WILDCATS HOPE TO WIN GAME FROM MISSISSIPPI A. & M. ON SATURDAY

All of the Team Except Corn and Server in Condition For the Fray

FRESHMEN—H. S. HERE

Many of us will journey over to Stoll Field Saturday afternoon to watch the Freshman team trounce the Lexington High School football warriors, and to witness the inter-class track meet, however, the thoughts of all will be away off in Dixie Land, where the Blue and White Varsity will be battling the Mississippi Aggies. They expect to win the game and so do we. Each must win to keep in the race for S. I. A. A. honors.

Coach Tigert witnessed the Transylvania-Mississippi A. and M. game last Saturday and believes we have a strong chance to win.

"I do not believe the 'bear' stories being circulated that Mississippi is going to make it rough for the Kentucky boys, and I think that we are going to be given a fair deal. They consider us more dangerous than Transylvania and will put forth an extra effort to beat us. If our linemen play up to them we will repeat the dose administered here last fall," were a few of the comments made by Dr. Tigert last night.

Kentucky is weak on the defense and strong offensively. Mississippi's weakness is on the offense. The game will therefore be of an entirely different nature from the one played in Starksville last Saturday. If the Kentucky line can withstand the onslaught of the heavy Mississippi linemen the Wildcats should bring home another victory.

The men who will be sure to make the trip are Captain Schrader, Rodes, Hayden, Grabfelder, Thompson, Trutcher, Dempsey, Simpson, Britton, Kinne, Clayton and Manager Pay O. Townes.

As Coach Tigert expects to take about 18 men, others who will probably be taken, are: Corn, Gumbert, Zerfoss, Hedges, Ricketts and Heick.

The Freshmen class is making preparations to give them a good send-off by hauling them out to the Q. & C. depot Thursday night. Here they will board the 10:35 Q. & C. train for the South, to the tune of "My Old Kentucky Home," "Dixie" and others, rendered by the Cadet Band.

Secret practice was begun the first of this week. The wily coaches are taking no chances and wish to head off any scouting intruders who may be in the Blue Grass gathering dope for our Saturday rivals.

State's men, with the exception of Server and Corn, are in good shape. News comes from the Southern College that they, too, are fit and ready

AMATEUR NIGHT TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 5

Strollers' Annual Try-Out Is Big Event of Fall Season

SHINNICK IN CHARGE

"Amateur Night," which for several years has been looked upon as one of the real big events of the fall season, will be staged by the Strollers, the crack dramatic organization of the University, on November 5, and at that time all students who wish to become members of this society will be given an opportunity to display the talents they possess. Cash prizes will be given to the best acts in the respective classifications, and those who show that they have the requisite ability will be admitted to membership.

At a meeting of the Strollers last Tuesday a committee was appointed with full authority to act, and preliminary arrangements have already been made to make this year's the greatest Amateur Night the Strollers have ever had. It is probable that prizes will be awarded for the best single act for girls, best single act for boys and for the best act with two or more participants. All kinds of acts will be permitted to go on the stage and awards will be made by impartial judges selected by the Strollers. All those who contemplate entering are requested to hand in their names to Sam Shinnick, stage manager of the Strollers. If you cannot find him, tell any of the other Strollers of your ambitions, and they will be delighted to see that you are entered. Amateur Night will be a gala event, and no one need fear to trust himself on the stage. The audience will be friendly and every effort will be appreciated by it.

The Strollers start this year in a splendid condition for the biggest year in their history. The society has one of the handsomest and most convenient rooms on the campus, furnished in its entirety by the organization itself, a good sum in the treasury and a reputation of half a dozen successful productions behind it. A number of students will be admitted to the dramatic club this year, and if you come out for the Amateur Night celebration you will be one of them, in all probability. Full particulars can be obtained of the stage manager or any Stroller. A great many of the present membership went into the club via the Amateur Night route.

JAS. K. PATTERSON TO WRITE SCHOOL HISTORY

Important Announcement Made By Editors of the Alumnus

The October issue of the Kentucky Alumnus, which is published by the Alumni Association of the University appeared last week, and contains many attractive features. J. D. Turner is still acting editor.

The announcement is made that in the next number of the paper will appear the first installment of a history of the University to be written by President Emeritus, James K. Patterson. President Patterson is perhaps better than anyone else thoroughly acquainted with the history of the school since he has been closely connected with it from the time of its foundation.

The paper also contains the announcement that Mrs. M. A. Scovell, wife of the late head of the Department of Agriculture, has consented to write a history of Maxwell Springs, with which famous place Lexington and the University is so closely connected.

