marks around the passage in question, and add some appropriate indication of its origin. Simply changing a word or two here and there, while leaving the organization, content, and phraseology substantially intact and unquoted, is plagiaristic. Reproducing the uniquely individual organization or ideas of another piece of work without acknowledgment of that fact also constitutes plagiarism, wherever and however this may be done.

It ought to be understood, however, that nothing in these guidelines is designed to discourage independent, creative research or the free expression of ideas. Nor are these guidelines calculated to apply to those ideas which are so generally and freely circulated as to be part of the public domain. On the contrary, they are drawn to help students observe the amenities which govern the formal transmission of ideas first encountered by a student in the process of responding to an assignment.

It ought also to be understood that these guidelines apply equally to student academic work of all kinds, and not only to written work.

In any case in which a student feels unsure about a question of plagiarism involving his work, he is obligated to consult his instructor on the matter before submitting it.

APPENDIX D

RIGHTS OF THE ACCUSED

- A. All students shall be guaranteed a fair hearing in all proceedings of all University System judicial bodies.
- B. No student shall be compelled to give testimony which might tend to incriminate him, and his refusal to do so shall not be considered evidence of guilt.
- C. In all original proceedings within the U. K. Judicial System the accused shall enjoy the right to be informed, in writing of the reasons for his appearance before this board with sufficient particularity, and in sufficient time to insure opportunity to prepare for the hearing.
- D. In all original proceedings within the U. K. Judicial System the accused shall enjoy the right to hear and question the witnesses against him, and to present witnesses in his own favor.
- E. In all proceedings within the U. K. Judicial System the accused shall enjoy the right to have the assistance of an advisor of his choice (within the University).
- F. In all proceedings within the U. K. Judicial System the accused shall enjoy the right to have only impartial members of the Board sit in judgment of the case.
- G. In all proceedings within the U. K. Judicial System the accused shall enjoy the right to a permanent verbal or written transcript of the hearing.
- H. In all proceedings within the U. K. Judicial System the accused shall enjoy the right to request a copy of all the rules and procedures governing the Judicial Actions and upon such request shall be furnished with such within twenty-four (24) hours prior to the hearing.

APPENDIX E

FACULTY ADVISOR

The Committee on Student Organization and Social Activities, in accordance with the directive of the Faculty Senate, has reconsidered its request for a change in the rules regarding the faculty advisor of student organizations and reports the following information and recommendations:

- 1) An investigation has revealed that no social sorority and only five social fraternities have a faculty advisor. They are advised by staff members of the offices of the Dean of Men and Dean of Women with the assistance of alumni living in the area. With two exceptions, all general honoraries for men or women are advised solely by staff members from the same two offices. All departmentally sponsored organizations and honoraries have faculty advisors and with twelve exceptions all are of the rank of assistant professor or higher. Many of these exceptions can be directly related to the specialized nature of the organization and the lack of any faculty member of required rank available in that specialty. With the exception of the Young Republicans, all politically oriented organizations have faculty advisors of appropriate rank. Few religious or athletic-sponsored organizations have an advisor connected with the University.
- 2) The Committee's reasons for requesting that advisors be of at least assistant professor rank was the result of a belief that the advisors should have a maturity and a feeling of continuity with the University which was generally inconsistent with the rank of instructor. Such characteristics were deemed necessary because of the general supervisory function assigned to the faculty advisor (e. g. , cosigning checks, advising on activities, reporting changes in purpose or constitution). In light of the reaction of many members of the Faculty Senate regarding the proposed change and as a result of the investigation mentioned, the Committee felt that a re-examination of the role of the faculty advisor was in order.
- 3) The Committee has categorized the various types of organizations into six basic areas: a) social sororities and fraternities; b) departmentally sponsored organizations and professional fraternities; c) honors and leadership organizations and recognitions societies; d) political organizations; e) student government organizations; f) specialty groups. Each of the six categories offered special problems. The first and fifth groups need the disciplinary and advisory services offered by the offices of the Dean of Men and Dean of Women as well as the special services of alumni. The second group requires the advice and active participation of a full-time faculty member, interested in the area. The third group should have close association with full-time faculty members interested in assisting students demonstrating academic excellence and qualities of leadership. The fourth group, because of its potentially explosive quality in terms of University external relations should have the active assistance of full-time faculty personnel as well as supervision by the office of the Vice President for Student Affairs. The sixth group, which includes religious organizations, athletic groups, military units, etc., does not necessarily require supervision as such from faculty members since its basic assistance comes from religious leaders, members of the athletic department, military personnel, etc.

