MEN'S GLEE CLUB TO BE ORGANIZED - PROGRAM FOR THIS YEAR MADE

Various Trips and Productions Anticipated by Professor Lampert Who Will Direct

"K" PINS TO BE GIVEN

Alumni Clubs From Various States Calling For a Visit From Club

The initial call for Varsity Men's Glee Club has been sent out from White Hall. Tracing the call to colors to its source one recognizes the voice of Professor Lampert of the Department of Music and Director of the Men's Glee Club. The early call to action is due to the announcement that besides the annual spring tours there is a possibility of making another tour this semester sometime after the production of "Erminie."

In former years the University Glee Club has been the one great factor in bringing the people out of the state in touch with the student activities and life and it is predicted that the coming year will register the greatest success for "wandering bards" that they have ever had. Since the coming of Professor Lampert things musical, in common parlance have "looked up" but no one division has improved as has the Glee Club.

In 1920 the Varsity Club consisting of twelve members and director made an eight day trip covering 1,200 miles and gave twelve concerts. In 1921 the Club consisted of sixteen members and director made a thousand miles trip and were out one week. In addition to these trips, week-end trips to many nearby towns were made. At all of these the Club was treated in good old Kentucky style and a reception in each place was given in honor of the Club. In 1921 the annual trip was made and the club also went to Paris, Versailles, North Mid- (Continued on page 8.)

"BUD" SLOMER STARS AS A RING BATTLER

Former Student of University Making Big Headway in Boxing Game

"Bud" Slomer, captain of last year's baseball team and member of the class of '22, made his debut in the professional fight game about a week ago in Flint, Michigan, defeating Kirles, commonly known as the "Terrible Greek," in a fast ring battle.

A Flint newspaper says of Slomer: "Built right, trained right, and with a fighter's heart, Slomer will go far in his chosen field. He is clever, both in and out of the ring and a clean liver. Lansing fans will be disappointed if they do not see him again soon against a man who will fight and play the game like a gentleman. No boxer that ever stepped into a ring in the capital city was more enthusiastically applauded than the Kentucky boy. Fast as chain lightning and with a kick in either hand Slomer tore Kirles to ribbons, and then made Chief Catcher look foolish in a six round exhibition that followed."

Slomer is a baseball pitcher of no mean ability and a wonder with his fists. He was a favorite on the campus. Bud graduated last spring and is now employed as a civil engineer at Flint, Michigan.

NOTICE!

Freshmen, and all other students who are not Stroller eligibles, are urged to take part in the Stroller try-outs, which begin October 26th.

Any student having a speaking part in a short one-act play, may try out, and perhaps be come eligible to try for a part in the annual Stroller play, which will be given early in the spring.

PICTURES NOW BEING MADE FOR 1923 ANNUAL

Manager Urges All Students to Make Dates Within Next Few Days

The agent of Caulfield and Shook is here and is located in the basement of the Science building. All pictures for the 1923 Kentuckian will be taken by this firm and no pictures from any other photographer will be accepted.

Allen Cammack is the manager of this work and will make dates with any one who desires to have pictures taken. Any one who will have to have picture for more than one organization will specify the number of pictures to be made.

The rates of the photographer are reasonable and will be done with discount on account of the number of pictures taken.

All groups or clubs who expect to have pictures taken in a body will also make engagements at once so as not to delay the work on the Kentuckian staff.

John Whitaker has charge of all clubs on the campus and such organizations who will have names of officers, etc., will see him pertaining to such.

It is the staff's aim to make this year's annual the best and most original one that has ever been produced. Of course this is at all times the staff's aim, but without the co-operation of the student body this can not be done. Let us all get behind the staff and see that this year's Kentuckian "goes over the top."

HISTORY CLUB MEETS AND ELECTS OFFICERS

The History Club of the University held its first meeting for the year in Dr. Tutthill's rooms in the Administration building, at 3:35 p. m., October 16.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: H. A. Taylor president; Estell Kelsell, vice president; Mable Coates, secretary; A. R. Perkins, reporter.

After the election of officers the program for the year was discussed. It was decided to work by studying the lives of great historians. The club will meet the first Monday in each month.

After the business session Dr. Tutthill was asked to make the opening remarks for the club. In the remark Dr. Tutthill stressed the importance of preserving papers, books and various old records. Just to show the value of such preservation, Dr. Tutthill said it would be impossible to write a history of Kentucky, since we had not kept the records.

The club has been organized primarily to collect, study and promote a greater interest in history. All students that have history as a major subject are expected to join the club. Other students interested are requested to come to the club.

WILDCAT BATTLES TIGER AT GEORGETOWN SAT 21; FIRST TRIP OF SEASON

Cammack, Russell, Martin and Sanders Are Missing on Account of Injuries

TIGERS OUTWEIGH CATS

Su-Ky Charters Car to Convey Blue and White Supporters to Hinton Field

The Wildcat will leave his native haunts for the first time this year, tomorrow when the Kentucky eleven invades the lair of the Georgetown Tigers for a gridiron tilt. Neither team has been defeated this year and a furious battle should result. The Wildcats have not been scored on thus far and will battle hard tomorrow to keep that reputation.

Due to several injuries to members of the Blue and White squad the Wildcats will present a patched up lineup in the Tiger battle. The Scott county lads, however, are not expected to furnish serious opposition, and the Cats should keep a clean slate.

