

ANNUAL REPORTS

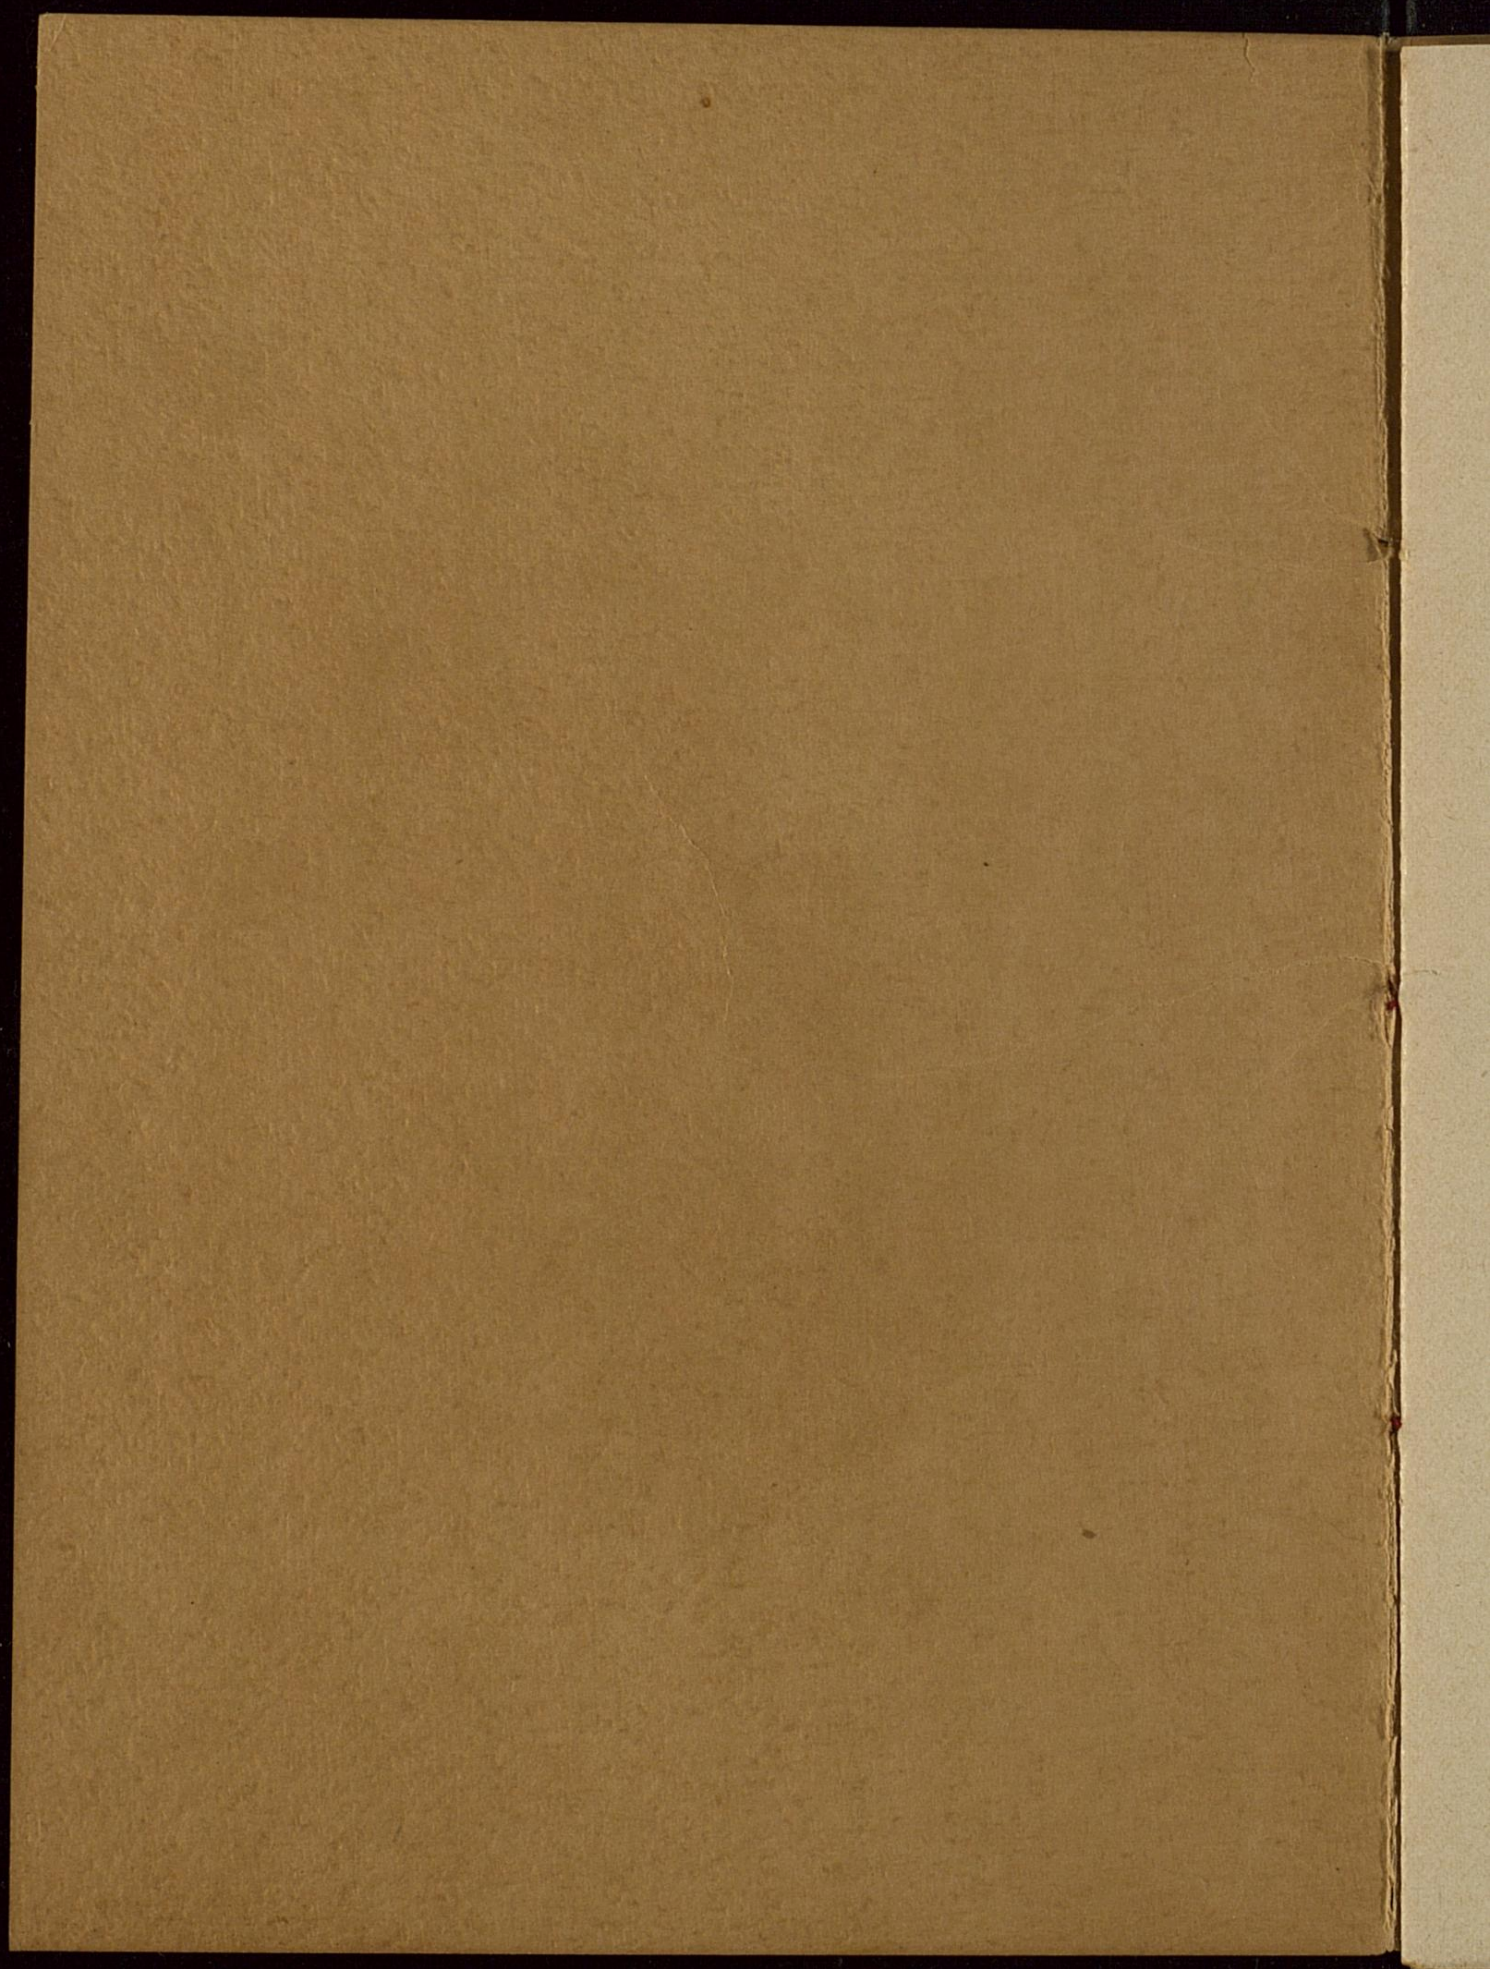

—OF THE—

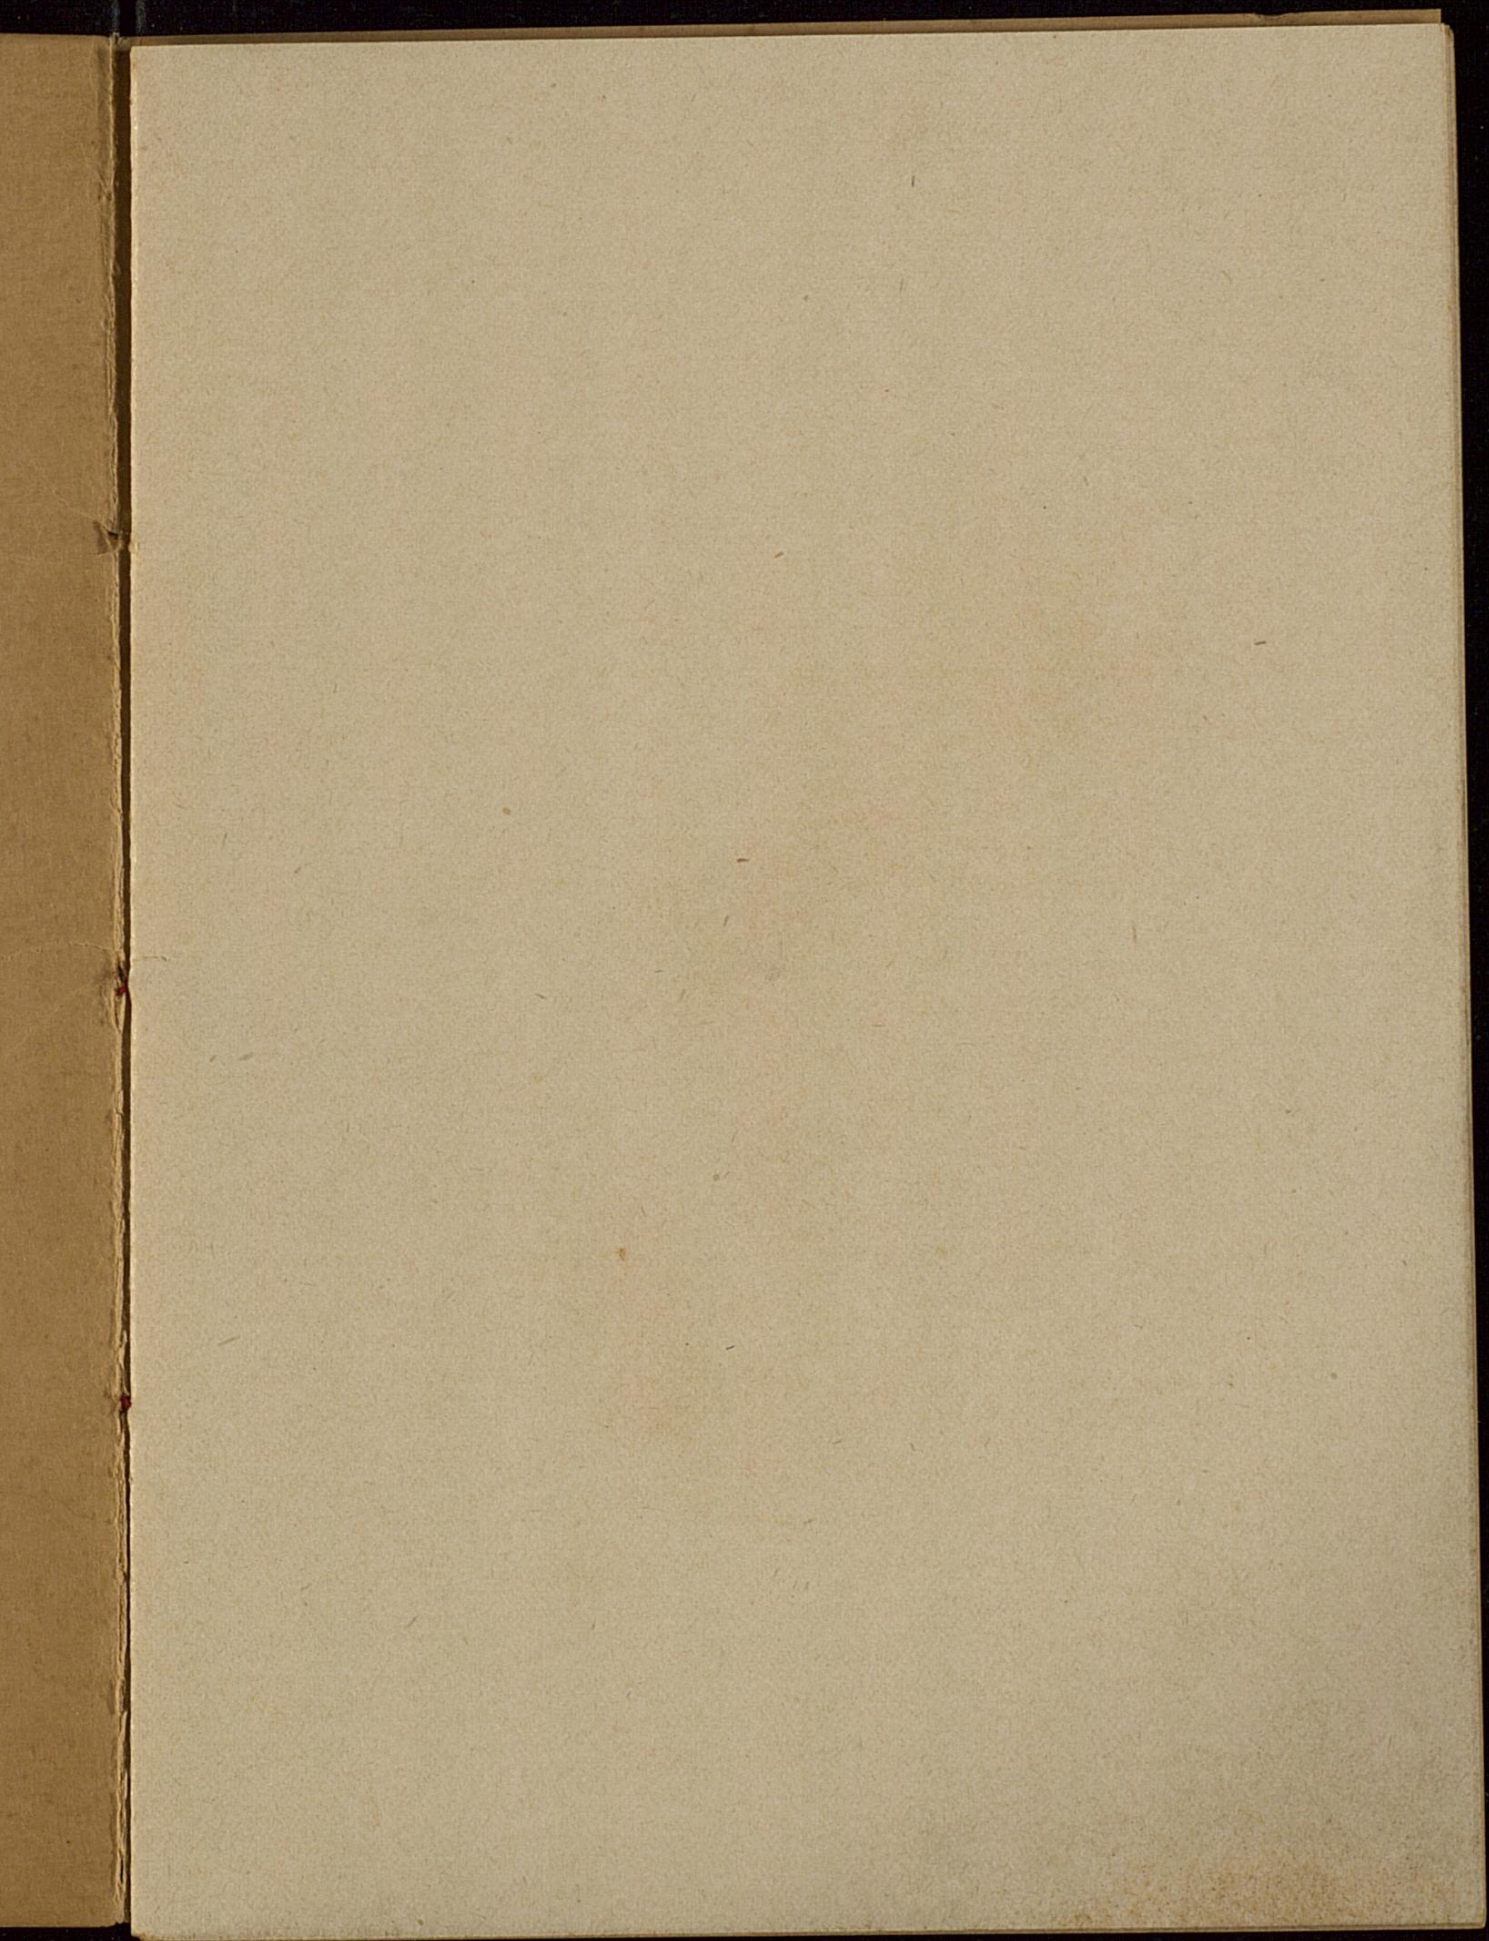

Association of Alumni

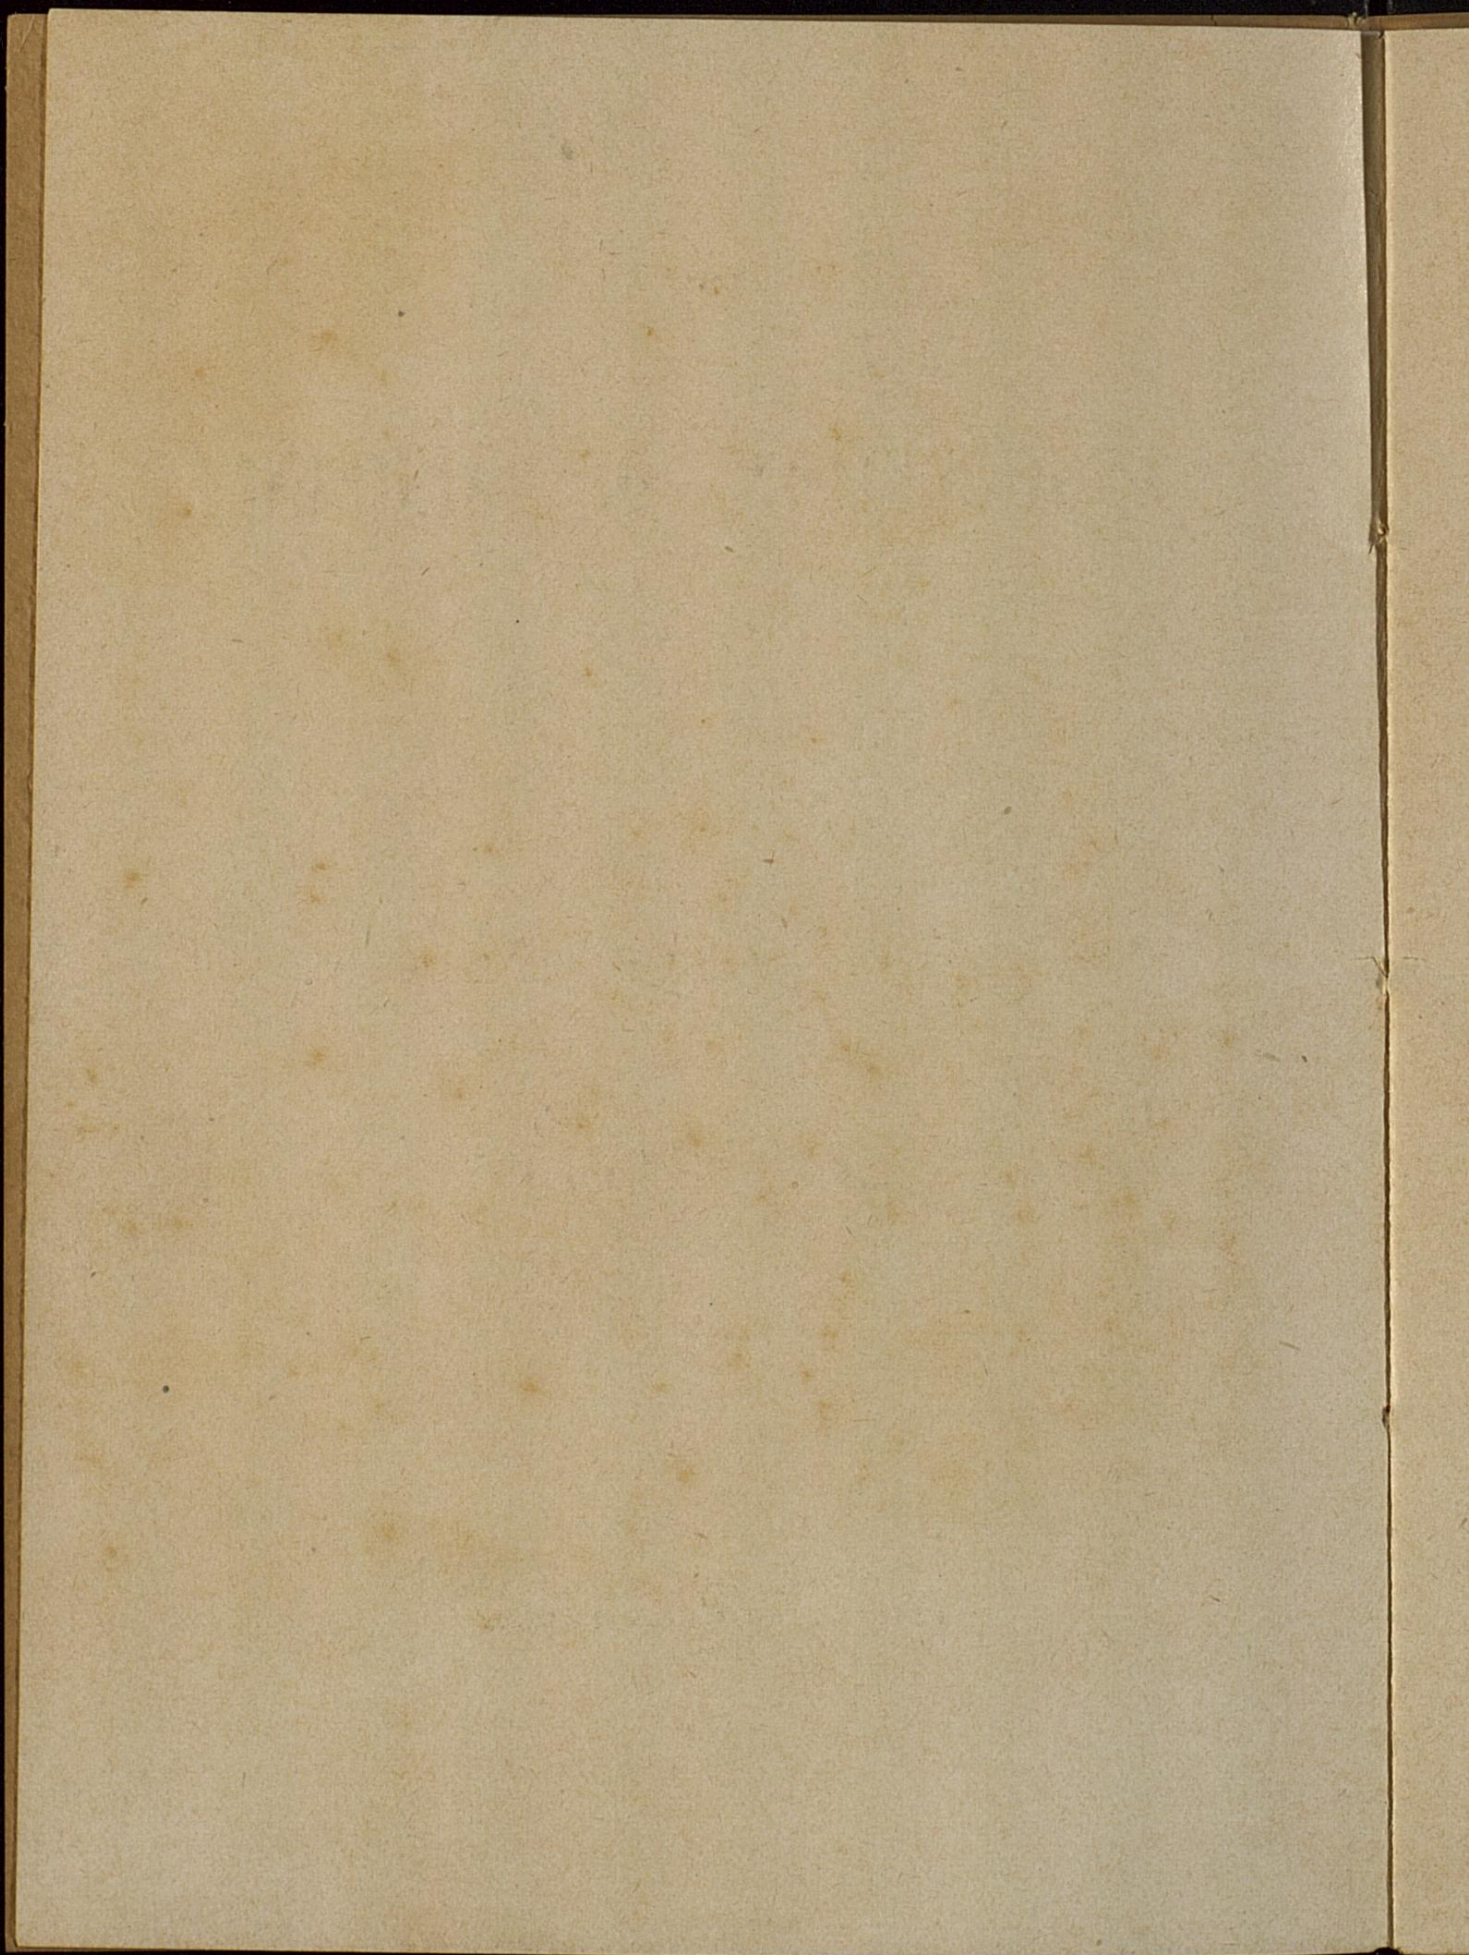

—OF THE—

STATE COLLEGE OF KENTUCKY.

