They Have Earned Their "L" for Loyalty

Another $2,800, four-year, all-expense scholarship has been granted to a 1949 freshman student by the Kentucky Research Foundation through the University of Kentucky Loyalty Fund. YOU - AND YOU - AND YOU - whose names are listed below, have helped to make this possible!

- BUT -

What about YOU - AND YOU - AND YOU - who have not made a contribution? If we are to continue this fine scholarship, if we, as alumni, are to assist our University in bringing to the campus the best young brains of this commonwealth and of the nation we MUST not fail. However, unless contributions continue to come in it will be impossible for the Loyalty Fund scholarships to be perpetuated. IT ALL DEPENDS ON YOU!!

A QUARTERLY MAGAZINE DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF THE ALUMNI AND STUDENTS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY

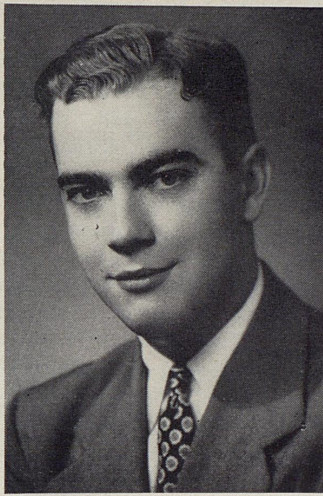

Watkins, Hillenmeyer, To Head Alumni Association

J. STEPHEN WATKINS

J. Stephen Watkins, '30, of Lexington, has been elected president of the University of Kentucky Alumni Association for the year 1949-'50, according to an announcement made at the annual banquet of the association held Thursday night, June 2, in the Bluegrass room of the Student Union. Robert H. Hillenmeyer, '43, of Cincinnati, was elected vice president. The choice was made by a vote of the active members of the association through a mail ballot. Reelected to the executive committee for three-year terms were W. W. Blanton, Paris, Ky.; and G. Lee McClain, Bardstown, Ky. Mr. Watkins and Mr. Hillenmeyer succeed John R. Bullock, '28, of Cincinnati, 1948-'49 president; and B. A. Shively, '32, last year's vice president.

At the annual meeting of the association, following the dinner, Mr. Watkins announced that he had reappointed Helen G. King as executive secretary for the year 1949-'50, and had named B. A. Shively treasurer to succeed James S. Shropshire, '29, who has served in that capacity since 1931.

Mr. Watkins was graduated from the University in 1930 with the B.S.C.E. degree, and the C.E. degree in 1938. He is president of the Kentucky State Chamber of Commerce, the Blue Grass Automobile Club, is a life member of the Alumni Association and a member of its executive committee, having headed the Association's Loyalty Fund Drive in 1948-'49. He is former Kentucky State Highway Commissioner and currently is consulting engineer with offices in Lexington.

Mr. Hillenmeyer is a graduate of the University with the B.S. degree in Commerce in 1943. He served as an officer in World War II, and is a member of the executive committee of the Alumni Association, having served as membership chairman this past year.

H. D. Palmore '14 Named UK Trustee

Gov. Earle C. Clements announced seven appointments to the University of Kentucky Board of Trustees on June 10, including H. D. Palmore, Frankfort, Ky., to fill the expired term of Grover H. Creech, Louisville, one of three alumni members of the board.

Mr. Palmore's term will extend until December 31, 1950. The reason for the short appointment is that the 1948 Legislature shortened board members' terms from six to four years.

Mr. Palmore received his B.S.C. de-

He is at present connected with the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company with offices in the Carew Tower, Cincinnati.

Mr. Blanton was graduated from the University with a B.A. degree in 1924 and an LL.B. degree in 1926. He is a practicing attorney in Paris and State Senator from his district. He has been a member of the executive committee of the Alumni Association since 1937 and is chairman of its legislative sub-committee. He is chairman of the University Boosters Club of Paris and was president of the general association in 1940.

Mr. McClain was graduated from the University in 1919. He is a veteran of World War I and was executive secretary of the Alumni Association in 1940 and president in 1941. He was Adjutant General of Kentucky from 1936 to 1944. A member of the executive committee of the general association since 1939, Mr. McClain is a life member of the group. He is also manager-editor of the Kentucky Alumnus and Nelson county contact man for the Alumni Association.

TO HIM WHO SERVED

The University community has been saddened infinitely, by the passing of Judge Richard C. Stoll.

Alumnus, trustee, advisor, friend and loyal supporter, the walks and hallways of this campus will re-echo forever to the faithful footsteps of the man who served his Alma Mater, with an all-consuming love, for more than 50 years.

From the president of the University through the administrative, teaching, alumni and student ranks, the name of Richard C. Stoll has served as an inspiration and a challenge for over half a century. To him we turned for advice, for information, for kindly understanding and for support, in the many problems which face an institution of this size. Never, in all the years since 1895 when he was graduated from the University, has he failed his Alma Mater. It was never too hot or too cold, he was never too busy or too ill, to answer the call for service.

We would be even more grieved today, now that he is gone, if we had failed to tell him of our love and appreciation. But we believe that he knew, and knowing, was modestly gratified that we, as the living representatives of this great institution, returned love and gratitude to him a thousandfold.

It was just a year ago this month that the editorial columns of the Alumnus paid tribute to his long and valiant record of service. In that editorial we said to him, "This is the Alumni Association's public expression of its gratitude to Judge Stoll for all of those years of loyalty and service. We feel that there is not much we can add to the tributes of appreciation and confidence which have been expressed orally and in the Kentucky press, but our love and veneration for Judge Stoll is so personal and so deep that we felt compelled to put on record that which has been, always, in our hearts."

Thus we spoke to him a year ago, and knowing that he knew how much we loved and valued him brings some slight comfort to our hearts today, as we say goodbye.

SALUTE TO 1949!

The Alumni Association of the University of Kentucky salutes the graduates of 1949, welcomes them into active membership and leadership in the association of alumni, and urges them, with the wisdom of age, to join wholeheartedly in the program which the graduate group sponsors.

No institution of learning is greater than the alumni who support it, and when the history of the great universities of this country is written, there will be recorded in these annals the contributions which the alumni have made to their respective alma maters.

Many of the 1949 graduates have already become active members of the association. You who have felt your obligations and the privilege of membership are asked to talk to your more reluctant

Richard C. Stoll '95, Trustee Nearly 50 Years, Dies June 9²⁶

Richard C. Stoll, 73, former Circuit Judge of Lexington, senior member of the law firm of Stoll, Keenon and Park, and long-time trustee of the University of Kentucky, died at his home June 26, after a long illness.

Judge Stoll served under three university presidents during his near half-century membership on the board. He also was known widely for his activities in the legal profession and as a former judge of Fayette Circuit Court.

Headed 2 Bar Groups

Appointed to the university board in 1898, he had served continuously except for a three-year period, 1905-08. Governor William O. Bradley appointed him for the first time and additional appointments came from 11 other Governors.

He once was vice-chairman of the board and in 1918 became chairman of its executive committee.

A graduate of Yale Law School, Judge Stoll was president of the Lexington Bar Association in 1921 and the next year became president of the Kentucky State Bar Association.

While heading the Lexington bar group, he was appointed to complete the unexpired term of Circuit Judge Charles Kerr and won election in 1923 and 1927. He was appointed on numerous occasions to hear cases in various parts of the state.

Served In Defense Post

Mr. Stoll was a delegate to the Republican National Conventions in 1912, 1916, and 1920. He was a member of the committee which presented word of the party's nomination to William H. Taft and Charles E. Hughes and the vice-presidential nomination to Calvin Coolidge.

From 1912 to 1920 he was Fayette County Republican chairman and in 1914-15 was a member of the State Board of Election Commissioners.

During World War I he headed the Public Safety Committee of the Kentucky Council of Defense. At the same time he was inspector and head of the American Protective League of Kentucky.

In the five-year period between 1908 and 1913 he was president of the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders Association.

Born in Lexington in 1876, Judge Stoll entered the University in 1891 (then Kentucky State College) and was graduated four years later. He was awarded an honorary degree of bachelor of laws in 1913.

He played on the school's football team in 1894 and Stoll Field, the university gridiron, was named for him.

Upon graduation he went to Yale and after receiving his law degree opened a law office here.

Judge Stoll was a Presbyterian, a Mason, and Shriner. He held membership in several honorary and social organizations.

In 1919 he married Miss Angelene Chestnut, Danville. They had one son, Richard P. Stoll, Lexington attorney and City prosecutor and graduate of the University.

Survivors include the wife and son and a brother, John G. Stoll, publisher of the Lexington Herald-Leader.

Funeral services were held June 28, at 10:30 a.m. and burial followed in the Lexington cemetery.

New Yorkers Enjoy Summer Lawn Party

University of Kentucky Alumni of Greater New York held an old fashioned lawn party Saturday afternoon, June 11, from four until eight p.m. at the home of Stephen A. Rapier in South Orange, N.J.

Planned in the form of a get-together of Kentucky alumni living in the area, Charles B. Clark and Mr. Rapier worked with William E. Butler, president of the group.

Tennis and other games were enjoyed in the afternoon, and charcoal broiled steaks, cooked under the auspices of Mr. Clark and Mr. Butler, headed the list of supper delicacies.

