TIGERT ADDRESSES Y. M. C. A. MEETING

The first of a series of meetings held under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. of the University was held last Sunday evening, October 10, from 6:15 to 7:15, in the assembly room. The meeting was called to order by Karl Zerfoss, chairman, with a goodly number of members present. Prof. J. J. Tigert delivered an excellent address on "The Varsity Man," which was enjoyed by all present. Several violin solos by Mr. Herz, a member of the student body, were added to the program. Mr. Carl L. Bernhart consented to act as official piano player for the following meetings. It has been planned that a schedule shall be arranged sometime in the near future for every meeting, including the speaker and his subject, as well as any new attraction that can be added, which will be of interest.

FRESHMAN SEASON OPENS WITH VICTORY

State Yearlings Defeat Louisville Manual on Muddy Field.

SCORE SEVEN TO ZERO.

The Freshman team proved good mudders last Saturday when they defeated the eleven from Louisville Manual Training High School by the score of 7 to 0.

The whole game was played in a sea of mud with a hard rain falling most of the time, making the ball hard to handle and musing the players up considerably.

The Louisville boys were affected more by the weather conditions than the Freshmen, as their best plays were from open formations and required fast play, while the State yearlings relied more on line plunging to gain their ground.

The game started with Manual receiving the kick-off. Hinne kicked to Manual's thirty-five yard line and the game was on. The Reds failed to gain and Adams kicked. The ball got by Rodes and went to the five yard line, but Server kicked out of danger. After this the ball traveled up and down the field, being in Manual's territory most of the time and at the end of the quarter was on the Red's twenty yard line in State's possession.

The only touchdown of the game was made early in the second quarter when, after several line bucks by Britton, Rodes and Grabfelder, the latter was pushed ever for a touchdown, from which Rodes kicked goal. The rest of the quarter was spent in swimming around the field, no very spectacular plays being made by either side.

Between the halves the rain increased and the spectators took refuge under the grand stand and other near-by dry places, awaiting the renewal

JUDGE BARKER GIVES BOOKS TO LIBRARY

The latest additions made to the University library are: Victor Hugo's works in eleven volumes; McCauley's History of Europe in five volumes; McCauley's speeches in two volumes; and "Recollections of Forty Years in the House, Senate and Cabinet," by Henry Cabot Lodge. These books were given by President Barker from his private library.

Miss King, the librarian, expressed much gratification at the number of students who use the library daily and requests it announced on behalf of the new students that the library will be open from 7 to 9:30 in the evening.

CITY HALL WILL GET HALF HOLIDAY

Lexington has come to the support of the University Wildcats. Mayor Cassidy, Mr. Jones, of the Young Men's Business Club and Secretary Cramer of the Commercial Club, have taken a hand in the Kentucky University football game to be played here Saturday. A half holiday will be observed at the city hall to allow all employees to attend the game and President Jones, at the meeting of the Young Men's Business Club, urged all to be present at the game.

The interest and anticipation in the coming game is as great among the citizens of Lexington as among the students of the University. This augurs well for by such a feeling of sympathy is established between city and University.

PROHIBITION CLUB TO ELECT OFFICERS

The Prohibition Club of the University will meet Friday evening, October 16th, at 7:00 o'clock, in the Y. M. C. A. room to elect officers for the collegiate year. The club was organized in the spring of last year, but failed to be represented in the inter-collegiate prohibition oratorical contest held at Winchester last year.

The club will hold regular meetings this year and discuss the prohibition question, which has of late become one of the most potent factors in politics.

"K" Tags at Business Agent's office.

STUDENT ADVISORS NAMED FOR MEN

The list of student advisors for the College of Arts and Science, with the names of the students assigned to each professor, is posted on the bulletin board in the hall of the Administration Building.

The assignments have been made as far as it was possible to the professors under whom the students have recitations in the department in which they take their major work. In this manner the student meets his adviser several times each week.

"K" TAG DANCE FRIDAY NIGHT

Much Interest Shown in Making First Hop Enjoyable Affair.

The "K" tag dance will be given in the Armory Friday night. Goodwin's Saxophone Trio will furnish music and the first of the eighteen dances will begin promptly at eight o'clock.

The following will be allowed at the opening dance: One-step, hesitation castle walk, waltz and two-step.

FRESHMEN WIN THE ANNUAL PULLFEST

Drag Sophomores Into Clifton Pond Pretty Clothes and All.

FIRST "FRESH" VICTORY.

The second annual pullfest between the yearlings and two-year-olds at Clifton pond, Tuesday afternoon at 2:30, resulted in the yearlings winning in the stretch, and consequently the two-year-olds had their spirits considerably dampened and their ardor cooled by the 60-degree water.

The white hopes of both classes, in a multitudinous variety of dress, assembled on Clifton Heights shortly before 2 o'clock and arranged the details of the tug-of-war. The cable was strung across the pond, footholds were dug, hands taped, and "bang!" the starter's pistol rang out.

