STATE UNIVERSITY ----- 15
CENTRAL UNIVERSITY --- 6

The heading of this article represents the outcome of what was probably the best game of football ever played in Kentucky. The salient features of the game are epitomized in tabulated form, as follows:

Record of First Half.

	State.	Central.
Score -----	3	6
Kicked off -----	38 yds.	103 yds.
Punted -----	228 yds.	180 yds.
Ball carried toward
opponent's goal_	185 yds.	80 yds.
Average punt -----	32.5 yds.	30 yds.

Record of Second Half.

	State.	Central.
Score -----	12	0
Kicked off -----	18 yds.	155 yds.
Punted -----	248 yds.	182 yds.
Ball carried toward
opponent's goal_	258 yds.	21 yds.
Average punt -----	31 yds.	26 yds.

It is at once apparent from these data that Central was outplayed in every phase of the game. The defense was much more effective than the offense, on both sides. Owing to Central's penchant for using punt formations, the runner was frequently thrown for losses of from five to twenty yards. State was much more consistent, both on offense and defense, than Central; and Central's score was due largely to Johnston's poor judgment in calling for an on side kick with the ball in our territory, and while Barbee was still dazed as a result of the gentle treatment accorded him (quite accidentally, of course) by our friends, the enemy.

Aside from the first six or seven minutes of play, and a few minutes at the time Central scored, our team was complete master of the situation at all times, and allowed Central within the twenty-five yard line only once. That was at the very end of the game, just after Central kicked off the last time; and our team secured the ball on downs and had punted it into Central's territory just as the whistle blew.

The game started by Central kicking off to Barbee, who caught the ball on the goal line, and returned it, behind good interference, to the 25-yard line. In two downs State made about five yards, so a punt was called for. The pass was a little short, and Shelby, seeing he could not punt, tried to make the distance, but was downed on the line.

Central at once proceeded to warm things up, but was penalized five yards for being off side. This gave them first down on State's 35-yard line. Frank dropped back in a punt formation, and then tried to run State's right end, but succeeded in losing five yards. Then he dropped back again, and punted this time. The ball hit the ground and bounced high in the air. A long Central athlete reached up about five feet above Threlkeld's head and secured the ball, so Threlkeld just dumped him right there. But that was on our 10-yard line, and the Central adherents began to see visions of a touchdown. The first try at our line netted two yards. Then Seelbach was called back in a tandem formation and tried to buck the line. When he hit the line he was tackled so hard that the ball flew out of his arms, and was secured by Ellis. This gave State first down on her 14-yard line, so the only thing to do was to punt. Shelby kicked the ball to the 45-yard line, and Frank returned it eight yards.

The State adherents began to breathe easier, but they didn't know what was coming. The Central team braced themselves for a supreme effort and carried the ball back to State's three-yard line in seven trials. It looked as though nothing could stop them, but our little wild-eats just got together, and, after three trials, the ball was State's right where Central started the first down.

Shelby punted out of danger, and Rodes recovered the ball. As a reward, he was given the ball on the State was penalized 15 yards, but Seelbach lost 12 on the next play, so the ball was punted to State's 35-yard line.

Here State took the ball and carried it to Central's 38-yard line before being obliged to punt. Duffy caught the ball on his five-yard line and was downed in his tracks by Shanklin. Frank punted from behind his goal line to the 30-yard line. In two plays, Barbee and Threlkeld brought the ball to the 12-yard line; but two more plays gained practically nothing, so Barbee tried a place kick. The score then stood State 3, Central 0.

Central kicked off to Rodes on the eight-yard line. By a beautiful run, with splendid interference Rodes brought the ball to Central's 52-yard line, but just at that point State was penalized 15 yards. After one play, the ball was punted to Central's 33-yard line, and was returned only about three yards by Frank. After one play, Central punted to State's 38-yard line; and right here the tragedy of the game occurred.

