RIP's Are In Order A faint death rattle has been heard from the thinish ranks of the All Campus party, and this should come as no particular surprise.

Although several of its members have struggled mightily to bring it up to amount to something, it was a feeble chattering from birth.

The deceased is only about a year old, but it first saw the light of day in none too promising circumstances.

Certainly if the incentive to become a representative is to "revitalize SGA" (and how many times have we all heard that phrase?), the results are not noticeable in SGA achievements.

It would be quite a task to "revitalize SGA" because there is pathetically little to revitalize. UK students give it a decent burial every year to the tune of a dollar apiece, and it rests in peace the remainder of the year.

Some few students actually work on SGA, actually give it hours of time. And what does their trouble amount to? It keeps SGA from absolutely decaying, but that's about all. Their efforts are practically always met with a profound indifference, and often a tomb-like silence.

Why disturb it? It was really the respectful thing for the All Campus Party to tipnose reverently off the scene.

'Vague' Provides Interest 'Vague,' the campus literary magazine that will go on sale Monday, not only has some pretty good stories and poems in it, but it's an interesting example of undergraduate interest in creative writing.

Appreciation Undulled At least Monday's all-day celebration proved there was no need to worry about an "Appreciation Day" replacing a "Welcome Home Day" — even after a week, nobody's appreciation was dulled a bit.

Cookin' With Gaskin

By Nancy Gaskin The University of Maryland Intercollegiate Council met last month to decide on a by-law affecting future fraternity initiates.

The proposed by-law would require pledges to have either a 2.9 overall scholarship average or a 2.9 average the semester just preceding initiation.

At the height of the sermon, the colored preacher paused and said, "We will now take the collection, and I want to say thars a man in here dat's bin runnin' around' wit another man's wife."

Letters To The Editor

Engineering Study Hall Dear Editor: We have just finished reading your little article about the time wasted playing cards.

If you will check your figures we think you will find the total hours spent was 2,163,000 instead of a mere 1,300,000 hours.

Your error was 39.8 percent. Weren't you rounding off those numbers a little too much? Of course we realize that it was an April Fool joke, or was it?

RAY HERGON GILBERT FEETEL (Nope, the joke was on us. As journalism students, we'd be lucky if we could spell much less do arithmetic.—Ed.)

Dear Editor: In the annual spring election of candidates for the Student Government Association, the Constitutionalist Party has maintained a majority for the past three elections.

Headline in New York newspaper: "Father of Ten Shot—mistaken for Rabbit!"

A $30,000 grant for research in the cultural background of the Great Lakes area was given by the Rockefeller Foundation of New York to Michigan State College to be used over a three-year period.

Although MSC will conduct the major part of the studies, funds will be available to members of other educational institutions if their projects are approved by the administrators of the research fund.

Announcement in The Campus University of Rochester: SHAD RIO CALLS: Shad Rio, Rochester's newest frat, is having its second installation dinner at Barracuda's on Monday.

It would seem that the University of Maryland is aiming toward the original goal of all Greek-Jet societies — better scholarship.

At the height of the sermon, the colored preacher paused and said, "We will now take the collection, and I want to say thars a man in here dat's bin runnin' around' wit another man's wife."

And when the money was counted there were eleven five-dollar bills in the plate, and a two dollar bill with a note pinned to it saying, "Keep yo mouf shut and I'll pay the rest. Satisfy."

and even those who had thought Coach Rupp would not leave Kentucky felt relief at hearing him say so in such unmistakable, final terms.

But I wonder if Coach Rupp was aware of the altogether different reaction to his announcement that he had recommended that only seven members of his championship squad be awarded letters for the season.

He explained that while it was in his discretion to recommend letters for those men who had not played as much as the rules prescribe, he had not felt the circumstances to warrant it.

It was difficult for the throng assembled to pay homage to the "team" to understand why they were not to honor five boys who gave so much time and work to the hard practice sessions every afternoon, made the exhausting roadtrips, who kept up with their school assignments under all the handicaps faced by the seven others.

The cheers which greeted Captain Alex Groza's statement that he thought of the team "not as a seven man team, but as a twelve man team" left no doubt as to where the audience stood on the matter.

It was an unfortunate note in an otherwise festive occasion and apparently was regretted at least as much by the seven lettermen as by the disappointed audience.

But being the swell sports they are, the remaining five will probably always regard the 1948-49 Wildcats as "the best team we ever didn't get letters for playing for."

The Spice Of Life

By Ruby Graham and Jobie Anderson

Wildcat Appreciation ceremonies were pompously conducted Monday morning and Monday afternoon at the Tavern.

A few tables caved in from the weight on them and more than a few glasses and bottles were heaved.

Incidentally there was NO strip! Contrary to rumor, there was no newcomer to the burlesque scene in Lexington.

The Theta Convertible, "KATS Greet Cats" was really arkan!

The Carnival, which will leave Lexington Sunday, is open until midnight.

Proceeds are to be divided between the Alpha Xi Delta alumni and the fund-raising campaign for the Central Baptist Hospital.

The Crums—Jolly Rogers, Frank Benton, Ollie McCormick, Holmes Smart, and Jim Blair—have announced the organization of their auxiliary, the Crumettes.

Betty Spragens is one of the world's worst skeptics of men. Why should she be wary of all of Hal Hughes' insistent invitations to go fishing?

The Hi-C and Heave Club is in full swing in the Cottage Friday afternoon.

Engage! Barbara Jenkins and Joseph Melvin. The Phi Sig party at Castlewood was very gay.

We hear Clenet Ellis has pink eye, which he caught from "Ann Lutes" Brown.

The dozens of river and beach parties lead us to another bit of philosophy: Three couples just can't sit under one blanket on a party.

Soon to be placed on the social calendar is the pajama party which the Kappa Sigas are planning in Brick McCullum's new Nash.

Jack Malone and Mary Ann Spencer make a lovable couple!

The Sigma Chi costume party really revealed a lot of April fools.

Bill Smith was really a Joe with Turley's stethoscope.

Frank Fuller's blue Nash is becoming a permanent fixture at Sayre Hall.

Ann Keeton says she's glad to be unpinned from Bud McCarty.

Dick Womack is making a big play for Ella Rena Potter since she returned the hardware which formerly graced her sweaters.

Library Science Head Reports Shortage Of Trained Librarians

College men and women shopping around for a professional field that is not overcrowded are missing a good bet if they overlook the serious shortage of trained librarians, according to Prof. David O. Kelley, head of the University of Kentucky's Department of Library Science.

Within the next five years alone, he says, about 18,000 librarians will be needed to staff the nation's school, public, and special libraries.

At present the 35 fully accredited library schools in the United States are turning out only 1300 graduates annually.

Salaries Compare Favorably Starting salaries for library science grads are as good or better than those in many other fields.

Prof. Kelley added, "The American Library Association has recommended a minimum annual salary of $2800 for beginners and this figure is being met or exceeded in most cases."

Board Approves Service Building Construction Bid

Contracts for the building of a campus service building and for construction of an addition of approximately 4,000 seats to the stadium were recommended to the State Building Commission by the UK Board of Trustees at a meeting Tuesday.

Low base bid on the proposed service building of $723,000 was submitted by the George H. Rommel Company, Louisville. A bid of $291,400 by the Perkins Company, Frankfort, was submitted for construction of the seats on the south side of the stadium and for a new press box.