1893, 1894 and 1895.

THE
ASSOCIATION OF ALUMNI

OF THE

STATE COLLEGE OF KENTUCKY.

1893-1894-1895.

LEXINGTON, KY. :
TRANSYLVANIA PRINTING CO.,
1896.

OFFICERS.

1893.

M. L. PENCE,	-	-	-	-	President.
FRANKLIN FLOETE,	-	-	-	-	Vice-President.
R. T. ANDERSON,	-	-	-	-	Treasurer.
F. C. ELKIN,	-	-	-	-	Secretary.

LEXINGTON, KY.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

W. R. WALLIS, Chairman.
W. A. PATTERSON,
H. E. CURTIS,
GEORGE G. BRYAN,
R. B. WALKER.

1894.

FRANKLIN FLOETE,	-	-	-	-	President.
H. E. CURTIS,	-	-	-	-	Vice-President.
R. T. ANDERSON,	-	-	-	-	Treasurer.
H. M. GUNN,	-	-	-	-	Secretary.

LEXINGTON, KY.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

A. M. PETER, Chairman.
F. C. ELKIN,
J. H. KASTLE,
V. E. MUNCY,
MILFORD WHITE.

1895.

FRANKLIN FLOETE,	-	-	-	-	President.
H. E. CURTIS,	-	-	-	-	Vice-President.
R. T. ANDERSON,	-	-	-	-	Treasurer.
V. E. MUNCY,	-	-	-	-	Secretary.

LEXINGTON, KY.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

J. H. KASTLE, Chairman.
W. R. WALLIS,
F. C. ELKIN,
A. M. PETER,
M. L. PENCE.

ANNUAL REPORTS
OF THE
ALUMNI ASSOCIATION,
OF THE
STATE COLLEGE OF KENTUCKY.

For the Years 1893, 1894 and 1895.

BUSINESS MEETING, 1893.

The annual business meeting of the Association took place in the Chemical Lecture room of the College, at 3 p. m. May 31, 1893.

In the absence of President Munson, the meeting was called to order by Vice-President Pence.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved, as were likewise the minutes of the Executive Committee.

The following amendments to the constitution were unanimously adopted:

Sec. I, Art. XI., to read: "Upon becoming a member of the Association, each graduate shall pay an initiation fee of five dollars ($5.00), the annual dues being one dollar ($1.00), payable on or before the day of the annual meeting in each year thereafter."

Sec. II, Art. X., to read as follows: "All regular graduates of the State College of Kentucky may become regular members by payment of the initiation fee provided for in Sec. I, Art. XI."

Sec. 8, Art. I, By-laws to read: "Installation of officers."

The Treasurer's report showed one dollar and nine cents ($1.09) in the treasury, the money for the present year not yet having been paid over to him by the Secretary.

The following officers were unanimously chosen for the ensuing year:

President—M. L. Pence, Lexington, Ky.

Vice President—Franklin Floete, Spencer, Iowa.

Treasurer—R. T. Anderson, Lexington, Ky.

Secretary—F. C. Elkin, Lexington, Ky.

Executive Committee—W. R. Wallis, Chairman, W. A. Patterson, H. E. Curtis, Geo. G. Bryan and R. B. Walker.

M. L. PENCE, President.

F. C. ELKIN, Secretary.

THE BANQUET.

The Alumni banquet was given on Wednesday evening in honor of the class of '93, and although rain fell in torrents during the entire evening, about one hundred and fifty guests were present. Two long tables forming an oblique cross in the chapel were beautifully decorated with potted plants and cut flowers.

Dr. J. H. Kastle was toast master and proposed the following toasts, which were responded to by the gentlemen whose names respectively follow :

"Poem," John Patterson, class of '82.

"Our Alma Mater," L. K. de Roode, class of '82.

"The Story of Mr. Mauzaize," W. A. Patterson, class of '89.

"Our Association," Geo. G. Bryan, class of '88.

"Class of '93," H. M. Gunn, class of '93.

"The President and Faculty," President James K. Patterson.

"The Board of Trustees," Col. Hart Gibson.

BUSINESS MEETING 1894.

The Association met in regular annual session, in the Lecture room of the Department of Chemistry, at 3 p. m., June 6.

The meeting was called to order by President Pence.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The Executive Committee and also a special committee submitted reports, which were received and approved. The Treasurer reported an indebtedness of thirty-seven dollars ($37.00), on account of the Banquet of 1893. He also reported that the said sum had been paid entirely by a subscription made by the resident Alumni, leaving a balance of thirty-nine cents in the Treasury.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—Franklin Floete, Spencer, Ia.

Vice-President—Henry E. Curtis, Lexington, Ky.

Treasurer—R. T. Anderson, Lexington, Ky.

Secretary—Henry M. Gunn, Lexington, Ky.

Executive Committee--A. M. Peter, Chairman, F. C. Elkin, J. H. Kastle, V. E. Muncy, of Lexington, Ky., and Milford White, of Williamsburg, Ky.

It was the sense of the meeting that the action of May 31, '93, making the initiation fee five dollars ($5.00), should be rescinded.

Under the head of "new business" ordered that the question of reducing the annual dues from one dollar to fifty cents, and also the question of reducing the initiation fee from five dollars to fifty cents, be referred to the Executive Committee with power to act.

By a unanimous vote, the chairman was authorized to appoint a committee from the Association to draft appropriate resolutions touching the death of F. C. Reynolds, also a notice of the death of Professor F. M. Helveti, an honorary member of the Association.

The chair appointed F. C. Elkin and B. T. Southgate, who reported as follows:

WHEREAS, It has pleased the all wise Ruler of the lives and affairs of men, to remove from our number, our friend and associate, Frank C. Reynolds, now therefore, be it Resolved. 1. That the Alumni Association of the State College of Kentucky, has received with deep sorrow the intelligence of the death of Frank C. Reynolds, of the class of '92.

2. That the memory of Frank C. Reynolds deserves to be cherished by the members of this Association, who knew him as a genial companion, a warm hearted friend and a faithful student.

3. That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this Association.

4. That a copy of these resolutions be tendered to the family of our deceased friend with the expression of the earnest condolences of this Association.

The following from the pen of Prof. J. H. Neville relative to Prof. Helveti, was reported by the Committee:

Francois Marie Helveti, soldier, scholar, gentleman.

Born in Silesia about 1823; Maj. and Lt. Col. in the Federal Army, 1861-1865; Prof. of French and German in this college, 1869-'94; died in St. Joseph's Hospital, Lexington, April 25, 1894.

As a professor he was accomplished, able and efficient; as a citizen he fulfilled every duty to his adopted country; as a man he was universally respected.

His colleagues knew his worth, deplore his loss, and pay this tribute to his memory.

H. M. GUNN, Secretary.

THE BANQUET.

The banquet in honor of the class of '94 was given on Wednesday evening June 6, in the drawing room of the Mechanical Hall. One hundred and twenty guests were present.

Small tables were arranged in lines presenting a careless, but elegant symmetry. Cut flowers in profusion decorated all. Behind a specially arranged support, rising in receding steps, and hidden by what seemed like a forest of palms, ferns and other plants, was seated the band from which came the strains of sweetest music. The menu was elegant.

Wm. A. Patterson, of the class of '89 was toast master. Always graceful and dignified, his reputation was, on this occasion, admirably maintained. After some happy and very appropriate remarks he proposed as toasts the following:

"The Class of '94, "The Alumnae." "The Highest Culture," The Alumni," and "The Board of Trustees," to which J. M. Hays of the class '94, Prof. Blanton, J. H. Kastle, class of '84, George G. Bryan class of '88 and Dr. J. D. Clardy, respectively responded.

The resident Alumni were invited to attend a banquet given on May 14, 1894, by the Faculty, to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of President Patterson's presidency of the College. The Alumni, desiring to recognize the event appropriately, appointed a committee, who prepared the following memorial, which was handsomely engrossed by J. R. Scott, and presented to the President on this occasion, in a graceful speech by L. K. deRoode.

"To James K. Patterson, for five and twenty years, president of the A. & M. College of Kentucky, we its Alumni, desire to express our appreciation of his undaunted efforts in its behalf, his unfailing confidence in its ultimate success and his unwavering fidelity to the cause of its advancement, which have characterized the life work of our loved President. In his continued successful leadership, we wish him God-speed, and the fullest realization of his chiefest aspiration, to bring to a still higher degree of prosperity our dear Alma Mater."

[Signed] J. R. SCOTT, Chairman }
J. H. KASTLE, }
A. M. PETER, } Committee of the
L. K. DEROODE, } Alumni.
F. C. ELKIN. }

J. H. Kastle spoke to the toast "Our Future," and Miss Emma R. Griffing responded to "The Class of '94."

In the effort to give the proceedings of three years in one report, lack of space prevents formal notice of a number of interesting events, among others may be mentioned the Encampment, the annual Field Day Exercises, in which some exceptionally good records were made, the Annual Class Day Exercises, the Commencement Exercises, and the annual receptions given by President and Mrs. Patterson.

BUSINESS MEETING 1895.

The members of the Association met in regular annual session for the transaction of business, in the Chemical Library room, at 3 p. m., June 5, 1895.

The meeting was called to order by Vice-President H. E. Curtis.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Dr. Peter Chairman of the Executive Committee reported that a meeting had been called on May 13th, for the purpose of considering the character and place of the entertainment to be given in honor of the class of '95. He reported that as a result of this and subsequent informal meetings, preparations had been made to give a banquet at the Navarre Cafe, but that on account of the serious illness of one of the members of the Association, all idea of the banquet was given up on Friday, May 31, and all invitations recalled.

He then formally called the attention of the Association to the death of Wm. A. Patterson on June 3rd, whereupon, on motion, the following resolutions, prepared by Messrs. H. E. Curtis, H. S. Berry, B. T. Southgate, J. H. Kastle and A. M. Peter, were unanimously adopted, and ordered spread upon the minutes:

WHEREAS, the Association of Alumni of the State College of Kentucky has received with deep sorrow the intelligence of the death of one of its most valued and highly esteemed members, Mr. William Andrew Patterson, of the class of '89; therefore be it

Resolved, that his memory be cherished by this Association on account of his high attainments, and for his many lovable traits of character, which endeared him to all of its members.

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved family, as an assurance of our heart-felt sympathy for them in their affliction.

Resolved, that these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the Association and published in the city papers.

It was also ordered that an appropriate sketch be prepared for publication in the annual report.

Dr. A. M. Peter contributed the following:

Entered into rest on the evening of June 3, 1895, William Andrew, only and beloved son of Mr. and Mrs. James K. Patterson. The sinking sun's last rays shed a mellow radiance over waving grass and fluttering trees, through which a soft June wind sang a requiem. A hush and calm seemed over all. No sound, save the quivering of the leaves, and the drowsy twitter of the birds among them. Amidst the sweet and holy calm, a sweet and gentle spirit took its flight.

William Andrew Patterson was born in Lexington, Ky., April 12, 1868. From earliest childhood he was his father's most constant companion, his confidant and friend. Very early he showed a wonderful memory, and soon acquired habits of thought far beyond his years. He graduated in the class of '89, and spent most of the following year in travel in Europe, with his father and mother. On his return in 1891, he was appointed assistant professor of English literature in the State College, and two years later became his father's assistant in history as well.

Most of us associate him in some way with our college days. Some of us recall the child seated proudly before his father on horseback, riding slowly in the shade of the old trees at "Woodland," some the modest and retiring youth, whose strong individuality attracts classmates and college friends; or the dignified young man, whose graceful manner and fluency of speech, have won him the position of toast-master upon some occasion of festivity. He possessed that rare gift of telling a good story in a way as original as it was finished, and a keen wit that was tempered by good taste. With his friends he was a delightful companion. We all keep a bright spot in our memory for him.

The following officers were unanimously elected for the ensuing year, viz:

President, Franklin Floete, Spencer, Iowa.

Vice-President—Henry E. Curtis, Lexington, Ky.

Treasurer—R. T. Anderson, Lexington, Ky.

Secretary—V. E. Muncy, Lexington, Ky.

Executive Committee—J. H. Kastle, Chairman, Lexington, Ky., W. R. Wallis, Lexington, Ky., F. C. Elkin, Lexington, Ky., A. M. Peter, Lexington, Ky., and M. L. Pence, Lexington, Ky.

On motion the meeting adjourned.

V. E. MUNCY, Secretary.

On account of the death of W. A. Patterson no banquet was given, and no commencement exercises were held. The members of the senior class, eighteen in number, with their friends met in the chapel at 10 a. m., June 6. The Vice-President, John Shackelford, conferred the degrees; Dr. Spurr, Chairman of the Board of Trustees, delivered the diplomas and all went quietly home.

ALUMNI DIRECTORY.

The Alumni are earnestly requested to report changes of address or occupation or any errors in this list promptly to the Secretary.

1869.

William Benjamin Munson, B. S., President of the Denison and Washita Valley Railway Company, Denison, Texas.

1870.

Thomas Volney Munson, B. S., M. S., '83, Proprietor of the Denison Nurseries, Denison, Texas.

1871.

Enoch Harding, B. S., Ft. Worth, Texas.

1874.

Robert Emmett Carswell, B. S.; L L. B., College of Law, K. U., 1876, Decatur, Texas.

John Allen Dean, B. S., Attorney at Law, Owensboro, Kentucky.

Thomas Rollins Hardin, B. S., M. S., '76., Teacher, Fort Jesup, La.

Edward Everett Smith, B. S., General Agent for D. C. Heath & Company, Atlanta, Georgia.

1875.

Edgar Thomas Brown, B. S., M. S., '77; Real Estate Broker, Wichita, Kansas.

1877.

Franklin Floete, B. S., Lumber Merchant, Spencer, Iowa.

Ballard Preston Ward, B. S., Farmer and Stockman, Speedwell, Va.

1878.

Moses Salvador Cole, B. S., not heard from.

Mahlon Mackie, B. S., deceased.

1879.

Napoleon Bonaparte Hays, B. S., M. S. '84, Attorney at Law, Pineville, Ky.

Henry Moses Wright, B. S., Attorney at Law, Rome, Georgia.

Caleb Sykes Perry, B. S., Principal Winfield Business College, Winfield, Kansas.

Charles Graham Blakeley, B. S., M. S., '84, Actuary Kansas Mutual Life Association, Topeka, Kansas.

1880.

James Crawford, B. S., Lexie, Tennessee.

Alfred Meredith Peter, B. S., M. S. '85, Chemist, Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station, State College, Lexington, Ky.

Nicholas John Weller, B. S., Attorney at Law, Pineville, Ky.

George Croghan Whatley, B. S., Birmingham, Alabama

1881.

Merry Lewis Pence, B. S., M. S. '85, Professor of Physics, State College, Lexington, Ky.

1882.

John Armstrong Shackelford, A. B., A. M. '86, Attorney at Law, Tacoma, Washington.

John Letcher Patterson, A. B., A. M. '86, A. B. Harvard '84. Professor of Ancient Languages, Louisville High School, Louisville, Ky.

John William Stoll, A. B., Teller Lexington City National Bank, Lexington, Ky.

Louis Kuinders, deRoode, A. B. A. M., '86, Lexington, Kentucky.

Edward Lee Rodgers, A. B., Stenographer, Cincinnati, Ohio.

George G. Berry, B. S., Revenue Service, Lexington, Kentucky.

1883.

James W. Taylor, A. B., St. Louis, Mo.

William Elijah King, B. S., Attorney at Law, Spokane Falls, Washington.

1884.

Burton Penderghast Eubank, B. S., Attorney at Law, Dallas, Texas.

Clarence Scott Graves, B. S., Steam Laundry, Lexington, Kentucky.

Henry Clay Jones, B. S., (deceased).

Joseph Hoeing Kastle, B. S., M. S. '86; Ph. D., Johns Hopkins '88, Professor of Chemistry, State College, Lexington, Ky.

Russell Thomas Ramsey, B. S., M. D., Cincinnati, Medical College, Physician, London, Ky.

Otis Violette Riley, B. S., Attorney at Law, Pineville, Ky.

1885.

Rudolph John Julius deRoode. B. S., M. S. '87; Ph. D., Johns Hopkins, '90, Chemist for Fraser & Co., 262 Fifth Avenue, New York.

George Thomas Gess, B. S., Attorney at law, Lexington, Ky.

J. Crittendon Gordon, B. S.

William David Lambuth, A. B.; B. L., M. L., Columbia Law School, Attorney at Law, Seattle, Washington.

James Russell Scott, B. S., Architect, Lexington, Ky.

William Garland Thornbury, B. S., Architect, Chicago, Illinois.

1886.

Thomas Hunt Morgan, B. S., M. S. '88; Ph. D., Johns Hopkins '90, Professor of Biology Bryn Mawr College, Bryn Mawr, Pa.

Robert Lee Prewitt, A. B., Walnut Hill, Ky.

William Prewitt, A. B., Attorney at Law, Fort Worth Texas.

1887.

Thomas Wheatley Shackelford, A. B., B. L. Ann Arbor, Attorney at Law, Superior, Wisconsin.

Kearney Lee Hifner, B. S., Farmer, South Elkhorn, Kentucky.

1888.

George Gist Bryan, B. S., Revenue Service, Lexington, Kentucky.

Fred Vincent Bartlett, B. S., Coal and Feed Merchant, Lexington, Ky.

Bell Clement Gunn, B. S., [Mrs. Charles S. Kay,] Springfield, Ohio.

Henry Ernest Curtis, B. S., M. S. '92, Chemist Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station, State College, Lexington, Ky.

Robert Treat Payne, B. S., Athens, Ky.
1889.

Hugh Miller Frazer, B. S., Student, Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Md.

Robert Bernie Walker, B. S., Book-keeper, Lexington, Kentucky.

Edward Ellershaw, A. B., A. M. '92, Attorney at Law, Digby, Nova Scotia.

William Andrew Patterson, B. S., (deceased.)

Anna Gist Prewitt, B. S., Walnut Hill, Ky.

1890.

Richard Thomas Anderson, Jr., B. S., Collector Fayette National Bank, Lexington, Ky.

Annie Jane Baker, B. S., [Mrs. J. N. Hawkins,] West Third St., Lexington, Ky.

Charles Robert Brock, B. S., Attorney at Law, London, Kentucky.

Keene Richard Forston, B. S., not heard from.

John W. Gunn, C. E., Civil Engineer, Lexington, Ky.

Charles Hoeing, A. B., A. M. '92, Student Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Md.

Margaret Agnes Wilson, B. S., Chicago, Ill.

James Anderson Yates, B. S., Professor of Chemistry and Natural History, Williamsburg College, Williamsburg, Ky.

1891.

B. Callie Warner, B. S., [Mrs. J. H. Kastle,] Lexington, Kentucky.

U. L. Clardy, B. S., Teacher, Newstead, Ky.

Henry Skillman Berry, B. S., Attorney at Law, Lexington, Ky.

William Russell Wallis, C. E., Civil Engineer, Lexington, Ky.

Victor Emanuel Muncy, B. S., Assistant in the Academy, State College, Lexington, Ky.

1892.

Frank Elmer Scovell, C. E., Miller, Rosehill, Ill.

William Seabury Page, C. E., Teacher, McMillins, Washington.

Frank Craig Reynolds, C. E., (deceased).

Isaac Prather Shelby, C. E., Mining Engineer, Grayson, Kentucky.

Samuel Lancaster Pottinger, A. B., M. D., Louisville, Medical College. Physician, Breckinridge St., Louisville, Kentucky.

Arthur Melville Cox, A. B., Attorney at Law, Cynthia, Kentucky.

John Gee Maxey, A. B., Tompkinsville, Ky.

Butler Turpin Southgate, A. B., Attorney at Law, Lexington, Ky.

Irene Leonora Hunt, B. S., Teacher, Briar Hill, Ky.

Hiram Shaw, Jr., B. S., Hatter and Furnisher, Lexington, Ky.

Fielding Clay Elkin, B. S., Attorney at Law, Lexington, Ky.

1893.

Katherine Inez Adams, B. S., [Mrs. Horton Moore,] Lexington, Ky.

John Irvin Bryan, B. S., B. M. E. '95, Revenue Cutter Service. San Francisco, Cal.

Edmund Courtney, B. Ped., Student Medicine, Louisville, Ky.

William Cott Hobdy, B. S., Student of Medicine, Columbia College, New York.

James Richard Johnson, B. M. E., Assistant in the Department of Mechanical Engineering, State College, Lexington, Ky.

John William McFarlin, B. S., Stenographer, Winchester, Ky.

Morton Sanders Railey, C. E., Geodetic Survey, Washington, D. C.

Daniel Stillwell Roberts, B. Ped., Student Post Graduate, State College, Lexington, Ky.

Denny Perryman Smith, B. S., Editor Kentucky Telephone, Cadiz, Ky.

Rosa Speyer, B. S., Teacher, Lexington, Ky.

Milford White, C. E., Professor of Mathematics in Williamsburg College, Williamsburg, Ky.

Benjamin Grant Willis, B. S., Clerk, Lexington, Ky.

Henry Martin Gunn, B. S., Teacher, Pine Grove, Ky.
Cora E. Ware, B. Ped., Teacher, Jackson, La.

1894.

Edwin Chesterfield Aulick, A. B., Teacher, Hightower,
Ky.

George Dickie Bradshaw, B. Ped., Teacher, Winchester,
Ky.

Edward Brand, A. B., Teacher, Muir, Kentucky.

Carlton Coleman Curtis, B. S., Lexington, Ky.

John Theodore Faig, B. M. E., Draughtsman for Lane and Bodley, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Ulysses Anderson Garred, B. M. E., with Aldrich Gas
Machine Company, Lexington, Ky.

