Ruppmen Take Fifth Southeastern Crown

This story is getting to be almost a habit. Each year as the spring issue of the Alumnus comes around, we have to dig out some new way to announce that the Kentucky Wildcats are champions of the Southeastern conference. This year is no exception, so pardon us if we again announce that on March 16 at Knoxville, Tennessee, the Kentucky Wildcats won the 1940 Southeastern basketball tournament for the fifth time during the reign of Coach Adolph Rupp.

Perhaps the story is a little different this year—first, the Cats made it two in a row, something no other Southeastern net team has ever been able to do; and second, because this championship was gained under the worst handicaps a coach could ever dream of. Although the netmen had only eighteen games on their regular schedule, exclusive of the tournament, they were pitted against another opponent most of the season—influenza.

All looked well for the Cats as they soundly trounced Berea in an opener December 9. First indication of what was to come arrived with the second encounter against Cincinnati, who caught the boys off balance and somehow ended up on the right end of a 39-30 score. The team got second wind, however, and gave the fans a Christmas present on December 21 by smothering Clemson, Southern conference champs, at Asheville. Apparently hitting their stride at last, the boys then outplayed Ohio State in every department to take a 36-30 decision in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans, disposed of Kansas State easily in Lexington, took a close one from Xavier at Cincinnati, and returned to Lexington to take West Virginia into camp.

A late second half rally against Notre Dame at South Bend failed to register and the Cats broke their five-game win streak. Tennessee at Lexington came next, and the Ruppmen were on the winning side again. It was at this point that influenza caught up with Lee Huber, stellar guard and a key man, and he was unable to play in the two following games, against Alabama at Birmingham and Vanderbilt at Nashville. This southern trip proved disastrous to the tune of two losses.

Northbound for Milwaukee to play Marquette, two other squad members, Waller White and Jim King, were stricken with the flu, and were left in Chicago. A second half rally proved effective this time, however and the Cats took the decision. Again taking the comeback trail, wins were scored against Alabama at Lexington, this time decisively, and Xavier at Lexington. The second southern trip, however, was a great deal like the first, and two more losses were chalked up, this time at the hands of Tennessee at Knoxville and Georgia Tech at Atlanta. An easy win over Vanderbilt upon the return to the home court closed the see-saw season.

The Wildcats went down to Knoxville for the tournament as heavy favorites—to lose. The recent losses

Letters from class members, appointment of reunion chairmen, get-togethers of class committees, and preparations in general have manifest the interest and enthusiasm already under way for Kentucky's annual Alumni Reunion to be held on and around the campus Thursday and Friday, June 6 and 7.

Thursday, June 6, has been designated as Alumni Day, beginning with registration at the Alumni Office in the Student Union in the morning, followed by tours of the campus under the guidance of reunion chairmen; the well-known luncheons in the Union or at downtown hotels; baccalaureate services in the afternoon; and the annual banquet in the evening.

Friday's program includes the Commencement luncheon in honor of graduating seniors, the annual meeting of the Alumni Association, and as a climax the seventy-third annual Commencement exercises at twilight on Stoll Field.

Reunion classes this year are those ending in '5 and '0. Robert D. Hawkins, professor of Applied Mechanics at the University, is permanent secretary of the Class of '15 and its reunion chairman. Plans for their reunion are under way under the direction of a committee composed of Mr. Hawkins, Wayland Rhoads, and Mrs. J. S. Chambers (Annabel Grainger), and they have had a hearty response. Here is one from George B. Arnold, '15, of the Intercontinent Corporation, 30 Rockefeller Plaza, New York. "Dear Bob: The information about the reunion has been scanned and Doris and I were enthused about coming and had planned to do so. However, I'm leaving on a sudden trip tomorrow for the West Coast and thence by Clipper to Hongkong. I may stay only a month or so in the East and if so will be in Lexington in June. Otherwise, we'll have to miss the big event. I've been a terrible backslider on dues, finances, etc., all these years, so here are twenty dollars for Kernel and the cause. Here's hoping we see you, Martha and the gang."

Plans for the reunion of '30 are under the direction of Billy Whitlow, Lexington, permanent secretary of the class, and a committee composed of Mrs. A. Lawrence Griesel (Margaret Fry), 1348 Cornelia St., Chicago, Ill., secretary for College of Engineering; Virgil

Reunion Address Changes

Alphabetical and geographical class lists of the reunion classes ending in "5" and "0" have been mailed to members of the respective reunion classes.

