Dear Ed:

It sometimes is quite difficult to maintain a two-way correspondence. During the last three months, at least three letters addressed to you have been returned, two addressed to Whiting, New Jersey, and one to Mt. Vernon, New York. The latter is enclosed herewith.

I do hope that this will reach you in good time before January 11.

I was interested in your references to the program in Binghamton. I met Mr. Cannon, but was not aware of the exact nature of his program as you have described it. Sometime when time and paper permit, I do hope you will feel like describing the Whiting experience more fully.

With best regards,

Sincerely yours,

Robert Straus, Ph. D.
Professor of Medical Sociology