Collings Establishes $500 Scholarship

Ben H. Collings, '11, Louisville engineer and contractor, has established a $500 highway engineering scholarship in the University's College of Engineering, to be known as the Bess Hayden Collings Scholarship, and is to be used for a Highway Engineering scholarship on the same basis as those supported by the Dept. of Highways.

Mrs. Collings, for whom the scholarship is named, is also a graduate of the University in the class of 1910 and an outstanding engineer in her own right.

Established through the Kentucky Research Foundation, which non-profit group handles all gifts to the University, the scholarship award will be made this fall for the first time to the recent Kentucky high school graduate who best qualifies. Need, character and scholarship are to be considered.

The scholar selected for this award will be included in the group of scholars supported by the Department of Highways in 1949-'50.

President H. L. Donovan signed 1,270 diplomas for the 1949 graduating class. During the 42 years that Dr. James K. Patterson was president of the University he signed only 896.

gree from the University in 1914 and the C.E. degree in 1930. After service in the U.S. Army in World War I he was district engineer for the Kentucky State Highway Department and from 1932 to 1934 was city manager of Covington, Ky. He is now president and general manager of the Kentucky Concrete Pipe Company at Frankfort. He has served as president of the Alumni Association, a member of its Executive Committee, as alumnus member of the Board of Trustees for a six-year term ending in 1948, and member of the board of the UK Athletics Association. He is a life member of the Alumni Association.

1949 Homecoming Set For Oct.8

Set your sights for October 8—that's the date of the Kentucky-Georgia football game, and that's HOMECOMING for every loyal UK alumnus.

When the date was first set by your alumni executive committee last spring, the game was scheduled for the afternoon of Oct. 8, but since that time the Athletics Associations of both schools have agreed to make the event a night game, hence, homecoming will be in the evening this year.

However, in order to give you a full day of fun, members of the general Alumni Association in executive session at the annual meeting in June, voted to hold a tea dance and buffet supper in the ballroom of the Student Union on the afternoon of October 8, preceding the evening game.

This plan will enable you to mix with your old friends in the afternoon, eat a leisurely supper, and park on the campus early enough so that you will not be involved in the inevitable traffic congestion which precedes every big game.

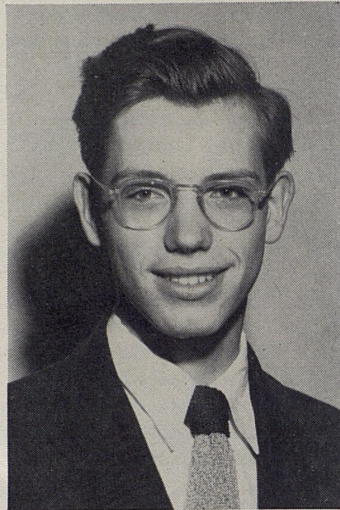

Returning alumni will be guests of the general association at the tea dance and the buffet supper will be set up cafeteria style so that your meal will cost you as much or as little as you wish to spend.

If you are planning to spend the week-end in Lexington, WRITE NOW for hotel accommodations, as that is Trots season, and rooms will be at a premium. A. E. "Red" Hukle, manager of the Phoenix Hotel has promised to try to hold a block of rooms for alumni that week-end, so we are hoping that all may be accommodated.

There should be plenty of game tickets this year, as the stadium seating capacity has been increased to 35,000. If you do not have season tickets, watch the state papers for announcement of individual seat sales.

Except for stories in the newspapers, this will probably be the only official announcement of homecoming festivities. FILL OUT THE BLANK BELOW, and return it to the Alumni Office, Room 124 Student Union, if

Alumni Scholarship To Covington Lad

DON HARTFORD

Don Hartford, 17, of Covington, 1949 graduate of Holmes High School, has been named the recipient of the 1949 University of Kentucky Alumni Loyalty Fund scholarship.

Chosen by the University scholarship committee, Hartford is the son of you plan to attend the buffet supper. We must be able to give the cafeteria management some idea as to the number of guests expected.

All graduates and former students are urged and invited to attend.

State Adjutant Gen. Roscoe L. Murray presented the University of Kentucky a Department of the Army citation for excellency in training ROTC personnel last May.

LeRoy P. Hartford, state editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer and Mrs. Hartford. He will enter the University in September.

The Alumni Loyalty Fund Scholarship, established in 1948, is the largest single scholarship offered to UK students. It is valued at approximately $2,800, with the funds made available at the rate of $700 a year for each of the four years the recipient attends the University.

Nominations for the scholarship are made by individual members of the Alumni Association by organized clubs or by high school principals. The award is not restricted to Kentuckians but is open to students from other states who are duly nominated. It is made on the basis of scholastic aptitude, character, personality, extracurricular activities and need.

While a student at Holmes High School young Hartford was a two-year member of the National Honor Society and participated in dramatic, forensic and music activities. He has been a contestant in the State high school music and speech festivals at the University. He will major in education.

A student receiving this scholarship must maintain a scholastic standing of "B" or better in order to retain it.

Last year's winner, John Biggerstaff of Berea, now is a sophomore in the College of Arts and Sciences.

Hundreds Of Alumni Return

Old Grads Break Homecoming Record

Alumni returning to the campus for June reunions this year broke an all-time record when more than 350 filled the Bluegrass room of the Student Union Tuesday night June 2 to hear Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler, '24, address the gathering and to attend the annual meeting of the association which immediately followed the dinner.

The alumni banquet on Thursday night climaxed two days of celebration and reminiscence which marked the return of 16 classes to the campus, and which also saw establishment of the Half Century Club for graduates of the University who have been out of school 50 years or more.

Special tables were set up for reunion classes and the Half Century Club at the banquet, and the theme of the affair was built around the Golden Jubilee celebrants, with a "Gay Nineties" quartette from Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity setting the musical theme, and a spotlighted portrait of the late President James K. Paterson, holding the center of the stage.

John R. Bullock, '28, Cincinnati, president of the Alumni Association presided at the dinner, and invocation was given by Dr. John M. Carter, '34, president of Campbellsville Junior College.

Commissioner Chandler, graduate of the University, former Governor and U.S. Senator from Kentucky, praised the contribution which UK graduates and the University have made to the state since 1835. He also expressed the hope that "someone coming from this University may have the solution to world peace—someone who can get the leaders of the world to make arrangements to live in peace . . . Twice in my generation we have failed to accomplish the purpose of peaceful living," he lamented.

Commissioner Chandler talked briefly about the woes of public office holders, and said that "a public officer has a thankless job."

Mr. Bullock, outgoing president of the association introduced the new officers of the association to the assembly, and following the dinner turned the meeting over to J. Stephen Watkins, '30, of Lexington, incoming president.

Classes holding scheduled reunions were 1890 and '91; 1907, '08, '09 and '10; 1926, '27, '28 and '29; and 1945, '46 and '47. Special reunions were held by 1899; 1919, and 1924, and by members of the Half Century Club.

1909 CLASS CELEBRATES

On Wednesday night and again at noon Thursday the class of 1909 held special meetings, the Thursday gathering being a noon luncheon. Dr. Philip Blumenthal of Indianapolis, Ind., and Prof. J. S. Horine of Lexington were the general and local chairmen of this reunion, and were instrumental in bringing a large number of classmates back to the campus, including 20 members of the class, four wives and one daughter. The group voted to celebrate their 45th. reunion by returning to the campus in 1954.

Present for the 1909 festivities were:

W. Crawford Bewlay and Mrs. Bewlay, Owensboro; Dr. Blumenthal and his daughter; Tarlton C. Carroll, Shepherdsville, O.; B. Chisholm and Mrs. Chisholm, Harrodsburg; Rhoda V. Glass, Lexington; Mrs. Helen Hazelrigg Daugherty, Paris; David W. Harp, Lexington; Pearl Hinesley, Roanoke, Va.; Mrs. Edith Isaacs Weil, Lexington; Charles A. Johns and Mrs. Johns, East Orange, N. J.; H. H. Lowry, New York City; Inez Luten, Butler; Harry Letton, Carlisle; Robert L. Maddox, Middlesboro; C. R. Perkins, and Mrs. Perkins, Hamburg, N. Y.; Dr. Dan Reddish, Lexington; John Tigert, Louisville; Hal Townsend, Louisville; Charles White, West Orange, N. J.; A. G. Yankey, Downey, Calif.; J. S. Horine, Lexington.

1907 MEETS FOR DINNER

Approximately 50 members of the class of 1907, including their wives, held a beautiful dinner party Wednesday night, June 1 at the Phoenix Hotel, and recorded the largest percentage return of living members, of any of the reunion classes.

Seventy students were graduated from the University in the class of 1907 of which number 59 survive. Of these 59 living graduates 24 were present for their class reunion this year, and, in addition, two former members of this class, Arthur W. Steele and Rodes Arnsperger, of Lexington, both were present.

A. M. Kirby, Palo Alto, Calif., who traveled the longest distance to attend the reunion, was unanimously reelected president of the '07 class, and June 1951 was chosen as the date for the next class meeting.

The elm tree, set out by the class at its graduation, is dying, and Louis Hillenmeyer, a member of the class, was commissioned to set out an oak tree on the campus to be dedicated at the next reunion.