The Cats have been showing considerable improvement in all departments of the game, especially in interference. In the scrimmages during the past week the Blue and White backs have been showing wonderful interference, the backs gaining considerable ground.

The Cats will be minus the services of Cammack, Russell, Martin and possibly Sanders. Cammack and Russell are recovering from injuries received over a week ago, and Martin suffered a torn ligament in his shoulder in practice last Monday. Sanders has a bad finger and will probably be given a rest Saturday. The other positions, however, will be filled by regulars.

The two teams will be about equally matched in weight in the line, but the Georgetown team will outweigh the Cats about six pounds in the backfield.

Makes Good Showing Against Rival Universities at St. Paul Meet.

The dairy judging team of the University of Kentucky, under the supervision of Professor J. J. Hooper, is returning from St. Paul, Minn., where it participated in the National Dairy Show. The team, which is composed of J. Humphrey, W. S. Anderson and R. D. Shipman, made an excellent showing as a team and also individually.

Twenty teams participated in the contest and the University of Kentucky stood tenth in the final ranking. The Blue and White cattle judges went ahead of strong teams like Kansas, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Illinois. The Kentuckians were fourth on Guernsey cattle and seventh on Holsteins.

J. Humphrey stood out as the individual star of the team. Of some sixty-odd judges, Humphrey tied the high man for first place on Holstein cattle. He also ranked thirteenth on all classes of cattle. Shipman came sixth on Holsteins and forty-eighth on all classes, while Anderson came thirty-third in the final ranking on all classes of cattle.

NOTICE!

The Phoenix Hotel has leased a wire from Boston, on which they will receive the returns of the Harvard-Center game which will be played tomorrow. The returns will be flashed on a board in the lobby of the hotel. The students are cordially invited to come down and get results.

FARQUHAR LECTURES ON FRIENDSHIP

Says, "Be Noble and Nobleness That Lies in Others Will Rise To Meet Your Own."

As a prelude to the matriculation lecture conducted by Dean Boyd October 12 for the Arts and Science Freshmen, Professor Lampert gave a delightful rendition of several waltzes which have been developed from early Austrian folk songs. In these selections he interpreted the various and vivid emotions of the Austrian people.

Following Professor E. F. Farquhar delivered a lecture on friendship, elucidating the human relationship worthy of that appellation. His advice to the students of the University is that of Polonius to Laertes in Hamlet:

"The friends thou hast, and their adoption tried, Grapple them to thy soul with hoops of steel, But do not dull thy palm with entertainment Of each new hatched, unfledged comrade."

He declared that friendship is an ideal which lasts, and not merely the fabrication of imagination. As concrete evidence, he recounted many friendships between men which endured and were sincere in the face of any test, at a time when the world was young. He spoke especially of the struggle in the mind of Brutus between friendship for Caesar and duty to his state; which circumstance shows friendship to be one of the big determining factors in the lives of the strongest men. However ideal friendship does not terminate in the time of Caesar. It is a relation which all sustain and which enters into the society of today. Friendship is idealism of the human heart. Shakespeare's sonnets that throb with such warmth of feeling deal with love between men; while the Quakers made a religion of friendship in their idealization of peace, gentleness, kindness and justice.

But genuine friendship has its price. Popularity founded on wealth or momentary attractions is wrongly designated by those who call it "friendship." It has no relation to that ideal. Friendships are not formed in a moment; if real they are built on the solid foundation of mutual respect, and heart to heart sympathy, and once formed are characterized by constancy, not broken by a whim but strengthened by each test. It is not friendship which vanishes in the face of sacrifice and turns cold at the hint of need. That is friendship which displays its willingness, ay even desire, to sacrifice, to be of service in time of distress, and which welcomes the opportunity to prove its sincerity. It is in time of want it

DR. FORTUNE SPEAKS TO FRESHMEN ON BENEFITS OF COLLEGE EDUCATION

Building of Soul's Mansion is Subject Taken For Address in Chapel.

WE MUST BUILD OUR OWN

"Not Until Pleasures of Life Are Given Up Can We Hope to Be Educated."

Dr. Fortune, pastor of the Central Christian Church, addressed the Freshman Class of the University of Kentucky in chapel Tuesday morning. After reading the fifty-fifth chapter of Isaiah, Dr. Fortune led in prayer followed by the Lord's Prayer in which the students joined. He chose for his subject, "The Building of the Soul's Mansion."

In passing through a town we see many houses; some are hovels in alleys, others mansions on the avenues; some are prisonlike and repel us, others are homelike and invite us. In these houses people live. Where the soul of a person lives is invisible to us. A man may live in a mansion but his soul may live in a hovel. We have to build our own soul's mansion. Oliver Wendell Holmes in the last verse of "The Chambered Nautilus" says:

Build thee more stately mansions, O my Soul,
As the swift seasons roll,
Leave thy low-vaulted past,
Let each new temple nobler than the last,
Shut thee from heaven with a dome more vast,
Till thou at length art free,
Leaving thine outgrown shell by life's unresting sea.