Since these directories were compiled many changes of addresses have been reported to the Alumni Office. These have been recorded properly on the alumni records and are being printed in this issue of the Alumnus so that reunioners may correct their lists accordingly.

Mail has been returned marked unclaimed from several members of the reunion classes. This list is also being printed in hope that some alumni may have knowledge of the present address of these alumni. Such information will be appreciated by your Alumni Office.

TENNIS

A bumpy 11-meet schedule, ending with the Southeastern conference tournament, has tentatively been billed for Kentucky's 1940 tennis edition, according to announcement by Prof. H. H. Downing, '08, who this year starts his 19th season as the Cat tennis coach.

Bi-weekly workouts in the Gym Annex have formed the main activity of the squad to date, the result of that incurable malady, inclement weather, which is plaguing every UK squad this spring. Coach Downing's squad of eleven includes Captain Bubby Boone, Joe Dunlap, Sonny Boland, Bob Young, Cliff Thompson, H. H. Seelbach, Billy Hedges, Wilmore Garrett, Grant Lewis, and Billy Richardson. Lee Huber, number 1 man last year, has been unable to report so far due to basketball practice.

Last year the Cats turned in a report card that showed 6 wins, 3 losses and one tie. Michigan State, Georgia Tech, and Cincinnati managed to stop the netmen effectively, and the Notre Dame meet was halted by rain as the teams were deadlocked in matches, sets and points. Consecutive wins were over Tennessee, Berea, Sewanee, Tennessee, Berea, and Indiana.

Tentative schedule follows:

- April 18—Ohio State, Columbus.
- April 19—Wayne University, Detroit.
- April 20—Michigan State, Lansing.
- April 22—Notre Dame, South Bend.
- April 27—Georgia Tech, Lexington.
- April 29—Indiana, Lexington.
- May 2—Cincinnati, Lexington.
- May 9, 10, 11—Conference tournament, Sewanee.

FOOTBALL

Despite the handicap of continued inclement weather, keeping the squad indoors most of the time up to date, Coach Albert Dennis "Ab" Kirwan, '26, has expressed pleasure at the way his gridiron hopefuls are coming along.

This year is the third go-round for "Ab" and from all appearances it bids fair to be his most successful, although his last year's record of 6 wins, two losses—both to Bowl game winners—and one tie, is something to shoot at. Sixty candidates, made up of lettermen and reserves from last year, including several from the "Z" Club, and some excellent prospects from last fall's undefeated freshman team have reported.

One of "Ab's" main problems at present is capable replacement of Joe "Iron Man" Shepherd in the signal calling and blocking job. Joe, 1939 captain, along with Bill McCubbin, star end, is assisting Coach Kirwan in the spring training, which is due to last at least two more weeks. According to local sports scribes, Junior Jones, former Manual captain who gave the fans some thrilling moments as a sophomore back last year, is on the inside track for Shepherd's post.

Following is the Cats 1940 schedule:

- Sept. 21—Baldwin-Wallace at Lexington.
- Sept. 27—St. Xavier at Cincinnati (night game).
- Oct. 5—Washington and Lee at Lexington, Ky.
- Oct. 12—Vanderbilt at Nashville.
- Oct. 19—George Washington at Lexington.
- Oct. 26—Georgia at Atlanta.
- Nov. 2—Alabama at Lexington.
- Nov. 9—Georgia Tech at Louisville.
- Nov. 16—West Virginia at Morgantown.
- Nov. 23—Tennessee at Knoxville.

BASEBALL

University workmen this week started "tailoring" the UK diamond for the opening game of the season with Ohio State, scheduled for April 5.

Some 20 hopefuls have reported to date for the Cat baseball squad, with the number expected to be doubled at the close of football spring practice. Although the squad has not yet, due to the inevitable inclement weather, had a practice session, and despite the fact that they will enter their first game against an already well-prepared Ohio-State team, Coach Frank Moseley is hopeful for a very successful season.

Except for the absence of Randall Phillips, who led last year's team in batting with a mark of over .500, Coach Moseley's infield returns intact. Last season was the first for this squad. Baseball has been re-entered in the University sports program after an absence of many years. Only one vacancy is to be filled in the outfield, created by the graduation of Bob Tice.