Present for the reunion were: A. M. Kirby and Mrs. Kirby; J. F. Stigers and D. C. Estill, Frankfort; Maj. and Mrs. D. P. Branson, Columbus, Ohio;

T. B. McClelland and Mrs. McClelland, Miami, Fla.; J. M. Sprague, Ensley, Ala.; Walter McKinney, McKinney, Ky.; J. J. Yeager, Buffalo, N. Y.; W. D. Hamilton, Louisville; Mrs. Catherine C. 1924 CLASS CELEBRATES 25th

The class of 1924, urged on by a dynamic secretary in the person of Mrs. H. L. Harelson, (Catherine Cleveland) of Lexington, came back for what all of them termed "the most wonderful time they have ever had."

On Thursday, June 2, the class met for lunch at 12:30 at the Lafayette

Hotel, and rumor has it that some of the local members of the class had to go down to the main dining room for lunch to make room for the returning alums.

President Emeritus Frank L. McCall and Prof. E. F. Farquhar, were guests for the occasion, and Judge Sidney Neal of Owensboro presided. Judge Neal was president of the 1924 class. A. L. Atchinson acted as emcee for the occasion.

According to the secretary, "there were about 17 loud-voiced conversations going on all the time, and everyone didn't have as good a time as I did, at least they acted like it."

Present for the 25th reunion were: Cornelia Skinner Seay, Louisville; A. J. Whitehouse, Lexington; J. "Boogie" Layman, Ft. Thomas; G. Gardner, Lexington; John C. Brantley, Danville; Bennie Peterson (Mrs. M. Swinford), Cynthiana; Sidney B. Neal, Owensboro; Dr. Henry W. Brown, Cynthiana; James W. Camm...

They came from far and near to celebrate the 1926 class reunion!

Following the luncheon Mr. and Mrs. Harelson invited the class to their home for tea.

1926 HAS RECORD REUNION

The class of 1926 broke all previous records for the group when it registered 53 at the class reunion luncheon on Thursday, June 2.

Meeting in the Thoroughbred room of the Phoenix hotel, the group welcomed classmates back from Hawaii, New York City, Louisiana, Mo., Dalton, Ga., and Chicago, Ill., as well as a large delegation from Kentucky and near-by states.

Organized under the excellent generalship of Clifton L. Thompson, Jr., and Mrs. Frances Lee McClain of Lexington, the reuning grads reported the best celebration since they left the campus, W. Emmet Milward, Lexington, served as master of ceremonies.

Present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. Emmet Milward, Lexington; R. C. Williamson, Kekaha, Kauai, Territory of Hawaii; Tom E. Coons and Mrs. Coons, (Louise Atkins) Mt. Sterling; Mrs. Maria Middleton Fitts, Shelbyville; Tom V. Tibbals, Somerset; William Hickman Baldree, Frankfort; Clinton K. Hoffman, Lexington; C. O.

Mattingly, Versailles; Edward Munich, Lexington; Burgess Carey, Lexington; Virgil O. and Mrs. (Edna Lewis Wells) Watson, Ashland; Art Nutting, Louisville; Clark Walls, Paris; E. Weingartner and Mrs. Weingartner, Decatur, Ga.; Melbourne Wills, Lexington; Hampton C. Adams, Lexington; Donna Dever, Lexington, and Hughes M. Hamilton and his father, Thomas S. Hamilton, a member of the 1898 class, from Lexington.

1929 HAS GET-TOGETHER

The class of 1929 held open house Wednesday night, June 2, in the Thoroughbred room of the Phoenix hotel, honoring returning classmates.

Tom Boyd, Lexington, served as chairman of a class reunion committee composed of D. C. Carpenter, James S. Shropshire, Don Grote, Mrs. Carl (Martha Minihan) Kloecker, Mrs. James (Louise Broaddus) Farra, and Mrs. Wilbur (Louise Tiley) Wilson.

Present were: Robert O. Cropper and Mrs. Cropper, Lexington; Harold H. Bennett, Lexington; Mr. and Mrs. Matt (Mary Keyes) Clay, Lexington; Grant S. Bell, Lexington; J. S. Shropshire, Lexington; Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur C. Wilson, Lexington; Mr. and Mrs. Orlando L. (Margaret Gooch) Kiser, Arlington, Va.; Jessie Marie Sun, Lexington; Mr. and Mrs. Ewell W. 1919 ENGINEERS RETURN

John J. Leman, general agent for the London Guarantee and Accident Co., Ltd., in Cleveland, Ohio, went to work in early spring to bring to the campus the 1919 engineering graduates for their 30th. class reunion.

His efforts met with considerable success, and he reported to the Alumni Office that approximately 75 percent of those graduates would be present brothers, and to urge them to assume their responsibilities as alumni and to enjoy the many privileges which accompany these responsibilities.

We believe that the greatest inspiration the alumni could offer you young graduates was epitomized in the return to the campus last June of the members of the Half Century Club to receive their Golden Jubilee Certificates. No ceremony in the University's history has so strongly emphasized the value of loyalty. No gathering, however large, has left the imprint that that group of 18 men and women made as each one proudly walked forward to receive the certificate of membership in the Half Century Club.

The University and the Alumni Association were honored by these men and women, many of whom came great distances to prove their love for, and loyalty to Alma Mater, an affection and allegiance which have survived the passing of a half century. To them we say that their return marked a milestone in the University's history which will stand as long as there is a University of Kentucky. This band of loving, loyal alumni trod a path much longer than the usual way to the commencement ceremony; they blazed a trail which opened up for them fifty years of more ago last June. They brushed aside obstacles, overcame difficulties, crossed a continent, to prove to the graduates of 1949 that fifty years of loyalty is not too much to give to Alma Mater, and that as long as affection is the guide and happy memories stalk the trail sooner or later the faithful alumnus comes back home.

'Dean' of UK Dies

Pierre Whiting, who died last week, was known for many years as "the Dean" by the staff and students at the University of Kentucky, where he served as janitor for 57 years before retiring four years ago.

When he once turned down a proposal that he change to a job less strenuous than the one he held at the Administration building, the aged Negro janitor said he was "used to the people in the Administration building and was too old to get used to a flock of new ones."

The nature of his objection is one that is often offered against change from the old to the new. A real dean might say that it is the cause of the so-called "social lag" in society; it helps to preserve our social heritages, etc. But "Dean" Whiting just meant what he said.

UK Half Century Club Receives 18 Golden Jubilee Certificates

Eighteen members of the Alumni Association's newly established Half Century Club, composed of graduates of 50 years or more, came back to the campus on June 3 to receive Golden Jubilee Certificates at the 82nd, annual commencement exercises.

Impressive ceremonies marked the presentation when President H. L. Donovan announced the inception of the Half Century Club and conferred upon each and every member the certificate "with all the rights and privileges pertaining thereunto." J. Stephen Watkins, president of the Alumni Association presented the certificates.

The members of the Half Century Club, escorted by a military aide, went to the rostrum to receive the certificates, which read as follows:

Cliff Barker, '49, On Alumni Committee

Cliff Barker, senior in the University's College of Education who is a candidate for a degree at the August commencement exercises, has been named an honorary member of the alumni executive committee for the year 1949-'50, representing this year's graduating class.

Barker, stellar basketball guard and playmaker for the "Fabulous Four" Wildcats who completed their collegiate careers last spring, was chosen by the executive board at its May meeting.

Cliff attended the University one year prior to World War II, served in the Air Corps as a tail gunner on a B-29, was shot down over the target in Germany and spent 18 months in a German prison camp before returning to the University to complete his education and to become one of the all-time greats in collegiate basketball.

uel B. Marks, Lexington, Eugene Simpson, Lexington, and W. T. Wellman, Omaha, Neb., all of 1899.

Establishment of six $500 scholarships in fire-protection and safety engineering at the University of Kentucky has been announced by Spalding Southall, state insurance director.

A span of 50 years separated these two classes, but in spirit, the '99'ers and the 49'ers feel the same about Alma Mater.

When President John R. Bullock announced at the Alumni banquet in June that an award would be given to the alumnus traveling the greatest distance to return for class reunions, two loyal alumni from the Philippines claimed the distinction.

Mr. Bullock presented one cup, and asked the other man to come to the Alumni office the following morning to receive his. However, in the excitement of the event, the name of the second man was not obtained.

Now, we are paging him! Won't the traveler from the south Pacific send us his name and address so that we may forward his gift to him?

1949 Grads Choose Officers

JOHN F. CABELL

Because of the ever-increasing number of graduates who complete their college work at the University each year, for the past two years the Alumni Association has requested each college to elect its own class officers, so that in future years the association will have direct sources of contact with them when their class reunions are scheduled.

Each of the University's seven colleges has complied with the request, and just before the close of the spring semester held class meetings and elected permanent officers.

Elections, by colleges, were as follows:

ARTS AND SCIENCES

Robert Bleidt, Lexington, president; John Crockett, Maysville, vice president; Mary Sue McWhirter, Hopkinsville, secretary, and Beth Bicknell, Lexington, treasurer.

ENGINEERING

PHARMACY

John F. Cabell, Louisville, president; John Passmore, Louisville, vice president; Rose Dunn, Cannelton, Ind., secretary, and William S. Johnson, Louisville, treasurer.

The Alumni Association is greatly indebted to the senior representatives from each of the seven colleges who were chosen by the Student Government Association to attend the April meeting of the Alumni executive committee, and who took the initiative in organizing the class elections this year. These students, and their colleges, were: John Crockett, Arts and Sciences; Roy Wallace, Engineering; Sylvia Smith, Agriculture and Home Economics; Fred Daugherty, Law; Cliff Barker, Education; William Stoll, Commerce, and William Johnson, Pharmacy.