Financed By Bond Issue - The proposed service building will be a three-story structure. The Division of Maintenance and Operations, now in temporary quarters, will occupy the first two floors. Top floor will be used by the Margaret I. King Library for valuable but infrequently used books and documents.

At Site Of Old Building - The service building will be constructed at the intersection of S. Limestone and S. Upper Streets, at the site of the old building.

The board also recommended acceptance of the architect's plans and specifications for a new sciences building. It will house the department of chemistry and physics and will be financed through federal funds.

Students Participate In Cincinnati Event

The Tri-State College Play Day, held at the University of Cincinnati Saturday, included participation by a group of 17 physical education students from the University.

The event was sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association of the Cincinnati institution. Girls from 20 colleges and universities of Kentucky, Indiana, and Ohio participated.

The UK group competed in basketball, table tennis, and volleyball, and a modern dance was presented. Representing the University in the athletic events were Charlene Orr, Phyllis Klockner, Betty Tandy, Henrietta Arent, Ella West, Margaret Avenel, Ruth Halverson, Dol Honaker, and Harlan Hoseney.

All under the direction of Miss Clo Papasot, instructor in the department of physical education.

Taking part in the modern dance were Janice Stille, Betty Elliott, Bobbie Yates, Beulah Reynolds, Judith Laigart, Joe Marks, Edgar Vance, and Eps Parris. Mrs. Revell Edill Shaw, assistant professor of physical education, directed the dance group.

System Installation To Require 30 Days

Installation of steam heat pipes around the Margaret I. King Library and reworking of the old Norwood Hall site should be completed in about 30 days, according to Frank D. Peterson, University controller.

Peterson stated that the pipes will serve the Lab Building, the library, the Social Sciences Building, and the new Fine Arts Building.

Social Work Display Arranged In McVey

Displays and bulletins featuring the social work department has been arranged on the third floor of McVey Hall in connection with the Vocational Conference.

Miss Marilyn Morris, social work chairman for the conference, has been awarded the exhibits. Courses offered by the department, scholarships available, and opportunities and positions open in social work are featured.

meetings foster companionship among members, and were a primary basis for the club. Most organizations have dropped the pretense by now, and the meetings are a fast switch of cash, and nothing more.

A few offsprings of the original Pyramid Club have begun. One of them the Weekly Pyramid Club has only seven steps, taking seven days, and when a member reaches step No. 7, he gets his $2 returned. The payoff, of course, is proportionately smaller, $384. This club dispenses with the meeting angle altogether.

What does it all add up to? Another American fad-craze which will sometime disappear just as fast as it appeared.

In the meantime, does anyone know where I can get two friends with two greenbacks per pair, "Friend! Chum! Old buddy!"?

Li. Col. Robert G. Chambers, 30, assistant director of supply, Tanker Air Force Base, Oklahoma City, Okla., has been presented with the Bronze Star. The presentation was made during special ceremonies in the offices of Maj. Gen. F. E. Borum, commanding general, Oklahoma City Air Materiel Area.

The award was given for meritorious service from June 1944 through August 1945 while Col. Chambers was stationed in China with the 9th Wing of the 14th Air Force.

Col. Chambers has served two separate tours overseas, one in the CBI theater and also in the Far East.

1932 - Orville W. Chinn, 33, of Danville, has been named director of the new flood control and water usage division of the Kentucky State Department of Conservation.

Mr. Chinn has been district engineer for the U.S. Soil Conservation Service, U.S. Coast Guard and Geodetic Survey.

A native of Beaver Dam, Mr. Chinn was graduated from the University of Kentucky college of Engineering in 1933. In 1943 he entered the U.S. coast-guard artillery as a second lieutenant.

1948 - Guthrie Marks, 48, of Lexington, has been promoted to head of the heating and air-conditioning department of Jett Inc., at Lexington.

Mr. Marks is a World War II veteran, and is a graduate of the University of Kentucky college of Engineering.

Harry Russell Conrad, 18, formerly of Burlington, Ky., is registered in the Graduate School at Ohio State University and is working in the dairy husbandry department.

1949 - Charles H. Guley, 19, of Lexington, has been appointed assistant Fayette county agent.

Mr. Guley, who completed work toward his B.S. in Agriculture degree in January, will be concerned primarily with 4-H Club work and with other phases of the general agricultural extension program in Fayette county.

WITH FORMER UNIVERSITY STUDENTS - Eileen Minahan, of Lexington, daughter of the late William A. Minahan, 21, has been awarded first prize in the group figure division of an exhibition which included all Cincinnati art schools.

In a similar exhibition in 1948, she was awarded first and second prizes in the single figure section and first prize in the accessories division. Miss Minahan is a former student of the University of Kentucky school.

There's a bit of the University of Kentucky campus in the Senate office Building in the nation's capital these days.

Four members of the staff of Senator Garrett L. Withers are either graduates of the Lexington school or are former students.

The Withers' administrative assistant is G. W. Kingsbury, 23, of Covington. He is a former news editor of the Kernel and commentator for Station WLV, Cincinnati.

Another former Kernel worker in the senatorial office is Miss Irene Haynie, 46, a member of the Withers' office staff. Miss Haynie was a member of the University's administrative faculty and as a student, was the Kernel circulation manager.

Other former U.K. students include Miss Eva Mauzy, secretary to Senator Withers, and Miss Jessie Ball, a member of the staff.

Pyramid Club Craze Hits Campus; Guard Your Two Bucks Jealously

By Jerry Finch

Hey! All you have to do is climb to the top of this pyramid and you collect all the hay.

If persons you have never seen before pounce upon you with cries of "Friend! Pal! Chum! Old Buddy!" you can be sure that the next adventure will be an invitation to join a Pyramid Club and hand over two bucks.

Knots of people gather at corners, bars, and grills to discuss the merits and demerits of this new money-making fad, and Lexington is gradually separating into two distinct camps. One group of Pyramid Club addicts will swear with conviction that you can't go wrong in joining, and another group will swear with equal fervor that the organization is the reincarnation of the devil and a lot of foolishness in the least extreme.

Between these two opposing forces is a small band of doers who are a bit leery of the whole idea, but give them a mathematical argument showing that the Club is sound, and they will plank down their two kins and join the addicts.

When this intermittent band is torn away, the club for lack of supporters moves on to another city.

Friendship Label Drugged - The formal title for the organization is the Pyramid Friendship Club, and as rumor has it, the club was originally formed by a well-known national unit to provide a means of meeting and associating with all corners. But the club got out of hand and whirled across the country leaving the "friendship" label out of popular expression.

Most members can explain the workings of the club with diagrams, figures, and flourishes, but non-members may have little idea of what's going on. Just how does it operate?

First, there are 12 spots at the top of the pyramid, from the right No. 12 spots at the base is the No. 1 at the apex. The idea is for the No. 12's to each bring two new members to take their places, making a tiny pyramid of their own, and pushing the old No. 12's up to the No. 11 position. If all goes well, the accession should take 12 days.

Each of the new No. 12's attends a meeting at which they pay a $2 fee to No. 9, who telegraphs the money collected to No. 1, thus avoiding the postal regulations. When No. 9 collects the loot, he drops off the top and the former No. 2 takes his place.

Pyramid Splits - Of course, with all the new No. 12's coming in, the pyramid would be geometrically out of hand, so at the No. 10 position, the figure splits into two pyramids. The new pyramid retains the names of all members above the No. 9 step, and splits the base of the old pyramid into two bases for the new pyramids.

