Where does the money go?

At its meeting in December, 1981, the CKJA Board of Directors adopted the organization's budget for 1982. The highlights of this budget are as follows:

Executive Committee $21,810

This includes salaries for the Community Worker and secretary, funds for printing and mailing, maintenance of the CKJA office (rent, etc.), and some discretionary funds.

Community Relations Committee $4,550

Funds allocated to this committee will be used to continue to supply school calendars to the community. These calendars identify major and minor religious holidays and have contributed significantly to the policy of most of the major organizations in the community not to schedule events on Jewish holidays. Additional funds will be used to further develop appropriate dialogue and programs between the Jewish and non-Jewish communities.

Campaign Committee $6,650

These are the funds that are necessary to hold an annual campaign which supports Israel, numerous charities and local community activities and programs. Funds in this category are also used to administer the annual Israel Bond Campaign.

Community Activities Committee $13,390

The committee is responsible for the Forum, Camp Shalom, pre-school parties, Israel Independence Day celebration, and an Israeli Folk Dancing program. Although the Committee expends this much money, it also generates income from the sale of tickets to the Forum and tuition from Camp Shalom.

Social Services Committee $12,000

This committee administers the Israel and camp scholarships programs as well as the Emergency Loan Program. Funds have also been allocated to this committee to bring another Russian family to Lexington in 1982.

In addition to the above-listed expenses, the Board expects to provide over $174,000 to the United Jewish Appeal and a variety of worthy charities.

A complete copy of the 1982 budget is available to any member of the Jewish community who wishes one. Contact Mr. Martin Barr, chairman of the Budget Committee at 278-7078.

Ed. Note: If you wish to request funding support for a particular non-profit or charitable organization from CKJA, please submit your request in writing no later than February 15, 1982, to:

Mr. Martin Barr
CKJA Budget Committee Chairman
753 Malabu Drive
Lexington, Kentucky 40502

A list of agencies and organizations receiving support in 1981 is on file at the CKJA office.

HELP WANTED

The 1982-83 Forum Committee is now being formed. If you have any suggestions for programs, or are interested in working with this exciting CKJA project, please call Judy Baumann, the 1982-83 chairperson at 223-1299.

LEXINGTON AND LOUISVILLE JOIN TOGETHER FOR PROJECT RENEWAL SPONSORSHIP IN ISRAEL

Following votes of approval from the Boards of CKJA and the Jewish Community Federation of Louisville, the two communities are jointly sponsoring the Project Renewal community of Netanya-Sela. This means that for the next five years we will be closely involved with and responsible for many aspects of community development in this depressed neighborhood on the outskirts of Netanya.

A joint steering committee has been established, with representatives from both the Men's and Women's Division of the Campaign Committee. Arthur Salomon and Ellie Goldman have been appointed as the Lexington representatives.

At its first meeting, the Steering Committee approved a budget for the 1981-82 fiscal year. Since Project Renewal operates on a cash-on-hand basis, money must be available before any projects are undertaken. Because the final approval of the sponsorship of Sela came so late in the year, money was advanced to the community for a very limited number of activities including a summer day camp for the children.

Several members of the steering committee will be making a trip to Israel next month to meet and consult with representatives of Sela, and the Israeli Government to review budget proposals for 1982-83. Based on these proposals, the two communities will set immediate and long-term goals for Project Renewal fund raising.

MEMO FROM HILLEL

After what seemed to be a slow start, U.K. Hillel is on the move. Community advisors, Leon Cooper and Alan Stein have been meeting regularly with the Hillel leadership, and Hillel has already held several meetings on campus.

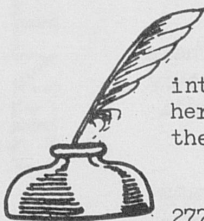

In addition to bagel brunches, movies, and ski trips, the students are planning to hold their own campus-wide UJA fund raising campaign.

CKJA provides partial funding for Hillel, and we can be proud of the efforts they are making to become an effective voice for Jewish students on campus.

If you have children attending UK or Transylvania College who are not receiving mail from Hillel, or know of other Jewish students who are not yet on the Hillel mailing list, please let us know and we will pass the information on to Hillel. The CKJA office number is: 277-8048. Our answer machine will take the message if the staff is not in the office.