James Morrison Hays, A. B., Teacher, Flat Lick, Ky.

Leonard Samuel Hughes, B. S., Student of Medicine,
Louisville, Ky.

Matison Boyd Jones, A. B., Teacher, Annville, Ky.

Benjamin Christopher Keiser, B. S., Chemist, 99th and Torrence Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

Lillie Kroesing, B. S., Stenographer, Lexington, Ky.

Nina Pearl Oots, B. S., Lexington, Ky.

Nathan Alexander Newton, B. M. E., Lexington, Ky.

Albert Clift Norman, B. M. E., Revenue Cutter Service
Savanah, Ga.

Katherine Shelby, B. S., Teacher, Lexington, Ky.

Dora Sledd, B. Ped.; Mrs. H. B., Robinson, 221 North
Upper St., Lexington, Ky.

William Clay Trigg, C. E., Civil Engineer, Pushmataha, Miss.

Hattie Hocker Warner, B. S., Lafolette, Tenn.

1895.

Mary Lyons Atkins, B. S., Post Graduate Course, State College, Lexington, Ky.

Henry Skillman Bush, B. S., Architect, Lexington, Ky.

Mary LeGrand Didlake, B. S., Post Graduate Course, State College, Lexington.

Joseph Milton Downing, B. M. E., Lexington, Ky.

John Vick Faulkner, C. E., Hampton, Ky.

Lucy Stuart Fitzhugh, A. B., Post Graduate Course, State College, Lexington, Ky.

Nettie Bell Foster, B. S., Lexington, Ky.

Elizabeth Whittington King, A. B., Teacher, Lexington, Ky.

Thomas Stone Lewis, A. B., Student of Medicine, Louisville, Ky.

James Asa McConathy, B. S., Kirklevington, Ky.

Mary Catherine McCoughliffe, B. S., Student, Business College, Lexington, Ky.

Paul Ingold Murrill, B. S., Assistant Chemist, State College, Lexington, Ky.

Roberta Newman, B. S., Muir, Ky.

Nellie Anna Reynolds, B. S., Post Graduate Course, State College, Lexington, Ky.

Richard Charles Stoll, A. B., Student of Law, Yale University, New Haven, Conn.

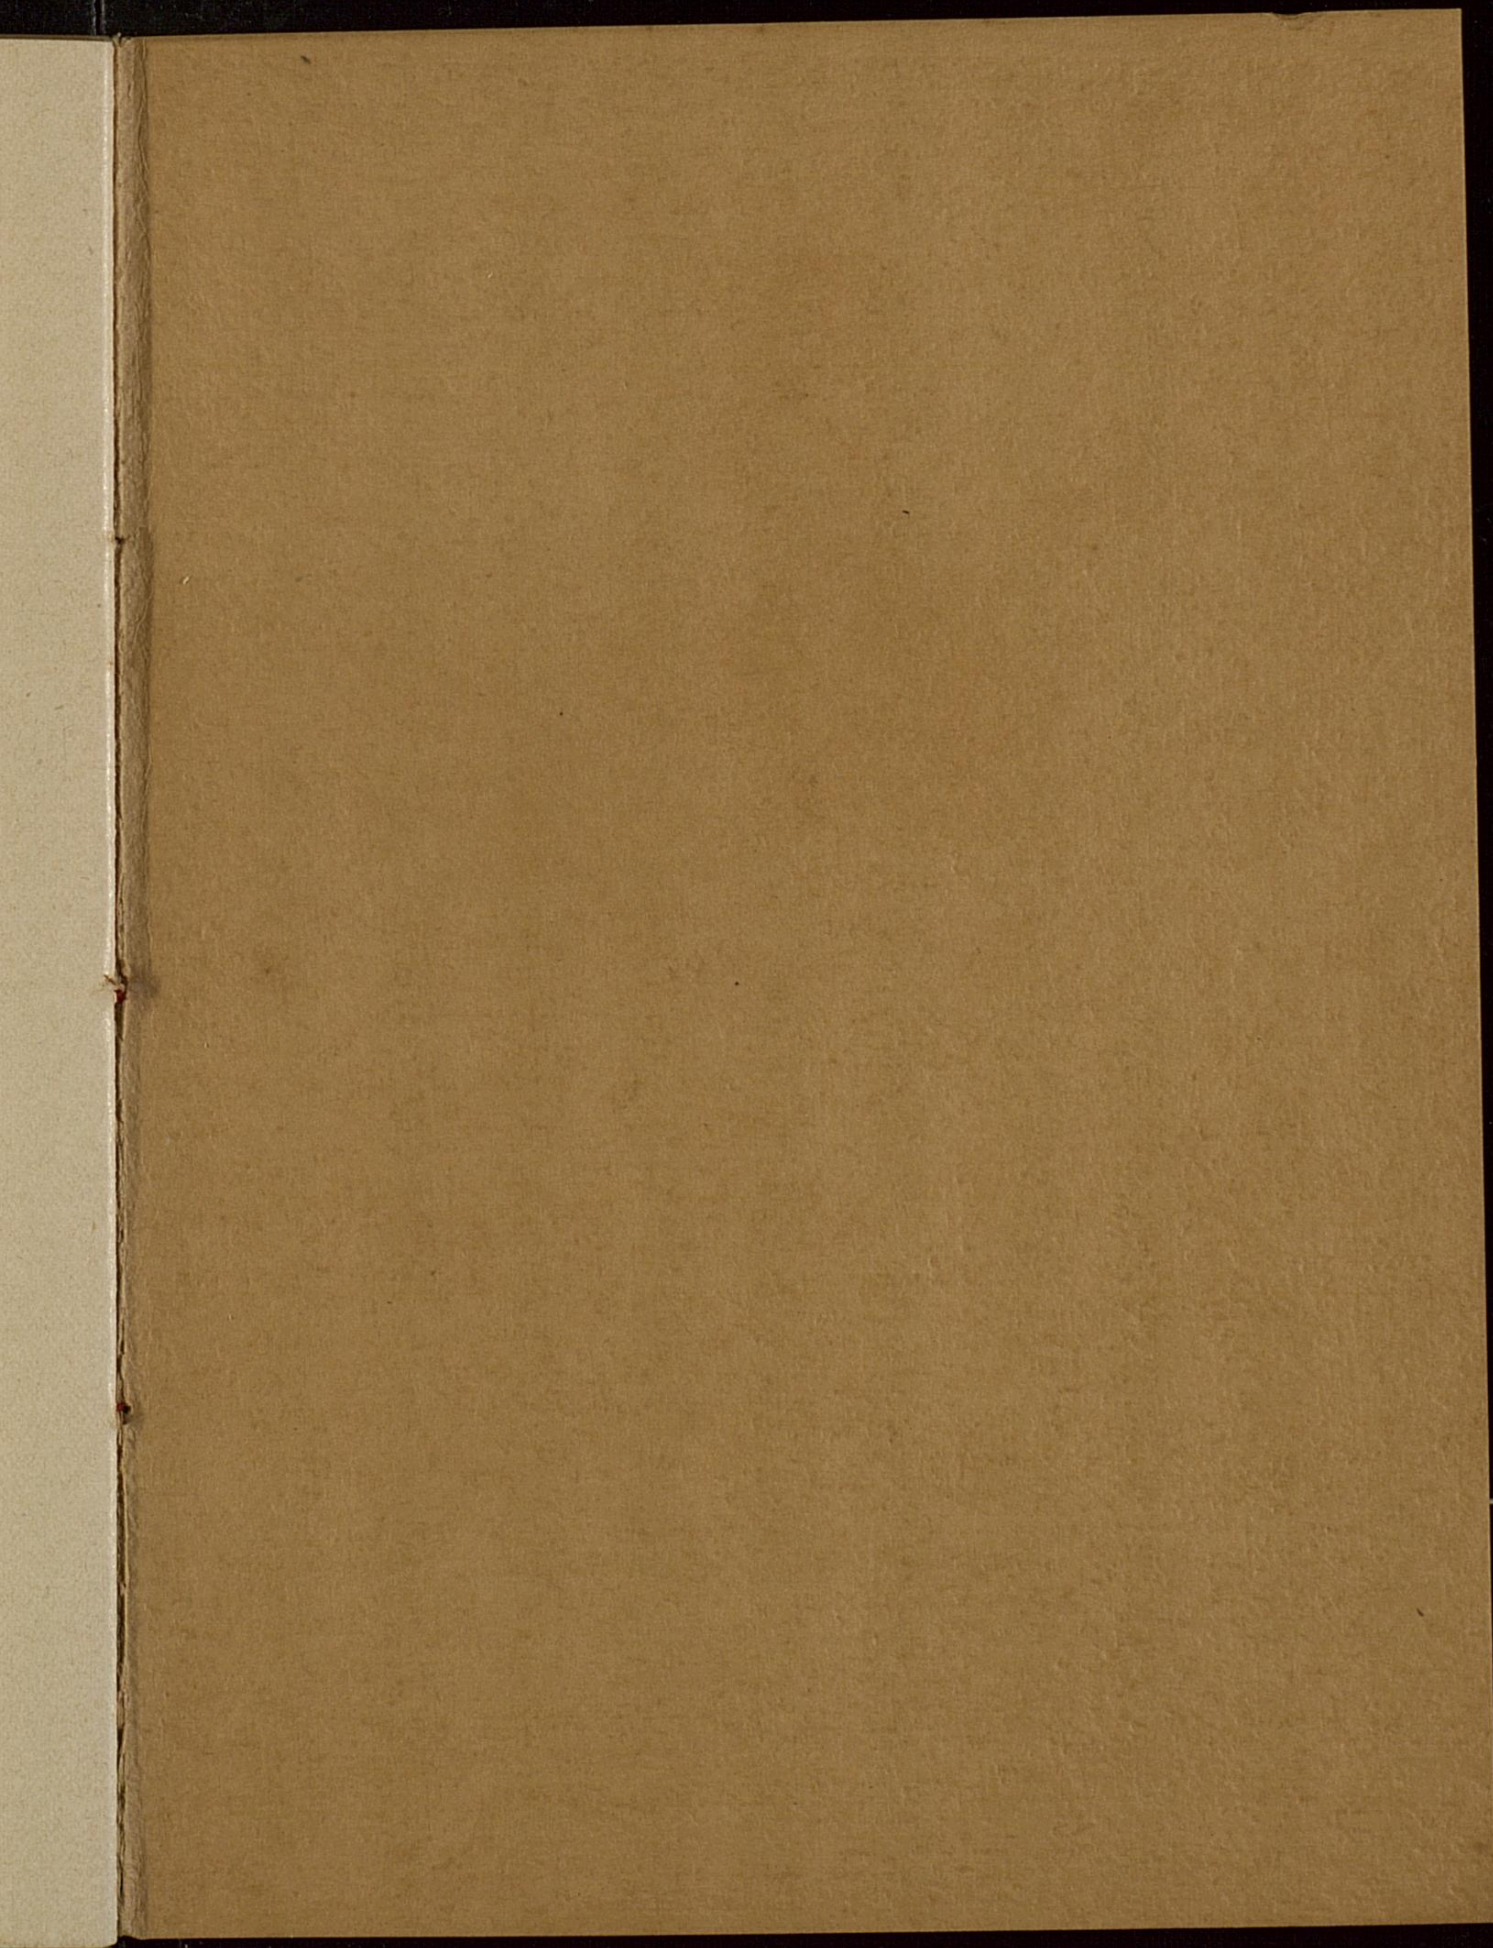

Rufus Lee Weaver, B. S., Student of Law, Ann Arbor University, Ann Arbor, Mich.

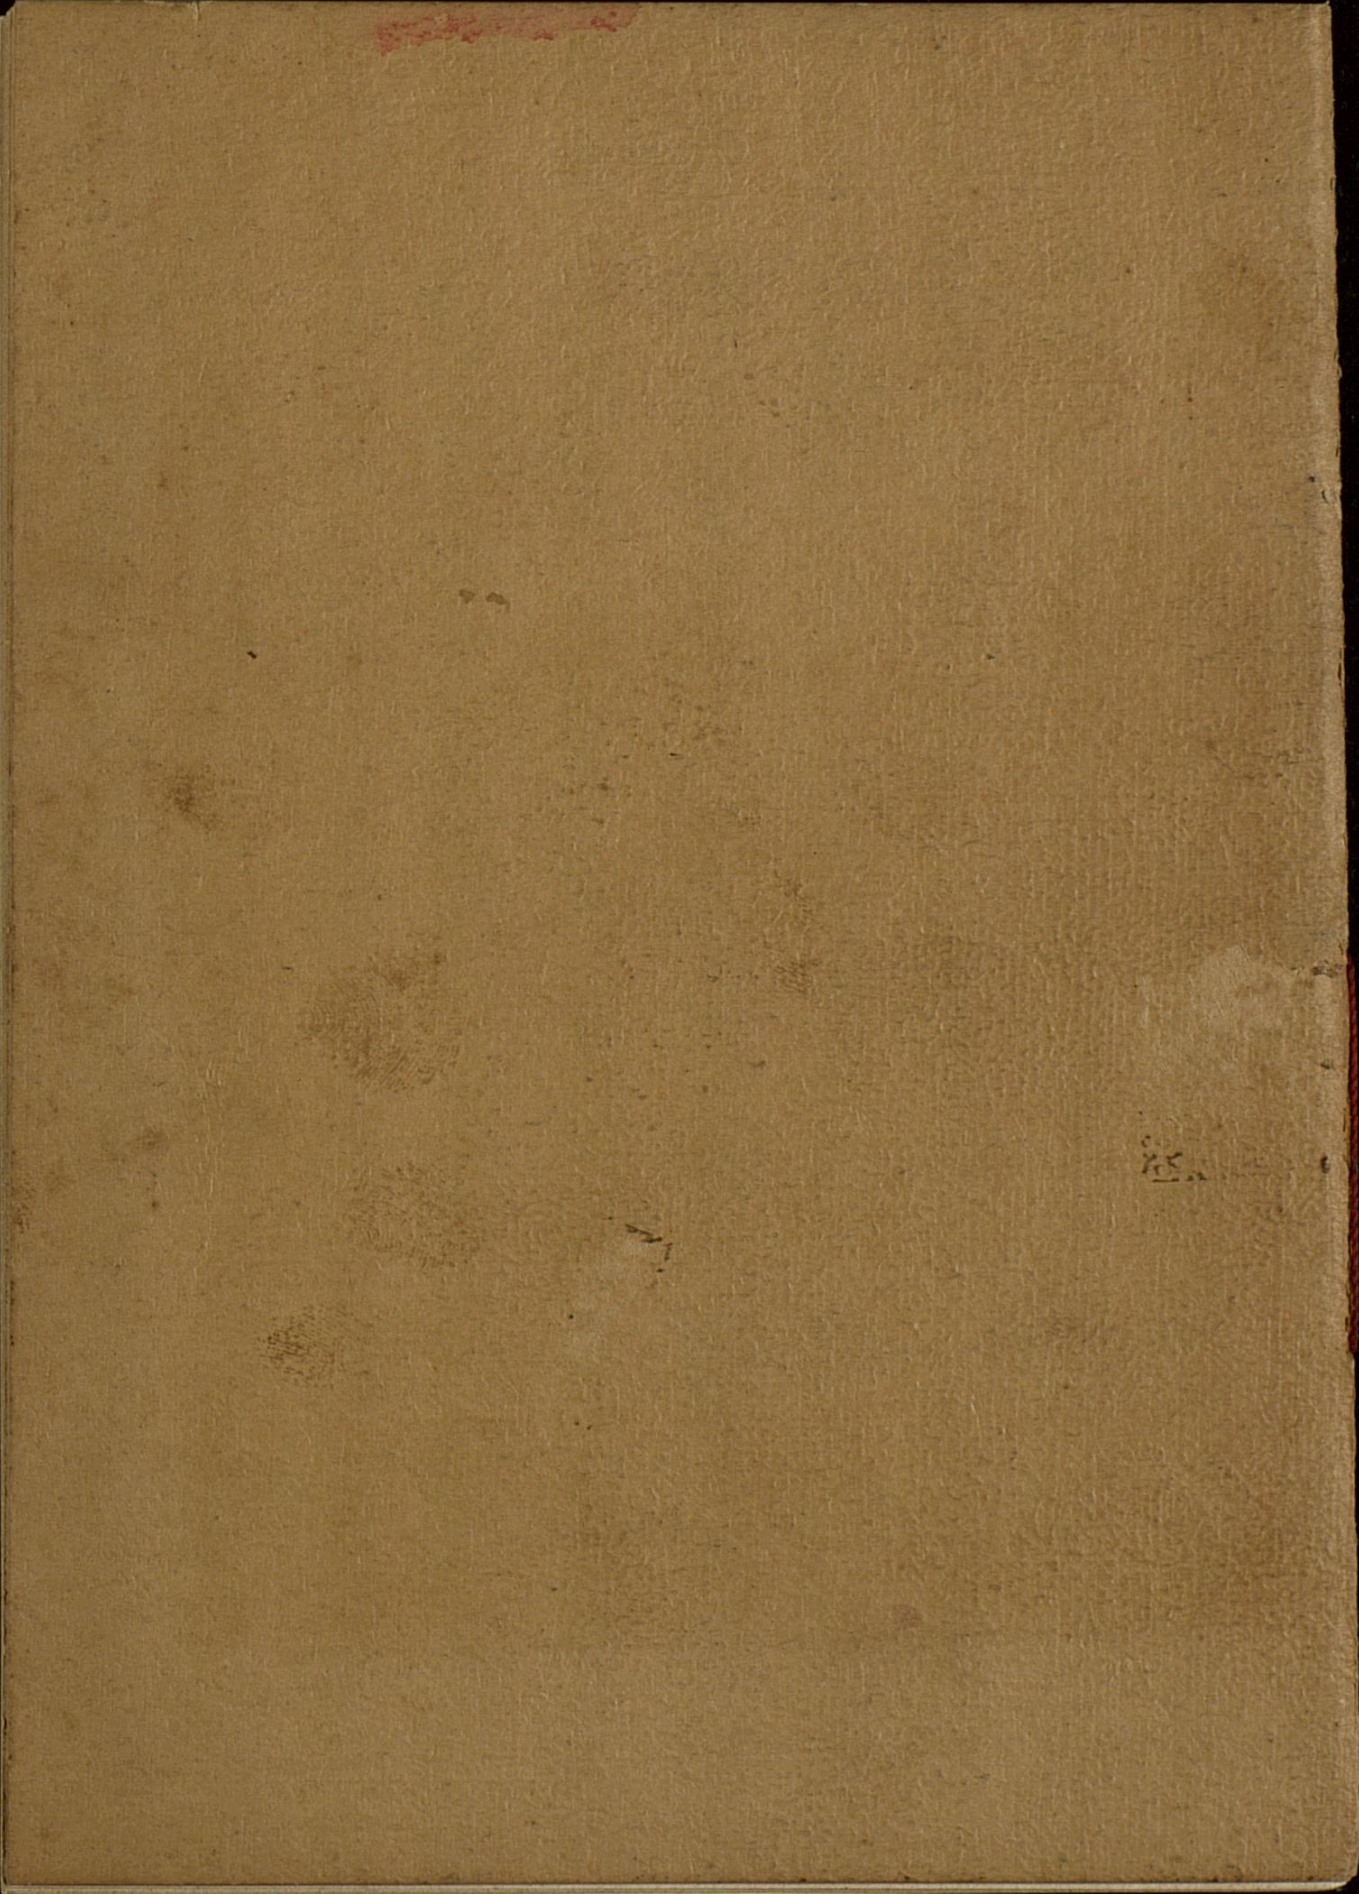

John Webb Willmott, A. B., Bookkeeper Phoenix National Bank, Lexington, Ky.

John Joseph Woods, A. B., Student of Law, Cynthiana, Ky.

HONORARY MEMBER.

James G. White, A. M., '88, Professor of Mathematics, A. and M. College, Lexington, Ky.

Annual Report

Association of Alumni

State College of Kentucky.

Lexington, Ky.

1900.

