Kentucky Accepts Tournament Bids

Wildcats To Enter Post Season Tournaments In East For Eighth Consecutive Year

Kentucky's powerful Wildcats officially accepted bids to play in the National Invitational (NIT) and the National College Athletic Association (NCAA) basketball tournaments last Tuesday.

In 1942, Coach Rupp's Raiders went to the NCAA. The following season, they were asked to the NIT but declined because several players left for the armed forces during the latter part of the campaign.

After the 1944, 1946 and 1947 seasons, the famed felines from Fayette County participated in the Madison Square Gardens' Invitational tournament, winning the championship in the 1946 playoffs over Rhode Island State.

G. B. Shaw Play To Be Presented

Tickets for "Arms and the Man," Barter Theater production to be presented Friday, March 12, at Henry Clay High School auditorium, were placed on sale this week.

The NCAA Eastern Division meet, consisting of four teams, will also be held in New York City, and are set for March 21-22. The survivor of this playoff will then travel to Seattle to meet the Western Division winner for the NCAA championship.

Western Kentucky is expected to be playing in the final of the National Invitational as defending champions. The Kentuckians have been hoping for one last crack at the Billikens after the Missouri knout upset them, 42-40, in the final of the New Orleans Sugar Bowl tournament. St. Louis has a 19-3 record for the year.

Other Invitational teams are expected to be Bowling Green, Ohio (21-4), San Francisco (21-5) and Bradley University (23-5). The latter crew recently beat Oklahoma A & M and plays St. Louis Saturday night in Peoria. The remaining two schools in the eight-team invitational to be selected are a matter of speculation. Being mentioned are Cincy (18-5), Utah (22-4) Villanova (12-3), Duquesne (11-4), and Chicago Loyola (21-3).

"Highly Honored" Coach Adolph Rupp said that he felt "highly honored" that his Wildcats have been asked to participate in the two major post-season basketball tournaments.

He added that "we fully understand our responsibilities to our followers and we hope that we may be able to measure up to the confidence placed in us."

It is only the second time in history that one team has been asked to play in both. The other quarter, Utah, was eliminated by UK in the NIT, in 1944, but was asked to substitute for Arkansas, when some of the latter team's players were injured in an auto accident.

Officers elected at the meeting were John Wells, secretary, and Gene Deskins, publicity chairman.

St. Louis, Western Kentucky, the Wildcats' Public Enemy No. 1 will also participate in the National Invitational as defending champions. The Kentuckians have been hoping for one last crack at the Billikens after the Missouri knout upset them, 42-40, in the final of the New Orleans Sugar Bowl tournament. St. Louis has a 19-3 record for the year.

"All I want to know is where they got their tickets."

Letters To The Editor

Dear Madame Editor: If other schools can have it... Why can't Kentucky students go into their SECs and have a beer? Many mornings I have felt the need for a beer in the student union. Students could be observed between dull classes, and before tests by having a beer in the student union (the book store too).

Editor, the Kernel: Many of them, I've not seen before. Do you suppose they would be affronted if I spoke—those I don't know, I mean. And then suppose a stranger to our fads and traditions happens to take a short cut across the campus. Wouldn't they be a wee bit surprised when everyone spoke to them. Shocked even. A "hello walk" is certainly a good idea, I agree—but will it work? LUELLEN SHOUSE

Another SEC Weekend Starts

Followers of the team fans of UK, lovers of partying, the time has come—if you have the tickets. Another SEC tournament is underway.

Not too many UK students will be able to make it to New York, so this is the last time most students will see the great Gyzee Beard Jones-Barber combination in action.

Even aside from that, there's just something about the SEC that makes people look forward to it from the time football season ends. It calls forth elaborate plans which put D-Day preparations in the shade; it calls many home-leaving Louisvillians back for the first time this semester; it makes people forget Saturday classes and the fact that Monday follows Sunday. It's an institution.

This one should be no exception. Barring an upset, you'll see half of UK's population at Suky's pep rally at the Kentucky after the finals, and the Wildcats will bring home still another laurel.

WSSF Wants Your Dollar

Solicitors for the World Student Service Fund are looking for a dollar apiece from every student, for needy students abroad.

