"All we have of freedom—all we use or know—
This our fathers bought for us, long and long ago."
—Rudyard Kipling

This collage by New York artist Fred Ottes was especially commissioned by Brown & Williamson for its permanent collection of fine art works.

The freedom to choose our livelihood was provided to us long ago. And it was typified by the struggle of immigrants to America in the early 1800's. People like Adam Gimbel, a humble Jewish peddler from Germany, who later founded the country's first department store. And individuals who became industrial giants, like Andrew Carnegie from Scotland, who built one of the largest steel producing businesses in the United States. America had given both of them the freedom. The freedom to choose.

A free individual does not live without choice. A free society does not prosper without it. Consider, if you will, the personal choices we make every day without intervention from others. Now consider how many we take for granted.

The right to choose is the basis of all freedom—political, social, artistic, economic, religious—for all people. But this right must be protected from those who would chip away at it...either deliberately for personal gain, or innocently for the "betterment" of humanity. It must be protected from those who would make their choice, your choice. These personal freedoms are our legacy as well as our responsibility...to protect and to pass on to those who follow.

Freedom. It's a matter of choice.

DR. OTIS A. SINGLETARY

President, University of Kentucky

The University of Kentucky has become one of the major institutions of higher learning in the United States under the leadership of Dr. Otis Singletary, the eighth president of the University.

Dr. Singletary was named president of the University in August, 1969. He had previously served as executive vice-chancellor for academic affairs in the University of Texas System and director of the Job Corps program for the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Dr. Singletary, a native of Gulfport, Miss., holds degrees from Millsaps College and Louisiana State University.

As president of the principal institution of higher learning in the Commonwealth, Dr. Singletary is greatly concerned with the University's role as a land-grant institution, a "people's university" accessible to all who can profit from education.

In the nine years he has been president, the University has grown to where there are now more than 22,000 students on the Lexington campus and more than 17,000 students in UK's 13 community colleges. The University has also become one of the major research institutions in the country.

Recognition of his service to the University was evidenced by the UK Alumni Association, which presented to Dr. Singletary its Alumni Service Award — an honor rarely bestowed upon a non-alumnus of the University.

Dr. Singletary is the author of two books and several monographs.

A Navy veteran of World War II and the Korean Conflict, he is a commander in the U. S. Naval Reserve. He and Mrs. Singletary, the former Gloria Walton, have three children: Bonnie, Scot and Kendall.

The Singletarys live at Maxwell Place, traditional home of UK presidents.

Athletics Director

Expansion of the football training room and addition of a beautiful player's lounge at Shively Sports Center, new carpeting in the stadium football offices, a new basketball office complex in Memorial Coliseum, rearrangement of the baseball fences and a new surface for the running track are just a few of the recent improvements that signify the continuing progress of UK athletics since Cliff Hagan joined the Wildcat Staff eight years ago.

Recognized nationally as a progressive, business-oriented and promotion-minded administrator, Hagan has seen and overseen vast improvements in all phases of an ever-expanding operation that has encompassed 16 sports since the men's and women's programs were merged in July, 1978.

The merger, under Hagan's direction, has been orderly, with office space remodeled, and in some cases created, to make room for the women's coaching and administrative staff.

The introduction of Hagan into the UK athletics administrative structure came in 1972, when he was named assistant to Harry C. Lancaster and given the task of implementing the Blue & White Fund for 57,600-seat Commonwealth Stadium and later for Rupp Arena. The fruits of his labors in this area have provided the additional financial support that has elevated the UK athletics program into a first class operation.

Hagan was named Athletics Director in July 1975 following Lancaster's retirement.

Hagan has also been an advocate of a strong scholar-athlete program, feeling "a genuine commitment to provide all the academic support and encouragement we can to help our athletes leave our campus with a college education and a degree."

On the personal side, Hagan received one of his highest individual honors in 1978 when he became the first University of Kentucky basketball player to be installed in the Naismith Memorial National Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Mass.