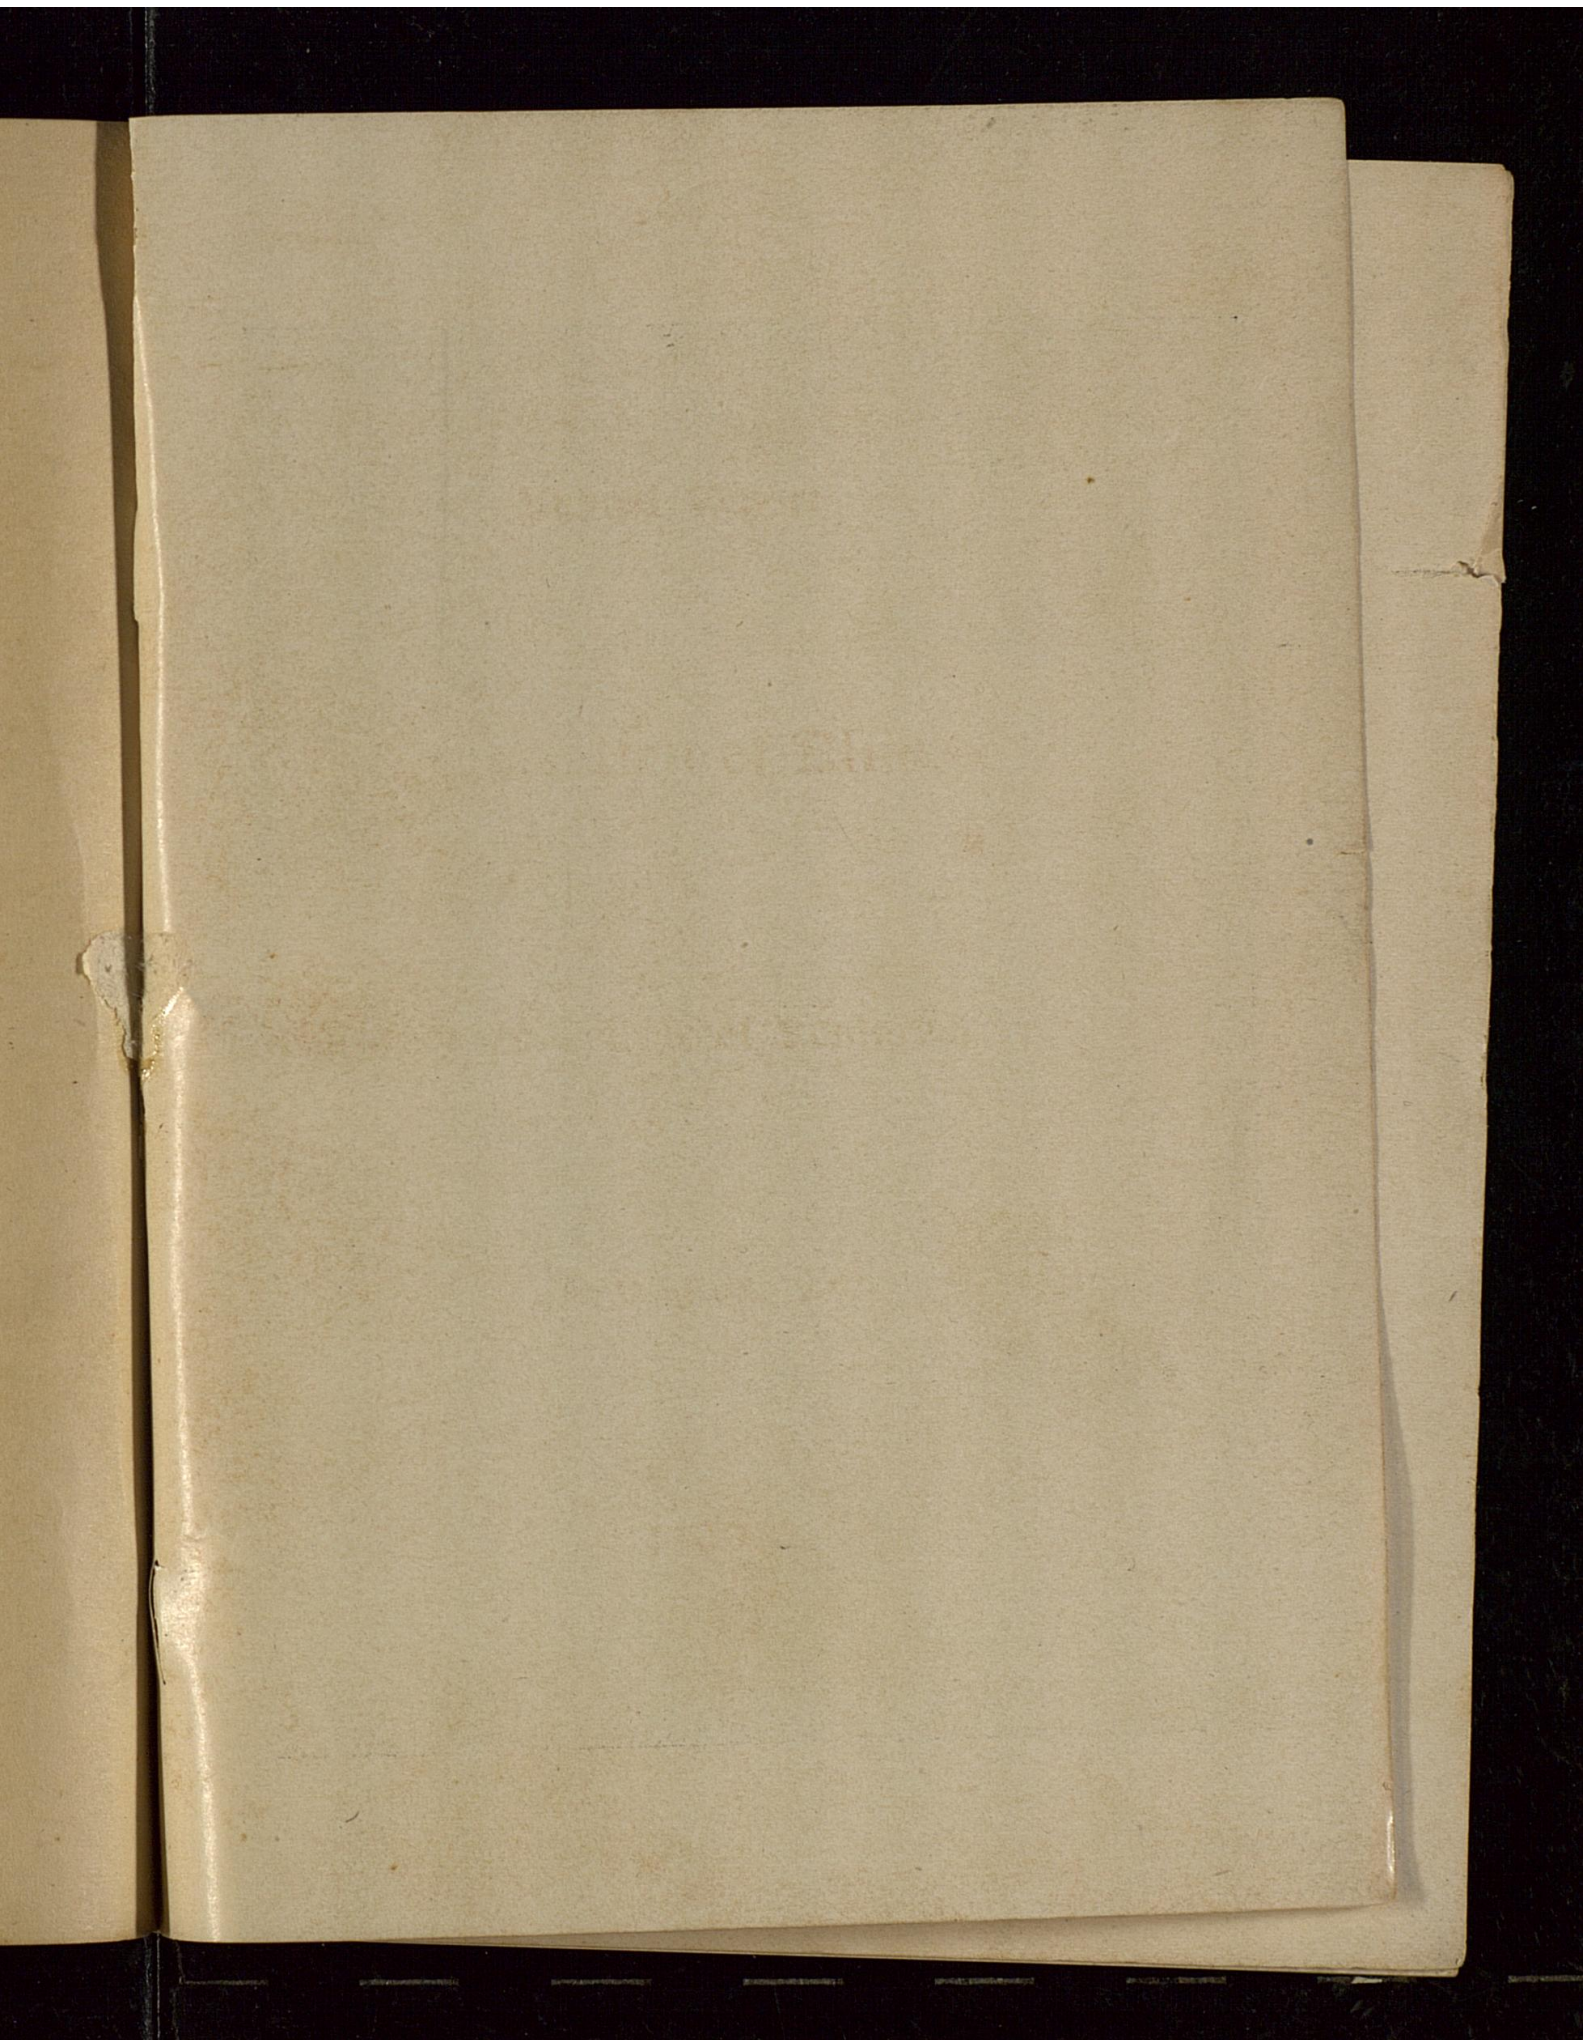

Samuel Ripley

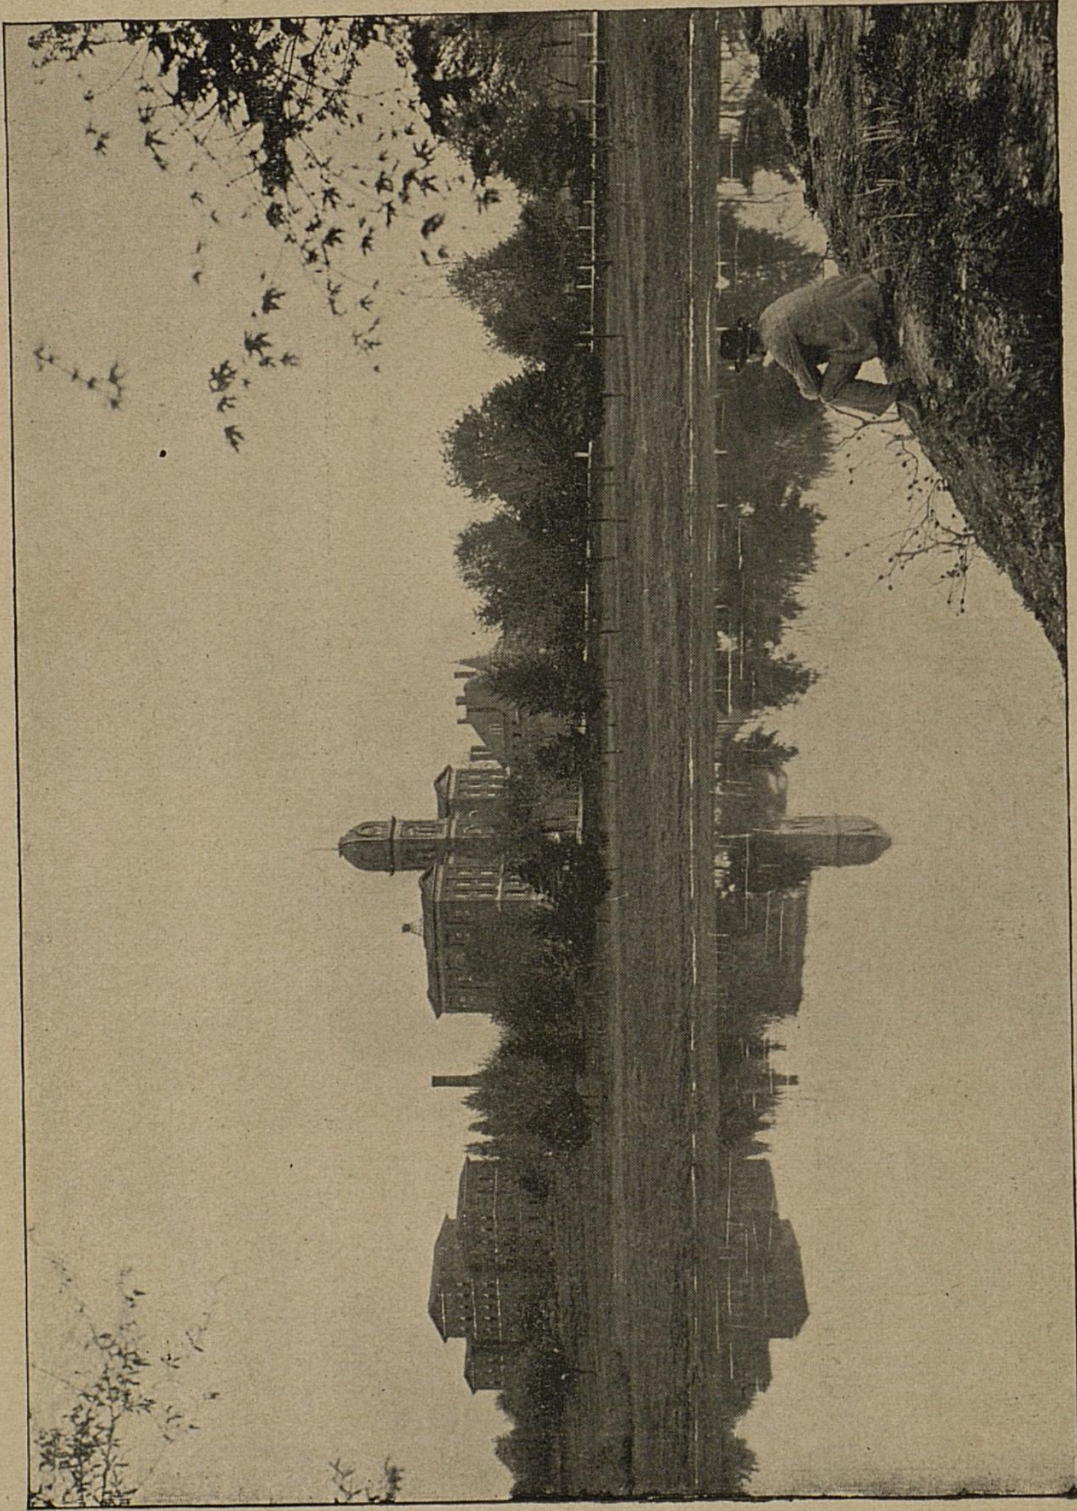

Association of Alumni

State College of Kentucky

Lexington, Ky.

1900

A VIEW OF THE COLLEGE FROM THE LAKE.

ANNUAL REPORT
OF
THE ASSOCIATION OF ALUMNI
OF THE
STATE COLLEGE OF KENTUCKY,

LEXINGTON, KY.

1900.

SIDNEY A. SMITH, } EDITORS.
JOHN T. FAIG, }

TRANSYLVANIA CO., LEXINGTON.

OFFICERS OF THE ASSOCIATION.

SIDNEY A. SMITH, '99.

President.

CHARLES L. STRAUS, '98.

Vice-President.

JOHN T. FAIG, '94.

Secretary and Treasurer.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

HENRY E. CURTIS, '88, Chairman.

F. CLAY ELKIN, '92.

BUTLER T. SOUTHGATE, '92.

WM. H. SCHERFFIUS, '99.

HENRY M. GUNN, '93.

SIDNEY A. SMITH, '99. Ex Officio.

Greeting.

Again the approach of summer has closed, for a time, the class room doors; and the proud senior has sallied forth to survey and conquer; the junior, to dream of the dignity and grace with which he will don the mantle that has fallen to his lot; the sophomore, to discourse learnedly on many themes and to look with calm and quiet scorn upon his under classmen; the freshman, to devise new means of making it interesting for those from whom he should gather words of wisdom as they fall. Another year has flown swiftly by and we are on the verge of a new century.

And to the old college this year has been most gracious. With an enthusiastic and loyal student body; with the warm breath of prosperity, under whose benign influence Art and Science must flourish, sweeping over her; with the godspeed of a commonwealth whose lawmakers are awakening to a sense of her necessities and of her possibilities, she may indeed look forward to an era rich in promise.

And in this future we are deeply concerned, for no great university can exist without an active, progressive alumni. In the past we may modestly claim to have accomplished something. In the future much must be accomplished that only we can do. Each day brings new proof of the strength and loyalty of our comrades. Sons of the men who have gone forth from our college in years gone by are already appearing in her halls; and what more eloquent tribute than this can any alumnus offer?

With this annual report we present to the alumni our latest recruits—the members of the class of Nineteen Hundred—and bespeak for them a gracious welcome into our number. Thus far they have nobly upheld the honor of our Alma Mater. Upon the oratorical platform, in the class room, upon the athletic field, they have proven themselves the peer of any class. And withal they have borne themselves with becoming modesty. With such a record in the past, we have every assurance that they will bravely assume their full share of the responsibilities that will come, and prove true and faithful brethren among us. No class more enthusiastic in college spirit or more zealous in the performance of college duties has ever taken its place in our ranks. It is with peculiar pride and satisfaction that we invite them to assume that honorable position among us to which they are so justly entitled.

MIS-PAGINATION

Current Events.

The event of greatest importance in college circles during the past year was undoubtedly the appropriation by the State Legislature of $60,000 (sixty thousand dollars) for a girls' dormitory and a gymnasium and drill hall for men. The importance of this lies not in the amount of the appropriation, for compared with similar appropriations by the legislatures of Kansas, West Virginia, Virginia or Iowa it appears small. It lies rather in the spirit in favor of the college which has been manifested by legislators and public men throughout the state and in the fact that it is the first special appropriation ever made in favor of the college. Leaders of all parties favored the appropriation and the general tone of the press was gratifying to all admirers and supporters of our Alma Mater. A few such timely appropriations would not only give new impetus to her development, but would enable her to provide facilities in every department superior to anything in the South.

In September, Mr. A. St. Clair Mackenzie, A. M., (Glasgow

CLASS OF 1900.

University), former Instructor in the University of Pennsylvania, assumed the chair of English and Logic, which had been made vacant by the resignation of Prof. John Shackelford.

In January, 1900, Mr. M. B. Jones, '94, Acting Commandant at the College, resigned to take up the practice of law at Los Angeles, Cal., and Mr. W. T. Carpenter, '98, Second Lieut. U. S. Army, was appointed to fill the vacancy. Maj. Carpenter has been reappointed Commandant,

The terms of five of the fifteen members of the Board of Trustees expired in January, 1900, and five new members were duly appointed by the Governor. The retiring members are: J. C. Flournoy, Esq., of Fulton County; Hon. J. T. Gathright, of Jefferson County; Hon. A. P. Gooding, of Mason County; Hon. Clarence U. McElroy, of Barren County, and Hon. W. F. Peak, of Trimble County.

The gentlemen who were appointed to this important trust for the next six years are: Hon. B. W. Bradburn, of Bowling Green, Warren County; Judge Jno. F. Hagar, of Ashland, Boyd County; Judge Henry S. Barker, of Louisville, Jefferson County; Hon. R. W. Nelson, of Newport, Campbell County, and Hon. McDowell Ferguson, of Paducah, McCracken County.

At the June, 1900, meeting of the Board of Trustees, the resignation of Prof. Jas. G. White as business agent was accepted and Prof. V. E. Muncy, '91, who since graduating has been Instructor in the Academy, was appointed to this position. Prof. White will hereafter devote all of his time to his duties as Professor of Mathematics and Astronomy and Dean of the Scientific Course. Mr. J. E. Winston, A. M., (University of Virginia), was elected to the position in the Academy left vacant by Prof. Muncy. Prof. J. R. Johnson, '93, was transferred from the Engineering Department and made Instructor in Mathematics; and Mr. L. K. Frankel, 1900, was appointed Instructor in the Department of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering to succeed Prof. Johnson.

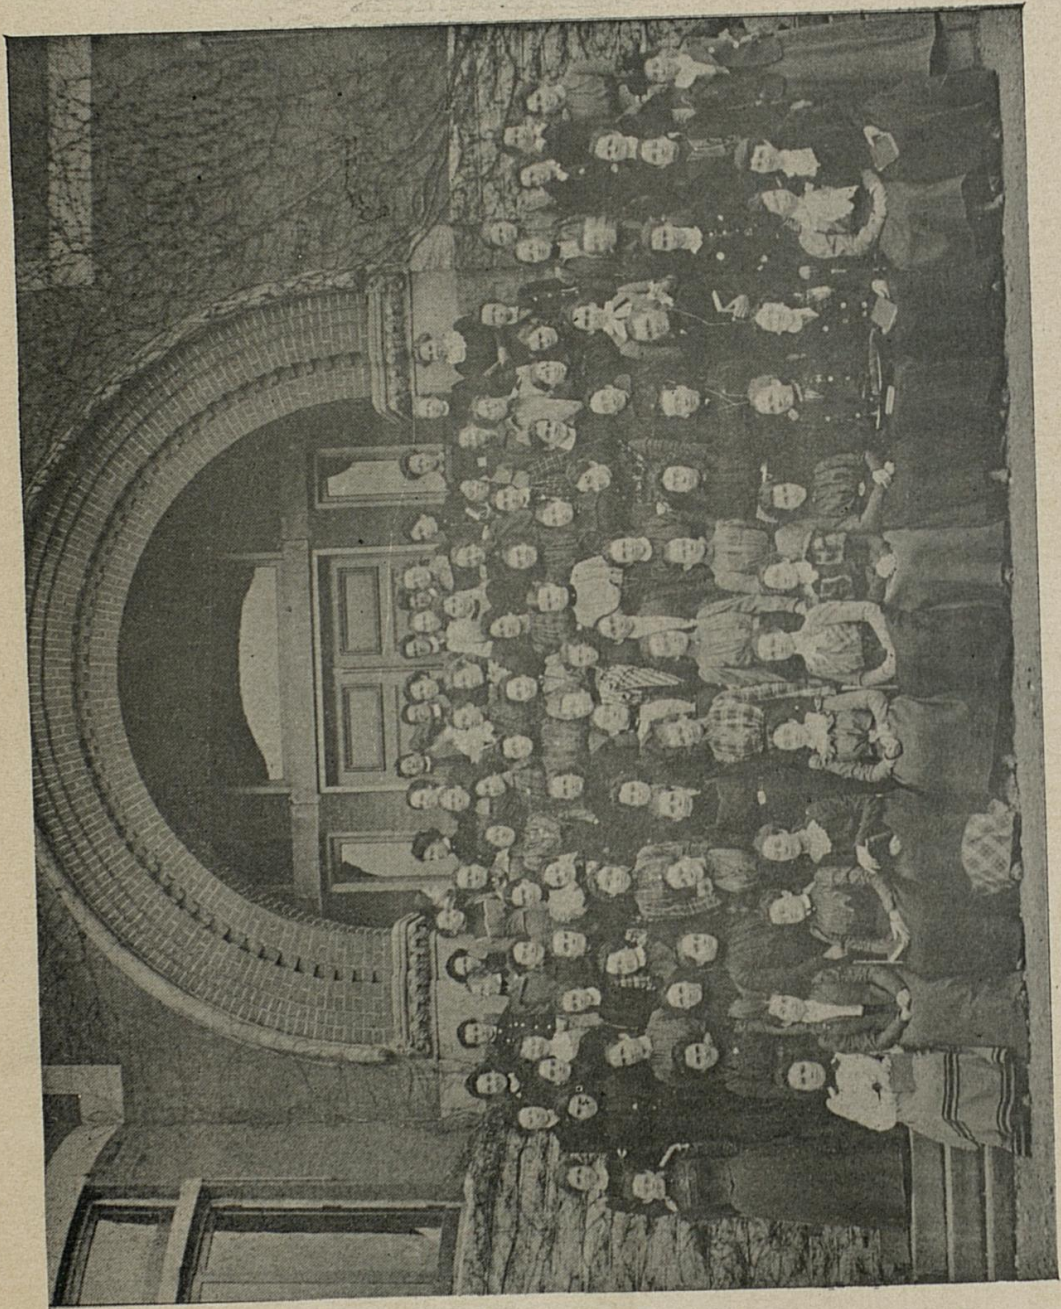

MIS-PAGINATION

Commencement.

The alumni of the State College can find no more satisfactory indication of the continued growth of our college and the improvement not only in the number but in the general average of the students than in the commencement exercises. Never in the history of the college has there been a larger attendance and never have the closing exercises been marked with such a general tone of success. The class was the largest that has ever been turned out by the State College, numbering twenty-nine members in all. Nine received the degree of Bachelor of Science, six the degree of Bachelor of Arts, three the degree of Bachelor of Civil Engineering, ten the degree of Bachelor of Mechanical Engineering and one the degree of Bachelor of Pedagogy. The degree of Master of Science was conferred upon four candidates.

With a class of twenty-nine graduates, larger than any institution in the State when the Academic department alone is considered, the commencement exercises were necessarily a success. The chapel was crowded with the friends of the graduates, many of whom came from a distance to attend the exercises. The alumni of our college were much in evidence and the man who had received his diploma six or eight or even ten years before did not find himself an utter stranger, but met and clasped hands, if not with some member of his particular class, with some old student who had been in college with him and had received his sheep-skin the year before or the year afterwards. The occasion, therefore, was memorable not alone for the excellence of the exercises proper but for the meeting together again of old college friends and the reviving of old memories as well.

As the departure of the venerable Professor of English, John Shackleford, was the touching incident of the commencement exercise of the year before, so was the approaching departure of Judge W. H. Holt, of Frankfort, to take up his duties as District Judge in Porto Rico under the appointment of President McKinley the striking and memorable incident of the graduating exercises of 1900. Judge Holt has served as a member of the Board of Trustees for two years and during that time has served as chairman of the board. In the unavoidable absence of Governor Beckham, Judge Holt was therefore called upon to deliver the diplomas to the graduating class in his capacity as chairman of the Board of Trustees. His speech was one of earnestness and of purpose; he gave much of encouragement and much of serious and fatherly advice to the members of the class, and his words had their due effect. And when the class had filed down in front of the rostrum and received their diplomas and returned to their seats again, President Patterson arose and in an eloquent tribute to the distinguished jurist, presented him with the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws, which has been conferred upon but few persons in the history of the College,

GROUP OF GIRLS.

Judge Holt was affected almost to tears and his reply was couched in a few words. "I fear," he said, "had I known the honor that was to be conferred upon me that I would not have been present here on this occasion, for I doubt if I am wholly worthy. But I will say as I stand before this class, this faculty and this magnificent audience that I shall endeavor to wear this honor in that distant land as I shall endeavor to perform the new duty that has been imposed upon me, in a manner that will reflect honor on the grand old commonwealth that we all love."

After the invocation, President Patterson introduced Miss Lula May Cox, of the Scientific Department, whose essay on the theme "Yet I Doubt not Thro' all the Ages One Increasing Purpose Runs" abounded in attractive phraseology and there was through it all a strain of girlish thought that attracted the attention of the audience from the beginning.

PRESIDENT JAMES K. PATTERSON.

Miss Cox was followed by James Graves Scrugham, of the Mechanical Department, in an oration on the "The True Purpose of an Engineering Education." Mr. Scrugham well represented his department and presented his ideas in a clear and finished manner. The representative of the Scientific Department was Leslie Hundley, who delivered an oration on "The Advancement of Science." This broad subject was handled in a skillful manner by Mr. Hundley, who, in the course of his oration, took occasion to enumerate some of the more decided cases of advancement along the lines of scientific thought. Arthur Vane Lester represented the Department of Civil Engineering. He handled a technical subject, "The Civil Engineer and the Public Health," in a thoroughly popular manner, and outlined the position of the modern sanitary engineer, who must take up the work that the great physicians have advanced and put it on a practical basis.

Leonidas Ragan, of the Classical Department, attained the highest general average in college, and, though there was no formal valedictory, his oration was in a large degree of that nature. Mr. Ragan's oration was followed by the presentation of the diplomas by Judge Holt, and that in turn by the address of President Patterson, in which the degree of LL. D. was conferred upon Judge Holt.

It will be noticed that there was no salutatory and no valedictory on the program of the class this year. This was in accordance with a recent ruling of the faculty by which the custom of awarding the honors was changed so that each department should be represented by its own honor man and no first or second honors in the entire college should be awarded. The contention has been that it was not fair to let the student who had pursued one course of study vie with another who had taken a different course in which it was perhaps easier to attain a high average. The faculty therefore decreed that in the future there shall be no college honors.

Our New Trustees.