CATHOLIC CLUB WILL MEET SUNDAY, OCT. 22

Officers to Be Elected at Assembly Rooms on Barr Street

The Catholic Club of the University of Kentucky which was organized last spring with a membership of more than 100, will meet at the Assembly rooms on Barr street at 10:30 Sunday morning. Miss Kitty Conroy, vice-president, will preside at the meeting instead of the president, "Jack" Griffin, who was graduated last June. A successor to Mr. Griffin will be elected from the senior male members of the Club at the meeting Sunday and the offices of vice-president, secretary, treasurer and members of standing committees will also be named.

The Reverend W. T. Punch, pastor of St. Peter's Church and chaplain of the club announced the meeting at all services at his church last Sunday and extended an invitation to all Catholic students of the University, resident and non-resident of Lexington, to attend the meeting Sunday and become regular members. The calendar of the Club calls for one monthly meeting to be held at the Assembly rooms on Sunday morning, the date to be determined by the chaplain, and other meetings for business or amusement may be planned to suit the members.

BOOSTING SPIRIT WINS

Lexington Club Opens Season With Enthusiastic Luncheon

Everybody likes a winner was the thought undercurrent at the Lexington Alumni Club luncheon at the Lafayette Hotel Saturday, the first of the season.

Knowledge of such things as "Alma Mater, the largest institution in Kentucky," "The best coaching staff in the state," mentioned in the short talks of speakers at the luncheon seemed to bring new enthusiasm to those at the luncheon, the largest crowd of the year.

Coach Juneau made a pleasing talk emphasizing especially the psychology of football and the value of an alumni and student body who always boost.

The Lexington Club has launched a membership drive, the plans of which were explained at the luncheon. There will be forty workers in the field during the month.

A new Kentucky song, composed by Professor Carl Lampert, head of the Department of Music, was introduced at the luncheon. The melody still haunts those who heard it. Professor Lampert will make the arrangement for band and orchestra and perhaps have it ready for the Georgetown game Saturday.

"Prexy" Is In Demand

An education survey of the State of Oklahoma was begun this week, with President McVey in charge, devoting his personal attention especially to higher education in the state. He was granted a three weeks leave of absence by the Board of Trustees.

Several calls for "Prexy's" time have come in the last few weeks, some of them of a permanent character, but no comment has come from "The Old Man's Office." The problem of education in Kentucky, which a body of loyal and enthusiastic alumni are ready to help in solving has proved an effective challenge to a real leader.

o-o-o

The Kentuckian

Many views on the characteristics of "The Kentuckian" have been expressed in answer to the query contained in a recent Kernel. The most satisfying of these is from the pen of Thomas R. Underwood, managing editor of the Lexington Herald, one of the most brilliant young editorial writers in the state:

"With the courage Kenton taught them and the cunning of 'the men who rode with Morgan,' with the deals of knights of old reborn in young and vigorous bodies, with well trained minds that will stamp out the slander of 'illiteracy in Kentucky,' with a vision that sees beyond the blue haze that hangs over Cumberland Gap and past the Father of Waters to the westward, yet with a never failing love for the 'Old Kentucky home' immortalized in song and story, with imagination like that which led to the invention of the first steamboat in Kentucky and to the first locomotive ever run successfully in western America in this commonwealth, the young Kentuckian may not fear that he will go unrecognized before the world. . . ."

"In bringing about the time when the 'Kentucky man' should loom forth as a man, apart in the nation because he stands for something, the University of Kentucky can play a great part. What of the Kentuckian of today? Of tomorrow? May the past be to him an inspiration, the present a step by which to grasp the future's glorious hopes."

Extension Fund Grows

"A few of us have underwritten New York's quota. You can have it whenever you need it," writes Howard P. Ingels. The Alumni Executive Committee at a recent session worked out a plan for some special efforts in the interest of the University, explained in a message from President Rodman Wiley to local chairmen in each of the alumni clubs.

The response has been prompt. Checks both large and small have reached the office of the Secretary in the last few days. A full report will be made by President Wiley's committee when the work has been done.

"Enclosed find two dollars to keep this 'hoss' in the corral. Please discard my pre-war title of Assistant Professor of German. After being on such friendly terms with French and the French for six or eight years, especially this summer, the old title is misapplied and besides, my little daughter does not like it," writes John T. Gunn, Professor of Modern Languages, Purdue University. Residence—733 N. Grant St., West Lafayette, Ind.

"The Kernel, which I receive regularly, has renewed my interest in the University. I trust that it will continue to be as interesting a publication as it has been during the past year and that you will be able to secure sufficient subscriptions to guarantee its future publication."—G. F. Mason (with H. J. Heinz Corporation, San Francisco), address, 1916 Napa street, Berkeley, Calif.

'04

"The Kernel is indeed a credit to the student body as well as the alumni and should be encouraged by all. It is the most welcome visitor at our house every week. I trust you will reach your 2,000 mark in membership in the very near future and extend my very best wishes for the Association in general."—H. Skillman Fry (H. C. Fry Glass Company) address 334 Deer Lane, Rochester, Penna.

'05

"I can't resist the cold weather appeal. Many good wishes for the University's prosperity."—Mrs. Clarence E. Case (Anna Gist Rogers), Somerville, N. J.
 Hugh Joseph Tomlinson is draftsman engineer for the Rathburn-Jones Engineering Company, Toledo, Ohio. Residence 1830 Princeton Drive.

'06

One of the regulars is Harold E. Stevens. He was connected with the Florida Experiment Station as Plant Pathologist for a while and is now Agricultural Advisor of Lee County, address Box 596, Ft. Myers, Fla.