U. of K. Law Alumni Meet In Louisville

Alumni of the University of Kentucky College of Law held a dinner meeting in Louisville April 6, during the annual gathering of the Kentucky State Bar Association.

Approximately 150 Kentucky men attended the dinner which was held at 6:30 p.m. in the Kentucky Hotel. Practically all classes were represented including the first law class of 1910 and all members of the College of Law faculty were present and were introduced to the group.

Robert M. Coleman, '24, of Bowling Green, former circuit judge of that district and now chairman of the State Public Service Commission made the principal address.

Buck Weaver, UK Friend, Dies May 28

Ben Helm "Buck" Weaver, nationally known Louisville Times turf expert and columnist and good friend of University of Kentucky athletic teams, died at his home in Louisville May 28.

Recognized as the dean of Kentucky's turf writers, Mr. Weaver had devoted much of his time in recent years to the University of Kentucky football and basketball teams, and his jovial, pleasing personality was known to Kentucky athletes of this generation.

A native of Louisville, and a graduate of Male High School, Buck managed baseball teams while in high school and took part in semi-professional basketball leagues.

William Mason Wallace, II, '20 of Durham, N. C., is a consulting engineer in that city and recently served as consulting engineer for the mechanical and electrical work on a new hospital in Bowling Green, Ky., for which hospital Robert W. McMeekin, '21, of Lexington, is the architect.

Robert A. Bleidt, '49, of Lexington, president of the senior class in the College of Arts and Sciences this year, was named the recipient of the Willard Riggs Meredith award, presented annually to the outstanding senior in the dept. of chemistry at the University.

Kentucky Nine In N.C.A.A. Finals

By Paul Crowds, News Editor,
Dep't. of Public Relations

Top surprise of the year for Wildcat sports addicts was the pleasing performance turned in this spring by Coach Frank Moseley's diamond aggregation.

Given little chance by "experts" at the start of SEC play, the Wildcat baseballers jumped into an early lead in the conference's Eastern Division flag race and held off a determined stretch drive by the Georgia Bulldogs to capture the division championship, highest laurel ever won by a U.K. diamond crew.

The Wildcats bowed to Mississippi State, Western Division champs, in the SEC playoffs, but came back in the NCAA's Third District tournament at Charlotte, N. C., to eliminate the Maroons and go into the finals against Wake Forest. Here they were bumped 3-0 by the Deacons, tabbed for the past two years by many major league scouts as the best college nine in the country.

Sports writers and fans alike generally agreed that it was the Wildcats' hustle and determination, rather than natural ability, that carried them to their final 15-10 record, a mark good enough to give them top honors in the Conference's Eastern Division pennant chase and runner-up slots in both the SEC playoffs and the NCAA Third District tournament.

Before the season started, the outlook was anything but bright, particularly when it was learned that the team would be playing without the services of Cliff Barker, Wah Wah Jones and Ralph Beard, mainstays of the 1948 squad. Too, several key players and Coach Moseley were kept busy with spring grid chores and would be lost to the team for the opening games.

The prophets, however, apparently failed to inform the 'Cats of their dim prospects, for under the direction of Assistant Coach Randy Phillips they opened the season on a winning note against Georgia Tech and swept five additional games before dropping a one-run decision to the slugging Bulldogs from Georgia. This brilliant start put the 'Cats a game or so ahead of the pack and they showed only their heels to opponents the rest of the way.

Bright spots in the Wildcats' winning surge were the stalwart hurling of Ray Mignerey, Roy Ford and Walt Hirsch, and the brilliant stickwork of Dom Fucci, Ben Zaranka, Hirsch, Allen Hamilton and Frank Ramsey. Mignerey and Ford tossed sparkling shut-outs against the University of Richmond and Mississippi State, respectively, to put Kentucky in the NCAA tournament finals, and it was a ninth inning homer by Zaranka that gave the 'Cats their only triumph against Mississippi State in the SEC playoffs.

Prospects for next season are the best in many years with only two regulars, Third Baseman Ramsey and Outfielder-Pitcher Bob Hatchett, lost by graduation. If Moseley can uncover another dependable starting moundman, the 1950 Wildcats will be hard to dislodge from the Eastern Division's upper berth.

Net Stars Form Professional Club

Alex Groza, Cliff Barker, Wallace Jones and Ralph Beard, Kentucky's "Fabulous Four" Wildcat basketball stars, together with Joe Holland, 'Cat net luminary who graduated in 1948 have formed their own professional basketball team, the Indianapolis Olympians, Inc., of the National Basketball League.

J. R. "Babe" Kimbrough, '25, former sports editor of the Lexington Herald has resigned that job to become president of the newly incorporated Olympians.

The new professional team is scheduled to start operating next winter.

Mr. Kimbrough has been succeeded by Ed Ashford as sports editor of the Herald, and two Kentucky alumni complete his sports staff. Bob Adair, former sports editor of the Kentucky Kernel is his first assistant, and has served on the Herald state and telegraph desks as well as being sports editor of the Herald during some of

Three UK Wildcats Make All-Tourney Team

Three members of the Kentucky Wildcat baseball team were named on the third annual Southern Collegiate all-tournament team by the Charlotte News after all tourney teams had played in two contests.

Pitcher Ray Mignerey, following his magnificent two-hit shut-out over Richmond, received the most votes for the outstanding pitcher. Capt. John Stough was selected at the shortstop post and Benny Zaranka was named in the outfield.

The team, as selected by the Charlotte News: 1b—Wiley Warren, Wake Forest; 2b—Charley Teague, Wake Forest; 3b—Gene Hooks, Wake Forest; ss—John Stough, Kentucky; outfield—Pete Grammas, Mississippi State; Benny Zaranka, Kentucky; Lee Watts, Mississippi State; catcher—Russ Batchelor, Wake Forest; pitchers—Ray Mignerey, Kentucky; Vernon Mustian, Wake Forest; and Phil Brandon, Mississippi State.

Adolph F. Rupp, University of Kentucky basketball coach, was guest lecturer at the second annual football-basketball coaching school held at the University of Mississippi June 1, 2 and 3.

Noah W. Mullins, Versailles, versatile former football and track star at the University of Kentucky, and member of the Chicago Bears professional football team, has been employed by the Department of Kentucky State Police as physical training instructor.

Graham McCorkle, '09, president of the Illinois Bell Telephone Co., heads one of the divisions of Chicago's 1949 Community Fund Drive.

Jim Dance, former University student and sports publicity director for the University has also been assigned to the Herald sports desk.

Gridders Could Go Long Way

By Paul Crowds, News Editor,
Dep't. of Public Relations

Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant, now in his fourth year at the helm of U.K. grid forces, soon will be calling together his 1949 edition of Wildcat huskies to begin preparation for what is perhaps the toughest schedule ever undertaken by a Kentucky squad.

Following the season's opener on Sept. 17 against Mississippi Southern, a school that annually take on several of the biggies in Southern football, the Bryantmen meet on consecutive week-ends Louisiana State, Mississippi, Georgia, The Citadel, Southern Methodist, Cincinnati, Xavier, Florida, Tennessee and Miami.

To pit against these forces, which reads like a "Who's Who in Southern and Southwestern Football," the U.K. headmaster will have a squad of approximately 58 gridders, 31 of whom are lettermen. Return of this sizeable number of monogram winners indicates that the 1949 Wildcats will have more early season knowhow than did last year's squad which got off to a slow start but came on fast in the later stages to rack up four wins and two ties in the final half dozen games.

Only position for which Coach Bryant hasn't at least two lettermen is the all-important quarterback slot where Domonic Fucci is the only candidate with previous varsity experience. Despite this, however, quarterback may easily become the bright spot of the entire team because of four standout sophomore signal-callers, any or all of whom could blossom into real T-wizards.

Generally regarded as having the inside track for the field general's post is Vito "Babe" Parilli, 185-pound flash from Rochester, Pa., who has only to continue the form he exhibited in spring practice to have Southeastern opponents tearing their hair.

Parilli will get able assistance, to say nothing of furious competition, from Fucci, diminutive Bob Bezuk, Ed Vaneck and Kenneth Knight.

Leading candidates for the left half-back post are Bill Boller, Don "Dopey" Phelps, John Meihau and Bobby Brooks, all lettermen, with sophomores Emery Clark and Phil Foster providing competition aplenty. Battling for the other halfback slot are two familiar figures, Jim Howe and "Shorty" Jamerison, plus newcomers Cliff Lawson, Ed Hamilton and John Cobb.

The Wildcats could prove stronger at fullback than any other SEC outfit, with such tried performers as Lee Truman, Bill Leskovar, Ralph Genito, Clayton Webb and Harold Woodell, all previous K-winners, squabbling for a starting berth. This quintet will be backed up by Ed Kozlowski from last year's freshman squad.

Possible starters along the forward wall include Ben Zaranka and Charlie Bradshaw, ends; All-America candidate Bob Gain and Lloyd McDermott, tackles; Dick Holway and Pat James, guards, and Capt. Harry Ulinski at the pivot. Should any of the seven be hampered by injuries or falter in any way, there are both lettermen and promising sophomores to plug the gap at any position.

Such returning veterans as Nick Odlivak, Jerry Claiborne, Al Bruno, Don Frampton and Charlie Bentley at the wings; Tackles Charles Pope and Walt Yowarsky; Guards Bill Wannamaker, Ray Porter and Bill Dawson, and Centers Roy Ford and Bill Shafnitt are certain to see plenty of action.

