THIS WHIRLING WORLD

Here's a toast to the host of men out yonder flying high. Yes, the Allied Air forces are scoring again for the old home team, with the American Flying Fortresses and Liberators pounding five big enemy airplanes in Greece and Crete. Elysian airfield near Athens was left in ruins by incendiary and fragmentation bombs on Sunday, October 10. The Sides Airport was one sharp blast, then a mass of fire. Those two largest bases, along with numerous others, may be accredited to our own American Air force.

Russians Rush On
On the Russian front, the Red Army has smashed Germany's indispendable Dnieper river line, leaving behind them over 2,000 bodies of Hitler's "unconquerable heroes." As the Red enter their third round with an edge, their fellow fighters, the guerrillas, are doing an excellent job taking over Kiev, captivi of the Ukraine.

Portugal Join Allies
Our army on the Iberian peninsula through Italy to push our enemies back into their own country. Along with Hitler's other troubles, Turkey has granted to Great Britain, their anti-submarine base in the Azores, even though the Portuguese plans are to remain neutral. Our newly ally is a stepping stone between the United States and Europe. Our first project is to build an airbase there to combat the submarines.

Nazis Burn Town
The Nazis are burning the Russian town of Kiev to make it hot for Berlin. The Russians are rushing to the German border. The fleet is giving it to them down under on the Sea of Azov and pushing all "pure Aryans" toward the Mecca. Gamael is being evacuated, too, which will be told by Berlin as a planned withdrawal or a fast run to backward.

With the above summary in mind, we have given Schickelgruber the allotted number of strikes for one smiting you that we are the batters up. Let's boost the boys with bonds.

BSU Elects New Officers
Inauguration Supper Held

Officers elected to fill vacancies on the Baptist Student Union council were inaugurated at the BSU supper held Wednesday at Calvary Baptist church.

The new council members are: Vice-president, Roland Kozlik, graduate engineering student of Bogota, N. J.; social vice-president, Evelyn Greene, arts and sciences sophomore of Johnsonville; devotional vice-president, Amelia Mason, agriculture sophomore of Russellville; music chairman, Anne Howell, arts and sciences junior from Atlanta, Ga.

Church representatives: Calvary, Merl Baker, Hopkinsville; Porter Memorial, Catherine Hardin, Shepherdsville; and Mildred Buchanan, Mayslick; Felix Memorial, Jean Bach, Bellevue.

Chester Durham, state Baptist Student Union secretary, was guest of honor at the supper and speaker at the prayer meeting following.

Fraternities Are Practically Out, Says Dean Jones

Fraternities are practically out for the duration, according to Dr. T. T. Jones, dean of men. Very few pledges were taken into any fraternity this year. In contrast to the usually large amount of freshman material for pledging, only 75 eligible men are in school this quarter. Most of them are going into the armed services in the near future.

A few of the fraternity houses have been taken over by the University for women's residence halls. The fraternities will not be active in most instances, aside from some weekly meetings of old members. The rushing that has been carried on has not been done in the usual manner.

In the words of Dean Jones, "This is just not a fraternity year. Conditions are not favorable for the fraternities."

New Insignia Being Issued To ASTP

Army Specialized Training men are being issued a special official insignia. It was announced this week. Men stationed on the campus will soon begin wearing the new emblem.

The insignia, designed by the Quartermaster corps and the Army Special Service division, rests on a yellow background, octagonal in shape. It depicts the sword of valor against a lamp of knowledge, both of which are in blue.

Productions has begun and distribution will be completed soon.

Couple Club Holds Meetings In Union

The Couple club, a newly organized club for soldiers and their wives, will have a meeting every Wednesday night in the Union building.

Anyone wishing to join should leave his name with Mrs. John R. Evans, social director of the Union building.

Kernel Deadlines Must Be Observed

Kernel deadlines for news and copy must be observed. Material cannot be accepted for publication.

Cuts and regular news must be in the Kernel News room by noon on Wednesday. Society items are due before 3 p.m. Tuesday. Announcements will be turned in until 4 p.m. Wednesday.

