Dear Sir:-

In reply to your communication of the 14th inst., I have the honor to inform you that the Chief Signal Officer had decided to locate the station of this Service at Lexington, Ky., in the College building at that place, as desired by you; but he is temporarily absent. Upon his return, the matter will be placed before him for his final decision.

As the observations are not to be telegraphed from Lexington, there seems to be no necessity for being near the telegraph office. By having the office in the College building there would be no charge for rent and Senator Beck's wishes would be gratified.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
BUREAU OF INSULAR AFFAIRS,
WASHINGTON.

B.I.A. 78

Sir:

The educational work in the Philippines is of great importance. The people have shown their appreciation, children have crowded the school houses and taxed the facilities which the financial condition of the insular government permitted it to provide. The results of the work have been gratifying. The instruction is in English and natives are being trained to teach, not alone by normal schools and other classes, but also by the direct supervisory control of the American teachers in charge of the schools in the various localities.

More American teachers are needed. They are appointed under the merit (or civil service) system. May I ask you to read this circular letter and give as much publicity as possible to the opportunity afforded by the January examinations, to the end that any senior students or recent graduates of your institution who may be so inclined may make application to the Civil Service Commission and take the examinations?

As nearly as can be estimated now about 120 teachers will be needed at the beginning of the next school year, which opens on June 9, 1907. Appointees to these positions should arrive in the Philippines in time to begin the school work with the beginning of the session, and this will require those appointed to leave the United States not later than the month of April. The fact that a student of your school does not graduate until a month or two after April will be no hindrance to his appointment, and in such case it is possible you can arrange for his graduation with his class at the proper time although absent under these circumstances.

Of the 120 to be selected, about 50 will be appointed at annual salaries of $1200 each and the majority of the others at $1000 per annum.

The Director of Education states, - "We never needed a high class of young men for the educational work as we need them now. Our experience is that education and character count in our work in the Philippines more than actual experience in teaching."

He also says, - "We will need a limited number of women teachers, especially those who are able to teach domestic science or have the necessary ability to conduct girls' dormitories."

Those passing the examination will be eligible for appointment within a year, but this period may be extended to two years. It is probable that in addition to the number required at the beginning of the year other appointments will be made from time to time, so that a person who cannot leave as early as April should not on that account neglect this opportunity of competing if he desires to go at a later date.

The inclosed announcements will afford information as to the method of making application.

Very respectfully,

Brigadier General, U. S. Army,
Chief of Bureau.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE ADJUTANT GENERAL,
WASHINGTON.

March 15, 1904.

The President,

Agricultural and Mechanical College of Kentucky,
Lexington, Kentucky.

Sir:

Referring to War Department General Orders, No. 6, August 24, 1903, as modified by General Orders, No. 39, March 2, 1904, War Department, (copy herewith), I am instructed by the Chief of Staff to communicate to you the following:

1. The object of the above mentioned general order is, as stated in its terms, to encourage interest, application and proficiency in military training and knowledge in civil institutions at which officers of the Army are detailed under the provisions of existing law. To this end, one second lieutenancy is annually offered to a graduate of each of six of said civil institutions subject to certain conditions set forth in the order.

2. These second lieutenancies are offered subject to the provisions of existing law.

Paragraph 26, Army Regulations, embodying the provisions of the Act of June 18, 1878, modified by the Act of July 30, 1892, reads as follows:

"Vacancies in the grade of second lieutenant existing on the first day of July each year are filled by appointment, in order, as follows: (1) From graduates of the United States Military Academy; (2) from enlisted men of the Army found duly qualified; (3) from civil life."

Further provisions are embodied in the Act of Congress approved March 2, 1899, set forth in General Orders, No. 71, A. G. O., 1902 (copy herewith).