4) In short then, while all student organizations need aid from responsible adults, the faculty should not generally be required to supervise the minutiae of such organizations. That function places unnecessary burdens upon a faculty member and is inconsistent with the primary function of a faculty member--to offer intellectual stimulation to students.

5) The Committee further feels that the student population explosion and the advancing impersonalization apparently necessary in the "multiversity" of tomorrow (if not of today) has widened the gap between faculty and students in terms of personal relations to the detriment of both. To attempt to close the breach by appointing faculty to supervise student organizations is to lose the war before the first battle has really begun. On the other hand to encourage faculty and students to associate together as partners or associates in a social, political, religious or academic pursuit outside the classroom offers both a real opportunity to strengthen the student-teacher relationship in a way meaningful to both.

On the basis of the above investigation and analysis the Committee wishes to make the following recommendations:

- 1) that the requirement of a "faculty advisor" for all student organizations be eliminated, together with the duties formulated therefor in the Rules of the University Faculty.
- 2) that all social sororities and fraternities be required to have a "University advisor" who shall be a member of the staff of the offices of the Dean of Men and the Dean of Women. Such University advisor shall be responsible for counselling such organizations and for performing such supervisory functions as shall be designated by the Rules of the Faculty Senate and by the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs. In addition within one year of its activation on this campus or within one year after promulgation of these rules, such organization shall report to the Committee through the University advisor, the name or names of such faculty members elected as associates of such organizations. It is recommended, in order to accomplish the purpose of intellectually stimulating the organization and strengthening student-faculty relationships, that the faculty associate be immersed into as many activities of the group as his time and interest allow and the ritualistic aspects of the fraternity do not prohibit. Efforts should be made to provide opportunities for such faculty associates to meet with the student members in informal gatherings.
- 3) that all departmentally sponsored organizations and professional fraternities shall be accredited only after acceptance by a faculty member of the rank of assistant professor or higher of the position of "faculty consultant." Such faculty consultant shall be responsible for the guidance of such organization. If such departmentally sponsored organization is dedicated to a specialized function for which no faculty member of sufficient rank is available, then the Committee may, upon proper petition from the department involved, waive the rank requirement for a period of three years.

4) that no student honors, leadership, or recognition society shall be accredited unless a faculty member of the rank of assistant professor or higher has been designated and accepted the post of "faculty associate." Such faculty associate shall have the same privileges as set forth in the resolution 2) above.

5) that no political organization shall be accredited without the appointment by the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs of a University advisor and the designation and acceptance by a faculty member of the rank of assistant professor or higher as a "faculty associate" both with the privileges and duties heretofore established.

6) that no student government organization shall be accredited without the designation of a University advisor by the offices of the Dean of Men or Dean of Women. It is recommended that each such organization actively solicit faculty associates.

7) that no specialty organization shall be accredited until an appropriate "sponsor" shall have been designated and his designation approved by the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs. Such sponsor must be a responsible adult interested in and connected with the field of specialty concerned. It is recommended that such sponsors will actively solicit faculty associates to join in such organizations.

Any organization not specifically assigned a University advisor may request one by petition to the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs.

STATEMENT OF FINANCIAL DELINQUENCY

The University expects the student to be financially responsible. A student who is delinquent in his financial obligations to the University, to any Department or Division of it, shall not be allowed to register for the next term, to transfer his credits to another school, or to graduate from the University, provided that such obligation shall not include fines and penalties assessed against the student by other than University officers.

Financial obligations that are not met within 10 days after the date due shall be reported in writing to the proper office. Obligations to any Division or Department of the University shall be reported to the office designated by the Vice President for Business Affairs and Treasurer.