Even if you're still getting your belongings back from the pawn shops from last month, you can put some unfolding funds in the box.

The WSSF people probably would not refuse anything upwards from a bus token, but they're still after that dollar.

Hoorah For Brotherhood

We were reminded that last week was National Brotherhood Week, a week which was plugged by the Campus League of Women Voters and other campus groups, and we were also reminded that the Kernel hadn't publicized it.

But any comment on the theme would have been probably unnoticed and necessarily futile. After all, if it can't be practiced, why preach it?

What's A Cleaning Bill Or So?

As if bad weather weren't depressing enough, UK buildings do not happen to be connected by tunnels.

Because of this oversight, students often have to cross streets while trudging to class. It is then that they're confronted by an unexpected menace. There are puddles in the streets, with cars speeding through them. The result is some soaked or spattered members of the walking proletariat.

Some of these react violently, but this is just a temporary phase. They'll soon learn to accept the inevitable stoically, with a brave and patient smile.

Drivers could take it a little slower on rainy days, especially on UK's own Indianapolis Speedways, such as the stretch between the Funkhouser BS Building and McVey Hall. But it's probably too much to request.

Anyway, pedestrians who don't know enough to go in somewhere (a manhole, for instance) when it rains are asking for it, aren't they?

Cookin' With Gaskin

The sophomore class at the University of Rochester in Rochester, New York, will give a formal dinner March 5 in the Outer Union (corresponding to our SUB) that will be a whopping revival of an annual tradition. Outer Union will be converted into a night club, Hollywood style, and the ballroom has been christened "Club 51" for the occasion.

Everything adding to the night club atmosphere has been provided by the Sophomores: a canopy, uniformed doormen, multi searchlights by the entrance to "Club 51," costumed hat-check and cigarette girls; a capable staff of waiters, under the direction of "Pierre," the headwaiter; and a menu offering various foods and beverages. There'll be a floor show, too. What more could anyone want for a huck-twenty a couple?

A professor, sidetracked into an oration on the mode of talk used by the typical college student, leaned over his rostrum and sneered. "Now, what's that silly saying the girls on campus are in the habit of saying?" "NO!" shouted a melancholy male from the back row. —LSU Daily Reville.

A coed at Illinois State Normal College wandered into a bowling alley at three o'clock one afternoon and started playing a pinball machine. Seven hours and twenty minutes later—at 10:20—she finished her games and walked out of white bowling alley with the $38.00 she had won from the exhausted pinball machine.

This excerpt from an editorial of West Virginia University's Daily

Dear Editor: If the Army or Navy used red and white paint instead of olive-drab and gray, I might think that the University had gotten a bargain in war-surplus paint, judging from the generously painted curbs on all streets adjoining the campus.

Being a timid soul, I have kept quiet for a long time but now I gotta let off steam. I didn't complain when, as a freshman, I was fined $1 for parking on the campus. On another occasion I took a chance on a rainy day and once again parked on the campus. I paid another fine.

About a year ago, I traded the old crate off for a later model. After the old car was transferred, the new owner or owners proceeded to park on the campus with complete abandon. Who paid the fines? I did, of course.

I summoned my courage and went to the Dean's office to complain, but just as I started in the door, another complaint (bigger than me) was on his way out—on his ear! I mean that literally. I decided my complaint wasn't so important after all and decided to postpone my visit.

The other day I came to the end of my rope. I'm seriously thinking about tying a loop in it and sticking my head through. Several days ago I parked on Clifton

Auditorium-Fieldhouse To Be Used For Variety Of Campus Activities

By Earl L. Conn
The new memorial auditorium-fieldhouse is going to be one of the most impressive structures in Kentucky.

The building will commemorate the Kentucky dead of World War II. It will be used by the University for four main purposes: basketball contests, swimming, stage presentations, and physical education activities.

The fieldhouse will seat approximately 12,000, depending upon the completion of seating contracts. Several hundred fans can be seated to view swimming meets.

Let's take an imaginary walk through the memorial to see it as it will be when completed.

Four Entrances
We can use any one of the four entrances. One is from Lexington Avenue. A second is at the northeast corner of the memorial from Rose Street.