At first neither side seemed to have an advantage, but in a few moments the foremost of the "Sophs" were seen gradually to give way. The "Freshies," feeling the cable give, scented victory, and threw all their hopes in their hands and their footholds, and the crowd saw and cheered—the beginning of the end.

Only a few of the "Sophs" went into the water, however, while the majority, all bedecked in their colors of black and gold, balked at the finish, not wishing to soak their non-guaranteed-to-be-fast colors. The "Freshies," after their victory, fell into marching order and flaunting their blue and gold insignia, pulled the spoils of war (the cable) through the city to Sayre, Transylvania and Hamilton Colleges, giving triumphant yells.

A large crowd, anxious to see demonstrations of the latest "swims," braved the inclement weather to witness the struggle between 250 or more Freshmen and a somewhat smaller number of "Sophs"—and were disappointed, yea, disappointed because they did not see an amateur Annette Kellerman.

The Freshman class of last year, who are now Sophomores, found last year to their discomfort that the tug-of-war was exactly what it was represented to be—the wettest and most disagreeable method ever devised for the settlement of class supremacy.

In the two years the tug-of-war has been held here, the yearlings and two-year-olds have each won a heat—may the best horse win the third heat.

STUDENT FAILS TO ADDRESS LOVE LETTER

Some student, after writing a letter to a lady friend, failed to address same and it was returned to the Y. M. C. A.

The author of this epistle may obtain same by applying to Mr. E. L. Hall, Y. M. C. A. secretary. The letter seems to be of much importance and begins "My dearest Lilly May," closing, "Your own true love. B. M. W."

MISSISSIPPI A. & M. NEXT ON GRIDIRON

Strong Southern Aggregation to be Entertained at Stoll Field on Next Saturday.

FIRST REAL OPPONENT

On next Saturday the Wildcats will get busy after a two-weeks lay-off and tackle a real, "sure-nuff" football team from Mississippi A. & M. The strength of the Southerners is unknown as yet, but the game will not be anybody's parade.

Coach Brumage will start his first strong backfield and linemen and they will play throughout the game, barring injuries. All the men are in first-class shape and are confident of returning victorious in Saturday's conflict.

JUNIOR CLASS MAKES ANNUAL SELECTIONS

Class Orator, Assistant Editor and Assistant Varsity Football Manager Chosen.

The Junior Class met at noon Friday, October 9, in Professor Dantzier's room to dispose of business left over from the previous meeting.

Karl Zerfoss, of Ashland, winner of the Union Literary Society gold medal for oratory in his Freshman year, was elected class orator, and "Slim" Felix, of Hartford, was elected class yeller.

Following the custom of electing three assistant managers for the Varsity football team, one of whom is chosen as manager next year, Julius Wolf, of Ashland, F. O. Townes, of Madisonville, and B. D. Howe, of Elizaville, were elected for this position.

Herbert Graham, of Frankfort, was elected assistant editor of the "Kentuckian," and will be editor-in-chief next year. R. E. Cullen was elected assistant business manager. Mr. Graham has had several years of experience in journalistic work and at present is a reporter on The Herald staff.

STROLLERS!

Important meeting Friday, at 12 M., in chapel.

Everybody is going to the "K" dance.

MILITARY SCIENCE FORGING TO FRONT

The Department of Military Science in the University of Kentucky is one of the best departments in the University. It not only is a way to create discipline in the student body, but its physical effects on the students is manifest.

All men who are physically able and who are not employed in some work outside of the University are required to take this work. The men who play football are excused from drill until the football season is over, then they are required to take up the work.

The suits have been ordered for the cadets and are expected to arrive soon.

LINING UP FOR THE BIG ANNUAL DEBATE

Patterson and Union Men o' War Maneuvering for Battle December 18th.

The annual inter-society debate between the Patterson and Union societies is scheduled to take place December 18. Indications are that this will be one of the hardest polemic contests ever held at the University. The subject, "Resolved, that the Monroe Doctrine should be abandoned," is one of vital interest now to the American people. The three men from each society who will compose the team will be chosen by process of elimination in preliminary contest which will be held separately, Patterson Society October 24, and Union later.

Three years ago President Barker gave to each society $25, to be invested as it saw fit for prizes. It was agreed by both societies to invest the money collectively in a loving cup and debate for possession of the cup. This has been done for two years. In 1912 Patterson Society won the cup and kept it a year. Last year, 1913, the trophy passed into the Union's hands by a two to one decision. The society which wins this year's debate will be allowed to keep the cup permanently. The Patterson Society has all of its last year team, although it is doubtful whether all these men will try this year for the contest.

The Union Society lost all of its last year team, which was composed entirely of Seniors. However, strong recruits have joined both societies this year with the intention of making the teams. About ten men will enter the Patterson elimination contest, among whom will be C. P. Nicholson, G. C. Wilson, Combs, Grady, Harney and Willett, and several Freshmen.