In this issue there appears the first installment of Professor A. M. Miller's history of early athletics at State, which is written in an entertaining and instructive manner. Professor Miller was for many years chairman of the athletic committee and knows the period of which he writes thoroughly. This article will be continued in later installments of the magazine.

The Alumnus contains many other articles of interest to the alumni and the students. One of especial interest to students now attending the University is a comparison between the scholarship of fraternity and non-fraternity students for last year, which shows that the non-fraternity students have an average grade which is a little less than one per cent higher than those of the fraternity students.

NOTICE!

Students are urged to patronize the downtown merchants who display our athletic association membership cards.

The possession of this card indicates an active interest in the welfare of the University.

A list of members will be published within these columns in the near future.

WILDCATS DEFEAT THE EARLHAM BUNCH 54-13

Only Points of Visitors Are Against Scrub-Freshman Team

GEORGE ZERFOSS HURT

Earlham College proved an easy mark for the Wildcats in the second gridiron battle of the season, the husky Crimsonites being unable to pierce the defenses of the "ex-Freshman" aggregation. The only points scored by the visitors were against the Freshman and "scrub" teams, who played during the second quarter. The nearest approach to the goal defended by the Varsity was made in the third quarter when the Crimsonos were held for downs and were forced to yield the ball on the 10-yard line. The game ended 54 to 13, the Wildcats getting the bigger end.

The only accident that marred the game came in the second quarter when George Zerfoss, of Ashland, suffered a badly broken nose when he smashed into an Earlham player. Zerfoss was playing end on the Freshman team and was showing the class that will put him in line for the Varsity next year.

The visitors' thirteen points were made in the second quarter when Assistant Coach Tuttle, who was engineering the Wildcats during the absence of Dr. J. J. Tigert, substituted the under-classes for the Varsity. The Wildcats having clinched the game in the first quarter.

The game was featured by the aggressive work of Hayden, Schrader, Grabfelder and Rodes, these speedy back-fielders tearing through the Earlham line for long gains and tackling like demons. Kinne's work at end was exceptionally good, his tackling and blocking receiving the commendation of the "fans." The Wildcats never resorted to open-field playing until the closing minutes of the game, straight-line plunging being responsible for all their gains. On three occasions, penalties inflicted for holding, kept the Wildcats from running the score into the seventies.

The Freshman team showed up to good advantage against the Earlham Varsity. Several men showed Varsity calibre and can be relied upon to fill vacancies in the Wildcat team next season. Of these youngsters, Davidson and McElvain at halfback and Poindexter at fullback showed the most class.

Earlham resorted to open field play when they realized that their line-plunging was unsuccessful against the Wildcats. Shifting of the line was their greatest asset.

With a little more team work and strengthening of weak spots, the Wildcats should grab the majority of their games.

The line-up and summary follows:

LUKE M'LUKE COMMENDS PARAGRAPH COLUMN OF THE UNIVERSITY PAPER

Compliments the Kentucky State Humorists Highly

CALLS IT "GOOD STUFF"

The students at Kentucky State University or at least those who are connected with the staff of the Kentucky Kernel, believe that this school is putting out one of the best college weeklies in this part of the world and we have always thought that in some departments, especially the paragraph column, we are hard to beat. Now we know that we were right in our belief since that peer of all present-day humorists and the man whose name is a household word in the entire Middle West, namely, our old friend, Luke McLuke, has complimented our paragraphs in his Bits of Biplay column in the Cincinnati Enquirer.

In the issue of last Thursday, October 7, the following item which was headed "Good Stuff," appeared:

The humorists attending the State University of Kentucky last week published an imitation of Luke's Bits of Biplay in the college Idea. They headed the column with an apology to Luke and to the Cincinnati Enquirer. THE STUFF WAS ALL ORIGINAL AND WAS REALLY FUNNY.

The column to which Mr. McLuke refers appeared last spring before school was out and was written by Kenneth Doris, who was managing editor and writer of The Hum of the Gaddy last year. While recognition comes late it is probably because no one sent Luke a copy of the paper, and lest such a thing should again happen, we hereby warn him that he has been placed on the subscription list of The Kentucky Kernel, the successor to The Idea, a copy of which he received and commended.

This year's column which is called "Squirrel Food," is modeled after Mr. Doris' Gaddy column of last year, and it is the ambition of the management to make it just as good. Although Mr. Doris is not in school this year, he is located in Lexington, as reporter on the Lexington Herald, and has been of great assistance to this year's management by his advice. W. C. "Bill" Shinnick is in charge of the "Squirrel Food" this year and the nutlets are written by a number of different people. Among the contributions which appeared last week were several by Mr. Doris.