He is married to the former Martha Milton of Owensboro. They have four children: Lisa, Laurie, Amy and Kip.

Athletics Department

Frank Ham became assistant director of athletics soon after Cliff Hagan succeeded Harry C. Lancaster as director of athletics.

A native of Scranton, PA, Ham came to the University in 1969 as administrative assistant to football coach John Ray, and was reassigned to the athletic director's staff in 1972.

Ham graduated from high school at Niles, Michigan and completed his undergraduate work at Olivet College. He did graduate work at Indiana University and coached high school football and track at John Adams High in South Bend. He then returned to Olivet as athletic director and head football and basketball coach.

In 1962, he became assistant to the president at Olivet, with responsibilities in public and alumni relations. He was in private business from 1956 until 1968.

FRANK HAM

Assistant Director of Athletics

Sue Feamster joined the athletics association July 1, 1979 with the merger of the men's and women's programs. Feamster had been the director of women's athletics prior to her appointment as assistant director of athletics.

A native of Frankfort, she came to the University as a graduate student in 1970, was named assistant director of campus recreation in 1972 and director of women's athletics in 1974.

Feamster graduated from Franklin County High School where she was an outstanding tennis player and athlete. While in college she earned letters in tennis, field hockey, basketball and track from Indiana University and Kentucky State University, where she earned her B.S. degree and graduated with honors.

JOE B. HALL
Basketball Coach

Joe B. Hall begins his ninth season as head coach of the Kentucky Wildcats with eight returning lettermen, including three starters, and another banner recruiting class.

For the second consecutive season, the Kentucky freshmen have been tabbed the top group in the country. Last season, Hall led a youth-dominated squad to a 29-6 record and to three championships. The 1979-80 Wildcats won the Southeastern Conference title for the fifth consecutive year and claimed tournament championships in the UKIT and the Great Alaskan Shootout.

While leading the Wildcats to a 29-6 record last year, Hall upped his eight-year UK record to 183-60 (75.3%), an average of 22.9 wins per season, to keep ahead of the pace set by his former coach, Adolph Rupp, who averaged 21.5 victories a season over a 41-season span to become the winningest collegiate basketball coach of all time.

Hall has won such honors as Kellogg's 1978 National "Coach of the Year," three Southeastern Conference "Coach of the Year" awards (1973, '75, and '78) in seven years, and nomination for Kodak's 1975, '76, and '78 (finalist) "Coach of the Year" awards.

In 1978 when Kentucky won its fifth NCAA title, Hall was also presented the Rupp Cup (presented to the SEC Coach of the Year by the Birmingham Tipoff Club) and Hall's most coveted personal award, the Dr. James Naismith "Peachbasket" award, which previously had been awarded to UCLA's John Wooden, Oklahoma State's Hank Iba, Kentucky's Adolph Rupp, and the Boston Celtics' Red Auerbach.

Entering this season, Hall's 14 year career coaching record stands at 259-116, (excluding a 17-2 record on a 1974 Australian tour, a 7-0 record on a 1978 Japan tour, and six pre-season exhibition wins against foreign and domestic teams) and that record was compiled against nationally ranked non-conference teams and teams in a conference that fast is becoming recognized as among the toughest in the nation. Broken down, it shows a 57-50 five-year mark at Regis, a 19-6 record at Central Missouri, and a 183-60 record at UK.

Hall began his tour as UK head coach in rather auspicious fashion, becoming in 1973 the first rookie coach in the SEC to be designated Coach of the Year by his fellow coaches and by Coach and Athlete Magazine.

Gathering such honors has been one of Hall's trademarks during a coaching career that began at Shepherdsville (Ky.) High School in 1956 and continued through Regis College and Central Missouri State College before he returned to UK July 1, 1965, as an assistant to his former coach, Adolph Rupp.

