

A soft breeze gently rustling through the maple groves and a fluid motion of the waving grass is all the action recognizable on a warm spring day in the heart of a lazy country.

Then, with the sound of a distant bugle, life springs into the air. Racing day brings wonderful sounds to the track lovers' ears, in the form of pounding hooves and cheering crowds; and thousands of hearts beat in unison as the ever-urging jockeys flash into the stretch in anticipation of the Winner's Circle.
