Today In The Stadium

he pomp and circumstance which surrounds each football season opener is again evident at Commonwealth Stadium tonight as the Kentucky Wildcats open their 101st collegiate campaign hosting Mid-American Conference foe, the Miami (Ohio) Redskins.

· As usual with each passing year, changes do take place, and Commonwealth Stadium is no exception. Two subtle changes may come to your attention this evening as the Wildcats try to improve on their 71-24-5 record in season openers.

The changes are in the improvement of lighting systems and in the color blue used throughout Commonwealth Stadium. The UK Physical Plant Department, under the direction of Bill Reesor, replaced each of the 216 bulbs among the six light standards which illuminate the playing field. An average measure or reading of the light on the playing field tonight would reveal 100 foot-candles. That's quite an improvement from the 70 foot-candle readings PPD found following a test in the spring. And a true Kentucky Blue has replaced a lighter shade of the UK color above the portals and gates. The blue, in processing terms, is PMS 286.

· Prior to tonight's contest, UK's director of athletics C.M. Newton will conduct a brief ceremony to salute the eight individuals who had their jerseys retired last week. Those individuals were: Clyde Johnson, Bernie Shively, Ray Correll, Rick Norton, Rodger Bird, Sonny Collins and Derrick Ramsey. Each will have their jersey number, name and years played placed on a blue football plaque. The individual plaques are mounted along the upper deck facades here at Commonwealth Stadium and will join the previous 12 former standouts whose jerseys were retired a year ago.

• The University of Kentucky Marching Band, under the direction of Tom Brawner (Director of Bands) and Brad Ethington (Assistant Director), will perform during the pregame and halftime segments of tonight's contest. In the pregame, the UK

Marching Band will present the traditional "Kentucky Fite," the spelling of C-A-T-S, and "On, On, U of K," along with a special salute to our service men and women. That salute includes an "Armed Forces Medley" and formation of USA. And just as the band concludes its pregame show, watch for the game ball to arrive via parachute.

TONIGHT'S HALFTIME MUSIC

A Salute to Disney

"Zip-a-Dee Doo Dah" "Hi-Ho" "Whistle While You Work" "Under the Sea" "When You Wish Upon a Star" "Mickey Mouse"

At halftime, the Miami University Band and the UK Marching Band Will split the entertainment. UK's halftime theme is a salute to Disney. Those tunes include "Zipa-Dee Doo Dah," "Hi-Ho," "Whistle While You Work," "Under the Sea," "When You Wish Upon a Star," and "Mickey Mouse."

· If you're a fan of trivia, those of you in attendance tonight are witnessing a first. No Kentucky football team has ever played a game on September 7. That's right, zero games on September 7. Up until 1979, Kentucky had never opened a season prior to Sept. 10 because everyone began their ledgers in the middle of September. With television and increased revenue potential the driving force, schools are now beginning the seasons the last week of August. In fact, last season Kentucky began its 100th campaign on the earliest date in school history as the Wildcats claimed a 20-17 victory over Central Michigan on Sept. 1.

 And if you're wondering when was the last time Kentucky played a home game during September under the lights, well, you should know this date by heart: September 27, 1969. A week earlier, Kentucky had lost John Ray's debut by a 58-30 count to Indiana. On Sept. 27, Archie Manning-led Ole Miss visited Stoll Field fresh off a 28-3 thumping of Memphis State and on their way to the Sugar Bowl.

Kentucky fell behind 9-0 as Ole Miss got a 24-yard field goal by Jim Poole, Jr., and a 64-yard touchdown run by Manning. The PAT was blocked by David Hunter, which actually turned out to be the game-saving play. The Wildcats got on the board with six seconds left in the first half when Bob Jones booted a 36-yard field goal to make it 9-3 at intermission.

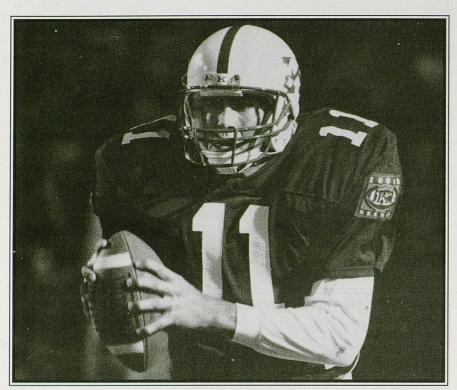

Quarterback Bernie Scruggs gave Kentucky the upset as he capped an 11play, 63-yard drive with a six-yard run. The PAT was good and Kentucky clung to a one-point, 10-9 lead late in the third quarter. The Wildcats were able to secure the win, but only after Manning had led the Rebels to the UK three. At that point, UK's Wilbur Hackett knocked the ball loose from Ole Miss tailback Leon Felts and the Wildcats recovered to preserve the land Stadium? Who could have guessed that the battle-weary Wildcats might manage to grit their teeth, bear down and show up for a fight at the end of a difficult season?

· From the UK ticket office, tickets do remain for three (Kent State, Ole Miss, Cincinnati) of the remaining five home games. Both sideline and end zone tickets are available for the Kent State and Cincinnati contests and only end zone seats are left for the Ole Miss game. ho could have known what would transpire on a fall day, nearly nine months ago, when the Kentucky Wildcats limped off the bus onto the playing surface of Tennessee's colossal Ney-

To be sure, most expected a roll-overand-play-dead surrender to the Sugar Bowl-bound Vols. Virtually everyone watching looked for a Rocky Top rout, the kind accentuated by football-carrying orange blurs streaking through lines of scrimmage ruled by mountainous men, as big as the Smokies.

Everyone, that is, but Bill Curry.

A patient man, a man of intensity. The ever-optimistic curator of Kentucky's gridiron aspirations surely had some clue as to what would go down, that the Wildcats would shock the Vols, stealing a 21-

14 lead at the intermission and bettering the Volunteers in virtually every statistical

His

But the Wildcats may have reached a turning point even in defeat.

This was a glimpse of the championship performance that Curry had exhorted from his charges from his first day in Lexington. After a troubled infancy and an injury-riddled adolescence, the Wildcats had aged gracefully as fall eased into winter. By the end of the season, they were playing their best ball in the face of the SEC's toughest. Flashes of brilliance marked the final outing against the mighty orange power from Knoxville.

As comforting as this nostalgic interlude may seem, there is still a question burning as the calendar turns to the seventh of September, 1991: When will Kentucky return to the form of last season's waning

"September 7 is where we hope to pick up where we left off," Curry answers. "There is an enthusiasm at Kentucky generated by its football. You will enjoy watching this football team play."

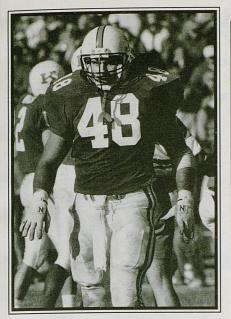

Enjoy watching them play. Great. But how about enjoy watching them win, you ask?

Kentucky football is not built in a day. Or even a year. But Curry likes the way this team has progressed from the band he inherited scant more than a year ago. According to the coach, the 1991 team is even better than it was at the end of last season. Stronger. Faster. Better schooled.

There are a few memorable faces missing from that group, but isn't this basically

And what about the freshmen? One of the finest recruiting classes in the country has begun the fall semester at UK. Led by tailbacks Damon Hood and Carlos Collins, the class of '95 figures to make its presence known immediately.