Elsewhere in this report we have referred to the five new members of the Board of Trustees who were appointed early in the present year. It will be of interest to the Alumni to know something of the men who for the next six years will be so directly concerned with both the policy and the management of the college.

Hon. B. W. Bradburn, of Bowling Green, Warren county, was a member of the Legislature preceding the present one and is a lawyer of prominence. Judge Hagar, of Ashland, is one of the prominent lawyers of his district. He has been County Judge and also Railroad Commissioner under Gov. Buckner.

Judge Barker, of Louisville, a former student of the College, is a prominent lawyer of Louisville. For many years he was City Attorney of Louisville and Criminal Circuit Judge of that city.

Hon. R. W. Nelson is also a well known lawyer, having served as a member of the Legislature, and is at present Mayor of Newport.

Hon. McDowell Ferguson, of Paducah, is well known as a former member of the House of Representatives, where he was Chairman of the Committee on the A. & M. College. At present he represents the Paducah district in the Senate.

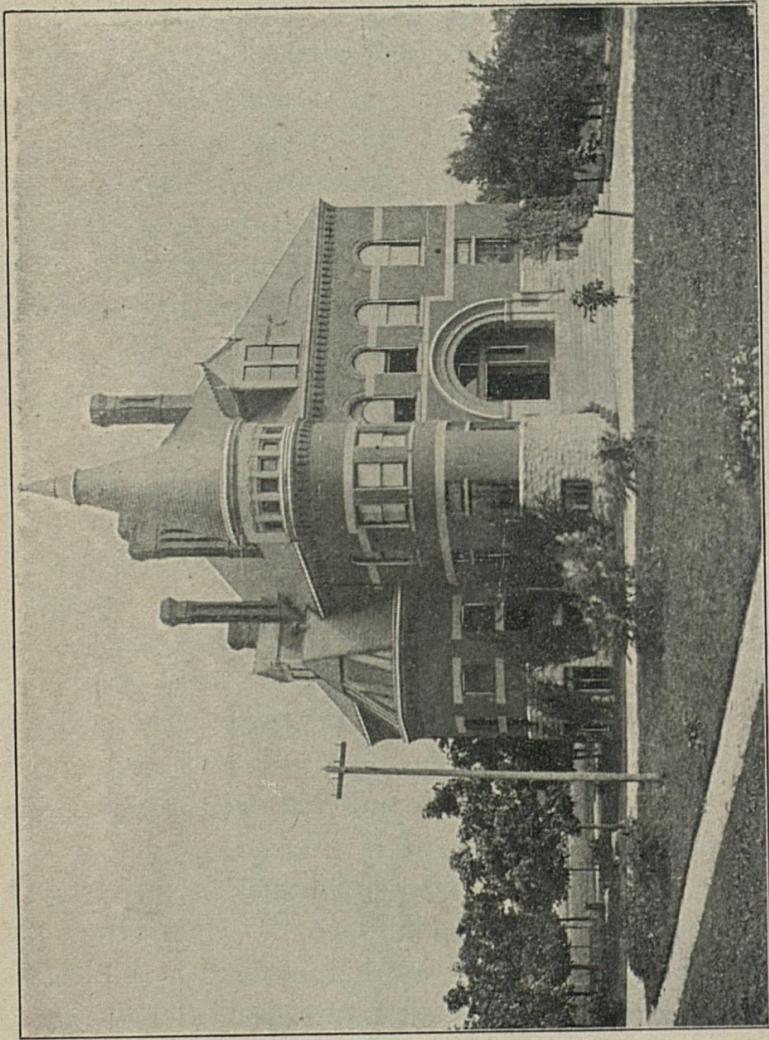

These appointments reflect great credit on the Chief Executive of our state who made them. Every man has had a varied experience in public affairs and wields a large influence in his district. Several of the appointees have been known to the Alumni as firm friends of the College. With men of such ability and experience on the Board of Trustees, we may be assured that the affairs of the College will be conducted in a progressive and thoroughly satisfactory manner.

The Rank of our College and Her Alumni.

As colleges go, ours is a young institution. Compared with some others of the country, she is very young indeed. Beginning in a manner so modest that old and well-known institutions of the State were inclined to look somewhat askance at the new comer, her growth has been of the character that is most conducive to the development of a great university—sure and steady, the laying of a foundation upon which to build future greatness. Her career has been a consistent following of one great idea. Under the guidance of a president renowned not only for his scholarship, but for remarkable foresight, prudence and executive ability, supported by a staff of able instructors who have labored together in utmost harmony, she has safely weathered the storms that for a time broke dark and fierce upon her.

During her comparatively short life, there has grown up about her a fund of sentiment that is felt in the most distant sections of our state. In her halls men from every county and district meet and measure themselves against their brethren from other sections. But she has not yet accomplished her destiny. When the generosity of far-sighted legislatures shall have provided her with the facilities of the great universities of the East, then shall thousands of young men and women gather in her halls to learn of Science and Art, of the Classics and of Engineering.

And what of those hundreds who have already left the college with her official stamp and seal? Have they reflected honor upon her? That question is answered by a glance at the roster of our Alumni. The first two graduates of the college, men of fine intellectual endowment, men who are still in their prime, following their natural inclination of mind, became remarkably successful in widely different fields. One became a man of affairs, a builder of railroads and a master of finance, recognized in his community as a potent factor in her development. The second devoted himself to a particular branch of agricultural science, received honors that fall to the lot of but few men, and is known in his profession as one of the authorities of the country. During the first decade of the existence of the college comparatively few men were graduated. But wherever these men went they took an active part in affairs. Some followed law, some medicine, others followed some branch of science, while many became instructors and thus have helped to mould the thought and sentiment of the community in which they reside.

DEPARTMENT OF CHEMISTRY AND EXPERIMENT STATION.

Coming to the younger alumni, we find their vocations still more diversified. Some have become eminent in the classics. Those who have followed science have made a record that will compare favorably with that of any institution. Of those who have taken post-graduate work at Johns Hopkins, where our college has been represented continuously for sixteen years, each one has taken every fellowship and scholarship to which he was eligible. Some of these men who have thus added to the lustre of our reputation are today recognized authorities on the several branches of science in which they are specialists.

In Mechanic Arts, our alumni have reflected additional lustre upon our general reputation. We are represented in the faculties of two State Universities besides our own. In an article by Chief Engineer Collins, of the U. S. Revenue Cutter Service, in Cassier's Magazine, among the colleges mentioned whose graduates have been particularly efficient in the Service are Cornell University, Stevens Institute of Technology, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and the State College of Kentucky. In New York, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, West Virginia and Tennessee our alumni have held their own when in competition with graduates of the leading technical schools of the East.

LECTURE ROOM IN CHEMISTRY.

CHEMICAL LABORATORY.

These are facts which are presented after an earnest effort to find our standing as compared with our sister institutions. They are living witnesses to the efficiency of State College as a means of providing for young men and young women of the State an education in any branch at a merely nominal cost. After an investigation of the merits of the case, there can be no doubt that the State College is accomplishing the object for which she was created by the wise munificence of the State.

Athletics.

The State Legislature has given a great impetus to athletics at State College by its appropriation for the erection of a gymnasium and drill hall for the use of the students. In just this one particular—a gymnasium—our college has been for years in the rear of other institutions, and to see this need of long standing at last met will be a matter of congratulation to the alumni and undergraduates alike. In just what part of the campus the building will be located has not yet been determined, but a committee has been appointed by the Board of Trustees to take the matter in charge. A selection will doubtless soon be made and the work of constructing the building will be pushed to an early completion. Plans have not as yet been formulated and it will therefore be impossible at this time to go into details. The size of the appropriation, however, insures a building that will be complete in every particular and of which it can be said that there is no handsomer or more complete gymnasium in the State.

Of the record of the athletes who represented our College during the past year, there is much that could be said, but space will not permit. The football team has a record which, while it can not compare with that of the immortal team of 1898, which was not scored against during the season, is yet one of which no college man should be ashamed. So far as weight is concerned, the team was the lightest that has represented the institution in years. Team and head work to a large extent made up for this, however, and enabled the eleven to turn defeat into victory on more than one occasion. The game with Centre College, in which the men resisted the superior strength of the opposing team until the last five minutes of the game and then allowed no more than a tie, was a splendid tribute to their grit and skill.

BASE BALL TEAM, 1900.

The baseball team is one of the best that has represented the college in several years. The team gave promise of great success in the beginning of the year by defeating Central University and made a good showing for itself in all the other games played. One game at least was lost by reason of the fact that the opposing institution strengthened its team for the occasion by the addition of a professional pitcher and other "ringers." It is a fact, however, that should be most encouraging to the lovers of pure athletics that "ringers" are now becoming more the exception than the rule and that they are no longer introduced without raising a storm of protest.

The track team gave promise of great things and some fast work was done in trials, but the want of the requisite finances prevented the team from participating in a meet at Cincinnati, and Kentucky University refused to meet our team upon the field after postponing the date of the meet several times. None of the other colleges had teams in the field. As for the athletic outlook for next year, nothing can be said beyond the statement that the college should have the largest attendance in years and that therefore the general run of material should be of high class. Nearly six hundred students matriculated at the College last year and with such a number to draw from, other conditions being equal, State College can not but take a place in the front rank of college athletics.

MECHANICAL HALL.

Minutes of Annual Meeting, June 6th, 1900;

The annual meeting of 1900 was held in the lecture room of the Experiment Station on Wednesday, June 6th, at 3 P. M. Notwithstanding a heavy storm at the time of the meeting, the classes of '80, '81, '84, '88, '89, '92, '93, '94, '97, '98 and '99 were represented.

After the minutes of the preceding meeting had been read and approved, the Treasurer's report was presented and referred to the Executive Committee.

The election of officers resulted as shown on page 4 of this report.

Mr. Desha Breckinridge was unanimously elected an honorary member of the Association.

It was moved and carried that the Executive Committee be directed to use their influence toward the acquirement of permanent quarters for the Association in the gymnasium building.

It was moved and carried that $5.00 (five dollars) be appropriated to cover the balance of the subscription toward the price of the cane which was presented, in the name of the alumni, to Prof. Shackleford on his retirement from the faculty in June, 1899.

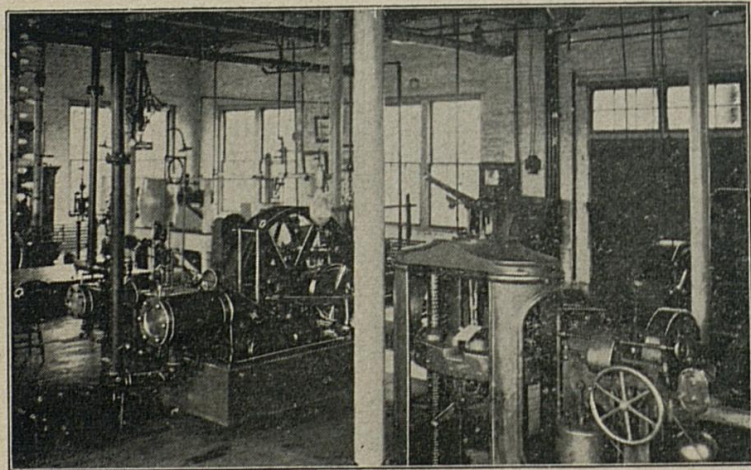

After a discussion of plans for the ensuing year, the meeting adjourned.

The Alumni Banquet.

For twelve years past the alumni banquet has been one of the features of the commencement week at State College and that it has been one of the most pleasant features of these exercises no one can question. The social side of commencement week has been to some extent neglected by our College from the fact that it is a young institution and these things come gradually. With the older institutions of learning in the state, the social feature of commencement week is not the least important, for their list of alumni is long and the need of some species of entertainment at which those men who have gone out from college might meet the undergraduates has been long appreciated.

SENIOR DRAWING ROOM.

ENGINEERING LABORATORY.

It was the endeavor of the alumni, therefore, to do their part toward initiating a movement of this kind at State College, and that it has been a success is gratifying to them. While it is true that only the graduates of the institution appear at the banquet, a dance always follows, to which many of the undergraduates are invited.

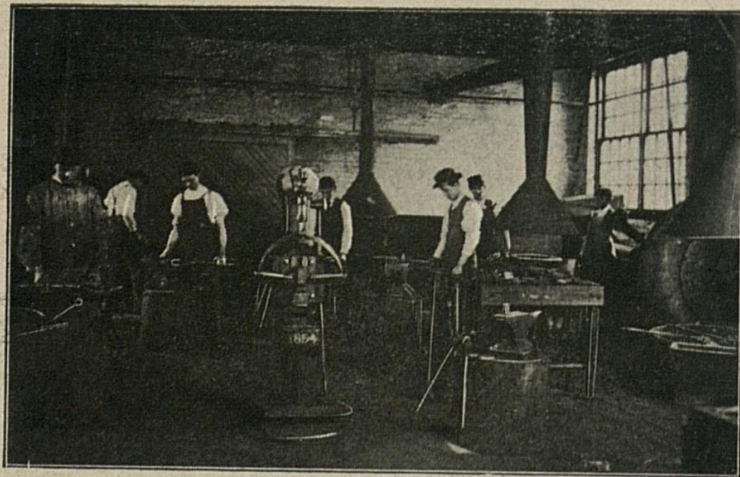

It may as well be said at this point as at any other, and it should be said in this report of the alumni, that the banquet is an annual feature of our commencement exercises, that it is a fixture and has come to stay. Those of the alumni, therefore, who live at a distance and may have refrained from coming on account of lack of details as to when and where the alumni banquet will be held need have no alarm for the future. It is the intention to publish in this issue of the alumni report a college calendar for the coming year, in which all important fixed events of the college year will be printed so that there will be no difficulty on this score.

It is a source of gratification to the Alumni Association that the banquet was a complete success in every particular.

Butler T. Southgate, the retiring president of the association, presided as toastmaster of the banquet in that gentle and at the same time attractive style that is one of his characteristics. In accordance with the scriptural injunction "The last shall be first," the representative of the class of 1900 was first on the list of toasts. Mr. J. H. Graham, of Louisville, had been selected by the class and responded in a fitting manner. Mr. George D. Hunt, of Lexington, an alumnus of Kentucky

MACHINE SHOP.

FORGE SHOP.

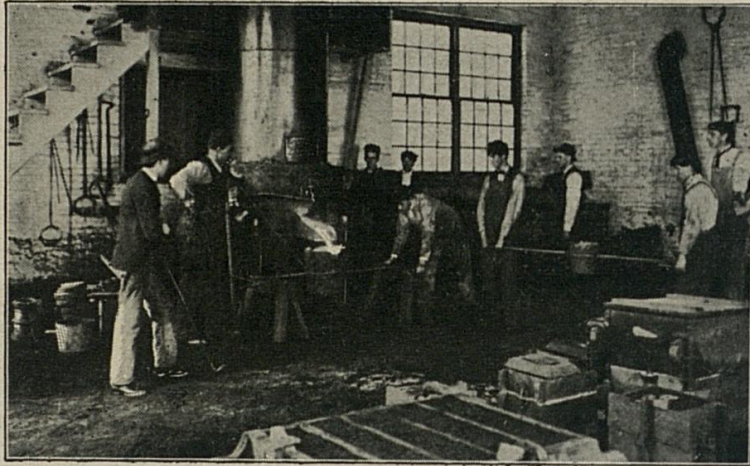

University, who had been selected by that institution to represent her at the State College alumni banquet, was given the sentiment "Kentucky University." Mr. Hunt, who occupies a position among the first of the younger lawyers of the Fayette county bar, was never more eloquent. He burst at once into the sentiment of the occasion and was frequently interrupted by applause during the course of his response.

Hon. W. R. Ramsey, of London, one of the Board of Trustees of State College, had been given the toast, "The Board of Trustees." He was unavoidably detained by a very important case at Mt. Vernon and was unable to be present. In his absence Lieutenant John Geary, now connected with the United States Army, was chosen to fill his place, and he did it in the eloquent and able manner that should characterize the winner of an Inter-Collegiate Oratorical contest.

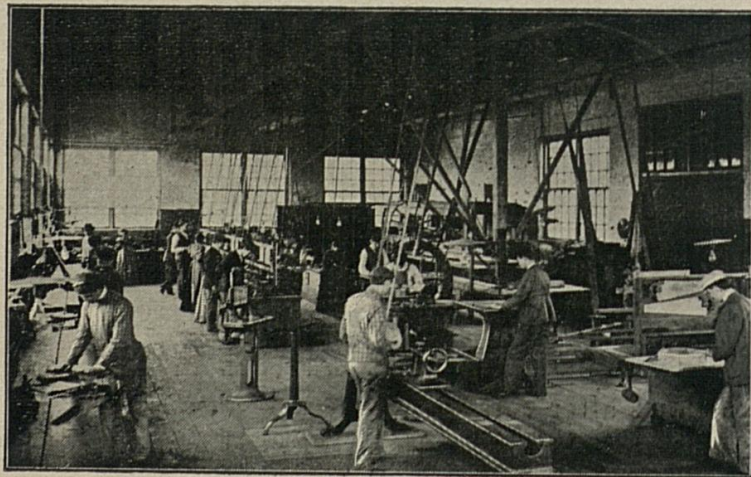

Robert Lee Gordon, of the class of '97, was the next on the list of toasts, his subject being "A Phase of Electrical Engineering." Mr. Gordon explained that the subject was a bit of facetiousness on the part of the toastmaster, that his remarks would have something of a political tinge, and that the toastmaster had in his omniscient humor taken politics as a phase of lightning which might strike anywhere, and hence the style of the address.

Prof. A. St. Clair Mackenzie, who had just closed his first years work as Professor of English at our college, was called upon to respond to the toast, "The Faculty." This he did in a happy manner with many assurances to the Alumni present that the men who had the several branches in hand were not such bad fellows after all.

The toastmaster then called upon President Patterson for a few voluntary remarks which were given in the choice English and the fervent manner which has ever characterized the addresses of the President. This concluded the exercises of the evening so far as the banquet proper was concerned, and Saxton made music for the merry dancers after the dining hall was cleared for several hours after the stroke of midnight, when another Alumni banquet and dance was closed with a waltz to the strains of "Home, Sweet Home."

FOUNDRY.

WOOD SHOP.

Honorary Degrees Conferred by the State College.

The honorary degree of Doctor of Laws which was conferred on Judge Wm. H. Holt at the Commencement of 1900 calls to mind the fact that while the State College has not been prodigal in the conferring of honorary degrees, yet these have only been given to men of the most distinguished ability and eminence.

The first to receive the degree of LL. D. from the State College was Judge Benj. F. Buckner, the eminent jurist, then of Lexington, but now of Winchester, Ky. Judge Buckner was a member of the original board of trustees, and was recognized as one of the ablest and most influential lawyers of the State.

The next to receive this distinction was Judge Wm. S. Pryor, of Frankfort, upon whom it was conferred in 1894. Judge Pryor had served upon the Appellate bench for over 20 years, had been Chief Justice and had attained to an enviable reputation as a jurist.

In 1896 the degree of LL. D. was again conferred, this time upon Prof. Maurice Kirby, who had entered the faculty in 1880, and in 1887 had retired to take charge of the Male High School at Louisville. Prof. Kirby was principal of the Normal Department while connected with the College and was a man of wide culture. He died in 1897.

HON. JAMES WILSON LL. D.,
Secretary of Agriculture.

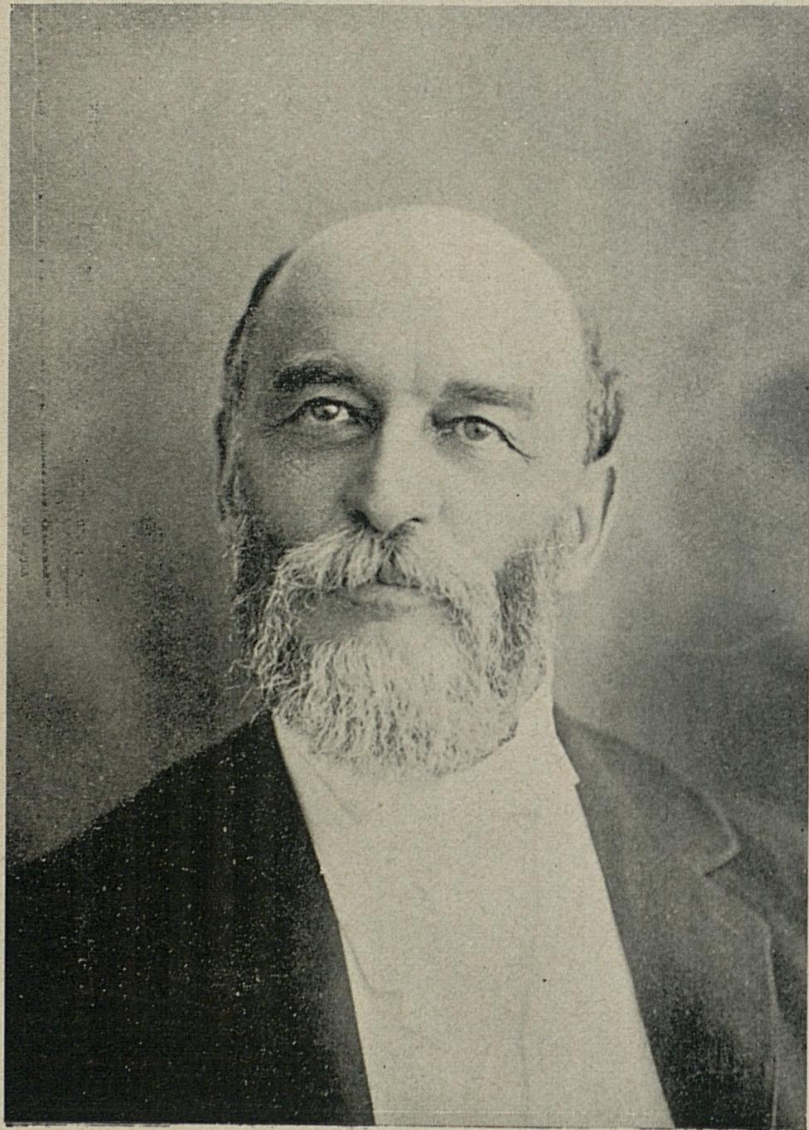

Prof. John Shackelford was the next recipient and he needs no introduction to our alumni. Every graduate has learned to love and revere the scholar who for 29 years filled the chair of English and Logic with such honor to the College and such profit and inspiration to her alumni.

On the same day, June 1, 1899, Prof. John H. Neville, head of the department of Latin and Greek and Vice-President of the College, was made a Doctor of Laws. Prof. Neville has served in the faculty continuously from 1880 and has a wide reputation as a scholar and a man of culture. No member of the faculty possesses to a greater extent the veneration and love of his former students.

The next to receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws was Honorable James Wilson, Secretary of Agriculture of the United States. The degree was conferred on him on June 1st, 1899, on the occasion of his delivering the commencement address, and as a fitting recognition of his work in the development of the agricultural interests of the country.

Honorable James Wilson, of Tama county, Iowa, was born in Ayrshire, Scotland, August 16th, 1835. In 1852 he came to the United States, settling in Connecticut, removing in 1855 to Iowa, where he engaged in farming in 1861. He was elected to the State Legislature, serving as Speaker of the House; was elected to Congress in 1872, served in the Forty-third, Forty-fourth and Forty-eighth Congresses. From 1870 to 1874 was a regent of the State University of Iowa, and for the past six years has been Director of the Agricultural Experiment Station, and Professor of Agriculture at the Iowa Agricultural College at Ames. He was confirmed Secretary of Agriculture March 5th, 1897.

On June 7, 1900, Judge William H. Holt, of Frankfort, Ky., received the honorary degree of LL. D. Judge Holt was born in Bath county, Ky., on November 29th, 1843. His parents came to Kentucky in their early married life from Connecticut, his ancestors having been soldiers in the Revolutionary War. His father died in Bath county when he was an infant; his mother, a woman of great piety and strength of character, whose name was Fanny Tyler, died at Frankfort in 1896 at the advanced age of ninety-three.

HON. WM. H. HOLT, LL. D.,
District Judge of Porto Rico.

Judge Holt attended the common schools of Bath county, then Twinsburg, Ohio, and Fort Edward, New York, Institutes, and graduated at the Law University of Albany, New York, in 1862; was admitted to the bar the same year and located in Mt. Sterling, Ky., where he practiced until 1884. In that year he was elected Judge of the Court of Appeals, where he served for eight years and a half, the last two and a half years as Chief Justice of the Court. During this time many important questions were decided by the Court, among them being The Constitutionality of the State Tax in support of the State College and the Validity of the Present State Constitution, Judge Holt delivering the opinion in each case. Prior to this time he had been a Republican Elector, Delegate to the National Convention and Grand Master of the Odd Fellows of Kentucky.