Thanks, Luke. The next time you are in Lexington let us know and we will set 'em up to "what makes the Wildcat wild." It's a lot better than that Cincy beer, the excellence of which you praise so highly. And Luke, you know what Kentucky boasts of. Well, the very best looking ones are reared at Kentucky State and some of them are corn-feds, too.

"THE ONLY GIRL."

At the Ben All Friday and Saturday and Saturday matinee will be presented for the first time in this city, a musical comedy entitled "The Only Girl," the newest work of Victor Herbert and Henry Blossom. So many years have elapsed since these brilliant writers have collaborated, a fact much deplored, as one searches in vain among the so-called musical comedies of today for even anything that is an approach to the finished touch and originality found in "Mile. Modiste," "The Red Mill" and other musical plays of their creation.

It is said that one of the many distinguishing marks of "The Only Girl" is the refreshing originality of its score, which is rich in melodies of the real Herbert swing. —(Adv.)

"A FULL HOUSE."

Unlimited merriment is the promise of "A Full House," which comes to the Ben All tonight. This new farce was one of the most conspicuous hits in New York last season and promises to be equally successful on tour. Farce seems to be the most popular form of amusement at the present time when the public wants to forget its cares and be amused. Fred Jackson, author of "A Full House," is one of the most successful of magazine story writers, but this is his first play. Mr. Frazee provides an unusually good company headed by Walter Jones, and the production will be lavish and in good taste. —(Adv.)

ADA MEADE.

Anything on your mind? That is, are you worried? Come to the Ada Meade and ask Eva Fay about it. She'll tell you what's coming.

Incidentally, the big comedy bill that's playing with her will make you forget your troubles right off the reel. See it. —(Adv.)

THE COLONIAL.

Monday and Tuesday at the Colonial will be seen a great five-act patriotic picture, "Guarding Old Glory," which every true-blooded American should see. The only picture in the world approved by Secretary of War Garrison, Secretary of Navy Daniels, Major General Wood, General Scott, Admiral Benzo and President of the Navy League, Mr. Thompson. This is the picture that made everybody sit up and take notice in New York, Chicago and San Francisco, St. Louis, Cleveland and all other large cities.

Starting Sunday, Oct. 3, Professor Mico's Famous Hungarian Orchestra will play at

NEW MEMBERS SPEAK AT UNION SOCIETY MEETING

Programs Each Week Are Displayed in Main Building Hall

The Union Literary Society held its weekly meeting Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, with a good attendance.

The meeting was practically given to the new members and each responded with a well-prepared speech. The new men will be given every advantage possible with the hope that they may work all the harder to raise the standard of the society.

The program was carried out on time and at no minute was something interesting lacking. Mr. Hutson spoke on "boosting," Mr. Sellars on "The Freshman and the Literary Society," and Mr. Wyatt on "Exercise." Mr. Iler gave a short lecture on "Inductive and Deductive Reasoning," which was appreciated and instructive to the society as a whole.

The feature of the evening was the speech of Herbert Felix.

The business meeting took up about thirty minutes and consisted chiefly in a report from President Gooch. The programs for the society are displayed on the bulletin in the hall of the Main Building.

Program of the Union Literary Society for October 16th:

Devotional exercises, J. Lewis.

Recitation, C. O. McCuddy.

Debate—Resolved, That Every Voter Should be Required to Pass an Examination in Elementary Civil Government. Affirmative, T. L. Creekmore, E. P. Hatter; negative, C. R. Barker, S. F. Grubbs.

Democracy, George R. Smith.

P. ANDERSON, JR., WINS COUNTRY CLUB PRIZE

F. Paul Anderson, Jr., a member of the Freshman class in the Mechanical Department, and son of Dean Anderson of that Department, won the Alexander trophy in the golf play at the Lexington Country Club, the finals of which were played Tuesday. In order to win the match it was necessary for Anderson to defeat a number of the best players in the city, all of them older and more experienced. In the finals he defeated J. W. Morford, by a very close score. Anderson is the youngest man who has ever won his trophy in the history of the club, but for a number of years he has taken a prominent part in athletics in Lexington and always figures prominently in the tennis tournaments.

BOLLING, NEPHEW OF PRESIDENT'S FIANCEE

Mrs. Norman Galt, of Washington, whose engagement to President Wilson has been announced, is the aunt of J. Estin Bolling, one of the graduates last year in the Mechanical Engineering Department. Mrs. Galt was before her marriage Miss Edith Bolling and is the sister of Estin Bolling's father, Dr. G. A. Bolling, of Louisville. A picture of Mrs. Galt, together with pictures of Dr. Bolling and Estin Bolling appeared in one of the local papers during the past week.