Things are coming together for Kentucky football. But Curry still prescribes patience. "We are not going to look for a quick fix or instant results or instant success," he says. "We seek habitual winning. We must drive past our limitations so it becomes a habit — then we'll go through it some more."

Today's on-the-field training partner is Miami of Ohio, a traditionally tough Mid-American Conference team that is on the upswing after a few down years.

"A MAC game for the University of Kentucky is not a breather," Curry warns. "It is a tough football game, and yet we

Miami (Ohio) also graced the docket at Kentucky's 1979 opening day in Commonwealth. But the Redskins escaped with a heartstopping win over Fran Curci's Wildcats. Kentucky went on to a 5-6 record that year, as Miami scored a mirror image of the Wildcats' season, finishing 6-5.

THE STORYLINE

Kentucky (0-0) kicks off the season with a squad that, according to coach Bill Curry, is better schooled, better conditioned, and stronger than the group that finished the 1990 campaign.

Miami (Ohio) (1-0) is looking to continue its momentum from last week's 15-7 defensive clinic against Ball State in Oxford.

niversity of Kentucky football, now in its second century of competition, is honoring eight men who helped mold the tradition. These eight join 12 former greats who already have had this honor bestowed upon them. Information on these 12 appears on page 84.

8 Clyde Johnson, Tackle, 1940-42

The first All-American from the University of Kentucky, Johnson was named first-team All-American and firstteam All-South-eastern Conference by the Associated Press in 1942. A three-year letterman at Kentucky, he played two seasons in the National Football League with the Los Angeles Rams (1946-47).

Bernie A. Shively, Athletics Director (1938-1967) Head Football Coach (1945)

During his 30-year tenure as Athletics Director, Shively supervised a number of major expansions of University of Kentucky athletic facilities. He is responsible for the expansion of Stoll Field/McLean Stadium in 1948, 1949 and 1959 and with the construction of Memorial Coliseum in 1950. Shively is also responsible for what is now known as the Shively Sports Complex. Built in 1959, the complex includes the football practice fields and is now home to Kentucky baseball, track and soccer.

Shively served as chairman of the NCAA Basketball Tournament Committee (University Division) and later was named to the NCAA Executive Committee. He served as head football coach at UK in 1945 and posted a 2-8-0 record.

27 Wallace "Wah-Wah" Jones, End, 1945-48

A two-time All-Southeastern Conference end for the Wildcats, Jones was named first-team All-SEC by the Associated Press in 1946. He was also tabbed third-team All-SEC in 1948 by AP. Jones led Kentucky in receiving two seasons (1947-48) and had a season-high 19 receptions for 243 yards and five touchdowns during his senior campaign. A fouryear letterman in football, basketball and baseball during his tenure at UK, Jones helped lead the Wildcats to their first bowl appearance (1947 Great Lakes Bowl) as a

65 Ray Correll, Guard, 1951-53

Sporting a 20-10-3 record during his three years as a letterman, Correll's contributions were great. He was named firstteam All-American in 1953 as a guard by the Football Writers of America Association and the Chicago Tribune. He was also named first-team All-Southeastern Conference by the Associated Press in 1953 and second-team All-SEC by United Press International in 1953. Correll was named Defensive Most Valuable Player in the 1952 Cotton Bowl as Kentucky defeated TCU, 20-7, and is a member of the alltime Cotton Bowl team. Named permanent cocaptain as a senior in 1953, Correll played in the East-West Shrine All-Star game and the Senior Bowl.

One of the best quarterbacks ever to play for UK, Norton was named first-team All-American in 1965 by Time and NBC. He made the Academic All-Southeastern Conference Honor Roll as a sophomore. Currently ranked second at UK in career total offense (4,139 yards) and career passing (4,514 yards), Norton holds the UK records for season passing with 1,823 yards and 11 touchdowns in 1965. He owns the Wildcat single-game record with 373 yards passing against Houston as well. Having completed 298 of 598 passes (.498 pct.) and throwing 26 TDs during his career, Norton was the first-round draft pick of the Miami Dolphins in 1966 and played with them from 1966 to 1969.

21 Rodger Bird, Halfback, 1963-65

Currently ranked sixth at Kentucky in career rushing with 1,699 yards and 21 touchdowns, Bird was named first-team All-American in 1965 by Time magazine and NBC. A two-time All-Southeastern Conference first-teamer (1965-66), Bird played in the College All-Star game, North-South Shrine All-Star game and the Senior Bowl. His best season was 1965 when he rushed for 646 yards. A firstround draft choice of the Oakland Raiders in 1966, Bird played with the Raiders from 1966-71.

40 Sonny Collins, Halfback, 1972-75

The all-time leading rusher at Kentucky with 3,835 yards and 26 TDs, Collins was named first-team All-Southeastern Conference by the Associated Press and the United Press International for three seasons (1973-74-75). Collins owns career marks in rush attempts (777), yards rushing (3,835), touchdowns rushing (26) and 100-yard games (18). His best season was as a sophomore when he gained 1,213 yards and scored 13 TDs. Collins averaged 4.9 yards per carry during his career and was named player of the year in the Southeastern Conference by the Nashville Banner and Birmingham Post-Herald in 1974. He participated in the Hula Bowl and Japan Bowl and was drafted in the second round by the Atlanta Falcons in 1976.

12 Derrick Ramsey, Quarterback,

The Associated Press and United Press International first-team All-Southeastern Conference quarterback in 1977, Ramsey led the Wildcats to consecutive 9-3 and 10-1 records as a junior and senior, including a 21-0 victory over North Carolina in the 1976 Peach Bowl. The outstanding SEC quarterback in 1977, according to the Birmingham Touchdown Club, Ramsey is currently ranked sixth at UK in career total offense (3,417 yards), fifth in career rushing (1,764 yards) and 11th in career passing (1,653 yards). He is also second career

Commander Clark

Neal Clark catches passes, tackles returners and commands an M-1 tank

BY ED KROMER Host Creative Communications

t was about this time a year ago that the world trained its collective attention on the events of the Middle East. A line was drawn in the sand, a line to hold back Iraqi aggression. Allied forces massed the powers of land, air and sea at the edge, poised to stop any further movement of Iraqi forces.

One Kentucky Wildcat watched the developments with particular concern as the semester wore on and both sides grew more stubborn. Wideout Neal Clark is a member of the U.S. Army Reserves, and he watched fellow units called up to active duty virtually every week as war approached.

Many experts predicted the Gulf War would come down to the greatest tank battle the world had ever seen. And Clark is trained to command an M-1 tank crew. His reserve unit was on alert throughout the fall and early winter, subject to be called up at any time. A great deal of pressure rested on a young man trying to work football and school in among a maelstrom of emotions.

"It was a scary feeling," Clark says. "Stressful, really. It was just sit back and wait. That was probably the hardest part. At one time, we were drilling a lot and we would have probably been next (to be called up).

"After a while it bothered me so much that me and Coach Curry had a lot of meetings. I was coming over and talking to him almost every other day about the situation. And he understood.'

Over time, Clark accepted the realization that he might soon be a part of Operation Desert Storm. "I'm turning into an adult," he says, "and I have to take care of my responsibilities."