Four men so far are working for the Union team. These are C. Bailey, J. C. Coleman, C. Clark and W. O. Nance.

This debate promises to be one of the most sharply contested events of the year.

UNIVERSITY NOTES

The reading room of the Y. M. C. A. is better equipped this year than ever before, the literature being donated by people from the city. It is not only interesting but educational as well, being composed of the best magazines published in the country, as well as several daily papers.

Mr. E. L. Hall is in receipt of a letter from the International Y. M. C. A. Committee at New York City, complimenting the University hand book, saying that it is the best they have seen published in the United States. Owen S. Lee was the editor and promoter of this book and much credit is due him for his ability as well as his untiring energy in placing in the hands of every student such a valuable article.

Dr. W. L. Anderson, teacher of physical training, is giving dancing lessons to his classes in the gym. This is something entirely new and heretofore unknown in the University. Doctor Anderson says, "I hope by this means to develop coordination and gracefulness in the man, as I would rather see a graceful man than a man of great strength. The former I can develop much quicker than the latter."

Preparations are being made for a track meet to be held on October 31, for any and every man in the University who has not won a "K." It is hoped that by this means more interest will be given to track athletics, which in the past has been allowed to swag. Out of the 1,500 students enough material should be found to place Kentucky in the front at any track meet in the country.

Doctor Anderson was a member of the Yale track team and there won his

"Y." For fourteen years he has coached track teams, so with this experience it is readily seen that he is in every way qualified to train the men.

The inter-frat basket ball series that is being promoted at present is another entirely new feature and is hoped to be a great success.

As is known the members of the Law School do not take much interest in exercise and bodily development, their training being entirely mental. To instill vigor and strength into these men a gym class has been started for their benefit. On each Tuesday and Thursday, from 2:30 to 3:30, this class meets. About thirty men have enrolled and it is hoped that this number will be increased at each meeting.

A biological society has been formed at the University, open to students of all departments in the University. Mr. S. P. Young has been elected president. All students in the University interested in this field are requested to join. At the next meeting, Friday night, Doctor Anderson will address the students, subject, "Human Eugenics."

The agricultural students expressed a great deal of regret at the loss of Prof. S. E. Jones, who has accepted a lucrative position at Purdue. Professor Jones has taught soil physics here at the University, and his county surveys, upon which he compiled careful statistics, has been a contribution to the Kentucky farmer.

The Kentucky Miners Society of State University, have elected the following officers:

President, W. Noel.
 Vice-President, S. J. Caudill.
 Secretary and Treasurer, W. C. Eyr.
 After the business was attended the society indulged in reminiscence for a pleasant hour.

The Executive Committee of the Association of Kentucky Colleges, met in called session Monday afternoon, October 12th, at the University Club, over the Ben All Theatre. Those present were: President A. M. Miller, of State University, who presided; Secretary F. E. Rainey, of Central University; M. B. Adams, president of Georgetown College; T. B. McCartney, of Transylvania, and Professor M. E. Marsh, of Berea College.

Radical amendments to the constitution, relative to the admission of other colleges and a standard of qualification for membership were considered. A committee was appointed to consider Louisville's qualification for membership in the association.

The annual executive meeting of the Kentucky Intercollegiate Association was held Monday evening, October 12, to pass upon the eligibility of the football players which will represent the four institutions of the association. There were present Chairman T. B. McCartney, dean of Transylvania University; Secretary John L. Hill, dean of Georgetown College; Professor F. L. Rainey, of Central University; Professor J. H. Hewlett, of Kentucky Wesleyan College, and Professor M. E. Marsh, of Berea College.

Morton High School, of Lexington, has successfully inaugurated a night school in which eighteen young men and one young lady are matriculated. Prof. J. F. Bruner and Miss Ella Phillips and Miss Virginia Tingle have charge of the work.

The Louisville Club, one of the largest of the University clubs, held its first meeting Thursday, October 14th, and elected the following officers: President, Leo J. Sandmann; vice-president, Miss Eva H. Stafford; treasurer, Maury Crutcher, and secretary, Miss Marie L. Michot.

A bulletin has just been issued by the Experiment Station concerning the present situation with reference to hog cholera. The farmer is urged to avoid the many "fake" cures of this disease which are being widely advertised, and to depend more upon sanitary conditions. The Experiment Station supplies literature on this subject and hog cholera serum, the only cure of the disease, is manufactured there and sold at cost of production.

Virgil L. Downing, who graduated from the Mechanical Engineering Department in the class of 1911, has been in Lexington visiting his father, W. F. Downing. Mr. Downing is located with the Thos. B. Jeffery Company, manufacturers of automobiles, and has been successful in this work since graduation.