Mr. Bolling is at present located in Detroit, Mich.

UNIVERSITY ISSELLING SUPPLIES TO STUDENTS

Hereafter when your supply of paper runs out in the middle of the day or somebody "borrows" your pencil or you need an eraser or a bottle of ink in a hurry, it won't be necessary to "bum" it off of somebody or else wait until you get a chance to go down town for it. Just drop into the postoffice room in the Main Building and there you will find a complete supply of these and similar articles for sale, and better still, you can purchase them at wholesale prices, which, of course, "makes it mighty nice," if that check is still on its way.

This is in line with the University's policy of doing everything possible to add to the convenience of the students and this latest action will save many a trip to town. The stock of the accessories for use in the class room is complete and consists of pencils, erasers, ink, pens, clips, paper of various kinds and many other things. The price which is charged is the wholesale price plus the cost of express, etc.

Mr. John Barrow, of Younstown, O., an old State man, is visiting his father, Dr. David Barrow, and family.

Gady, their most consistent ground-gainer, and the only man who was able to score on Mississippi College in their opening who was not in the T. U. duel will be in the line-up Saturday. Spurloch, probably their best man, and an all-Southern guard last year, Carpenter, left guard, a 200-pound tackle, Jackson, the fullback, and Captain Raney at tackle are the men on the Aggies outfit who should be most closely watched by the Wildcats.

Carter, University of Virginia, will referee; Robins, Vanderbilt, will umpire, and Kerr, Tennessee, will be head linesman.

CROWD AT MEETING OF PATTERSONIANS

Pres. Edwards at Work on Plan To Encourage Literary Societies

The Patterson Literary Society met again last Saturday evening with a crowded house. President O. M. Edwards is highly encouraged and hopes to interest the English Department in the matter of giving credit for society work. He is placing society work on a high plane and hopes to realize more than the expectations of a successful year.

The program was well rendered and enjoyed by all. There were several new men and some visitors.

Every member is urged to bring as many men as possible and be sure and come. The program committee has divided the membership into teams and the teams will be placed on the program in proper rotation. This gives every member an equal show.

Watch the bulletin board in the hall of the Main Building for the program, and if you are on, prepare your subject, be on time and bring another.

TUG-OF-WAR MAY BE FRIDAY AFTERNOON

The tug-of-war, the annual struggle for supremacy between the Sophomore and Freshman classes, will probably take place tomorrow afternoon at Clifton pond, in the event of which the University will have half holiday.

The classes this year are about equal, the men in the Freshman class numbering 217 and the Sophs 228. Last year the present Sophomore class was victorious and they are confident of winning this year, while the Freshies are confident they will see the arrogant Sophs struggling in the cold, damp water.

team, has accepted the directorship of physical education at Miss Woods' private school for young ladies at Houston, Texas.

Miss Lucile Hollowell, of the class of 1915, was a visitor in Lexington the past week-end. Miss Hollowell is now teaching in the Cynthia high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Brinkley Barnett were in Lexington Saturday enroute to Somerset, their future home, and saw the Kentucky-Earlham game.

CONTRIBUTORS, ATTENTION!

The management of The Kentucky Kernel is grateful for any original contributions from the student body.

Do not be discouraged if your work is not published immediately. Work of real merit is very often omitted because of lack of space, and must be held over for a later issue. Also, many good productions are withheld on account of excessive length. Be brief and to the point.

GERM THEORY.

We reproduce below a digest of an editorial which appeared in the October issue of The Kentucky Alumnus, entitled, "Isolate the Germ."

There is a sad lack of respect, loyalty and affection on the part of our students for their Alma Mater. This is particularly noticeable in the alumni. It is no less true of the undergraduates. There seems to be a "germ," as it were, that infects our students—a different "germ" from that of most other colleges—a "germ" of disloyalty. What are the conditions that favor the development of this disease?

What is the real cause that produces this pest that causes our boys and girls to leave the University disgruntled and unhappy? In order to get some first hand light and information on this very important subject, a form letter embodying the substance in the forepart of this editorial was sent to a goodly number of representative members of every department of the University of Class '15, fresh from the University with what influence it has, with a request that they put their replies in such shape that they could be published in The Alumnus.

The replies are given in order of receipt and without comment. We reproduce three:

Some time ago I received a letter from you asking my opinion as to the "germ" of discontent which pervades the student body of Kentucky State. I would say that it is:

1. Too much politics and want of unity among the Faculty.
2. Taking Chapel completely out of the hands of the students.
3. The method by which athletics are conducted.
4. Instructors not in close enough touch with the student body.