Campus Drive Opens Oct. 25

Goal of $2,000 Is Set By SGA

With a goal of $2,000, the SGA sponsored all-campus Campaign Drive will open October 25, according to plans made at the regular Tuesday night meeting of the Assembly.

Bart Peak, YMCA secretary, spoke to the group and suggested that a committee work out plans and an organizational set-up designed to contact each student personally and solicit $10.00 from every student.

Vincent Spagnolo, SGA president, announced the appointment of Dr. Adolph Bigge and Dr. Margaret Ratliff as faculty sponsors of the Assembly. Members were appointed from the agriculture, engineering and education colleges as well as the graduate school to prepare lists of eligibles to fill vacancies.

James H. Hart, Jay C. Doyle and Betty Tevis were appointed as a committee to investigate the possibility of allowing soldiers to elect representatives to SGA.

Frances Jenkins, budget committee chairman, presented the suggested 1944-45 budget. The SGA approved unanimously. Included was a suggestion that $500 of the association's miscellaneous fund be used to purchase a war bond for the Assembly.

The Assembly voted to hold meetings Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of each month. Absentees were Osborne J. Judd, Amelia Mason, Bud White, Bill Embry, Alice Watkins, Marydell Carver, Margaret Nestel, Margaret Erskine, Winwood Hendrickson, and William Shropshire.

Mumford Named Faculty Advisor

At the first meeting of the Home Economics club this quarter Miss Mary Mumford, assistant professor of home economics, was selected as faculty advisor for this year.

A party will be held tonight for all club members, new home economics students, and freshmen.

The next club meeting will be held on Monday night.

Field House To Honor Dead Of World War II--Donovan

The auditorium-field house to be built by the University after the war was described Tuesday by President Herman L. Donovan as a memorial to Kentucky's dead in World War II.

Dr. Donovan pointed out that Memorial hall, which was dedicated to those who lost their lives in the last war, had been a source of pleasure and inspiration to the students but that the University had already outgrown the building.

The proposed auditorium-field house, he stated, would be a million-dollar structure capable of seating around 6,000 spectators with room for expansion. It will be built with the possible rapid growth of the student body after the war taken into consideration.

It was thought that Memorial hall would be a fitting stage for the University for fifty years, but it was outgrown in five years time.

Dr. Donovan said that the University had already supplied the University with $400,000 toward the project, which has been partly paid for by the purchase of the building site on Euclid avenue and Adams street.

Author Slated To Speak At Next Convo

John Graves Temple II, lecturer, lawyer, and author, will speak at the quarter's second convocation at 11 a.m. Thursday in Memorial hall.

All civilian classes will be dismissed during the fourth hour.

Dr. Temple, who is also an economist and journalist, has chosen as his subject Wonders 'Y' To Be.

The speaker served in World War I and, in 1919, was a member of the American Peace commission in Paris. Since then, he has been on the editorial staff of the Birmingham Age-Herald. His most recent book is The Fighting South.

Dr. Leo M. Chamberlain, dean and registrar of the University, will preside at the convocation.

Ten Freshmen Rate Highest In Placement Tests

Names of the ten members of the freshman class who rated highest in the placement tests given them when they entered the University were announced by Dr. M. W. White, assistant dean of the College of Arts and Sciences.

The students are Martha B. Mann, Barbara J. Allen, Mary E. Gifford, Robert W. Poundstone, and Gene Whicker, all of Lexington; Elizabeth D. Boone, Berna, Ohio; Elizabeth B. Broadus, Louisville; Helen L. Ellis, Mayville; Hubbard Wright Smith, Paris; and Mary Velton, Owensboro.

ROTC Classes Report Decreases In Enrollment

Actual enrollment in University ROTC classes has declined 77 percent since March, 1942, according to Lt. Arthur Erickson. Although the number of military men in uniform has been greatly increased, enrollees in the 3518th ROTC Service unit have decreased from 349 in 1942 to 79 in 1943.