With much of the Wildcat's reserve strength depending on the perform-

William G. (Bill) Moseley, assistant freshman coach and 1947 Wildcat football captain, has been named athletic director and head football coach at Sidney Lanier High School in Montgomery, Ala., his alma mater.

Bill, played at Lanier in 1938-'39 and '40 before coming to Kentucky.

The University of Kentucky received a $50,000 grant from Gov. Earle C. Clements' emergency fund in April for its agricultural extension work. The money was granted to be used in matching federal funds for county farm agents and home demonstration agents.

University officials explained that the grant would enable them to continue the program on its present scale until the end of the fiscal year, June 30.

ance of sophomores, names like John Netoskie, Chet Lukowski, Doug Moseley and John Ignarski may be familiar to every Kentucky supporter by mid-season if not sooner.

From here the 1949 Wildcats appear to be a fairly light, but fast, offensive-minded eleven. Given a break here and there, they could go a long way.

Bryant's only admission thus far, that the 'Cats would be an interesting team to watch, was more than borne out by the final intra-squad spring game which saw the Kentucky speedsters run up a total of six touchdowns before the Whites finally nipped the Blues by a single point, 21-20.

Tennis, Golf, Track Squads Have Good Record

By Paul Crowds, News Editor,
Dep't. of Public Relations

Though hampered by bad weather which made pre-season conditioning virtually impossible, Wildcat tennis, golf and track squads nevertheless compiled respectable records against tough competition.

Kentucky linksmen, with Johnny Owens, Craig Wright and Marvin Lear showing the way, finished their season with a seven won, seven lost record, and topped off this creditable performance by grabbing third place in the post-season SEC tournament at Athens, Georgia. Most of their losses were handed them by Southern teams whose swingers were getting in plenty of practice rounds while Wildcat golfers still were snowbound.

The tennis squad, coached this year by Danny Dickerson who held down the No. 1 spot on last year's team, was composed almost entirely of new faces, few of whom had had any previous collegiate experience. After a poor start, due largely to lack of practice, the netters settled down and at season's end were providing rough competition for all comers. The final mark was six wins and three losses.

Under the astute guidance of Coach Don Seaton, Wildcat tracksters again proved tough customers in dual competition, downing their rivals in three of four such meets. Their only defeat, a 74-57 decision to Tennessee, was the first loss in dual competition handed them since Coach Seaton took over the reins in 1947.

In the Purdue Relays, the Inter-Conference and SEC meets, the 'Cats were less successful, being blanked in the first two and picking up just 8½ points in the latter.

With most of his lettermen returning and a bumper crop of freshmen coming on, Coach Seaton expects better things in 1950. Capt. Tony Dallas, John Meihaus and Guy Weeks, the big three of this year's team, will be back and should receive substantial help from freshmen aces John Cobb, Skippy Whitaker and John Ignarski. Cobb is regarded by Seaton as one of the most promising cindermen ever to enroll at Kentucky.

The Wildcat fencing squad, the only spring sport aggregation not handicapped by inclement weather, proved again that it rates among the best in this area. After dropping their opener to Illinois, a perennial power in Big Nine fencing circles, the Kentucky bladesmen swept aside all remaining opposition to hang up an enviable record of six wins against the single loss.

and in China for two years.

He was in Shanghai in 1937 at the outbreak of the Sino-Japanese war and was then transferred to India for five years, with headquarters in Calcutta. During his last year in Calcutta he became senior officer of the American Volunteer Corps which was active in Calcutta during the war. He and Mrs. Rachal returned to the U. S. in 1943 aboard a Norwegian freighter which took three months to reach New York.

Since the war Mr. Rachal has become area manager for Carrier International.

Physical Plant Must Be Larger

Buildings Needed To Serve Ky. Youth

Editor's Note: Living on the campus from day to day, seeing the physical needs of the University, we have asked the director of Public Relations to outline these needs for you, so that, as loyal alumni, you may be able to present the University's program of enlargement to the public in an intelligent and sympathetic manner.

By Jack Wild

Director of Public Relations

The University of Kentucky needs many things if it is to become a truly great university. Foremost among the University's needs today is additional dormitory space for both men and women students. During the past school year approximately 6,000 men were enrolled in the University; there are living facilities on the campus for less than 1,500 of them. Housing designed for 450 girls is made to take care of 700.

Of the men students who are able to find living accommodations on the campus, two-thirds live in emergency housing. Even to accommodate this many it has been necessary to crowd three and four men into rooms which should not be occupied by more than two.

U. K. co-eds think they have a pretty good idea of how "the old woman who lived in a shoe" must have felt. Forty of them live in Army barracks. Seventy live in a rented house. Other universities with a total enrollment equal to that of the University of Kentucky have 3,000 or more women students, yet U.K. has fewer than 1,800 owing to the lack of housing facilities. It probably is no exaggeration to say that there would be 2,800 women students enrolled in the University, instead of 1,800, if enough dormitory space had been available during the last few years.

Beyond dormitory requirements, the most urgent needs are a Chemistry-Physics building, and a Pharmacy building.

A building must be constructed on the Lexington campus for the College of Pharmacy if terms of the 1947 merger plan with the Louisville College of Pharmacy are to be carried out. In December, 1948, an examining committee of the American Council on Pharmaceutical Education recommended that the U.K. College of Pharmacy be placed in Class C and that "the eligibility of the College of Pharmacy as a Class A college is dependent upon the fulfillment of the terms of the merger plan, whereby the College is to be operated on the University campus in its own building."

To help take care of the greatly increased enrollment at the University of Kentucky, it has been necessary to put into use numerous temporary buildings. Valuable equipment, some of it irreplaceable, may be found in non-fire-resistant buildings which originally cost only one-half or one-third of the value of the contents.

Three years ago, Griffenhagen and Associates, independent fact-finding organization, was employed by the state to make a study of the University of Kentucky and report on its findings. The following recommendations of the Griffenhagen Report have not been carried out due to lack of funds:

1. "A plan for building construction should take account of the urgency and importance of buildings to the operation of the university. The university's student enrollment has greatly increased since the winter of 1946."

2. The "university building program should include, for immediate construction if possible . . . two men's dormitories, a women's dormitory . . . and repair to existing buildings. Of the students who cannot commute to Lexington or who do not live at home, one-fourth are not accommodated in the university dormitory facilities. At present the only limitations on the number of enrolled students are the physical facilities of the university and the City of Lexington to house students and the facilities for instructing them."

3. "An addition to the library building should be constructed so as to provide more stack room and more seating room for students."

4. "Additional campus area is needed . . . The experiment station farm should be expanded by the purchase of adjoining or nearby land and the university campus should be expanded by encroaching, to the extent necessary, on the university farm. It is suggested that the experiment station farm be increased by at least 500 additional acres."

5. "Physical science laboratory and classroom building, releasing Kastle Hall and Pence Hall . . ."

While the University still is in need of certain buildings, it is better prepared today to handle a large student body than it ever has been. The staff has been expanded and several buildings have been completed or are now under construction. Bowman Hall, new residence hall for men, provides rooms for 108 boys and recreational facilities for the entire dormitory quadrangle. The Fine Arts Building, one of the finest buildings of its kind in the South, is nearing completion and is expected to be ready for occupancy this fall. Work is progressing on Memorial Coliseum, a mammoth structure which will be used for concerts, lectures, physical education, conventions, and basketball games. Construction has begun on a Service Building to replace the one destroyed by fire several years ago. An addition to the stadium increases its seating capacity to 35,000.

Cherry, Mathis Get School Posts

Dr. Ralph Cherry, M.A., '38, professor of education at the University of Kentucky, has been named superintendent of Owensboro City Schools and Curtis M. Mathis, LL.B., '25, of Lancaster, has become Harlan county's first director of curriculum and supervision. Both educators assumed the posts during the summer.

Dr. Cherry, 40, was named for a three year term. He has been chairman of the division of educational administration at the University since 1947. He was director of a survey of school buildings conducted in Owensboro three years ago by the University's Bureau of School Service. He was a teacher and administrator in Lexington public schools from 1936 to 1942, serving as director of attendance and later as director of secondary education. Prior to that he spent six years as teacher of mathematics and athletic director in the Harrodsburg schools, where he coached basketball and football. He is a native of Maysville, Ga., and holds his undergraduate degree from Maryville College and his Ph.D. from Columbia.

Mr. Mathis is a former principal of the Hall and Benham high schools in Harlan county and returns to Harlan from Lancaster, Ky., where he has been in business since 1943.

A graduate of the University he first went to Harlan in 1936 as principal of Hall High School staying there until 1942 when he became principal at Benham.

Mr. Mathis holds the Master's degree from Columbia University in high school administration.

Dr. Funkhouser's Portrait Unveiled

A portrait of Dr. William Delbert Funkhouser, late dean of the Graduate School, head of the department of zoology, professor of anthropology and long-time secretary of the Southeastern Athletic Conference and member of the University's athletic board, was unveiled in the Funkhouser Biological Sciences building April 28.

Dr. W. R. Allen, professor of zoology and friend and associate of Dr. Funkhouser presided at the ceremonies, which opened with brief talks on the late Dean's contributions to the University as seen from the eyes of a colleague, a scientist, and a student. Dean of Men A. D. Kirwan spoke from the point of view of the colleague; Dr. William S. Webb, head of the department of physics and of the department of anthropology and archaeology from the standpoint of the scientist; and Herndon J. Evans, '21, of Pineville from the attitude of a student's relationship with his teacher.