In answer to the question, "Whizzer mazzar wiz ze moon?" as propounded by the Lexington Leader, Professor H. H. Downing, astronomer and mathematician, says that there was nothing the matter with the moon on the night in question, except that it was in its third quarter; that is, it was stopping at every cefe on the road in an effort to get full and when seen was only three-quarters full. It may be that the embryo astronomers who took such particular pains to find freckles and Swiss cheese holes on Miss Luna's face did not lack as much as the one-quarter.

The Horace Mann Society of State University will meet Thursday evening, October 15, in Education Building.

The Canterbury Club met Thursday evening, October 8th, in the office of Prof. J. T. C. Noe.

Plans are being worked out in the Business Agent's office of State University for a complete report of the daily and monthly expenditures of State Hall, the dormitory commons for students of the institution.

It is thought that this will greatly aid the efficiency of the undertaking. The commons was built on the idea of furnishing food for the students at its actual cost, and in order to do this it is planned that financial efficiency must be the basis on which the commons must be conducted.

The first monthly report has not been made out yet, but, so far, the undertaking has been successful, and as the students realize the convenience and the help it is to them they lend their patronage and its permanent success is assured.

President Henry S. Barker has been requested by the Young Men's Christian Association, of Stone, Ky., to deliver an address before a meeting of Eastern Kentucky miners at Stone, h's week. President Barker has accepted the invitation and on his return will deliver another address before the Ashland District Educational Association, at Paris, Ky. It is probable that Prof. C. R. Melcher, the recently appointed dean of men, will accompany him.

President Henry S. Barker will go to South Park, Jefferson Countk, Ky., October 25th, to deliver an address at the opening of the annual chautauqua there.

LAW NOTES

The law students held a meeting in the Natural Science Building Monday at noon and elected Samuel Monarch, subscription manager of the Kentucky Law Journal. The journal, of which I. M. Nickell is editor, will be the official publication of the College of Law.

The law students of the University assembled Monday evening in the court room of the Law Department as a legislative body. B. T. Roundtree, who was a member of the Kentucky Legislature during the last session, presided as speaker. Several important laws were discussed, among them the bill to prevent hazing in State University. This bill was one actually introduced in the Kentucky Legislature.

AGGIES AND HOME ECONOMICS CONVENE

Nearly Two Hundred Engaged in Two Branches of Work Confer.

The first joint meeting of the Agricultural and Home Economics Societies was held in chapel, October 12, with an attendance of nearly two hundred. The department of Home Economics attended in a body and the Agricultural Society was well represented.

Chairman McDonald made a brief talk, after which President H. S. Barker emphasized the importance of the farmer to the community, and the necessity of scientific training for every one engaged in agricultural pursuits. He presented Judge Lyman Chalkley, who gave an entertaining talk on the subject, "Diogenes vs. Socrates." The main idea that the judge wished to bring out was the necessity for the student to aim at accurate thinking.

A delightful vocal solo was given by Miss Helen Bukholder, accompanied by Miss Frances Geisel, after which refreshments were served.

The joint meetings of the two societies will be held regularly the second Monday in each month.

FAT STOCK JUDGING SQUAD LARGE

Preparation for the fat stock judging team has brought out a good bunch of contestants this fall and from these there will be chosen a team that should be able to bring back a good share of the prizes from the International Fat Stock Show at Chicago later this fall. The students have already been doing some good work and some are said to show real "class" in their preliminary work.

GRADUATES BECOME COUNTY AGENTS

Two of the graduates of the 1914 class of the College of Agriculture, accepted positions this week to begin work as county demonstration agents. H. K. Gayle went to Simpson county and G. C. Richardson to Christian county. Both will receive excellent salaries in the beginning and have good chances for advancement, for before. Enthusiasm ran high and the public took a greater interest in the game. All educational institutions in the State put out basket ball teams, and, with only one or two exceptions, every team had a good intercollegiate schedule. In the Kentucky Intercollegiate Association, which is composed of several of the smaller colleges, the basket ball supremacy was closely contested, and not until the last game was played was a winner determined. Georgetown College was declared the best team in the Kentucky Intercollegiate Association. For State-wide supremacy, first place was given to the team representing the State University. The State University team was, perhaps, stronger than ever before in the history of basket ball at the institution. This team won over all opponents played in the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

CATTLE JUDGING TEAM GOES TO IOWA

The dairy cattle judging team, composed of Phil E. Richards, Claud B. Taylor, Benjamin Mahoney and D. D. Elliot, in charge of Prof. J. J. Hooper, left Monday afternoon for Waterloo, Ia., where they will be in training before going to the National Dairy Show, which is to be held for a week in Chicago, beginning October 22. Previous to this time they will also attend a big sale of Holstein cattle at Sterling, Ill.

Of these four men, Professor Hooper will elect three as a regular team, the remaining man to go as an alternate. The Kentucky boys will compete with fifteen or more State Universities and Colleges, from all over the United States, for four cups, (one for each breed of cattle to be judged), and various individual prizes.

While away on this trip, Kentucky's team will pay visits to Ames, Iowa, and Madison, Wisconsin, where the two state universities of these states are located.