ROTC classes are being instructed by Capt. Robert L. Silvers, commander of the ROTC building; Murray M. Montgomery, Jr., commander of Co. F, ASTRP; and Sgt. Elmer O. Klinker.

Two years military instruction is compulsory for all men enrolled in the University.

Dance Scheduled For Tomorrow

The Dance committee of the Union board will hold an informal dance from 9 to 12 o'clock tomorrow night in the ballroom of the Union building.

Admission for men will be 25 cents. Women are admitted free on presentation of their hostess cards.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Elizabeth Moores, book store employee; Mrs. Hugh Sweet, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Mrs. Crutcher and Mrs. Beeler, hostesses of the Union building; and Dr. and Mrs. Alexander Capurso.

First Aid Class Now Offered

A class offering first aid training to University students is now being formed.

The class meets from 7 to 10 p.m. Tuesdays in the Gymnasium. Instructions will be given in bandaging, splinting, and artificial respiration.

Standard certificates and 3 hours credit will be awarded on completion of the course, announced Margaret Warren, instructor.

Present enrollment shows 13 men and 42 women.

Movie Of UK To Be Shown For Tuesday

Picture Set For Tuesday

The University in War and Peace, a new sound movie recently prepared by the University, will be shown Tuesday night at 7:15 and again at 8:15 in Memorial hall.

Portrayed in the film is the way a modern state university has adapted itself to the exigencies of modern warfare. Shown is the groundwork laid by the University for many years before Pearl Harbor, the physical equipment of buildings, laboratories, faculty, staff, and organizations which now are important to the extension of views of current war activities on the campus are shown, including many types of research, the instruction being given the Army's Specialized Training Program students, and the work in agriculture.

Off-campus activities of the University include the University agricultural sub-station at Quicksand, Breathitt county, a radio listening center at Woodton, Leslie county.

Featured in the movie is the extension division of the College of Agriculture, with several sequences devoted to by-product research in relation to existing methods, and stock and small animal husbandry.

Nostalgic touches in the film are shots of the football team playing on Stoll field and the "Best Band in Dixie" in formation.

K-Dets Slated To Be Reorganized At 5 p.m. Tuesday

K-dets, women's drill team, will be re-organized at 5 p.m. Tuesday in the Armory. The organization will be sponsored by Seaboard and Blade, military honors, under the supervision of Pfc. John Dallavo.

Meetings will be held every Tuesday, Thursday from 5 to 6 p.m. he said.

Former members of the drill team will receive service bars at the first meeting.

Assisting Pfc. Dallavo will be Pfc. William Wickman, John Kerr, Dick Webb, and Robert Myers, former juniors who have returned to the campus under ROTC-ASTP.

Seniors Must Apply For Degrees

All seniors and graduate students who expect to complete the requirements for their degrees at the end of the fall, winter, spring, or summer quarter must apply Monday in room 11, Administration building.

Answering endless questions, relieving doubts, making lonely students feel at home, being "erastal" to the University's soldier population, solving love problems, selling stamps, stationery, and magazines, and keeping the Student Union building the pleasant place it is, are just a few of her duties.

"It's lots of fun and there's no dull moment," Mrs. Beeler explained as I propped my elbow on the counter and settled down for a long talk.

Since she has been here, Mrs. Beeler has noticed a great change in the Union building. "The students of the war by no Junior Common room, who wanted to let Mrs. Beeler what the latest letter from home said, there's never a dull moment in the job of being hostess of the Union building."

After discovering that Mrs. Shirley Beeler is one of those rare people who can't without making the obvious remarks, let us make the steps going to the grill downstairs as when you are standing right by them, we voted her the perfect interview victim of the week and proceeded to find out more.

"Pin Up Girl" of the University's khaki clad. Mrs. Beeler is on the roster of the school employees as the Hostess of the Union building, a title which she snuggly admits doesn't half cover the job she does.

Two Soldiers Will Be Elected To Union Board Tomorrow

Voting Set For 9 a.m.-4 p.m. In Great Hall

Two soldiers will be elected to the Union board at a mass student body election between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. tomorrow in the Great hall of the Union building.

