New Plan, Submitted By Kernel, Okeyed By Deans, Peak And Gillis Yesterday

Cooperation Needed

AN EDITORIAL

Yesterday, another goal, set long ago by THE KERNEL, was reached. Hoping to put an end to the general dissatisfaction of the student body in regard to the old registration laws, a conference was called and the new plan worked out.

However, there is something more to the problem than appears on the surface. Cooperation with registration officials must be made by students before the new system can be made efficient.

Business and registration departments have shown their willingness to cooperate. It remains for the student body to prove that it can properly use the concession which has been granted it.

Typical UK Co-Ed Is Tops Remarks Typical UK Co-Ed

By FRANCES SMITH

Among the mixture of campus activities, social life and scholastic endeavors, you will find the typical University of Kentucky co-ed.

Although not a raving beauty, this typical co-ed is well-proportioned, friendly and can lay a fair claim to what is known as "cute." She takes a great interest in the social part of college life, but is not ignorant to the fact that cultural and intellectual opportunities are knocking at her door and that she must take advantage of them.

She usually dashes about the campus hatless, is always well-groomed and properly dressed. Her lipstick is vivid. Her rouge is subdued and her nails flaming or otherwise, just as she pleases.

She loves dances whether formal or informal. This co-ed likes to "go places," but if her boy friend's activities are low she will be quite contented sipping colas and dancing to the radio. She is never bored, even when her date is bragging about his technique of fooling the professors, for she knows the trick of keeping that interested look even though her thoughts are on evening dresses.

She cannot be called the athletic type of girl, but she knows sports are grand for those "extra pounds" and really enjoys swimming, tennis and horseback riding.

With the combination of all her activities this typical co-ed is in a perpetual whirl but always manages to take care of them all without exerting herself.

Can You Prove That You Exist Asks The Prof

By IRMA JEAN GROSS

If your profs are idealists you'll probably have a difficult time in persuading them that you're present in the classroom, according to Dr. G. B. Dimock, of the department of psychology. "How can you prove that you are here?" Dr. Dimock declared, taking the reigns of the interview to the hands of the interviewee.

According to the idealist, the fact that a person exists is only an idea. "We assume that we are here in regard to other people who have the same experiences that we do," he continued. "No one has ever proved, by himself, that he really exists."

The question is one of a philosophical rather than a psychological nature, Dr. Dimock explained.

"There are two types of people," the professor added. "The realist who believes that we are here because we are here, and the idealist who maintains that we really can't prove that we do exist."

Follows, if your girl says she sees you with another female, ask her if she can prove that she was really at the scene. Students, if the prof marks you absent, ask him if he can prove he was there to take the roll. If these don't work out, do not blame your interviewer; she's a realist!

Old Registration Rules Are Changed

It was also learned yesterday that the Committee on the State of the University is considering a plan whereby law students would classify in the Law building and engineers in the Engineering building.

The new system will have to be followed conscientiously by all students if it is to work. Professor Gillis explained. A schedule showing at what time each letter of the alphabet will be included in the registration will be posted thus doing away with the long hours of waiting to which students have been accustomed.

All student workers at registration time, including freshmen guides and other helpers, will register in the business office, eliminating the confusion this has caused in the past.

A tentative schedule, suggested by the Kernel editors, was arranged in the conference yesterday. Under this outline the following order will be put into effect:

Sweater Awards Given to Varsity, Frosh Tracksters

Twelve varsity men are to receive letters and six freshmen numerals.

The seniors receiving the letters are Captain Crain, Hay, Miller and Gates. The juniors are Willis, Holland and Nevers; sophomores, Forden, Rogan, Moore, Carlisle and Simpson. The freshmen who are awarded numerals are Turner, Darrah, Belyes, Adamson and Rankin.

UNTIL SEPTEMBER

Next Tuesday, graduating seniors who have formerly been connected with The Kernel, will edit the paper.

In the nine issues which the new staff has published thus far, it has learned many things. It has learned that it is no easy task to fulfill all the needs of the student body of a great State University.

In the short space of time that the present staff has held office several premises of its, and former platforms have begun to be realized.

To those about to be graduated in journalism and in other fields, we express the hope that they find success in a world already filled with the failures of others.

Until September, the present staff takes its departure. Our thanks go to those staff members who have proved themselves to be of incalculable value in the publication of this paper.

After waiting three years for an opportunity to attend to the... of Boyd hall, my ambition has been realized, but, not in the manner I expected (planned).

It's a pity, pure and simple, that Joe Arvin left town last week-end. What's that old saying, "Absence makes the heart grow fonder?"

We hear that during the false fire scare down at Patt hall early Monday morning Jamie Downs packed and locked her trunk, also two suitcases, and tried to throw them out the window.