On the gridiron, forever dubbed "the battlefield" by pundits with a flair for the dramatic, Clark has forever sought more responsibilities, more opportunities to become involved.

The senior social work major enrolled at Kentucky in 1987, after lettering three years in football at 3-A power Paducah Tilghman. He also earned letters in track, cross country and basketball, earning honorable mention All-America accolades in track and cross country.

After starring in fall, winter and spring at Tilghman, Clark found his first semester's athletic pursuits at UK a bit more difficult to master. The diminutive (5-9, 170-pound) split end managed to walk on the football squad, but was redshirted.

The following year, Clark saw action in nine games and snagged five receptions for 107 yards. In 1989, Clark's sophomore campaign, he played in all 11 games and earned his first varsity letter. But with the stable of receivers on the squad, he began looking for different ways to use his speed and tenacity.

Split end Neal

In 1990 spring practice, Clark started winning some attention. The coaches placed him on kickoff coverage drills.

Clark could have seen this as a demotion. Not so. He flew down the field, laying waste to any UK kick returners he could get his hands on. When the spring session was over, Clark had earned both respect and a scholarship, as well as a solid spot on kick and punt coverage teams.

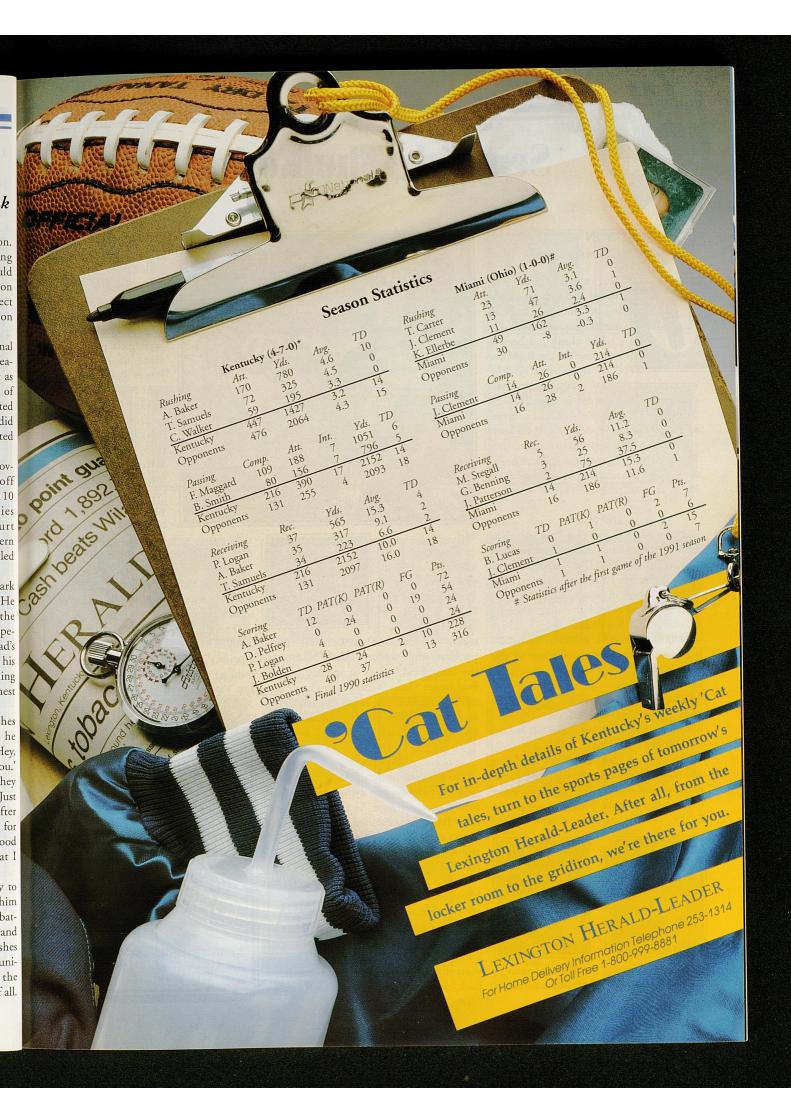

"I took special teams as a motivational thing," he remembers. "Early on in the season I wasn't playing as much at wideout as I was on special teams. And being one of the smallest guys on the team, I motivated myself to go out and excel. And once I did that, it showed the coaching staff I wanted to play."

And play he did, as split end, kick coverage specialist and punt and kickoff returner. Clark caught eight passes for 110 yards at split end. And when injuries slowed both Chris Tolbert and Kurt Johnson, he filled in for the Southeastern Conference's top return duo and handled six punts and two kickoffs.

But coverage became his forte; Clark emerged as Kentucky's top stopper. He cleared the plate of runners during the 1990 season, scoring a team-high 18 special teams tackles and earning the squad's Outstanding Kicking Game award. But his most treasured reward was as subtle a thing as a little respect in the nation's toughest conference.

"It's a compliment that other coaches around the SEC have my number," he explains. "The incentive is to know, 'Hey, you've got this guy watching out for you.' For example, in the Tennessee game they had a guy chasing me all over the field. Just one man chasing me all over. Then after the game, he told me that was his job for the game. That kind of made me feel good knowing that I still accomplished what I had to do."

Kentucky plans to give Clark plenty to accomplish this season, and that suits him fine. These days, after all, his primary battlefield is still the kind with green grass and white-painted boundaries, and skirmishes are fought by young men in colorful uniforms and fiberglass armor. This is the kind of responsibility Clark likes best of all.

Scouting The Redskins

BY MATT MASON Host Creative Communications

ne rung at a time. The Miami Redskins are climbing methodically back to football respectability.

The climb has been a steep one for the Redskins. Only three years ago the once-proud Miami program suffered through the worst record in school history, 0-10-1. By 1990, the Redskins had returned to the .500 plateau (5-5-1) behind the leadership of newly appointed head coach Randy Walker. This year, the Redskins broke the gate with 36 returning lettermen, including six all-MAC performers and 17 starters.

DEFENSE

If the adage is true that "you win with defense" then Miami will have no problem racking up the W's. The Redskins return nine starters from a unit which finished third in the conference in defense last season.

Leading the defensive charge is senior defensive end Jon Wauford (6-3, 255), who finished third last season in the balloting for conference defensive player of the year. Wauford along with his cohorts on the defensive line - junior defensive end Andy Howard, senior tackle Scott Frazier and junior tackle Mark Staten - combined for 373 tackles last season, including 60 for losses and 31 sacks.

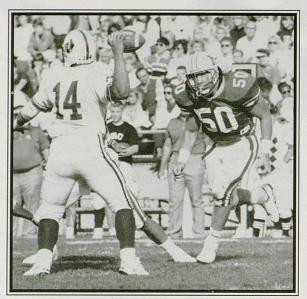

Junior Curt McMillan (6-0, 214), the second leading tackler in the MAC, will run the defensive unit from middle linebacker. Alongside McMillan sits senior Barry Renfro and freshman Mike

Three of four starters return to protect the airways. Ron Carpenter, the MAC leader in interceptions last season with seven, stabilizes the free safety position, while senior Cajardo Lindsey is the team head hunter at apache. Junior field corner Shean Williams rounds out the trio of returnees. The remaining boundary corner spot will be filled by redshirt freshman David Thomas.