These are the four principal reasons according to my observations which cause the discord.

Another expresses himself as follows:

The exact cause of this "germ" I do not know, but will give you a few ideas that might lead you to the cause:

1. Lack of money to run the University as it should be run, for example, first class dormitories where the students could have more and better friends. As things exist, three-fourths of the real men of the University live in town and are not thrown together as they should be.
2. Faculty has a tendency of looking upon the student body as a big bunch of rough necks. Also try to attend to the students' business in a certain manner.
3. Where the trouble lies with athletics is that so many punk teams are booked that get our students over-confident, and when a real team turns up and cleans them up, it doesn't look good. I think most students would rather see their team get beaten by a real team than see such large scores run up on little inferior teams.

I really hope that this will be of some service in this work.

Another takes this view:

Answering your inquiry of recent date my observation while in the University leads me to the following conclusion regarding the apparent dissatisfaction in the University. A lack of discipline, first, including not only the students, but the Faculty as well; then too many factions and individuals working for their personal interest rather than the common interest of the University.

Consequently this same spirit becomes instilled into the student body making the whole University a bed of discontent.

It would not be fair to attribute this discord to athletics, although it is more prominent there than any other phase of University life.

SQUIRREL FOOD

The Kentucky Colonel Says:

The Honorable Woodrow Wilson, suh, who is the author of "The New Freedom," is trying to qualify himself for another work, suh, which will be entitled "The Old Slavery."

Perhaps the Russians are delaying that long-promised advance till the rivers freeze over. Building bridges is very tiresome.

He Has Two.

Professor Enoch Grehan had a ring-side seat at the performance of "September Morn" at the Ben Ali Theater last Friday evening. At several of the most "harrowing" scenes both of Mr. Grehan's hairs were seen to stand on end.

If the author of that four-line effusion beginning "Lascivious is a gum-drop," which was turned into the Kernel, will call at the office and explain the deep mystery that lies in the lines we shall be very glad to perpetrate it verbatim on the student body. The humor in this poem is, to say the least, very ethereal.

Susie Saleratus, the Domestic Science Freshman, says she is sure her features are very regular, because her eyes are just beneath her brows, and her nose just above her upper lip. We leave it to you, ain't that the way every regular face is built?

Most of the he-gossips on the campus who are always talking about how ugly some of the co-eds are, have faces that by comparison would make Abraham Lincoln resemble Adonis.

We Mean This, Girls.

To the obtuse masculine mind a well cooked biscuit is a splendid substitute for a pinkish cream complexion.

No Cause For Alarm.

Owing to the war, France's wine supply will fall far below the normal. It is fortunate that the best French wines are made in America.

The Republicans of Kentucky say that the Democrats are grafters. The Democrats say that the Republicans are liars and would themselves graft if an opportunity arose.

Pay your money and take your choice.

The Mississippi Aggies seem again to be forging ahead by de-grease.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF K.I.D.A. MEETS HERE

Amendment Proposed By State Men Is Passed

The Executive Committee of the Kentucky Intercollegiate Debating Association, met last Friday afternoon at the Lexington Y. M. C. A. to consider plans and fix dates for the annual debates to be held next March. The committee is composed of two representatives from each college. The representatives from State University were: Frank Crum, Patterson Literary Society, and J. T. Gooch, of Union Literary Society; Transylvania College: Leland H. Barnes, Cecropia Society, and Edwin Marx, Pericles; Centre College: R. S. Tyler, Deimeloggian Society, and Vasillos Chebithes, Chamberlain; Georgetown College: John A. Dotson, Ciceroian, president of the association, and E. T. Wahlbold, T. O. K. Society.

An amendment to the by-laws of the association proposed by the representatives from the State University of Kentucky was passed. The amendment provided that article twenty-two should be stricken out, and in its stead another substituted to read: "All students who are bona fide members of any literary society and institutions represented shall be eligible to participate in any debate provided he does not hold a degree from any standard college or has not had four years of standard college work."

The amendment stricken out reads: "No student is eligible for a contest who is matriculated in the theological department of any institution represented. All Senior law students are excluded."

CATHOLIC CLUB MEETS.

The initial meeting of the Catholic Club of State University was held Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at the assembly room on Barr Street, at which several new members were taken in. It is the aim of the club to include all the Catholic students in the University. This club was organized last year and its membership was 70 students. The officers are President A. E. Taylor, Vice President John Rodman, Secretary-Treasurer, Leonard Taylor, and Sergeant-at-Arms, Paul H. Gasser.