Virginia Alton bought a new car this week. P. S. Immediately following Elvis "Jake" Stahr Jr. pinned her again.

And there is the boy who was griping about Sam Porter kissing his girl goodnight after the boy had been kind enough to give him a lift in from a local night spot.

Ralph Carlisle writes love missives to Queenie Frances Woods and she, thinking they come from "Giri Crazy" Goldstein, writes him and raises Cain.

The campus is being graced these last few days by an Ohio State beauty, one Virginia Barr, who is visiting the Tridell's new prey, Jeanne Short.

Bob Griffith, not being satisfied with pinning Susie Durham, has now given her a nice new shiny ring. Upon which finger it is located we have not discovered, as yet.

Tridell Elizabeth Black, the quiet, but superextraordinary powerhouse, doesn't let Kate's S. A. E. pin cramp her style. "No, Bob, she isn't here, she went for a Coca-Cola at the Flude" seems to pull the wool over his eyes.

The dancers in the short feature running at the Ben All must have gotten their idea for the "Sophomore Hop" from some of the exhibitions put on out here at the Friday night dances.

K. A. Ellerbe Carter was in town this last week-end, to the great satisfaction of K. D. Sara Kenney, his old flame. She said he looked so cute driving his little red Brown & Williamson truck.

The Kernel! Dear Editor, In relation to your recent attack upon honorary fraternities on the University campus, we, the members of Lances, men's junior honorary, for the year 1936-37, do hereby wish to explain and defend our position on the campus.

STUDENT OPINION

This organization was founded in 1929 to take the place of the Mystic Thirteen, a similar organization founded in 1910. The purpose of this society is to promote closer feeling between the students on the campus by having a definite class of outstanding junior men associated in one group.

Each year 18 men are selected to serve in the organization for the duration of one year. Selection is based upon the merits of being the outstanding sophomore of his respective social fraternity. The independent member is selected as the individual representative of the independents at the University.

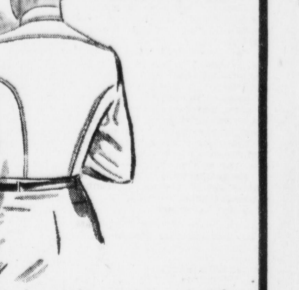

As we are strictly a local organization we pay no fees whatsoever to a national chapter. The money which is received as initiation fees is used to promote any activity which the members deem necessary. At the conclusion of the year any balance in the treasury is apportioned among the members.

Therefore, in defense of our useless organization, but is a society for the benefit of the students affected, due to the fact that it is inexpensive, purely on a social basis, and that selections are based on merits and achievement.

Sport Sketches

By BOBBY EVANS

The three men around whom Coach Downing forms his 1936 tennis team will complete their three years of intercollegiate competition on Tuesday. We refer to Co-captains Jimmy Moore and Elvis Stahr, and George Tulloch, captain of last year's team.

There is little that might be said of Elvis Stahr that has not already been brought to the attention of the Kentucky students. We think it unnecessary to mention that he is President of the senior class, highest ranking cadet officer of the R. O. T. C., winner of the Rhodes Scholarship, Phi Beta Kappa, and many others, so we will skip that. Elvis plays in the fourth position in singles but his doubles play far exceeds that of his singles and earned him a position on the number one doubles team Sigma Chi is the proud fraternity of Elvis. (What fraternity wouldn't be?)

His song is "The Rosary". "Smilin' Thru" was his favorite picture, and his star, Norma Shearer, his favorite actress. . . his ideal girl would have (1) personality, (2) intelligence (3) attractiveness, (4) background, (5) sincerity.

Jimmy Moore, the number one player, is one of the best players to represent Kentucky in many years. Although "Jim Al" is slight of build, he smacks the ball like Tilden and has a back-hand placement that has baffled his opponents all year. Playing in this position, Jimmy has met the best tennis players of the middle west and south. He has won over most of these, and gave a good account of himself in every match.

Like Stahr Jimmy is an outstanding student and is a member of most of the leading organizations. He wears a pin of the Sigma Nu social fraternity. . . is an English major in Arts and Science. . . his favorite dish is hog jaw and turnip greens. . . his ideal girl must be (1) intelligent, (2) good listener, (3) attractive, (4) small enough for him to handle.

George Tulloch turned in some very impressive matches during the year. Because of his outstanding playing, in his first year on the varsity, he was elected captain of the 1935 team. George takes great delight in gawking his opponent by "weaving him up a frazzle". One of his marathon sets lasted 30 games, and then in the second set he won in six straight games. George is an SAE, Pro-med major, rather unstable. . . blonds one day and red heads the next. . . likes Hal Kemp. . . his favorite actress is Norma Shearer and the picture of his choice is "Smilin' Thru". . . a demon with the women. . . he loves 'em and leaves 'em.