In June of the present year, Judge Holt was made United States Judge to Porto Rico.

Judge Holt was married in 1864 to Miss Sarah Roberts, of Gloucester county, New Jersey. They have been blessed with five children: M. J. Holt, Esq., Mrs. A. J. Carroll and Mrs. George H. Alexander, all of Louisville, Ky., and two younger children, who are still with their parents.

Judge Holt has served as a member of the Board of Trustees of the State College and as Chairman of the Executive Committee since 1898. In conferring the degree upon him, President Patterson paid him the following high tribute:

"I have now a pleasant duty to perform before these commencement exercises close.

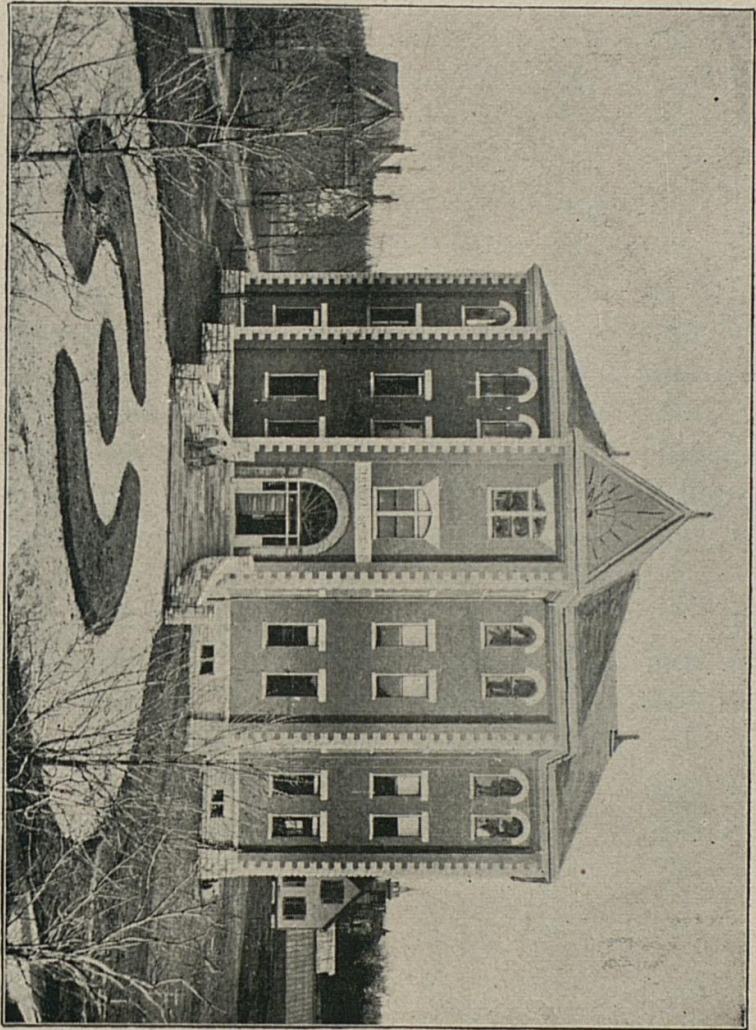

"When the President of the United States selected a man to preside over the court established for the administration of justice in the recently acquired dependency in the Carribean Sea, he did not make his selection from Massachusetts or Pennsylvania or the Empire State, or one of the great States of the Northwest or from the Pacific slope, but from Kentucky, famous alike in war and peace for the valor and patriotism of her sons.

"Eminent for his great ability and distinguished ^{to} for his attainments as an advocate, he brought from the bar of the Appellate bench a body of legal knowledge and an instinctive aptitude for its application which gave him rank with the ablest of his contemporaries and the ablest of his predecessors.

"Loving truth and honor and justice and liberty for their own sake and loving nothing without them—his impartiality, his rectitude, his steadfast loyalty to principle and to duty adorned the ermine which he wore.

"To his new field of service and of duty in the island of Porto Rico, whither he goes, he will carry American jurisprudence to be applied, through singleness of purpose, fortified by learning and experience, to the introduction of the civilization which has made this great Republic great and to the administration of the justice which has made this great Republic strong.

"I have the honor, upon the recommendation of the faculty, and by the authority of the Board of Trustees of the State College of Kentucky, to confer upon Judge Wm. H. Holt, ex-Chief Justice of this Commonwealth, the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws. The honor worthily bestowed will be worn with honor and with dignity by our illustrious fellow-citizen, who will carry with him to his new home this souvenir of a grateful and appreciative institution.

SCIENCE HALL.

“As a citizen, an advocate, a judge and a man, his native state is justly proud of his reputation.

“He will, we are confident, add additional lustre by his future service to the dear old Commonwealth which he and we love so well.”

In addition to these, the honorary degree of A. M. has three times been conferred. In 1887, Maj. F. M. Helveti was thus honored. Many of us remember the courtly, polished gentleman who, from 1880 until the time of his death in 1894, held the chair of Modern Languages with such dignity. He was indeed a gentleman in all that the word implies and his memory will long be revered by those who knew and loved him. Maj. Helveti was also an honorary member of this association.

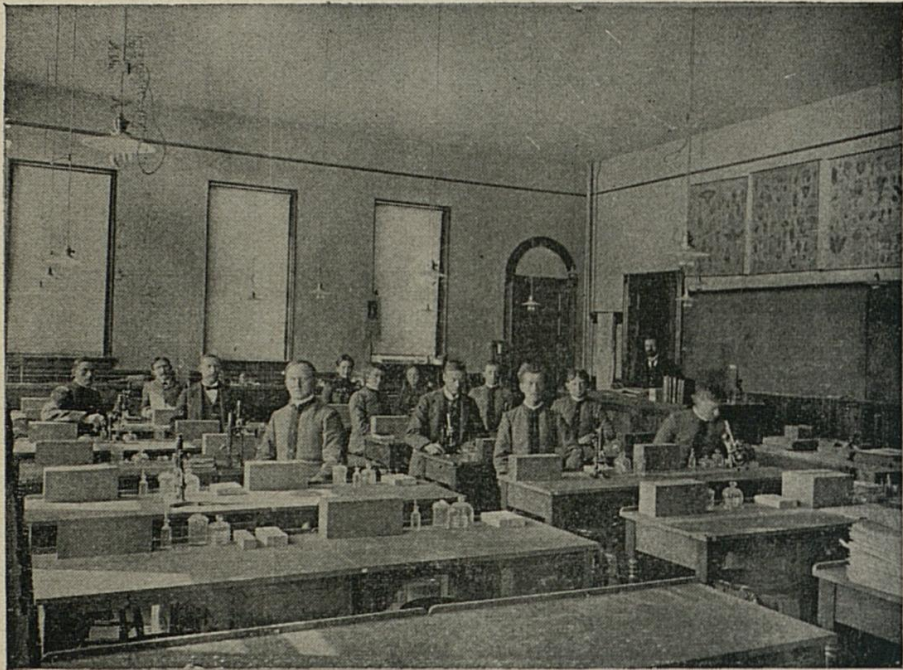

In the same year, Prof. Jas. G. White, Professor of Mathematics and Astronomy, Dean of the Scientific Department, was thus honored. Prof. White's connection with the faculty covers a period of 32 years, longer than that of any other member except the president. No man is better known or more highly honored by the alumni than he.

In 1896, Prof. Walter K. Patterson, Principal of the Academy, received the honorary degree of A. M. His connection with the College extends over a period of 20 years, having begun in 1880. Prof. Patterson is so well known to our members that any introduction would be superfluous.

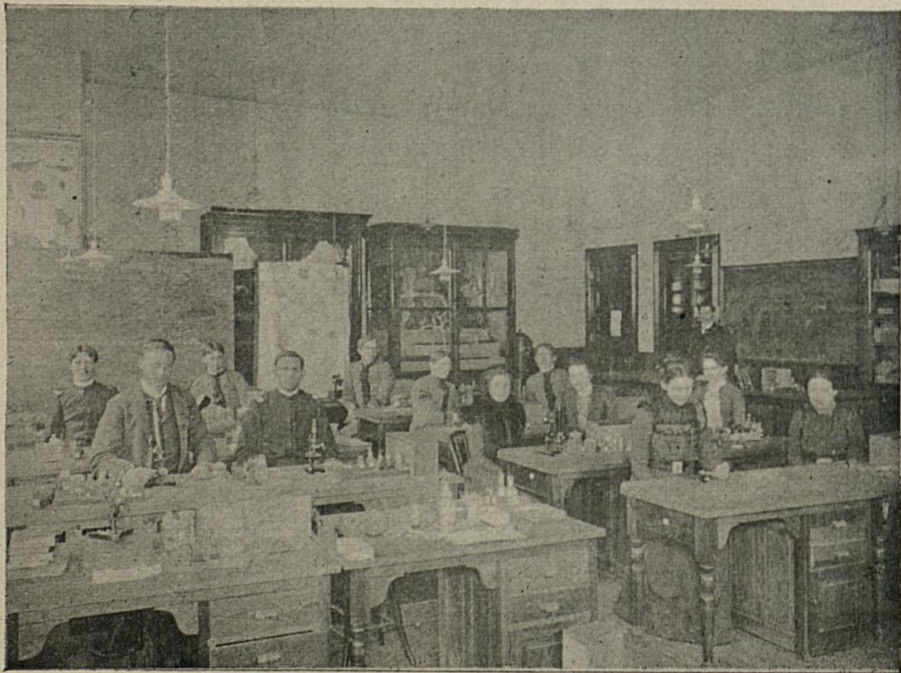

Our College Frats.

Fraternity life has become an integral part in the life of the students at State College, and it is therefore not out of place to make brief mention of the fraternities in the Alumni report. The history of fraternities at our college has not been an extended one, the first chapter, that of the Kappa Alpha Order, having been established February 23, 1893. This was followed by Sigma Chi, which began life at State College April 6 of the same year. K. A. started with but seven men and grew rapidly, having more than twenty members at the close of the session. This was due doubtless to the fact that there having been no other fraternity at the college at this time, men could be drawn from all four classes and not from the freshman alone, as is the rule to a large degree when fraternities have been sometime established and the field has been picked over.

Sigma Chi started with ten men, three more than Kappa Alpha, and their growth was likewise rapid and for like reasons. At the time when these two chapters were established two fraternities were enough for the college, as the attendance was not large, but with the new growth and the new life that has been instilled into the institution to a large degree by the activity of the alumni, the attendance has grown to such an extent that other fraternities have entered the college since the last report. Sigma Alpha Epsilon on February 14 initiated a chapter of ten active men as well as extending the privilege of initiation to the alumni members of the local society known to the uninitiated by the letters E S engraved on their badges. Later in the year Kappa Sigma, which has a chapter at Kentucky University, initiated five men. Whether they compose a separate chapter or exist simply as members of the chapter at Kentucky University has not been announced, but it is understood that Kappa Sigma will, at the beginning of the school year, be represented by a distinctly State College chapter, whatever may be the present condition of affairs.

BOTANICAL LABORATORY.

ZOOLOGICAL LABORATORY.

The fact that the number of chapters of the Greek letter fraternities have been increased at State College, is a direct compliment to the institution, as these fraternities seek to give character only to those colleges or universities where the best class of men are in attendance and in attendance in sufficient number to make the continued life of the chapter a reasonable expectation. No more certain indication therefore of the growing usefulness and popularity of our college could therefore be produced than this fact that the fraternities are seeing in it a field for new chapters.

The Annual Military Encampment of the Battalion.

When the troops from the various sections of Kentucky were mobilized in Lexington it was evident that a large number of the officers who were organizing and drilling the troops were old students of the State College. The Military discipline of their college years was of great value to them and to the State at that period. The military operations and spirit attending the marching and camping of troops in and around Lexington gave the students a new interest in the military drill and discipline of the College. It was this feeling, no doubt, that prompted the wild enthusiasm which greeted the proposal of a military camp last year, which camp was held at Clyffside Park and proved such a success in every particular.

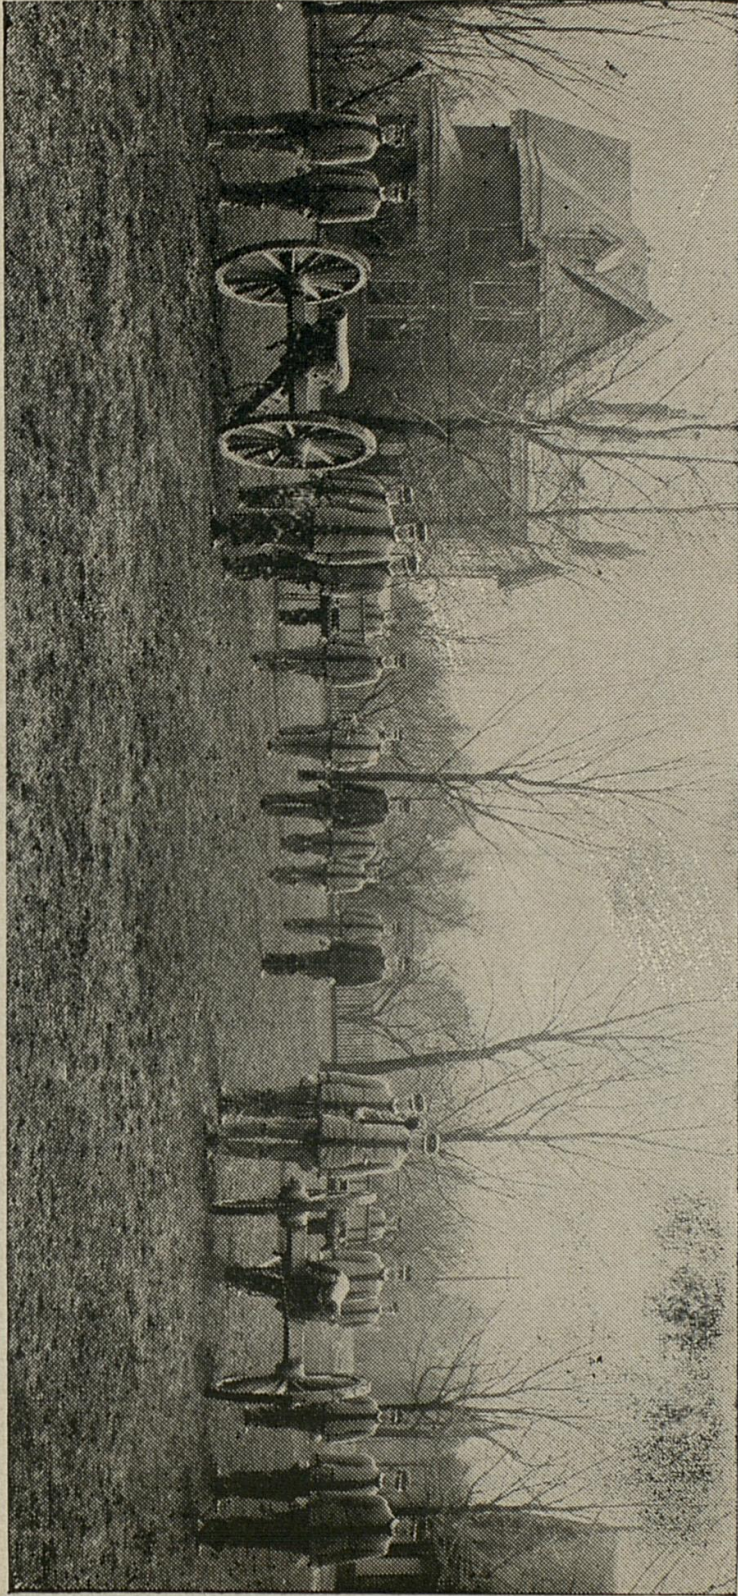

While the routine military duty gives each student a thorough knowledge of the manual of arms and implants a habit of promptness and obedience to orders that can be obtained no other way, yet the past experience of the cadets in this regard is that the military encampment of ten days or two weeks in its teaching of general camp formation, guard duty and general military routine in the field is of great benefit. At the invitation of Colonel Fyffe, an old student of the College, the military encampment of 1900 was held at Chattanooga during the Spring Fair and Flower Carnival and no encampment was ever a greater success. Colonel Fyffe, who was a commanding officer of one of the Tennessee regiments during the Spanish War, extended every courtesy to our battalion and was to a large extent responsible for this success. Major Carpenter, whose experience in the Spanish War had shown him the importance of a thorough knowledge of the government and sanitation of a camp, was thoroughly at home in the field; and while the discipline was quite rigid, yet the encampment was looked upon as not only an exceedingly profitable experience but as a pleasant vacation as well.

COMMANDANT AND OFFICERS OF THE BATTALION, 1899-1900.

COMMANDANT AND OFFICERS OF THE BATTALION, 1899-1900.

ARTILLERY, 1900.

A more ideal spot for a camp could not have been selected. It was formed at the foot of Missionary Ridge on a level, open space by the side of East Lake Park, near Bragg's headquarters during the battle of Missionary Ridge, and not far from the site of Hooker's charge on Lookout Mountain. A very pleasant day was spent reading history on the silent monuments in Chicamauga Park, and in studying the movements of one of the most remarkable battles in our history. The camping feature of the military department is one that has proven very popular among the students and productive of very good results and should be encouraged.

Two Successful Graduates of the Early Days of the College.

In the last annual report, a custom was inaugurated which will add much to the attractiveness of the reports. This is the publishing in each of short sketches of some of the older members of the association. The following is a brief account of two men who have both been remarkably successful in their widely different vocations.

THOMAS VOLNEY MUNSON, '70.

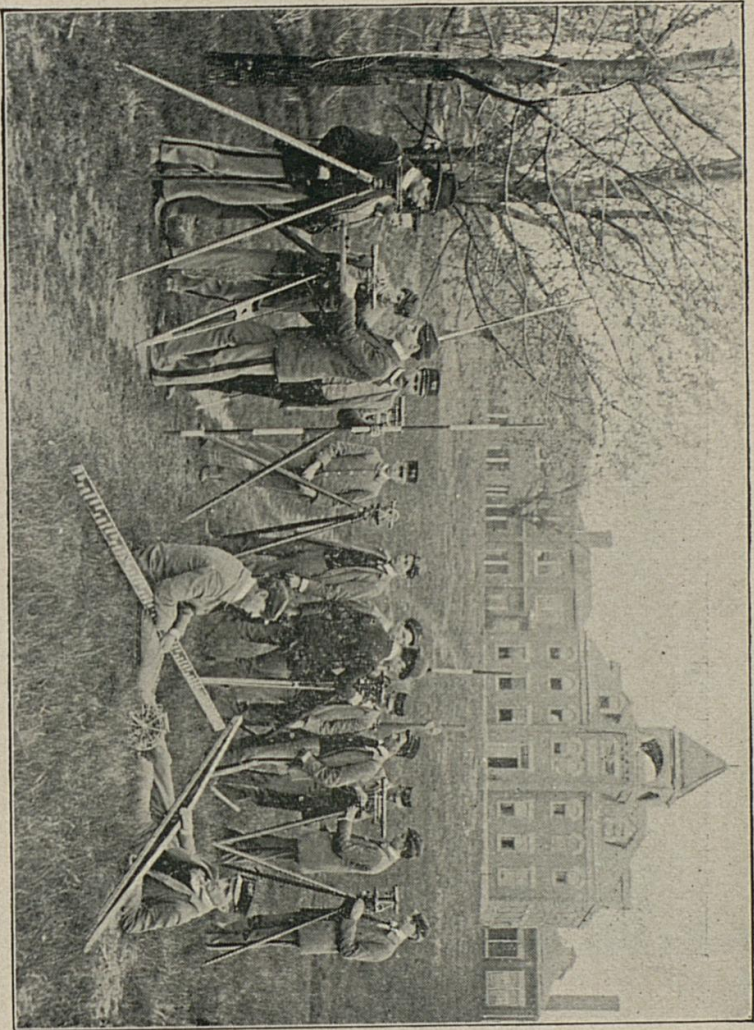

Thomas Volney Munson was born September 26th, 1843, near Astoria, Fulton County, Ill. His father, William Munson, was born in New Hampshire in 1808, and was descended from Richard Manson, a Scotch sea captain, who settled in Portsmouth, New Hampshire, about the year 1661. The ancestors of the subject of this sketch fought the Indians and through the War of the Revolution; the spelling of the name being changed at some time not well known, probably soon after the time of Richard Manson.

Mr. Munson was brought up on a farm in Illinois, receiving a common school education. At the age of fifteen he went one year to Fulton County Seminary in Lewistown, Ill; read medicine the next winter with his uncle, Dr. Thomas Linley, of Salem, Ky.; then taught school two winters near his home in Illinois. After this he took a full course in Bryant and Stratton's Business College, of Chicago, in 1864; taught school in 1865 and 1866, and entered the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Kentucky, at Lexington, in October, 1866. He took the full scientific course, with French, German and Pedagogy as special studies, and taught various of the lower branches while pursuing his course. He graduated in June, 1870, with the degree of Bachelor of Science, and was at once elected Adjunct Professor in sciences in his Alma Mater, which position he filled for seven months. His health giving away at this time from the close confinement of his profession, he resigned his position and abandoned the school room permanently for horticultural pursuits, which he has ever since followed.

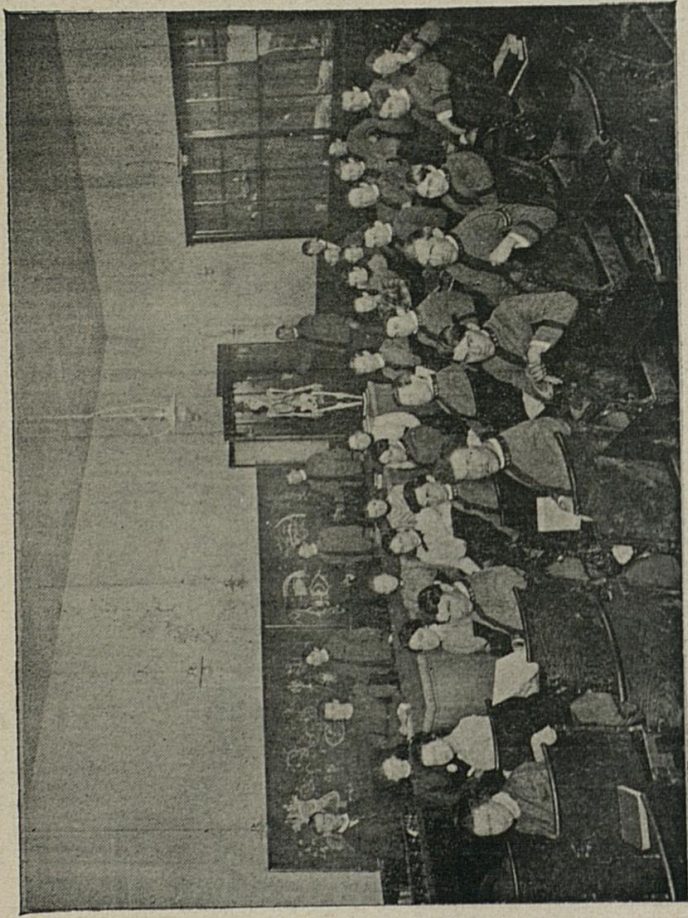

Mr. Munson was associated with Mr. C. S. Bell, Sr., in the

THOMAS VOLNEY MUNSON, '70.