"You have my best wishes for success in your work, which should result in a bigger and better Alumni Association and agreat University of Kentucky."—Wylie B. Wendt, professor of Civil Engineering, South Dakota State School of Mines, Rapid City, S. D.

Miss Mary E. Sweeney has accepted the office of executive secretary of the American Home Economics Association. Her term as president of that organization having expired in August. The new office will bring Miss Sweeney in contact with all other important organizations of women, having secretarial offices in Washington, D. C.

"I fully appreciate what the Association is doing for our Alma Mater," writes Mrs. E. Oppenheimer (Goldye Lazarus), one of the faithful ones. Mrs. Oppenheimer lives at Mission, Texas.

"I know your difficulties as Secretary of the Alumni Association are great, so hasten to send check for dues. Highway work in Oklahoma is on the increase so I do not know when I shall get back to Kentucky."—L. S. Boggess (Oklahoma Department of Highways) Freedom, Okla.

"I enjoy the Kernel very much," writes Miss Bell Ingels (ex-'08). Miss Ingels severed her connection with Lincoln School, Lexington, during the world war and entered Y. W. C. A. service. She is now general secretary and acting resident secretary of the Y. W. C. A., Hot Springs, National Park, Ark.

Leo Brewer is a member of the firm of Robertson & Brewer, attorneys, 701 Maverick building, San Antonio, Texas. He is also assistant District Attorney.

"Wishing the Association and the University all the luck in the world."—Mrs. Harry Linville (Henrietta Oberdorfer ex-'09), Paris, Ky.

"Please address my Kernel to residence—820 Lincoln Ave., St. Paul, Minn., where I will have more time to peruse the activities of the Wildcats." E. P. Perrine, vice-president of the Standard Conveyor Co., North St. Paul.

'10

S. E. Caudill is still with the State Highway Department, and is now located at Winifred, Ala.

'11

"I feel like a youth again while reading the Kernel, and am much gratified at the growth and efficiency of the Alumni Association."—J. O. Lewis, (teaching in public schools) —520 Locust St., Owensboro, Ky.

'12

"Enclose check. This is a duty long neglected and I do not want it to happen again. Please send football schedule."—W. C. Harrison, Room 223, New York Hall, Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Ky.

'13

"It certainly is gratifying to see Kentucky alumni standing together. Here's hoping for a victorious year for the Wildcats."—John Rollie Foster, Supt. Benton Coal Mining Co., Benton, Ill.

"Almost forgot my alumni dues, but here she is. Wouldn't miss the Kernel for five times that amount."—Robert L. Ehrlich. Slim is "still lifting Missouri out of the mud" and has recently been made Resident Engineer in charge of all State Road work in Newton and McDonald counties—address Box 892, Neosho, Mo.

"Recently received your driver sheet, so I'm kicking in the two dollars to get an opportunity to read about the 'Old School.' Please send all back numbers. Am here superintending the construction of a new dormitory for Carleton College."—R. Lavercombe, ex-15. Address 200 Nevada St., Northfield, Minn.

The marriage of Miss Pearl Allene Bastin to Dr. Harry G. Herring, was solemnized at the Sinton Hotel, Cincinnati, October 16. They will make their home in Lexington, where the bridegroom is prominent in the medical profession.

"Your patriotic plea for the range rider without 'hosses' was irresistible, and I could not help but hasten to gallop into the corral. Please do not herd me with the mules. Best

SOCIETY

In his room at night the freshman sits
Imbibing knowledge bit by bit;
The clock strikes eight, he heaves a sigh,
And looks at the bed with longing eye.

He wavers between books and sleep,
Trying hard his thoughts to keep;
But the battle's lost ere it begins,
And he resigns with a sheepish grin.

"I'll rise before the dawn," thinks he,
"And then my task will easy be;"
So he sets the alarm for four A. M.
And falls asleep to dream of fame.

About the time his dreams begin,
He wakes at the sound of an awful din,
His mind confused, he sits upright,
Grabs that clock and shuts it off tight.

After he stops the horrible noise
He goes right back to dreamland's joys,
The clock ticks on with steady beat,
And steadily the time does fleet.

Alas! when Fresh again awakes
He looks about, and then he quakes;
The sun high on its course has far'd,
And its time for class that's not pre-par'd. E. O'H.

Delegates to District Meeting

The woman's club of the University held their first regular meeting Friday at Patterson Hall with a business session and a social hour. Mrs. J. D. Healy presided. There was a large number present and important business discussed. Delegates and alternates were appointed to represent the Dantzer and Mrs. George Roberts; the alternates, Mrs. E. A. Bureau, Mrs. Eugene S. Perry, Mrs. Daniel Terrell, Mrs. W. T. Lafferty and Mrs. Brinkley Barnett, will go to the convention as members of the district board.

Mrs. Paul Boyd and other members of the club expect to attend. The program of beautiful music followed the business session. Mrs. L. L. Dantzer, whose voice is more lovely than ever, sang:
Dawn ----- Pearl Curran
Pale Moon ----- Logan

Prof. H. S. Wolfe played delightfully on the violin, with accompaniments by Miss Trumble, of the university, at the piano.