With all the branchings at the No. 10 step, by the time our original No. 12 reaches the No. 1 spot, 256 clubs or pyramids should be formed at the end of the 12 days, in an ideal situation where no one falls out. Our original person's name should be at the head of these 256 clubs and should receive $2 from each of the eight No. 12's of the clubs, or $4096.

But how does it operate? Get away sonny, you better run.

When No. 1 receives his money, there are 2406 members backing him up in the No. 12 position, no more the different pyramids. There are 1024 No. 11's, 512 No. 10's and so on down the line, so that No. 1 has 442 names behind him, in an ideal situation, naturally.

By the way, in order to pay off all the 2406 members who are in No. 12 position when they reach the top of the pyramid, it would require collections from 4,194,204 additional persons. Hence the "Friend! Pal! Chum! Old Buddy!"

Since Lexington is not quite able to sport a 4,000,000 population, when the names begin to lag the club moves on to another city. The list is not mailed, but carried from one town to another.

Nobody Gets Maximum - Of course nobody collects the maximum $4096 because of breaks when people cannot bring two friends to take their No. 12 position. However, payoffs from $16 on up toward $3000 have been made in town.

Oh, yes. A note of warning: "High school students, college students, and minors should not be encouraged to join the club." However, these are optimistic times, and people are not easily discouraged.

Logic minds have been at work trying to find a way to make the new "get rich quick" scheme unlawful, but have found no loopholes as yet. Concerning income tax, the members argue the money received merely a gift from friends and not taxable.

"M'kay," they will argue, "It's worth a $2 gamble. That's no more than a nightclub cover charge."

However, the dihard camp nods wisely and says the bubble will pop before long and a couple of hundred million people will be minus two bucks apiece. And the club members retort with "Who cares about two bucks?" They used to argue that the

Distinguished Professor Lecture Theme Is Creativity In Nature

The connection of time and space in regard to nature was discussed by Prof. John Kuiper, head of the department of philosophy, in Memorial Hall March 31. Prof. Kuiper was speaking as the 1949 Arts and Sciences Distinguished Professor of the Year. The speech was delivered to delegates of the Foreign Language Conference, members of the faculty, and the public.

Nature Always Creative
In discussing creativity, Prof. Kuiper stressed the fact that nature has never ceased being a creative power. When creating in nature ceases, he added, so will time.

Creativity in nature is the power to renew the old and to bring forth something new from the old and should be regarded as the very foundation of the universe, he added.

"The fact remains that life (as compared to nature) has undergone a long and gradual ascent, culminating in a race of beings whose achievements must, on the whole, elicit from the Author of Nature the same response that is recorded in the Book of Genesis: 'And God saw everything that he had made and behold, it was very good.'"

Originated in Organisms
He said that nature has passed from lower organisms to higher organisms. Nature itself is a system of processes and possibly goes back to the time when physical stages were different with everything coming from one thing. He described these processes as relationships of time and space.

Speaking of time, Kuiper said that past events do not exist, they only exert pressure and influence on present occurrences.

Time Not A Locomotive
Many people picture time as a locomotive traveling down tracks. He said this is not so, but rather he said it is a series of events.

BEFORE THE RUSH . . .
every year most folks (even included) wait until the really hot weather hits before they even look for summer tropical suits. But if we would play it smart, we'd look now while the selection is good and sizes not picked over. We carry the famous Mirror-test rayon tropicals and I can say from first hand experience — they are swell. I have two of their suits and like them a lot. They're cool — they're good looking — and don't wrinkle. It's not too early to shop for a summer suit, because at this time you can get what you want.

UK Crowded Champs By Helms Foundation

Alex Groza Named Player Of Year; Beard Again On All-American Team

Kentucky's basketball team was named by the Helms Foundation of Los Angeles as the Team of the Year. It was the second straight season and the third time since 1933 that this honor has been given to the UK Kats by this well-known athletic organization of California.

The Wildcats were named in 1933 and also in 1948 for this honor.

In addition Alex Groza was named as the Player of the Year, over runner-up Tony Lavelli of Yale and Easy Ed Macaulay of St. Louis. The latter was winner for this award last season.

Peppy Ralph Beard also received recognition. He was named for the third consecutive season on the Helms Foundation All-American team.

For Groza, this was another wreath piled on the laurel-strewn 67" center. Thrice All-American; twice most valuable player in the NCAA Tournament; outstanding player on Chicago Stadium, most valuable in the East-West All-Star game; basketball's outstanding performer in 48; high scorer on the U.S. Olympic team; most valuable Wildcat for the last two years; All SEC; outstanding service basketball player of 46; and holder of numerous scoring records are just some of the honors that have been awarded Groza in recent years.

The BRIBE

Track Team Engages Cincinnati Saturday

By Earl Conn

First dual meet of the season for the UK Wildcats is Sunday afternoon when they travel to meet the University of Cincinnati Bearcats. The UK team will have bus for Cincinnati at 8 a.m.

Coach Don Seaton will take a 24 man team to meet the Bearcats. Several of the UK-UC track records appear to be in danger in this meet—especially the high jump and hurdle records.

The Cats will be in their first dual meet of the season although they have appeared in the Purdue Relays held at West Lafayette two weeks ago.

It appears that the Cats will be strong in the hurdle events and relays. The football players expected to be added to the team to strengthen the dashes will not be able to participate, Seaton added.

Joe Brewster reported this week will appear in the pole vault. He also added that Dale Barnstable will be used in the hurdle events.

Entries from Kentucky for the meet will be as follows: 100-yard dash - Klein, Wise, and Weeks; 220-yard dash - Wise, Farris, and Dallas; 440-yard dash - Fairman, Dyer, and Sitzer; 880-yard dash - Kirchner.

Mile run - Griffith, Carr; two-mile run - Griffith, Carr, and Willis; low hurdles - Dallas, Weeks, and Barnstable; high hurdles - Dallas, Weeks, and Barnstable.

High jump - Warner, Dallas; pole vault - Clark, Distler, Brewster; shot put - Richter, Smotherman, Gunston; discus - Richter, Smotherman, Gunston; relay - Weeks, Fairman, Dallas, Kirchner; and broad jump - Dallas, and Warner.

One record which appears fairly safe this early in the season is the 9.6 record set in the century dash by both Mullin and Hardin of Kentucky in 1940.

The complete UK-UC records set in the past follow:
100-yard dash - Mullin and Hardin (K), 1940, 9.6; 220-yard dash - Kelly (K), 1939, 21; 440-yard dash - Hobbs (C), 1922, 52.2; 880-yard dash - Thomason (K), 1930, 2:01.2; mile run - Owens (K), 1930, 4:36.4.

Low hurdles - Clark (K), 1922, 24.2; high hurdles - Porsell (C), 1922, 1.6; high jump - Porsell (C), 1920, and McLane (K), 1931, five feet, ten inches; broad jump - Kelly (K), 1931, 23 feet, five and three-fourths inches.

Discus - Pettig (C), 1941, 132 feet, four inches; shot put - Lakkamp (C), 1931, 44 feet, three inches; javelin - Zoeller (K), 1941, 190 feet, four inches; mile relay Kentucky (Kelly, Ruttenmutter, Owens, Thomason), 1930, 3:30; and two mile relay - Porter (K), 1923, 10:15.2.