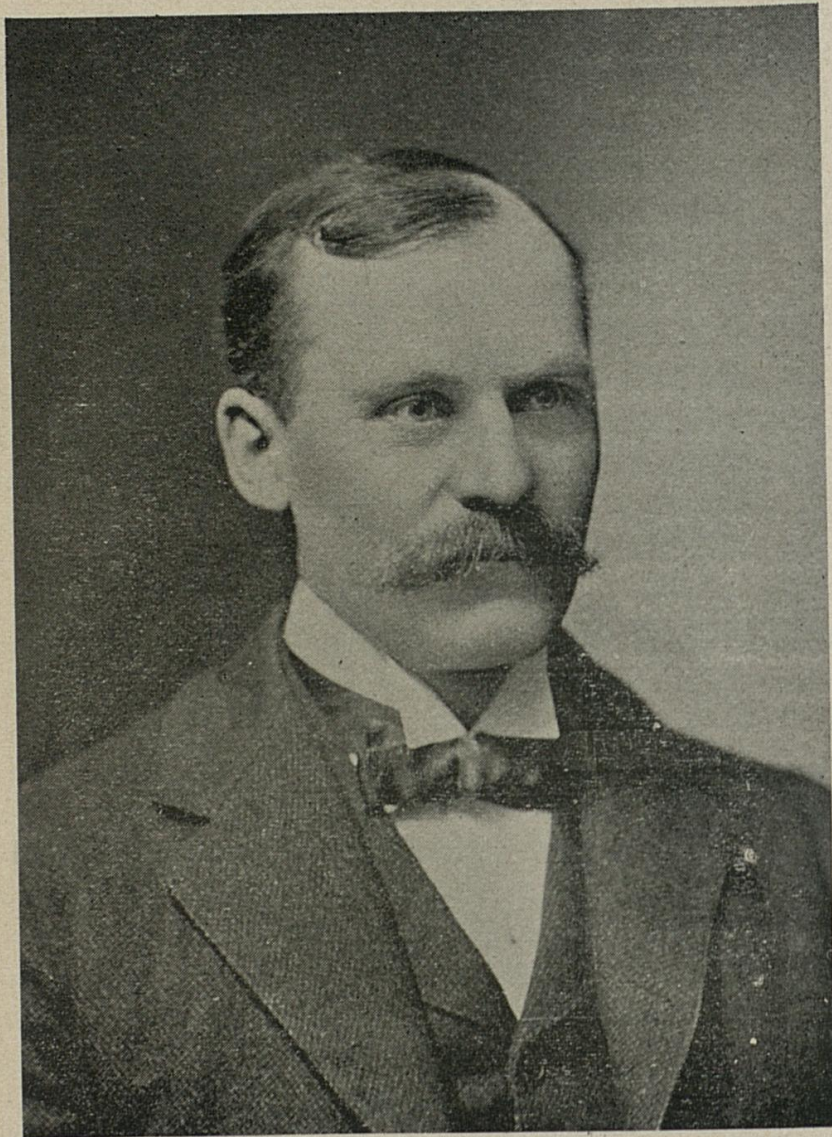

CLASS IN CIVIL ENGINEERING.

CLASS IN PHYSIOLOGY.

nursery business for three years, and in the fall of 1875 engaged in business on his own account in Lincoln, Nebraska, where he continued until April, 1876. Finding that the climate was not suited to the line of business desired, he moved to Denison, Texas where he has since resided and where he has been engaged in the nursery and fruit growing business. His trade has extended all over the Union and for a number of years he has had extensive dealings in seeds, cuttings and plants of the native American grapes resistant to Phylloxera in France, Italy, Germany, Austria, Mexico, South America and California. For recreation he has pursued systematic experimentation with peaches, pears, strawberries and especially grapes, originating many varieties of each, more of the grape varieties probably than all other originators in the United States together. He exhaustively studied the species of wild grapes of North America, discovering, describing and naming several new species, and in 1889 prepared an illustrated monograph of the same for the Department of Agriculture.

In 1872 he began writing for the agricultural and horticultural papers, and since then, has written hundreds of articles upon horticultural subjects, which have been published in the leading agricultural, horticultural and viticultural journals of the United States and Europe. He has read papers on these subjects before the American Horticultural and American Pomological Societies, American Society of Nurserymen, Society for the Advancement of Agricultural Science, American Forestry Society and before the State Horticultural Societies of Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas. In 1883 he presented before the American Forestry Society in Cincinnati a monograph on the forests and trees of Texas, which was presented to the Board of Directors of the State College of Kentucky as a thesis and that body, thereupon, conferred upon him the degree of Master of Science. This paper has been published in the American Journal of Forestry.

FRANKLIN FLOETE, '77.

The American Cotton Centennial Exposition of New Orleans in 1885, The Exposition Universelle of Paris in 1888 and The World's Columbian Exposition in 1893 awarded Mr. Munson diplomas and medals for botanical exhibits of native, wild and cultivated grapes of America. In 1888 France conferred upon Mr. Munson the title of "Chevalier du Merite d'Agricole" and presented him with the decorations and diploma of the Legion of Honor for valuable assistance rendered Professor Pierre Viala when in the United States in 1887, as special commissioner of France to investigate the wild grapes of the United States.

In 1898 Mr. Munson was elected foreign correspondent to the Societe Nationale d'Agriculture de France. Mr. Munson was engaged to write the article in Professor Bailey's Encyclopedia of American Horticulture on grape culture in the South. This work is now being published by McMillan & Co. in four volumes.

Notwithstanding the immense amount of horticultural work that Mr. Munson has accomplished, he has been greatly interested in other matters, and has contributed numerous articles to the press on social ethics, education, religious theories and finance, some of which have been widely copied. He has been taking great interest in education in his present home, having served for a number of years as president of the School Board.

On June 21st, 1870, Mr. Munson married Miss Ellen Scott Bell, daughter of Mr. C. S. Bell, Sr., florist and landscape gardener of Lexington, Ky. They have raised a family of five daughters and two sons, now mostly grown and respected members of society.

FRANKLIN FLOETE, '77.

Franklin Floete graduated from the State College in 1877 with the degree of B. S. Having had some experience in the lumber business before entering college, he again turned his attention to this line, and moved to Spencer, Iowa, where he became the manager for a large lumber concern. Close attention to the minutest details and continued application at this period laid the foundations for his future success. He continued at Spencer for seven years when he became owner of the retail lumber yards of his former employers at Spencer and Milford, Iowa, adding a few more yards from time to time until 1892, when with his brother he organized the Floete Lumber Company. Since that time the business of the firm has extended until now they own a large number of yards in Iowa and South Dakota.

LEONIDAS RAGAN.
Winner State Inter-Collegiate Oratorical Contest, 1900.

Settling in northwest Iowa when that state was largely undeveloped, Mr. Floete at first devoted his entire time to his lumber interests, but as his success in this line widened the field, he was very naturally attracted by side issues which appeared to offer profitable fields for investment. In recent years he has been largely interested in real estate and banking in addition to lumber. Mr. Floete is married and resides in St. Paul, Minn. He has taken an active interest in alumni affairs, is a life member of the association and has officiated as President.

Oratory at the State College

During the past collegiate year, the State College has been singularly successful upon the oratorical platform, for in both the State Inter-Collegiate contest and the Lexington Chautauqua contest the blue and white have been triumphant. The excellence of the orators developed at the College is a magnificent tribute to the Classical and English departments and to the various literary societies that have been so successful in fostering a literary spirit among the students, and have by their receptions and open sessions contributed so much to the social life of the students.

The Inter-Collegiate contest was won by Mr. Leonidas Ragan,

ROBERT M. ALLEN.
Winner Lexington Chautauqua Oratorical Contest, 1900.

of Shearer Valley, Ky., who, in addition to this honor, was distinguished as the honor man of the Classical department for 1900. His address, "At the Open Door," was really a magnificent plea for Imperialism and was pronounced one of the finest orations ever delivered on such an occasion.

The Chautauqua contest, on June 28th, 1900, was won by Mr. Robert M. Allen, also of the class of 1900 and hailing from Faywood, Ky. Mr. Allen spoke on "New Conditions and New Duties," and was awarded the decision over the representatives of the five other most prominent institutions in the State. His address was characterized by considerable depth of thought and his delivery forceful, while easy and graceful.

The graduates of the past have won rich laurels in the field of oratory and the class of Nineteen Hundred have raised our reputation in this field above the best. The alumni are proud to welcome these promising young men and trust that the future has still richer triumphs in store for them.

Constitution.

ARTICLE I.

Name.

SECTION 1. The name of this association is the ASSOCIATION OF ALUMNI OF THE STATE COLLEGE OF KENTUCKY.

ARTICLE II.

Object.

SECTION 1. The object of this Association is to promote the best interests of our Alma Mater and the professional welfare of its members, and to strengthen the bonds of friendship and social fellowship among the Alumni of the College.

ARTICLE III.

Meetings.

SECTION 1. Meetings shall be held at least once a year for the reading of papers and the discussion of subjects of general or professional interest and social intercourse.

SEC. 2. The annual meetings of this Association shall be held in the city of Lexington, on a date not more than seven days before the annual commencement of the College, the time and place to be determined by the Executive Committee.

SEC. 3. Special meetings shall be called by the President or the Chairman of the Executive Committee at their discretion, or upon the written request of ten members of the Association at large, or of three members of the Executive Committee.

SEC. 4. Notices of meetings shall be mailed at least ten days before the date of the meeting.

ARTICLE IV.

Officers.

SECTION 1. The officers of this Association shall be a President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer, who may be the same person as the Secretary, and an Executive Committee composed of five members. These officers shall be elected by the Association in the manner provided by Article IX. The Treasurer, Secretary and three members of the Executive Committee shall reside in the city of Lexington or in Fayette County.

SEC. 2. The President, Vice-President, Treasurer, Secretary and members of the Executive Committee shall hold office for one year.

SEC. 3. No officer except Treasurer and Secretary shall be eligible for election to an office for more than two consecutive years.

ARTICLE V.

President.

SECTION 1. It shall be the duty of the President to call and preside at the meetings of the Association, and fill by appointment any vacancies that may occur in the Executive Committee until the next annual election, and to perform such other duties as may devolve upon him by virtue of his office.

SEC. 2. In the absence or disability of the President, the Vice-President shall perform the duties of the President.

SEC. 3. In the absence or disability of both President and Vice-President, the Chairman of the Executive Committee shall perform the duties of President.

SEC. 4. The President shall be ex-officio a member of the Executive Committee.

ARTICLE VI.

Secretary.

SECTION 1. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to issue notices of all meetings of the Executive Committee and of the Association; to keep minutes of all meetings of both bodies; to record the names, addresses and occupations of its members, and to perform such other duties as may be assigned to him by the Executive Committee.

ARTICLE VII.

Treasurer.

SECTION 1. It shall be the duty of the Treasurer to collect all moneys and pay all bills of the Association, but no indebtedness shall be incurred unless previously authorized by the Executive Committee. The Treasurer shall present to the Executive Committee a written report of the financial condition of the Association at the annual meeting. His accounts shall be audited by the Executive Committee.

SEC. 2. The Treasurer may be the same person as the Secretary.

ARTICLE VIII.

Executive Committee.

SECTION 1. The Executive Committee shall have general charge of the affairs, funds and property of the Association. It shall have full power, and it shall be the duty of the Executive Committee to carry out the purposes of the Association according to the Constitution and By-Laws.

SEC. 2. Immediately after their election the members of the Executive Committee shall meet and elect a Chairman from those of their number resident in Lexington or Fayette county, and it shall be the duty of the Chairman to call and preside at all meetings of the Committee.

SEC. 3. A quorum of the Committee shall consist of not less than three members.

ARTICLE IX.

Elections.

SECTION 1. The officers of this Association shall be elected at the regular annual meetings by a majority of the members present, and the proxies of members sent in to be voted.

SEC. 2. The officers of the Association, including the Executive Committee, shall be elected from the Association at large, subject however, to the restrictions as to residence contained in Art. IV. of the Constitution.

ARTICLE X.

Members.

SECTION 1. This Association shall consist of Regular and Honorary members.

SEC. 2. Every person who has been a student at the State College for a period of one year and who has received a degree from the College shall be eligible to membership in this Association.

SEC. 3. Such person shall become a regular member of this Association upon payment of the initiation fee to the Treasurer.

SEC. 4. Honorary members may be elected by the Association from among persons eminent in Science, Literature, or Art, who have been or are connected with the State College of Kentucky. They shall be entitled to all the privileges of regular members, except those of voting and holding office, and shall be exempted from payment of dues.

SEC. 5. Members one year in arrears in payment of annual dues may, after due notification, be dropped from the roll, and shall then forfeit their rights and privileges in the Association until all arrears be paid.

SEC. 6. Only those members not in arrears shall be entitled to vote or hold office.

ARTICLE XI.

Dues.

SECTION 1. The annual dues of this Association shall be fifty cents, payable on or before the day of the annual meeting in each year.

SEC. 2. Any member not in arrears may become a Life Member, and be relieved from further payment of annual dues by the payment, at any time, of twenty dollars.

SEC. 3. The initiation fee shall be one dollar, payable upon application for membership in this Association.

ARTICLE XII.

Amendments.

SECTION 1. This Constitution may be amended by a two-thirds vote of all the members present at any meeting of the Association. Ballots on any proposed amendment may be sent in to the Secretary, and the votes shall be counted with those of the members present.

SEC. 2. An amendment to the Constitution or By-Laws shall first be submitted in writing to the Executive Committee, and must be approved by it before presentation to the Association. The action of the Executive Committee shall be in each case final; but final action shall not be taken on any proposed amendment before the expiration of one month from the date at which such proposal is submitted. A four-fifths vote of the whole Committee shall be necessary to pass an amendment.

SEC. 3. Notice of a proposed amendment shall be given in the regular notices of the meeting of the Association at which it is to be acted upon.

ARTICLE XIII.

Suspension or Expulsion.

SECTION 1. Any member of the Association may be suspended or expelled for misconduct in his relations to the Association or in his profession on proof thereof, in such manner as may be hereafter prescribed by the By-Laws; and all interest in the property of the Association of persons resigning or otherwise ceasing to be members, shall vest in the Association.

By-Laws.

ARTICLE I.

The order of business at any meeting of the Association shall be as follows :

1. Reading of minutes of preceding meeting and action thereupon.
2. Report of the Executive Committee.
3. Report of Treasurer.
4. Report of Standing Committees.
5. Report of Special Committees.
6. Unfinished business.
7. Election of Officers.
8. Installment of Officers.
9. Appointment of Committees.
10. Adjournment.

ARTICLE II.

The order of business at any meeting of the Association, or of the Executive Committee, may be changed by a vote of a majority of the members present. The usual parliamentary rules and orders shall govern all meetings of the Association, except in cases otherwise provided for by the Constitution or By-Laws.

ARTICLE III.

All Committees shall be appointed by the President unless otherwise ordered.

ARTICLE IV.

These By-Laws may be amended at any regular meeting of the Association, but only by a vote of two-thirds of those present.

Faculty.

(In the order of appointment.)

JAMES KENNEDY PATTERSON, PH. D., LL. D., F. S. A., President,
Professor of History, Political Economy, and Metaphysics.

JAMES GARRARD WHITE, A. M.,
Professor of Mathematics and Astronomy.

JOHN HENRY NEVILLE, A. M., LL. D., Vice-President
Professor of Greek and Latin.

WALTER KENNEDY PATTERSON, A. M.,
Principal of the Academy.

JOSEPH HOEING KASTLE, PH. D.,
Professor of Chemistry.

RURIC NEVILLE ROARK, PH. D.,
Principal of the Normal School.

JOSEPH WILLIAM PRYOR, M. D.,
Professor of Anatomy and Physiology.

FREDERIC PAUL ANDERSON, M. E.,
Professor of Mechanical Engineering.

CLARENCE WENTWORTH MATHEWS, B. S.,
Professor of Botany, Horticulture, and Agriculture.

ARTHUR MCQUISTON MILLER, A. M.,
Professor of Geology and Zoology.

MERRY LEWIS PENCE, M. S.,
Professor of Physics.

PAUL WERNICKE,
Professor of Modern Languages.

JOHN PASCAL BROOKS, M. S.,
Professor of Civil Engineering.

ALEXANDER ST. CLAIR MACKENZIE, M. A.,
Professor of English and Logic.

WILLIAM THOMAS CARPENTER, B.M. E.,
Commandant and Professor of Military Science.

ASSISTANTS.

JOHN LEWIS LOGAN, A. B.,
First Assistant in the Academy.

ROBERT LEE BLANTON, M. LIT.,
Assistant in Greek and Latin.

JOSEPH MORTON DAVIS, A. B., B. S.,
Second Assistant in the Academy.

VICTOR EMANUEL MUNCY, B. S.,
Third Assistant in the Academy.

JAMES RICHARD JOHNSON, B. M. E.,
Assistant in Shop-work and Drawing.

CHARLES RALPH STURDEVANT, M. E.,
Assistant in Electrical Engineering.

SAMUEL CARRUTHERS DEBOW, B. M. E.,
Laboratory Assistant in Experimental Engineering.

MILFORD WHITE, B. C. E.,
Assistant in Normal School.

JOHN THEODORE FAIG, M. E.,
Assistant in Mechanical Engineering.

JAMES EDWARD SAUNDERS,
Assistant in Woodwork.

JOSEPH DICKER,
Assistant in Forging and Foundry.

MISS MIRIAM GRATZ CLAY,
Assistant in Drawing.

JOHN ALBERTUS SHARON,
Assistant in English and Mathematics.

LECTURE ASSISTANTS.

SAXE DABNEY AVERITT, B. S.,
Fellow in Geology.

JEWETT VILLEROI REED,
Assistant in Chemistry.

WILLIAM CARPENTER McCARTY,
Assistant in Botany.

Alumni Directory.

The Alumni are earnestly requested to report changes of address or occupation, or any errors or omissions in this list promptly to the Secretary.

1869.

WILLIAM BENJAMIN MUNSON, B. S., Denison, Texas. Admitted to the bar at Sherman, Texas, in 1872. President of the Denison and Washita Valley Railway Company. President of the Sherman, Shreveport & Southern Railway. (See Alumni report, 1899; p. 17.)

1870.

THOMAS VOLNEY MUNSON, B. S., M. S., '83, Denison, Texas. Nurseryman and Fruitgrower. In 1888 received from France, Diploma and Decorations of the Legion of Honor (Chevalier de Merite Agricole). In 1898 was elected Foreign Corresponding Member of the National Society of Agriculture of France. Author of Monograph on American Grapes. See p. 43.

1871.

ENOCH HARDING, B. S., Fort Worth, Texas. Farmer.

1874.

ROBERT EMMETT CARSWELL, B. S., Decatur, Texas. Attorney-at-Law. LL. B., '76, College of Law, Kentucky University.

JOHN ALLEN DEAN, B. S., Owensboro. Ky. Attorney-at-Law. LL. B., '76, Louisville University. Referee in Bankruptcy. Formerly Chief Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue and City Attorney of Owensboro.

THOMAS ROLLINS HARDIN. B. S., M. S., '76, Ruston, La. President of Ruston College.

EDWARD E. SMITH, B. S., Chicago, Ill. Manager Educational Department, Rand, McNally & Co. Author of Various educational and other articles.

1875.

EDGAR THOMAS BROWN, B. S., M. S., '77. Book-keeper, Armour & Co., Chicago, Ill., also 1132 W. Madison St.

1877.

FRANKLIN FLOETE, B. S., St. Paul, Minn. See p. 49
BALLARD PRESTON WARD, B. S., Speedwell, Va. Farmer and Stockman.

1878.

MOSES SALVADOR COLE, B. S., Rivas, Nicaragua. Not heard from.

MAHLON MACKIE, B. S. (Deceased.) See Report 1891, p. 4.

1879.

CHARLES GRAHAM BLAKELY, B. S., M. S., '84, Topeka, Kans. Formerly Actuary Kansas Mutual Life Association. Insurance.

NAPOLEON BONAPARTE HAYS, B. S., M. S., '84, Pineville, Ky. Attorney-at-Law.

CALEB SYKES PERRY, B. S., Indianapolis, Ind. Principal Perry's Mercantile College. Author Perry's practical book-keeping.

HENRY MOSES WRIGHT, B. S., Rome, Georgia. Attorney-at-Law.

1880.

JAMES CRAWFORD, B. S., Lexie, Tenn. Farmer; late in the U. S. Signal Corps.

ALFRED MEREDITH PETER, B. S., M. S., '85, Lexington, Ky. Chemist, Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station, State College. Formerly Instructor in Chemistry in the State College, and Assistant Chemist of the Kentucky Geological Survey. Author of various articles published in the Bulletins and Reports of the Station and in the Reports of the Geological Survey. Published two Reports on Soil and Ash in the proceedings of the Association of Official Agricultural Chemists for the years of 1894 and 1895. Was Reporter on Soils and Ash of that Association. Member of the American Chemical Society and of the German Chemical Society of Berlin.

NICHOLAS JOHN WELLER, B. S., Pineville, Ky. Attorney-at-Law.

GEORGE CROGHAN WHATLEY, B. S., Birmingham, Ala. Real Estate and Fire Insurance Agent.

1881.

MERRY LEWIS PENCE, B. S., M. S., '85, Lexington, Ky. Professor of Physics, State College of Kentucky. Formerly Instructor in the College. Professor of Civil Engineering and Physics, State College, in 1889-90, and 1890-91.

1882.

GEORGE G. BERRY, B. S., Lexington, Ky. Internal Revenue Service.

LOUIS KUINDERS DEROODE, A. B., A. M., '86, on the staff of The Press, Philadelphia, Pa.

JOHN PATTERSON, A. B., A. M., '86, Louisville, Ky. Professor of Greek, Louisville High School. A. B., '84, Harvard University. Author of "Lyric Touches, a Metrical Version of the Medea of Euripides." Contributor to Scottish Review, Independent and other magazines and periodicals.

EDWARD LEE ROGERS, A. B., Cincinnati, Ohio.

JOHN ARMSTRONG SHACKLEFORD, A. B., A. M., '86, Tacoma, Wash. Attorney-at-Law.

JOHN WILLIAM STOLL, A. B., Lexington, Ky. Cashier, Lexington City National Bank.

1883.

WILLIAM ELIJAH KING, B. S. (Deceased). See Report 1896, p. 4.

JAMES W. TAYLOR, A. B. Cynthiana, Ky. Insurance.

1884.

BURTON PRENDERGAST EUBANK, B. S., Dallas, Texas. Attorney-at-Law. Letters returned.

CLARENCE SCOTT GRAVES, B. S., Lexington, Ky. Lexington Steam Laundry.

HENRY CLAY JONES, B. S. (Deceased). See Report 1892, p. 4.

JOSEPH HOEING KASTLE, B. S., M. S., '86, Lexington, Ky. Professor of Chemistry, State College of Kentucky. Ph. D., '88, Johns Hopkins University. Author of "Original Papers of the Chemical Department of State College of Kentucky," 1889-1897, including a large number of articles published by the American Chemical Journal. Some have been published in book form. Also author of number of works treating of various chemical compounds, acids, salts, etc.

RUSSELL THOMAS RAMSEY, B. S., London, Ky. Physician. M. D., '87 Ohio Medical College.

OTIS VIOLETT RILEY, B. S., Pineville, Ky. Attorney-at-Law. L. L. B., '88, Louisville Law School.

1885.

RUDOLPH JOHN JULIUS DEROODE, B. S., M. S., '87, Ph. D., '90, Johns Hopkins University. Director Bureau Tests, International Paper Co., Glens Falls, N. Y.

GEORGE THOMAS GESS, B. S., Lexington, Ky. Attorney-at-Law.
J. CRITTENDEN GORDON, B. S., Pleasureville, Ky.

WILLIAM DAVID LAMBUTH, A. B., Seattle, Wash. Attorney-at-Law. B. L., M. L., Columbia Law School.

JAMES RUSSELL SCOTT, B. S., Lexington, Ky. Architect.

WILLIAM GARLAND THORNBURY, B. S., Brooklyn, N. Y. Architect. Chief Examiner, Department of Buildings.

1886.

THOMAS HUNT MORGAN, B. S., M. S., '88, Bryn Mawr, Pa. Professor of Biology, Bryn Mawr College. Ph. D., '90, Johns Hopkins University.

ROBERT LEE PREWITT, A. B., Walnut Hill, Ky. Farmer.

WILLIAM C. PREWITT, A. B., Fort Worth, Texas. Attorney-at-Law. Volunteer, U. S. A.

1887.

KEARNEY LEE HIFNER, B. S., Pinkard, Ky. Manufacturer of Tobacco.

THOMAS WHEATLEY SHACKLEFORD, A. B., Superior, Wis. Attorney-at-Law. LL. B., '90, University of Michigan.

1888.

FREDERICK VINCENT BARTLETT, B. S., Lexington, Ky. Secretary American Investment Co.

GEORGE GIST BRYAN, B. S., Lexington, Ky. Internal Revenue Service. Attorney-at-Law.

HENRY ERNEST CURTIS, B. S., M. S., '92, Lexington, Ky. Chemist, Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station, State College. Author of various articles published in the Bulletins and Reports of the Station and in the Proceedings of the Association of Official Agricultural Chemists.

BELLE CLEMENT GUNN, B. S., [Mrs. Charles S. Kay] Springfield, Ohio.

ROBERT TREAT PAYNE, B. S., Athens, Ky.

1889.

EDWARD ELLERSHAW, A. B., A. M., '92, Bristol, Eng. Barrister.
Captain in South Wales Borderers, British Army.

HUGH MILLER FRAZER, B. S., Lexington, Ky. Electrical Engineer.
E. E., '97, Johns Hopkins University.

WILLIAM ANDREW PATTERSON, B. S., [Deceased]. See Report
1895, p. 10.

ANNIE GIST PREWITT, B. S., Lexington, Ky. Teacher in City Schools.

ROBERT BERNIE WALKER, B. S., Lexington, Ky. Book-keeper.