OFFENSE

In command of the offensive troops will be a sophomore, but a sophomore with plenty of experience. Second-year signal caller Jim Clement started all 11 games last season as a redshirt freshman, and his arms and legs produced 1,184 yards in the air and 326 on the ground.

The majority of the ground attack, however, will be placed in the hands of another sophomore, Terry Carter. As a true freshman last season, Carter led the team in rushing with 858 yards and also caught 20 aerials for 183 yards. Leading Carter's waltz through the defense is freshman fullback Jermaine Ward (5-10, 220).

The split end spot will be occupied by senior Milt Stegall, who caught 32 passes a year ago for 590 yards and four touchdowns. Sophomore Gordon Benning serves as Stegall's pass catching mate at flanker, and James Patton starts at tight end.

Only one regular returns to the offensive line, tackle John Healy (6-3, 281), and Healy's action was limited to four games last season because of injury. Former walk-on Chris Brenner (6-3, 260) lines up at right guard, with freshman Bobby Johnson (6-3, 268) manning the left guard spot. Freshman center Jeff Chabot (6-3, 278) and junior Mike Kreeger (6-7, 269) round out an inexperienced line that may need some time to perfect.

The Redskins placekicking duties are handled by Bryan Lucas, who converted on a perfect 25-25 extra points last year. The punting chores will be handled by junior Jon Valente, who kicked 31 times for a 35.1 average in 1990.

Cawood Ledford interviews Wildcat head coach Bill Curry entucky has long been noted for its fast horses... those beautiful thoroughbreds that run for the roses each May. UK football coach Bill Curry and his staff want the fans to think of speed in a different context...Kentucky football. If his first two recruiting classes are any indication, then he's well on his way to making that happen. This interview first aired on Cawood's Notebook in spring of 1991.

LEDFORD: The national signing period for college football has just concluded, and on paper at least, it looks as though UK coach Bill Curry has brought in a wealth of talent. To him, this successful harvest was expected. To UK fans, it was a total surprise. The height, weight and speed these future Wildcats possess is just what the doctor ordered. It's a group that appears to have the potential to someday rank among the top recruiting classes to arrive in Lexington. UK has always had difficulty recruiting the true blue-chip players. Why, then, did this talented group choose the Big Blue? Bill Curry thinks he has the answer.

CURRY: I think the family atmosphere here made it final for an awful lot of them. I think if you had to pick one characteristic other than the obvious, that we have a great University here, it would be the family atmosphere we provide. I would hope that's the reason that all of them came. But when it gets down to those things that are gut-level feelings, you go around and you visit the different schools, trying to figure out where am I going to feel good about myself, I believe what they felt here is so authentic.

LEDFORD: Curry's long recruiting arm could be seen in virtually every part of the country, but it was especially visible in the Southeast. It was there that he tapped the talent well at many of the real high school powerhouses. Leon Smith from Louisville Trinity, Stephen Langenkamp from Cincinnati Moeller and James Tucker from Arlington (Texas) Lamar High are just a few of the recruits who come from bigtime prep programs. Curry says shopping these high schools will help his program in

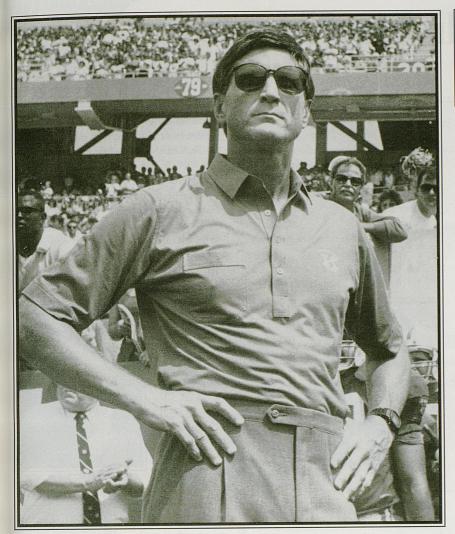

CURRY: When these guys go back home, the coaches pull them aside and say, 'All right, do they really tutor you the way they said? Are they really giving you a chance? What's your schedule like? How are you treated? Are you treated with dignity? Is that family thing that you thought you felt, is that real?' And those coaches get a feel for the program. If they get a good feeling, then the next player they have, if you want to recruit him, the coach is not going to send him to you, but he will help you to get visits and that sort of thing. Then you have to do your own recruiting."

LEDFORD: That's not the only benefit from recruiting the top prep programs. There's another benefit of equal importance...a winning attitude. Take Leon Smith from Louisville Trinity. He never lost a game at the varsity level.

CURRY: Those programs traditionally turn out great players, but they also turn out players who know how to win. If you have a vast majority of your players who are accustomed to winning, guys like Leon Smith — has he ever played a losing game? Those guys understand what it takes to win. So they come in, they're ready to get to work toward winning. You don't have to teach them how to win. You just teach them how to catch the ball or how to work their class schedule or whatever. That's why it's critical that we focus on those programs.

LEDFORD: How good was UK's recruiting year? Curry says he'll let us know the answer to that in three years. He says that's how long it takes before you can really evaluate any recruiting class. However, those experts who follow the recruiting scene closely rate this UK class as one of the best nationally, especially since Curry signed Kentucky's 1990 Mr. Football, Damon Hood. According to them, Curry and his staff struck gold.

UK Gets 48 National Merit Scholars

A record 48 National Merit Scholars nearly double last year's number — are enrolled as freshmen at UK this fall. Last year, 26 National Merit Scholars enrolled as freshmen.

Of the 48 freshman scholars, 39 come from Kentucky. The other nine students represent six other states.

Students qualify to become National Merit Scholars by achieving high scores on the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test and Scholarship Aptitude Test, demonstrating consistent academic excellence, and receiving recommendations from educators. Fewer than one percent of the students who take the PSAT go on to win National Merit Scholarships.

National Merit Scholars at UK receive tuition plus an allowance for room, board and books for the freshman year. They also receive tuition plus $2,500 per year for the second, third and fourth years of undergraduate study.

New Student Members of Athletics Board Named

s the 1991 college football season kicks off, the Southeastern Conference once again sports a new look. For the second consecutive year, three league schools open the season with a new head coach. Gerry DiNardo joins the head coaching ranks at Vanderbilt, Curley Hallman begins his first campaign at LSU and Jackie Sherrill has assumed the reigns at Mississippi State.

In 1990 Steve Spurrier returned to Florida, Gene Stallings accepted the head coaching post at Alabama and Bill Curry moved to Kentucky, marking the first time in 12 years three conference schools began the season with a new head coach.

• In addition, for the first time in SEC history, four teams kicked off the season before Sept. 1 this year. Last week, Auburn, Georgia, Ole Miss and Mississippi State began their 1990 campaigns in August.

• The nation's kickers, who had their tee eliminated for the 1989 season, will have to be more accurate with their field goals and extra points beginning in 1991. The Executive Committee of the NCAA approved the reduction of the width of the goal posts from 23 feet, four inches to 18 feet, six inches.

Head Coach Bill Curry

In Pursuit of Championship Performance teams which won the National

Packers. He played on two Packer ill Curry's initial Kentucky squad finished the 1990 season with a 4-7 record. But the Wildcats' mentor has big things in store for Kentucky fans. His first campaign in the Bluegrass showed sparks of future greatness. The Wildcats posted a 3-4 record in the mighty Southeastern Conference, the most wins for a UK team since 1984. Academically, the Wildcats tied for the SEC lead in Academic All-SEC Honor Roll selections, with 13. So the optimist looked at the positives.

