HERE SHALL THE KERNEL ALL STUDENT RIGHTS MAINTAIN

STUDENT OPINION

To the Editor:

It is apparent that the proposed Student Union Building which has been a dream in the minds of the campus organizations for the last four years will soon become a reality.

The original purpose of the Student Union Building was to provide a more suitable gathering place to further student interests and activities.

In order to better ascertain the needs and desires of the student body the committee requested advice from the Inter-Fraternity Council, Woman's Self-Governing Association, Student Council, Omicron Delta Kappa, and other student groups.

It was recently learned, however, that the aforementioned University authorities had decided to limit the size of the ball room to that of the Lafayette Hotel ball room and to use the entire basement floor as an arcade for business enterprises.

The authorities, when questioned about the matter, reluctantly stated that the ball room would take up too much space and would not bring in enough revenue to merit such installation.

Therefore, the social function would necessarily be held in a ball room which could not accommodate the crowd, and one of the main purposes of the Student Union Building will have been lost.

Since this is a student project and will ultimately be supported by the students, we should have a voice in the construction of the building, and demand a ball room which would accommodate the large crowds which always attend University social functions.

We realize that we can not make any demands of these University authorities, but we request that they see fit to have a conference with representatives of various student organizations and the Student Union Committee to discuss the plans before they are sent off for final confirmation.

HITLER'S NEW TACTICS WITH THE GERMAN PEOPLE

The disclosure by the New York Herald's correspondent of the fact that the great body of German people are in ignorance of the actual proceedings surrounding the recent occupation of the Rhineland by German soldiers, puts Hitler and his motives and ambitions into a new light.

Heretofore, the fact that the German people themselves stand solidly against war, has been thrust into the background by the more dramatic and formidable actions of the Reichfuhrer.

It should also be recalled that Hitler himself has had no military experience other than such as he might have gained as a corporal in the German army during the last war.

However, it has been claimed while diplomacy delays, Hitler becomes more strongly entrenched for war, both physically and mentally.

We do not believe such is the case with Britain. That nation will always, in our opinion, stand hand in hand with France, at least in war.

How far does Hitler think he can go before he climaxes his actions by throwing Europe into another war? Is it possible that he actually has no desire for combat, but is merely trying to stand up for the rights that Germany may not have had in the past?

Under prevailing conditions, it seems impossible that Hitler could hope to attract sufficient allies in a general conflict to sustain his cause over a period of a year.

In the meantime, aggressiveness continues to be the Reich's chief policy. France and England are bearing the brunt of the diplomatic load, with France, impulsive and irrepresible and antagonistic as ever, acting as the world's mouth-piece.

According to a recent news story, hail as large as coconuts fell in Africa. Nothing like this ever happened in Africa until American newspapers stationed correspondents over there.

Night and day

By ENGY

In the roaring traffic's boom... In the silence of my lonely room I think of writing this column... And the torment won't be through until I finish it.

The Big Chis threw a nice affair the other night but it was certainly mass production. Dick Fiddler's band has slipped in the last three weeks.

By mere chance the subject of the Student Union Building again comes up for discussion. The plans for the building are already completed, but the Student Union Committee does not seem to know a thing about them.

Two great big twin bouquets to Chios Mary and Myra, the Wilmoth twins, who are undoubtedly two of the most popular girls on the campus.

When did the Sigmachis get their new theme song? At the Saturday night for the S. C. special, Fiddler played "I Got Plenty of Nothing."

Little did Does and I know what was going to happen when we said that Elliot just couldn't catch on.

Tridelt Betsy May was quite perturbed when she came home to spend the week-end in Paris and discovered that her date for the Sigmachi dance, J. D. Haugard, an old flame, was escorting Chio Betsy Allen instead.

And the Sloppy Reece, Mary Lou Stark, Harry Bullock, triangle goes on-and-on-and-on.

Now that Lil Holmes and Ernie

James have broken up, Ross Fox is very much in evidence around the Alpha Gam house now.

Kathryn Flannery is no longer wearing a Sigma Chi pin.