WANTED

The Kentucky Jewish Post and Opinion, published in Louisville, is interested in finding a Lexington correspondent to report on Jewish events here. The Post and Opinion will pay a token fee of $10.00 a month, and the correspondent would be expected to report on a weekly basis.

If you are interested, please call Judy Saxe, CKJA community worker, 277-8048; or, Jeff Lebensbaum, Editor, (502) 459-1914.

TO THE JEWISH COMMUNITY

Over the past six months we have served as chairpersons of the Russian Resettlement Committee. As most of you already know the Rozmans are the second Russian family sponsored by the Jewish community of Lexington. In July, Gregory, Victoria and their son Alex came here from Vilna, in Lithuania.

From the first day of their arrival the Rozmans immersed themselves in learning about life in a new country with an entirely different language, political, economic and social system.

Greg, an expert in the field of control engineering, was persistent in seeking a job in his field. Within a short time he personally typed 110 letters to engineering firms all over the country inquiring about employment. Through his letter writing campaign and an impressive background Greg was successful in obtaining an engineering position in Richardson, Texas.

The Rozman family was very appreciative of the help and financial support given to them by the Lexington Jewish community. They were aware of the time and effort that went into setting up their apartment and were thankful for the furniture and household goods given to them.

When the Rozmans left Lexington on January 2, it was difficult for them to say good-bye to the many friends they made here. They would have preferred to stay in Lexington, but unfortunately there were no job opportunities available.

Based on our experience with the Rozman family there is no doubt that they will be successful at establishing a new life in Texas. We feel that the Russian Resettlement project was truly worthwhile and something the whole Jewish community can be proud of.

HAVE WE GOT A DEAL FOR YOU!!!

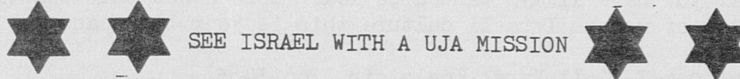

Hear Ye! Hear Ye! CKJA's Scholarship Committee has funds available for young people who are interested in participating in an educational program in Israel or who need financial assistance in order to attend a non-profit Jewish summer camp. It's now time to begin planning for this summer and next fall.

Camperships, in amounts not to exceed one half the total amount needed for camp fees and transportation, are awarded on the basis of need. Any information submitted on the application form is held in confidence by the members of the Scholarship Committee.

Scholarships are available to young Lexingtonians who have been accepted into a study or a work/study program in Israel. Other eligibility criteria are that the student will be returning to this community for at least six months after his or her Israeli experience and will participate in local Jewish youth activities during that time. These scholarships, available in amounts of up to $500.00, are awarded on the basis of personal written applications which detail past participation in the community and plans for using the Israeli experience to the future benefit of this community.

In order to obtain additional information, or an application form, call or write Evelyn Geller: 3493 Sutherland Drive, Lexington, Kentucky 40502, 272-8972.

Many young people in our community have benefitted from these scholarships. We hope many more will take advantage of this offer, this year and in the future.

Very Special People

CKJA FORUM

The Forum Committee is pleased to report that the Forum series, to date, has been most successful. Both the Giora Feidman Trio and Max Dimont captivated audiences - Feidman with his magical clarinet, Dimont with his fiery rhetoric. Attendance is up from last year; we have had audiences numbering nearly 200 for each event.

The last two events promise to be equally as exciting. The acting husband and wife team of Christopher Frye and Thelma Ruby will appear in an adaptation of the Broadway hit, "Golda," on February 7, 1982. They will be followed by Cantor Sarah Sager, one of the world's few female cantors, on April 11. Please mark your calendars and plan to attend. If you have not yet purchased tickets, please call Judy Baumann 223-1299, Libby Scher 273-3200, or Jo Belin 269-7776.

If you would like to attend the remaining events in the Forum series, but need transportation, please call Judy Saxe at the CKJA office, 277-8048. The Program Committee will be happy to arrange a ride for you.

Ed. Note/President's Note: Many thanks to Harriet Cooper who has taken over for Susan Gerstel for the remainder of the 1981-82 series!