For the social hour the hostesses were: Mrs. S. C. Jones, Mrs. W. N. Webb, Mrs. Morton Davis, Mrs. H. S. Garside, Mrs. L. G. Kent, Mrs. Edward Tuthill.

The decorations were of dahlias and cosmos, the delicious refreshments were served. The meeting was held in the attractive recreation hall.

Deans of Women to Meet

Miss Frances Jewell, dean of women of the University of Kentucky, Miss Alice Karr, dean of Hamilton College and Miss Myrna Boyce, of Transylvania College, will attend the annual meeting of the Kentucky Deans of Women at the Eastern Kentucky Normal School at Richmond Friday and Saturday.

Miss Jewell, who is president of the organization, will preside and the sessions will be devoted largely to open discussion of problems of women students at colleges and universities. Miss Marie Roberts, dean of women at the Normal School, will be host to the visitors, and they will be entertained Friday night at Sullivan Hall.

Informal Tea

Mrs. B. T. Martin, house mother for Alpha Gamma Delta, invited the resident chaperons of the other women's fraternity houses in for a cup of tea Monday afternoon.

The informal hospitality included Mesdames Anna Connor, Lila Bradford, Dan Chenault, R. L. Slade, Mary Taylor, Lydia Brown; Misses Frances Jewell, Adelaide Crane, Josephine Hughes, Dora Berkley.

Miss Gladys Pugh, of Union Springs, Ala., who has been a guest at the Kappa Delta fraternity house for several weeks, will leave Tuesday to resume her inspection tour of chapter houses in the East.

Engineers Convocation Day.

The weekly convocation day, when problems of interest to the College of Engineering, University of Kentucky, are discussed by students in classes or assembly, was held Thursday.

Professor L. S. O'Bannon spoke on "The Essentials of Engineering Education" to seniors in the mechanical and electrical engineering department; the junior mechanical and electrical engineers heard Professor Charles H. Anderson on "Railroad Practice." Professor T. J. Barr spoke to the sophomores and Mr. J. B. Dicker, superintendent of shops, to freshmen. Junior and senior mining engineers were addressed by Professor C. J. Norwood and upper classmen the department of civil engineering by Mr. M. Alperin.

On Motor Trip

Miss Mamie Miller Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Frazer of Mt. Sterling, and Mr. Robert Trimble left Thursday for a motor trip to Boston, Mass., to attend the football game Saturday between Center College and Harvard University teams. From Boston they will go to Buffalo, New York and Niagara Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Frazer are visiting in Kentucky, having arrived recently from South Africa where Mr. Frazer represents a prominent business corporation, and is now on a vacation.

U. K. Fraternity Home-Coming

November 4 has been selected by the social fraternities, both men and women, for their fall re-union in connection with plans for the Home-Coming football game when the Wildcats meet Center's Colonels on Stoll Field. Everything will be informal until after the game when a dance will be given at one of the hotels in honor of the visitors.

Invitations to Tea

The Woman's Club of the University of Kentucky has issued most attractive invitations for a tea this afternoon, 4 to 6 o'clock for all of the women of the University, students, faculty and faculty wives.

The bids are adorned with sketches of tea pot and cups, and the following verse:
The weather man predicts a shower
Next Friday, four to six the hour—
A shower of cups and saucers blue
And silver spoons—just one for you.

The President's office is the place
You with your presence are to grace,
And by the shower refreshed you'll be
Because we'll fill your cup with tea.

Party for Fraternity Pledges

The pledges of Kappa Delta fraternity will entertain Thursday afternoon with a tea at the chapter house on East Maxwell street in courtesy of the pledges of the other women's fraternities on the campus.

Sigma Nu House Dance

A delightful affair of last week was the house dance with which the members of the Sigma Nu fraternity entertained Saturday night in honor of the pledges.

It was one of the largest informal dances of the season and was beautifully planned. The chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Martin, of Louisville; Mr. and Mrs. Guy Hugel, Mrs. Nannie G. Faulconer, Miss Marguerite McLaughlin and Mr. Carol Sax.

The guests were Misses Kathryn Fuller, Margaret Lavin, Amy Turley, Rachelle Chacklette, Louis Duncan Brown, Margaret Chenault, Margaret Turley, Frances Ripy, Helen James, Emily Conley, Mary Walton, Louise Connel, Helen Arthur, Anna Louise Singleton, LaVerne Purcell, Jane Curle Walker, Ruth Gorman, Frances Halbut, Joelyn Webb, Marie Beck-

POLITICS IN CLASS ELECTIONS

As announced in the Kernel last week by the Men's Student Council, all petitions for class elections were to have been turned into its office within a certain time before students in question were eligible to become candidates for offices. That is to say, a student announces his or her candidacy by having twenty friends sign the petition as a necessary preliminary act.

It is not the purpose of the Kernel at this time to criticize adversely a student organization, but it does believe that such a custom is more likely to invoke politics, than the manner in which the elections have been conducted in previous years. In using this method which has been in actual practice for the last two years, isn't it true that the best politician rather than the most popular or even the most competent person for the office is elected?

In our opinion there is no just cause for politics in class elections. We do believe and advocate that class meetings be called and officers elected by popular vote, without resorting to political propaganda and log-rolling through fraternity advantage.

Have we not reached a point where we may courageously forget social affiliations; when various colleges upon the campus may unite in electing the most representative student, rather than pulling against one another? In such struggles the class not infrequently bows to the will of the shrewdest and most clever politician, and the prime purpose, that of electing competent leaders for class activities, is entirely ignored.