Wildcats Open Baseball Season Against Tech Nine In Atlanta

By Ced Killingsworth

Braced somewhat by the one chilly, clear day of practice this week, the Wildcats baseball team opens its season today against the Georgia Tech team in Atlanta.

The team left yesterday noon in a chartered bus, spent last night in Chattanooga, and concluded the remainder of the journey in Atlanta this morning.

Fifteen men traveled to Georgia for the two game series, including four pitchers, three catchers, and a spare infielder.

Ray Mignery will draw the starting mound assignment for this afternoon's game, and Jay Cummins will probably catch for him. The infield will have dependable Walt Hirsch on first base, Sophomore Johnny Mayes on second, smooth-riding John Stough at short, and hard-hitting Dick Ramsey in the hot corner. Allen Hamilton, Bob Henne, and Bob Hartschert or John Crosthwaite will patrol the outfield.

Saturdays contest will have Lefty Ray Wiseman or Al MacLeod on the hill for the Kentuckians, with Mignery shifted to the outfield.

In the Wildcats only practice this week, John Stough, leading hitter last year, Walt Hirsch and Dick Ramsey hit the ball a long way and often enough to give the practice-starved Cats a faint hope of winning a game or so down South.

However the Yellow jackets' smooch pitchers, who have been throwing curve balls since February, have already played several games and might sting the Cats with two opening defeats.

The team plays Vanderbilt in Nashville next weekend, and meets Georgia on April 22 and 23 in their first home games.

Frosh Cagers Finish Year With 80-64 Win

Completing an unexciting season, the University of Kentucky freshmen cagers ripped Cumberland Junior College 80-64, last Saturday night to win their fifteenth straight game.

The tilt was played at Harlan before approximately 1200 fans.

Bill Spivey, the seven-foot Kentucky center, put 33 points through the nets in conquering the Williamsons quints.

Second to Spivey in scoring for UK was Skippy Whitaker with 12 and Len Pearson had seven.

The halftime score was Kentucky 46, and Cumberland 29.

Beard, Groza, Jones, Barker Shine As East Beats West, 65-64

by Bob Gorham

Playing their last game as collegians, Kentucky's Alex Groza, Ralph Beard, Wallace Jones and Cliff Barker scored 60 points last Saturday night as the East beat the West 65-64, in the fourth annual Herald-Tribune charity game in Madison Square Gardens.

With the Big Four showing the way, the Easterners overcame a two point deficit at half-time point and took a commanding 15 point lead early in the second half. This was too much for the Westerners to overcome. A brilliant rally that was capped by Leo Barnhorst's stizzling 30-foot one-hander in the last 10 seconds pulled them to within one point, but the East grabbed the ball and held it until time ran out.

In all, the East scored 30 points in the final period and Beard, Groza and Jones accounted for 23 of them. Groza, the Eastern captain, was named the most valuable player in the game. He got the best of the personal scoring duel with Easy Ed McCaulay of St. Louis, 12 points to nine.

Vern Mikkelson from Hamline University of St. Paul, who carried the burden of the Western attack, was the game's high scorer with 17 points. Ralph Beard led the East with 13.

Both coaches - Adolph Rupp of Kentucky (East) and Vadal Peterson of Utah (West) used a fast-driving style of play. The West tried 83 shots and made 27, an average of 32 percent. The East shot 61 times and hit 25 for a mark of 41 percent. The East had 27 foul shots and converted 15 of them. The West made 10 of 18.

But in the end, the difference was Kentucky!

The line-up:
East (65): Beard (Kentucky) g - 5 3 0 13
Barker (Kentucky) g - 2 0 3 4
Saul (Seaton Hall) g - 4 1 1 9
Groza (Kentucky) c - 4 4 3 12

DisKentucky Sports Review

— By Tom Diskin, Sports Editor —

While playing for the Kentucky Wildcats, Alex Groza, Ralph Beard, Wah Jones and Cliff Barker scored a total of 5028 points. Groza, in four seasons, scored 1744 points. Ralph Beard, who hit his scoring high as a junior tallied a four year total of 1517. Wah Jones, playing for the Big Blue since the season of 1945-46, along with Beard, sank 1151 markers. Cliff Barker, who played on the varsity team for just three seasons, collected a total of 616 points.

Here is a breakdown of the famous four felices scoring per year. The numbers in parentheses are the games played for that particular season.

Player	Freshman	Sophomore	Junior	Senior
GROZA	165 (10)	353 (37)	488 (39)	698 (34)
BEARD	279 (28)	282 (27)	476 (28)	270 (24)
JONES	299 (28)	217 (23)	335 (26)	309 (23)
BARKER	129 (34)	248 (33)	248 (34)

For several years scored the same number of points in his final two seasons. However, he played in four less games this year than did as a junior. Groza went into the Army after playing just 19 games here as a freshman. His 488 points flipped in this season constitutes an all-time high for individual scoring for one season on a major collegiate basketball team.

The Alumni Association basketball banquet, held last Monday night in the Student Union building, was attended by an overflow crowd of 550 persons. Like the Wildcat plays, these banquets seem to improve each year. Miss Helen King, Alumni secretary, and her staff are to be congratulated for the success of the program.

Athletic Director B. A. Shively served toastmaster. Coach Adolph Rupp gave the principal talk. Other speeches were made by UK President Donovan and John Ballou, head of the Alumni Association.

Coach Rupp made it clear that he has no intention of leaving UK for professional basketball. The Wildcat mentor praised the four graduating seniors for their outstanding play this season. "We had to win this year," he said. "We had those four players back from the Olympic team and everyone expected us to."

The final five weeks of the season were probably the toughest that Rupp ever experienced. He related that from February 17th to the game with Oklahoma A & M on March 20th, he lost a total of 24 pounds.

The Baron commented the play of the other players, especially Jim Linn, Walt Ehrlich and Gene Berrable. Later he lauded the undrafted freshman team, which "turned in the best job ever done by a freshman team." He held court contribute toward the success of the varsity squad.

President Donovan stated that the accomplishments of the Wildcat basketball team "have been phenomenal" and "no longer as I may live, it will hold those boys in high esteem." He called Coach Rupp, not the coach of the year, but "the basketball coach of the century."

One of the highlights of the program was Alex Groza receiving the "Most Valuable Player" trophy by a vote of his teammates. It was the second consecutive year that the big basketballer was nominated for this coveted award.

The basketball shirts and numbers of Alex Groza, Ralph Beard, Wah Jones, and Cliff Barker, in addition to Ken Rollins, last year's team captain and now a member of the Chicago Stags pro team, will all be retired in memory of the "Fabulous Five" players. The numbers which will never again be used by a UK basketball player are 12 (Beard), 15 (Groza), 23 (Barker), 26 (Rollins), and 27 (Jones).

Another of the many highlights of the program was furnished by Ken Rollins, who was called upon to sing two songs and once again came through in great style. Later, Ken led the assembly in singing "Gus, Gus, I'll be back," which closed out the 20-page program.

At the banquet, rings of the varsity players were awarded letters. They not only play through line under the present UK athletic setup to be given letters.

Out of a possible 2400 minutes (for 24 games), Easter Day played a total of 120 minutes; John Stough 282; Garland Thomas, Al Bruno, 62 minutes; and Bob Hesse, 42. Of the seven named to receive letters, Linn had the least, with 510 minutes of action for the campaign. All of which gives quite a spread in playing time between the first seven and the other players.

However, despite rules about a minimum amount of time required for a basketball letter, we feel that an exception should be made for this season and these five players be given letters also. Surely every member of a national championship team deserves a token of recognition, such as a school letter.

