Acting Associate Dean Dewey G. Steele presented the following course changes which were approved by the University Faculty.

To be dropped

Agronomy 23, Plant Pathology, 4 credits

To be addedAgronomy 141, Plant Pathology. 3 credits

Significance, nature, causes, and methods of control of plant diseases. Lectures, 3 hours. Prereq: Botany 1. (Effective September, 1953)

Course 141 will duplicate in effect course 23. The course as previously presented attracted mostly juniors, seniors and graduate students, but the numbering worked to their disadvantage. The subject matter itself and actual content of the course justify the new numbering. The change in credit from four to three hours will alleviate some of the present scheduling difficulties.

Dean Spivey presented the following recommendations from the Graduate Council which were approved by the University Faculty.

1. The Graduate Council recommends approval of graduate credit for the following courses:

Agricultural Extension 101. Agricultural Extension Methods. (3 credits)

Philosophy, history and development of Agricultural Extension; evaluation of instructional techniques; leadership training; and practice in use of Extension methods. Three lectures per week. Open to Juniors, Seniors and Graduate Students.

Agricultural Extension 110. Agency Relationships. (1 credit)

In this course the student learns something of the objectives and how public and private agricultural agencies and organizations work together for the improvement of agriculture.

Agronomy 101. Pasture Production and Management. (3 credits)

The selection of pasture crops and their establishment, fertilization and management for temporary or permanent pastures. Lecture and recitation, 3 hours.

Farm Engineering 106. Advanced Farm Machinery. (3 credits)

Selection, operation and maintenance of farm machinery with emphasis on power-driven machines. Analysis of the machinery needs of farms, adjustments and servicing of machines.

Sociology 132a, b. Intergroup Relations. (3 each)

Analysis of relationships between groups which differ in religious, ethnic, or socio-cultural backgrounds; the development of educational and social techniques for reduction of tensions.

2. The Graduate Council recommends approval of the following thesis course without credit:

Hygiene and Public Health 500-1-3. Thesis. (0 credit)

3. The Graduate Council recommends raising the credit in the following course from 1 hour to two hours:

Anthropology 201a, b. Seminar. (2 credits each)
Intensive work in particular fields of Anthropology. All students during a given semester will be assigned related phases of the same problem. Designed primarily for students working towards a master's degree in Anthropology.

The Secretary presented a letter from the SuKy Circle requesting that the Faculty dismiss classes between the hours of 10:00 and 11:00 a.m., on October 23, 1953, in order that the students could attend a pep rally. The Faculty voted to deny the request.

Dean Kirwan called the attention of the Faculty to the Commencement luncheon to be given at 12:30, C.S.T. in the Student Union Ballroom, the speaker to be Mr. Jesse Tapp, Vice President of the Bank of America.

George Lawson, retiring president of the Student Government Association, introduced the new president, Carter Glass. Dean Kirwan welcomed Mr. Glass and explained to him that he was an ex officio member of the University Faculty with all rights and privileges pertaining to this position.

The Faculty adjourned.