An on-side kick was called for, and following down, and gained six yards.

The second trial gained three more; but Johnston decided to punt again and take no chances. So Shelby punted to Central's 52-yard line, and the ball was brought back only three yards, giving Central first down at the center of the field. They made ten yards in two trials. Then in two more trials they made three yards towards their own goal, and were forced to punt.

Threlkeld caught the ball on State's

We wish to take this means of thanking Professor Wilson for his kindness in writing the magnificent account of the Thanksgiving game for the Idea. It is quite different from any other account we ever saw; it is a good piece of literature; and it is absolutely correct. Take our word for it.

MILITARY.

Indoor Drill and Target Practice.

The cold and rainy days are approaching and some of the Freshmen are thinking that on bad days they will get out of drill, but boys your hopes are in vain for by that time we will have a nice new floor in the Armory on which you can drill to your heart's content.

The indoor drill will consist of the manual of arms, facings and guard mount. There will also be target practice and next year a team will probably be selected and sent to compete at some inter-collegiate outdoor match.

This year the inter-collegiate outdoor matches were shot at Sea Girt.

BACK AMONG US.

Among the former students of the University who were present for the game Thursday were B. E. W. Stout, "Nevy" Stone, "Star" Stofer, Jeff Elgin, Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, Miss Helen McCandless, W. O. Stackhouse, Pat Nebbett, Wallace Newburger, Miss Dickey, Miss Ethel Bryant, Miss Poreh, John Carmody, Jack Dodd, B. C. Ford, Harry Milton and Sterrett Jarbor.

STATE-CENTRAL GAME

 23-yard line, and returned it 15 yards. Then State carried the ball to Central's 48-yard line. Here a forward pass failed and the penalty brought State back into her own territory. A good long punt sent the ball to Central's 25-yard line, to Duffy, who returned ten yards. To help a little, Barbee kicked the ball right into the line. Everybody scrambled after the ball as it bounced towards State's goal; and finally a Central man ended the agony, by falling on the ball on State's 25-yard line. In two plays the ball was carried 12 yards. Then the next play resulted in no gain. But the next attempt was a forward pass to Seelbach, which, according to the officials, was eminently successful, for Central was accorded a touchdown. On the kick-out Frank took four or five steps after catching the ball, but was allowed to kick goal. The score then stood Central 6, State 3.

State then kicked off, and, after a couple of plays and an interchange of punts, time was called with the ball in Central's possession on her own ten-yard line.

The second half started by State kicking off. A short kick was tried and failed by a hair's breadth. This gave Central the ball on her own 37-yard line. The first play netted a loss of eight yards, so a punt was in order. This gave State the ball at the center of the field. After a couple of plays, which netted less than five yards, State punted to Central's 24-yard line. The ball was returned four yards, and State was penalized 15, which, altogether, made a very substantial gain. The next play, however, netted nothing, so the ball was punted to State's 45-yard line. After one trial, which gained two yards, State punted to Central's 22-yard line. On the next play Central lost five yards and punted to Johnston on her 40-yard line. From this point the ball was taken over for a touchdown. In the process a partly blocked punt helped some. A long, lanky Central player reached up into the clouds, but was able to touch the ball with only the tips of his fingers. This retarded its progress just enough so that Ellis was able to secure it after it had journeyed about 15 yards towards the Central goal. Three more plays brought the ball to the eight-yard line, from which distance Barbee carried it across, while the defense was being entertained by his interference. The score was State 9, Central 6, after Barbee kicked goal.

This touchdown seemed to break the spirit of the Central team. They still fought as well as they knew, but they knew in their hearts that they were doomed and fought despairingly, trying to prevent the inevitable.

After the touchdown, Central kicked off to Barbee, on the State goal line. He returned 25 yards. Then Shanklin, on a fake punt, took it almost to the center of the field. After that the play was almost entirely in Central's territory, until Barbee made another place kick, bringing the score up to State 12, Central 6.