Following these tributes President Emeritus Frank L. McVey introduced Mrs. Hugh Clark Funkhouser, Dr. Funkhouser's mother, who unveiled the portrait. Dr. Allen then presented it to the University as a gift from the department of zoology and friends of Dr. Funkhouser, and it was accepted by President H. L. Donovan, '14, in the name of the University.

The portrait, executed by Edmund Giesbert, Chicago, is hanging in the main hallway of the Funkhouser building on the campus.

Vice President Barkley Speaks To UK's Graduating Class

Climaxing a week of festivities which opened with Baccalaureate services Sunday afternoon, May 29, in Memorial Hall, the Hon. Alben W. Barkley, vice president of the United States addressed graduating seniors at the 82nd. annual commencement exercises held Friday night, June 3 on Stoll Field.

A total of 1,270 graduates, including two candidates for doctorates, 106 masters and 1,162 bachelors, heard the second highest official in the nation state that "Government cannot sit on a fence or be contented to be tied to a post while medicine, industry, agriculture, education, religion, science, and all the other activities that stir the human brain and the human imagination move forward constantly toward a fuller and a better day.

"Thomas Jefferson . . . proclaimed the doctrine that no dead generation has a right to bind a live generation," he said.

"That is as much true in Government as it is in science or any of the other fields of human endeavor to which men and women by the millions are and will be constantly devoted."

In opposition the Vice President cited a "new idealogy that looks upon the individual as a pawn of the State."

It spawns, he said, from the doctrine of Carl Marx and Nikolai Lenin that "religion is the opiate of the people only to sooth them into insensitivity in order that Government or private power might impose injustices upon them while they are themselves fascinated with the illusion of religion."

We have in one generation fought two world wars . . . to maintain our belief in democracy and protect our institutions from totalitarian invasion or infiltration or destruction.

Says World Divided

"The world is divided between these two theories. I am one of those who believe the two theories can exist in the world if neither seeks to encroach improperly upon the other."

"This situation calls for the best minds in America and in the world."

he asserted, "It calls for the elimination of artificial barriers that prevent understanding among the nations of the world."

Eighty six honor graduates were among the record class, 38 of whom were graduated with high distinction.

Among the other activities of the day was the presentation of reserve commissions in the United States Army to 101 Reserve Officers Training Corps students at the University. The commissions were given 40 prospective infantry officers, 12 signal corps men one ordnance candidate and 48 Air ROTC students.

UK COMMENCEMENT

By TOM UNDERWOOD

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The University of Kentucky on Friday will graduate a class of 1,270, the largest in the history of the state's highest institution of learning. Nearly two-thirds of those who will graduate are young men who have returned from World War II to complete their education. There are many who believe that one of the gravest causes of England's difficulties that contributed to World War II through the policies leading up to Munich was that an entire generation was lost in World I. The "first hundred thousand" were the best and finest of her manhood.

It is a great triumph for all that the name Kentucky stands for that the men of this class have returned to complete their education. Congratulations are extended to them and to the young women who will be graduated. It should be borne in mind, too, that the number of young women graduates is reduced by the need for more dormitory space.

Friends of the University of Kentucky and the graduating class are fortunate in having Vice Nuclear-Run Aircraft Data Sought At U.K.

Dean Louis A. Pardue, dean of the University of Kentucky Graduate School has announced that scientists at the University of Kentucky are doing research work to uncover data needed in development of nuclear propelled aircraft.

Dean Pardue said that the Kentucky Research Foundation has entered into a contract with a division of the Fairchild Engine and Airplane Corporation for the project. Scientists will use university facilities in experiments, especially a high-voltage electrostatic generator constructed at the University several years ago.

Construction of the generator for the experiments was begun in 1941. At the outbreak of World War II the project was shelved temporarily because of the shortage of critical materials.

Dean Pardue said no airplane parts would be brought here and emphasized the work is concerned only with basic data needed in developing nuclear-powered aircraft.

Dr. Conway W. Snyder of the nuclear-energy-propulsion-of-aircraft project is supervising the research work.

President Alben W. Barkley as the commencement speaker. He is, we believe, the most popular speaker in the United States today. The distinction would not be so high an honor if it were not so well deserved. He is in demand all the time upon the national stage, and it is gratifying to Kentuckians that he has never overlooked a chance to honor them by his presence whenever he can. The Vice President of the United States is respected for his wisdom as well as for his gift of eloquence, and it is fortunate that he is utilizing his present role to carry a message to the people of the country as to what their government really means to them and what it is doing.—Herald, 6/3/49.

Board Names Dr. Lee Sprowles Registrar

Dr. Lee Sprowles, of Campbellsville and Lexington, a graduate of the University of Kentucky with three degrees, has been named University registrar succeeding Dr. Maurice Seay who has been dean of the University and registrar since 1946. Dr. Seay will continue as dean. The two positions were combined during the war years when enrollment was small.

Dr. Sprowles has been assistant registrar at the University this past year, and prior to that he was associate professor of education at Murray State College. He is a veteran of World War II, and as a member of the Air Forces participated in the aerial gunnery program, the testing program and the neuro-psychiatric program.

The new registrar received B.A. in Education from the University in 1936, his M.A. in 1946 and the degree of Doctor of Education in '47. His wife is the former Zola Eversole of Lexington, 1934 graduate of the University. They are making their home at 311 Duke Road.

"Dean Pierre" Dies; Served UK 57 Years

Pierre Whiting, venerable employee of the University of Kentucky for 57 years, died at his home in Lexington April 7.

"Dean Pierre" as he was known to the University janitorial staff, had served as janitor in the Administration building for almost his entire period of service to the University, and the aged Negro was believed to be 93 or 94 years old. He could remember when Civil War troops bivouacked on what is now the University campus and said he was a "good sized" boy at that time.

As a young man he carried water and mortar to workmen who were constructing the present Administration building. He first served as janitor at White Hall, then a boy's dormitory. He was retired from the University in 1945.

The oldest deacon in the Consolidated Baptist church in Lexington, funeral services for Pierre were held there Sunday, April 10.

Last year, at a special recognition ceremony honoring veteran employees of the University, Pierre was presented a gold pin for long period of service, and in 1946, when he became almost totally blind, the University obtained for him a "talking book" machine with which he could play records of the world's outstanding pieces of literature.

Minutes Of Business Meeting UK Alumni Association June 2

The annual meeting of the University of Kentucky Alumni Association was held June 2, 1949, following the annual banquet in the Student Union ballroom.

Mr. J. Stephen Watkins, '30, newly elected president of the association, presided.

The report of the secretary was presented by the executive secretary, Helen G. King, '25, as follows:

Secretary's Annual Report for the University of Kentucky Alumni Association Year 1948-49

The year 1948-49 will go on record as the most successful so far in the history of the University of Kentucky Alumni Association. We have on record a total of 3514 members in addition to which the association boasts 356 held-over life members making our total enrollment this year 3870 as of May 31. We have taken in 282 new life member in this total enrollment. By comparison, our total membership last year was 3636 and 111 new life members. As of April 30, which was the date of our annual audit, we had $14,600 invested in life membership bonds, and since that time we have purchased $2,000 more making our total frozen assets $16,600. I think you would be interested to know that the 1949 graduating class has shown considerable interest in the association through the payment of dues and approximately 20 of this class have taken out life memberships.

The annual membership letter was mailed from the office during May this year in order that all alumni would have an opportunity to apply for season football tickets to home games during the alumni priority period in June. Any alumnus who pays his dues during the month of June is eligible to apply for season tickets to the home games.

At our annual meeting last June this group voted to raise the life membership fee to $50 as of June 1, 1949, and that fee has now gone into effect.

Members of the general association and the alumni executive committee considered the homecoming festivities this fall the most popular and successful which we have inaugurated, and it drew the largest homecoming crowd we have ever had.

Among the numerous mailings which the office has sent out during the fall might be listed letters to August, January, and June graduates; the concentrated series of informal letters to classes which were scheduled for reunions this June; the annual membership mailing; the special election for an alumnus member of the Board of Trustees held in February, and the annual election of officers in April. A small staff consisting of the executive secretary and the office secretary and 5 student assistants have sent out this year a total of 110,000 individual mailings from the Alumni Office.

I would like to recognize in this report the work of Jane Williamson, office secretary, who has been with us since October and who has worked tirelessly in the interest of the association, and the student assistants, two of whom Dorothy Donahue and Betty Sunley, are graduating tomorrow night.

As is the custom of the Alumni Association we entertained the 1948-49 championship basketball squad and the 1948 football squad at testimonial banquets in the fall and spring.

At its February meeting the Executive Committee set up a new membership for husbands and wives which goes into effect this month making it possible for those married couples who have both attended the University to take out joint memberships at the rate of $3.00 per couple for a "B" membership and $4.50 per couple for an "A" membership and $75.00 for a joint life membership.

As you know, in 1947-48 the Alumni Association inaugurated a Loyalty Fund to be administered through the Kentucky Research Foundation and from which we guaranteed a $2,800, 4-year, all-expense scholarship to a deserving freshman. The alumni and the organized alumni clubs were notified that they were eligible to nominate high school graduates for the scholarship and a young man from Berea who was nominated by 4 alumni of the institution received the scholarship last fall. Another recipient will be selected on June 8 for the 1949 Press Association scholarship.