THE OFFICIAL COLLEGIATE BASE BALL GUIDE

The official collegiate base ball guide, containing the official rules as prescribed by the collegiate basket ball rules committee, has just been issued from the press and will soon be ready for distribution. The book contains pictures of all the leading college teams of the country, also records of the teams, list of players, captains, managers and team coaches, list of officials and other interesting basket ball data. Many of the most prominent men in college athletics have contributed articles for the book. Alpha Brumage, of the State University, has a write-up which is a review of the game in Kentucky. His article is as follows:

"The basket ball season of 1913-14 has furnished those interested in the game the best brand of basket ball in the history of that branch of athletics. More good college basket ball has been played the past year than ever before. Enthusiasm ran high and the public took a greater interest in the game. All educational institutions in the State put out basket ball teams, and, with only one or two exceptions, every team had a good intercollegiate schedule. In the Kentucky Intercollegiate Association, which is composed of several of the smaller colleges, the basket ball supremacy was closely contested, and not until the last game was played was a winner determined. Georgetown College was declared the best team in the Kentucky Intercollegiate Association. For State-wide supremacy, first place was given to the team representing the State University. The State University team was, perhaps, stronger than ever before in the history of basket ball at the institution. This team won over all opponents played in the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

A picture of the State University team, Georgetown College team, Eastern Normal team and Bethel College team appear in the book. The list of officials approved by the rules committee contains the following Kentuckians: Prof. J. J. Tigert, State University; Prof. Robt. J. Hinton, Georgetown College; Henry Shanklin, Ashland Y. M. C. A., and Prof. A. Keith, and Prof. Ben Barnard, of the Eastern Normal.

THE HONOR SYSTEM.

Every student in the University knows that the honor system applies to quizzes, examinations and general conduct. About three years ago this system was adopted by the students and has since been in vogue.

The principles of the honor system are very simple. "Honor system" means that when one signs his name to an examination paper, it is a pledge that he has neither given nor received aid from any source upon the subject about which he is being examined.

The system is the ideal solution for doing away with cheating and false explanations. It is deplorable for a student to fail the honor system.

It is by the individual merit of each student that the University is judged. Should one be able to "fake" his way through college, the standard would be lowered. It is a duty that we owe to ourselves and fellowmen, to be honest in all things.

The student who shapes his conduct in accordance with the principles of the honor system cannot fail, but will be a credit to himself, his class and to the institution.

Yes, ignorance is bliss, the task
Of knowing pains the wise;
And that is why we never ask
What goes into mince pies.
—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Yes, ignorance is bliss, 'tis true;
That's why we lay down the cash
And eat and eat and never ask
What goes into the hash.

Logan Helm didn't get to school until ten Wednesday morning, but he should have known better than to have waited for that South Lime car.

J. R. Peck was heard to remark one afternoon as he was trying to squeeze through a crowd out of the Colonial Theater, that the Colonial evidently had a large income.

J. W. Thompson was a victim of circumstances some time ago. He wrote home for some emergency "spondulix" and waited and waited and waited; and then found that the letter was being held at the post office for "incomplete address."

War time brings its increases, but Clark Rogers says that his first experience with quizzes this year seems to indicate that the increases do not apply to quiz grades.

The Auburn Orange and Blue notes that Mr. So and So got to class on time Tuesday, but that's nothing to boast about. We have a professor, J.
Morton Davis, who does that sometimes.

Three hundred "Aggies" spent the afternoon at the trotting track, says a news item. They must have spent more than that as most of them had to walk home.

Professor H. H. Downing asks us to announce that he will very much appreciate the favor if some of the boys who come down Aylesford Place on their way to school would stop at No.

350, that street, and wake up O. S.
Lee in time for him to get to his first-hour class.

Highland Park College calls itself
the "College of Certainities." The Gadfly rises to remark that State is also a college of certainities—you're certain to pass or you're certain to flunk.

A recent issue of an exchange contains a number of jokes on a student named Mesick, M-E-S-I-C-K, Mesick.
If everything they've written about him in that issue of the paper is true, we don't wonder at his feeling that way.

"Slim" Ehrlich is making his regular trips to Patt Hall as usual. Evidently there are exceptions to the "high cost of loving."

"Buck" Courtney has been elected grumbler of the Senior class. Bet he is still grumbling over the election.
"Buck" is the student who, on his first night up here, tried to blow the electric light out and finding that wouldn't work, put a table under the light, a chair on the table, a box on the chair, a book on the box, and a bucket full of water on the book so that the light hung in the water, and then grumbled because he had to stay awake all night waiting for the light to go out.

Patt Hall saw Raymond Hitchcock in "The Beauty Shop" last week and it is rumored that some of the girls were so wrought up over the transformation of a Queen Elizabeth into a Helen of Troy that they called at a local drug store the next day for some of Dr. Budd's wonderful beauty compounds.