A three-letter winner and team captain in both sports in high school at Cynthiana, Ky., he played freshman basketball and one year of varsity basketball in the "Fabulous Five" era at the University before transferring to the University of the South at Sewanee, Tenn., where he set a school single game scoring record and was team captain. Coach Lon Varnell, upon retirement, rated Hall as No. 1 of the three best players he ever coached.

After touring Europe with the Globetrotters in 1951, Hall returned to U.K. in 1955 to complete requirements for his B.A. and later (1964) received his M.A. at Colorado State.

Perhaps the best appraisal of the job Hall has been doing at the University came from Rupp, who died in 1977. "A good coach," Rupp said, "is a person who can take good material and win with it. Joe has done that."

He is married to the former Katharine Dennis of Harrison County, Ky. They have three children—Mrs. Rick Derrickson and Steve of Lexington, and Mrs. Mike Summers of Greenville, S. C.

LEONARD HAMILTON
Associate Coach

Leonard Hamilton was named the University's first associate basketball coach on Oct. 15.

Hamilton has been a Wildcat assistant coach for six years. He came to Kentucky after spending three years as an assistant coach at Austin Peay.

He has always been noted as an outstanding recruiter and as a defensive specialist. Most remarkable in his coaching career is the fact that in eight of his nine years on the college scene, the team he has been associated with has advanced to post-season play. Only in his first season at Austin Peay has Hamilton not been involved in a post-season tournament.

A native of Gastonia, N.C., Hamilton lettered three years in football and twice in basketball as a prep-ster. He captained his team for two seasons at Gastonia Community College in Dallas, N.C. He also captained his team at Tennessee-Martin, where he graduated in 1970.

The 32 year old Hamilton is married to the former Claudette Hale of McMoresville, Tenn. They have a son, Lenny, 10.

Coaches

JOE DEAN

Assistant Coach

A vital and vibrant member of the Wildcat coaching staff, Joe Dean enters his fourth year at Kentucky.

A native of Baton Rouge, La., he attended Baton Rouge High School where he earned letters in basketball and football.

Dean got an early taste of Kentucky basketball when he played against the Wildcats three years for Mississippi State University. After graduating from State in 1976, he served one year as Bulldog graduate assistant while earning a masters degree in physical education. Outstanding in academics, he was named to the 1976 Academic All-SEC second team.

Putting Dean's youthful enthusiasm to full use, coach Hall has appointed the young coach director of the annual Wildcat Coaching Clinic and the popular Wildcat Summer Basketball Summer Camp in addition to regular duties.

He is married to the former Ellen Elizabeth Anger of Jackson, Mississippi. They have a son, Scott, 1.

The Wildcats are fortunate to have the services of volunteer coach Harry Lancaster and part-time assistant coach Bob Chambers this season.

Both bring to Coach Joe Hall's program many years of basketball experience working with young players.

LANCASTER

Harry Lancaster, former athletics director and assistant basketball coach at the University of Kentucky, came to Kentucky in 1946 and served as an assistant coach under the legendary Adolph Rupp until 1968. In 1969, he was named acting athletics director of Kentucky, and in 1969, he was named athletics director.

CHAMBERS

Bob Chambers has 20 years of high school coaching experience, 13 as a head coach. His overall record is 317-116. For nine years prior to 1979-80, he coached at Tennessee High in Bristol and fashioned a 228-68 mark and made three trips to the state play-offs. Last season, eight of his former players, including Kentucky's Derrick Hord, played college basketball.

Success in basketball requires plenty of training, good coaching and team play. And it requires a game plan.

At McDonald's, our game plan is simple. We have the team to produce winners every season.

Winners like Quarter Pounder,[™] Big Mac,[™] Golden French Fries, and Triple Thick Shakes.

And our game plan includes careful handling. We never drop the ball when it comes to service. Prompt and courteous—whether you're home team or visitor.

So, before or after the next battle on the hardwood, include McDonald's in your game plan.

Minniefield Leads With Style

Dirk Minniefield is a guard who likes to be in the middle of things.