The third and fourth are at the main entrance from Euclid Avenue where two inside ramps lead in either direction to the seats. Turnstiles are placed at each entrance.

Entering through the main entrance from Euclid Avenue, we go up the ramp leading to the west seats. On the wall along side of the ramp we see cases naming Kentucky dead. Listed by counties, there are more than 8000 Hall in cases by the ramp leading to the east seats.

The west seats, some 3500 to 4500, are arm style while those on the north and east sides are bleacher style. The west seats are used when stage plays are presented for programs, the stage facing the west seats.

Seats Extend To Court
In addition, removable seats are used for basketball games and extend out from the permanent seats.

She is a graduate of Henry Clay High School and the University of Kentucky.

Paul A. Hackney, native of Frenschburg, Ky., and former University student, is director of the State Board of Health's hospital building program.

For four years Mr. Hackney has been business manager of the Ken-

The court for games will run north to south. The extra baskets are removable also.

Seating arrangements have been completed so that a good vantage point of the floor can be gained from any part of the fieldhouse.

The ramps, run to the east and west corners, then extend north and become large corridors. Between the seats and the corridors are concessions, rest rooms, first aid stations, and telephones.

We go back down the ramp and through another entrance into the swimming pool. Seats are located on the west side of the pool. Separate locker, drying room, and shower rooms are provided for men and women. The women even have their own hair drying room.

Pool Conforms To A.A.U. Olympics
There are separate entrances to the locker rooms from the outside of the building. The swimming pool has been built to conform to A.A.U. and Olympic standards.

Once again we go outside and through one of the entrances leading to the lockers, showers, offices, and equipment rooms which are on the ground floor under the seats. The officers will house the ticket office, one lecture room, ticket manager, athletic director and secretary, football coach, basketball coach, assistant coach, physical education director and secretary.

Equipment rooms and organ storage space are under the north seats, while portable seats and more locker and shower rooms are under the east seats.

The Spice Of Life

By Ruby Graham and Jobie Anderson

All aboard for SEC! And Martha Martin, please don't wear pajamas this year. Sukey is making a day of it tomorrow—leaving at 6 a.m. and returning after a whooping, post-toulin midnight pep session at the Kentucky Hotel. Sukey doesn't have the money to get anyone out of jail either!

Conar Tatum and Jean Stevens are no longer going steady.

Joe Bennevit is going, going, gone, for Miami Kirchdorfer.

The members of the Reporting Public Affairs class are now sending smoke signals to each other and that notes have been verboten. Nuts to Noble!

Doly McDaniell wants to reassure the readers that she is not going steady and that if her name is going to appear in this column she would rather have it associated with Jim McNeal.

Chester Roe, Glen Stokes, and countless others went wild over Edna Taylor's hair satin Mardi Gras outfit.

Our sense of humor has it that "La petit" Loree Uvey and Glen "Frog" Hagenson are hitting it off bandy.

Why does the House have a hump in his back on weekends?

"Frog" Bennett has a large list of names and phone numbers from St. Joe if anyone is interested.

Bob Wesley seems to have quite a way with female trumpet tooters.

What fun could Fred Howard and Marilyn Haley have at Harpington Lake on a rainy Sunday afternoon?

Constant twosomes: Mital Scheer and Fred Marcum.

The Triangles are well pleased with their new location. They've taken over the unsuspecting Henry Club in five days.

Playboy Jack McElroy is now out of circulation. Who is the lucky?

Gus Clark has fallen overboard in pursuit of Judith Lugart. His favorite sport is playing ping pong in her cellar till the wee small hours of morn.

Janie Barnett is beginning to give Zeke Witt a hard time.

Further developments in the Woodward-Bauer affair: Dal Thorpe and Marilyn were pinned and un-pinned at Jostland last weekend. Wonder what Charlie thought of that?

Steve Shelton has eyes for Mae Scott only. And he just got his pin too.

Perry Hewlett is now giving lessons on how to date other boys and still stay pinned.

Embassy Sturall isn't wasting time. Dot Wilkerson and Joan Graham have been vying for top rating. "Ooo," his old flame was last seen with Danny Guertzenous.

Bill Forrester and Jo Patterson have made quite a hit with each other.