An example is Roger Day. In 19 games, he hit a total of 53 per cent of his field goals and finished with 51 points in the 129 minutes he played. You can't ask much more of a player. Hitting 53 percent of his shots from the floor is mighty good, even for a Wildcat player. He came through every time he was called upon, including the Villanova game in New York. Should there be an exception because they played behind five of the creates, players ever to form a college cage team?

"We know of a case this," makes this situation seem quite unfair. Several members of the 1947 UK track team were awarded full-sized "K" letters without playing one during the season. We recall one trackster in particular, no longer here, who was a better athlete than ever finishing better than third in his last year.

Last year, Dutch Campbell, who made All-Southeastern Conference in his freshman year here at UK during the war, was not awarded a "K" letter in his final season here. All because he was only called upon to play in 15 games for a total of 74 minutes. He had the misfortune to be pushed out by great players like Groza, Jones and Joe Holland. Just scrambling every day against players like these three for five months and being ready in case of emergency to take over during a crucial game, is warranted enough to receive a letter.

This system of awarding K's will possibly be all right next season, when things come back down to a somewhat more normal level. But for this year, every member of the NCAA championship team should be given a letter. That's only fair.

Your sports editor expresses appreciation to Earl Conn and Bob Cox for their help last weekend in preparing the special sports section for this week's issue of the Kernel.

Probably the most unremembered person in Lexington about the recent little item by New York columnist Ed Sullivan, who referred to Cliff Barker as looking 10 years older than his listed 27 years, is of Bark himself. The calm, poised Wildcat star is as relaxed off the court as he is in action. He is probably wondering why all the excitement caused over the article. It's about time that we accept such comments from time to time by Eastern writers about Kentucky as inevitable.

One of the strongest teams in this spring's intramural football competition is expected to be the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. They have one of the top hurriers in the league in Gene McMurray, who pitched several shutouts last season, including one no-hit game. Players are, front row left to right, Ted Howard, Joe Hibbs, Calvin Bruechle, Howard Morgan and Bill Heleman. In the second row are Tom Porter, Ed Mills, Jack Bailey, Jack Wayman, Gene McMurray and Woody Fritis.

April 20 and 21 will be the dates on which this year's intramural track meet will be held. Fees are 25 cents per entry and are due by 4 p.m. on Tuesday, April 12. Qualifying for all events will be on April 20.

Ten events are scheduled, including: 100-yard dash, 200-yard dash, 400-yard run, 120-yard low hurdles, 800-yard relay, running broad jump, high jump, 12-pound shot put, discus throw, and javelin throw.

A limit of three events per man, any two of which may be running events or field events, will be imposed. Entries in the 600-yard run must have a physical examination and turn the report in to the IM office by April 19. Also, they should practice at least three days a week until the meet.

It is very strongly advised that all contestants in running events have a physical examination. Anyone who has received a college letter in track will not be eligible. Track numerals earned last season, is warranted enough to receive a letter.

Members of the varsity track squad, as of Monday, April 11, will not be allowed to compete. Scoring for the meet will be as follows: one point for each man who qualifies, five points for each runner-up, and one point for each third place.

Four divisions of teams make up the 1949 intramural football round-robin. These divisions have a total of 27 teams, 19 of which are fraternity and eight are independent.

Teams in DIVISION ONE are: Delta Tau Delta, Break Hall, Tri-Y, Tau Kappa, Alpha Gamma Rho, Sigma Chi, and Sigma Nu.

DIVISION TWO contains: Phi Kappa Tau, Kinkead Hall, Golden Eagles, Triangles, Alpha Sigma Phi, Lambda Chi Alpha, and Pi

Kappa Alpha.

THIRD DIVISION is composed of: Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Law School Stahs, Tavern Boys, Kappa Alpha, Alpha Tau Omega, Phi Delta Theta, and Kappa Sigma.

Six teams make up DIVISION FOUR: Sigma Phi Epsilon, Hot Shots, Scott Street, Zeta Beta Tau, Phi Sigma Kappa, and Delta Chi.

Tennis And Golf. Competition began in the golf elimination tournaments last Tuesday, April 5, and tennis is scheduled for the last of this week.

Golf doubles tourney has 15 teams, and the singles has 43 entries. The singles in tennis boast 50 entries, while the doubles have 23 teams.

All golf games are to be played at the Piedmont Golf Course, located on the Harroburg Road. Tennis matches will take place on the four hard surface courts behind the University Training School and what courts can be arranged on Downing Courts in front of Kinkead Hall.

Bowling. Yesterday, the University bowling champion was to be decided by the scores of a six game competition based on a handicap.

The match was between Phi Delta Theta, the fraternity champion, and the Hotshots, independent champion. Entering this final match, the

Second UK Intr Squad Tilt At Madisonville

By Dudley Saunders

A strengthened Blue team will try to even the series tomorrow night at a intrasquad football game being played this spring by Kentucky's football team.

Coach Paul Bryant announced Wednesday that tomorrow night's squads would be more evenly divided in strength than were the two to hold a handball tournament sometime in the latter part of this month or the first part of May.

Each game will be only five innings long and the schedules will be posted on the IM bulletin board. At present, only two games can be played each day that rain doesn't cause postponement. The contests are set for 3:30 and 4:50 p.m. on the IM field at the rear of Alumni Gym.

This shortage of time and space means that at present, each team plays only one time every two weeks. The physical education department is trying to procure lights for night games so five games can be played a day.

The softball schedule for the next three playing days is as follows: TODAY: KS vs. Law School, 3:50 p.m. PDT vs. Tavern Boys, 4:50 p.m.

MONDAY: ATO vs. KA, 2:50 p.m. SN vs. Scott St. Bks., 4:50 p.m.

TUESDAY: SPE vs. Hot Shots, 2:50 p.m. PSK vs. ZBT, 4:50 p.m.

All games will be played on the IM field behind the Student Union building.

teams that took the field last Saturday night in Paintsville. The White team boasted practically all the lettermen and several of the most promising members of the freshman team, yet looked sluggish in winning, 26-8.

Bryant Disappointed. When questioned about that game, Bryant stated that he was frankly disappointed in both teams, especially the White squad. However, he added that the weather was more to blame than the players. The performance of the teams, according to Bryant, showed a lack of concentration and continuous practice. He blamed the bad weather and the poor condition of the field for the lack of pace and team work shown in the game.

Individuals looked better than teams, but neither looked anything like what he had expected. In the first half the Blues looked their best, but in the second half the Whites looked much the better. He went on to say that the freshmen looked good, considering their inexperience and the "same old" drill that has plagued the entire team this spring.

"Had we had time to emphasize things like pass defense, downfield blocking, blocking for the punter or passer, we would have looked much better. But as it was, we had to depend only on those points, therefore they were our glaring weaknesses."

The lighting at Paintsville wasn't any too good. Quite often the boys couldn't see the ball on passes and kicks. That, I believe, explains the poor pass catching and whatever ball-handling troubles we may have had. "Providing we get a break from the weather I feel sure we'll improve a great deal, mainly because the boys want to improve. They know some of their weaknesses, now, as individuals and as a team so they'll bear down and try to eliminate them."

Right End Still Open. Bryant wasn't ready to cite many players for outstanding play, but he was willing to mention several who played better than the others. Line play was nothing to brag about, but the guard posts were handled creditably. Roy Ford was about the most outstanding man in the line. He seemed very disappointed in the play of the tackles, although George Claiborne played well.