"I'll always be disappointed if we're not 12-0, and I mean that," Curry said. "But we're on the right track and we're moving in the right direction. The speed will vary. But there's no question where this program is going.

The quest for "championship performance" has been the first order of business since Curry came to Lexington in January of 1990 to become the 32nd head football coach at Kentucky.

"I told our squad I'm interested in championship performance, championship people, championship academics and championship football," Curry said. "I'm not interested in anything less than that. That's what we are about. A championship performance in everything.'

Curry's football pedigree weighs heavily in his expectations of championship performance. After all, he did play and work under three of the most successful coaches the game of football has ever known -Bobby Dodd, Vince Lombardi and Don Shula.

Curry, 47, lettered three years (1962-64) as a collegian at Georgia Tech under Dodd and served as team captain his senior campaign. Dodd compiled an impressive 22-year record of 165-64-8, including Southeastern Conference titles in 1951 and '52, at Georgia Tech.

After earning his bachelor's degree in industrial management from Georgia Tech in 1965, Curry began his professional career under Lombardi with the Green Bay Football League title (1965-66), including the first Super Bowl Jan. 15, 1967. The legendary Lombardi guided Green Bay to five NFL championships in seven years during the 1960s. Following the 1967 season, Curry was traded to the Baltimore Colts and eventually became All-Pro in 1971. His mentor for two seasons at Baltimore was Don Shula, who today is the winningest active coach in the NFL and has appeared in more Super Bowls (6) than any other coach.

Those credentials alone have made Curry the type of coach who really understands what demands must be met in order to succeed.

Indeed, those qualities opened the eyes of UK Athletics Director C.M. Newton when he began his search in December of 1989 to replace Jerry Claiborne, who stepped down after eight seasons with the Wildcats. But Newton took an interest in another side of Curry.

"William A. (Bill) Curry is recognized by many to be at the very top of his profession," said Newton during his introduction of Curry to the media. "He has been credited for dignity, class and integrity with which he conducts his football programs, both on and off the playing field."

Curry has that rare mix of both worlds. He came to Ken-during his final three seasons. He was cocaptain during the 1964 campaign.

Before his professional career was over 10 seasons later, Curry played at Green Bay (1965-66), Baltimore (1967-72), Houston (1973) and with the Los Angeles Rams (1974). Curry was a member of three Super Bowl teams, two National Football League Championship teams and was selected to the 1971 and '72 Pro Bowls. A knee injury forced him to retire in 1975.

A year later, Curry was back at his alma mater as an assistant coach under Pepper Rodgers. Then in 1977, Curry returned to the pro ranks as an offensive line coach with the Green Bay Packers under former teammate Bart Starr. Curry answered Georgia Tech's call once again in 1980, this time as head football coach.

Facing a pair of daunting schedules, Curry and Tech turned in 1-9-1 and 1-10 records in 1980 and '81, before things began to change in 1982. During his final five years at Tech, Curry produced a 29-24-3 ledger which included a sparkling 9-2-1 season in 1985. The successful '85 campaign earned Tech an All-American Bowl bid and victory over Michigan State, 17-14. It was Georgia Tech's first bowl appearance since 1978.

The success of Curry's teams has not dropped off. In his last seven years as a head coach, he owns an impressive 50-28-3 (.679) record. In 1987, Curry moved to Alabama and replaced Ray Perkins.

Curry was named the 1985 Atlantic Coast Conference Coach of the Year by the Associated Press and ACC sportswriters, the 1987 SEC Coach of the Year by United Press International and the 1989 SEC Coach of the Year by AP and the Nashville Banner. Curry received a special honor after the 1989 season when he was named the Bobby Dodd Coach of the Year, in honor of his former collegiate mentor.

Curry is married to the former Carolyn Newton of College Park, Ga. Carolyn has a Ph.D. in history and teaches in the history department at UK during the spring semester. They have two children -Kristin, 23, and Billy, 20.

The University of Kentucky

rom its modest beginnings in 1865, when it was known as State College, the University of Kentucky has grown into one of the nation's most outstanding institutions of higher learning. As a comprehensive land-grant university, UK offers an educational experience that cannot be matched anywhere in the Commonwealth. In fact, only a small number of institutions across the nation can offer the wealth of opportunities that awaits students at UK. At Kentucky, there is a tradition of value.

University History

UK was founded in 1865 as a landgrant institution, and the present name dates to 1916. The Lexington campus has 673 acres. Dr. Charles T. Wethington, Jr., is UK's 10th president.

Students

The University of Kentucky now has more than 63,000 students with 23,000 on the Lexington campus and 40,000 at the 14 community colleges across the state. UK now educates 37 percent of all students in Kentucky attending a public or private college or university. There are 4,600 students enrolled in graduate school with 86 master's and 58 doctoral programs offered.

Academic Programs

Currently, there are 17 academic colleges and a graduate school. Students have a choice of 108 undergraduate majors from which to choose. The University is recommended in five books or publications for its value in providing higher education.

Research

UK ranks among the Top 100 research institutions in the nation, and is one of only 45 public universities in the United States — the only one in Kentucky — to be classified as a Research University of the First Class.

Medical Center

The Albert B. Chandler Medical Center, including a 461-bed hospital, is located on the Lexington campus. More than 2,700 students are enrolled in its five colleges - medicine, dentistry, nursing, pharmacy, and allied health professions.

Library

The UK Library System contains more than two million volumes and is interconnected by computer with each of the 14 community colleges. The Library is ranked 55th among all university research libraries in North America and the University has announced a fund-raising campaign to build a new $40 million library in future years.

Sports

With the addition of men's soccer last year, the current number of UK sports on the varsity level is 18 — nine men's sports, eight women's sports and one coed sport. The men's sports consist of football, basketball, baseball, cross country, indoor/outdoor track, tennis, swimming, golf and soccer. For the women, UK sponsors basketball, volleyball, swimming, golf, tennis, gymnastics, cross country and indoor/outdoor track on the varsity level. The one coed sport is rifle.

Shared dreams.

There is a special magic in the sharing of dreams, and something even more wonderful that happens when those dreams come true.

We had a dream which we shared with the people of the Commonwealth of Kentucky. That dream was to be able to manufacture our popular Camry sedans at a location in the United States where we could meet or exceed our international standards for automotive excellence.

The people of Kentucky showed us the way to Georgetown, a warm and inviting community in the beautiful Bluegrass region of Central Kentucky. Georgetown more than met our stringent criteria and, so, we built a $1.1 billion assembly plant in the heart of the Bluegrass.

Today, we are producing 800 Camrys a day. We're building engines and we're expanding the automobile assembly plant. Our location is superb in every respect. And the economic climate of Kentucky virtually nurtures success.

Overall, the greatest contributions to our success have been made by the more than 3,800 people (95% of whom are Kentuckians) who make up our Team Toyota. We will proudly match their skills, dedication, productivity and spirit against any work force in the world.

The Commonwealth of Kentucky and Toyota Motor Manufacturing, USA: A partnership that began as a dream and continues to flourish as a strong economic reality for today and for our tomorrows.