The sophomore playmaker is the man behind the offense and the joking on a young, talent-laden Kentucky team. Whether taking it or dishing it out, Minniefield enjoys his role.

"I enjoy that role and the guys have confidence in me and, being the leader type, I try to gain their respect and let them know that they can always depend on me," says the Lafayette High School product.

With Kyle Macy doing his class act in Phoenix now, the Wildcats will be depending a lot more on Minniefield this year. Last season he started 18 out of the last 19 games, had his season high 14 points against Mississippi State and dealt out a Kentucky record 13 assists in the same game.

Some will say Minniefield plays with a bit more pressure than his teammates because he is always playing in front of family and friends here in his home town.

"Yeah, there's added pressure being at home. But it doesn't really matter because the guys have faith in me and that helps me a lot."

Is the Dirk Minniefield who led Lafayette to the state championship different from the Dirk Minniefield who will be quarterbacking the nation's Number 1 team this year?

"Basically no. But I am a little older now, playing with a little more maturity and experience in the college life and the college game. The college game is more mentally demanding 'cause you got to concentrate constantly on what you're doing. That's the biggest change."

While there is no doubt about Kentucky's talent this year, no one yet knows what kind of personality this young team will display. Minniefield will be leading this team but he doesn't have all the answers yet, either.

"I don't think this team has a definite personality yet. There'll be a lot of surprises. Even Coach Hall hasn't figured out what type of personality the team has. But I think the fans will enjoy it," he says.

Different teams require different kinds of leadership. The 1978 Kentucky NCAA Champion team was led by the steady play and hustle of four fine seniors. With only one senior this season expected to see regular duty, the current edition of the Wildcats will have to depend on more than just the experience-type of leadership.

"It's gonna take a different kind of leadership. Fred (Cowan), he's an example leader. I'm more of a try-to-spur-everybody-on-type leader and we got to complement each other and let that do the job," says Dirk.

When he isn't spurring his teammates on with some hollering or dazzling court play, the man with the big smile is keeping them loose with a lot of joking. That's his style.

"I've always been kind of happy-go-lucky. I like to laugh and joke a lot, that's just me. I listen to a lot of music 'cause it helps me to relax. A lot of the fellas call me 'Jammer' and I do play a lot of music—a lot of loud noise, that's what Charlie (Hurt) calls it."

If you think by now you know what Dirk Minniefield's idea of a good time is, you're probably right.

"Being with these guys right here, that's my idea of a good time. I have a good time being around them."

The Man Across the Water:

Joe Hall Spreads the Basketball Gospel

By Barry Bronson

Joe Hall doesn't know exactly where it happened that he became interested in international basketball. He does know about when it happened.

In 1951 the Wildcat head coach, then a young player fresh out of the University of the South, toured Europe as part of the Harlem Globetrotters traveling basketball circus. The tour covered most of Western Europe and North Africa playing in everything from bullrings to soccer fields to temporary "floors" made out of one-inch boards covering two-by-fours.

"We carried our own basketball goals, backboards and standards," Coach Hall recalls with a smile. "We were gone 58 days and we played 56 games.

"And I believe it was that tour, there was no question, that made me want to go back and see other countries. It gave me an interest in international basketball and I've been interested in its progress ever since," he adds.

Since that first trip, Hall has become a world traveler and a much-sought-after figure on the international clinic and speaker circuit. He has taken Kentucky teams on tours of Australia and Japan. One of the major honors he received came when he was named guest lecturer for the World Basketball Coaches Congress where he spoke before some 400 international coaches who had gathered in the Canary Islands. It seemed a natural outgrowth of the teaching commitment that took him to Alaska, West Germany and England to conduct clinics for the U. S. Army in previous years. This past summer he taught a week-long clinic in Santiago, Chile. He was a member of the 1976 Olympic Basketball Committee and in 1972 served under Hank Iba in the Olympic Trials at the Air Force Academy. He has coached U. S. All-Star teams in the World Invitational Tournament championship.

