Saturday, Nov. 1—Homecoming banquet, followed by a dance given by faculty, in the gym.

Pan-Hellenic Banquet

The ball room of the Lafayette hotel was the scene of the annual banquet of the Woman's Pan-Hellenic Association, Friday night. This was one of the most brilliant and beautiful affairs of the season.

About the walls, arranged in the panels, were the illuminated shields of the eleven sororities. Spanning the Pan-Hellenic table, which was at the south end of the room, was a rainbow in lovely colored ribbons. On the table was a large metal jar, representing the "pot of gold at the end of the rainbow."
The table was decorated with chrysanthemums, arranged on the table, completed the decorative scheme. This was suggestive of the plan in which the toasts were given.
Miss Virginia Kelley, president of the Association, who presided as toastmistress, wore a chiffon gown of rainbow colors. Responses were given by the following girls, who wore chiffon frocks in harmony with the toasts:

Violet, Miss Edna Gordon, Delta Delta Delta; Indigo, Miss Jeanette Ellison, Alpha Xi Delta; Blue, Miss Mattie Ellis Gregory, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Green, Miss Louise Smathers, Zeta Tau Alpha; Yellow, Miss Louise Burks, Chi Omega; Orange, Miss Myrtle Stevens, Omega Rho; Red, Miss Clarice Day, Alpha Delta Delta; White, Miss Helen King, Kappa Delta; Pot of Gold, Miss Edith Minnehan, Sigma Beta Upsilon.
The scholarship cup was won by the Delta Zeta sorority. A delicious menu was served and about 250 guests were present. The Lafayette orchestra furnished the music.

The active members of the Kentucky Epsilon chapter of Phi Delta Theta fraternity entertained Saturday evening with a delightful dance at their chapter house on South Limestone in honor of their pledges. The dance was in the nature of a Bowry party and at one end of the room was fixed a bar from which refreshments were served. Many of the hosts and guests were in comical costume.

Those present were: The active chapter—Messrs. J. William Tanks, William Blanton, William Cecil French, Leonard Giovonani, Robert Giovonani, Clarence Baldwin, Robert Lawless, Richard Jones, William Minter, Stuart Price Hemphill, Leving McCarty, William Richards.
The pledges were LeRoy Miles, J. P. Haselden, Joe Taylor, Elbert Bell, Arch Bennett, William Brock, Waller Jones, Leonard Broecker, J. J. Richardson, William Walcutt, and James Cromwell.
The Sewanee football team were also guests for the dance.

Mrs. Frank L. McVey and Miss Sarah Blanding were joint hostesses Monday night in honor of the deans of women, who held their annual convention here Monday and Tuesday of this week, at the lovely home of Mrs. McVey at Maxwell Place.

At the appointed hour of six, the guests were served with a delicious buffet dinner. Mrs. McVey and Miss Blanding were assisted in serving by Miss Giles, who presided over the coffee urn, Miss Ann Calhan, Miss Berkley and Miss Emma Woerner. After dinner the guests attended the Alda concert at Woodland auditorium.

Z. T. A. Banquet

The Alpha Xi chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha celebrated the anniversary of their founding with a banquet at the Lafayette hotel Saturday at noon. The tables were decorated with chrysanthemums and the places of the guests were indicated by unique bouquets of white violets, the sorority flower, tied with blue and gray ribbons, the sorority colors. During the dinner four toasts were given: "Founding of Zeta Tau Alpha," Mrs. W. E. Davis; "Sponsor of Alpha Chi," Mrs. M. W. Marsh; "Present Chapter," Miss Daisy Taylor; "Future Chapter," Margie Bass.

Sigma Beta Upsilon Tea

Sigma Beta Upsilon, local sorority, entertained Sunday afternoon with a tea at their chapter house, on east Maxwell street, from 4 to 6 in honor of their patronesses. The house was tastefully arrayed in autumn leaves and roses in blending shades. The guests included: Professor Carl Sax, Mrs. Patrick Dunn, Miss Marie Bunnell, Miss Violet Eversole and Mrs. V. M. Starr.