In the two years that the fund has been established we have collected $11,181.04 and it is the hope and desire of the Executive Committee that many members of the general association that we may accumulate enough funds in the future so that we may branch out and establish other forms of benefit to the University as recommended by the Kentucky Research Foundation. In this connection I might say that one very loyal alumna has written to us that she has bequeathed her bequest for the Loyalty Fund in her will.

A new constitution will be presented to you tonight by Judge Edwin Denney, a member of the alumni executive committee. The constitution was printed in the May issue of Kentucky Alumnus and we have copies here tonight, but we hope you have familiarized yourself with it to the extent that you will be prepared to vote.

Three new alumni clubs have been organized this year, one in Atlanta, Georgia; one in New Orleans, Louisiana; and one in Syracuse, New York. Your secretary with Mr. B. A. Shively, vice president of the association, attended the Atlanta and New Orleans meetings. President Donovan, Shively, and I visited the Philadelphia Club this year, and I attended a meeting of the Washington, D.C. Club as well as meetings in New York and Louisville. In addition to this, Shively, Mrs. Robinson of the Department of Radio Arts, and I spoke at another Louisville Club meeting. Coach Bryant addressed the alumni in March and Dean Elvis spoke to the Cincinnati Club in spring.

Interest is high among the organized clubs, and I wish you alumni who here tonight would assist the office and it is my pleasure to announce at this time that you have chosen the following officers to guide the association

executive committee.

It would not be fitting to conclude this report without paying tribute to the man who has guided the affairs of the Alumni Association for the year
1948-49, your outgoing president, Mr.
John R. Bullock, '28. Mr. Bullock has given unceasingly of his time and his efforts to promote the best interests of his alumni organization and I don't believe any greater loyalty, ability, or leadership could be manifested. I wish to express my own personal appreciation to him for his unflinching advice and help whenever the affairs of the office were such that I needed to go to him, and I wish to say to Mr. Bullock that I have enjoyed and valued every minute of my association with him.
He has been a dynamic force in a crucial period in the life of the association.

I would also like to express my deep appreciation to President Donovan, the Board of Trustees, and the University administration for their assistance and interest at all times. I think it should be a great source of pride to alumni of the University that a fellow alumnus heads their institution, and I can assure you that his heart is always involved in our activities and in our plans. Vice president Chamberlain who heads the Kentucky Research Foundation has also been kind and generous with his time and his interest as have the other members of the administrative staff.

Last, but certainly not least, the members of the executive committee have given unflinching of their time and interest to promote this organization and to make it a living force in the University's program. To all of them the office staff and the University are very grateful.

Respectfully submitted,

ANUAL AUDIT

Executive Committee
U. of K. Alumni Association
Student Union Building
University of Kentucky
Lexington, Kentucky
Gentlemen:

At the request of your Secretary I have made an examination of the financial records of your Association for the period from October 1, 1948, to April 30, 1949, inclusive. Last fall I examined the records for the period from April 1, 1949 to September 30, 1948, inclusive. I submit herewith a statement of cash receipts and disbursements for the Association for the thirteen months from April 1, 1948 to April 30, 1949, inclusive.

In connection with my audit I verified the bank balance April 30, 1949, examined the bonds held and verified
the interest received thereon, and reviewed the cash receipts and disbursements. In my opinion the accompanying statement of cash receipts and disbursements correctly sets forth the operations of your Association for the period from April 1, 1948 to April 30, 1949, inclusive. It is also my opinion that the attached list of properties owned as of April 30, 1949 is correct.

Receipts of cash from life memberships during the thirteen months covered by the report, amounted to $5,525.

Minutes Of Annual

Of this sum $5,000 had been invested in U.S. Savings Bonds of Series G by April 30th. Thus there was $525 left to be so invested following that date.

The $251.10 held in the special checking account for the U. of K. Loyalty Fund, as reported by me last October, was turned over to the Kentucky Research Foundation Scholarship Fund during the period covered by this examination. This is included in the total of $1,305.60 shown on this accompanying cash statement as disbursed to the Scholarship Fund. Loyalty and Advancement Fund cash receipts for the thirteen months covered by this report were $51.90 in excess of the disbursements to the Scholarship Fund from the general cash account.

Sincerely yours,

Robert D. Haun, C.P.A.

It was moved by Grover Creech, '20, and seconded by Mr. Palmore that the report of the treasurer be approved. Moved and seconded, the motion carried.

Carlisle Myers, Jr., '48, presented plans for homecoming. He announced that the date of the homecoming game had been set for October 8, 1949. Since that game is a night game, Mr. Myers asked for suggestions for the homecoming party. It was suggested by Robert Hillenmeyer, '43, that arrangements be made for a tea dance followed by a buffet supper in the ballroom of the Student Union. Following a vote on the above suggestion, Mr. Myers stated that such arrangements would be made for homecoming.

Judge Edwin R. Denney, '31, called upon to give a report on the constitution, presented the following revised constitution:

Suggested Revised Constitution of the Alumni Association of the University of Kentucky

Article I

The name of this organization is the Alumni Association of the University of Kentucky".

Article II Purpose

It shall be the purpose of this association to promote the best interests of the University of Kentucky; to fully acquaint the membership of the association with progress and needs of their Alma Mater; to assist in interpreting the University, its work and its services to the state and nation; and to encourage loyalty and closer bonds of fellowship among its members.

Membership

Section 1. The membership shall consist of all persons who have attended the University and obtained credits for at least two full quarters or one full semester and have paid annual dues or life membership fees.

Section 2. The By-Laws may provide for other classes of members.

Article IV

Government

The affairs and business of the association shall be conducted by an Executive Committee, which shall consist of not less than 15 members in good standing. At all times not less than the majority of the members of the Executive Committee shall be duly selected by the membership or be duly designated representatives of recogni-ed alumni clubs of the association.

Article V Meetings

Section 1. The annual business meeting shall be held on a date not more than 7 days before the commencement of the University of Kentucky, the exact date of such meetings to be set by the Executive Committee.

Section 2. Special meetings of members of the association may be called by the President of the association, by the Executive Committee, or by 50 or more members through request made upon the Secretary of the association.

Article VI Amendment

This constitution may be amended by a vote of two-thirds of the members voting at the annual business meeting.

Following the presentation of the revised constitution, Judge Denney moved its adoption. The motion was seconded by Mr. Hillenmeyer. Moved and seconded, the motion carried.

Mr. Watkins appointed Judge Denney and Mr. Meyers as chairmen of the two nominating committees for the Board of Trustees election to be held this fall. These two committees will make their report of nominations at the next Executive Committee meeting June 18.

Miss Helen G. King was appointed by Mr. Watkins as executive secretary of the association.

B. A. Shively was appointed as treasurer of the association, succeeding J. S. Shropshire. Mr. Watkins expressed the gratitude of the association for the service Mr. Shropshire has rendered during his period of office.

Mr. Watkins expressed his appreciation for his election as president, and stated that he hoped a larger active alumni body could be built during the coming year. He urged those attending the meeting to enlist members in their respective communities, and stated that there should be an organized alumni group in every county in order that force from the alumni may be felt and to help the University face its problems in the future.

There being no further business, it was moved by Mr. Palmore and seconded by Mr. Myers that the meeting adjourn.

Respectfully submitted,
Jane Williamson

Alumni Committee Revises Association By-Laws

Three Important Changes Approved

The executive committee of the Alumni Association, in summer session June 18 at the Lexington Country Club, revised the by-laws of the general association, in keeping with the revised constitution passed at the annual meeting of the group on June 3, and enacted three major changes.

Of prime importance to the voting membership of the association is introduction of section 6, Article II, under EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE, which permits the general membership to elect nine members to the executive committee instead of six. This increase has been made to give the voters wider representation on the executive board, brought about through increased membership in the general association. The section reads as follows: Article I, section 6; Nine members to be elected from the association as a whole, each to serve for a term of three years, or until his successor is elected, with three of such members to be elected regularly each year. Since the number of elected members is being increased from six to nine, at a special election to be held in the fall of 1949 three additional members shall be elected, the term of one of whom shall run until June 1950, the term of the second to June 1951, and the term of the third to June 1952, and in each case until their successors are duly elected.

To keep the board balanced between elective and appointive members the new by-laws also incorporate another section, No. 7, under Article II, which reads as follows: Nine members to be appointed by the president to serve for one year, and until their successors are appointed.

Other major changes in the by-laws include the one under Article I, section I, OFFICERS, authorizing the executive committee to elect the secretary and treasurer of the association, contrary to the old law which authorized the president to appoint these officers; and the second, under Article II, eliminating the clause authorizing the executive committee to elect a chairman, and adopting the plan of having the president of the association to serve as chairman of the committee, and in his absence, the vice president.

Early in the fall the Alumni Office will send out ballots for the special election of the three new members of the executive committee, and all alumni are urged to read these by-laws and take advantage of their voting prerogative at that time.

The suggested constitution, which was printed in the May Alumnus, was adopted as printed by the general association at its annual meeting in June.

The new by-laws follow:

BY-LAWS OF THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION OF THE UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY ARTICLE I OFFICERS

Section 1. The officers of this Association shall be a president and a vice president, to be elected by the membership, as hereinafter set out, and who shall hold office for one year and until their successors are duly elected. There shall be a secretary and a treasurer, elected each year by the executive committee, who shall serve for one year and until their successors are duly appointed.