1890.

RICHARD THOMAS ANDERSON, JR., B. S., Lexington, Ky. Clerk, Fayette National Bank.

ANNIE JANE BAKER, B. S., [Mrs. J. N. Hawkins] Lexington, Ky.

CHARLES ROBERT BROCK B. S., London, Ky. Attorney-at-Law.

KEENE RICHARDS FORSTON, B. S., Indianapolis, Ind. General
Southern Manager, Eli Lilly & Co., Indianapolis, Ind.

JOHN WESLEY GUNN, C. E., Lexington, Ky. Civil Engineer.

CHARLES HOEING, A. B., A. M., '92, Rochester, N. Y. Ph. D., '97,
Johns Hopkins University. Professor of Latin, Rochester University. Member Phi Beta Kappa, Johns Hopkins.

MARGARET AGNES WILSON, B. S., Chicago, Ill., 4208 Prairie Ave.

JAMES ANDERSON YATES, B. S., M. S., '99, Ottawa, Kan. Professor of Natural Science, Ottawa University.

1891.

HENRY SKILLMAN BERRY, B. S., Lexington, Ky. Attorney-at-Law.

U. L. CLARDY, B. S., Newstead, Ky.

VICTOR EMANUEL MUNCY, B. S., Lexington, Ky. Former Instructor in State College and Meteorologist for the Agricultural Experiment Station. Business Agent for the State College.

WILLIAM RUSSELL WALLIS, C. E., Crews, Miss. Civil Engineer on levees of the Mississippi.

B. CALLIE WARNER, B. S., [Mrs. J. H. Kastle] Lexington, Ky.

1892.

ARTHUR MELVILLE COX, A. B., Cynthiana, Ky. Attorney-at-Law. LL. B. '98, University of Michigan.

FIELDING CLAY ELKIN, B. S., Lexington, Ky. Attorney-at-Law and Postmaster of Lexington. President Henry Clay Republican Club. Deputy Commissioner in Chancery, Fayette Circuit Court.

IRENE LEONORA HUNT, B. S., B. Ped., [Mrs. C. T. Downing] Walnut Hill Pike, Lexington, Ky.

JOHN GEE MAXEY, A. B., Louisville, Ky. Letters returned.

WILLIAM SEABURY PAGE, C. E., Inspector U. S. Customs, Nelson, Wash.

SAMUEL LANCASTER POTTINGER, A. B., Louisville, Ky. Physician. M. D., '94, Louisville Medical College.

FRANK CRAIG REYNOLDS, C. E., (Deceased). See Report 1894, p. 6.

FRANK ELMER SCOVELL, C. E., Rose Hill, Ill. Miller and Grain Dealer.

HIRAM SHAW, B. S., Book-keeper, Peoples' Gas Light and Coke Co., Chicago, Ill.

ISAAC PRATHER SHELBY, C. E., Lexington, Ky. Civil Engineer.

BUTLER TURPIN SOUTHGATE, A. B., Lexington, Ky. Attorney-at-Law.

1893.

KATHERINE INNES ADAMS, A. B., [Mrs. Horton Moore] Albuquerque, New Mexico.

JOHN IRWIN BRYAN, B. S., B. M. E., '95, San Francisco, Cal. First Assistant Engineer, U. S. S. "Thetis", Revenue Cutter.

EDMUND COURTNEY, B. Ped., Falmouth, Ky. Physician. M. D., Louisville Medical College.

HENRY MARTIN GUNN, B. S., Lexington, Ky. Former Assistant Editor and Business Manager of Southern School and Secretary Kentucky Educational Association. Insurance.

WILLIAM COTT HOBODY, B. S., Southampton, Eng. Assistant Surgeon, U. S. Marine Hospital Service. M. D., '96, College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York.

JAMES RICHARD JOHNSON, B. M. E., Lexington, Ky. Assistant Professor of Mathematics, State College.

JOHN WILLIAM MCFARLIN, B. S., Franklin, Ky. Farmer.

MORTON SANDERS RAILEY, C. E., Washington, D. C. Formerly private Secretary of Senator Blackburn.

DANIEL STILLWELL ROBERTS, B. Ped., Hardinsburg, Ky. Principal Breckinridge Normal College. Formerly Principal Ekron School.

DENNY PERRYMAN SMITH, B. S., Cadiz, Ky., Attorney-at-Law and County Attorney.

ROSA SPEYER, B. S., M. S., 1900, Lexington, Ky. Teacher.

CORA E. WARE, B. Ped., Pineville, La. Teacher.

MILFORD WHITE, C. E., M. S., 1900, Lexington, Ky. Assistant in Normal Department, State College. Formerly Professor of Mathematics, Williamsburg Institute, Williamsburg, Ky. Afterwards Professor of Natural Science, Ottawa, Kas.

BENJAMIN GRANT WILLIS, B. S., Lexington, Ky. Traveling Salesman.

1894.

EDWIN CHESTERFIELD AULICK, A. B., Louisville, Ky., Attorney-at-Law.

GEORGE DICKIE BRADSHAW, B. Ped. Attorney-at-Law, Owensboro, Ky.

EDWARD BRAND, A. B., A. M., '96. Instructor at Howard College, East Lake, Ala.

CARLTON COLEMAN CURTIS, B. S., Lexington, Ky. Horseman.

JOHN THEODORE FAIG, B. M. E., M. E., '97, Lexington, Ky. Instructor in Mechanical Engineering, State College. Formerly with Lane & Bodley Co., Cincinnati. Afterwards Instructor in Mechanical Engineering, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Mich.

ULYSSES ANDERSON GARRED, B. M. E., 6650 Perry Ave., Chicago, Ill. Electrician.

EMMA ROSETTA GRIFFING, B. S., Lexington, Ky. Teacher in City Schools.

JAMES MORRISON HAYS, A. B., Pineville, Ky. Teacher.

LEONARD SAMUEL HUGHES, B. S. Assistant Surgeon U. S. Army, Caibarien, Cuba, Santa Clara Province. Home address, Woodlake, Ky.

MATTISON BOYD JONES, A. B., Former Instructor in Mathematics and Commandant, State College. Attorney-at-Law, Bryson Building, Los Angeles, Cal.

BENJAMIN CHRISTOPHER KEISER, B. S., St. Louis, Mo. Chemist. Supt. Skabcura Dip Co.

LILLIE KROESING, B. S., Lexington, Ky.

NATHAN ALEXANDER NEWTON, B. M. E., M. E., '99, Oil City, Pa. Draughtsman with National Transit Co.

ALBERT CLIFT NORMAN, B. M. E., San Francisco, Cal. Second Assistant Engineer, U. S. S. "Bear." Revenue Cutter.

NINA PEARL OOTS, B. S., [Mrs. Wells] Richmond, Ky.

KATHERINE SHELBY, B. S., [Mrs. Campbell Scott] Lexington, Ky.

DORA SLEDD, B. Ped., [Mrs. H. B. Robison] Lexington, Ky.

WILLIAM CLAY TRIGG, Ullin, Ill., care Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railway. Civil Engineer.

HATTIE HOCKER WARNER, B. S., M. S., '96, [Mrs. Wm. C. Hobdy] Southampton, Eng.

1895.

MARY LYONS ATKINS, B. S., Lexington, Ky. Teacher in City Schools.

LANAS SPURGEON BARBER, B. S., Kiddville, Ky. Teacher.

HENRY SKILLMAN PUSH, B. S., Lexington, Ky. Draughtsman and Architect.

MARY LEGRAND DIDLAKE, B. S., M. S., '97, Lexington, Ky. Former Assistant in Entomology, State College.

JOSEPH MILTON DOWNING, B. M. E., Oil City, Pa., care National Transit Company.

JOHN VICK FAULKNER, C. E., Simon, Indian Territory.

LUCY STUART FITZHUGH, A. B., A. M., '96, Lexington, Ky.

NETTIE BELLE FOSTER, B. S., Lexington, Ky.

ELIZABETH WHITTINGTON KING, A. B., A. M., '97, [Mrs. Charles Judson Smith] Acidalia, N. Y.

THOMAS STONE LEWIS, A. B., Lexington, Ky. Physician. Pathologist E. K. L. Asylum. M. D., '98, University of Louisville.

MARY CATHERINE McCAUGHLIFFE, B. S., Lexington, Ky.

JAMES ASA McCONATHY, B. S., Kirklevington, Ky. Teacher.

PAUL INGOLD MURRILL, B. S., M. S., '96, Ph. D., '99. University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. Holder of Stearns Fellowship, University of Michigan.

ROBERTA NEWMAN, B. S., Lexington, Ky.

NELLIE ANNA REYNOLDS, B. S., M. S., '96, Lexington, Ky. Teacher.

RICHARD CHARLES STOLL, A. B., Lexington, Ky. Attorney-at-Law. Member Board of Trustees and of Executive Committee, State College. LL. B., '97, Yale University. Vice-President Yale

Southern Club; President Yale Kent Club; Speaker Wayland Prize Debate, Yale, '97; Diploma and Fellowship, Yale Kent Club, '97.

RUFUS LEE WEAVER, B. S., LL. B., '98, University of Michigan. Attorney and Counsellor at Law, 71 Broadway, New York City. Won Oratorical Contest, Law Department, University of Michigan, 1898.

JOHN WEBB WILLMOTT, A. B., Louisville, Ky.

JOHN JOSEPH WOODS, A. B., Lexington, Ky. Attorney-at-Law. 1896.

SMITH EDISON ALFORD, A. B., Lexington, Ky. Former Professor Ancient Languages, Bingham School, Mebane, N. C.

JAMES WILLIAM CARNAHAN, A. B., London, Ky. Teacher in Sue Bennett Memorial School.

DANIEL MORRIS CASE, B. M. E., Williamstown, Ky. Draughtsman, Queen & Crescent Railroad.

HARRY ADOLPH DAVIDSON, C. E., M. D., '99, Louisville, Ky. Professor in Mathematics, Manual Training High School. Physician.

THOMAS ROLAND DEAN, A. B., LL. B., '99, University of Michigan. Attorney-at-Law, South McAlester, Indian Territory.

ALICE DUCK, B. S., Lexington, Ky.

JOHN JENNINGS DUNLAP, A. B., Independence, Ky. Internal Revenue Service.

FELIX KERRICK, A. B., Louisville, Ky. Assistant Professor of Mathematics, Manual Training High School.

JOEL IRVINE LYLE, B. M. E., Buffalo, N. Y. Erecting Engineer, Buffalo Forge Company.

EDWARD CAMPBELL McDOWELL, B. M. E., Covington, Ky. In L. & N. car shops.

HENRY ORMAN, B. M. E., Danville, Ky. Farmer.

JOHN HENRY TRIGG, B. S., New Columbus, Ky. Book-keeper.

JOHN WESLEY WOODS, A. B., Louisa, Ky. Attorney-at-Law and County Attorney.

1897.

WILLIAM RAYMOND ALLEN, A. B., Attorney-at-Law, Owenton, Ky.

HENRY CLAY ANDERSON, B. M. E., Instructor in Mechanical Engineering, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

ANTOINETTE THORNTON ATKINS, B. S., [Deceased.] See Report 1898, p. 51.

GEORGE FREDERICK BLESSING, B. M. E., Reno, Nev. Professor of Mechanical Engineering, University of Nevada.

SAMUEL ARCHIBALD BULLOCK, B. M. E., Louisville, Ky. In L. and N. car shops.

ELIZABETH CASSIDY, B. S., Lexington, Ky. Teacher in city schools.

MARY EVA CLARKE, B. S., 1104 K Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

WILLIAM HENRY COLLIER, B. M. E., Jackson, Tenn. With Southern Engine and Boiler Works.

SAMUEL CARRUTHERS DEBOW, B. M. E., Lexington, Ky. Instructor in Mechanical Engineering, State College.

GEORGE CRUTCHER DOWNING, B. Ped., M. S., '98, Frankfort, Ky. Principal of Frankfort High School.

BERKLEY WILSON DUCK, B. M. E., Indianapolis, Ind. Draughtsman, Atlas Engine Works.

WILLIAM ADOLPHUS DUNCAN, B. M. E., Birmingham, Ala. With L. and N. Railroad.

JOSEPH CHRISTIE FRAZER, B. S., M. S., '98, Baltimore, Md. Fellow at Johns Hopkins University. Home address, Lexington, Ky.

JOHN THOMAS GEARY, B. S., Second Lieut. Battery G, Fifth Artillery, San Juan, Porto Rico. Home address, Lexington, Ky.

ROBERT LEE GORDON, A. B., A. M., '98, Lexington, Ky. Attorney-at-Law.

CLARA BROOKE GUNN, B. S., Lexington, Ky. Teacher.

JOHN THOMAS HALEY, B. S. (Deceased.)

JAMES HARRY HENDREN, B. S., Richmond, Ky.

ARTHUR LEE HICKS, A. B., Student of Law, Ashland, Ky.

THOMAS CONWAY KELLY, B. M. E., Cincinnati, O. Draughtsman, I. and E. Greenwald Co.

BARBARA SUSAN MCHARGUE, B. S., London, Ky. Teacher.

GEORGE MATT MORGAN, B. S., Lexington, Ky.

ROBERT LEE POPE, A. B., Barboursville, Ky. Professor of Latin and Mathematics, Williamsburg Institute.

JOHN SCOTT, A. B., Lexington, Ky. Salesman.

LULU SEARCY, B. Ped., Lexington, Ky. Teacher.

JAMES ORLANDO HARRISON SIMRALL, A. B., Lexington, Ky. Insurance. Secretary Board of Education.

LOGAN HOCKER WARNER, B. S., La Follette, Tenn.
 MARTHA RIPPERDAN WHITE, B. S., Lexington, Ky. Instructor at Hamilton College.

1898.

GEORGE GREEN BROCK, A. B., Bush, Ky. Teacher.
 LAFAYETTE BRECKINRIDGE BROCK, B. S., M. S., '99, Somerset,
 Ky. Inspector of Coals, C. N. O. & T. P. R. R.
 WILLIAM JAMES DAVID CAHILL, B. M. E., Lexington, Ky.
 THOMAS LUTHER CAMPBELL, A. B., Student of Law, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. Pres. Good Government Club. Home
 address, Clinton, Ky.
 WILLIAM THOMAS CARPENTER, B. M. E., Lexington, Ky. Second
 Lieutenant, U. S. Volunteers; Commandant State College.
 FRANK PRESTON FARLEY, A. B., Flat Lick, Ky. Teacher.
 DAVID WILLIAM HAMMOCK, B. S., Cane Creek, Ky. Teacher.
 ROBERT BROWNING HAMILTON, B. Agr., Assistant Librarian
 Lexington City Library, Lexington, Ky.
 THOMAS SMITH HAMILTON, B. M. E., M. E., '99, Louisville, Ky.
 Draughtsman, Jos. McWilliams & Co.
 JACK STUBBLEFIELD JOHNSON, A. B., Muir, Ky.
 MARGARET ISADORE KING, A. B., Lexington, Ky.
 ARTHUR SOLOMON LOEVENHART, B. S., M. S., '99. Student of Medicine, Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Md.
 EDGAR CHARLES LOEVENHART, B. M. E., Inspector on erection of steel bridges, Little Rock and Hot Springs Western Railroad, Hot Springs, Ark.
 IDA WEST LUCAS, A. B., [Mrs. Smith E. Alford] Lexington, Ky.
 CHARLES LOUIS STRAUS, B. M. E., M. E., '99, Lexington, Ky.
 LILA BEATRICE TERRY, A. B., Paris, Ky.
 HENDERSON TAYLOR TROSPER, A. B., London, Ky. Attorney-at-Law.
 JOB DARBIN TURNER, B. Ped., Lexington, Ky. Stenographer.
 PAUL STERLING WARD, B. M. E., Draughtsman with J. H. Day
 & Co., 1144 Harrison Ave., Cincinnati, O.
 HENRY CLAY WILSON, A. B., North Fork, Ky. Teacher.

1899.

LEONARD BARNES ALLEN, B. C. E., Civil Engineer, Fayette,
 W. Va.
 WALTER LUCAS BROCK, A. B., London, Ky. Teacher.

WILL LOGAN BRONAUGH, B. M. E., Chicago, Ill. Agent for Buffalo Forge Co.

FREDERICK DABNEY BULLOCK, B. S. Louisville, Ky. With C. C. Mengel and Bro. Co.

JOSEPH HUNT BULLOCK, B. S., Louisville, Ky. With C. C. Mengel and Bro. Co.

FRANCES VICTOR BUTLER, A. B., Paris, Ky. Principal Preparatory School.

ALEXANDER CHISHOLM COPLAND, B. C. E., Assistant Engineer, C. & O. R. R., Huntington, W. Va.

JANE BRAMBLETT COX, A. B., Mt. Sterling, Ky.

JOSEPH ERNEST DAVIDSON, B. C. E., Louisville, Ky. With Dodd & Cobb, Architects.

LEILA MAY GRAVES, B. S., Lexington, Ky.

WRENN JONES GRINSTEAD, A. B., Minister, Church of Christ, Trenton, Todd County, Ky.

MINNIE LEE HORTON, A. B., Camargo, Ky.

JAMES WILLIAM HUGHES, B. M. E., with International Power Co., Providence, R. I.

CARTER COLEMAN JETT, B. M. E., Cincinnati, O. Draughtsman, with Cincinnati Machine and Tool Co.

PHILIP PRESTON JOHNSTON, B. M. E. In Cincinnati Southern Car Shops, Chattanooga, Tenn.

ROYDON KEITH MADDOCKS, B. C. E., Huntington, W. Va. On C. & O. Engineer Corps.

SAMUEL BLACKBURN MARKS, B. S., Student of Medicine, College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York City. Home address, Versailles, Ky.

JOSEPH MORROW, B. Ped., Rankin, Ky.

GEO. ROBERTS, B. Ped., Principal Kentuckian Wesleyan Academy, Burnside, Ky.

WILLIAM HENRY SASSER, B. S., London, Ky. Law student.

WILLIAM HENRY SCHERFFIUS, B. S., Lexington, Ky. Assistant Chemist Kentucky Experiment Station.

THEODORE WALTER SCHOLTZ, B. M. E., Chicago, Ill. Draughtsman, Chicago Edison Co.

EUGENE ERWIN SIMPSON, A. B., Lexington, Ky. Student of Mechanical Engineering, State College.

SIDNEY ALLEN SMITH, A. B., Lexington, Ky. News Correspondent.

ARTHUR JOHN VANCE, B. M. E., Cleveland, O. Agent for Buffalo Forge Co.

RICHARD EVANS WARREN, A. B., Donerail, Ky. Teacher.

JENNIE WALKER WILLMOTT, B. S., Lexington, Ky.

BRADLEY WOODRUFF YOUNG, B. S., 953 W. Seventh St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

1900.

ROBERT McDOWELL ALLEN, A. B., Lexington, Ky. Clerk in Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station. Winner of Lexington Chautauqua Oratorical Contest, June, 1900.

MARY WILLA BOWDEN, A. B., Paris, Ky.

DAVID MORRICE BROCK, B. C. E., Forks of Elkhorn, Ky.

CHARLES G. CORNETT, B. Ped., Teacher, Bush, Ky.

LULU MAY COX, B. S., Lexington, Ky. Teacher.

LEWIS ANDREW DARLING, B. M. E., Reno, Nev. Assistant Professor of Mechanical Engineering, University of Nevada.

LEON KAUFMAN FRANKEL, B. M. E., Lexington, Ky. Instructor in Mechanical Engineering, State College.

JAMES HIRAM GRAHAM, B. C. E., Louisville, Ky.

JAMES MADISON GRAVES, B. M. E., Buffalo, N. Y. With Buffalo Forge Co.

JOHN TEVIS GUNN, A. B., Lexington, Ky.

JOHN EMERSON HESTAND, B. S., Edmonton, Ky. Teacher.

LESLIE HUNDLEY, B. S., Rome, Ky.

JOHN PELHAM JOHNSTON, B. M. E., Lexington, Ky. Post-Graduate Student in Mechanical Engineering.

MARIUS EARLY JOHNSTON, B. S., Lexington, Ky.

THOMAS ALMON JONES, A. B., Creelsboro, Ky.

ARTHUR VANE LESTER, B. C. E., Williamsburg, Ky.

WILLIAM CARPENTER McCARTY, B. S., Louisville, Ky.

JOSEPH FRANKLIN MUSSELMAN, B. M. E., Draughtsman for Jos. McWilliams and Co., Louisville, Ky.

MAME E. NEAL, A. B., Paris, Ky.

THOMAS ASHBROOK NICHOLS, B. M. E., Bloomington, Ill. With Chicago and Alton Railroad.

NELLIE EVANS PEYTON, B. S., Lexington, Ky.

LEONIDAS RAGAN, A. B., Principal Monticello High School, Monticello, Ky. Winner of State Intercollegiate Oratorical Contest, 1900.

JEWETT VILLEROY REED, B. S., Student of Medicine at Johns Hopkins University. Home address, Louisville, Ky.

EUGENE FEIST RIESER, B. M. E., Chicago, Ill. Draughtsman, Frazer and Chalmers.

JAMES GRAVES SCRUGHAM, B. M. E., with Creaghead Engineering Co., Cincinnati, O.

ALBERT ELIAS SMITH, B. S., Owensboro, Ky.

JOSHUA SOULE SMITH, B. M. E., Bloomington, Ill. With Chicago and Alton Railroad.

MIRANDA LOUISE SPEARS, B. S., Muir, Ky.

ROBERT BRIGHT WALSH, A. B., Newport, Ky.

JOSEPH BUCKLEY WILSON, B. M. E., Louisville, Ky.

HONORARY MEMBERS.

Clarence Crittenden Calhoun, Lexington, Ky. Attorney-at-Law.

Francois Marie Helveti, A. M. (Deceased). Late Professor of Modern Languages, State College.

Walter Kennedy Patterson, A. M., Lexington, Ky. Principal of the Academy, State College.

James Garrard White, A. M., Lexington, Ky. Professor of Mathematics and Astronomy, State College.

John Shackelford, A. M., LL. D., Late Professor of English and Logic, State College. Tacoma, Wash.

F. Paul Anderson, M. E., Professor of Mechanical Engineering, State College.

Desha Breckinridge, Manager Lexington Publishing Co.

A Parting Word.

It is with something akin to regret that the editors of the alumni report of 1900 close their work with a brief word of parting. It has been our intention to put ourselves in the places of the men who have not been to the college in recent years and give the facts that would prove of most interest to them. Following this line of thought the alumni report is not only a chronicle of the doings of the alumni themselves, but a record of what the undergraduates and the faculty are doing to push the college into the front rank of educational institutions of the country. It is in this that the alumni are interested and these are therefore the facts that should be presented to them.

We urge you who received your diplomas ten or fifteen or even twenty years ago to come back and see the changes that time and energy have wrought. It will warm the cockles of your heart to see the change. Commencement will not be dull for you; you will not stand about the walls of the old chapel seeking for a friend whose hand you may grasp. There is a brotherhood among us that makes every man who has graduated from the institution a friend of every other man who has been so honored. And the alumni are beginning to appreciate this, are beginning to see in commencement week and the commencement exercises something that has a meaning for them personally. They see in it a time for the exchange of friendly greetings, a time for the renewal of old friendships, a time of good fellowship among the old fellows who left college years ago and who come back at this time to be boys again. We ask you to join the ranks and come to us when another June is born into the world of time, when another class is preparing to step out into the world of strife.

CALENDAR.

1900.

Entrance Examinations begin.....	Monday, Sept. 10th.
First Term begins.....	Thursday, Sept. 13th.
Evening Reception to Students.....	Friday, Sept. 28th.
Thanksgiving.....	Thursday, Nov. 29th.
Board of Trustees meet.....	Tuesday, Dec. 11th.
Christmas Holidays begin.....	Friday, Dec. 21st.

1901.

Second Term begins.....	Wednesday, Jan. 2d.
Second Term of Academy begins.....	Monday, Jan. 21st.
Washington's Birthday.....	Friday, Feb. 22d.
Union Society Contest.....	Friday, Feb. 22d.
Third Term begins.....	Monday, March 18th.
Patterson Society Contest.....	Tuesday, March 26th.
Senior Examinations begin.....	Monday, May 6th.
General Examinations begin.....	Monday, May 13th.
Board of Trustees meet.....	Tuesday, June 4th.
Class Day.....	Wednesday, June 5th.
Alumni Banquet.....	Wednesday, June 5th.
Commencement.....	Thursday, June 6th.

NOTE—The Annual Business Meeting, Class Day Exercises, Alumni Banquet and Ball and the Commencement Exercises all take place within two days, so that it is possible for non-resident alumni to attend all these within that time.