Coaches and sports officials from other nations have been flocking to the bluegrass to learn the "Kentucky Method." Following the 1978 tour of Japan, the Japanese sent two of their coaches to Lexington. Mototaka Kohama in 1979, and Suehiro Nishio this year, took home valuable insights into the American—and the Kentucky—way of basketball.

"The summer before last, the Japanese brought 25 members of their national team and their university team and stayed five weeks. We put them through our conditioning weight-lifting and practice program and worked out with them twice-a-day teaching them the Kentucky System," says Coach Hall.

"They left here and went to Mexico City for the World University Games. They had finished 25th in that tournament and that year, they finished 11th. So they were overjoyed with the improvement shown."

Hall is one of the far-sighted U. S. sportsmen to have seen, early on, the advantage of exposing his players to international competition. He is one who never tires of spreading the basketball gospel, either.

"I see that the world is growing smaller and smaller and these countries are making great progress in basketball. The pro leagues that have started up . . . you know, we have Kentucky players who are playing all over. LaVon Williams and Jack Givens are in Italy, James

"I see the world as growing smaller and smaller and these countries are making great progress in basketball."

Lee, Mike Phillips and Bob Guyette played in Spain, Larry Johnson played in Japan. So, we are interested in international relations, we want to further the image of basketball as it grows in those countries."

Joe Hall has never stopped learning from the way other international teams play the game, either. That's why, year after year, he schedules opponents like the Russians, Polish National Team, Yugoslavia National Team and South Korean Team as pre-season competition.

"The international game does teach you some things," he explains. "Of course, it's a little rough, it's a faster pace. There's a lot of difference in the way the game of basketball is looked at. Innovations are evolving (on the international scene) and that's interesting and good to learn."

For someone who has had much success against international competition, Hall sees areas for improvement. The recent game against South Koreans is a good example. The Wildcats beat up on the shorter, less experienced Koreans 107-59. Still, there were words of praise for the visitors from Hall who says he learned much from that squad and its coaches.

"They force you to make the defensive adjustment. Other parts of their game that were impressive were their passing lanes, their movement without the ball, they screened on the move a lot. And their training methods were interesting—the way they warmed up and ran their drills, their methods of stretching. They hadn't copied that from America."

The one-on-one contacts and friendships from the international experience are what Coach Hall will also remember.

"It has helped me professionally, spiritually and friendship-wise as well as having extended my knowledge of the game. This kind of contact hastens the understanding of different cultures and speeds up mutual understanding a lot more than if you toured as a tourist."

It is because Hall was treated so well overseas that he has always been anxious to repay that kindness.

"When coaches and officials come to visit us here, many times they are guests in my house. And it's funny, I've found the place they enjoy the most is the basement or the clutter area where the most treasured items and mementos are. And they also like to see my fishing room," Hall the sportsman is quick to point out.

The future is going to bring more guests into the Joe Hall home. Two Chilean coaches and one from Peru will be in Lexington this winter. The Wildcat coach and his team will be making, by popular request, a return tour of Japan in 1982.

It's a two-way highway to the rest of the world.

SWEENEY UNIVERSAL MULTIPLIERS TORQUE

A new family of universal torque multiplying wrenches.

These models have special application when space limitations are critical. The multiplying wrenches are gear-driven torque multipliers that multiply input torque either six or fifteen times at the output drive. Maximum rated output capacities vary from 1,000 ft-lbs to 8,000 ft-lbs depending on the model.

Around Campus

Dr. Denny O. Harris works on plant toxins produced by green algae.

By Betty Tevis
UK Information Services

Perhaps because life is their subject, the University of Kentucky's biologists are among the most intriguing faculty on campus, and their laboratories among the most interesting.

They serve more than 5,000 students each semester, and about 70 graduate students. There are 700 undergraduate majors enrolled in biology programs.