It has been reported that Benny Fannin has been pinned by a certain Kappa Sig but Benny denies it.

I guess C. T. Hertzsch will have to settle with Lucy for the S. A. E. dinner-dance Friday night but he was taken down with appendicitis last week.

Attention Jackson Billy Young must be the power with Lucy Maddux. It seems that Billy had a date with Lucy for the S. A. E. dinner-dance Friday night but he was taken down with appendicitis last week.

What young doctor from Louisville threw in his pin with his heart to K. D. Billie Holiday lately?

Wonder when Gerald Holstein is "Really going to fix" somebody? He's always threatening to. Wanda says, "get wise to yourself, Jerry."

Orville Patton, Younger Alexander and Ben de Haven were the belles of the Apple Pi dance.

It is said that Donald Irvine can't get his mind on his English this semester. It is said that there is a question of too much Briggs.

Two Boyd hall girls carry out the Leap Year tradition in a big way. Every Sunday night they bring their dates to lunch in the dormitory dining room. These two little boys look pitifully out of place among two hundred girls.

Alpha Gam excerpts—What football player is Martha Riley's Secret Passion?—Ellen Coyle and Bob Stevens will take each other for better or for worse next December.

George Tullock seems to be having trouble with his love affairs. First he started courting Tridelt Mary Walker Flowers but finding the competition too strong there, he turned to one of good sisters, after this one we suppose it will be his old flame Kappa Edith Reager.

Zack Smith didn't take long in giving his S. A. E. pin to Elizabeth Shobenkey. He got it on Friday and lost it Sunday. Congratulations to you both, and here's hoping it will last.

U. K. IS SPIRIT—PROV. FRANK

In the words of Prov. Frank LeRond McVey: "The University of Kentucky is not only the buildings and grounds located in Lexington, not merely the faculty and the student body, but is all these and more."

"The University of Kentucky numbers as its friends people of all races and all creeds, rich in education, not merely the faculty and the student body, but is all these and more."

"The University of Kentucky is a warm feeling for the institutions that minister to the public good; it pledges its full cooperation to all organizations that are working for the goal toward which the University of Kentucky itself is striving."

Now, just how did Mamie Maddox get that black eye which she has been totine around for the last four or five days? She says that it was due to a fall down the steps in the Ben All. Well, far be it for us to question her.

SEEN FROM THE PRESS BOX

By JOE QUINN
Kernel Sports Editor

This year seems destined to be one of the innovations in University sports. First, a varsity boxing team was instituted on the campus for the first time, and now a movement is underway to organize a University swimming team to compete in dual meets against nearby collegiate clubs.

Bob Freeberg, the Des Plaines, Illinois, merman, has been instrumental in rounding up the local talent and arranging for the opening meet. It is no simple task to introduce something like a swimming team and get the Kentucky collegians to work up enough ambition to participate.

Included in the talent that will perform against the Maroon varsity is Sherman Hinkbein, varsity football center, who holds several breast stroke records in Louisville, his home town. Hinkbein is good enough to teach swimming at one of the Falls City clubs during the summer and was formerly a member of the Hoosier Athletic Club's swimming team which is well-known in the Middle West.

Another able performer who will compete with the Kentucky splashes against Eastern is Jimmy Westbrook, whose specialties are the backstroke, freestyle and the 145-pound intramural boxing champion, won several titles in Northern Kentucky last summer and before that was a record holder in his native North Carolina.

Joe Bosse and Bob Sherman, both of whom earned letters at Roger Bacon high school in Cincinnati, won several titles in Northern Kentucky last summer and before that was a record holder in his native North Carolina.

Legan Hay and Tommy Rantz will be the Kentucky standard-bearers in the diving events and both boys will have an excellent chance to win as they both have had considerable experience.

Of course, the main handicap that the Kentuckians face is the fact that they have no facilities for practice. With no swimming pool at the University and none in the town, the team, as a unit, had no opportunity to get into proper swimming condition.

It was getting rather late and the polls were due to close shortly when the girl conceived a brilliant idea for coralling a goodly number of votes at one killing.

