

GIRL GRADUATES ENTER ARMY

SECOND TERM ATTRACTS 1,327

Leo M. Chamberlain, University registrar, announced Tuesday, that 1327 under-graduate and graduate students had registered for the second term of the University's first summer quarter. Pre-registration forecasts had indicated a probable attendance of 1250 students.

Last year 1176 people were registered for the same period. The registration this year represents an increase of approximately 13 per cent over the 1941 enrollment. 1821 students were enrolled for the first term of this summer quarter.

Mr. Chamberlain, remarked that the University anticipated a very noticeable decrease in enrollment for the fall quarter starting on September 21.

He stated that many young men formerly attending the University were now enrolled in the armed forces of the United States or engaged in industries related to the war effort. Many young women are also finding employment opportunities in industry due to the large number of skilled workers being drafted.

However, he remarked, the University believes the enrollment programs of the Army Enlisted Reserve, the Naval Reserve, and the Army and Naval Air Corps Reserve, on the campus, reduce the enrollment more than was previously anticipated.

Rifle Team Try-outs Held Each Thursday

The University rifle team, composed of eight members, will practice one afternoon each week during the second summer term in the Armory range located in the basement of Alumni hall. Lieutenant John L. Carter, Coach of the Rifle team said this week.

Students who have had previous rifle practice, or have been members of other rifle teams are urged to try out for the team between 1:30 and 4 p. m. Thursday.

The University rifle team, which has one of the best records in the country, won 98 per cent of the ROTC matches; 90 per cent of the varsity; and the 5th Corps Area rifle match during the 41-42 season. Lieutenant Carter stated.

New Co-operative House To Be Opened In Fall

By Dorothy Hellard

Hamilton House, a new girl's co-operative home located at 342 S. Lime, will be opened at the beginning of the fall term. Miss Jane Haselden, assistant dean of women, announced this week.

The building, named for Dean Anna J. Hamilton, University's second dean of women, was bought from the heirs of the Wooley estate by the University and is now being completely redecorated.

Dean Haselden said that the new co-operative home will house 16 to 18 girls and the housemother. Most of the rooms have already been applied for by students who were selected for scholarship and leadership in their schools and communities.

Girls who have been 4-H workers or who have had courses in home economics are usually preferred for co-operative houses since they must do their own cooking and house work, Dean Haselden said.

Hamilton House will be University's third co-operative house.

CIVIL SERVICE GIVES EXAM

The United States Civil Service Commission announced this week, that for the third time this year it was holding its Junior Professional Assistant examination for college students.

Federal positions connected with important war activities and paying $2,000 a year will be filled by those attaining an eligible rating. The Commission stated that announcements and forms for applying may be obtained at any first or second class post office. All applications must be filed with the Commission at Washington, D. C. by August 27.

Planned primarily to recruit college seniors who will graduate at the end of the summer session the examination consists of a general test designed to measure aptitude and general knowledge. College graduates and senior students who will complete their courses by September 30, 1942, may apply. There are no age limits.

No options are specified although qualified persons are particularly desired in the fields of business administration, public administration, economics, library science, statistics, and mathematics through calculus.

Teacher Shortage Predicted In Fall

That a shortage of teachers is expected this fall in the sciences, industrial arts, physical education and several other fields, was announced this week by Dean W. S. Taylor of the College of Education.

The armed forces and war industries have drained Kentucky schools of a large per cent of their most competent educators. However, the vacancies are now limited only to rural elementary schools low salaries.

Depleted UK Staff Serves Uncle Sam

By "Sonny" White

The depleted staff of the University's Political Science department is an example of the wholeheartedness with which the University faculty is turning "all out" to the nation's war effort.

Dr. Amry Vandebosch, department head, returns to his post, Sept. 1, after a year's absence. Dr. Vandebosch, was in Washington, as a member of the office staff of William Donovan, Co-ordinator of Information.

Dr. Jasper Berry Shannon, has served as acting head of the department during Dr. Vandebosch's absence. Dr. Shannon, made several trips during the past year to nearby army posts, speaking upon "Propaganda and Morale". These speeches were sponsored by the Morale Division of the United States Army.

Alexander T. Edelmann, assistant professor, for the past year, has been called to duty with the United States Army. Captain Edelmann, is now stationed with the War Department in Washington, as a member of the special services branch of the research division. While at the University, Dr. Edelmann, was engaged in research work on the effects of TVA in local communities.

Ernest Collins, former graduate assistant, is now working with the Civil Service Office in Cincinnati, Ohio.