At present there are seven members on the board representing the civilian students on the campus but there are no representatives from the 1,250 service men. Feeling that the soldiers should have more voice in student affairs, the board voted that soldiers should be elected to fill the two vacancies which now exist.

The board nominated the following: Jacob A. Bedenbrough, T. 4, who has an A. B. degree from Newberry college, South Carolina. He was president of his senior class in college, editor of the annual, member of the Phi Kappa Phi, member of the Literary society, and taught high school for three years.

Walter J. W. Cunningham, who was a senior in industrial engineering at Rensselaer college. He is president of Theta Chi fraternity, an associate editor of the University club, a member of Phi Kappa Phi, sophomore journalism honorarium, a feature writer for the Y. Owl, a member of the Union Publicity committee, and a member of Phi Lambda Delta, freshman scholastic fraternity.

Elaine Bennett, senior home economics student from Williamson, is president of the Student Government, social secretary. She has been secretary of the Student Government association for two years and is representative of the Agriculture college in the Assembly. She is secretary of the Student Union board and has been a member of the Art committee for two years.

Vice-president of Panhellenic council, a member of the Y. Owl cabinet, the Agriculture council, Pitkin club, Home Economics club, and the Kentucky Journalists.

Jay C. Doyle, junior in arts and sciences from Lexington, is vice-president of the Student Union board and has been a member of the Art committee for two years.

Wiley Review Set Tomorrow

A military review will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday on Stoll field, it has been announced.

Six companies of service men will be on the campus will pass in parade.

The public is invited to attend according to Col. B. E. Brewer.

Publication Lists Biographies Of School Leaders

Sixteen University students have been chosen to have their biographies included in "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities," an announcement received today reveals.

Those named for the 1943-44 edition are Celia Bederman, Eloise Bennett, Jay C. Doyle, Sarah Ewing, Helen Harrison, Jimmy Hurt, Julia Johnson, Martha Koppitz, Virginia Lipscomb, Virginia Linn, Anita Room, James Saunders, Vincent Spagnolo, Carolyn Spicer, Mary Norma Weatherston, and Edith Weiskenberger.

Picking students from over 600 of the nation's colleges, the publication chooses those to be listed without fees or politics. Selections are based on leadership, character, scholarship, and potentialities, and the publishers maintain a reference service for employers.

Celia Bederman, journalism senior from Lexington, is editor of The Kernel. Formerly she was a reporter, assistant managing editor, and co-managing editor of the paper. She is vice-president and keeper of the archives of Theta Sigma Phi, national journalism fraternity, and a member of Leadership Board, women's senior moderator of the Student Union board, an associate editor of the University club, a member of Phi Kappa Phi, sophomore journalism honorarium, a feature writer for the Y. Owl, a member of the Union Publicity committee, and a member of Phi Lambda Delta, freshman scholastic fraternity.

STRICTLY PRIVATE

Two Flunks or not Two Flunks, that is the question. When men like Jack McNeal and "Windy" Meyers leave Dr. Fischer's Analytic Unit singing "Drinking Beer in a Cabaret," it's not just a song but a prediction. It's back to Mineral Wells unless they do better next time. Of course Hal Rucker and Eric Hoyer are not having any trouble along that line. The only grade many of us will make is the one from the Cottage to Rose Street on Saturday afternoon.

Determined to surpass Bill Carroll's Purple Heart for playing tennis, John Seay turned up recently with a beautiful decoration for a recent encounter... a black eye. Tri-Delt Julie Johnson's far-away look in her eye, better known as Le "Buddy" Barrett was back last week-end from bombing Berlin. After making an estimate of the situation, "Chick" single immediately made application for the Air Corps, declaring that the way to a girl's heart must surely be over Germany. "Old Man" Fwing says the only way to a feminine heart is through a gold bar, but the only one he'll ever see is the kind you see through.

