

Kittens Play Today; Cats Scrap Tomorrow

By Don B. Towles

The University of Kentucky freshman football team will meet the University of Cincinnati freshman squad this afternoon at 2 o'clock on Stoll field.

All University students will be admitted on tickets from their student ticket book. Admission for others will be $1.00.

The Kentucky frock met the Annapolis Fliebes at Annapolis on Oct. 4 and promptly sank the Navy by a score of 51-0. This is the only game they have played this year but many of the freshmen showed up well in this first encounter.

Bill Leskovar and John Chumley showed up especially well in the battle with the Fliebes. Both these boys have seen action with the varsity since the Navy game, but are expected to play against the Cincy squad this afternoon.

Cincinnati's freshman team is expected to prove a strong opponent for the Kittens.

Athletic Director Bernie Shively urged that all students go to the game and help support the freshman team.

Said Mr. Shively, "We want to have a big student turnout."

Jim Howe, shifty halfback, who in 1944 before he departed for the West Virginia for a touchdown. While playing for Highlands, Jim scored five touchdowns in three games in his freshman year at UK.

The Kentucky Wildcats will be heavily favored Saturday when they clash with the three-defeated Evansville eleven on Stoll field at 2 p.m. The Purple Aces from the Hoosier State will probably prove to be the first real "breather" that the Cats have played this season.

The big question of the contest is "How many points will Coach Bryant allow the foot-footed fellows to score, weather permitting?" The Evansville Aces, in six games this season, have tallied only a total of 24 points against their opponents, while 62 points have been scored through their defense.

Evansville's record to date is: a 0-0 tie with Western Kentucky in the opening game; then they defeated Southern Illinois, 7-0; lost to Louisville, 20-7; lost to Marshall College, 24-0; lost to Murray State, 18-7; and defeated Morris Harvey, 12-0, two weeks ago. Last week, the Aces had an open date in order to rest up for the Wildcat fracas.

Phelps, Hensley Injured
For Kentucky, the starting lineup lineup is uncertain. Dopey Phelps, with a shoulder injury, and Dick Hensley, who hurt his ankle against West Virginia, will probably see little, if any, action tomorrow due to their injuries.

Bill Boller or Shorty Jamerson will replace Phelps at left halfback. Big George Elandia will do the signal calling, while Lee Truman or Bill Moseley will start at fullback. At the right halfback slot, either "Bob" Parris or Jim Howe will probably get the opening assignment.

If everything goes according to Hoyle, many of the Kentucky reserves may get an opportunity to show their wares before the home crowd. Several promising freshmen backs, such as Bill Leskovar, John Chumley, Odeen Thomas and Harold Woodfill, are anxious to break into the lineup and carry the pigskin for the Cats.

Just how much action the UK reserves will see depends largely on how the starting eleven functions against the Hoosiers. The wily Wildcats will be seeking win No. 7 of the season and their third conquest on Stoll field.

Evansville, coached by Don Ping, lost only one skirmish last year, but this season the Aces have been somewhat of a disappointment to Indians. They will enter the game with two wins, three losses, and one tie for the 1947 campaign.

Senior Ping, who began his coaching career at Carrollton, Ky., in 1922, compiled an outstanding record while tutoring football at Evansville Memorial High for 15 years, from 1929 and 1945, his high school gridiron took 112 games in 149 starts, including 41 straight contests during one stretch. In his lengthy coaching career, Ping's team has never lost more than three games in any one season; however, he will have to be a "Houdini" to avoid breaking this record in 1947, for Evansville has suffered defeat three times so far this year, with two games left after the Kentucky contest.

Walter "Dutch" Bailey, a 23-year-old fullback who weighs 180 pounds, is expected to lead whatever attack the Purple Aces may have. Halfback Forrest Page and Fullback Frank Endress will also attempt to scab pass the UK defense. In the line, Center Don Crouch, Guards Bob Gerhardt and 196-pound Bill Hicks, plus Bill Kusler, a 225-pound tackle, have been best in the Aces' forward wall thus far this season.

Big Team
Every member of the visitors hall from Indiana, with the exception of five gridironers from Illinois. As far as size, the Evansville eleven might even outweigh the Wildcats. Freshman tackle, Frank Lutz, tips the scales at 245 pounds, while Gene Adair and John Heldt, also tackle, each weigh a mere 240. Heldt, a 27-year-old junior, who stands six-foot, five-inches in his holeproofs, is the tallest on the squad.

Alpha Gams Win Bowling Tourney

Alpha Gamma Delta won the sorority bowling tournament with a total score of 1827 for 15 lines. Each team was composed of four girls, and each girl rolled four games.

Independent bowling starts next week. All non-sorority girls are eligible and will be placed on teams. Entrance fee is one dollar including the bowling fee. Games will be bowled at the Colonial Bowling alleys.