For a good laugh, go to the skatink tonight and see the Sigma Chi chapter desape on the floor.

J. D. Vaughn, Earl Sirls, Elkins Payne, and Charlie Pritchett enjoyed themselves thoroughly at the "Wife Hike" last Saturday night.

Frank Leach doesn't really intend to mess up loves and lives—it's just his playful nature.

Congrats to Sandy Morgan and Dr. Rhea Taylor for their roles in the Mardi Gras celebration. The Newman Club really did a fine job.

Orchids for costumes at the Mardi Gras: To Jan Boris and George Martin, alias Ragswey Ann and Andy; to Nancy Copp and John Allen, the two Bunny rabbits.

George Williamson is back with Ginny Spencer. What happened to Shirley Porter?

Ann Perrine has given warning to Howard Legon. We'd be interested to see how this turns out.

Paul Fowler is having trouble with his double love life. He meets 'em both in the Grill every day—at the same time, too. The zazz are Joan Rhodes and Jean Warren of course.

Speaking of Jean Warren, we hear that Benick Marsh and Davy Shropshire are now sharing her Tri Delt pin. What kind of dea is this? It's all over our heads.

Ship Bailey did a nice vocal job on "Night and Day" with Biedie's band last Friday night.

To the comment of Hal Hughes in last week's KERNEL it might be added that the whole affair has now become a riddle.

Prediction: Lucia Bland and Jerry Inman will be pinned within a month. There's something behind those argyles and the lighter she just gave him. And to keep it in the family, Jimmy Inman wants to shed his new Delt pin too. Anybody want it?

Rollie Leach's sudden interest in going to church is caused by a high school girl named Gloria. On glory!

Bucky Kidwell has become interested in a gal named Doris.

Tom Gilmore thinks Beverly Midendorf gets cuter every day. He's not the only one.

Had says the general public should see the act that some of the Chi Omegas put on at their open house last Friday.

And then there's the girl who thinks C. D. Lucas is cute—but she happens to add: "He has a convertible."

Martha Ann Wilson greeted the newly initiated Delt in rare form at their dance. This is off the record but the Mason Heady Pike is her favorite afternoon hangout.

Ann Macklin and Bob Nikolas are going steady as of Monday. Wonder what will happen in his afternoon dates.

Tommy Coughlin is having tons of trouble. Someone swiped his book and rained in the Grill, but more serious trouble is coming from not being able to decide between Ruth Jordan and Sara Bennett Thowson.

Jimmy Bradley, now in charge of Sigma Chi laundry, wants to know how Betty Green got so good looking in four years.

Bob Puryear, Dave Check, Bob Hoppe, and Herman Kessler have a new residence on Darley Avenue.

Here's to bigger and better parties! Charlie Wise and Charlie Boone will have to celebrate SEC together in Lexington.

We don't claim the blame for this mix-up, 'cause it was turned in to us just like we printed it. Last week 'twas said that Grayton Walters had pinned Joyce Haynes, but Joyce had been pinned to Bobbie Estill for months and months. Graydon's gal is Jackie Haynes.

We nominate John Hancock as the boy most likely to succeed in a time and a laurel wreath.

The SAE pledges really put it over on the actives at their bun brawl. A new chapter of R. O. B. (Royal Order of Bums) was installed.

Pinned: Mary Potter Erickson and Bill Daughter; Colene Duval and Alvo Barnes; Colene Raskley and Dish Doan.

Unpinned: Martha Allen and Kim Pennrod; Joan Pritchard and Ted Vimont.

Engaged: Bertha Ann Lutes and Ray Combs; Delores Slaughter and Bert Check.

All girls interested in free dancing lessons should call Joe Grimms.

Frances Farmer still finds time for Skeeter Hall, regardless of her big job as Sukey May Day chairman.

Betty Leese's return to Lexington created quite a stir among the Deltis, particularly Hugh Moorhead.

Mrs. Ethridge

With her Georgian drawl, which she claims once had to be interpreted into English before an English-French interpreter could relay it to a church official, Mrs. Ethridge explained her writing rather than described it. The ability to interest readers in people and in trivial, humorous things is the informal essayist's greatest achievement, she said.

On a farm once, she was admiring all the "ewies" until her husband told her the correct pronunciation of the word "ewes."