HOLD 'EM CENTER

The strong Center College football team, of Danville will invade a foreign athletic field tomorrow, in a clash with Harvard for the supremacy of the Northern gridiron. Altho V. P. I. eleven scored on the Colonels last Saturday the losers went down in defeat by the close margin of 10 to 6.

In spite of the fact that Center has always been a rival of the University of Kentucky in all athletic contests and will probably continue so long, as we participate in such events within the State. But when this team invades foreign fields local rivalry is forgotten and the student body of the University of Kentucky is behind the Colonels to a man.

Thousands of persons will witness the Center-Harvard game tomorrow, the majority of whom will be in sympathy with the Northern team. This will, of course, be of a disadvantage to the Colonels, but in spite of this fact the Kernel is hopeful that this team which has brought glory to its college and to the Commonwealth will be victorious and that it will retain its high standard.

The Colonels are to do battle against a worthy foe, one that is accustomed to victory, and expects victory in this encounter, and it is the Kernel's sincere wish that the Center team will carry its indomitable fighting spirit to Harvard and give a good account of itself in the great struggle that awaits it.

"Fight, Center, Fight!"

A MATTER OF PLAIN DUTY

The Kernel is frank to say it is not satisfied, in fact, a much displeased with the manner in which the various University divisions have failed to co-operate with this publication in supplying it with material. In our first issue we asked that all those having news of interest to students and alumni to call this office and have a reporter or some one come after such news.

It is our desire that every college be represented fully and fairly in the Kernel, but without the aid of the heads of various departments this cannot be done. While students in the Department of Journalism bear the brunt of Kernel service, it is not limited to this department and it is our wish that all other departments co-operate better than they have co-operated this year.

BRUCE IS APPOINTED LAW JOURNAL EDITOR

New Staff Plans Change in Publication to Meet Growing Needs.

The following men have been selected by the faculty of the College of Law as the staff of the Kentucky Law Journal for the coming year: J. G. Bruce, editor-in-chief; G. W. Meuth, business manager; C. M. C. Porter and J. W. Cammack, assistant business managers; L. C. Fielder, Elbert Sparks, Roy Moreland and Philip T. Powell, editorial department; J. B. Caudel, John Hays, C. H. Lisman, W. H. Smith, J. B. Nickell, R. O. Shehan, S. B. Neal, O. W. Cain and W. C. Pickett, case comment department. The staff of the Journal is selected each year by the faculty of the College of Law upon the basis of scholarship. Dr. W. Lewis Roberts has been appointed as faculty adviser.

The staff is planning a reorganization of the Kentucky Law Journal in order to meet the advancing standards and growing needs of the College of Law and of the State Bar. It will be the endeavor of the Journal to establish more cordial and mutually helpful relations between the law school and the members of the bar and to place the Kentucky Law Journal upon a par with like publications of the leading law schools.

ENGINEERING NOTES

Thursday at the fifth hour the Freshmen Engineers held their second meeting of the year. The meeting opened with a short address by Dean Anderson, which was followed by a motion picture "Behind the Button." This picture explained all or most all of the electric apparatus that is so necessary to our modern homes.

The remainder of the hour was taken up with the organization of the freshmen into an Engineering Society. The constitution and by-laws will be drawn up at the next meeting to be held at the fifth hour, Thursday, October 19.

The Engineering Faculty Club met last Wednesday night in Dicker Hall. They were addressed by Dr. Funkhouser. Refreshments were served and an enjoyable time had by all.

The Radio Club of the University will be open to the public at four o'clock Sunday afternoon. Programs of all the large broad casting stations will be received, especially the program that is broadcasted by station WHAS. of Louisville.

From now on the station will be open every night. Everybody is invited to come over and listen to the programs.

ing one's finances but it does still more; education enriches the soul, forcing us to build a larger mansion in which the soul must abide. Literature and History push out the walls of small hovels and enlarge them; science teaches knowledge of the universe. James Russell Lowell says: "You do not go to college to earn your bread but to make each mouthful sweeter to your taste."

When a man builds a house—the more costly it is the more care he takes that nothing should mar it. Education is costly. Books are expensive and it takes time and energy to master their contents. A passing mark is easily attained but not until we have given up the pleasures of life and have striven to learn—can we hope to be educated.

MILITARY NOTES

Major A. S. J. Tucker is back on the campus, having returned Saturday from Washington, D. C., where he was in the Walter Reed General Hospital. He will take charge of his classes sometime this week.

The University of Kentucky rifle team will be organized as soon as the cadets have secured their uniforms. A great many challenges have been coming in to Captain Torrence from other universities. Captain Torrence will be assisted in the coaching of the team by Captain Byrd. The girls' rifle team which was organized last year has received several challenges and will be reorganized Monday at the sixth hour by Miss Blanding. All upper class girls who are interested please see Miss Blanding.

MARY CAMPBELL SCOTT PRAISED BY ARTISTS

Will Give Vocal Lessons at the University

Miss Mary Campbell Scott has studied with some of the best teachers in the country, chief among whom are Lino Mattioli, Cincinnati, the noted Italian voice builder and Charles Norman Granville, Chicago, the eminent well-known vocal teacher and opera coach, also Horatio Carroll, Philadelphia (master of diction and interpretation); Frederick Shattuck, New York City, accompanist-coach. These instructors were greatly pleased with Miss Scott's work and highly recommended her.