Girls interested in this tournament should submit name and phone numbers to Miss Marjorie Murray at the women's gym before 5 p.m. Monday. A trophy will be awarded to the winning team.

Other sorority bowling scores were as follows: Kappa Kappa Gamma, 1797; Alpha Delta Pi, 1791; Kappa Delta, 1772; Delta Delta Delta, 1763; Delta Zeta, 1717; Alpha Xi Delta, 1710; Chi Omega, 1548; Tau Alpha Pi, 1415; Zeta Tau Alpha, 1351; and Kappa Alpha Theta, 1240.

Six sororities entered two teams in the second league and the results were as follows: Kappa Kappa Gamma, 1720; Delta Zeta, 1613; Delta Delta Delta, 1555; Kappa Delta, 1512; Chi Omega, 1296; and Alpha Delta Pi, 1267.

Highest individual bowler was the Kappas' Missy Van Meter with 180. Other high scores were by Miss Burke, ADPi, with 173, and Babe Hankinson, Alpha Chi, 177.

Volleyball Takes Over Intramural Spotlight

By Allen Terhune
It's just like the flying Dutchman said, one thing comes right after another, and since the intramural football lay dormant in silence last week, volleyball is on the docket for the next couple of weeks, according to Bill McCubbin, intramural director.

Sixteen teams have entered the tournament representing two independent groups and 14 fraternities. These teams have been divided into two divisions of eight squads each and every team will play every other team in its respective section twice. All games will be played in alumni gymnasium at night with the two courts being utilized by four teams. Two officials will be scheduled for each of the competing pairs, the first of which is slated to get underway at 8 o'clock. Then at 9 o'clock the courts are to be turned over to four different teams and they in turn will play two games each.

After the round-robin play is completed, the four top teams in each division will enter the elimination tourney which will decide the trophy winner.

Tennis And Golf
Tennis and golf competition has been held up during the last two weeks because of adverse weather. For this reason the deadlines have been changed, the intramural office announces, and any questions which arise from the spectators may be answered through that office.

Golf doubles have advanced to the quarter finals and the singles are up to the fifth round.

In the tennis meet the singles are in the fifth round and the doubles have played to the third.

Records came toppling down in the intramural office when all ping pong entries had been counted. It was found that 118 men had signed up for the singles and that 46 couples have entered the doubles.

It was said that tables have been set up in the basement of alumni gym and that equipment may be checked out from the men's physical education office.

The following ping pong deadlines were posted:
Singles: First Round—Nov. 21, Second Round—Dec. 2, Third Round—Dec. 5, Fourth Round—Dec. 9, Fifth Round—Dec. 12, Semi-finals—Dec. 12, Finals—Dec. 14.
Doubles: First Round—Nov. 28, Second Round—Dec. 5, Third Round—Dec. 9, Fourth Round—Dec. 12, Finals—Dec. 12.

Kentucky Cagers Perform For Clinic

By Kent Hollingsworth
Monday afternoon, Coach Rupp took five of his basketballers with him up to Springfield, Ohio, where the largest gathering of officials and coaches in the country, 550, met at the Coaches clinic held at Wittenberg college.

Coach Rupp was asked to bring along some players from his famous Wildcat team to demonstrate the fundamentals of basketball and run through some basic Kentucky plays.

The players that didn't have one clock classes and were able to go were Dale Barnstable, who has played brilliant ball in practice this year, Al-SEC Joe Holland, and All-Americans Alex Ogan, Jack Parkinson, and Ralph Beard.

Assistant Coach Harry Lancaster supervised practice Monday during Coach Rupp's absence.

Wallace "Wah Wah" Jones came out and watched practice this week. His ankle bothered him a little still, but he practiced on his long shots for a while and proved he still had his shooting eye. Trainer Bud Burger said Jones' ankle would hold up satisfactorily with tape and the All-Conference end would be able to resume football practice next week.

Garland Townes, the only boy that Coach Rupp retained from last year's "B" team, has played outstanding ball in the week's scrimmage sessions. He drives in to the basket hard, and hits well from far out; he's due to play a lot of basketball for the Wildcats.

Alex Groza is a tower of strength at the pivot position, and right now is the only center who handles the ball sure on the fast-moving plays around the foul circle.

Jim Line is hitting with his left hand as effectively as he did last year, and has also proved he can use his right hand too.

Ralph Beard is hitting his shots from all over the court and seemingly never tires.

The ball handling as a whole has been the usual early season sloppiness which will gradually be lost as the long practice sessions continue.

The open date on Nov. 29 has been filled and Indiana Central will meet Kentucky in Alumni gym inaugurating the Wildcat 47-48 basketball season.

Five epidemic shots were ordered for the Wildcats, and Tuesday the entire team, Coach Rupp, and team manager Humsey Yessin matched over to the infirmary to get them.