R. D. Puckett, Ben Roth, Earl Mc-Guffy and T. G. Rice stopped in at Jackson Hall one night last week to have a look-in on a colored dance in progress there, but were halted by the burly door-keeper because "Cap'n, we jes' can't let you all come in 'count uv dis bein' a big s'ciety dance."

The question for debate in the Union Literary Society last week was "Resolved, that the hen that laid the egg has a better claim to the chicken than the hen that hatched the bird." The hen that laid the egg won out, which moves "Dutch" Schraeder to ask that if the hen had laid the egg in another man's field, to whom would the egg belong, the man who owned the hen or the man who owned the field?

SPORTING SIDELIGHTS.

The University of Cincinnati team lost their first game last Saturday to Ohio Wesleyan by the score of 13 to 7. The game was played on a muddy field, which probably is responsible for the downfall of the Red and Black.

The loss of Brickley's services will probably prove disastrous for the Crimson this year. There is little hope of his playing again, as this is his last year at Harvard.

Let's see. Yost said if he could develop a line Harvard would be in trouble. In the DePauw game, Michigan's forwards opened DePauw's line at will and DePauw made first down twice—both in the last quarter, after the score was 58 to 0. This is merely a hint to Harvard.

***** FOOTBALL *****

Football is one of the most exciting sports in college athletics. Often big games in the East rival or excel the world's series in excitement and numbers present.

The University football season really begins on Stoll Field Saturday afternoon, when the Wildcats meet the Bulldogs from Mississippi A. & M.

Neither team has as yet engaged in a hard struggle so far this season.
The visiting eleven is made up of robust athletes who are coming to receive the claws of the Wildcats.

Mr. Brumage is working hard to put a winning team upon the field.
The players are working hard to bring victory to our alma mater.

Each man is expected to do his part,
and so he will. The balance of power rests with the student body. It is its duty to be loyal to the team under all circumstances.

AUTOCRAT OF THE BREAKFAST TABLE

Oh beefsteak there upon my plate,
For thee I sigh, on thee I saw,
Why is't thy fibers will not part,
That I may fill my empty maw;
This world a paradise would be
If friends would hold as firm as thee.

***** SNAPSHOTS OF THE BIG WILDCAT TEAM *****

In getting up the Wildcat team the writer can open with no better man than Tuttle, left half, the best backfield man on Stoll Field. He is rugged as a rock and so fast and slippery that the tackler must use his shoulder to get him. "Squirrelly" is not a weather player, but is as good one day as another. Tuttle always has the "goods" when a gain is needed.

Jim Park has given the team "pep" for years and whenever "Turkey" is calling signals he has ten men working like beavers beside him. He features with his head, but is a master at punting and passing.

Paul Hite pulls off long end runs every game. He tackles well and his speed is terrible to his opponents.

On no other team will one find a blocker like Scott, full back. When a player is behind "Scotty," one man in front of him come down always.
He has a habit of dumping the runners hard.

Abe Roth has a swift pair of legs.
With no trouble he takes in the long passes and a race horse couldn't beat him to the goal.

Thompson is the best lineman in Kentucky. He has the power to make holes and break up plays.

Rodman is small for a guard, but has the grit.

Balley at defensive center is a "bear" and the best tackler on the team, but offensively his job is new to him.

Polly Vest is the noise merchant with lots of "beef." He is rounding into good form.

Crutcher is always in the thick of the game.

With him limited experience Corn is holding tackle well. He has been charging with more speed lately.

Zerfoss at end can not be expected to begin to hold down the job as it was cared for last year, nor could any other man.

PROGRAM AS RENDERED BY PATTERSON LITERARY SOCIETY

The program as rendered at the Patterson Literary Society Saturday night, October 10th, was as follows:
Oration—M. P. McCauley.

History of State University—A. B.
Leibovitz.

Humorous Reading, "When Daddy Played Hoss"—G. C. Wilson.

Debate, "Resolved, that Houses of Prostitution Should be Abolished by Law," was won by the affirmatives.

The affirmatives were E. L. Fowler and D. L. McNeil. The negatives, F.
M. Crum and E. P. Wilkerson.

After the report of the critic the society went into business session and a prize committee and a debate committee were named. O. M. Edwards,
B. D. Sartin and O. W. Willett composed the prize committee, and on the debate committee was G. C. Wilson.

Assistant Janitor, H. P. Horine. The various committees have not yet been selected, but will be at the next meeting. President Golden hopes to have the banner society of the Mechanical Department this year, and all members heartily co-operate with him in this matter. Visitors are always welcome at all meetings, which will be announced beforehand.

MECHANICALS '16.

At the last meeting the society was addressed by Mr. George Cherry on the manufacture and use of large artillery as made by the Krupp Gun Works, of Germany. This is at all times a very interesting subject and more especially so at the present time, when the efficiency of these guns is being demonstrated daily in the gigantic struggle now being waged in Europe. Recent developments have shown that the strongest fortification in Europe was unable to withstand the bombardment of modern guns.