"Right end is still very unsettled," Bryant added. "We tried three men who we expected to be the leading contenders for that position and none of them turned in a very good performance. Don Hampton looked best of the three."

"He Looked 10 Years Older"

In Ed Sullivan's column, "Little Old New York," there recently appeared the following item: "One of the basketball players on U. of Kentucky was listed as 27 years old, and he looked 10 years older, chewing a wad of tobacco. His name is Cliff Barker. Apparently, down in Kentucky they marry young and get out of school late. After watching that Kentucky powerhouse run away and hid from U. of Illinois, you wonder how Loyola of Chicago ever belied them out of the Invitational tournament."

The observant Mr. Sullivan has mistaken a "wad of tobacco" for something else. Bark chews on a few feet of string during a game.

Records Break, Teams Shake Before UK's 1948-49 Quintet

King Wildcat ruled the basketball roost again as mighty Kentucky romped through another year that was reminiscent of the past three seasons.

It was strictly a "no contest" year all the way as the basketballers hung up records amid the din of cheers from basketball rosters from coast to coast.

The cheers and accolades were apparently from the very first whistle opening the season at Alumni Gym. That night was not very different from many others for the rest of the year. It was merely an omen of things to come. And a break outlook it was for the mighty Cats' opponents. The first night of the season little Indiana Central fell by a score of 74-38. The team looked good, everyone said, but then who was Indiana Central? Just a warmup. But this team, it later turned out, was good enough to get invited to the NAIA tournament where they made an excellent account of themselves.

Groza Named Captain
Alex Groza was selected by his teammates to be captain for the coming year. And big Al certainly didn't let his mates down, for after that night it was a rare occasion when he failed to score more than 20 points per game.

Things went as usual for Rupp's players for the next several games. They bowled over Tulsa U. 81-27 and Arkansas 76-29. Arkansas was another team that was lightly regarded at the time. However, they represented their district at the end of Coach Adolph Rupp and the four seniors, Alex Groza, Ralph Beard, Wah Wah Jones, and Cliff Barker did not return with this group. They flew directly from Seattle to New York City in order to prepare for the East-West All-Star basketball game that was held in Madison Square Garden last Saturday evening.

Five Students Attend Speech Group Meeting

Five representatives of the University are attending the ninth annual meeting of Tau Kappa Alpha, national forensic fraternity, being held at Purdue University this week end.

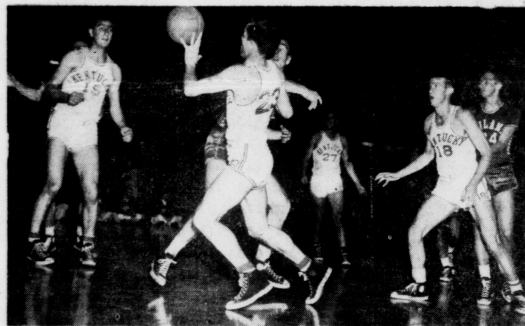

Sidney Neal, Betty Hamcock, Joe Mainous, and Ellen Drake, will participate in the national discussion group and debate tournament.

Dr. Gifford Blyton, associate professor of speech, served as toastmaster at the annual dinner meeting of the fraternity last night.

Joan of Arc was not burned at the stake in Reims, France, but secretly escaped and joined Buffalo Bill's wild west show during its European tour.

Another Assist For Ol' Bark

Cliver Cliff Barker flips a pass to Al Greza in the finals of the SEC cage carnival at Louisville last month. Clifford has faked his opponent (Mel Peyton just visible) out of position before tossing to Alexander. Others seen are Wah Jones, in background, Dale Barnstable (No. 18) and Tulane's Bowman. The Wildcats drowned the Green Wave netters, 68-32, and took another conference championship.

University Publishes Booklet Of Speakers

Miss Chloe Gifford, head of the extension department's Bureau of Club and Community Service, has announced the publication of a booklet listing 86 UK staff members qualified to speak on a variety of subjects.

Subjects include political science, history, economics, philosophy, geology, art, literature, music, physics, law, bacteriology, and drama. Additional information can be obtained from the extension department.

Ralph Beard now has been awarded 10 wildcat watches in the past four seasons here at UK for his outstanding basketball ability. However, he denies any intention of going into the jewelry business after graduation.

where he captained the high school basketball team. He received his collegiate training at Kansas University, playing under the immortal Dr. Forrest (Phog) Allen. He coached at Preppert (Ill.) High School from 1925-29 winning 71 out of 82 contests.

Hall of Fame

Rupp came to the University of Kentucky in 1930 and it was here he set his great record, a record which earned him election to the basketball hall of fame sponsored by the Helms Foundation in 1944. He was the tenth coach in the entire history of the game to be named to this select group.

"The Baron" found time in the past year to put his book, "Championship Basketball" on the market, to further enhance his reputation as one of basketball's all-time greats. The Lexington Optimist Club in 1948 honored him as the outstanding citizen of the city.

To climax the 1948-49 season as one of his finest, Coach Rupp was selected to coach the Eastern All-Stars in the annual East-West basketball game. Coach Rupp found his four seniors playing under him in this game — the first time any team in history has been so honored. And with this game most observers would probably say that the "Golden Age" at UK was at an end. Others who have followed the fortunes of Rupp's ball clubs these many years would not be so quick to agree.

OH NO YOU DONT GROZA, seems to be the attitude of this unidentified Xavier University basketball player as he claims his arm into the bigwork of Alpine Alex in the game played here in Alumni gym last February. To make use the huge Hungarian didnt make this goal attempt, the Mackie also grabbed Groza's arm to hold him off until more reserves could enter the scene. This outstanding shot was made by Ben Williams, who claims that the UK center was not awarded a foul shot after this weird demonstration of defensive guarding by the Buckeye.

University Debaters Meet Wesleyan Team

The UK debate team met Kentucky Wesleyan College debaters in Winchester recently, according to Dr. Gifford Blyton, associate professor of speech and coach of the UK team.

The topic for the debate was "Resolved: That the Federal Government Should Equalize Educational Opportunities in Tax-Supported Schools by Means of Annual Grants." Debating for the UK affirmative were Calvin Robinson and William Dean.

Coach Rupp Already Started On "Knife and Fork" Circuit

Coach Adolph Rupp has seven speaking dates set thus far this spring and several more will probably be added at a later date.

The "Man in the Brown Suit" opened his speaking tour in Muncie, Ind., Wednesday. He was in Louisville yesterday and will speak in Hamilton, Ohio tomorrow. On April 19, Coach Rupp will speak in West Alexandria, Ohio.

He will be in Xenia, Ohio, April 20 and Greenville, Ohio, April 21. His last scheduled speaking date of the week is at Columbus, April 22.

During the summer months Rupp will attend several basketball clinics throughout the nation. On June 3-4 he will be at the clinic at Arkansas A and M and June 9-10-11 in Colby College at Waterville, Maine.

Boston will be the site of the third clinic he will attend on June 27-29. Rupp will visit the Far West July 25-29 when he attends the basketball school at Montana University.

From August 1-5 he will be at the Texas High School Athletic Association's clinic at Beaumont. The University of New Mexico is next from August 8-12. Rupp will also attend the Georgia High School Athletic Association's school at Atlanta, August 15-16. He will wind up the summer schools by attending the clinic at the University of Wisconsin, August 17-19.