FRESHMAN CLASS ELECTS OFFICERS

Joe Yants, of Central City, was elected president of the Freshman class at an election Monday afternoon in the chapel. The other officers elected follow: Vice President, Miss Edith Sachs, of Louisville; secretary, Miss Jessie Cummings, of Leitchfield; treasurer, Everett E. Kelly, of Whitesville.

A committee was appointed to select class colors and representatives were elected from the different colleges of the University to serve as captains in the tug-of-war which will be held this week. President Yants called a meeting for Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the armory.

leges of the University to serve as captains in the tug-of-war which will be held this week. President Yants called a meeting for Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the armory.

HENRY CLAY SOCIETY

The Henry Clay Law Society met last Monday evening in the Law Department with quite a large attendance.

The hour was devoted to business, as no program had been prepared. The time of meeting was changed from 7:30 on Monday nights to 7:30 on Wednesday nights of each week. Messrs. C. T. Dotson and C. P. Nicholson were appointed sergeant-at-arms, and A. C. Preston was elected to fill the office of secretary, which was vacant because J. H. Apperson, who was elected to that position failed to return to school.

The program committee, which had been appointed to prepare programs for this semester, failed to have a program made up last meeting and President McNeil has ordered impeachment proceedings against the committee. The trial is set for next Wednesday evening. All lawyers are urged to attend as an interesting time is expected.

MARY McFARLIN IS LAID TO REST AT WINCHESTER FRIDAY

Members of Experiment Station Staff Attend Funeral of Daughter of W. J. McFarlin.

A number of the members of the Experiment Station staff were present at the funeral of Mary Elizabeth McFarlin, the twelve-year-old daughter of W. J. McFarlin, chief food inspector of the Experiment Station, which took place at Winchester, the home of Mr. McFarlin, Friday.

Mr. McFarlin has been in the Experiment Station for 25 years in the Food and Drug Department, and now has charge of all inspection in the State. The sympathy of the students and the faculty go out to him and his wife in their sorrow.

HORACEMANN SOCIETY

The Horace Mann Literary Society held its regular meeting Thursday, October 7.

Mr. R. A. Foster, the first speaker of the evening, gave a very interesting sketch of the life and works of Wordsworth.

The second number was by Mr. Mills on the "Model High School." An essay on "Culture Derived From the Study of Manual Training," was read by Mr. C. P. Nicholson.

In celebration of the 66th birthday of James Whitcomb Riley, Professor Noe favored the society with readings from Riley's poems.

Horace Mann meets every Thursday at 7 p. m. in the Education Building.

Mr. Frank Kennedy, who graduated with the class of '15 and is now located in Pittsburg, with Heinz "57" varieties, is visiting in Lexington.

Mechanical Department News

The College of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering is proud of the fact that three of the executives of the lately re-organized Carrier Engineering Corporation of New York are products of this college.

J. Irvine Lyle, graduate of the Kentucky State College in 1896, from the School of Mechanical Engineering, and who was last year's president of the Kentucky Alumni Association, is general manager of the Carrier Engineering Corporation. The management of this company, entering into an almost unexplored field, required more than the usual measure of engineering ability to meet the new problems almost daily presented. Its success required essential executive capacity and constructive energy to develop this new industry on a national basis, and the present importance and enviable reputation of the company evidences how well Mr. Lyle is succeeding.

E. T. Lyle, a brother of J. I. Lyle, and also a product of Kentucky State University, is the Boston manager of the Carrier organization. He is a famous specialist in the humidification of air for textile industries.

Mr. Logan Lewis, a popular member of the class of 1907, College of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering, State University of Kentucky, is the designing engineer of the company. He was an instructor in engineering at this University for two years, and is now an important member of the Carrier Corporation.

Out of the seven officials of this organization that performs wonders in engineering, three are graduates of our own College of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering; a typical example of what Kentuckians can do when in competition with keen and highly trained men from the great Eastern States, and also a tribute to the work that the College of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering of Kentucky is doing in developing young engineers of the highest efficiency and ability.

SENIOR TEAM

The Seniors have yielded to the call of the open, and every afternoon they may be seen on the hillside going through practice (for about fifteen minutes each afternoon). Lall says it is the best team in school, and he ought to know, as he is the chief instigator himself.

Rumors are afloat that the Lawyers are soon to be defeated, with all due respect to them and that 0-0 tie last year.

Mr. Bryan Shanklin, of Schenectady, New York, and Mr. Joseph Shelby, of New York City, left last Friday evening, returning East, after a visit of about two weeks in Lexington. Both have positions with the Central Electric Company, to whom they went as soon as graduating from Kentucky State University, and have had several promotions since that time.

