The Senate met Monday, February 9, President McVey presiding.

Minutes of the meeting of January 31 read and approved.

The recommendation of the Council in regard to credits for military service was approved. It is as follows:

"Credits in required military work may be given for service in the U. S. military or naval forces. Three months' service overseas, or six months' service in the United States, will be considered equivalent to the two years of required drill.

Candidates for such credit will submit duly authenticated copies of their discharge papers to the Commandant, who will send the credit to the Registrar for record."

The President suggested that a committee be appointed to prepare a list of one hundred names of the great men of the world and submit them to the students to select twenty-five that they consider the greatest, and that a prize of $50 be offered.

Senate adjourned.