What Coach Wynne replied has not yet been learned.

SHOP SIGHTS
By BETTY EARLE

Saw lots of neck-nacks today that could be called bargain, what-nois, and "crutches" (Crutches are things that sort of give "pop, vim, and vigor" to last year's spring suit or dress.)

Denton's have some tricky new dog pins on the front counter and since everything seems to have a "back to nature" idea—I mean animals and flowers and that sort of thing—you might put one on the plain white blouse you have and don't know what to do with. If you prefer horses, try a horse pin, or a bracelet. Then there are clever belts with a stirrup to decoration to match the rest of the horsey things.

New hankies sometimes set you off, too, and Denton's have some lovely linen ones with sprays of flowers applied in the corners. You don't want to miss these. Down at Purcell's you can find a bargain in scarfs... small silk ones with wire-haired terriers sprinkled over them... $7c... the edges are hand-picked, too. And there's also a counter of purses that might interest you. Of course, you don't want to spend much for just an ordinary purse and these are keen at the price—$7c.

Black stripes (very narrow, of course) zigzagging across it and a round collar of green taffeta took my eye, too. (Please don't crack "Where did it take it?") A turquoise chiffon model with two tiny straps holding up the double row of narrow ruffles across the neck and down the back was the top. The skirt ruffles were put on in a unique way... an inverted V-shape.

And last, but never the least, the men! Kaufman's are featuring the latest thing in shirts... homespun weaves matched with polka-dot ties. They say, too, that gabardines are done in herringbones, stripes, and checks. The new Beau Brummel tie with large squares of two colors alternating up and down it is called "The Ricker."

Meyer and Hinkle has exactly the dress you've been looking for—the kind of linen you can wear to a summer bridge party or a country club golf luncheon and still feel as well dressed as Mrs. Astorville, perhaps better, because you'll be cool and comfortable. These dresses are hand-blocked linen at $10.95 and are in most any color we persnickety women could concoct. There was a yellow and brown Egyptian design, a white one with green and black jacket; and the prize—a brown and white with figures that looked like rope twisted into the shape of an S-stitched neckline and pocket and narrow patent leather belt.

Perhaps you're searching for a formal for the Junior Prom. Have you looked at SHIPP? In crepe there is a water color print on a white background with narrow braided straps. The white enamel veil one with green, orange, and

FOLK FESTIVAL IS POSTPONED

Fear Of Spinal Meningitis Moves Officials To Call Off Festival; Date To Be Announced Later

The Folk Festival, scheduled to be held at the University April 2-4 was postponed indefinitely Saturday by University of Kentucky authorities, acting on the advice of Dr. A. T. McCormick, secretary of the state board of health.

Dr. McCormick said that although there is no evidence of spinal meningitis in this locality, several teams expected to participate in the event are from areas in Kentucky and Tennessee where the disease has been prevalent within recent weeks.

Twenty-six schools from Kentucky, Tennessee, North Carolina, Virginia, Mississippi and Alabama, had been invited to send teams to the festival. The festival was to have been sponsored by the University and the Conference of Southern mountain workers.

Students Go Nuts Seeing the First Signs of Spring

By OTIS LEE HARRIS
If you see a co-ed waving her arms and snapping her fingers like a "hot-cha" dancer and her boy friend acting like a deaf and dumb man stammering, don't be alarmed. It's just a part of your college education. If someone runs up to you, places one hand above the other and starts wiggling their fingers, don't look too blank when they ask you what it is. It's the rain raining and the grass growing. Yes, he's nuts and you will be too, if you wait for the second demonstration—and you will. He extends his left arm outward and waves at it with his right hand. He asks you

The simple mechanical details of cigarette manufacture are of surprising importance. Upon them depend the physical properties of the cigarette, such as weight, size, firmness, moisture-holding properties, uniformity of fill, uniformity of product—all of which have a far-reaching effect on the character of its combustion and the constituents of its smoke. In the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes all of these properties have been standardized with care for the perfection of A LIGHT SMOKE.