Wash Serini, 315 pound senior from Tachahoe, New York, has been a strong pillar at the tackle post in the Wildcat line since he first entered UK in 1944. He has participated in every Kentucky game plus two Blue-Gray games, and this year the big tackle will play in the Great Lakes Bowl. By the time Wash graduates—bearing any injury—he will have represented Kentucky in 45 grid contests.

UK Track Men Still Needed

An SEC track championship for UK looked brightly on the horizon today. Chiefly through the early season efforts of Coach Don Cash Seaton, the man who directed the University of Illinois to three track and cross-country championships in four years, and who is now the track mentor at UK.

Coach Seaton, also head of the Physical Education department at UK, issued another call to anyone interested in track, stating that he needs at least 25 more distance runners, a dozen hurdlers, an equal number of weight men, pole vaulters and jumpers, and an unlimited number of sprinters. Seaton is interested in converting several high school sprinters into hurdlers. He said that a lot of hard work is the only thing necessary to make a successful hurdler out of a sprinter.

Among the 31 men who have signed up for track with Coach Seaton are numerous freshmen, several of whom established track and field records while in high school. Two of these, Mickey Bevan and Guy Weeks, set conference and regional records in the shot and hurdles last spring, while attending Lexington's Henry Clay high school.

Wildcats Beat Mountaineers 15-6

Kentucky's hard to tame Wildcats stalked into the heart of the West Virginia hills to subdue a band of tough Mountaineers, that were gunning for a Kentucky Wildcat skin to keep them comfortable during the long winter that was just beginning.

A record crowd of 26,500 persons, many with their squirrel rifles, oom skin hats, and jugs, turned out on a cold afternoon to watch the Mountaineers fight the Wildcats on a rain-drenched field. And when the final shot was fired it was the favored Wildcats—though hampered greatly by the mud and water—that were ahead 15-6.

The Mountaineers started hard and marked up four first downs before the Cats could dig their claws into the mud and stop the advance. Then the Cats began to strike and swipe at the West Virginians and after the second period they managed to lunge over to two touchdowns. Later, in the third quarter, they added a safety on a blocked punt to make their 13 points before they let West Virginia slip and slide over for six points.

However, all was not good for Kentucky as the Mountaineers' attack wounded two of the Wildcats, Paul Bryant, most dangerous "Dopey" Phelps, most dangerous of the Wildcats in the backfield, received a shoulder injury that will render him unavailable until the Tennessee tilt. Dick Hensley, a native West Virginian, who turned in a good game at his left end position, received a badly twisted ankle in the feud.

It was Hensley who recovered a Mountaineer fumble on the West Virginia 26 to set up the first marker. Bill Mosley cut through the left side of the line to the 15 before he was pulled down, after making UK's first first down. The first quarter ended, and to start the second frame Phelps bulldozed off the big Mountaineers line for no gain. Then George Blanda tossed one to Charley Brechtow for the score and then added the extra point from placement. His first attempt was good, but Kentucky was offside, and it was necessary for him to kick it again.

Shortly after this was when the Danville dasher was injured and removed to a hospital for X-rays of his shoulder. However, Kentucky snatched by the brilliant line play of Wash Serini, Jay Rhodemyre, and Bob Gain and the running of Jim Howe and Bill Mosley, along with the kicking of Blanda went on to score another TD and win without the quick stepping halfback.

Later in the second period, Bill Bolter in the game for Phelps, leaped into the air to snag a West Virginia pass on the Kentucky 43. From that point, Howe studied big crowd with a star as he outran and outmaneuvered the Mountaineers with the aid of some nice down field blocking and stepped off the remaining 57 yards in nothing flat. This time Blanda's kick went wide, and the Cats led 13-0.

The Kentuckians' final two points came early in the second half when big old Wash, who many of his faithful followers said played the best game of his career, plowed through the opponent's line to step in front of Russ Combs and block his punt. The ball bounced clear out of the end zone for a safety.

West Virginia played some good ball for a few minutes in the final quarter and gambling twice on Walt Malyk's 215 pounds plus to buck for first downs marched 48 yards to pay dirt. Malyk's huge frame was too much for the Wildcats to stop on the wet turf under three or four yards, and after a series of plays featuring his plunges into the line the big fullback fell through the forward wall from the three for the score. The extra point attempt was blocked, and the Cats held the Mountaineers at bay to win 15-6.

Sadie Hawkins Weekend Brings Prizes To Many

By Jeanne Vance

"Cigarettes, whiskey, and wild wild weem—they'll drive you crazy, they'll drive you insane," roared enthusiastically by Bob Young and Joe Pat Knight, Kappa Sigma from Paducah, won first prize in the male division of the Benfro Valley show Friday night. Their prize, for introducing the show song as a campus favorite, was a lamp from the L. L. Roberts Furniture Store.