For several years she has had splendid results with voice pupils. Besides teacher she is at present director of church choir of sixteen voices and correspondent for the well-known musical paper "Musical America."

ROUNDING INTO FORM

Injured Wildcats Are Ready For Baptist Eleven

With Saunders on the side lines nourishing a broken finger which he received in the scrap with the Louisville game Saturday, the rest of the Wildcat squad is fast rounding into form and Coach Juneau will send the complete first team into action against Georgetown Tigers Saturday. Although Coaches Juneau, Winn and Bucheit are not expecting a hard battle with the Baptist eleven, they are intending to give the first stringers plenty of action for the good that will be derived from the struggle.

RHODES CANDIDATES NAMED

"WORD MONGERS" and "CHATTERING BARBERS"

"Word mongers," and "chattering barbers," Gilbert called those of his predecessors who asserted that a wound made by a magnetized needle was painless, that a magnet will attract silver, that the diamond will draw iron, that the magnet thirsts and dies in the absence of iron, that a magnet, pulverized and taken with sweetened water, will cure headaches and prevent fat.

Before Gilbert died in 1603, he had done much to explain magnetism and electricity through experiment. He found that by hammering iron held in a magnetic meridian it can be magnetized. He discovered that the compass needle is controlled by the earth's magnetism and that one magnet can remagnetize another that has lost its power. He noted the common electrical attraction of rubbed bodies, among them diamonds, as well as glass, crystals, and stones, and was the first to study electricity as a distinct force.

"Nor in books, but in things themselves, look for knowledge," he shouted. This man helped to revolutionize methods of thinking—helped to make electricity what it has become. His fellow men were little concerned with him and his experiments. "Will Queen Elizabeth marry—and whom?" they were asking.

Elizabeth's flirtations mean little to us. Gilbert's method means much. It is the method that has made modern electricity what it has become, the method which enabled the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company to discover new electrical principles now applied in transmitting power for hundreds of miles, in lighting homes electrically, in aiding physicians with the X-rays, in freeing civilization from drudgery.

Y. M. & Y. W. NOTES

Last Friday evening an unheard of thing occurred in Patterson Hall when the silence of the quiet hour was rudely broken at 9:30 o'clock by the clanging of the bell that is accustomed to ring at 6:30 a. m. and at meal time. In answer to it girls came trooping down the stairs, out into the yard and to the tennis court back of the Hall where the Y. W. C. A. cabinet girls had built a huge bon-fire which was then shooting upward mingling its glow with the light of the stars, revealing an abundant supply of "weinnies", buns and marshmallows. When the "weinie" were roasted, the marshmallows toasted and eaten, Elizabeth Hume, president of the Y. W. C. A. checked the merriment of the crowd and outlined the purpose of the Y. W. and urged every girl present to become a member of the association. Membership cards were distributed and practically every girl present became a Y. W. C. A. member.

More fuel was piled on the fire which had burned to a pile of coals and by the light of the flames Lucile Bush read a selection of scripture. Elizabeth Hume offered a short prayer and then the evening watch service closed with "Now the Day is Over."

Lucile Youngblut, undergraduate representative, who was chosen on the student council at Blue Ridge last spring, because of the favorable impression she made at the Hot Springs conference, has returned from the Student Council conference in Atlanta, Georgia, which was held over last week-end. Lucile has brought back with her new inspiration and interest which every Y. W. C. A. member wants to receive from her. She will speak of her trip and the conference at the meeting in Patterson Hall on Sunday evening.

Miss A. E. Crane, who was for two years during the war engaged in relief work in the Near East, told of her experiences in an Asia Minor refugee camp at the regular meeting of Y. W. C. A. last Sunday evening.

Miss Crane told of the horrible conditions then prevailing in the Near East and reminded her audience that the distressing fact is that conditions there are no better today—perhaps worse.

Last year the girls of the three dormitories guided by Miss Crane, dressed dolls which sold for $80, enough to support a Near East orphan for one year. Miss Crane suggested that the girls devise a plan for supporting the orphan another year.

REWARD OFFERED

Miss Mamie Hedrick of 413 East Maxwell has offered a liberal reward for the return of a sterling silver mesh bag which she lost Thursday, October 12. Miss Hedrick had the purse when she went to the rest room at White Hall for the noon hour Thursday and can not recall having it since then. The bag was a gift and very valuable and contained a leather change purse, a fountain pen and about $4 in silver and paper money. Miss Hedrick would very much appreciate any information concerning the bag and does not care at all about its contents.

"The Thirteenth Chair," last year's annual Stroller production, which was presented with so much success, will be repeated before a Frankfort audience next Friday night, October 27, at the Frankfort theatre. Arrangements are under way to present the production in several other towns, but no definite schedule has been arranged.

Changing the Basis

"Mr. Smith," a man asked his tailor, "how is it you have not called on me for my account?" "Oh, I never ask a gentleman for money." "Indeed! How then, do you get on if he doesn't pay?" "Why," replied the tailor, hesitating, "after a certain time I conclude he is not a gentleman, and then I ask him."—Harper's Magazine.