Following is the 1940 schedule:

- April 5—Ohio State, Lexington.
- April 6—Ohio State, Lexington.
- April 12—Eastern, Lexington.
- April 18—Eastern, Richmond.
- April 19—Ashland Colonels, Lexington.
- April 20—Cincinnati, Cincinnati.
- April 24—Xavier, Lexington.
- April 26—Tennessee, Lexington.
- April 27—Tennessee, Lexington.
- May 3—Vanderbilt, Nashville.
- May 4—Vanderbilt, Nashville.
- May 7—Eastern, Lexington.
- May 10—Vanderbilt, Lexington.
- May 11—Vanderbilt, Lexington.
- May 16—Cincinnati, Lexington.
- May 21—Tennessee, Knoxville.
- May 22—Tennessee, Knoxville.
- May 27—Xavier, Cincinnati.

SWIMMING

Kentucky's "pool-less wonders," so-called because the absence of a pool on the campus or in Lexington necessitates a practice "field" a mere 26 miles away at Eastern Teachers College in Richmond, finished another successful season last week.

Undeclared last year after meeting the stiffest competition from both Southeastern and northern teams, the Catfish managed to come out a little ahead of the game this year winning five, losing three, and tying one, not counting their seventh place rating in the Southeastern conference meet. Principal reason for the poor showing in this meet, according to all concerned, was merely a matter of too much coaching—since the Catfish have no official coach—and too much practice by other schools in their own pools. Florida nosed out L. S. U. by a 64-60 count to retain its championship for the fourth consecutive year.

Eastern, strangely enough, was the first victim of the Catfish, followed by a tie in a triangle meet with Tennessee and Tusculum. Georgia Tech was taken into port next, but was followed by two close margin losses to Georgia and Florida. Murray State Teachers and Eastern again lost to the Fish, who then jumped back to the loss side of the ledger with two losses at the hands of Depauw and Loyola. A strong finish was made, however, with a win over Armour Tech.

On March 30 the Cats will defend their state title which they have held ever since a team was organized at Kentucky, at Eastern's pool in Richmond.

C. Robinson (Lolo Lemme), 161 Shawnee Place, Lexington, secretary for College of Arts and Sciences. Here is an excerpt from a letter from John Charles Benson, '30, received by the Alumni Office: "Enclosed herewith you will find a check in payment of my alumni dues, and I apologize for not having taken care of it at an earlier date. You and your associates are to be highly complimented for the effort you have so obviously expended in preparing and distributing the lists. Due to my fairly distant location (Ed. note: 6128 Nassau St., Philadelphia) I am a little dubious about being of much assistance to you in preparing for the 10th reunion of our class and somewhat undecided as to my chances of coming down for it. However, you may depend on me to write as many letters as possible and to make every effort to be there."

The Alumni Office solicits your correspondence and all suggestions are welcome. Watch your Kernel for announcement of your reunion chairman, and then write him and lend as much help as you can. Help make your particular reunion the best of all.

Ruppen Take

to Southeastern teams, and the apparent demoralization of the team's spirit by sickness caused every loyal Kentucky fan to shake their heads and almost turn away. But the boys, and Coach Rupp, evidently had different plans. Favored by a first-round bye, they faced Vanderbilt in the first game, and won pulling away. Next came Tennessee, heavy favorites to win, playing on their home court and in prime condition. In as thrilling a game as any crowd witnessed this year on any floor, the Wildcats forced Tennessee to an overtime and took the decision by a one-point margin.

The final game against Georgia, winners of the lower bracket, proved almost an anti-climax, with Kentucky staving off a slight Bulldog rally to win decisively, to bring back their fifth Southeastern crown.

TRACK

Bad weather for football, bad weather for tennis, bad weather for golf and baseball, so it follows that it's bad weather for the UK thinlies too.

Only a few days so far have been good enough for even a run around the track, but it's a safe bet that Coach Joe Rupert, '35, will have his usual par excellence squad. At any rate, here is the 1940 schedule:

- April 13—Hanover, at Hanover.
- April 20—Vanderbilt at Lexington.
- April 27—West Virginia at Lexington.
- May 4—Tennessee at Knoxville.
- May 11—Cincinnati at Cincinnati.
- May 18—Southeastern Conference meet at Birmingham.

GOLF

Kentucky's golf team, who will be out to retain their state title lost last year to the University of Louisville, have billed an ambitious schedule, and Coach S. A. "Daddy" Boles has hopes for a very good year.

The schedule follows:

- April 6—Western State Teachers College, Lexington.
- April 12—U. of Louisville, Lexington.
- April 19—Cincinnati, Lexington.
- April 27—Georgia Tech, Lexington.
- May 3—Tennessee, Lexington.
- May 6—U. of Louisville, Louisville.
- May 10—Tennessee, Knoxville.
- May 11—Vandy, Knoxville.
- May 13—Cincinnati.