Kappa Kappa Gamma Tea Dance
Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority entertained last Friday afternoon from 3:30 to 6, at Patterson Hall with a tea dance. The hall was decorated in Hallow'en decorations, including pumpkins, fashioned in lanterns, corn stalks and autumn leaves. The music was furnished by the Kentuckians and during the dance caps and horns were distributed to the guests. Those present were the active chapter, the pledges, two representatives from each sorority. Chapter bids were sent to every fraternity. Approximately 250 guests were present.

W. S. G. A. Will Entertain

The Woman's Student Government Association will entertain with a tea Thursday afternoon at Patterson Hall in honor of the delegates here for the Mortar Board convention.

Personals

Mr. Daniel Bowmar of Versailles left Sunday for Miami, Fla., to join the staff of the Miami Herald as news editor. Mr. Bowmar is a former student of the university and was a member of Kappa Alpha Fraternity. Many friends wish him success.

Mr. F. A. C. Thompson, '23, was here for the Kentucky-Sewanee game last Saturday and will prolong his visit until this week-end. Mr. Thompson is connected with the Utilities Company at Fulton.

The Education Club was host to the students of the college of education Thursday afternoon in the auditorium of the University High School. Light refreshments were served and a delightful program was given. About 100 students were present.

GLEE CLUB OFFERS NUMEROUS ENTERTAINMENTS THIS WEEK

An unusually full and interesting program is contemplated for the University of Kentucky Glee Club this week. In addition to other activities they will offer several selections at the first session of the Educational Conference, which is being held this morning in Dickier Hall. This afternoon they will go to Sadienville where they will appear at a local Chautauqua, and this evening the Quartet will offer entertainment between the performances of Amateur Night to be held in the gymnasium.
Saturday morning the Quartet will again sing for the Educational Conference, and Saturday afternoon will assist the band in entertaining between the halves of the Kentucky-Centre football game.

TAU BETA PI, HONORARY FRAT, PLEDGES FIVE ENGINEERS

Tau Beta Pi, national honorary engineering fraternity, pledged five men Thursday, October 23, before a general gathering of the students of the college of engineering. Dean Anderson of that college opened the meeting with a short address; after the pledging exercises, Dana Taylor, the president of the local chapter, made a short talk.
The pledges are: Maurice Black, William Downey, Thomas Benson and O. H. Bishop, seniors, and Robert H. Harrod, junior. The members of the active chapter are Dana Taylor, D. S. Sample, W. F. Manion and R. Giovannelli.
The members of Tau Beta Pi are selected primarily for their scholastic attainments. The senior pledges are selected from the highest one-fourth of their class in scholarship. The junior pledge is the honor man of his class and in addition receives the E. B. Ellis prize of $100, given for making the highest scholastic standing of any engineer during his freshman and sophomore years.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

Y. M. Bible Discussion Groups Organized

Twenty-seven groups for Bible discussion, organized by the University Y. M. C. A., are holding their first meetings during the week. Many other groups are in process of formation. These meetings held weekly for ten weeks are led by members of the faculty and by students. The topics for discussion during the current season will be along the line of fundamental religious problems.
Groups have been organized among thirteen fraternities, and four fraternities have not yet reported their organization. Fourteen classes have been formed in various rooming and boarding houses throughout the city. Several other groups of this nature are in process of organization.
The leaders, as stated, will promote discussion along fundamental religious lines, from an unbiased point of view, in an effort to clear up religious problems on which students are having trouble in crystallizing their opinions.
A complete list of the various groups, their leaders and places of meeting, will be published at a later date.
At the regular meeting of the Y. M. on Thursday night at the men's dormitory, Dr. Rush was the principal speaker. Next Thursday Dean Turck will give a talk. All members are urged to attend, as an interesting program has been planned.