Biology has long enjoyed a reputation for quality teaching and the last decade has seen a parallel reputation for outstanding research. Dr. Wesley J. Birge, professor and interim director of the Thomas Hunt Morgan School of Biological Sciences, calls it a "very productive academic unit." In addition to scholarly teaching and research, he emphasizes the prodigious extramural funding of Morgan School professors ($645,000 in new grants last year).

UK Academic Vice-President Lewis W. Cochran will tell you that the scholarship of the faculty, does, indeed, distinguish the small (31 professors), hard-working, variegated and lively group who teach in the Morgan Building and carry on their research in MDR No. 3 and the Funkhouser Building. Active and well-recognized programs flourish at all professional levels within the school. In recent years, UK biologists have been engaged in many professional activities of national and international prominence:

—Dr. Eugene C. Crawford Jr., recently participated in symposia at Gottingen, West Germany and Aarhus, Denmark, speaking on temperature regulation in animals;

—Dr. M.I.H. Aleem has been invited by national microbiology societies in the United Kingdom, U.S. and elsewhere to serve as a principal speaker on bioenergetics;

—Dr. William Meijer recently gave seminars in France, Holland, Germany and Switzerland, as well as at the University of California, Berkeley; —Drs. Jerry and Carol Baskin have been invited to give a four-day Spring colloquium on plant ecology at the University of California, Davis.

—Dr. Gerald Rosenthal presented an invited paper at the recent International Entomology Congress, Kyoto, Japan, and has edited two new monographs dealing with plant biochemistry;

—Dr. Denny O. Harris presented an invited paper in Palermo, Sicily, at a NATO Advanced Study Institute on the Physiological Ecology of Phytoplankton;

—Dr. Wesley J. Birge has participated in more than 20 national and international conferences and symposia during the past three years.

Numerous ongoing research projects in biology are receiving national attention:

—Dr. Sheldon Steiner, funded by the National Science Foundation, is working with the biochemical mechanisms of carcinogenesis. His studies may lead to a diagnostic tool that can be used in medicine.

—Dr. Judith Lesnaw is working with negative-strand RNA viruses, viruses akin to those of measles, mumps, influenza and rabies. She is studying the details of viral replication at the molecular level. She hopes to find virus-specific molecules which can be attacked by drugs and antibiotics without adversely affecting the host.

—Aleem is studying energy metabolism in microbial systems. One of his projects deals with a bacterial model of how living systems form, store and regulate energy.

—Crawford's current work is with respiratory control in animals. His work is akin to that of Dr. David Prior, working this year in England on the neurological control of behavior in terrestrial mollusks. Prior is trying to determine how the nervous system is programmed to regulate behavior by studying animal responses to environmental stress.

—Dr. John Rawls is pursuing studies in molecular genetics. Working with Drosophila, the fruit fly, he is searching for a better understanding of gene control and organization in animals.

—Dr. Roger Barbour currently is completing a book on the darter fish with Dr. Robert Kuehne, and a monograph with Dr. Wayne Davis on mammals of the U.S., while working on several other volumes.

—Dr. Gerald Rosenthal's work is with toxic natural products of plants. He is attempting to understand how plants use these products in their own defense. NSF and NIH fund his efforts which he hopes will lead to "alternatives to pesticides."

—Dr. Jim Clark is working with slime molds, and some of his findings may provide a better understanding of the biological basis for aging.

—Dr. Birge, himself a prodigious researcher, is internationally recognized for his work in aquatic and reproductive toxicology.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN, PROTECT YOUR ENGINES.

Everyday, you put your car to a driving test as grueling as an afternoon at Indy. Through stop and go traffic. Sustained speeds on the highway. Things that can really put the heat on your engine.

That's why you need a motor oil like Valvoline® . . . tough enough to take that kind of punishment. Valvoline, the name more racers depend on than any other brand.

And while you're saving your engine, think about saving money, too. Change the oil yourself. It saves time, and it's easier than you might think.