Wildcat Football. It's hard-hitting, physical, competitive...and smart. On and off the field, the student athletes and coaches know that winning takes more than talent and physical effort. It takes mental preparation.

You have to anticipate the other team's moves. You have to plan your own offensive and defensive plays. And you have to learn how best to use your talents and abilities to reach your goals. It's this type of thinking that directs all your physical efforts into achieving success in football...and in business.

Southern States applies the same mental process in cultivating innovations to serve the constantly changing needs of our farm, home

C.M. Newton

Director of Athletics

hen Charles Martin (C.M.) Newton became the University of Kentucky's seventh director of athletics April 1, 1989, he hit the ground running.

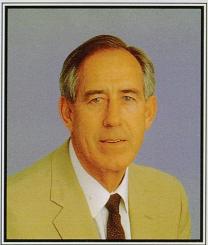

Newton's first order of business was to bring respectability back to a basketball program hit hard by an NCAA investigation. He did so by hiring New York Knickerbockers head man Rick Pitino to coach the Wildcats. A few months later, Newton was faced with the task of hiring a football coach to replace the retiring Jerry Claiborne. Newton again rose to the occasion, luring Southeastern Conference Coach of the Year Bill Curry from the University of Alabama to lead the UK program.

Newton has scored with UK fans again and again. He announced that UK's football and basketball games would once again be carried on Louisville's clear-channel, 50,000-watt WHAS Radio, for the first time since 1986. He kicked off a fundraising campaign to build a new indoor practice facility adjacent to Commonwealth Stadium. And he announced the addition of varsity soccer to the UK Athletics program.

After little more than two years on the job, Newton has become one of the most popular public figures in the Commonwealth of Kentucky. In addition to a lengthy, impressive list of credentials, Newton brought to Kentucky a sparkling reputation of integrity at a crucial time in the history of UK Athletics.

He capped an illustrious basketball coaching career by leading his 1988-89 Vanderbilt University squad to a 19-14 record, a second-place SEC finish and its second consecutive NCAA tournament appearance. He was named SEC Coach of the Year by the Associated Press and received the Kodak NABC District IV Coach-of-the-Year award.

Newton served as head basketball coach and associate athletics director at Vanderbilt after 1982, compiling a 129-115 hoops record. In 32 years of coaching at Transylvania, Alabama and Vanderbilt, Newton compiled a 509-375 overall record, ranking him among the top 10 active coaches in the game in terms of total victories at the close of the 1988-89 season. Newton's Alabama

C.M. Newton with UK fans again and teams won three consecutive Southeastern Conference championships and more games than any other coach in Crimson Tide history. He ranks second in career victories in Southeastern Conference games behind his mentor, Adolph Rupp.

Perhaps more impressive, however, was Newton's ability to produce winning teams that also possessed exceptional academic credentials. During Newton's tenure at Vanderbilt, 18 Commodores were named to the Academic All-SEC team - over 50 percent more than any other league school. And including his last graduating class, all 21 seniors received their diplomas.

Newton is highly regarded on the national level. He has served on the board of directors of the National Association of Basketball Coaches. He worked six years on the NCAA Basketball Rules Committee, serving as chairman for five years. He currently serves as vice president of USA Basketball, the nation's governing body for international basketball, and as chairman of of its Games Committee, which is responsible for all international competition, including the Olympic Games.

Newton has literally circled the globe to promote basketball. He served as team manager — a combination coaching and administrative position — on the 1984 U.S. Olympic team that won the gold medal.

In 1983 and 1987, Newton took his Vanderbilt squads to the Republic of China (Taiwan) to represent the United States in the R. William Jones Cup International Tournament, winning the gold medal in 1983 and the silver in 1987. He has conducted coaching clinics in numerous countries.

After playing on the 1951 national champion Kentucky Wildcat squad and pitching in the New York Yankees' minor league system, Newton began coaching at Transylvania College (now Transylvania University) in Lexington.

In 1969, once again with the backing of Rupp, Newton took on the challenge of building the downtrodden Alabama basketball program. During his 12-year tenure, Newton orchestrated a turnaround in the Crimson Tide's basketball fortunes, compiling a 211-123 record.

With few horizons left to conquer at Alabama, Newton resigned at the end of the 1980 season to accept a job as assistant commissioner of the Southeastern Conference. A year later, he began his stint at Vandy.

New York Life is large, conservative, and dull. Reassuring in times like these, isn't it?

Things are a bit shaky these days in the financial world. Investors are getting a lot less adventuresome. And words like "stability" and "security" are coming back into vogue.

To some, of course, this is just the current economic trend. But at New York Life, we've had a conservative investment policy for 146 years.

A policy that, over the years, has allowed New York Life to amass assets under management of more than $50 billion. And why 95 percent of the bonds in our portfolio are investment grade.7

Does that make us large and conservative? We should say so. And as for dull, well, we look at it this way: If being exciting means investing heavily in junk bonds that end up in default, that's the kind of excitement we can all do without.

Commonwealth Stadium

Home of the Kentucky Wildcats

hen it comes to football, Kentucky-style, there is certainly no better place than home - Commonwealth Stadium.

Built in 1973, Commonwealth is one of the nation's best showcases for collegiate football. The stadium is located on the southwest corner of the University of Kentucky campus, convenient to both Cooper and Alumni Drives.

Commonwealth Stadium was built at a cost of $12 million by the firm of Huber, Hunt and Nichols, Inc. The stadium, including parking areas, rests on an 86-acre plot of what was once the UK Experimental Station Farm grounds.

The stadium took on a new look last fall with the addition of a $600,000 scoreboard and message center located in the north end zone. The scoreboard is 19 by 78 feet in size, almost 3.5 times the size of the original scoreboards which have been in place since 1973.

The stadium was officially opened September 15, 1973. The Wildcats moved into their new home after spending 48 years at Stoll Field/McLean Stadium across from Memorial Coliseum. Kentucky defeated Virginia Tech in the stadiumopener, 31-26, behind three touchdowns by quarterback Ernie Lewis.

Since its opening, Kentucky has played 113 games within the friendly confines of Commonwealth Stadium. And indeed, the 65-44-4 record and .593 winning percentage is proof positive of the Wildcats' homefield advantage.

Large crowds have followed Kentucky football at Commonwealth Stadium. The Wildcats have averaged 55,217 spectators for contests at Commonwealth since its inception. In total 6,239,539 spectators have witnessed Kentucky football at Commonwealth Stadium - that's about 1.7 times the population of Kentucky.

Commonwealth Stadium can officially seat 57,800 fans, though standing-room only crowds exceed that figure. Most sat but many of the stadium-record 58,345 spectators stood to watch the Wildcats defeat Mississippi State, 33-19, Oct. 12, 1985. The second-largest crowd, 58,230, gathered a week earlier to watch Kentucky defeat Clemson, 26-7. The third-largest crowd (58,216) watched Kentucky defeat Indiana, 17-14, in 1989.

An enclosed press box, which comfortably seats 120 members of the media, is located underneath the upper deck on the stadium's west side. The press box area has eight private booths (four VIPs), a photography deck and two dining areas. Two elevators link the box to the stadium ground.

The University of Kentucky plans to eventually enclose the south end (Tates Creek Road) of Commonwealth Stadium to bring its capacity to 72,000. The addition of luxury suites and boxes is also in the plans.