Maxie Bookbinder, who has more girls than "Slider" Spears has demerits, maintains that we should all date the nice newcomers to the campus. "After all," he grinned, "we all freshmen in engineering." "Pud" Goodell said he didn't know, but if they are all as pretty as Alpha Gam pledges Sara Dee Rainey, Elizabeth Ann Hines, and Betty Hames, no one needed encouragement. "Tyronne" Ledford was overheard remarking that "Big" Richard Webb would never be successful as a pilot. He went right out of a saloon with Miriam Custer into another with Chin pledge Betty Ernst.

In an effort to keep fraternities alive, Charles Roake and George Warwick called all fraternities men together to discuss an "All Fraternity House." It's a good machine if it works, but who will furnish the gas after Don Laif graduates? From the Kentuckian office comes the news that the 1944 annual will have a senior section for all ROTC-ASTP who would have graduated by June. Virginia Long, this year's editor, said that activities and Fraternity would be listed for each man. Pictures should be Funnist thing we've seen in news is the soggy illustration on page 252 of PSYCHOLOGY by John J. B. Morgan, text in the psych course to every dutiful freshman is taking this quarter.

The illustration shows an unhappy looking dog dressed in a tuxedo. An Apology Owing to the negligence of the printers, who did not carry out the correction in proof, an outlandish word appeared in last week's Kernel. The blench was on the first page a letter written by one of the boys "over there" to a friend in the University. The management regrets the mistake and takes this opportunity to apologize to its readers. (Note to editor: The word was "damn.")

Why A Residence Requirement

Under the new constitution of the Student Government Association Assembly a requirement for candidacy and election is two quarters of residence at the University. This provision, which excludes incoming freshmen from membership in the Assembly, has received little publicity and has never been explained to the general student body.

In former years a man and a woman were elected to the legislature by the freshman class from a list of candidates made up of the names of those ranking in the upper tenth of the class on entrance examinations.

That mere scholastic merit was a criterion of legislative ability had always been a moot question. That candidates chosen beforehand by the various political cliques on the campus were summarily elected was an indisputable fact.

And that those representatives, entirely unfamiliar with the campus and its problems, took a very negligible part in the proceedings was evident to everyone.

The Constitutional committee, made up of students and faculty members, which drafted the new constitution was aware of the inability of incoming freshmen to take an active part in the legislature because they lacked the necessary background. Weighing the advisability of having the entire freshman class represented in student government against the necessity of having efficient legislators, the committee wrote the residence requirement into the new constitution.

Denied of personal representation in the Assembly, it is up to the first and second quarter freshmen to make their wishes known to the members of the group. It becomes the respon-

The Kernel Explains Its Editorial Policy

With the beginning of every school year comes the time for a reassertion of Kernel policy for the benefit of those unacquainted with the campus newspaper.

The Kernel is first a student newspaper—student owned, edited, and operated. For those interested in journalism it furnishes an opportunity for professional experience. To all students on the campus The Kernel opens its question.

Our special desire this year is to keep the student body informed on the Student Government Association Assembly and its meetings. We feel that through The Kernel the students can best make known their wishes to the Assembly.

We shall try to represent in The Kernel all groups on the campus, both civilian and military. We urge all soldiers with journalistic inclinations to submit their copy to us. Before it is printed, however, all such material must be approved by the military authorities.

It is our aim to make this page a clearing-house of student opinion. If you have something to say, write a letter to the editor. If you do not want your name signed to the letter, we shall substitute a pen name. Your name will be kept in strict confidence by the editor, but all communications must be signed.

The Kernel tries to clear up all matters of doubt in the student mind. If you think an editorial should be written on any subject, feel free to come in and talk it over with us.

At 2130 Army Standard Time The Subject Turns As Usual

It is 2130 o'clock of a quiet mid-week evening in Bradley hall. No, dear civilian, 2130 is not a parliamentary number or something out of this world. The Buck Rogers in the Twenty-fifth Century, it is simply AST. That, incidentally, is not the same as ASTP either. It simply means Army Standard Time, or, to make a long story short, 9:30 p. m. by the OI clock.