"Youse" is Brooklyn slang," she related.

A charming essay, she says, depends upon a charming mind. A look at some of her book titles reveals a fresh touch seldom seen in any other writer—titles like "This Little Pig Stayed Home" and her latest, "It's Greek to Me."

Expecting her to go to "calistone now that her husband is there, her readers have been suggesting titles like "Going to Jerusalem" for her next book.

But she will doubtless write no originally as she always has. It takes experience to make a book for her, and she seems to manage well.

Phi Sigs Honor Initiates With Dance

Initiates of Phi Sigma Kappa were honored recently with an informal dance at the Phoenix Hotel.

Honorees were Don DeBoer, Bill Martin, Bill Earnest, A. J. Mangone, Bernard Burchett, Bill Crews, Flip Fleming, George Rybolt, Clyde Hamm, and Joe Wolfowitz.

The fraternity has pledged Buddy Florence, Bob Tichnor, Wesley Bird, Clyde Cox, Joe Coyle, Tom Mathis, Dick Jones, Jim Wolfert, and Earl Henry.

PiKA's Observe Founding

Pi Kappa Alpha will hold its annual Founders Day banquet at the Lafayette Hotel tonight at 6:30. The banquet is sponsored by the alumni of the Bluegrass chapters of the fraternity.

Cov. Earle Clements, Pi Kappa Alpha alumnus, will be a special guest.

Student-Faculty Party Planned For Thursday

An informal student-faculty party has been planned for next Thursday night. The party, sponsored by the activities committee of the Student Union Board, will be held in the SUB Ballroom.

The program will consist of square dancing, a variety show, and group singing.

All faculty members and students are invited.

Beatty; Shirley Ward and "Squirrel" Catron

There is a senior (foolish girl) who is dying for a date with Jack Darlington.

Bernard "Lover" Burchett still seems to be giving the gals a rough time. Or could it be the other way around?

"Stupid" Mahurin has won out over Duddy Haley as the oldest man on campus. But we love him just the same!

Joe Kilroy looked plenty sharp as the stand old Confederate.

See you at the SEC... we'll probably all get kicked out of the Brown together. Just remember, the quieter you are, the longer the party can last!

FLATTER HER WITH 'FLOWERS'

Bob Puryear, Dave Check, Bob Hoppe, and Herman Kessler have a new residence on Darley Avenue.

Here's to bigger and better parties! Charlie Wise and Charlie Boone will have to celebrate SEC together in Lexington.

DisKentucky Sports Review

— By Tom Diskin, Sports Editor —

As Coach Rupp said this week, the fact that Kentucky has been asked to participate in both the National Invitational and the NCAA tournaments is a "high honor." We feel confident that the 1948-49 Kentucky Wildcats have the ability to win both of these post-season play-offs, barring any injuries.

It is only fitting that the greatest collegiate basketball team in history bow out in a memorable way and should they cop both tournaments, a record that would probably stand for many, many years. Few other teams would have enough confidence to try such a feat.

Wah Jones, Alex Groza and Ralph Beard have been selected on the first annual selection of Collier Magazine's All-South team it was announced today. Others on the team are Tennessee's Paul Walthers and Jim Riffe.

From the All-South and the four other regional teams chosen by the National Association of Basketball Coaches, headed by Collier's special selection board which includes Coach Rupp, an All-American quintet will be announced in next week's issue of that publication.

G. C. Brown, sports editor of the Georgetown, school paper of Georgetown College, recently conducted a poll to determine his opinion on three questions. Votes counted 100.

The question and the results are as follows: The No. 1 team in the nation? Kentucky 95 votes; St. Louis 4. The outstanding center in the nation? Groza 84, Macaulay 4.

Are Kentucky's National Champions the greatest college team in history? Yes, 78. No, 14. Don't know, 10.

G. C. Brown included in this issue a group picture of the Wildcats, plus individual shots of Coach Rupp and Alex Groza. Thank you, Georgetown students.

Working out in Alumni gym last weekend was a seven-foot, one and one-half inch high school basketball player from Cleveland, Ohio. Whether he will be playing freshman hall for UK next fall is a matter of conjecture.