The annual popularity contest, sponsored by the "Kentuckian" was held Wednesday, when the six most popular girls of the university were lected by the vote of the student body. Portraits of these six girls will be featured in the year book of 1925.

Miss Annette Kelley, of Lexington, senior, received the largest number of votes. She is a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority.

Miss Helen King, of Lexington, senior, and a member of Kappa Delta sorority was second in the vote.

Miss Marie Beckner, of Winchester, junior, and a member of Tri Delta sorority, was third.

Miss Louise Burks, of Horse Cave, senior, and a member of Chi Omega sorority was fourth.

Miss Mary Louise Fleming, of Ashland, freshman, and a pledge to Zeta Tau Alpha sorority, was fifth.

Miss Lillian Rasch, of Covington, senior, and a member of Delta Zeta sorority, was sixth.

MORTAR BOARD CONVENES NOV. 5

Delegates of 30 Chapters Will Be At Conference

Mortar Board, women's honorary scholastic fraternity, will hold its annual national convention at the university, from Wednesday, November 5, to Saturday, November 8. The local chapter has planned many delightful social events for the guests while they are here.

The council, arriving Wednesday, will hold a meeting that day. It is composed of Mrs. W. A. Clark Swarthmore, Pa., national president; Miss Sarah Blanding, Lexington, vice-president; Miss Gertrude Williams, Minneapolis, Minn., secretary; Mrs. R. N. Westover, Lincoln, Neb., treasurer.

Thursday the delegates will arrive, one or perhaps two from each of the thirty chapters in the United States. That morning there will be a short business meeting, after which the delegates will hear Dr. Slosson, in chapel. Other events of the day will be:

Luncheon at the "As You Like It" Tea Room.
Business session from 2 to 4:30.
Women's Student Government Association will give a catered dinner at Patterson Hall.

Dinner at Patterson Hall.

DEDICATION

Tomorrow the official dedication of the new stadium will take place 'mid ceremonies designed as a fitting prelude to the annual football classic between the Fighting Wildcats and the Gallant Colonels.

Indications point to a record breaking crowd for this initial game in the new edifice dedicated to the development of manhood through contest.

When the ceremony on Saturday is completed, it will signify the first of the tremendous steps the university is taking toward future development. It will stand as a symbol, mutely eloquent in its sculptured design, of the clean sportsmanship, the manly courtesy, the honor and integrity that has always characterized the wearers of the Blue and White. And, also, it will proclaim a tribute to the loyal alumni of the university, whose munificence has made its erection possible and whose generosity is epitomized in one of their number whose name adorns its portal.

The University of Kentucky is in a stage of transition. Improvements and additions along all lines of education, to be put into effect in the near future, will place our Alma Mater at the top of the scroll on which is emblazoned the achievements of southern institutions of higher education.

The ideal in complete education is three-fold, mental, spiritual, and physical, and Stoll Stadium stands as a monument to the development of one of this trinity whose vital influence will be felt throughout the commonwealth, because of the essential part it plays in development of true and enduring character.

November 1 is "Kentucky Day," a day of re-dedication to the service and progress of our Mother State and on which it behooves all students to portray the manliness so inextricably interwoven into the warp of every Kentuckian's character; a day to mark the beginning of a new era for the university; a day consecrated to the development of manhood through clean and manly contest.

A LAMENTABLE OCCURRENCE

Disposition of the case of the three men whom rumor has charged with being perpetrators of a despicable attempt to reveal information concerning the Wildcat eleven was made at a special meeting of the Men's Student Council held Tuesday.

In the aftermath of the Washington & Lee—Kentucky game, rumors were started about the campus which linked in derogatory connection the names of three men in the student body. The Men's Student Council, exercising the duties of their office, investigated all the circumstances surrounding the case; witnesses were called and a complete examination was made, the result of which disclosed that the men whom rumor had arraigned were innocent.

It is indeed gratifying to the students of the university to believe that their campus harbors no one whose conscience and honor is so infinitesimal, that, but for the sportsmanship of the Washington & Lee men, would have bartered their Alma Mater's victory for a few paltry dollars.