Section 2. The duties of the officers shall be those usually associated with their respective offices.

Section 3. In addition, the secretary shall give notice of all meetings and keep a proper record of all proceedings of the Association and minutes of its meetings. The secretary shall prepare and submit such reports of the activities of the Association as shall be required. A complete roster of the members of the Association, together with all appropriate and necessary data concerning their respective degrees, addresses, occupations and careers, shall also be kept. The secretary shall be the custodian of all records, documents and reports of the Association and shall perform such other duties as may be required by the president and Executive Committee.

Section 4. The treasurer shall collect all monies due and disburse all authorized expenditures. No indebtedness other than for the usual and customary expenses of the Association shall be incurred without previous authorization by the Executive Committee. The treasurer shall be required to give in bond an amount to be fixed by the Executive Committee and shall be the custodian of the financial records of the Association and shall make such reports to the Executive Committee and the Association as may be necessary and required.

ARTICLE II EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

The affairs and business of the association shall be conducted by an Executive Committee, which shall consist of not less than fifteen (15) members in good standing at all times. Not less than a majority of the members of the Executive Committee shall be elected by the membership of the Association or by duly designated representatives of recognized alumni clubs of the Association. Subject to the foregoing, the Executive Committee shall consist of the following:

(1) The officers of the Association.
(2) The immediate past president of the Association.

(3) The elected alumni members of the Board of Trustees of the University of Kentucky.

(4) One member from a list of nominees of the Senior Class, whose term of office shall begin upon graduation and continue for one year.

(5) One member designated by each alumni club of 25 or more members who have paid their annual dues to the Alumni Association. In the absence of other designation the president of each such alumni club shall be considered to be such designated representative.

(6) Nine members to be elected from the Association as a whole, each to serve for a term of three years, or until his successor is elected, with three of such members to be elected regularly each year. Since the number of elected members is being increased from six to nine, at a special election to be held in the fall of 1949 three ional members shall be elected, the term of one of whom shall run until June 1950, the term of the second to June 1951 and the term of the third to June 1952, and in each case until their successors are duly elected.

(7) Nine members to be appointed by the president to serve for one year, and until their successors are appointed.

(8) Any vacancy on the Executive Committee shall be filled by the Executive Committee for the unexpired term.

(9) The Executive Committee shall hold regular monthly meetings at Lexington, Kentucky, on the second Monday of each month of the year except July and August, provided the Executive Committee, at its discretion, or the president, for cause deemed by him to be sufficient, may change the time or place of any such regular meeting.

(10) Special meetings may be called by the president or the Executive Committee, or upon the written request of not less than twenty-five members of the Association in good standing, or upon the written request of not less than five members of the Executive Committee.

(11) A quorum of the Executive Committee for the purpose of doing business shall consist of not less than twelve (12) members.

(12) The Executive Committee is authorized to elect to honorary membership on the committee such members of the Alumni Association who through long periods of service, strong manifestations of loyalty, and constructive contributions to the work of the committee have qualified for this honor. These honorary members shall not exceed three (3) persons at any one given time and shall be entitled to vote and hold office.

ARTICLE III ELECTIONS

Section 1. There shall be an annual election for the purpose of electing a president, vice president and the required number of elected members of the Executive Committee.

Section 2. Two nominating committees shall be appointed by the president on or before January 1 of each year. Each of said committees shall prepare a full ticket for the election and submit same to the secretary not later than March 1 of each year and the names of such nominees shall thereupon be placed upon the ballot.

Section 3. Any member of the Association may nominate a candidate for any of such offices by written petition containing the signatures of fifteen or more members of the Association, which petition shall be presented to the secretary not later than March 1, and, in that event, the names of such nominees shall also be placed upon the ballot.

Section 4. The secretary shall, in addition to the ballot, present thereon or therewith a statement giving pertinent biographical data on each candidate, which information shall be mailed by the secretary to each member of the Association with the ballot.

Section 5. An envelope shall be enclosed with each ballot, this envelope to bear the signature and address of the voter and shall be used for returning the ballot to the secretary.

Section 6. Ballots must be received by the secretary by such time as shall be set by the Executive Committee, or, in the event of its failure to act, not later than thirty days preceding the annual business meeting of the Association. Due notice of the time limit for voting shall be placed on the ballot.

Section 7. A canvassing committee composed of three members, none of whom is a candidate, shall be appointed by the president and the canvassing committee shall open and tabulate the ballots, all of which shall be done in the office of the secretary. A certification shall be made and delivered to the secretary, who shall report same at the next meeting of the Executive Committee of the Association.

Section 8. Candidates receiving a plurality of votes shall be declared elected at the annual meeting of the members.

Section 9. Ballots shall be held for a period of twenty-four hours after the results of the election have been announced, and then unless otherwise instructed by the president, shall be destroyed by the secretary.

ARTICLE IV MEMBERSHIP AND DUES

Section 1. A membership. Three dollar ($3.00) memberships shall cover annual dues and shall entitle each member of this classification to regular issues of the Alumnus Magazine and one issue weekly of the Kentucky Kernel, the official campus newspaper.

Section 2. B membership. Two dollar ($2.00) memberships shall cover annual dues and shall entitle each member of this classification to regular issues of the Alumnus Magazine, which is the official magazine of the Alumni Association.

Section 3. Life memberships at fifty dollars ($50.00) shall cover dues for the life of the member and shall entitle such member to regular issues of the Kentucky Kernel and the Alumnus.

Section 4. Husbands and wives may jointly become members of the Association and in which event their joint dues for A membership shall be $4.50, B memberships $3.00 and life memberships $75.00. Joint members shall receive only one copy of mailings of the Kernel and the Alumnus.

Section 5. Honorary members may be elected to the Association from persons eminent in science, literature, or art or from alumni or other groups which have been connected with the University of Kentucky. They shall be elected to honorary membership by the Executive Committee of the Association and shall be entitled to all privileges of regular members except those of voting and holding office and shall be exempt from payment of dues.

ARTICLE V ALUMNI CLUBS

Section 1. All alumni clubs must consist of at least five (5) alumni who are members of the Alumni Association of the University of Kentucky.

Section 2. Alumni clubs may adopt such rules as to quorum and conducting of meetings and elections as they deem proper; provided, however, that they shall not conflict with the aims and provisions of this Constitution and By-Laws.

ARTICLE VI AMENDMENTS

These By-Laws may be amended or

Remember Your UK Library

By Lawrence S. Thompson,
Director of Libraries

During a recent trip to a neighboring state university, one of our librarians was impressed by the fact that alumni loyalty seemed to grow in direct proportion to distance that separated them from their alma mater. The library was a particular object of that devotion. For example, it contains an excellent collection of palm-leaf books picked up by an alumnus who was personal adviser to an Indian rajah, a fascinating collection on African anthropology sent back by a missionary, a comprehensive collection on Argentine folklore from an expatriate who had settled in Buenos Aires.

Kentuckians travel as widely as any other Americans, if not more so. You are as likely to find a mint patch in Athens as a miniature of Man O' War's statue on a New Delhi mantelpiece. And as our graduates increase in number, more and more of these travelling Kentuckians claim UK as their alma mater.

Your University Library is almost a universal library, and we can use nearly anything except highly specialized treatises in a few fields not represented in our curriculum, for example, systematic theology or dentistry. The alert traveller constantly has an opportunity to pick up pamphlets, books, maps, official reports, guide books, and even more pretentious items such as old manuscripts and rare books. Or maybe you are not much of a traveller and happen to have a local school system survey printed in only a few copies, a family genealogy, or a map of your community. Your University Library can use them all. Drop them into a manila envelope and mail them to the U. K. Library. Remember that you cannot have a great university without a great library, and you can help us achieve this goal.

(The University Library has copies of a pamphlet by Dr. Jacqueline Bull, University archivist, on the Samuel M. Wilson Library and will be glad to send a copy to any alumnus requesting one.)

A Message From The President

Pride is the inherent trait of every true Kentuckian, and whether one has grown up within the boundaries of this elongated commonwealth, which stretches from the mountains in the east to the Mississippi on the west, or one is newly arrived to dwell awhile within its borders, each one comes to know and feel a pride of Kentucky ownership and heritage.

Thus, as the new president of the University of Kentucky Alumni Association, we are calling out to you today, as alumni of the University, to rally to its support.

Your great-grandfathers conceived and put into operation this great fountainhead of knowledge which is the University of Kentucky. Through trial and error, through hardship and taxation, was born the institution which has become one of the leading state universities of the South. It is yours, just as truly and irrefutably as are your name and your family traditions, and since you cannot disown it, even if you would, allow your native pride of ownership to rise up and claim it for your own.

The University of Kentucky, through its organized alumni, can accomplish many things for the good of Kentucky, and only through an organization can we function most effectively. One alumnus in the Alumni Association is worth more to the University than ten outside of it.

Therefore we are counting on you, active members of the Alumni Association, to militate among your lagged brethren for many more memberships. If each of you would recruit one new member, assist in the establishment of one new alumni club, obtain one new Loyalty Fund donor, you would have made a lasting contribution.

As your new president I pledge my very best efforts to the alumni program, which, in the final analysis, is the program of the University, and I acknowledge with humble gratitude and pride, the honor which you have conferred upon me.

J. STEPHEN WATKINS

University of Kentucky Alumni Association