Certainly there will be no game at any of the country wide clinics better qualified to speak about "championship basketball."

384 Wins, 72 Losses
Rupp's Raiders have a great record of 384 wins and only 72 losses since he took over the reins at UK. Only two weeks ago his Kentucky powerhouse, led by the "Fearful Fourness" annexed the 1948-49 NCAA crown by defeating the Oklahoma Aggies 85-58.

The 1947-48 record of the Wildcats is known to every basketball fan in the nation and hardly needs repeating. As we all know, in that great year at UK, the Kats from Lexington, notched a place for themselves as one of the greatest teams of all time, sweeping to their

With no let down, Rupp guided his 1948-49 cagers to the very pinnacle of basketball fame again this season as they won their sixth straight SEC title and once again took the NCAA championship. They compiled a season's record of 32-2, losing one to St. Louis and dropping the other to Loyola of Chicago in their attempt in the NIT to sweep both national tournaments.

New York Sportwriters Praise Wildcats After Illinois Game

The following are portions of the stories that were carried in some of the New York newspapers on Wednesday, March 23, after Kentucky had defeated Illinois in the Eastern Division NCAA final.

From New York Daily Mirror (Leonard Lewis):
A snarling, clawing band of revitalized Kentucky Wildcats cut the Big Nine champion Illinois team down to baskets last night with a 76-47 Gardens victory that sends it against Oklahoma A. & M. for the NCAA crown Saturday.

This was the Kentucky team that New York fans had learned to consider great. Walt Walsh Jones was terrific and so on off both boards and hitting with his set specialties. Al "The Nose" Groza was marauder under both baskets adding 27 points to the 20 he scored Monday. And Ralph Beard was the bathroom scout who gets into more hair than Krum.

But the boys deserving most credit for shaking Kentucky out of its recent slump were Jim "Line-Drive" Line and Cliff Barker, particularly the latter. The sum-chewing Barker, who looks less like a college kid than Broadway Sam, continued 15,126 fans that he doesn't merely fill a Wildcat uniform. He quietly has a first half that ended with Kentucky's post and last night he was the take-charge guy who led the point-hungry Wildcats.

Line, the guy with the greatest left hand since Carl Hubbell, contributed 10 of his 15 points during the game that ended with Kentucky's comfortable 39-22 edge. The more the Wildcats ripped apart the willing but unable Illinois, the cockier Coach Adolph Rupp became. Now he was in his element, re-habiting glory, with his teams big lead falling to keep him from yelling at the most insignificant decisions. The subtle Rupp kept his fingers in all the way. With the score 69-44, Adolph was so wary of retaliation by Illinois, which led at only 2-0, that he rushed Jones back to protect the victory that clinched the Eastern NCAA title for his defending champion.

From N.Y. Times (Louis Effrat):
Exhibiting an odd Madison Square Garden with a dynamic attack that never faltered, Adolph Rupp's Wildcats from Kentucky romped to a 76-47 victory over Illinois in the NCAA Eastern regional final last night.

If Ruby Goldstein, outstanding boxing referee, who was among the 15,126 spectators, had been officiating, he probably would have intervened to save the loser from further unnecessary punishment, so contented was this affair.
It was, to put it bluntly, no contest. At no stage after the opening two minutes were the Big Nine runners a threat, and by half-time, when Kentucky enjoyed a 39-22 spread, the game was decidedly overmatched and the losers were completely without hope.

For the Wildcats of last night—Alex Groza, Ralph Beard, Cliff Barker, Wallace Jones, Jim Line—were unrecognizable alongside the squad that floundered so dismally against Loyola in the recent national invitation tournament. Rather, this was a hard-driving, relentless combination that retained the favor of a highly critical crowd. Illinois scored first. When the contest was merely ten seconds old, Fred Green unleashed a long, angled one-bander that swished through the net. Kentucky needed two minutes to break through, but once the Wildcats found the range, there was no stopping them. Barker duplicated Green's effort for a tie at 2-23, and then Line eked with a southpaw loss. Thereafter it was Kentucky all the way.

Dike Edelman, Bill Erickson, Wally Osterken, and the other Illinois did not collapse, but nothing they attempted met with the success that approached the over-all brilliance of the victors. For this was a Kentucky aggregation that performed as if it had not forgotten the sting of the Loyola defeat.

Offensively and defensively, with special emphasis on the latter department, the Wildcats were great. The word great is too often employed haphazardly in sports, but in connection with Kentucky, it is the one that best describes the Wildcats of last night.

From the N.Y. Post Home News (Sid Priestlander):
I thought we vindicated ourselves.

That, in brief, was Coach Adolph Rupp's appraisal of Kentucky's smashing 76-47 triumph over Illinois last night at the Garden to win the NCAA Eastern Regional championship.

"We played one of our best games of the season," he declared. "Much better than we showed against Villanova. And the big difference was in defense. Our boys gave a terrific exhibition of defense."

"How our running style of play will go against Hank Thib's ball control and mass defense system, I don't know," Rupp declared. "After our licking by Loyola in the Invitation Tournament, we didn't dare look ahead. But we'll begin studying our scouting reports on the Aggies today."

"However I do think that if we play as well out there as we did here last night, if we show the same kind of cutting and knitting it will take a great team to beat us."

From N.Y. Herald-Tribune (Everett Morris):

CATS HOIST GROZA. After Alexander The Great scored 27 points against the Big Nine champions, the University of Illinois, to lead the Big Blue to the Eastern NCAA title, teammates hoisted the man mountain from Martins Ferry up on their shoulders while he clutches the game ball, awarded the winning captain.

machine, which has been stuttering and sputtering along the post-season road, found its mistimed timing last night, hit on all cylinders and rolled over Illinois, 76 to 47, the NCAA championship playoffs in Madison Square Garden.

The Kingspins of the Big Nine were overwhelmed by the speed, drive, and co-ordination of what probably is the greatest college court organization of modern times. They scored the first basket of the game and then spent the rest of the night watching the Blue Grass Pusslers running away from them.

Kentucky last night was the Kentucky which stormed to the NCAA throne in 1948 and won twenty-nine out of thirty engagements this winter before being bounced out of the National Invitational Tournament last week by its first opponent, Loyola. It was not a question of one or two players carrying the load and making up for the mistakes of their mates. They were all "out." Walt Walsh Jones, Alex Groza, Ralph Beard, Cliff Barker and Jim Line.

"They did everything anyone could expect from a team and did it superbly. Their precision and deftness in play execution quickly won the approbation of a crowd which at the outset appeared quite willing to support the cause of the Western Conference entry. The 15,126 spectators sat in awed wonder as the minions of Baron Adolph Rupp efficiently, almost flawlessly but up a 39-22 lead in the first half and then played just as it had to the rest of the way."

Kentucky's Something Kentucky was something to watch after seeing Villanova out-scramble Yale, 78-67, in a scuffle between the beaten semi-finalists for third place. Kentucky streaked through its play with such nice timing and ball handling that the Illinois defenses were always out of position. Barker and Beard directed operations from the backcourt, set plays in motion and saw to it that the ball got up to where Groza and Line could put it into the tank. The men on the business end of the plays did their part brilliantly. Groza deadly under the boards, stuffed in ten field goals and seven free throws for twenty-seven points. Line, the lad with the keen left-hand shot, made fifteen points, ten of them on field goals in the first half.