Central's next kick off was to Rodes on the five-yard line. He brought the ball back 25 yards. Then Barbee went around Central's left end for 27 yards. After that the play was entirely in Central's territory for a few minutes until Barbee made another place kick, bringing the score up to State 15, Central 6. During this period of play, the spectators were treated to a somewhat unusual spectacle. The wonderful Seelbach had dropped back, ostensibly to be the star performer in a punt formation. He received the ball all right and started to run with it instead of kicking. He only started to run, however, because a small form was seen to dart from the State line, grab him around the waist, and then, assisted by one of his team mates, who had arrived upon the scene, throw him on the ground fully 20 yards behind the line on which the ball was put in play. The hero was none other than our friend William Rodes, who weighs slightly more than 140 pounds. Seelbach weighs about 185, as near as can be ascertained.

The game ended shortly after the next kick-off, and when time was called, the ball was in Central's possession on her 50-yard line.

Hagerman Notes

Miss Nell Shaw entertained Misses Celia West, Helen Crawford, Marie Drury, and Lorine Martin at her home, in Frankfort, during the holidays.

Mr. Coleman Simmons spent a few days with his parents, Professor and Mrs. G. P. Simmons.

Miss Elizabeth Wiley spent Thanksgiving with Miss Josephine Harkins at her home, in Prestonburg.

Mr. Warford of Illinois, visited his daughter, Miss Muriel, during the holidays.

Saturday evening, while the boarders were at supper, a burglar entered one of the first floor rooms. Hearing someone coming he jumped from a window, but the ever-diligent watchman had discovered him and he was soon on his way to jail in a closed carriage kindly brought around by the obliging police.

Misses Katherine Klein, Pauline Amos and Dorothy Bryant spent Thanksgiving with Miss Emma Mount Joy, at Warsaw.

Thanksgiving was very quiet here, as the girls who live near went home, taking with them many of the girls from a distance.

The courtesy shown by State University in reserving seats for the Hagerman girls at the ball game was greatly appreciated. On account of the holiday and absence of so many girls, those who were here did not attend in a body. But quite a number were scattered through the crowd and of course were loyally supporting State.

The play given by the ladies of the Episcopal church in Duff Chapel, Friday evening was well attended and a success in every way.

Sayre Notes

Miss Clara Bostain of Carlisle, visited Miss Margaret Steele at the College, Thanksgiving.

Miss Sara and Ann T. James and Miss Nancy Payne spent Thanksgiving with Miss Katherine Logan.

FOOTBALL BANQUET.

We hear that the football banquet is to be given in a few days. This year it is to be entirely a student affair. All members of the team and the scrubs will be invited, all others will pay about a dollar or a dollar and a half for their plate. This will be our means of showing the team and the scrubs especially how we appreciate the hard work they have done for the last three months in turning out a championship team.

Every student of the University will be expected to be present, and it promises to be quite a jolly affair.

THE COACH NEXT YEAR.

We have heard that several other colleges, including Tennessee, are trying to get Mr. Sweetland for a coach next year. If there be any truth in the statement, we know not, but we do know this: if Mr. Sweetland coaches at any other University other than the University of Kentucky next year, it will show that "there is something doing rotten in Denmark." Money can not enter into the matter, for every student here will be more than willing to pawn his clothes rather than see Mr. Sweetland leave us. If Mr. Sweetland stops coaching that is a different matter. That can not be helped. But there is one thing to it: if Mr. Sweetland goes to another University next year it will show that there are some persons in this University who have made it impossible for him to stay.

Some persons, who by their actions, have shown themselves unfriendly to him and who have by their petty jealousies and acts made it unpleasant here for Mr. Sweetland.

We hope that Mr. Sweetland will remain here and we know that every student wants him to remain, and that as a whole they demand that all possible means be employed in securing his services next year.

COACH TO TEAM.