Mr. Clarke read a paper on the uses of alloys, which was very instructive. His subject is one on which the average person is entirely uninformed, and which should be a matter of common knowledge, as alloys play a large part today in the industrial world.

Great interest is being taken by the Junior Mechanicals in these weekly meetings, and we look forward to the pleasure and knowledge to be derived herefrom during the present year.

TAU BETA PI PLEDGE DAY.

Friday, October 16th, is set for Tau Beta Pi Pledge Day. On that day the second eighth of those who have the best scholastic standing and show the best promise as engineers, in the Senior class, will be "tapped." Also, at this time, the Junior honor man will be chosen.

An interesting program will be rendered in chapel and all are invited to attend.

Y. W. C. A. MEETS.

The Y. W. C. A. had its regular meeting Sunday night, October 11, at Patterson Hall. Miss Lois Bartlett conducted the meeting. Miss Elizabeth Farra, Anna Lewis Whitworth, and Rebecca Smith, who were delegates to the Y. W. C. A. conference, which met at Blue Ridge, N. C., June 2 to 12, 1914, gave interesting talks. Miss Farra told about the social life, Miss Whitworth spoke about the class work, and Miss Smith talked about "What we brought back from the conference."

The Philosophian Literary Society will meet in the Philosophian room at Patterson Hall Wednesday night, October 14, 1914.

TALENTED ARTIST ADDED TO FACULTY

Miss Mary Macpherson Talks Entertainingly to The IDEA About Her Work.

Owing to the absence of Misses Margaret and Helen Lowry, who for the past few years have been conducting the Art Department of State University, Miss Mary Macpherson, of Louisville, has been called to take charge of the Art School this year.

Miss Macpherson is a native Kentuckian, and a graduate of the Chase School in New York. Previous to her coming to Lexington, she conducted a studio in Louisville, where the principal phase of art taught was commercial art, advertising work playing a large part.

Most Talent Shown by Men.

Asked by The IDEA about her experience in the work, Miss Macpherson said: "My practical experience in commercial art and advertising has been very extensive. My classes in Louisville, however, were mostly women, and I find teaching men quite a novelty. On the whole, I find most talent among the men."

The classes in the University art course, which Miss Macpherson supervises, are chiefly freehand drawing. Later in the year she hopes to assemble a class in outdoor sketching, and a class in life-work. Miss Macpherson is also interested in assembling a pen and ink class for those desiring to do practical newspaper work, or cartooning, still later.

Benefits Derived.

Answering the questions as to what practical value her classes had, the little Scotchwoman said: "The practical value of a free-hand course to mechanical students is very great. They will always find it a great advantage to be able to sketch parts for machinery, before doing the actual, accurate drawing."

How She Does Her Work.

Questioned concerning her method of teaching, Miss Macpherson replied emphatically, "I use the exact methods employed by the Chase school. The only way to teach art is to give each student individual attention. No lecturing can be of any great value. The best way for the art student to learn, is to do the actual work, and then profit by criticism. Each man needs something different, and should have special instruction and criticism. In the large classes here at the University, it is rather difficult to carry out this plan, but I try to work by it as far as possible."

Develops Unconscious Humorist.

"Some of the students exhibit an irresistible humour in their work. One man insisted upon decorating the beautiful face of Venus with a large and enthusiastic mustache. Teaching art to beginners is one big humorous experience."

Compelled at this point to return to her class, Miss Macpherson concluded with, "Oh, it's all so new, I can't find much to say. I just wish I had lots to reel off for you."

Young, pretty, winsome, and very enthusiastic, Miss Macpherson will doubtless make a big success in her ventures this year, not only by hard work, for which she has an infinite capacity, but by sheer force of rare personality.

MUCH INTEREST SHOWN FOR AMATEUR NIGHT

The new students are taking great interest in Amateur Night, which has been scheduled for Hallone'en night. The program, which is under the auspices of the Strollers and the Woman's Club of the University, bids fair to be one of the best ever carried out on this occasion.

There have been already a number of entries for the various events and it is expected that there will be several more in before October 15th, which has been set as the last day on which entries can be made. Prizes are offered to the winner in dramatic readings, open only to girls; dramatic monologues for boys, character songs, classic dancing and buck and wing dancing, acrobatic stunts, one-act plays and miscellaneous, which is aimed to cover anything not coming under the head of any of the other events.

Entries must be made to one of the committee, composed of the following: Professor Weaver, Misses White and Wood, and Messrs. Kennedy, Marsh and Graham.

DEMOCRATS ELECT OFFICERS FOR YEAR

The Democratic Club held its meeting in the Natural Science Building last Wednesday evening, October 7, and elected officers for the ensuing year. Otis Kelly was elected president; J. T. Gooch, vice-president; J. H. Coleman, corresponding secretary; Lester Grady, secretary, and C. P. Nicholson, treasurer.