The rumor implicating the men concerned by the Student Council had its origin in a statement made by Coach DeHart of the Washington & Lee team, that prior to the game three men came to his room and offered to furnish information about the Kentucky eleven. Coach DeHart, a typical example of the manhood of the school whose sportsmanship he so signally exemplifies, refused, he asked to accept information from such sources and ejected the three men from his room.

It is regrettable that such rumors should ever gain headway at all, but once started they spread, like a stone dropped into a placid pool of water, until they impinge on all that is close about. The Kernel desires to commend the Council for its prompt and decisive action in this most regrettable affair.

COURTESY AND THE UNIVERSITY

Several weeks ago the manager of the Kentucky Theater commended a group of students of the university for their courtesy in repressing their emotions and for refraining from "rushing" the house during the running of the film. The result was that a few days later he instituted University of Kentucky Night and permitted the band and cheer leaders forty-five minutes to feature their program. Because of the thoughtfulness of those first-mentioned students, the university later received more widespread publicity than it could have secured in any other manner.

But the publicity was only a minor factor. The good will and favor of the townspeople increase when they hear of such acts on the part of the students, and this institution must have the sympathy of Lexington if it is to grow and prosper. Even though the inborn traits of gentility and politeness were not planted at the roots of this institution, selfish interests alone would force us to watch our step.

The spirit of our university is higher than it has ever been in the past. Our students, who are mainly men and womanly women are not ashamed to be thus designated. The wave of practical jokes which often pervade a school is not present on our campus. We believe with all our hearts in taking our fun where we find it, but we do not recognize it as fun when it is at the expense of others. The banners of U. of Ky. are floating high this year and it is our responsibility to see that they do not drag in the dust.

EDUCATORS WILL CONVENE TODAY

School Officials of Ky. Attend Annual Conference

Dr. John W. Withers, Dr. J. B. Edmonson, and other prominent educators will speak at the first annual conference to be held at the University of Kentucky from October 31 to November 1. President Frank L. McVey has extended invitations to the city and county superintendents, the graded and high school principals, the public school teachers and the teachers and administrators of the junior and senior colleges throughout the state. Letters are coming to the university each day from school officials in Kentucky saying that they will be present at this meeting.

Dr. John W. Withers dean of the college of education of New York University and former superintendent of schools at St. Louis Mo., will deliver two addresses on elementary education. Doctor Withers directed the survey in elementary education in the city schools of Philadelphia in 1920-21 and he is recognized as a national authority on this subject.

Dr. J. B. Edmonson, professor of secondary education at the University of Michigan, will deliver two addresses on immediate problems in secondary education. Doctor Edmonson has probably made the greatest contribution of any one man toward the program of high school education in the North Central Association of colleges and secondary schools.

Miss Emma J. Woerner, an alumna of the university, and one of the best high school principals in the south, will deliver the opening address on Friday morning on "Objectives in Elementary Education."

Other interesting and instructive speakers will address the assemblage. In addition to the attractive program offered in the general educational field, there will be a conference on health education held under the direction of Miss Edelbert Thomas, educational secretary of the Kentucky Tuberculosis Association.

FACULTY MEMBERS TO INSPECT SCHOOL

To Determine Rank of Morehead Institution

Dr. F. C. Button president of the Morehead teachers' college at Morehead, has extended an invitation to Dr. W. S. Taylor, dean of the college of education, and to Professor E. L. Gillis, registrar, to inspect the new normal school, with the prospect of accrediting it as a junior college of Kentucky.

The development of the Morehead normal school has been so rapid that, within a few years, it is expected to rank among the best of its kind. Dr. Button's management has already gained recognition from leading educators of Kentucky, and its officers are seeking an equal rating with the other colleges of the country. To further this advancement, Doctor Taylor and Professor Gillis, who form an accredited relations committee in the southern association of colleges and secondary schools, have been called upon to inspect the institution.