The "Jewell Hall" "Jewels" won the only prize given in the girl's division. Margaret Winough, Peggy Reynolds, and Vivian Coleman, received a gilt edge mirror from Wheelers Furniture Company, for their successful imitation of Jo Stafford's "Temptation." Margaret "Winnie" Winough not only sang but doubled as a one-woman orchestra. The girls presented the mirror to Jewell Hall Tuesday night in a ceremonial "haunting of the mirror."

Second Prize

Jim Mac Strother, Dick Timman, Charles Devitt, Charles Shown, Al Jepson, Frank Mathias, Tom Montgomery, and Les Sallee, Phi Sigma, won second prize, a bronze smelter from Purcell, with "Most Precious Jewel" and "Greenback Bunch."

Third prize, a card table, was given to Sigma Chi's Ray Turley, Jim Moore, Norm Newman, and Charley Tacket for their portrayal of an old favorite "Little Nell."

Schlachter Postpones High Altitude Flight For Another Month

Mechanical difficulties with a specially supercharged engine and unfavorable weather conditions at high altitudes over local airports will cause postponement "for another month at least" of an attempt by Raymond Schlachter, Journalism student, to break the world's altitude record for light planes.

Schlachter, a former Army Air Force pilot, who early last month announced his intention to try for a new record within six weeks, reported he has had to return cylinder heads of his "souped-up" V-8 automobile engine to California for adjustment. The engine, with special supercharger and magnetos, is designed to develop 15 horsepower and will be mounted in place of the plane's regular engine.

The weather has not been "just right," he said, in areas up to the height of 20,000 feet, which is the announced goal of the attempt to

Martin Addresses Southern Economic Meeting In Atlanta

A probability that the federal government may decide against further increases or even reduce its monetary aid to state and local governments for education and other "so-called state functions" was voiced Saturday by James W. Martin, director of the University Bureau of Business Research, in an address before the Southern Economic Association in Atlanta.

Analyzing the effect of the war period on state and local taxation in the southeastern states, Prof. Martin declared that examination of tax structures may prove doubly important "if, as now seems probable, the federal government, not only declines to assume added financial responsibilities for education, conservation and other so-called state functions, but also actually reduces its contributions of past years."

Declining Tax Yields

The most significant result of the war for southeastern state revenues is a demoralized tax administration, which has led to declining tax yields, he explained. Inadequate assessment personnel methods and the "practically null" assessor pay are producing a critical revenue problem for local governments throughout the southeastern states, he said.

Tracing the trends of the ratio between sales and price and income changes, Prof. Martin pointed out that, "since the war, there has been a 10 per cent increase in state and local dollar revenues in the southeastern states as a group. However, . . . it appears that tax revenues increase at too slow a rate to keep up with the development of the inflationary spiral."

A reduction in productivity, due in part to abandonment of southern military establishments and the elimination or reduction of output in certain types of war plants, was credited by the Kentucky economist as responsible, along with the demoralized tax administration, for failure of tax receipts to keep pace with purchasing power.

ROT-Cadet Corps Is Rated 'Excellent'

The University ROTC cadet corps of 117 men has been rated "excellent" as a result of the first of three annual inspections by higher Army headquarters, Col. G. T. MacKenzie, military department commandant, announced.

Other inspections of University military units are scheduled in December and May.

Moonlight Reveals Interesting Phenomena On Dorm Porch

By Gil Mark

They say the dorms are overcrowded but we don't care. We've got two windows overlooking Fall Hall porch.

On a clear night you can see—well most anything. When the moon is high and the air is so, take it easy. Remember we're watching.

Thought you'd sit on the bench and talk about the moon and the moon, did you? We saw your arm slip creep across her shoulder. What was that she whispered about the weather being pretty warm for November? So she didn't see the lights flicker. So the watch was slow and you weren't. So she's cramped next week—Love will find a way—or a fire-escape.

Dates Champ High-Jumper

Don't worry. Due to our high morals and the cost of printing, we won't blackmail you. We won't tell Alice your Tuesday night technique worked equally well with Janet Wednesday night. We'll shut up about the time you thought you'd completely dark-cornered a defenseless coed and then she leaped over the banister. Poor Laureolat, you've got what it takes but nobody wants it.

You with the long convertible and the short memory, show arm. You can't be ready in love with three glamorous cuties at once. Have you forgotten Portia? Portia, who promised to take you away from psychology and settle down in a vine-covered cottage.

Sometimes we think we'll never see

Until they cut down every tree. Forestry majors come out of the woods. You make a most interesting silhouette until those branches get in the way. Yes, even squirrels can be fun when you're out with a nature lover.

Warning

Get on the beam, country boy. A neck is out-dated unless its first name is Gregory. Watch those porch lights. They attract insects, moths and house-mothers.