Any student in the University with Democratic tendencies is eligible to membership in the Democratic Club. General political subjects were discussed and great enthusiasm manifested.

of hostilities. The Reds started off by kicking to C. Haydon, who returned to the middle of the field. The Reds braced in this period and played nice ball, their line holding well under the attack of the Freshmen's heavy backs. Their offensive work was also good, they gaining several first downs during the period. The ball was rapidly becoming hard to hold and several fumbles were made on both sides.

Not until the last quarter did the home boys again threaten their opponent's goal line. Then by a series of line plays and end runs the ball was advanced to Manual's four-yard line, but then the Louisville lads braced valiantly and four times withstood the attacks of Rodes, Kinne, Grabfelder and Britton. It seemed as if a try for field goal was a proper play at this point on the last down, as the play was in front of the goal posts, but Captain Rodes wished to have another touchdown and therefore overlooked this advance of scoring. Manual, upon securing the ball, kicked out of danger and the game ended, with the ball in the center of the field in their possession.

From the side-lines the contest was an interesting one to watch and a good crowd saw the game in spite of the adverse weather conditions. The visitors put up a clean, open game and on a dry field the contest would have been even prettier to see.

In "Wild Bill" Adams the Manual boys have a player of merit. Combined with his weight he is fast and a good kicker. Adams was the mainstay of the team and should develop into a good halfback. Garret, at quarter, also played well.

The whole Freshmen backfield showed up well, Britton's line plunging being very good. Grabfelder also hit the Reds' line for opportune gains and scored the Freshmen's only touchdown. As usual, "Doc" Rodes was in the limelight and pulled off several longdistance events by himself. Kinne played a nice game and on a dry field could show his speed to a better advantage. Server's kicking and defensive work is also deserving of mention.

THOMAS JEFFERSON CLUB HOLDS MEETING

The Thomas Jefferson Club, devoted to the interests of the Democratic party, held a meeting last Thursday evening in the Natural Science building. The names of about fifteen students were presented for membership, but none of these will be admitted until the next meeting, October 15.

The President, C. P. Nicholson, appointed a committee, consisting of himself, J. H. Coleman and D. L. McNeal, to confer with John Skain, the Democratic chairman for Fayette county, in regard to the entertainment of Secretary of State William J. Bryan.

The committee were given reserved seats on the platform to hear Mr. Bryan. They were: J. O. Kelly, president; J. T. Gooch, vice-president; J. H. Coleman, L. W. Grady and P. Nicholson.

Don't miss the big dance.

GRIBBIN'S WORK RECOGNIZED.

An item of interest in State University circles is a story printed by the Cincinnati Commercial Tribune, dated October 4, 1914, of "Folorn Hope." It is illustrated by E. L. Gribbin, and written by Mary Patton Hudson. It is a descriptive reminiscence of this house and its history.

Mr. Gribbin is the son of Wm. C. Gribbin, well-known business man of this city, and has considerable talent along the line of illustrating and cartooning. Young Gribbin is a student in the State University and is in the Department of Journalism.

"4 K" CLUB HOLDS MEETING.

The "4 K" Club met to reorganize and formulate plans for the year. O. P. Gerhard presided over the meeting as temporary chairman and the following committee was appointed to revise the constitution: R. W. Rawlings, Welford Duke, R. L. Ehrlich and Gay Gilbert. A permanent organization will be effected at a meeting to be held Wednesday, October 14.

This club is composed of all the students from Kenton and Campbell counties, and each year gives a dance at the University during the school year, and one in Covington during the Christmas holidays.

HORACE MANN SOCIETY HOLDS ITS SESSION

The Horace Mann Literary Society held its usual weekly meeting, Thursday evening, from 7 to 8 o'clock, in Professor J. T. C. Noe's room at the Education Building, with about thirty members present. W. Bailey, presided.

Miss Mollie Johnson gave a talk on the moonlight schools. The speaker showed how these schools were the means of decreasing the percentage of illiteracy in rural districts. The question, "Resolved, that all high school teachers should be required by law to have at least two years' of college training," was debated. The affirmative was upheld by Miss Marguerite Schweers and Mr. M. H. Judd, and the negative by Miss Marguerite Brown and Mr. E. P. Hatter. The affirmative was pronounced victorious.

The program was concluded by three readings, "The Usual Way," "A Coquette Conquered," and "A Woodland Sketch," given by Miss Ina Darvall.

Need Lumber? Good Lumber?

It is not alone necessary that lumber shall be good in the first place, but good lumber to retain its goodness must have proper care and attention.

Every stick of lumber that enters our yards is carefully handled. Some is stacked on sticks, some piled in open sheds and some put in enclosed buildings, according to the individual needs. So, each piece will reach you in the best possible condition.

You will find, here, lumber for any purpose from the smallest operation to any ordinary undertaking.