Sailing West to India

SINCE the days of Christopher Columbus men have felt the call to "sail due west to find India." In an organization like Westinghouse, such pioneering spirits find happy haven as research engineers. Their every thought is a question—every energy bent to discover new and more effective answers to baffling problems.

Immediately Westinghouse began to build alternating current machines of high voltages, for example, the problem of insulation became acute. For thirty-five years high voltages and insulation have formed an endless chain of problems. As voltages have been increased, improved insulation has been demanded. As insulation has been bettered, voltages have been still further increased.

One striking contribution of Westinghouse research engineers has been the perfection of an entirely new insulation material—Micarta. Possessing many of the qualities of metal, paper, fiber, mica, gum, rubber, Micarta differs in radical respect from all of these.

It serves industry indirectly as improved insulation material, and also directly because of superiorities when used for gears, propeller blades, and the like.

Only the imagination can set a limit on the field for the research engineer—or for an organization that centers around him.

LITERARY SOCIETY TAKES 57 MEMBERS

From 74 applicants, 57 have been chosen to become members of the Philosopher Literary Society. The standards of the organization this year are much higher than ever before, only those of superior literary ability being selected. The judges, who determine the eligibility of the members through criticism of prescribed articles under non-de-plume names, are the officers of the society:

Louise Carson, president; Louise Burks, vice-president; Mary Elizabeth Depew, secretary-treasurer; Judith Yungblut, critic; Martha Wheeler, sergeant at arms. Those to whom the honor of membership has been extended will be notified by mail within the next few days.

Philosopher programs as yet have not been published, however, the course of study for this year is known to present many interesting features. Contemporary literature, music and art will form the basic interests, while particular attention will be given to American art. The Philosopher Literary Society is one of the most successful organizations of its kind on the campus and does a great deal in developing literary interests and talents among the women students.

College Men of Today

Many years ago the "rah-rah" was coined to describe a college man and his wardrobe. In those days clothes and shoes alike were freakish. The word "Rah-rah" has passed—the styles it described are gone—and today the college man endorses and prefers FLORSHEIM SHOES because of their good taste, and substantial character.

DR. BROWN WILL HAVE U. K. CLINIC

The orthopedic clinic, which was instituted last year by the department of hygiene of the university, will be continued this year as a part of the "University Health Service" program. Doctor Brown of Lexington is in charge of this department and is a specialist in diseases and deformities of bones and joints. He plans to conduct this clinic every Thursday afternoon from 3 to 4 o'clock in the office of Doctor Rush.

Students will please bear in mind with reference to this clinic, first, do not use the waiting room of the University Health Service, but preferably the bench in the hall. There is no objection to this. They must also remember that inasmuch as Doctor Brown is giving his services to the department, it is desired that only such students report who cannot afford consultation otherwise. It would be erroneous to call this a charity clinic, because that is not its purpose. The dominant idea is to assist the student who is working his or her way through school or students whose finances are problems that affect efficiency and contentment.

ments of the Wildcat eleven—will be there. And when we say "be there," we speak advisedly, "cause when it comes to performance, this band of ours is right there all the time.

In addition to the howling there will be some other amusement. The band and Su-Ky Circle have made arrangements for a pair of famous celebrities, M. Whoosis and Mlle. Whazzat, of Paris, France, to appear in a "dance of death" which has won them fame all the way from the icy deserts of the north polar regions to the balmy shores of Madagascar. This act is said to be without parallel in history, mathematics or domestic science.

Among other preparations that have been scouted for the pre-game celebration is the burial of the figurative Centre Colonel on the campus during the fourth hour Saturday morning. The funeral will be accompanied by full military ceremony. It will be a sad spectacle, and the Lexington Drug Company has agreed to send out three dozen sponges to take care of the excess weepage.