The appropriate business office shall notify the student of the financial obligation. If the student does not settle the obligation by the date designated on the notice, he shall be considered delinquent and that office shall notify the Registrar.

After the Registrar has been notified that a student is delinquent, he shall not allow the student to register, or to transfer credits or certify him for graduation, until he has been notified in writing by the appropriate business office that the obligation has been settled.

Statement

On

The Academic Freedom of Students

Upon the recommendation of Committee A on Academic Freedom and Tenure in October, 1960, the Council authorized appointment of a new standing committee, designated as Committee S on Faculty Responsibility for the Academic Freedom of Students. Dr. Phillip Monypenny, Professor of Political Science at the University of Illinois, was appointed to serve as Chairman of the new committee. Once established, Committee S gave primary attention to the task of formulating a statement on the academic freedom of students. Several drafts were prepared, one of which was published with the consent of the Council in the Autumn, 1964, issue of the AAUP Bulletin for the express purpose of inviting reaction and comments from members, chapters, conferences, and other interested persons and organizations.

The preliminary Committee S statement stimulated considerable interest and response. Committee S therefore directed most of its attention during 1965 to refining the tentative statement published in 1964. The statement which follows has been approved by the Council in principle but remains a tentative, rather than a fixed, statement of Association policy. The Council has also authorized Committee S to initiate discussions with representatives of other interested national organizations in the hope that these efforts might result in the formulation of a joint statement on student rights and responsibilities. These discussions will commence this winter.

The Members of Committee S who prepared the following statement are:

Philip Monypenny (Political Science) University of Illinois, (Chairman)

Philip Appleman (English) Indiana University

Frederick H. Hartmann (Political Science) University of Florida

Beatrice G. Konheim (Physiology) Hunter College

John J. Reed (History) Muhlenberg College

Tom J. Truss Jr., (English) University of Mississippi

William Van Alstyne (Law) Duke University

Robert Van Waes (History) Washington Office

Preamble

Free inquiry and free expression are essential attributes of the community of scholars. As members of that community, students should be encouraged to develop the capacity for critical judgment and to engage in a sustained and independent search for truth. The freedom to learn depends upon appropriate opportunities and conditions in the classroom, on the campus, and in the larger community. The responsibility to secure and to respect general conditions conducive to the freedom to learn is shared by all members of the academic community. Students should endeavor to exercise their freedom with maturity and responsibility.

I. In the Classroom

The professor in the classroom and in conference should encourage free discussion, inquiry, and expression. Students should be evaluated solely on the basis of their academic performance, not on their opinions or conduct in matters unrelated to academic standards.

A. Protection of Freedom of Expression. Students are responsible for learning thoroughly the content of any course of study, but they should be free to take reasoned exception to the data or views offered, and to reserve judgment about matters of opinion.

B. Protection Against Improper Academic Evaluation. Students are responsible for maintaining standards of academic performance established by their professors, but they should have protection through orderly procedures against prejudiced or capricious academic evaluation.

C. Protection Against Improper Disclosure. Information about student views, beliefs, and political associations which professors acquire in the course of their work as instructors, advisers, and counselors should be considered confidential. Protection against improper disclosure is a serious professional obligation. Judgments of ability and character may be provided under appropriate circumstances.

II. Student Records

Institutions should have a carefully considered policy as to the information which should be part of a student's permanent educational record and as to the conditions of its disclosure. To minimize the risk of improper disclosure, academic and disciplinary records should be separate, and the conditions of access to each should be set forth in an explicit policy statement. Transcripts of academic records should contain only information about academic status. Data from disciplinary and counseling files should not be available to unauthorized persons on campus or to any person off campus except for the most compelling reasons. No records should be kept which reflect the political activities or beliefs of students. Provision should also be made for periodic routine destruction of noncurrent disciplinary records. Administrative staff and student personnel officers should respect confidential information about students which they acquire in the course of their work.

III. Student Affairs

In student affairs, certain standards must be maintained if the academic freedom of students is to be preserved.