University High's Dwight Price was also looked over. He scored 42 points against Versailles last night without too much exertion. Price, who stands 6-2, definitely has possibilities of developing into an outstanding college ballplayer. Besides hitting from anywhere on the court, he also excels on defense.

Many Wildcat followers have been disturbed by the numerous fouth-

Next Monday night will mark the beginning of the IM elimination basketball tournament, with four games scheduled in Alumni Gym and three in U-High's gym.

There are two separate tournaments, one independent and another for fraternities. The independent journey has 12 teams, while frat have nine in their division.

When the play has advanced to the semifinals, the independent and fraternity teams will be mixed to determine the campus champion. If there is enough demand, playoffs will be held to determine a fraternity and an independent winner, according to Bill McCubbin, IM director.

On Tuesday night two games from the independent journey will be played at U-High, and four frat games in Alumni Gym.

Then, since the regional high school basketball tournament will be held here next week, all play is to be postponed until Monday night, March 14.

There will be two games in each division Monday night, and two in both branches on Tuesday. Wednesday night, the finals will be played in Alumni Gym.

Teams will be limited to 10 men, who were on the original roster of the team. Halves of each game will be 15 minutes, and the clock will stop for throws, regular time out (two each half), and each time the whistle blows during the last three minutes of the game.

The first pairings in the independent journey are: Boilermakers and Ind. Students; Breck Hall and A.S.M.E.; Generals and Law School; Brown Bears and Kinkead Hall; Yarnalls and Demon Terrors; and the "C" Club and Ingleside Trailer Park.

Kentucky made 48.2 percent of their field goal attempts. Shelbyville had 21.7.

OPEN LETTER . . . To Delta Tau Delta fraternity - I am very sorry I was unable to attend your formal last Saturday. The invitation was really appreciated and I fully intended to be there, but creeping around in this broken ankle and came makes it impossible to do lots of things I would like to - once again - thanks for the invite!

TIP NO. 1 . . . "Belmont" suits are real style leaders for spring. I really like these suits because of the full cut drupe coats with the NEW and I do mean new - four pockets and hand stitched lapels - they are double breasted one button rolls and single breasted two button models - even money that you'll like 'em - another "Belmont" feature is the "Zak Slat" - really keen looking sport slax of unusual design -

TIP NO. 2 . . . From "Lamb Knit" mulls comes a perfect garment to loaf in for spring - a slip over affair with corded backs, sabardine or knitted fronts - sleeves - and two pockets. You'll be seeing lots of these advertised in fashion magazines - and you'll see lots of them worn on golf courses - classes - ball games and etc. I have them in maize, tan, grey, and maroon - only $15.

TIP NO. 3 . . . The wise fellow does his spring buying early - then he gets the pick of the crop!

65-Foot Goal By Barker Features Last Home Game

By Dudley Saunders

Alex Groza broke the scoring record, but rumbull mascot Cliff Barker broke 3,000 necks, when they tried to do a double-take on his 65-foot set shot in the closing seconds of the Vanderbilt game last Saturday in Alumni gym.

The Commodores kept within reach of the Cats during the first eight minutes of the game, but failed fast, to give Kentucky a 37-19 halftime margin.

The old mark was set in 1938 by Country Graham of LSU, who racked up 504 points in 29 games.

The Commodores kept within reach of the Cats during the first eight minutes of the game, but failed fast, to give Kentucky a 37-19 halftime margin.

In their last Alumni gym performance, Groza entered the game with 485 points and added 23 more to that total. Jones and Barker collected 18 and 13 points respectively.

Billy Joe, Adcock and Kelly paced the Commodores with 13 and 12, each.

Immediately after Barker's record-breaking long shot, President Donovan ran out on the playing court and dropped a hat on the spot where the Kentucky guard had shot from. Measurements showed the distance to be 65 feet, beating Ralph Beard's 52-foot mark set in the Tennessee game here last year.

Chemical Society Tours Cincinnati Industries A tour of chemical industries in the Cincinnati area was made last week by 28 chemistry majors and Dr. N. O. Long, faculty advisor of the student affiliate of the American Chemical Society.