Here are some more good reasons to join — a list of what you get as a member of the UK Alumni Association.

WE'VE BEEN SUPPORTING ATHLETICS SINCE THE VERY BEGINNING.

Contrary to popular belief, it takes more than a pair of $150 shoes to support our athletes.

That's why Citizens Fidelity Bank is pleased to lend a hand through sponsorship, events and outings that help support athletics programs. Whether it's athletics give our children the football, baseball, basketball, you name it.

Because we believe athletic achievement instills a sense of pride in our community.

Cheerleaders & Marching Band

wo of the nation's best groups line up beside the Kentucky Wildcats on football Saturdays each fall: the award-winning University of Kentucky Cheerleaders and Marching Band.

Under the direction of T. Lynn Williamson, the UK Cheerleaders have become the model cheerleading squad in the United States. Three of the last seven years, UK has earned the national cheerleading title. They were runners-up in 1988 and 1990.

This squad's ability to help bring the Wildcat crowd into the games and its precision stunts have become a trademark and a source of pride for the University.

The University of Kentucky Marching Band is also recognized around the country, especially for its sophisticated sound and visual images through innovative drill

Under the direction of Tom Brawner, the University of Kentucky Marching Band was one of the first in the nation to use computers exclusively for drill writing. An average halftime show will contain around 130,000 different positions or moving sets for all members of the band, coordinated simultaneously with approximately 180,000 notes.

The University of Kentucky Marching Band numbers approximately 280, with members representing many different states.

WHAT THEY ARE SAYING ...

Dr. Charles Wethington, Jr., University of Kentucky President:

"This facility is very significant not only to UK Athletics, but to the entire University of Kentucky community. The indoor facility should aid Bill Curry in taking our football program to another level."

C.M. Newton, UK Director of Athletics:

"We already have the finest coaches in the country, and with the addition of the indoor facility, which I consider the final piece of the puzzle, we will have what we need to attract the finest student-athletes. The facility will be a multi-purpose building, something that will be a tremendous boost to our football, men's and women's track, men's and women's golf, gymnastics, baseball and other programs."

Bill Curry, UK Football Coach:

'The indoor practice facility is extremely valuable to us from three perspectives — 1) togetherness of our athletics programs, 2) performance, and 3) recruiting. In recruiting, what this facility says to all prospective student-athletes is that Kentucky intends on winning in football also. We have a $7 million commitment in that direction. The unique thing about a facility such as this one is the ability to do everything indoors we could do outdoors."

E.J. Nutter Training Facility

ne of the nation's showcase football facilities rests on the southeast corner of the University of Kentucky campus.

Indeed, the ultra-modern E.J. Nutter Football Training Facility ranks among the best in the nation. Built at a cost of $5.7 million, the facility officially became the home of Kentucky Wildcat football in September 1987.

The Nutter Center, as it is called on the UK campus, encompasses more than 48,000 square feet and is built adjacent to the Shively Sports Complex. It is located on Sports Center Drive, just a rock's throw away from Commonwealth Stadium.

"I have not seen everyone's new facilities, but the Nutter Center is the finest that I have seen," UK coach Bill Curry said. "It is the best planned and the most spacious facility I know of. Combined with our spacious practice area, the Nutter Center gives us the most beautiful football complex that I have ever been associated with.'

The new Wildcat facility is named after Ervin J. Nutter, a UK alumnus who contributed $1 million to get the fund-raising campaign started for the construction to begin. The Nutter gift to the UK Athletics Association is the largest single grant ever received by the Association.

"The University has been a great inspiration (to me)," Nutter said. "I don't feel as if I've given anything away. I'm just paying what the University has done for me.'

Now, just three years after the facility was completed, it is beginning to repay dividends to the Kentucky football program, especially in recruiting.

Aside from new dressing facilities, which feature large, personal lockers for every Kentucky football player, the Nutter Center is highlighted by a 9,000-square foot weight room with over 100,000 pounds of equipment. The center also houses 11 meeting rooms, a state-of-theart video and editing room for coaches' film, equipment and training rooms, staff and player lounges, an interview area, a 60-yard sprint track, sauna and jacuzzi, an aerobic exercise room and three racquetball courts. A touch of Kentucky football tradition and history is on display in the fover area.

The memorabilia case holds UK trophies from the Great Lakes, Sugar, Cotton, Peach and Hall of Fame Bowls, as well as the 1950 and 1976 SEC championship trophies.

This is a facility built with the players in mind," said former UK art training facility.

The Nutter

Center is a

coach Jerry Claiborne, who helped spearhead the financial drive to make the Nutter Center possible. "It does not have coaches' offices like other facilities. Instead, we had the student-athlete in mind in the design and planning and that's how we wanted it to be."

Curry plans to make no changes. "It is a privilege to get to work in a facility such as this every day," the second-year coach said. "The planning and design with the studentathletes at heart is what we're about today.

"Jerry Claiborne's most important accomplishments during his eight years at Kentucky were in the human arena. But his picture, which hangs in the Nutter Center, is a reminder to us just how much he loved this University. For Jerry and Mr. Nutter and the other contributers who helped make this facility possible, they have left a legacy that will surely be exciting to build on."

Center For Academic And Tutorial Services

he University of Kentucky keeps the term "studentathlete" in the proper perspective - student first, athlete second.

For that reason, the University of Kentucky

Athletics Association opened the nation's first academic center for student-athletes in 1981. The academic center is simply known as CATS — Center for Academic & Tutorial Services.

CATS is located inside Memorial Coliseum. The center, designed with the student-athlete in mind, contains a large general study area, along with several smaller rooms used for tutoring.

CATS expanded during the past academic year and added a language library, additional tutoring rooms, a media center and a new computer facility.

"Our CATS is one of the best academic services in the land and that's based on results," UK coach Bill Curry said. "For Kentucky to be up there with Duke and Virginia and Notre Dame is a real tribute to first, the student-athletes, but also to our academic support staff headed by Bob Bradley.'

Kentucky is in league with the aforementioned schools in winning the College Football Association Academic Achievement Award, given for the CFA school whose program has achieved the highest graduation rate in the nation. Kentucky won the honor in 1989 after graduating 90 percent of its 1983 freshman class. Kentucky is the only other school to have won the award outside of the trio.

"We get more response from parents who visit us on the CATS program than any other part of our program," Curry said. "Parents are really excited about it."

Curry is also excited about the combined effort former UK coach Jerry Claiborne and his staff put forth during their tenure. Since 1982, Kentucky has placed 81 players on the All-Southeastern Conference Honor Roll — more than any league school in that period. In 1989, the Wildcats set a conference record with 17 players named to the SEC Honor Roll. And during the 1991 spring semester, UK football placed 24 players on the Athletics Director's Honor Roll on campus.

"With winning the CFA award and employs six graduate assistants and numerous tutors, both from the University and surrounding community. Currently, the UKAA budgets close to $500,000 per year for CATS.

"We are extremely proud of what we have accomplished in the academic arena," Bradley said. "The CATS program is focused on winning in the classroom. We look at each student-athlete's individual needs, set goals and develop strategies to attain those goals. Our center (CATS) provides our student-athletes with a definite advantage over student-athletes at many other institutions."