A. Freedom from Arbitrary Discrimination. Colleges and universities should be open to all students who are academically qualified. While sectarian institutions may give admission preference to students of their own persuasion, such a preference should be clearly and publicly stated. College facilities and services should be open to all students, and institutions should use their influence to secure equal access for all students to public facilities in the local community.

B. Freedom of Association. Students bring to the campus a variety of interests previously acquired and develop many new interests as members of the academic community. They should be free to organize and join associations to promote their common interests.

1. Affiliation with an extramural organization should not of itself affect recognition of a student organization.

2. Each organization should be free to choose its own campus adviser, and institutional recognition should not be withheld or withdrawn solely because of the inability of a student organization to secure an adviser. Members of the faculty serve the college community when they accept the responsibility to advise and consult with student organizations; they should not have the authority to control the policy of such organizations.

3. Student organizations may be required to submit a current list of officers, but they should not be required to submit a membership list as a condition of institutional recognition.

4. Campus organizations should be open to all students without respect to race, religion, creed, or national origin, except for religious qualifications which may be required by sectarian organizations.

5. Students and student organizations should be free to examine and to discuss all questions of interest to them, and to express opinions publicly or privately. They should also be free to support causes by any orderly means which do not disrupt the regular and essential operation of the institution.

6. Students should be allowed to invite and to hear any person of their own choosing. While the orderly scheduling of facilities may require the observance of routine procedures before a guest speaker is invited to appear on campus, institutional control of campus facilities should never be used as a device of censorship. It should be made clear to the academic and larger community that sponsorship of guest speakers does not necessarily imply approval or endorsement of the views expressed, either by the sponsoring group or the institution.

C. Student Participation in Institutional Government. As constituents of the academic community, students should be free, individually and collectively, to express their views on issues of institutional policy and on matters of general interest to the student body. The student body should have clearly defined means to participate in the formulation and application of regulations affecting student affairs. Student governments should be protected from arbitrary intervention.

D. Student Publications. Student publications and the student press are a valuable aid in establishing and maintaining an atmosphere of free and responsible discussion and of intellectual exploration on the campus. They are a means of bringing student concerns to the attention of the faculty and the institutional authorities and of formulating student opinion on various issues on the campus and in the world at large.

1. The student press should be free of censorship and advance approval of copy, and its editors and managers should be free to develop their own editorial policies and news coverage.

2. The integrity and responsibility of student publications should be encouraged by arrangements which permit financial autonomy or, ideally, complete financial independence.

3. Editors and managers should subscribe to canons of responsible journalism. At the same time, they should be protected from arbitrary suspension and removal because of student, faculty, administrative, or public disapproval of editorial policy or content. Only for proper and stated causes should editors and managers be subject to removal and then by orderly and prescribed procedures.

IV. Off-Campus Freedom of Students

A. Exercise of Rights of Citizenship. As citizens, students should enjoy the same freedom of speech, peaceful assembly, and right of petition that other citizens enjoy. Faculty members and administrative officials should insure that institutional powers are not employed to inhibit such intellectual and personal development of students as is often promoted by their off-campus activities and their exercise of the rights of citizenship.

B. Institutional Authority and Civil Penalties. Activities of students may upon occasion result in violation of law. In such cases, institutional officials should apprise students of their legal rights and may offer other assistance. Students who violate the law may incur penalties prescribed by civil authorities, but institutional authority should never be used merely to duplicate the function of general laws. Only where the institution's interests as an academic community are distinct from those of the general community should the special authority of the institution be asserted. The student who incidentally violates institutional regulations in the course of his off-campus activity, such as those relating to class attendance, should be subject to no greater penalty than would normally be imposed. Institutional action should be independent of community pressure.

