Judge Samuel Wilson,
Lexington, Kentucky.

My dear Judge Wilson:

A friend and a very interested and faithful Democrat has, without my solicitation, offered us a gift of One Hundred Dollars, on condition that we secure at least eight Fifty Dollar gifts to aid in financing our Democratic Journal.

When you spoke for the Henry County Club I remember you said you would make a gift of Fifty Dollars on the same terms, and suggested we appeal to the defeated Congressmen. As they contributed in the beginning, I felt I could not make another personal appeal; but two similar suggestions have been made I feel it my duty as President of the State Club to follow these timely suggestions made by two representative men, so today I am writing to them and a few other Democrats.

If you feel that the Journal is worthy, fills a need and will in time serve the purpose for which it was launched, we will be very grateful for your assistance.

None of the Journal Committee, or of the Club organization, receives a penny for their labor; but on the other hand I know that several have not only worked unceasingly and untiringly, but have been generous contributors.

Please let me hear from you at your earliest convenience. I am sending copies of the Journal under separate cover.

With kind personal regards, I am

Cordially,

Mrs. H. K. Bourne, President

THE DEMOCRATIC WOMAN'S CLUB OF KENTUCKY.