"STONE WALLS DO NOT A PRISON MAKE"

Dr. Best Cools Heels In Locked Law Library

By John Hutcheson

Reading in a room with no ventilation is enough torture during the summer, but imprisonment... is too much! Dr. Harry Best, head of the sociology department, decided to do some reading last Monday in the Law library. After arriving, he became so engrossed in his studies that he didn't realize the closing time of the library had passed.

Quickly Dr. Best put away his work, but on reaching the door he found it locked, and noticed the librarian had disappeared.

Dr. Amry Vandebosch

returns to University after year's absence in Washington.

Kernel Staff Meets Today

There will be a meeting of the Kernel staff at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the Kernel News Room. All staff members, reporters, and new students desiring to work on the paper should attend.

Former Co-eds Join Army Auxiliary Corps

By "Sonny" White

The first women graduates from the University to be inducted into the United States Army—Helen Hester Horlacher, Frances House, and Lois Perry Brown—leave tomorrow for Fort Thomas, where they will be sworn into the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps.

They must report to the "WAAC's" headquarters at Fort Des Moines, Iowa, by Monday, August 3. There under the command of Major Overta Culp Hubby, they will undergo an intensive training course before being granted their officer's commissions.

The women made their applications for admittance to the Corps early in June and were notified of their acceptance only recently. Part of a potential feminine army of 150,000 women as planned by high military officials, they are to replace regular soldiers who are now doing secretarial work behind office desks.

Helen Horlacher, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. L. J. Horlacher, graduated from the University in June, 1941. While on the campus, she was a member of the Student Government legislature, Mortar Board, and Cwens, sophomore honorary. She was chosen as one of the University representatives for that year of the Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges.

Frances House received her A. B. degree from the College of Education in 1938. She was a member of the Y.W.C.A., W.A.A., and Phi Epsilon, Botany honorary.

Lois Brown graduated from the University College of Education in 1930, and has since attended Columbia College working on her M.A. degree. While at the University she was Treasurer of Delta Zeta sorority and a representative on the Pan Hellenic Council.

APPLICATIONS DUE AUGUST 8

University students who are expecting to graduate at the end of the summer term are requested to make applications for degrees not later than August 8.

The official list of applicants when completed will be submitted to the faculty and the Board of Trustees of the University for their approval. On approval of the list each student will be considered to have graduated from the University and his diploma will be mailed to him on or about October 1.

Arrangements will be made for all students who graduate at this time to participate in an informal way in the commencement in June, 1943.

Under the revised rules of the University faculty, the student who will graduate in August may if the instructor so desires, be excused from the final examination provided he has at least a "B" average in the course.

Students who wish to request this privilege of their instructors should secure a card from the Registrar's office certifying that they are candidates for degrees.

Summer Concert Draws Large Crowd

By Lucille Gibson

The second summer concert by the university's symphony orchestra under the direction of Dr. Alexander Capurso was presented last night at 7:30 in Memorial hall before a large group of Lexington music lovers.

The program was an interesting selection of both classical and semi-classical compositions. Jerome Kern's "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes" and variations on the theme "Pop! Goes The Weasel" by Gailliet were popular with the audience. A community sing of favorite songs was led by Adele Gensemer.

Miss Jane Haselden

The other two are Shelby House, 113 State St., and McDowell House, 421 Rose.

The Faculty Salary Limit

Too much has already been said about the unfairness of the $5,000 a year salary limit to profane further space with an elaborate discussion of the dangers of such a restriction. We have lost several of our outstanding faculty members, most recent of which were Dr. J. D. Williams and Dean Henry H. Hill. There is little to indicate that they will be the last and much to suggest that others soon will follow. As a state institution we will soon have a casualty list among faculty members that will rival that of the armed forces. If progress is the keynote of education, where do we appear to be going?

A "Campaign For Quarters"

The unprecedented success of last Saturday's dance for Fort Knox soldiers has encouraged University women to continue this commendable service. Several of the soldiers declared it was "the best week-end they had experienced since entering the army."

Miss Rebecca Van Meter, hostess of the Student Union building, who has been closely connected with every drive on the campus to entertain service men, is launching a "Campaign of Quarters" among University women this week. This campaign will raise funds with which dances will be given for service men. Although only one more dance, on August 8, is to be given by University women this summer, the entertainments will be continued in the fall.

Another Committee—But A Good One

Mrs. Sarah B. Holmes, dean of women, made an All-American suggestion this week when she recommended the creation of a Student War Activity Committee which would co-ordinate the efforts of students engaged in activities concerning the war. Such a group of students, under a responsible leader, could accentuate the present work being done by University men and women. It would also find new ways in which University students could support the national effort during the war.