The tip-off on how beautiful Kentucky was doing things comes from the statistics on assists. The champions made sixteen of their baskets on direct passes to the doorstep. Sometimes there were two neatly placed passes before the ball went to the ultimate executioner. All seven of the Kentucky players had assists, and Jones, at top form for the first time in weeks, made five of them.

Barker and Jones and Beard were all over the court and all over the ball. Illinois never had a chance to get set, never had a chance to put any pressure on the sharp, alert Kentucky defenses.

The Illinois used twelve players in all manner of combinations in vain search for a combination which would check the Lexington Wildcats. Nothing seemed to work. Barker beat Dike Edelman first in knots in the first half and Bill Erickson could do little with Beard. The rest of the Illinois entourage were in similar straits.

King Kamehameha of the Sandwich Islands repeatedly offered to send missionaries into the wild, inaccessible valleys of Yonotzek in exchange for the art of sand-walk making.

Chemists in Pictures
How Du Pont and studio scientists solved the problem of noisy film.

Who'd ever expect to find Du Pont chemists in Hollywood? When motion pictures suddenly started to talk, a whole new series of perplexing scientific problems was born, not the least of which was "noisy" film.

As you know, sound is usually recorded directly on film. If you hold a strip of motion picture film to the light, the sound track is seen as a narrow band of irregular lines. A light ray passing through the moving sound track falls on a photocell with rapid interruptions or changes in intensity. The photocell converts these interruptions into electrical impulses which, amplified, reach the theater audience as voice and music.

If the film has a coarse grain structure, it tends to give lines that are not sharp and uniform in density. Such irregularities interrupt the light ray—come out as distracting noise.

What could be done about it? Du Pont scientists of the Photo Products Department started a program of research, in cooperation with technical experts from the studios in Hollywood. They made and tested scores of film coatings. Finally there were developed films of exceedingly fine grain structures.

M-G-M and Paramount were among the first to use the new type Du Pont films. The development was heralded by the press as "another milestone in the technical progress of the industry," and in 1943 Du Pont received an Academy Award of Merit for its achievement. Now the use of fine grain films is practically universal in Hollywood. Actors, actresses speak their lines, with no technical restrictions to cramp their artistry.

Records Break

It was a gloomy night for the players and for Wildcat fans. But they only resolved to get revenge later in the national tournaments. Each team got 15 field goals that night, but the Cats couldn't hit from the free-throw line and that made the difference.

No. 5 in Sports World

Associated Press sportswriters a few days later named Kentucky's basketball team as the fifth best team in all sports in the U.S. Phillips called were picked sixth in that poll which was won by the Cleveland Indians baseball team.

The new year was begun by the Cats in Cleveland where they met the towering Bowling Green Falcons in one of the greatest games ever played by both teams. Both were hot and it was a terrific battle all the way. The biggest and the smallest men on the floor that night stood out. It was the giant Chuck Share for the BeeGees and Ralph Beard for the Cats as the Big Blue won out 63-41. After the season both teams picked the other as their outstanding opponent.

After the St. Louis nightmare the Cats finished out the season without another defeat. They bowled over all their SEC foes with no trouble and established themselves as the nation's number one team.

Later, in Owensboro the team helped dedicate the new Memorial Coliseum in a game with Bradley University. Brasley was game but UK was hot. The final score was 62-52 as Groza poured in 30 points. Feature of the game was Cliff Barker's 35-foot fielder in the closing seconds of the first half.

Groza Sets Record

In the very first game of a long home stand, they ran over Tennessee 71-56. Groza broke the SEC record this time, scoring the nets for 34 points. In doing so, he also set the record for individual points scored in Alumni Gym for an individual Kentucky player.

For the second time, two-weeks later, elongated Alex Groza broke the SEC scoring record. After his 34 point effort against Tennessee, Adcock of Vanderbilt pumped through 36 against Mississippi State to break Groza's record. So against Georgia, Big Al went at it again, sank 12 fielders and 14 free-throws for a total of 38 points and the individual crown despite the fact that in the last few minutes the Georgians put all five men on him in a American.

74th Straight

To close the season in a fitting manner the Fabulous four ran over in the last few minutes the Georg-before the home crowd. Groza broke another record—the individual season record this time. He scored 508 points during the season to break "Country" Graham's old mark by three points. It was the 74th win in a row on the home floor, and was marked by the only record Cliff Barker made in his collegiate career.

In the final ten seconds of the game, Cliff Barker took a pass in back court, stood on the free-throw line, and heaved a 65-footer that arched right through the hoop for the long-

On the first of March, they received and accepted a bid to the NIT to be played in New York. Groza was chosen later that week as the outstanding player to appear in Chicago Stadium. That same week, the Cats waltzed through the SEC tournament in Louisville with no trouble. They clubbed Tulane's Greenies for the third time in the season in the finals of that meet.

All Americans

Three days later Groza and Beard were named to the AP All-American, and the next day these same two and Wah Jones were named to the UP All-American.

Then came Black Monday. The Cats went flatter than flat and fell to Chicago Loyola, 67-56, in their first NIT game. That tourney will go down in history as one in which every favored team was knocked out of the running by dark-horses.

Just one week later, however, the Cats redeemed themselves in the eyes of the basketball world by thumping Villanova, 85-72, and Illinois, 76-47, for the Eastern NCAA championship. Only one test remained. The NCAA championship battle with Western champs Oklahoma Aggies in Seattle. Once again the mighty Cats proved themselves one of the best collegiate teams ever assembled. They defeated Hank that's deep-freeze and came out of the game on the long end of a 46-36 score to retain their NCAA championship won last year.

Thus the careers of the Fabulous Four ended in a blaze of glory. Winning championships, breaking records, and receiving accolades from came old stuffer to Alex Groza, Ralph Beard, Cliff Barker, and Wah Wah Jones. They have set a goal that future Wildcat teams will shoot for and find mighty hard to equal.

Whites Win Intrasquad Game, 26-6

The favored White team defeated the Blue squad, 26-6, last Saturday night in the first of four Wildcat intrasquad football games of spring practice in a game held at Paintsville before a capacity crowd.

Scoring for the winners was done by Lee Truman, on a 18-yard offensive run, Bill Boller on a 5-yard run early in the third quarter; next came a 29-yard dash, the longest of the game, by Shorty Jamerson for the third White TD late in the third quarter; and the final tally was a 6-yard offensive run by Clayton Wood in the final period. Bob Gain made both conversions for the winning Whites in four attempts.

Doing most of the quarterbacking and passing for the White eleven was Vito (Babe) Parelli. The second and final touchdowns scored by the winners was set up by the aerial ability of Parelli, a sophomore led from Rochester, Pa.

The running of Johnny Meadows and the all-around play of end Nick Orlinak were also outstanding.

Lawson Scores Blue Tally

Clifton Lawson scored the lone marker for the losing Blues late in the fourth quarter. The play was set up when Jim Mackenzie recovered a White fumble on the winners' 26-yard line. Lawson picked up 12 yards on his first attempt. Then Ed Kosowski drove to the three-yard mark. Lawson, a sophomore halfback then carried it over. Dopey Phelps played for p.a.t. was blocked.

The slippery turf hampered the swift backs on both teams. Phelps played well for the losers and picked up considerable yardage although his longest run of the contest was for just 15 yards, that coming in the second quarter.

The next intrasquad game will be played tomorrow at Madisonville. The final two are set for April 23 (Louisville), and April 29 (Stoll Field).