As a fitting culmination to such a marvelous football season, the Coach presented to each member of the team, Monday, a beautiful watch fob made of chaste silver.

The pendant is inscribed "The Football Team, University of Kentucky." In the center is a blue football on which is a white "K." The fob is very handsome and all the team will treasure them as remembrances of the man they love so dearly.

Y. M. C. A. RECEPTION.

The reception given by the Y. M. C. A., of State University, on Friday evening, last, was indeed a pleasant affair. The young ladies of Hamilton College honored us with their presence. There were also representatives from Sayre and Campbell-Hagerman Colleges.

The only fault to be found with it, is that the State boys were outnumbered. But they were the ones who suffered, and can censure only themselves.

STUDENTS CONFERENCE.

Do you want to see K. S. U. represented at the Great Student's Conference, at Rochester, N. Y.? If so, help the cause. Remember this is not a Y. M. C. A. undertaking, but one of the whole student body—Y. M. C. A. fellows and Non-Y. M. C. A. fellows; Frats and non-frats.

IN LITERARY SOCIETY CIRCLES.

What is the matter with Inter-collegiate debating? It is nearly time for a question to be submitted and no one knows which institution has to submit it. Last year C. U. defeated Georgetown, at Georgetown, and T. U. defeated State at State. According to the constitution of the Inter-collegiate Debating Association, we have to debate Georgetown this year; but no one knows whether it will be here or there and apparently no one cares.

State has not taken enough interest in this to cause a team to be selected as yet. Georgetown has chosen her team and is only waiting for the committee to render their decision as to who shall submit the question? Is it possible for these gentlemen to bestir themselves?

The Patterson Literary Society will hold its Annual Declamatory Contest December the 10th. There will be three contestants, Messrs Babb, Route and Worthington. The medal to be awarded is known as the "Crum Medal" and is one of the costliest medals issued at the University.

A COACH FOR BASKET AND BASE BALL.

We have just had a very vivid example of what good football coaches will do toward turning out championship teams.

With all due probability would C. U. have played the game they did on Thanksgiving if they had not had a good coach in the person of Mr. Banks, or would State have beaten Illinois without Sweetland. I do not think that either team would have won a game if they had not been coached properly.

The same is true of basket and base ball and all forms of athletics. It is not much pleasure for a college man to sit at a basket or base ball game and see your team playing like all possessed and finally being beaten for the lack of being coached in the rudiments of the game.

Such was the case last year in both basket and base ball; fine team and a world of material being defeated by a bunch of well coached green horns.

It is clearly absurd to talk of dropping basket ball or any other form of sport from the largest school in the State and so the question is how to get a coach for basket and base ball and a place for the basket ball team to practice.

The question of a coach is a complex one and to me unreasonable. A good coach makes a good team and a good team is the best advertisement an up-to-date school can have, but Kentucky State University is not willing to pay for its advertising and so our teams are struggling along winning in football and track work with a coach and being defeated in basket and base ball for the lack of one.

And the reason we lack men for these important places is because the student body cannot pay for their services, and since the students cannot I think that the school should.

So let us put the question to the Board of Trustees and see if we cannot persuade them to allow the school to give three thousand dollars a year for advertising in the form of athletic directors or coaches for the four major sports (Football, Basket Ball, Base Ball and Track).

With this assistance I believe that the teams from State could defeat all others in the South and get a fine rating in the North and East.

NEVILLE DANCE.

The Neville Literary Society entertained Thursday evening with a reception and dance in gymnasium hall at State University of Kentucky in honor of the football team of Central University and of State University.

The ball room was decorated in the colors of the society, green and yellow with draperies of bunting and palms, ferns and flowers placed about. In one end of the hall electric illuminations formed C. U. and opposite S. U. to compliment the guests of honor.

The orchestra platform was bordered with blooming plants and frappe was served at a table decked with flowers. A band of colored musicians furnished the music and the dance opened with a grand march led by Mr. James Cary and Miss Sarah Marshall who was gowned prettily in pale blue silk.