Do-it-yourself with the motor oil that makes the difference. Valvoline. It's not just for winning races.

Valvoline®
IT'S NOT JUST FOR WINNING RACES,
IT'S FOR SAVING MONEY, TOO.

Who's helping to offer $49 Million in life insurance coverage ...without increasing policy premiums?

This is the team that's helping to offer Kentucky a special program unsurpassed in the life insurance industry. Northwestern Mutual Life's "Get More Out of Life" program. A program that provides a 14% average increase to owners of permanent policies ... with no increase in the policy premium* So, while future dividends will be slightly lower than they would have been, future cash values on these policies will be higher.

All this results in tax savings which can be channeled back to the true owners of the company, the policyowners. Just one more way Northwestern is helping people "Get More Out of Life" $49 million worth in Kentucky alone!

Remember When

1978: UK vs. DUKE

The "year without celebration" ended with a 94-88 triumph over the Duke Blue Devils in St. Louis, and a fifth NCAA Title.

Senior Jack "Goose" Givens had a field day at Duke's expense scoring 41 points, just short of the NCAA championship game record held by UCLA's Bill Walton.

Duke stayed in the game in the first half hitting 20 of 21 free throw attempts. The Blue Devils hit 30-of-34 free throws for the game.

A Gene Banks jump shot tied the score at 22-all. Kentucky tried but wasn't able to escape the young team from North Carolina. UK led 39-38 when Givens went on one of his many scoring sprees giving the Cats a 45-38 margin.

Throughout the second half, Kentucky substituted freely. But with 2:40 remaining, Duke began to rally. They came within four but with four seconds left, UK had the ball out of bounds.

A full court baseball pass to James Lee, a couple of dribbles and the rafters fell in. Lee ended the game with one of his genuine high flying dunk shots.

Kentucky coach Joe B. Hall summed it up by saying "I've been rough on this group for four years. I hope it's all worth it to them now."

Freshman sensation Banks led Duke in scoring with 22 points.

Big and Deep OSU Coming Off Big Year

Traditionally, Ohio State University has been a college known for its football under the legendary Woody Hayes and more recently, Earle Bruce, a school that makes an annual trip to a bowl game, usually the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, California.

But don't be misled. Prominence is also being attained in basketball. It began in the late sixties with names like Hoskins and Witte and has continued with names like Herb Williams and Kelvin Ransey.

The last meeting between the Wildcats and the Buckeyes took place in 1968 in Lexington. Ohio State won the Midwest Regional contest, 82-81.

The Buckeyes return four starters from last year's 21-8 squad, the most wins accumulated since 1968. Ransey was the only senior lost. Behemoth center Herb Williams led OSU in scoring with a 17.6 average. Standing, 6-10, 242-pounds, he also led the team in rebounds with a 9.1 average.

At the forward position for head coach Eldon Miller will be Jim Smith (7.1 ppg., 5.2 rpg.) and Clark Kellogg (11.6 ppg., 8.0 rpg.) Kellogg was one of the most highly-recruited freshmen last year. He is out of St. Joseph High School in Cleveland. Williams and Kellogg led the Bucks in minutes played while Williams tallied 94 blocked shots.

The running game for OSU will be tested now that Ransey is gone, but Carter Scott (6-2, 176) is more than able to run the offense. Scott was second on the team in assists with 94 and second in steals with 43, finishing behind Ransey in both categories.

Filling the shoes of Ransey will be difficult. The two most likely candidates for the other guard position will be senior Todd Penn (1.5 ppg., 0.3 rpg.) and sophomore Larry Huggins (1.6 ppg., 1.1 rpg.).

Chance Brockway

OSU expects big things from Clark Kellogg.

It was no surprise to see that the Buckeyes cracked many of the pre-season Top 10 polls. This will be the early season test for both the Buckeyes and the Wildcats.

University of Kentucky: Great and Growing

Truly one of the leading land grant institutions in the nation, the University of Kentucky has a national and international reputation in such diverse fields as medicine, business, engineering, law and agriculture.