Due to conditions and window shades beyond control and parked cars beyond our 20-120 vision, this account may not be completely detailed. For further information visit your nearest library or botanical garden. And helpless females between the ages of 18 and 32 advise:

If he moves much closer Than he really oughter Remember he's a country boy But you're no farmer's daughter If he wants to know How much beer you can guzzle If he wants to neck Without his missile Baby lead him on Get him under his spell And when the lights flicker You can run like—the dickens.

Married Veterans Eligible To Rent Colored Pictures

A student art club service to married veterans began last week in the form of rental, at low rates, of the art department collection of color reproductions and lithographs. All the pictures offered are by American artists and include such well known painters as George Bellows, John Sloan, and Edward Hopper.

Leo Zimmerman, president of the art club, stated that the prints are available only to residents of Cooperstown and Shawneetown. All pictures are framed and gilded and can be rented by depositing one dollar. The rental fee of ten cents per month may be taken from the deposit.

The pictures are on display during November in the art department gallery where veterans may come and select their favorite for use in their homes. After selection has been made students may apply to the secretary in the department office for the release of the print.

Rental is limited to married veterans because of the small size of the collection, which numbers about 50 pictures, Zimmerman said.

SGA Meeting

A permanent exchange of ideas with other college governing bodies and education for better citizenship were mentioned by Stephenson as benefits to be derived from affiliation. He also pointed out that the University of Louisville SGA recently joined NSA, and that the president of NSA is a student at Berea College.

Howard Bowles, siding with Sprovel on most points, emphasized that college students are not properly trained to prevent the infiltration of skilled Communists into a student governing group. He urged that SGA expend its time and energy on its own campus rather than take on problems a national and international nature.

Boggs Gives Rebuttal

At this point in the meeting Charles Boggs, delegate to Europe last summer, rose in rebuttal to Sprovel's speech, emphatically declaring his "pro-union" position. In a short, passionate harangue, he "sightedly" defended NSA and branded Sprovel's respect as "pro-union."

Then Milton Kargolis, independent representative-at-large of the graduate school, through a question-and-answer session with Boggs, explained his view that affiliation with NSA was impractical and that SGA should concentrate on local affairs.

Miss Bryant, at the suggestion of Mary Keith Decker, Constitutionalist arts and sciences woman-at-large, called the meeting back to order, and Jerry Eastham, Independent arts and sciences lowerclassman, offered some practical benefits in NSA, reiterating Stephenson's arguments.

New Members Elected

Before Sprovel's report was presented, the assembly voted to install polls in each college for the election Tuesday and four new members, elected last week by the assembly, were sworn in. They are Jim Welch, George Press, Carlisle Meyer, and Richard Gillespie.

Result of the remaining two hours of the session: Adjournment so that members could go home, and study—and rest up for next meeting.

How Long!

Taken From The Country Gentleman, March, 1931
MY THIS years clothes were last year's clothes.

And while I still was dreaming Of high things—Dance fashion rose And fell into wicked seamings, She took me in, she let me out In reckless figure eighting.

And here I stand all gored and bored and simply palpitating In grim and unaccustomed gear And gauds and fronds of yesterday; I'm curbed, disturbed, and cautious Where I used to switch the plots In gay abandon up the lanes And down the city streets.

I've belted in and breathless where I live and full of doubt; They've scrubbed my knees in draperies and let my elbows out. I praise be! there still are riding clothes and bathing suits and shorts.

And one can spend half a day at least at different sports! It's hard for five feet ninety pounds To be a sweating willow. I never craved to swing these corsets, That swish and swirl and billow. I like 'em loose and light and short With freedom for a squeeze. Oh, take my elbow! Take my waist! But give me back my knees!

Letters To The Editor

We Object!

This is an inquiry to determine just what happened to a story which was to have appeared in the Nov. 7 issue of the Kernel. I am turning in another story in the same effect for this issue, so there is no need of repeating that story here. It did appear in meetings of the Association of Independent Students, and the attendance at one of them of Bill Welsh, National President of the National Students Association. It also concerned the AIS approval of that organization's policies and their recommendation that the SGA affiliate with that organization.

The story was originally written Monday, Nov. 3. Additions were made the following Wednesday. The story as written on Monday did not appear at all. The story of Wednesday night appeared, reporting the selection of AIS candidates for SGA membership with the same story of the grebs' selection of candidates, which was not the exclusive publicity sought.

There were 13 articles devoted exclusively to greek-orientation activities, none of which appeared on the front sheet of the issue. The story of the selection of one of their members as president of the constitutionalist clique appeared on page one. This, and many other accounts of pledges received or accepted, dances held, and printed in the exclusion of the AIS copy. At first glance this seems unfair, and I am sure that even Kernel editors will admit.