KENTUCKY NET TEAM MEETS INDIANA

Playing Indiana in a return match, Tuesday, May 25, the University of Kentucky tennis team winds up its present campaign after the most successful season in history. Earlier in the season, on their tour of Indiana and Michigan schools, the Wildcats racqueted the Bloomington representatives by the score of 7 matches to 2. His final match will be played on the University of Kentucky courts in Lexington.

Should the Kentucky team come through with a victory in this match against Indiana, they will finish the season with a record of eleven wins and one loss. This one loss was sustained at the hands of Michigan State in Lansing, after the Wildcats had defeated Notre Dame on concrete courts. The shift from the concrete to clay the next day at Michigan state proved too big a handicap for the Kentucky team.

Besides Indiana, the Wildcats hold victories over such outstanding schools as Notre Dame, Purdue, Tennessee, and Vanderbilt. The high point of the season was the victory over the Notre Dame team by the score of seven matches to two. This match was played in South Bend and the Kentucky team reached their peak against the fighting Irish. The most spectacular matches, in which the Wildcat players were finally returned the victor, were Moore's victory over Gardner of Berea college, in a three set struggle, the Moore and Stahr win in doubles at Michigan State after being down five games to one in the third and deciding set, and the Moore-Winton, Wayne college, match in Lexington, which Jimmy won after three hard sets.

Losses by graduation will be great but Coach Downing expects another excellent season next year. Those graduating will be Co-captains Moore and Stahr, George Tulloch, former captain, and Dave Randall of the first line performers.

U. K. GOLF TEAM WINS STATE TITLE

University golfers retained their championship of state intercollegiate golf by winning the tournament held last week in Louisville.

The team, composed of Thaxton, Walt Hillenmeyer, Louis Hillenmeyer and Steele, won the match with an aggregate score of 1,029. University of Louisville Cardinals finished second with 1,038 and Centre College was last with 1,062. Garrard Gilbert, Rawlings, Eastern Teachers College's lone entrant in the meet, won the individual title and hung up a course record for thirty-five for nine holes.

man-handled had a distinctive quality, a soft subtle strain rather than a girl's brazen, staccato, snap, crackle, pop which does everything but explode.

Perhaps the writer is prejudiced because someone did a workmanlike job with a generous wash of the stuff on her textbook, but the fact still remains that gum chewing is, and will continue to be the greatest menace to my peace of mind.

Thirty to Receive U. High Diplomas

Annual Graduation Exercises to Be Held Friday, May 29

Thirty graduates of University high school will be presented diplomas at annual Commencement exercises to be held Friday, May 29, in the high school auditorium. Bart N. Baccalaureate services will be held Sunday, May 31, at the Central Christian church, with Dr. A. W. Fortune delivering the sermon. Class night exercises will be held Tuesday, May 26, in the school auditorium. Members of the graduating class will be guests at a breakfast given in their honor by the Parent-Teacher association in the rock garden of Mechanical hall May 26, at 8:30 o'clock. The annual dinner will be held in the school cafeteria May 28, at 6:30 o'clock.

Co-Ed Reporter Debunks Art of Chewing Gum

By IRMA JEAN GROSS

Of all the afflictions that my fellow students are beset with, I am totally immune from all but one, gum chewing. Kipling wrote: "A boy, a rag, a hank of hair and I call her lady fair". This could be easily revised to "A snap, a crack, a twitch and a twirl and I call her my chewing gum girl."

Your reporter grudgingly admits that the manipulations of this classic cure is undoubtedly an art which must be handled dexterously, with tact and finesse, or consequently such novices as you or I would find ourselves in difficulty when attempting to stretch the gum out four ways from the face. Another feature to be reckoned with is the crackling that punctuates the user's conversation, which invariably leads one to suspect that the individual is operating cast-ans.

As previously hinted, the chief offenders are the fairer sex. The male aggregation seems to have the air of refinement about them as they gracefully wave their wares about. Then, too, the sound of the

SEEN FROM THE PRESS BOX

By JOE QUINN
Kernel Sports Editor

Although congratulations are belated, nevertheless we offer them to Kentucky's spring sports teams for their fine showings last week in various parts of the country, where they all did their utmost to spread the reputation of the University. In case it is already in the distant past for you we have reference to the manner in which the varsity golf, tennis and track teams conducted themselves.