CAMPUS CHATTER

Dr. M. Hume Bedford is in Louisville this week attending a meeting of the Grand Lodge of Kentucky, F. and A. M.

Dr. P. K. Holmes is on a five days leave of absence to attend the National Public Health Association Convention, which is being held at Cleveland, O., and the annual State Medical Society meeting, at Paducah, Ky.

News has been received from Miss Louise Dwyer, graduate assistant in the department of English here last year, that she is enjoying her work at the University of Wisconsin very much, but that despite this, Wisconsin is not Kentucky. Her address is 138 E. Johnson St., Madison, Wis.

Dr. Frank T. McFarland, head of the Department of Botany, was elected to membership in the "Societe de Pathologie Vegetale," of France, at their last meeting.

This society is to the plant pathologists of France what the "Phytopathological Society" is to the American plant pathologist. Doctor McFarland has been a member of this last organization since 1915.

Doctor Foex, director of the Plant Pathology Department, Experiment Station, Paris, France, will read a paper written by Dr. McFarland, before the next meeting of the society, and a written review of it will appear in its next issue.

Mr. George Schulz, of Louisville, Ky., has given the botanical garden a nice collection of beautiful irises, amounting to about thirty plants. He writes that his interests are with us, and promises to contribute such other varieties as they buy and receive.

A new course has been added to the department of music in the form of piano lessons. These lessons are being given by Miss Triplett, who is a graduate of the Chicago Conservatory of Music, and taught there in 1921. Any person desiring further information about the matter are requested to see Prof. Lampert. Students please get behind this movement and help us put old U. K. out in front along musical lines.

JUNIOR ELECT OFFICERS FOR THE CLASS OF 1923

friendship has value to both giver and receiver.

Platonic friendship is an ideal relation between men and women. When a man admires a woman's beauty, admires her attributes, he wishes to possess them. From this wish is born the inspiration to achieve greatness and distinction in his profession to match the commendable qualities of the woman, and if the woman uses her charm to lead man to greater achievements, she is a real friend and has done her duty. That which we admire, we imitate and emulate. We seek to identify ourselves with greatness; therefore to draw people and draw the best, we must accept the challenge to superiority, and exceed in some quality or achievement. Since some people bring out the best in us and some the worst, the greatest thing is to know ourselves, then to found friendships upon mental communications and congeniality rather than sense experience. Farquhar gave the clue to founding of real friendships in the words, "Be noble, and the nobleness that in others lie will rise to meet your own."

Miss McLaughlin Gives Talk at Midweek Y. W. C. A. Service

Miss Marguerite McLaughlin, of the Department of Journalism, was the speaker at the mid-week meeting of the Y. W. C. A., last Friday, the fifth hour in White Hall.

She told the girls of the importance of keeping up their church connection while in college and stressed the need of religious worship and inspiration in the daily life. Her enjoyable talk was followed by a violin selection by Jennie Lou Stampler, accompanied at the piano by Edith Roland.

The usual meeting will be held today from 11:50 to 12:15. A good program has been arranged and all girls interested in Y. W. work are asked to be present.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB ORGANIZED—PROGRAM

detown, Frankfort and Richmond. Requests are being received for concerts this year. Last year the good work of the Glee Club was evident in the production of "The Mikado" and there is a determination to do even better this year.

Many of the old men did not return this year and Professor Lampert desires all men who can play a banjo, piano or any other instrument or who can as much as carry a tune, report Wednesday, October 25, on the third floor of White Hall. First meeting will be for registration only and no tryouts will be made.

A club of twenty or more is desired for the regular club and all who have any musical talent whatever should be present. The program in previous years consisted of such features as Hawaiian trio, vocal quartet, saxophone sextet, vocal soloists, a whistling solo, etc. The director will appreciate any musical stunt by any person or persons who are not members.

A regular gold "K" pin is to be given corresponding to a letter in athletics. The trips are financed by sponsors in the various towns and this year by the added fifty cents to the registration fee.

The Glee Club has that length of time upon the campus that makes it appear in many ways as solid and permanent as the institution itself those who have had the honor of making it look back upon its tours and trips, its pleasures and memories of good fellowship, as the brightest of their school career. Ex-members in the various parts of the state and even the Alumni club of many of the large Eastern cities, Philadelphia, New York, Pittsburg and Washington, have expressed a desire for the club to visit them. These desires of old students are to be satisfied as soon as possible and the men who are in the club and who make the club become enthused with the idea that they are at once messengers of good cheer, and reminders to old U. of K. students of their happy school days, and missionaries in the sense that they are spreading the gospel of higher education to some of our luke warm friends out of the state.

Last spring the club met and the following officers were selected for this year, any one of them will be glad to give any desired information to those wishing it: Earl Baughman, president; Robert L. Porter, vice-president; Robert Clem, secretary; Elbert DeCoursey, publicity.

OCTOBER 27

The date of the popularity election has been changed from Monday, as announced last week to Friday, October 27.

A ballot box will be placed in the main building and the students have the privilege of voting for six of their favorites.

No votes will be counted unless signed by a student of the University. No fictitious names can be used, as the votes will be checked with the books in the Registrar's office.

WE BELIEVE IN STATE UNIVERSITY and we want to be of service to the University and to the students.

If we serve you well we will have no need to worry about our getting our share of your patronage.

If we do not serve you well we do not deserve it.