A. I. E. E.

The next regular meeting of the A. I. E. E. will be held in the Heat Engineering Room at Mechanical Hall tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock. The following program will be given:

"Recent Improvements in Electric Lighting of Steam Railroad Cars," H. Worsham.

"Automatic Switchboard Telephone System of Los Angeles," J. Wolf.

"Abnormal Voltages in Transformers," F. Whitely.

WATT ENGINEERING SOCIETY

Dean Anderson addressed the Junior Mechanicals at their regular meeting last Friday. His subject, "Culture and the Engineer," offered many helpful suggestions and viewpoints which will no doubt prove to be of great value to these future engineers.

WESTINGHOUSE SOCIETY

At a meeting of the Freshmen Mechanicals held last Saturday, the following officers were elected for the year:

- President—A. D. Hall.
- Vice President—F. Paul Anderson, Jr.
- Secretary—R. Bland.
- Treasurer—Felix Shouse.
- Reporter—F. C. Starkey.
- Sergeant-at-Arms—L. C. Davidson.

Committees were appointed to select an emblem for the society and to arrange programs for the meetings.

MECHANICAL NOTES

Bob Willis, class 1913, has left the Lexington Utilities Company and accepted a position as assistant in the Steam and Efficiency Engineering Department of the Republic Iron and Steel Company of Youngstown, Ohio. Youngstown now has quite a bunch of graduates from the College of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering. Howard Ingels, class 1905, is now second vice president of the Guarantee Trust and Realty Company of Youngstown.

H. B. Shoemaker, class 1912, visited the University last week. He has left the American Blower Company and gone with the Detroit Steel Products Company, of Detroit, large manufacturers of steel sash windows.

Brinkley Barnett, class 1913, is now in the construction department of the Associated Engineering Department of Somerset, Ky. On October 6th he was married to Miss Theresa Kinne, of Stearns, Ky., a former student of the University.

Word has been received that M. C. Batsel, class of 1915, will be sent to the New York office of the Western Electric Company the first of November. This rapid promotion is quite a compliment to a man who has been out of school only five months.

R. W. Ellis, traffic engineer with the New York Telephone Company, and a graduate in the class of 1903, paid a short visit to the University Monday on his way back to New York after a three weeks' holiday. Ellis now has charge of the efficiency engineering work of the great New York telephone system.

Webb Lall lost a diamond stick pin at the game Saturday. Quite a coincidence, but if anyone finds it please return to Mechanical Hall.

GET YOUR HANDBOOK

All students or members of the faculty of the University who have not received a Varsity Handbook should call and get one at the office of James Park, Y. M. C. A. secretary, in the Gymnasium Building.

CREGOR IS TEMPORARY FOOD AND DAIRY INSPECTOR.

N. M. Cregor, Senior in the Agricultural College, is acting as city food and dairy inspector for Lexington until the office is permanently filled.

Cregor has worked two vacations at Elmendorf dairy and last summer he and "Bill" Tuttle inspected dairies throughout Central Kentucky, so it is evident Cregor is well prepared to fill the office.

Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority will entertain with a dance Friday evening, October 15, at the home of Mrs. W. H. Townsend, 28 Mentelle Park.

Alpha Xi Delta Dance.

The Alpha Xi Delta sorority entertained with a dance at the Reservoir club house Friday evening, October 8, in honor of some of the new girls.

The hostesses were Misses Lila Estes, Kathleen Sullivan, Stella Pennington, Jane Dickey, Bettie Coons, Carrie Lee Jones.

Subscription Dance.

Friday evening a subscription dance postponed from last week, will be given in the ballroom of the Phoenix Hotel for the benefit of the Open Air School. Goodwin's Saxophone Trio will furnish the music and the admission will be one dollar.

It is asked that everybody patronize this event as aside from the pleasure afforded it will assist in the good cause of the care of thirty-six children to whom it means everything to have this opportunity.

The patrons for the dance will be: Judge and Mrs. Charles Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. Desha Breckinridge, Mr. and Mrs. Christopher D. Chenault, Mr. and Mrs. Walton Rounsavall, Mr. and Mrs. Hogan Yancey, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Clay, Mr. and Mrs. John McClintock, General and Mrs. Roger Williams, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McCarty, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Davidson, Judge and Mrs. Lyman Chalkley, Dr. and Mrs. Waller Bullock, Dr. and Mrs. Henry Martyn Skillman, Dr. and Mrs. George Draper Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Harbison.