The other members of the society, all charming young hostesses in pretty gowns, Misses Gayle Parker, Marion Taylor, Mary Taylor, Dolly Battaille, Alice Cary Williams, Blanche Netherton, Helen Fullenlove, Bessie Hayden, Mattie Cary, Elizabeth Cary, Eloise Ginn, Lida Jones, Mary Spencer, Lillie Parks, Marietta Cassady, Florence Crowder, Marion Johnson, Cleo Gillis, Inis Gillis, Elizabeth Fried, Hattie Nolan, Scott McCarty, Sallie Bennett, Frances Hughes, assisted in receiving and entertaining and the chaperone were Dr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Pryor, Professor and Mrs. Alfred Zembrod, Mrs. William Irvine, Mrs. Kate Spears, Mrs. Alfred W. Marshall, Mrs. Preston Williams.

The evening was happy and joyous with felicitations for the victorious team and consolations for the visitors, who had all played such a magnificent game of football in the afternoon.

The assembly of guests was large, including the faculty and students of State University and a number of other Danville visitors besides the football team.

CHAPEL SERVICES.

Following our glorious victory over Central Thanksgiving, who will deny that we celebrated it at chapel, Monday morning in a manner that puts all other chapel exercises, even the most elaborate, in a class far down the list.

Everyone connected with the University showed his and her appreciation of our great little team, and it certainly made every student who was present glad to the heart to hear President Patterson and the other speakers of the morning pour out praise in language eloquent beyond description to the eleven heroes of the occasion and the unsophisticated scrubs, "In whom we see nothing scrubby."

And then on Tuesday came the fitting climax and the reward more precious than all others. The lovely carload of pure white flowers,—who would not endure twice the hardships of a football career to receive such a token from such admirers?

"Young ladies of Campbell-Hagerman, our hearts yearn to thank you and to tell you the gratitude, words cannot express for your loyalty, support and faithfulness. Your favor would intoxicate us, your presence overwhelms us and makes us glad that we live and are members of K. S. U.," are the words of the entire team.

Mr. J. B. Stanwood, An Eminent Engineer, Addresses Senior Mechanical Engineers.

Mr. J. B. Stanwood of the firm of Houston, Stanwood and Gamble, of Cincinnati, addressed the senior mechanical engineers on last Wednesday, on the subject of Steam Distribution. Mr. Stanwood distributed to the class, reprints of a paper which he presented before the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, on the Losses of Non-condensing Engines. The speaker presented his subject in the most attractive and instructive manner. On account of his wide experience in engine building,

Mr. Stanwood is regarded as one of the foremost authorities on steam engine economy, in the engineering profession.

The students of State University are indeed fortunate to have had the privilege of coming in contact with a man of Mr. Stanwood's standing in engineering circles. He was at one time, Director of the Technical School of Cincinnati, and naturally has a fondness for the young men who are pursuing a technical course.

SOPHOMORE DANCE.

For the first time in the history of the University, the Sophomore class will give a dance Friday evening at 8 o'clock, in the Gymnasium. The dance is given in honor of the football team and the faculty and student body are cordially invited.

LOST—Cameo setting for ring, on floor of Gymnasium, night of Football Rally. Return to Teddy Cobb—Patterson Hall.

HISTORY AND ECONOMICS.

Mr. Isaac M. Brann, of the Northwestern Mutual, addressed the class in Economics on "Life Insurance as a Business." Mr. Brann in a most interesting way explained the vast business of twenty-five leading companies. It is expected that other speakers will from time to time, describe other lines of business for the benefit of the students.

Dr. Tutthill has been elected a member of the Filson Club, of Louisville.

It is expected that a History Club will be organized this week. There has been a constant demand for advanced work in the teaching of history, and the time seems opportune to effect an organization.