DEANS OF WOMEN

Harmon were the leading speakers in discussion, having for their general topic "Fundamentals and Ideals of Citizenship for College and High School Girls." Reports of the committees were given as follows: Publication and Library Miss Hattie Funk; Health, Miss Alma Edwards; Relations with Other Institutions, Miss Sarah Blanding; Membership, Miss Olive Fisher. Miss Lurline Moody, dean of women at Georgetown College, led a discussion on "The Woman's Foundation for Health and Its Program." Miss Joy Secor presented a bibliography for deans of women. At 10:30 o'clock questions and problems were discussed by Miss Marie L. Roberts, the topic under discussion being "How Can State the Association be Most Helpful to the Individual Deans?" The meeting adjourned at 11:30. The last part of the program was a luncheon at the University Cafeteria at noon Tuesday.

NOTICE

All members of the Woman's Athletic Association will meet in the Little Theatre Thursday, November 11, at 3:30 o'clock. Very important.

PROMINENT MEN INDICATE PERILS OF BOND FAILURE

J. Will Stoll and Desha Breckenridge Are Speakers 200 ATTEND RALLY Wilson Presents Plans For Election Day Program

Hon. J. W. Stoll, president of the First and City National Bank of Lexington and former state senator; Desha Breckenridge editor of the Lexington Herald, and W. C. Wilson, Commissioner of Public Works and secretary of the alumni association of the university, addressed a mass meeting of the students of the university, called by the Men's Student Council on Tuesday evening, November 25, at Patterson Hall, on behalf of the bond issue. Great enthusiasm in the passage of the $75,000,000 bond issue to be submitted to the voters of Kentucky on November 4 was displayed by the students at this meeting. Bob Creech, Kentucky cheer leader, led the assembly in a series of yells.

Mr. Stoll declared in his address that it would be a terrible thing for Kentucky to fail to carry the proposed issue. The state would receive a blow from which she would not recover in twenty-five years. Mr. Stoll said, "We are working in the interest of practical politics; our purpose is to effect a good aim; we endeavor to do something great, grand, and glorious for Kentucky.

Mr. Stoll referred to the conditions in eastern Kentucky where he delivered an address on Monday evening: "The children of eastern Kentucky walk, many of them, six miles or farther through the mud to school. We are getting more than our share; we must listen to their appeal. Education is their salvation and it is our salvation. We must have it or we cannot compete with the educated people of other states. Few parents can afford to send their sons and daughters to schools out of Kentucky; they must be educated here." Mr. Stoll stated that his only regret is that he did not begin to take part in the campaign as soon as the legislature passed the bill last spring.

Mr. Breckenridge presented to the students a brief history of the place Kentucky has always held among the other states of the nation. "The cause for which Kentuckians fought in the sixties was not more vital than the cause for which we fight today," he said. "Until after the Civil War, Kentucky dominated the imagination of this country and Europe. She was a far step in advance of other states. This position was lost by lack of education. The pioneer statesmen recognized two great truths; a great commonwealth cannot be built upon the backs of uneducated men, and a great commonwealth must have adequate schools for its children."

Mr. Breckenridge pointed out various fields in which Kentucky has always led. After the Civil War the imperative need of education for all people was recognized. Since 1870, Kentucky has dropped from her position of leadership.

"Those who fight the bond issue endeavor to perpetuate the deplorable conditions existing in our institutions," he said. He concluded his address by an appeal to each student to do all in his or her power to win supporters for the issue. "If we give ourselves as those in the sixties gave, the fight is won," he said.

Mr. Wilson presented the plans for election day to be carried out by 190 women and 90 men students, who have been selected to work at the polls. Two women and one man will be stationed at each of the sixty-seven precincts in Lexington and twenty-three precincts in Fayette county.

A meeting of these students will be held Monday evening, November 3, at 7 o'clock in the gymnasium. Final instructions will be given then. The Woman's Club of the university will serve breakfast, and will distribute literature to the workers at 5:15 on Tuesday morning in the University Cafeteria. The workers will be conveyed to the polls in automobiles.

tees of the University of Kentucky for twenty-five years, will make the speech of acceptance.