From the above mentioned acts it will appear that the second lieutenancies referred to in War Department General Orders, No. 6 of 1903, and No. 39 of 1904, are subject to the limitations imposed by law for appointments to the Army from civil life. They are as follows:

- a. That there shall exist one or more vacancies after the graduates of the Military Academy and the qualified enlisted men have been provided for;
- b. That any student recommended as hereinbelow provided, shall agree to take the prescribed examination;
- c. That he shall be unmarried;

d. That he shall have reached the age of twenty-one years and shall not have passed the age of twenty-seven years;

e. That he shall be a citizen of the United States (Par. 33, A. R.);

f. That he shall pass a satisfactory examination as to his moral, physical and educational qualifications.

3. The classification of civil institutions for the purpose of determining the six which comply with the conditions of War Department General Order No. 6, 1903, will be made annually, as a result of a rigid inspection by officers designated for that purpose by the Secretary of War, which inspections will be made between the first of April each year and the close of the school term of that year.

4. No institution which does not fully comply with the requirements of General Orders, No. 94, A. G. O., 1902, or other orders which may be issued by the War Department on the subject; which does not grade the department of military science and tactics equally with the other important branches of instruction, and which does not make proficiency on the part of the students who take the course in said department of military science and tactics a requisite for securing a diploma, will be considered for classification.

5. It will be noted that General Orders, No. 94, 1902, prescribes a minimum length of time and course of instruction in the military department of civil institutions. In making the annual classification due consideration will be given to any institution which voluntarily exceeds the minimum so prescribed.

6. The students recommended for appointment each year must belong to the graduating class of that year.

7. No student shall be recommended who has not taken the course in the department of military science and tactics, and who is not also an honor graduate of the institution.

8. No student shall be recommended whose habits and moral conduct are not of the highest order, nor one who is not known to be physically sound.

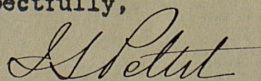

9. Prior to the close of the school term of each year the War Department will notify the heads of the institutions which constitute the first six in the classified list of that year. As soon as practicable after the close of the school term the head of the institution and the officer of the Army in charge of the department of military science and tactics will, after careful consideration of the qualifications of the members of the graduating class, jointly recommend to the Secretary of War those two members of the class who in their judgment, and in accordance with the preceding conditions, are best qualified for appointment as second lieutenants in the Army and who desire to take the examination necessary for appointment. In making the recommendation careful consideration will be given (1) to the standing of the student in the military department, and (2) to his standing in the other departments of instruction at the institution, it being understood that the term "honor graduate" includes any graduate who, under whatever system of grading may be employed at the institution, would rank as one of the first five of his class. If the recommendations are approved by the War Department both students will be permitted to compete for the second lieutenancy allotted that year to the institution from which nominated. If the head of the institution and the head of the department of military science and tactics cannot agree upon the names of two students, they will make their recommendations separately, giving in each case all the data necessary for the War Department to determine the selection.

10. After the recommendations have been received at the War Department and duly considered, notification will be sent to the head of the institution of the action ordered by the Secretary of War, together with instructions for the further guidance of individuals concerned.

11. If less than six vacancies exist in any year, after the graduates of the U. S. Military Academy of that year and the qualified enlisted men have been provided for, said vacancies shall be assigned to the corresponding number of institutions beginning with the highest in the classification of that year.

Very respectfully,

Assistant Adjutant General.

Sir:

I am directed by the Inspector General to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 19th instant, returning Captain Mc Kenna's report on the condition of Government property at your college; and to inform you that "accoutrements", as applied to ordnance stores, do not include rifles and bayonets, which latter are classed as small arms, consequently your conclusions that "25 bayonets and scabbards and 90 sets of infantry accoutrements added to the 210 complete sets of accoutrements would make 325 rifles and accoutrements", are only correct so far as bayonet scabbards (classed as accoutrements) are concerned. The report has been returned to the Inspector for correction in this particular. The 300 rifles appear to be properly accounted for, as follows: 275 serviceable and 25 without bayonets.