Thoughts At Random

By Lois Ann Markwardt

The Indispensable Man

"... And the meek shall inherit the earth!" yea, and the time is not so far away. I sit at my typewriter and chuckle to myself at the absurdities of men... and their militaristic ideas. "More training... more training," is the time-worn cry of the powers. Make our nation a physical giant to overwhelm and stifle the invasion of midget nations.

We must defend our rights and our country... for the sake of a secure future... but while the bitter halves continue to develop themselves to superhuman Atlas's, what of the administrative positions of big business and government?

It is in the light of this question that I chuckle and rub my hands in anticipatory glee. The women shall rise and assume those positions left by vacant by men of cultivated brute force who fight for the thoughts expounded in Lincoln's so well remembered "Gettsburg Address." True, Amazonian type of women will develop from the mamby-pamby female of today and rise to new heights heretofore unheard of, much less attained.

But you ask... what of the men between battles? Ah, now you have struck home. Somewhere on an island... shackled by chains of iron will be the male populace of the earth... no longer the "warrior's husband"... but merely, the time-worn, battle ravished, administrator's mate. There they shall remain until another physical storm brews... then, to be released to engage themselves in their unwarranted profession... the defender of souls... "the indispensable man." Even though men may shake their fists and swear it is a mass of filthy lies... they run for this destiny at breakneck speed by providing themselves with rigorous militaristic training. Thus, our picture of 2500 A. D. ... and the part we play as its first conceiver.

Talkie Talk

By Lois Ann Markwardt

Another great novel, "The Gay Sisters," has been brought to the screen and will be shown for one week at the Kentucky theater starting Friday. This highly dramatic story of three women exhibits the finest in directing, acting, and dialogue.

Barbara Stanwyck, Geraldine Fitzgerald, and Nancy Coleman enact the roles of the three wealthy sisters who live in a spacious home seeping into decay and who are obviously trying to keep dark some closely guarded secret of the past from the public.

George Brent and Gig Young, a dynamic, breezy newcomer to the screen figure into the plot as the supporting characters in a mighty drama.

Strange twists and deviations appear as the film unfolds bringing to the light a mysterious and fascinating experience of three beautiful young ladies.

Hepeats will swoon when "Syncopation", probably the mellowest clambake in American musical history, opens at the Ben Ali theater Sunday.

"Syncopation" depicts the rise of a great trumpet player, enacted by Jackie Cooper, and of his sweetheart, played by Bonita Granville. Background for the story is supplied by the changing of the American scene from Basin Street jazz to the modern advent of swing.

No less than 15 bands, ranging from Benny Goodman to Alvin Karpis, appear in the picture. Over 50 musical selections, some new, some old, are tapestried into Leith Stevens' scoring.

Whether it's American popular boogie-woogie, blues, swing, jazz, or low-down ragtime you prefer, it's all performed by top-notch musicians of the nation in "Syncopation."

Vice of the People

BY ROY STEINFORT

Those two well known campus characters—Leland "Happy" Day and Guy McConnell—after much debate have come forth with a social idea that is equaled only by Leap Year.

They have formulated plans to organize what they term "a fifty cent club". Boys, when dating the campus women, would only be allowed to spend fifty cents for the evening's entertainment.

Under the plans, which are still in the embryonic stage, McConnell would be the Lord High Potentate, and Day would be in charge of all social policing to see that members do not exceed the fifty cent limit.

The plan seems to be based on sound reasoning—especially during war conditions.

Major Bob Neyland has finally landed Eral Allen. The former Tennessee mentor, who said five years ago "the kid is too small" today requested Little Mr. Dynamite's address. Neyland was recently named to coach an army service team.

Apparently Allen fits into Neyland's plans for a "dream backfield".

The heat is on plenty this summer and a lot of the devil's breath is being generated in the vicinity of the Administration building. The fraternity boys apparently thought the Administration was kiddin' when they said, "show up or close up." Show up, meaning show us a certified record of your books. Now the boys have more than one problem to worry about.

LIFE'S PARADE

•By Jay Wilson

It isn't that I'm afraid of going to war. No real American could be, I guess. No, it isn't fear or cowardice—at least, not in the usual sense of the words.

You, see, all my life I've been getting whipp'd! As a small boy I got spanked for smoking... and at six I was paddled for repeating profanity. When I entered school at eight I had my first real fight... and when I got home, I was whipped again... for fighting.

At ten I tried to prove I wasn't a sissy, even if my mother did make me wear short pants... and I came out second best. At fourteen I moved to a strange town and the school bully added my scalp to his ambitious list.