Kentucky Basketeers: SEC Finals Set For Tomorrow

Jim Line

The 18,167 people who jammed New York City's Madison Square Garden were going wild. For they were seeing a great upset. Utah, an 11-point underdog, was leading the Kentucky Wildcats in the finals of the 1947 National Invitational Tournament by a six-point margin, 27-21, at halftime.

In the early stages of the second half, the Kentuckians slowly began to overtake the Weststers and the uproar in the huge arena increased. The score went from 29-25 to 35-31.

Then the red and white uniformed boys from Salt Lake City took a rest out. Seconds after play started, the Cats intercepted Redskin pass and raced down the floor.

Ralph Beard flipped a quick toss to Jim Line, who was definitely on. The freshman forward coked his left arm, pushed up a 20-foot shot, and he had his first goal since he was sent into the skirmish. Kentucky rosters yelled their approval as the scoreboard now showed the Cats only 35-33. Eight minutes remained.

Then 30 seconds later Jim Line fouled out of the game with two fouls. Later, the United Press sports scribe wrote: "That broke Kentucky's back. Kentucky's five more heralded regulars could provide a similar offensive spark."

After Line left, the margin separating the teams remained about four and six points, as Utah desperately fought to hold the lead and Kentucky fighting to tie it up. But it just wasn't the Cats' night. The Utah five held on to win 49-45 and were lauded "The Cinderella Five" by writers after they won the tourney.

JIM LINE

The quarterfinals of the 16th annual Southeastern Conference tournament are slated to begin at 1:30 p.m. today.

The semifinals will be held Saturday morning and the finals will be played Saturday night.

Scheduled for today, in the first set of games, will be Vanderbilt versus the LSU-Georgia Tech game and Georgia against the Tulane-Alabama survivor.

This evening at 7:30 o'clock, Mississippi ties into the winner of the Tennessee-Mississippi State and the Kentucky-Florida victor meets Auburn at 9:15 p.m.

Kentucky's Wildcats have been seeded No. 1; Tulane No. 2, Tennessee No. 3, and LSU in No. 4.

Vanderbilt and Georgia Tech are classed as the darkhorses of the meet. Yandy has improved rapidly this season and the Cats have been the only team they played that has been able to beat them by any sizeable margin.

Tech last March surprised practically everyone by going to the finals with UK after upsetting Tulane. It is possible that this will happen again.

Nolan Back The Engineers from Atlanta, Ga., have been strengthened by the return of 6-8 Jim Nolan back into their lineup. Nolan was out of action for a period of two weeks with a bad ankle injury. The Techsters have a fast team.

Kentucky however has been made a heavy favorite to win its 11th title in 16 SEC tournament tries. UK has been champion since 1944.

Tulane was sensational in the 1947 meet, losing to the Cats in the final round after holding the Big Blue to a narrow margin through most of the game. They tired in the closing minutes and Kentucky pulled away to win, 38-35.

Last March, the Green Wave was the disappointment of the meet. However, Coach Cliff Wells is expected to have the New Orleans quintet keyed up for this one. He has three fine players in Jim Riffey, Warren Perkins and Virgil Risher. In Louisville, last December Tulane held the Wildcats to a narrow 4-point victory.

Tennessee, led by their shining star, Paul Walther, is expected to be playing UK in the semifinals tomorrow morning. The Vols have a better-than-average team and a tough starting five, but are very weak in reserve strength.

Kentucky boasts the top season record of the participating teams with a 25-1 record; Tulane has 21-3; Tennessee 17-6; LSU 13-9; Tech 11-12; and Alabama 13-11.

Rupp's last tournament defeat was to the Tennessee Volunteers, 23-20, in the finals of the 43 meet.

Kentucky entered the SEC meet with a tournament record of 47-7, and have lost but two games in the last 10 years.

Technician Addresses Engineering Students

Howard E. Depler, technical director of the Marley Company, Kansas City, Kansas, spoke to mechanical engineering students last week at Anderson Hall.

His topic was, "The Application of Cooling Towers to Engineering Processes." The lecture was sponsored by the local chapter of Pi Tau Sigma, honorary mechanical engineering fraternity.

Mr. Depler was guest speaker at the Pi Tau Sigma banquet in the SUB Wednesday night.