Cadet Hop Saturday.

The first cadet hop of the season will be given at the Armory Saturday afternoon, October 16. Every old student of the University knows what a "Hop" means, and all the new people should take a "tip" and be present at the first one.

Following will be the dates for the hops to be given during the year. The announcement is made officially by Major Arthur Underwood, commandant of the University:

October 16, November 6, December 18, January 22 and February 5. The annual military ball will be given February 22. The dances are open to all students of the university and will be on Saturdays from 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock.

Patterson Hall Phone Changed.

For the convenience of the management and of the young ladies of Patterson Hall, another telephone has been installed at the Hall for the exclusive use of the girls. When wishing to talk to the office, one should call 24, but if desirous of conversing with any of the girls, one should call 2988. A hint to the wise—!

Hank—Robinson.

Miss Pauline Hank was married to Mr. Thomas Robinson at the First Presbyterian Church in Paducah, Ky., October 6, at 8 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson were both graduated from the University in the class of '14, and among the attendants were Miss Annabel Granger, '15, and Mr. Gus Hank, a former student at State.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson are taking an extended bridal tour, including Washington and other Eastern points. They will make their home at Auxier, Ky., where Mr. Robinson is in charge of a large mine.

Luncheon for Kappas.

Beta Chi Chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority entertained with a buffet luncheon Saturday, October 9, at the home of Miss Mildred Taylor, on Grosvenor Avenue.

Decorations were in the two shades of blue which are the sorority colors, and a delicious luncheon was served to the guests.

The hostesses were: Misses Lavinia McDannell, Anita Crabbe, Katherine Snyder, Elizabeth Kastle, Nata Lee Woodruff, Alice Gregory, Mildred Taylor, Lillian Gaines, Carleton Brewer, Katherine Mitchell, Elizabeth Rodes, Elizabeth Cary and Linda Purnell.

Alumnae present were Misses Sara Carter, Sara Chorn, Mary Sweeney, Aubyn Chinn, Mamie Taylor, Dolly Battaille, Mary Vimont, Katherine Logan, Mary Ford Rodes, Elizabeth Moore and Mrs. Wallace Kelly, of Texas.

Chi Omega Tea.

Chi and Lambda Alpha chapters of Chi Omega sorority entertained at a tea at the home of Miss Jane Farrell Friday afternoon, October 8.

The home was charmingly decorated in the sorority colors, and refreshments of sandwiches and chocolate were served.

The hostesses were Misses Frances Geisel, Mary Parker, Nancy Innes, Helen Morris, Eloise Allen, the members of the Chi Chapter of Transylvania College and Lexington alumnae. A large number of guests from the University, Transylvania and Hamilton College, were present.

Woman's Club Meets.

The Woman's Club of State University held its first meeting for the year in Dean Hamilton's office on the campus, Friday afternoon, October 8.

Resolutions on the death of Mrs. J. K. Patterson were adopted. Plans for bettering the social life and dormitory conditions of the University were discussed.

The Woman's Club will give a series of receptions to the students during November. The annual Halloween dance will be given on Saturday, October 30.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. held its weekly meeting Sunday evening at Patterson Hall. The program was very interesting and decidedly different from the usual ones. Girls who had attended school elsewhere last year told what the Y. W. C. A. accomplished in these colleges.

The program was:

Hymn.
Scripture Reading.
"The Y. W. C. A. at Agnes Scott," Mary Etta Thomas.
"The Work of the Y. W. C. A. at the University of Michigan," Minnie Neville.
"Y. W. C. A. at Ward Belmont," Dawn Flanery.
"Y. W. C. A. Spirit at Randolph Macon," Myrtle Smith.
Hymn.
Benediction.

PHILOSOPHIAN

All new girls who are writing essays for the Philosopher Literary Society are urged to hand them to the committee as soon as possible. Some articles have already been placed in their hands, and other applicants for membership are requested to be prompt.

CHANGE IN THE FACULTY.

The students were much impressed one day last week by the appearance of a distinguished looking stranger, of the brunette type, at the University. An investigation was started which disclosed the fact that it was none other than our old friend "George Washington," the man who cornered the turkey market, who had blossomed out in a new uniform and cap. No longer will "George" be seen mauling the floors and massaging the windows, as he has been promoted to the position of messenger, and his duties now consist in acting as emissary from the office of the President to the heads of the departments and delivering important and weighty documents. George has served the University faithfully for over twenty years and his promotion is deserved. He says he is the "butler" now, but we hope that he won't feel that his advanced station in life requires him to have any bigger Thanksgiving dinner than before.