By the time I reached sixteen I was a determined pacifist. No more bloody noses... or black eyes... or torn clothes for me. I was either going to talk my way out of trouble—or retreat.

But lately, I've been wondering if this isn't the wrong attitude. I've been wondering if it isn't time to forget those petty battles so familiar to every American boy and to begin to be conscious of the present conflict.

Sure it's foolhardy! Of course it isn't sensible... but there's just something about the whole dirty business of this war that challenges every American to action!

Anyway, I got an idea its going to be great—fighting with 7,000,000 other Americans, and winning—for the first time in my life.

If you want advice on how to handle your lady friends, ask horse-trader, John Dallavo. He seems to be leadin' about three of the fair sex 'round by the mane with no apparent effort whatsoever.

Hooley Pollou

By Mary Jane

More people are getting themselves married around this institution! What you know 'bout Martha Jane Obitz and Joe Boatman cruisein' up to Cincinnati to take the fatal leap?

And with Dick Stofer (who they tell me is consulting Josephine Glasscock about what she prefers in wedding rings) as their nervous best man!

Have you been noticein' how tentative H. C. Blount, S.A.E., is to that cute Stevens transfer, Betty Ann Poindexter? Could that be the light of love in his eyes when her name is mentioned?

It is rumored 'round that there is a big romance brewin' 'tween K. D. Fritzie Liebel and Kappa Sig, Jim Craige.

They tell me that several of the Deltas and some boys from Ashland are all excited over Beth Horton. Especially concerned over her welfare seem to be Johnny Walthall and Don Sebastian.

Campus Verse

THE FOOL'S SONG

I laugh at the world as I pass by
To seek the merry way
I care not for the woes of man
Nor battles of the day.

Behind the headlines—"War Declared"
I smile at nations' folly
I cannot seem to see the use
For morbid melancholy.

"Laugh, clown" I sing unto the wind
Who heaves a wearied sigh
I laugh at the world as I pass on
And having laughed... I cry!

Local Women Give Dance For Soldiers

University girls will take a back seat tomorrow night when Lexington women sponsor a formal dance for the Fort Knox soldiers in Great Hall at the Student Union building.

The dance, which will be held from 8:30 to 11:00 p. m., will feature the music of Dee Akers and the "K's." Refreshments will be served during intermission.

Although Lexingtonians are giving the dance, University women are urged to attend according to Miss Elizabeth Hunt who is in charge of all arrangements.

Movie Tonight

"The Count of Monte Cristo", the first movie of the second summer term, will be presented in the Union building tonight at 8 o'clock.

Kentucky Firemen Attend Campus Training School

Alpha Xi Entertains Rushees

Miss Pat Lewis

Alpha Xi Delta sorority entertained last Monday night with a grill supper at the home of Miss Marcia Willing in honor of rushees. Sixty members and rushees attended.

Pat Lewis, who was in charge of arrangements for the party, was assisted by Jean Reynolds, Marcia Willing, and Martha Jane Allen.

Triangle Entertains With Hay Ride

Triangle pledges entertained activities last Saturday afternoon with a hayride and picnic at Johnston's Mill followed by a dance at the house. Mrs. Ethel Fish, House-mother, chaperoned.

The fifth annual four-day training school for Kentucky firemen opened Tuesday at the University, with approximately 125 firemen attending the meeting.

D. R. Peel, state fire marshal, said the course offered opportunities for many fire departments which have lost men to the armed services and war industries to instruct new personnel.

Speakers on the opening program included Major David Williams, army co-ordinator of civilian defense activities; Dr. Henry H. Hill, dean of the University; B. J. Madden and Shelton Saufley, Jr., deputy state fire marshals, and Captain V. A. Beam, Louisville fire department, teacher co-ordinator for the course.

Demonstrations and lectures were given on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, on salvaging, ventilation, safety, fire prevention, organization, and the operation and maintenance of fire fighting equipment.

The school was under the supervision of the State Department of Education, the fire prevention and rates section of the Insurance Department, the Kentucky Firemen's Association, the Kentucky Municipal League, and the University of Kentucky.

Kappa Delta Pi Meets Tuesday

Alpha Gamma of Kappa Delta Pi, Education honorary, will hold a business meeting on Tuesday, August 4, at 3 p. m. in Room 131 of the Education building to elect candidates for membership.

A picnic and initiation service will be held at the home of Dean William S. Taylor, head of the College of Education, 112 Cherokee Park, on Wednesday, August 19, at 6:30 p. m.