Guests included members of the mechanical engineering faculty, Tau Beta Pi, engineering honorary, and Eta Kappa Nu, electrical engineering honorary.

Mr. Depler discussed "Will Tomorrow's Executives Be Engineers?" America's first foreign-language newspaper was German.

Track Team To Open '49 Season March 26 At The Purdue Relays

By Earl L. Conn

The University of Kentucky's track team will open its 1949 season when it participates in the Purdue Relays March 26.

Coach Don Seaton announced that, in addition to the relays, the Wildcats will have four dual meets—Cincinnati, Vanderbilt, Louisville, and Tennessee—and go to the Southeastern Conference meet at Birmingham. The Cats might possibly enter the Drake Relays at Des Moines, Iowa, also.

Seaton said he would take only a few men who show the greatest promise to the Purdue Relays. The trackmen officially started practice Monday, although some of the children have been working out for several weeks. Because of the cold weather, the team has been practicing in the American Tobacco Company's warehouse—across the street from Alumni Gym.

An almost entire rebuilding of the squad will be necessary this year. Clayton Cruise graduated from last year's team. John Chumley, last year's leading point-getter, has transferred to a school in Florida; Jim McConaughy, field specialist, is ineligible, and Harold Zeigler, a promising freshman jumper and pole vaulter last season, has dropped from school.

Dallas Is Captain Also numbered among those missing is Norman Moody, one of the nation's outstanding distance prospects. Dale Barnstable, hurdle star, will be late reporting because of basketball. The three top sprinters—Ralph Genito, Johnny Mehus, and Don (Dopey) Phelps—will also be late because of spring football practice.

High Scorer

Line and Alex Groza were high scorers for the Lexingtonians. They each had 12. The Redskins pretty well stopped UK's other stars.

It was a heartbreaker for Coach Rupp and his team to lose. But the Utah game convinced the Board that he had a great freshman player in Jim Line, who, in 35 games that season, scored 189 points, hitting 412 percent of his field goal attempts.

In his sophomore year, Line finished second for individual scoring in the SEC meet for UK. He made 44 points in four games (including a total of 22 falls against Florida) to follow Groza's mark of 54. He and Ken Rollins finished in a tie for second in Line's freshman season for scoring in the conference tourney with 40 markers. Ward Jones led with 38.

As a sophomore Line scored 525 points in 28 games and led the nation for free throws made for the year. The six-foot, two-inch, 185-pound lefty connected for 51 of 62 tosses for a 82.2 average. In field goal attempts he ended his last season with a 36.1 percentage.

Line was born 22 years ago in Port Royal, Penn., which is located in the central part of the state (population, 744).

His family moved to Akron, Ohio, when he was young. Later he was the leading scorer on the Akron North High School basketball team. A Jim's highest scoring mark in high school was 32 points in the regional finals. Despite his efforts, the Akron North never got to the state tournament in Columbus while he was there.

In Army Shortly after he was graduated, Line was inducted into the Army and was soon on his way overseas with the 106th Cavalry. Eventually he wound up in Germany and Austria and other European countries.

After peace was declared, Line returned to the USA and was discharged in time to enroll at UK for the 1946-47 college season.

It wasn't long before Line was attracting much attention with his sensational southpaw shooting. In his seventh game, against Texas A.&M., the well-knit lad from Akron played an outstanding game and hit for 16 points in the short time he played. But his high for the year came in the first game of the SEC tournament in Louisville when he couldn't miss against Vanderbilt and scored 20 points as the Cats clipped the Commodores, 98-29, in the opening round. He, Paul Walther and Tony Lavell were considered three of the best left-handed shooters in basketball 1 day.

111 Points "This season, in his junior year, the Buckeye has tallied 111 points (going into the SEC meet) in 34 games and has a shooting average of slightly over 34 percent.

"Lefty" is majoring in chemical engineering here at UK and usually makes a 3.0 standing which has caused many a lifted eyebrow among his fellow students. "How does he do it?" is the usual comment when told that Line has come up with another All-A record for the semester.

Next season, after Groza, Beard, Jones and Barker have departed, Line is expected to make a strong bid for high scorer on the squad. He is regarded as one of the best set shots ever to play under Coach Rupp.