V. Procedural Standards in Disciplinary Proceedings

The disciplinary powers of educational institutions are inherent in their responsibility to protect their educational purpose through the regulation of the use of their facilities and through the setting of standards of conduct and scholarship for the students who attend them. In developing responsible student conduct, disciplinary proceedings play a role substantially secondary to counseling, guidance, admonition, and example. In the exceptional circumstances when these preferred means fail to resolve problems of student conduct, proper procedural safeguards should be observed to protect the student from the unfair imposition of serious penalties. The following are recommended as proper safeguards in such proceedings.¹

A. Notice of Standards of Conduct Expected of Students. Disciplinary proceedings should be instituted only for violation of standards of conduct defined in advance and published through such means as a student handbook or a generally available body of university regulations. Offenses should be as clearly defined as possible, and such vague phrases as "undesirable conduct" or "conduct injurious to the best interests of the institution" should be avoided. Conceptions of misconduct particular to the institution need clear and explicit definition.

B. Investigation of Student Conduct.

1. Except under emergency circumstances, premises occupied by students and the personal possessions of students should not be searched unless appropriate authorization has been obtained. For premises such as dormitories controlled by the institution, an appropriate and responsible authority should be designated to whom application should be made before a search is conducted. The application should specify the reasons for the search and the objects or information sought. The student should be present, if possible, during the search. For premises not controlled by the institution, the ordinary requirements for lawful search should be followed.

2. Students detected or arrested in the course of serious violations of institutional regulations, or infractions of ordinary law, should be informed of their rights. No form of harassment should be used by institutional representatives to coerce admissions of guilt or information about conduct of other suspected persons.

C. Status of Student Pending Final Action. Pending action on the charges, the status of a student should not be altered, or his right to be present on the campus and to attend classes suspended, except for reasons relating to his physical or emotional safety and well-being, or for reasons relating to the safety of students, faculty, or university property.

D. Hearing Committee Procedures. The formality of the procedure to which a student is entitled in disciplinary cases should be proportionate to the gravity of the offense and the sanctions which may be imposed. Minor penalties may be assessed informally under prescribed procedures. When misconduct may result in serious penalties, the student should have the right to a hearing before a regularly constituted hearing committee.

1. The hearing committee should include faculty members or, if regularly included or requested by the accused, both faculty and student members. No member of the hearing committee who is otherwise interested in the particular case should sit in judgment during the proceeding.

2. The student should be informed, in writing, of the reasons for the proposed disciplinary action with sufficient particularity, and in sufficient time, to ensure opportunity to prepare for the hearing.

3. The student appearing before the hearing committee should have the right to be assisted in his defense by an adviser of his choice.

4. The burden of proof should rest upon the officials bringing the charge.

5. The student should be given an opportunity to testify and to present evidence and witnesses. He should have an opportunity to hear and question adverse witnesses. In no case should the committee consider statements against him unless he has been advised of their content and of the name of those who made them, and unless he has been given an opportunity to rebut unfavorable inferences which might otherwise be drawn.

6. All matters upon which the decision may be based must be introduced into evidence at the proceeding before the hearing committee. The decision should be based solely upon such matter. Improperly acquired evidence should not be admitted.

7. In the absence of a transcript, there should be both a digest and a verbatim record, such as a tape recording, of the hearing.

8. The decision of the hearing committee should be final, subject to the student's right of appeal to the governing board of the institution.

¹ Honor codes offering comparable guarantees may be an acceptable substitute for the procedural standards set forth in this section.

APPROVAL "IN PRINCIPLE" OF THE
"ASHLAND COMMUNITY COLLEGE PRELIMINARY DEVELOPMENT PLAN"

Recommendation: that the "Ashland Community College Preliminary Development Plan" be approved "in principle", with the understanding that the plan will be periodically revised as the program requirements of the College become more fully expressed.

Background: The University has undertaken the preparation of a "Preliminary Development Plan" for each of its community colleges for the purpose of establishing a broad physical framework within which the physical development of the colleges may take place in an efficient and orderly manner. The "Ashland Community College Preliminary Development Plan" is the fifth of these studies to be completed and published. The University intends to continue its development planning efforts at each of the community colleges and will issue supplementary, more detailed reports as additional studies are completed.

REALIGNMENT OF SCHOOL OF HOME ECONOMICS

Recommendation: that the School of Home Economics be established as a coordinate unit with the other Schools and Colleges in the Division of Colleges; that a position of dean be established for the purpose of administering the School of Home Economics; that the School be organized into appropriate departments.