Bradley also says it helps to have head coaches like Claiborne and Curry that place such a strong emphasis on academics.

"Many support systems across the nation do an excellent job at helping their studentathletes," Bradley said. "I have been blessed at Kentucky in having Jerry Claiborne. He really believed in the student-athlete concept. The same holds true for Bill Curry. We are in total sync in the business of educating our student-athletes."

The philosophy at the University of Kentucky is this: Colleges should be able to afford the student-athlete every opportunity to succeed not only in athletics, but in academics as well. Looking at recent statistics in Academic Honor Roll selections and graduation rates, Kentucky is standing by its philosophy.

"We will continue to support our academic staff to the hilt," Curry said. "We're very excited about the work Bob Bradley and his staff have done. We will not accept anything less from our players. We talk about championship performance, we expect championship in academics, too."

leading the SEC in Honor Roll picks, it certainly let everyone know we were serious, and still are serious, about making sure our athletes receive their degree," Claiborne said. "A lot of the credit goes to our CATS Center staff. They do an excellent job in monitoring our student-athletes' academic progress from day one."

Bob Bradley, Assistant Athletics Director for Academics, supervises the CATS program. Bradley is assisted by Barbara Deniston, Director of Student-Athlete Development, her assistant, Sheila Breeding, and two Academic Counselors, Mike Jenkins and Mike Haley. CATS also

Football Traditions

Blue and White

he University of Kentucky adopted blue and white as its official colors in 1892. UK students had first decided on blue and light yellow before the Kentucky-Centre football game Dec. 19, 1891. The yellow was soon dropped from the combination and replaced by white.

The particular Kentucky shade of blue, close to royal blue, was determined without ceremony. After settling on the base colors, a student posed the logical question, "What color blue?" Letterman Richard Stoll looked down at his necktie and raised it to the air. The vote was unanimous.

And so Kentucky Blue is really Stoll necktie blue.

Nickname

The official nickname of University of Kentucky athletic teams is "Wildcats."

The name became synonymous with

UK shortly after a 6-2 victory over Illinois on October 9, 1909. Commandant Carbusier, then head of the military department of old State University, told a group of students in a chapel service following the game that the Kentucky football team had "fought like wildcats.'

The moniker "Wildcats" became increasingly popular among UK followers and the media. The University has since adopted it as its official nickname.

Wildcat Mascot

The Wildcat mascot originated during the 1976-77 academic year at the University of Kentucky. Gary Tanner was the first Wildcat to dance and entertain crowds at Commonwealth Stadium and Rupp Arena during athletic events. Today the Wildcat mascot also attends academic functions and serves as a friendly ambassador for the University.

In the early 1980s, Wildcat mascot Terry Barney began the tradition of doing a one-armed pushup for each of Kentucky's points in front of the student section after every Wildcat score.

Battle for the Beer Barrel

The Beer Barrel, painted blue, orange and white, is the prize awarded each year to the winner of the Kentucky-Tennessee football game. The first barrel was awarded in 1925. Two Wildcat supporters, Guy Hugelet and Rollie M. Guthrie, wanted to produce something to symbolize the fierce rivalry between the two schools.

A whiskey barrel was to be the original trophy, until the Women's Christian Temperance Union ruled it out. A beer barrel was more acceptable to the ladies.

But there was still the problem of Prohibition and the Anti-saloon League, which voiced displeasure at such a trophy. But the resourceful Hugelet and Guthrie appeased all parties by painting "Ice Water" on the barrel. Kentucky has won the barrel 23 times in the 86-game series.

The battle fo

The Bourbon Barrel is awarded to the winner of the Kentucky-Indiana football game. The series, which was renewed in 1967 after a 40-year break, began in 1893. No one is certain of the origin of this unusual trophy. Some think the blueand red-striped barrel represents the distillery industry in Kentucky and southern Indiana. Indiana leads the series, 13-7-1, but Kentucky has won four of the last six outings. Both schools have signed a contract to meet each year through 2000.

Since its arrival at Elk Run Coal Company's Castle Mine, the 2810L Continuous Miner has been an outstanding performer.

"The L Miner is the most dependable and productive low vein miner I've ever been around," stated Doug Cox, Maintenance Foreman.

"The miner loading rate is very comparable to our four larger EIMCO 2810s," mentioned Eddie Lester, Mine Super-

"The Castle Mine has a wide variation in seam height with a lot of 40" coal. During the last month we have been into extreme conditions as the 2810L is now mining rock 42 inches thick within a 60 inch seam height.

"Another great feature of the "L" is that it also has the weight and horsepower to set solid when cutting rock. When shearing down in these conditions the miner has no bounce at all. I've also never seen a small miner sump so well.

"The scrubber ductwork passing through the conveyor rather than over the top is a sweet deal that allows maximum loading rates without any type of restriction," continued Lester.

> "Even though our 2810L is a pure radio machine without an onboard operator deck, reliability has been greater than 96%," stated Doug Cox.
> "And to top it off, EIMCO Parts Availability and Service has been excellent," said Lester.

We are sure that after seeing the performance of the 2810L you will agree with Eddie Lester, "This machine is a real horse." EIMCO and Elk Run Coal Company

One World One Olympic Games Fax Network

In the spirit of human accomplishment that embodies the Olympic Games, Ricoh has created the first Olympic Games fax network to link all the National Olympic Committees from around the world.

This same spirit has driven Ricoh to build the world's most popular line of fax machines. From our PF-1 portable fax, which is in the Guinness Book of Records* as the world's smallest portable fax machine, to our broad line of plain paper fax machines.

Ricoh offers our best wishes to all the Olympic athletes as they strive for success in 1992. To spur your company's success, call 1-800-63-RICOH ext. 1308 and put the fax machines used by more people around the world on your team.

Where the downtown skyscrapers overlook thousands of acres of lush pastures, home to Kentucky's most famous resident — the horse.

This is Lexington, home of the University of Kentucky.

Lexington is one beauty of a city. John O. Simonds, a nationally-known landscape architect and the author of several books on land use, calls the Bluegrass region a "national treasure. The Bluegrass area is superlative countryside.'

Lexington is the heart of the Bluegrass, the metropolitan shopping, commercial and entertainment hub of east-central Kentucky.

The city has all the attractive qualities of a major metropolitan area, but it is small...and there is an overlay of what can be described as Bluegrass tradition to go along with such major companies as Clark, Ashland Oil (Valvoline), Jerrico, Island Creek Coal, Toyota and many other nationally known firms that have major plants or headquarters in the area.

With a population of around 225,000, Lexington is small enough to provide the perfect college atmosphere for the University of Kentucky. But it is also large enough to offer the cultural opportunities usually reserved for larger cities.

The city offers UK students much in the way of entertainment: a Philharmonic Orchestra, Chamber Music Society, the Lexington Singers, a Council of the Arts and a local ballet company. Movie theaters, international restaurants, coffee houses, topranked acts of all types at palatial Rupp Arena in the Lexington Center, historic landmarks, parks, thoroughbred and harness racing, fine fishing in lakes, ponds and streams, and the internationally famous Kentucky Horse Park — all in close proximity to the UK campus - are just a few of the attractions of Lexington and the University of Kentucky.

A recent statewide poll indicated that the Lexington area is the most popular place to live, work and play in Kentucky, and it's an area most residents would not seriously consider leaving.