Anyway, whatever you call it, it is time for the pause that refreshes, the pause in the day's occupation that is known to all good ASTP men as the time to lay aside textbooks and indulge in a little discussion on some of the more profound aspects of life, such as women, women, and women. (Also girls.)

In last week's Kernel, Pfc. Edwin Barnes hopefully, but unfortunately stated that "it would be good to see the Big Blue go romping to another victory." Naturally he was referring to the football challenge of the ASTP boys versus the former Big Blue boys.

Remember, Ed, there is always a first time. I have no doubt that all the boys will try their best at the game—in an amiable spirit.

To Betty and Betty Inc. Ad Libbing to you! I'll vouch for the ASTP boys that they aren't wolves. I live with them so I ought to know. However, we weren't asked when the leashes were put around our necks.

By BABY taking place at Bradley hall. The boys of Co. C have the mouse situation well in hand. An ex-recipient of Patterson had tipped us off and now we have taken as our unofficial mascot a young cat educated according to the best ASTP tradition. As a result the fair ladies won't have to resort to convey duty from Co. B men. What would they be doing in those parts of the campus anyhow?

Fellows, the girls complain about the food in Jewell hall. We have our own troubles and better settle them first.

Everyone read last week's article on the Kernel referring to the physical fitness schedule the soldiers won't have to resort to convey duty from Co. B men. What would they be doing in those parts of the campus anyhow?

Coed Corner ...

By Mary Jane Gallaher

It looks "powerful good" to see the droopy sweaters and bright skirts decorating the campus again after the summer heat rather than the never clean or pressed wash clothes.

With the manpower situation pretty well shot no matter how you figure it, and the shortage becoming increasingly apparent, it becomes more and more certain that the gal who has the most positive points that add up to a good total is going to be the one with the big Saturday night date. By one with a good total I mean the female who has something more than the next three who are giving her stiff competition. And believe me when I write it down, that Saturday night date, i. e., whether or not you play bridge with the girls, can make a big difference in your morale and general get up and go in regard to the old textbooks.

Clothes can be a very telling factor in whether you make a coup de grace or fizzle out and don't even see your size 7's let's be modest about this! In the back room of the Bluegrass room door I mean the one in the Union, dear, or win a chucker of polo in the back room of the Cottage. They can gloriously expose or cleverly conceal your bad points. And what sex they can put into those good points! Just give Mother Nature a chance, gals!

This year the accent is on quality rather than quantity. One good sweater is better than two cheap ones. Everything you rob the piggy bank for must be chosen with an eye to lasting quality, its chief several years from now, and being commingled for all time. Clothes are quite expensive this fall as you found when you bought your school clothes, but it pays in the long run to pay more, have them fit better and wear longer, than less, and see them fade and crack as if they were candidates for the first rummage sale.

This is all the advice I'm handing out for now on how to buy better clothes for more money, or don't trip over that barbed wire in the Botanical Gardens at night, and rip your skirt, fatten they're getting back in future issues to aid you femmes with your little problems.

The Story Of A Starling, Or, Hand Me An Umbrella

By Adele Denman

The subject's old; the birds are new. But the word for them is still peace! Only God can make a tree. But why make such a liability? In God's creation these birds do sit. They're discussing a title but. They scream, chirp, and beat the air. Like you know whats, out of you know where.

Their passion for man is good and true. But their means of expression is entirely new. They're perfect marksmen; none are poor. Ask Becker, Lexington, and De Boor. But do they trouble me? Almost never—I think birds are cute and clever. Now I'm sitting under a tree—Why—that fabled bizzard can't do that to me!

THE "BAZOOKA" SERENADES by the Army's "bazooka" corps are getting hands in the air on the enemy front and handclapping from the folks back home. This new anti-tank weapon, dubbed the bazooka from some remote resemblance to Bob Burns' blowpipe, is small enough to be fired by one man, after a second man loads it. It hurls such a powerful projectile that, after one shot struck a nearby tree, the commander of six enemy tanks surrendered them, believing that he was being shelled by 155-mm. guns.