I do not want to appear radical or unjustly critical of the Kernel, since I understand that there is a policy of non-partisanship and that many of the Kernel's staff are AIS members. It does seem that an error has been made, and perhaps there may be an explanation. The Kernel serves a worthy purpose on this campus and should be available to all who conform to its necessary rules as to subject matter and time of its submission.

It is my sincere hope that in the future such will not again occur, and I assure that any fault which may be with me will be eliminated in the future. In return, I ask that the Kernel, for the benefit of all students, print news of significance to the exclusion, when possible, of mere social notices.

RAYMOND R. MURPHY

Reassertion

The Kernel of Nov. 7 asked me to write a story that was turned in to the editor for entry by the Independent party. The Kernel included here in order to present the case more clearly.

The Association of Independent Students held a meeting on Oct. 30 at which William Welsh, president of the National Students Association, explained the functioning of that organization. He was speaking between planes which were carrying him to Washington, D.C., where he was to consult with Senator Fulbright concerning American student welfare. The Independents at a subsequent meeting of the following week voted on a resolution favoring U. of K.'s affiliation with that organization. This was the first positive action taken by the group on this vital subject. Candidates were named to run for seats in SGA in the coming election.

What happened to this story? Here is the history as far as it can be traced: (1) It was given to the reporter assigned to the AIS. (2) He gave it to the editor. (3) The editor gave it to a member of the Sig-Eps. There the trail was lost. The editor stated that the editor gave him orders to place such of the story as did appear in the abbreviated form which it took.

It has been noted that the Kernel is remarkably full of Greek literature, and we don't mean The Iliad. One choice bit of literature regarding the election of a certain Sig-Ep (re-member?) to the president of the Constitutional party. There was also found one tiny article, which traced the first page, giving an almost totally erroneous account of the names of candidates selected by the Independents—mixed in one grand melee with the Constitutionalists' selections.

A protest is in order on the ground that if the State of Kentucky and the administration of the University are going to furnish a newspaper for the Greek social organizations, then one should be furnished for the Independents too.

dents. This doesn't make sense. Also I noted about 10 OJK members and five SGA members made the list. Some of these members were not important persons on campus in the leadership sense. Is this a coincidence or political?

Why should such persons who hold major offices like the Kentuckian editor, managing editor of the Kernel, and president of SJK? Not make the list when some sorority presidents who did not hold any other major offices at the time and non-activity persons are chosen? It doesn't seem quite fair either that persons like the Kernel editor can be chosen two years in succession at the exclusion of another worthy leader on campus.

Another vague issue is how those persons are chosen. Is there a national ruling forbidding the committee names to be divulged? And since the committee is supposed to be persons who are automatically members of Who's Who and not lowerclassmen, would that not make everyone a lowerclassman whose it legal, if he was included on the committee?

It would help if someone would contact the student's student and let him in on a few things, or would this be good politics?

Rumors Are Flying—Will Stoll Be Bow?

Rumors have been flying for a long time as to how and when the stands at Stoll field will be turned into a bowl. When the steel bleachers were erected during the summer it seemed that the bowl idea had been put back in the closet.

According to Bernie A. Shively, the stands were purchased in Richmond, a. at a cost of $74,000. Additional costs of transportation and erection brought the price of these 3000 new seats up to $80,000.

Last year President H. L. Donovan made a trip to Washington to get permission from the War Production Board to extend the present stands so that the North stands would be flush with the sidewalk on Euclid Avenue. The WPB approved the project a few days before the speaker went out of operation.

Since then the football followers and the student body have increased to such an extent that there is some question as to whether there is enough room for a sufficient expansion of seating space around Stoll field.

SOME THINGS YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT AVIATION CADET TRAINING

Here, in question and answer form, are some facts on the U. S. Air Force Aviation Cadet program. They cover details you may have been wondering about—and will be useful to you if you want to learn to fly and begin a career in one of today's fastest-moving fields.

- Who is eligible for appointment to the Cadets? You, if you're physically fit, single, between 20 and 26½ years old, and have completed at least one-half the requirements for a college degree from an accredited institution—or pass an equivalent examination.
- How long does the training last—and what does it cover? You receive approximately 52 weeks' training—worth $35,000—in primary, basic and advanced flying, along with other related courses designed to give you the finest background in your specialty.
- What's the story on duty after graduation? After successful completion of the course, you will be commissioned a Second Lieutenant, Officers Reserve Corps, and assigned to pilot duty with the U. S. Air Force at a starting monthly salary of $336 (including flight pay). You will serve on active duty for three years unless sooner relieved, and be eligible for $500 a year bonus for each year of active duty as a Reserve Officer. If you're interested in a Regular Air Force commission, you'll be given a chance to qualify.
- What are the civilian career opportunities? That's one you can answer for yourself by taking into consideration these facts: Contrary to what some people think, aviation is not overcrowded—for pilots or anyone else. No field is expanding more rapidly or offering more profitable openings to qualified men. After Aviation Cadet training, you can compete on an equal basis with any flier in the world.