Background: In keeping with University policy to review and strengthen its programs, four committees comprised of faculty from the School of Home Economics, Home Economics Education, the Cooperative Extension Service, and the Medical Center prepared during 1963-64 a careful and thorough evaluation of home economics programs and facilities under the title of "Progress Study Reports in Home Economics in the University of Kentucky". In 1965 four nationally recognized consultants made a study of the home economics programs and reported their findings to the President.

In Beginning a Second Century (June 1964) the School of Home Economics was challenged to develop further research and graduate programs. As part of a report to the Dean of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics in January 1966, the faculty of the School of Home Economics set forth five-year program goals in teaching, research and service and specified the needs in faculty and facilities.

As a consequence of these reviews, studies and evaluations, the desirable directions, programs and organization of the School have been clarified. Accordingly, the foregoing recommendation is made.

FACULTY MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP

Recommendation: that the Board of Trustees authorize the establishment of Faculty Memorial Scholarships for children of deceased full-time members of the faculty who died while in the service of the University of Kentucky. These scholarships will be underwritten by the University to the extent of undergraduate registration fees, resident or non-resident as the case may be, and enriched beyond registration fees to the extent of private gifts donated to this scholarship fund. Receipt of these scholarships depends upon the academic admissibility of the student. These scholarships are open to those children who are now in a baccalaureate program at the University of Kentucky and those who are currently below the collegiate age and who may subsequently attend the University of Kentucky as an undergraduate.

PROPOSED FEASIBILITY STUDY RELOCATION OF STADIUM

Recommendation: that the Board of Trustees request the University of Kentucky Athletics Association to conduct a feasibility study of constructing a 50,000 seat football stadium and adjoining parking space for 2,000 automobiles on the University of Kentucky farm immediately south of Cooper Drive and across from the present University Sports Center and the area programmed for the new physical education complex. This feasibility study should include the exploration of fitting stadium parking within the University's long-range parking needs, and should examine carefully the requirements for ingress and egress to the stadium. Furthermore, the feasibility study should explore the practicability of multiple usage of the stadium itself--with special reference to accommodating several of the facilities now programmed in the new physical education complex. This study should be completed no later than for presentation to the July 21, 1967 meeting of the Executive Committee.

Background: In June 1966 the Board of Trustees authorized planning for the construction of a new football stadium on the Coldstream Farm. Subsequent to this authorization, city and county representatives and University students asked that the University consider alternate sites for the proposed stadium, particularly requesting that any new stadium be located within walking distance for University students.

Recognizing the valid concern of the community and students, the President appointed an ad hoc advisory committee, comprising representatives of the community, the students, the University faculty and administration, and the alumni to advise him upon sites which would seem to meet the needs of University physical planning, the students, and Lexington-Fayette County.

This committee recommended the above on-campus site and suggested two possible off-campus sites. The two off-campus sites are not currently available without considerable expenditure of funds for land acquisition. They represent suggestions of areas where a joint University-community effort might be launched. The University will continue discussions with community representatives while the feasibility study recommended above is being conducted.

ACTIVATION OF SCHOOL OF MATHEMATICAL SCIENCES

Recommendation: that the School of Mathematical Sciences be activated in the College of Arts and Sciences, effective July 1, 1967; that Professor Wimberly Royster be appointed Director of the School of Mathematical Sciences and Associate Dean, College of Arts and Sciences, effective July 1, 1967.

Background: The activation of the School of Mathematical Sciences is consonant with a general plan for the organization of the College of Arts and Sciences presented earlier to the Board of Trustees.

In accordance with this plan, the School has been subsequently formulated and recommended by a special faculty committee and by the Dean of the College. This School will initially include the Departments of Computer Science, Mathematics and Statistics. Later a Department of Applied Mathematics may also be established in the School; a faculty and program for applied mathematics is now developing in the Department of Mathematics.

The appointment of Professor Royster has the endorsement of a faculty advisory committee and the Dean of the College. Professor Royster will continue as Chairman of the Department of Mathematics until a successor can be found for the chairmanship.
