

February 27th The Faculty met as usual.

Mr. A. C. Tucker was present to account for frequent absence from classes. He stated that he had not been well for several weeks and was unable to attend to his duties at College. As his health did not prevent his loitering around the hotels and being on the streets a great deal the Faculty were fully satisfied that he was idly idling away his time. It was therefore resolved to advise him to leave College and go home. The Faculty then adjourned till Monday at 9 o'clock, when Mr. C. O. Moore could be present to answer for his general neglect of duty.

March 2nd

The Faculty met according to adjournment.

Mr. E. G. Moore was present to account for continual absence from classes and general neglect of duties.

He stated that he had not been well for several weeks and was unable to attend to his College duties.

The Faculty, being thoroughly convinced that he would do no good if allowed to remain in College any longer, privately dismissed him. Mr. Tucker was present and requested that the Faculty re-consider their action, at its last meeting, in regard to himself, and allow him to remain in College. After duly considering the request it was resolved to abide by our former action.

Mr. H. O. Atkeson was present to account for absence from classes. He stated that he had absented himself only from Prof. Dutton's classes. He further stated that he had not been feeling well for several days; and did not feel like preparing all of his lessons, and had, therefore, prepared those most agreeable to himself. He then asked for a discharge. After a consideration of the case it was resolved to give him his choice, viz., to attend faithfully all of his duties or to withdraw.

On motion the Faculty adjourned.