These are only a few of the advantages. Why not stop in today at your nearest U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station and get all the details?

Appeal To Reason

The Kernel at last has an opportunity to illustrate to the student body one of its major problems, and the difficulties which pressure groups and other self-interested societies unwittingly force upon it.

On page one of this issue, you will find the story of Independent candidates' accusations of discrimination on the part of the Kernel against that organization. The letters column carries two letters on the subject. They tell you the story.

First, the facts as stated in the letters are NOT ACCURATE. The story in question, which is notarized, has been proved beyond a shadow of a doubt to have been handed to the editor shortly after noon on Thursday (NOT MONDAY), at a time which the inside pages are in the forms ready to go, and the first page is held open for last minute stories ONLY. The editor considered the Independent and Constitutionalist nominations of sufficient importance to hold the page; however, from the standpoint of news value, and to conserve space, both slates were written together.

The act of calling a special reporter by his fraternity affiliation seems to the Kernel a manner of action which is neither mature nor fair. The reporter was assigned to rewrite the story BECAUSE HE IS A COMPETENT JOURNALIST. He did as he was directed by the editor. The Constitutionalist slate was nominated first and, therefore, received first position in listing. Any implication by the letter-writers of prejudice or political jockeying on the part of the reporter is petty and dishonest. Any Independent or Constitutionalist on the staff will uphold this statement, including the news editor, the Independent candidate for upperclassman in the Arts and Sciences college.

The Independent's perennial feeling that the Greeks control the Kernel should be eased by the fact that only two editors of the eight on the staff are sorority or fraternity members.

Close scrutiny of charges in one of the letters that nine stories on the front page were about Greek letter organizations show the serious error of some members of the party. This estimate included any organization which had a Greek letter in its official name. In other words, AN HONORARY AND A SOCIAL FRATERNITY ARE PLACED IN THE SAMM CATEGORY.

Surely the writer cannot be serious who maintains that because Tau Sigma, Phi Beta Kappa, and Gamma Sigma are Greek letter societies, they should not be given front page position when they accept new members. We say it's news! If joining an honorary disqualifies an Independent, there are many students in the vanguard party.

However, this is NOT an isolated case. Every week someone seeks out the Kernel to question it about an excluded story. Granted we err loudly and often. But there is usually a good reason for every placement and editing of copy for any inclusion or exclusion.

The Party, undoubtedly, did not mean to accuse unjustly. The fault the Kernel finds in such action is that it is done without full knowledge of the facts and in blind prejudice rather than with any thought that a logical reason may lie behind treatment of a story.

The problem of deciding value of news and synchronizing it with deadlines, and accurate, steady coverage on a campus this size is obviously a tremendous one. We ask only that you who are casting stones familiarize yourselves with such problems and then CO-OPERATE with our requests. Hand your stories in on time. Have them ACCURATE. Tell the WHOLE story. Measure your respective interests from the standpoint of the newswriter.

If after this, you feel discriminated against, write us a letter and offer us proof. If we have misrepresented or ignored you, we will sincerely try to correct such an error.

Rumor-Mongering

A letter deserving immediate and direct discussion came to the Editor of the Kernel this week from two irate students. They assert that in a recent closed meeting at which outstanding students were selected for an additional honor, a person under consideration was rejected because a fellow student and "friend" maintained that he was a Communist. For further comment, the Kernel quotes, in part, the letter:

"The student in question is not a Communist, of course. He is merely one of the better-known of the first victims of the current campus witch-hunt, lately given impetus by the Red-Resolution of the Student Government Association. This resolution, by the way, seems to have gotten through the governing body with a minimum of discussion and with no recognizable plan as to how students must identify Communists or just what action would be taken by SGA if a Communist were discovered."

"We realize, of course, that the above observations are certain to be construed by some as a defense of Communism. It is not."

"The student accused carefully considered the accusation and decided not to bring slander charges (a perfectly legal procedure under recently enacted laws) against the accusers for branding set forth here: (1) The accusers were obviously laboring under the illusion that branding anybody or anybody they don't like as 'radical' or 'Communist' is very patriotic. It is a very un-American thing because Communists thrive on persecution and enjoy being confined to the U.S. with their hated enemies, namely, people who believe in social change by the maximum application of the democratic process. Perhaps, when the accusers and their ilk grow older, and some degree of reason returns to those who are searching for scapegoats, they will have (pardon the expression) red faces. You understand, like so many Americans had after the indiscriminate smearing orgy following World War I, or like the Puritans had when they finally realized that those they burned at the stake were not, after all, really witches."

"No, a trial would be had right now because, (2) the accused feels that, in this time of political stress and strain, great harm might be done to the University if the issue were taken up in courts and the stupidity and infantilism of the accusers pointed out in no uncertain terms."