Heading the list of all-star performances was the triumph of the unassuming golf squad who captured the state inter-collegiate title in the week-end play at Louisville. While the Kentuckians did not repeat their triumph of a year ago in the individual competition, yet as a team they were unbeatable. Although the season for the golfers was a series of in and out performances and none of the swingers will probably be serious contenders for the National Amateur, yet they brought their campaign to a close with a championship, which is all that can be asked.

Coach Bernie Shively's seven-man track squad was good enough to take fourth place in the Southeastern conference's annual get-together at Birmingham, finishing only behind the full squads of LSU, Alabama and Georgia.

Most of the credit for the Wildcat showing must necessarily go to Dave Rogan and Ben Willis, who together garnered twenty points, but the mile-relay foursome add Bill Miller, each of whom added a single point, gave Kentucky the necessary margin to finish ahead of Tennessee in the final standing.

Rogan's record-breaking mile was one of the standouts of the two-day session. His teammates felt that Dave had also expected to try for a new conference mark in the half-mile qualifying trials but just prior to the opening session, the officials decided to eliminate trials in that event. He was therefore limited to but one assault at the records and as the mile event was first on the schedule, he decided to concentrate on that distance.

Ben Willis, leading point-maker for the Cats during the season, failed to win in any of his events but turned in fine races in each one. Twice Ben ran second and in the high hurdles copped a fourth with Towns of Georgia breaking the world record for the event. Because of the scarcity of material which Coach Shively has had to work with, Ben has had to compete in three or more events each meet. When it comes to running in three at a conference meet, things get pretty tough for a competitor. Ben was forced to take part in time trials in each of his events and the following day go to the finals in each. After several weeks getting keyed up for the season's climax, it is hard on the nerves to go through the trials and the finals. Personally we think Ben did a real nice job at Birmingham, and imagine that most of you think the same.

It looks as if the tennis team is going to wind up its season with but one defeat chalked against it. The boys meet Indiana over on the University courts, Tuesday, in the season's last match and as they already hold one victory over the Hoosiers they look like a cinch to finish with a victory.

It might be a good idea for you to go over and see the match Tuesday because it's the last time that this Wildcat team will be playing as a unit. Boasting of the best record of any Downing-coached club, it will be worth while to watch the racket swingers in action.

Cleaning up the notebook... Coach Shively may take Dave Rogan and Ben Willis to the national inter-collegiate in Chicago next month... and speaking of track, (we were weren't we) - the track team will probably have a greatly improved schedule next year... with Purdue University of Virginia among those who may be included... combined with Kentucky's new oval and some talent coming up from the frosh squad, local customers may be made track-conscious in the coming spring... Percy Beard, a professor at Auburn these days, was on hand to see his old hurdle record smashed by Georgia's speedy Towns... the local swimmers must be given a lot of credit for their efforts in promoting the swimming meet which went off in fine style last night at Richmond... the splashes really worked hard to put it across... which brings up the question again... where is Kentucky's pool... Stan Nevins, who has not had any publicity for so long... is now a qualified expert on the horse races... although your correspondent was the only winner when Nevins and Ray Fehrman aided us in picking the Preakness last Saturday... we took Granville to place and Boy and Arroy to win... the photographs put Granville in second... if you'll remember... and for another year we close the notebook. We hope you liked it.

INTRAMURAL

With the preliminary round completed, the final elimination tournament has begun to determine the Intramural baseball championship of the University. It is difficult to name the favorites, because of the fact that the league is exceptionally well balanced this year. This is demonstrated by the number of ties for championship in their divisions experienced by the various teams. There is no outstanding team, as has been the instance many times in the past.

With the Sigma Chis eliminated

for Digestion's sake... smoke Camels

One of life's most enjoyable experiences is the pleasure Camels add to eating

You have surely noticed how much more you enjoy eating when your mind is free from care. No mental strain or hurry slows down the natural flow of digestive fluids.

Much of this same enjoyment is yours when you smoke Camels. Smoking Camels increases the supply of alkaline digestive fluids... so necessary for zest while you eat and for digestive well-being afterward.

In Camels, you find tobacco at once rich, mild, and perfect in taste. Camels set you right! They give you a cheery "lift." And never jangle your nerves or tire you taste.

FIRST AMERICAN COLLEGE MAN to win the National Open, San Parks, Jr. says: "A Camel with meals and after makes my food settle right."

LIGHTNING SPEED has carried petite Mrs. Ethel Arnold to the peak of tennis fame. "I smoke Camels," she says. "I enjoy food more and digest it better too."

THE CHEF PRESENTS a Planked Sirloin Steak à la Parker, named, like the renowned rolls, for the famous Parker House in Boston. Martin J. Lavin, banquet manager, is impressed with the great number of people who smoke Camels. He says: "Camels are a favorite with those who love good food. At the Parker House, Camels are outstandingly popular."