During the exercises, a bronze tablet will be unveiled on the south side of the stadium in honor of Judge Stoll, to whom the stadium has been dedicated, and another will be unveiled on the north side and will bear the following inscription:

"In memory of those Kentuckians who gave their lives in the World War, this stadium is dedicated by the Kentucky Memorial Fund, the Alumni, Students and Friends of the University of Kentucky, to clean and honest sportsmanship."

The program will end with the playing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by the university band.

A canvass of the numerous social fraternities on the campus showed that they are making preparations for the care of the visitors during the Homecoming celebration.

WILDCATS MAKE BID

the primrose path to victory this year. This doubt budded forth at the end of the scoreless tie game with Valpo, reached full bloom at the time of the Carson-Newman fiasco, and has not withered, even though Centre smothered Transylvania and held West Virginia to a 13-6 score. The doubt received fresh stimulus through the defeat the Wildcats administered to Sewanee.

Followers of the Kentucky team predicted, after seeing the team in action early in the season, that the Wildcats would genuflect to the Colonels, but the sudden strength exhibited by the line in the Sewanee struggle has encouraged them to believe that the 'cats have a good chance of turning the tables after such a long weary wait. No longer, they contend, will speedy backs circle the ends for long gains; no longer will a big full-back rip the line to pieces and the stand sit silent as the scorekeeper has writers cramp hanging up numbers which spell ignominious defeat for Kentucky.

There have been many startling upsets in other years in Wildcat-Colonel tilts. Back when the game was emerging from the primordial stage and open play was beginning to supplant the old flying wedge, Kentucky provided one of these upsets. In the previous meeting with Centre she had lost, but came back to win two games in 1904 by scores of 40-0 and 81-0, the latter being the record score in their long series.

Centre will see for the last time members of the "wonder team" in action. The mighty McMillan and the redoubtable Roberts have passed on, this is the last season for the lanky Lemon and the capricious Covington. Whether Centre's glory will fade with the passing of the Mayfield pair is problematical. But it is felt by all that it will be many years before she will be able to develop another team that will stand out as did the teams of '17-'22.

Kentucky adherents take no joy from the fact of Centre's waning power, but wish rather to see their team down Centre while she still retains vestiges of her former glory. They feel that if the high gods of fate elect to permit the little god Chance to perch on the shoulders of the blue clad warriors, only for a little while, the Valkyri will have to transport the slain hopes of the Boyle countians to the Valhalla of unfulfilled dreams.

upon, but will be decided later and announced in the Kernel.

After the presentations of Amateur Night, which will be held in the new gym at 8:15 o'clock, following the new meeting, students are invited to remain in the gym for an entertainment promoted by the faculty, at which time the usual Hallow'en festivities, including fortune telling, dancing and other amusements will be provided.

A Pen You Need Not Apologize For Never Failing—Never Ailing

With a Jewel-Smooth 25-Year Point No Style of Writing Can Distort

OWN the black-tipped lacquer-red classic pen with which Success associates. A shapely balanced pen that will help you give the world the kind of impression you are capable of creating by a rapid, characteristic hand.

A pen you can pull out in public, and lend without a tremor, knowing that the other man's style of writing can't alter the point one particle.

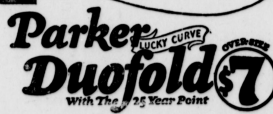

A pen with a jewel-smooth point that's guaranteed, if not mistreated, for 25 years' WEAR. Hence the most economical pen you can buy.

A pen you can fill by simply pressing a Button that is capped inside the barrel where it doesn't mar the beauty or catch on the clothing. A clean pen to carry and handle on account of the Ink-Tight seal achieved by the "Lucky Curve" feed and the double sleeve of the Duo-Sleeve Cap.

Any good pen counter will sell you this super-writer on 30 days' approval—flashing plain black, or black-tipped lacquer-red—the color that makes it hard to mislay.