"However, as a statement of caution to those who indiscriminately label their fellow-students on UK's campus, this letter needed to be written.

"Mind you, the student accused is not an honorable, does not mind being excluded from the campus elect. He only wonders if the charge were taken seriously, really seriously, by that selection group and why someone didn't ask for evidence or for an investigation before the matter was dropped. The accused assures us that he would have been glad to assure his 'friends' that he is far from communistic. Perhaps the reason that the issue was dropped is: In these troublous and unreasonable times, if you defend one accused of communism or appeal for reason, you are very apt to be called a Red yourself. And, believe us, that is a nasty business."

FRIENDS OF THE ACCUSED

Embodied here is the essence of a problem forever facing society, and in particular, a publication. The bottomless pit of rumors circulate round and round weekly on the University campus. The majority of them, of course, do little harm, but there are some which do.

If true (the facts are not ascertainable because the meeting was a closed one, and information could only have been obtained through a breach of confidence); thus the Kernel cannot confirm or deny this rumor), the charges are serious for two reasons:

1. Rumor-mongering—reporting rumor or opinion as fact—is a dangerous and harmful practice. Such charges should be backed by proof before a statement of such gravity should be made.

2. Even if a student did hold, rightly or wrongly, ideological beliefs differing from the majority on the campus, it should not enter into his or her acceptance into an organization which is based on scholarship and concrete accomplishments as a leader.

We present this to the students as an example of the serious consequences of personal opinion or gossip growing into fact, and being presented as such.

We also observe that if petty name-calling has been resorted to in the first case, the letter as a reply is not without error itself.

The Kernel makes an effort to print facts, to prevent your paper from becoming a rumor-factory. Therefore, because we have no access to the minutes of the mentioned meeting, and such comment, if true, may not have been included anyway, this individual case must rest as it is. The accused student may prove to his fellow students through actions that such a charge, if leveled, is unfounded.

If you as a student body would attempt to be as careful and discriminating in what you gossip about people you know, as a newspaper must be about what it prints, such scares would not begin. Be accurate. Know that you are speaking the whole truth. Be fair in your judgment. Rumor substitutes prejudice for reason. If this keeps up, YOU might be next!

Dames Club Outlines 1947-48 Plans; All Wives Urged To Join

The University Chapter of the National Association of University Dames, an organization to promote social activities of the wives of students attending the University, meets each week. Business sessions are held every other week and interest groups of crafts, bridge, music, sewing, dramatics, swimming, garden and tours meet on alternate weeks.

The crafts group, sponsored by Mrs. Stephen Diachin, meets in the home of one of the members, makes textile paintings, aluminum trays, and Christmas gifts. The bridge and sewing, the two largest groups, meet in the Home Economics building. The bridge group, sponsored by Mrs. Niel Plummer, has tables for both beginners and those who "just want to play bridge."

The programs for 1947-48: Nov. 19—Dr. George Green, an obstetrician, will speak; Nov. 25—Dames Club to be guests of Women's Club; Dec. 3—Anniversary party; Jan. 7—Reading of play, Mrs. Frank Johnson of Guilford Theater; Jan. 21—Gard party honoring husbands; Feb. 4—White elephant sale; Feb. 14—Valentine Dance; Feb. 18—Service group; Mar. 3—Book review, Mrs. Irwin Sanders; Mar. 17—Hat show and children's style show, Transylvania College students wives to be guests.

March 21—Music, Mr. E. D. McIntyre; April 14—Amateur show, women visitors guests; April 28—Musical program; May 12—Skit by dramatic group; May 26—Installation service.

Is This Student Government?

Grown people should be ashamed!

If you have read the story on page one concerning last Tuesday night's Student Government Assembly meeting, you will see what we mean.

Seriously, an important issue was under consideration: whether or not SGA should affiliate with the National Student Assembly, the national student government association.

Two delegates, Stephenson and Crowl, gave directly opposing reports. The meeting descended to a level of amateur politicking, name-calling, cross-examining, and the like. If anyone honestly felt that he knew the facts and had a clear picture of NSA, he was a better man than most of us.

Questions which should be cleared in rational discussion, appear to the Kernel to be: 1. What are the consequences and privileges of affiliation? 2. Of what practical value on the University campus will NSA affiliation be? 3. What is the relationship between NSA and the International Union of Students, professed by the proponents of NSA to a Communist controlled group? 4. What are the objections to affiliation?

This question should not be lightly passed over. It should not be buried in party issue, name-calling, or the like. The Kernel invites the press and cubs to present their principle points in argument on this page next week so that the student body may become acquainted with it and form opinion.

DON'T FORGET THAT EVERY MEMBER OF THE STUDENT BODY IS A MEMBER OF SGA AND MAY ATTEND ANY OF THE SESSIONS.