More than 22,000 students are enrolled on the main campus in Lexington. Another 17,000 students are enrolled at the 13 community colleges operated by UK across the state at Ashland, Henderson, Cumberland, Elizabethtown, Prestonsburg, Hopkinsville, Somerset, Louisville, Paducah, Hazard, Maysville, Madisonville and Lexington.

UK has a graduate school and 17 academic colleges . . . Arts and Sciences, Agriculture, Engineering, Business and Economics, Education, Home Economics, Library Science, Social Work, Architecture, Communications, Fine Arts, Law, Medicine, Dentistry, Nursing, Allied Health Professions and Pharmacy.

Kentucky is noted for its research efforts, especially in the fields of energy, tobacco and cancer.

UK's Institute for Mining and Minerals Research is a national leader in energy-related research, especially in the areas of coal liquefaction and gasification.

Kentucky's Tobacco and Health Research Institute is a world-wide leader in research on the problems of tobacco and health.

The UK College of Agriculture has been responsible over the years for the development of 80 percent of the burley tobacco varieties grown anywhere in the world, and its research on tobacco diseases has saved farmers millions of dollars.

Scientists at UK did much to save Kentucky's thoroughbred horse industry a few years ago when a dreaded disease, called contagious equine metritis (CEM), struck the industry. Horse vaccines developed at Kentucky for horses are being used all over the world.

UK has an outstanding faculty with some of the top teachers and researchers in the nation. The Kentucky mathematics department has seven faculty members who have been awarded the prestigious Sloan Fellowship, and the Political Science department consistently ranks among the top such departments in the nation in the number of scholarly papers published.

In the arts, close to 100,000 people attend the many art, music and theatre productions at UK. The Kentucky Marching Band is one of the best collegiate contingents in the country, and the UK orchestra, chorus, theatre and opera offer sterling performances throughout the year.

A real boon to the arts at Kentucky was the opening of UK's new Center for the Arts. The building contains a 400-seat recital hall, a 1,500-seat concert hall and the 20,000 square feet University of Kentucky Art Museum.

UK's Albert B. Chandler Medical Center has a wide range of programs in education and research. In addition to its 20-year mission as a major teaching and research center, the facility serves as a medical complex for the Lexington community and a regional center for the Commonwealth.

The Medical Center offers, through direct patient care or referral, more than 40 services ranging from primary care and family practice to highly specialized areas such as open heart surgery, renal transplants and cancer treatment.

The five colleges of the Medical Center—Medicine, Dentistry, Nursing, Pharmacy and Allied Health—have more than 2,000 students pursuing bachelor, masters and doctoral degrees in health-related fields. Extramural funding in support of teaching, research and public service has more than doubled in the past 10 years to some $11.4 million in 1979.

Of major significance in the area of medical research is the recent opening of the Sanders-Brown Research Center on Aging, one of the first facilities of its kind in the nation. The building, made possible by a matching grant from the John Y. Brown, Jr. Foundation, will enable UK scientists and researchers to study the biological aspects of aging with the ultimate goal of improving the quality of life for the elderly.

School spirit is on a continuous high at UK. The 1979-80 cheerleading squad was judged the second best collegiate cheerleader in the nation. The Kentucky band receives standing ovations wherever it appears.

The University has had only eight presidents since its founding in 1865. Dr. Otis Singletary, now in his 12th year as UK president, is a history scholar and nationally-recognized university administrator. He came to Kentucky from Texas where he served as executive vice chancellor for academic affairs of the University of Texas system.

Head Coach: Terry Hall

Assistant Coach: Dorothy Berry

TERRY HALL

Head Basketball Coach

Arriving at the University of Kentucky after an impressive five-year stint at the University of Louisville, Terry Hall looks forward to the challenge of becoming women's basketball coach at UK. She brings with her substantial experience in various levels of women's sports.

Hall, the Cardinals' first full-time women's basketball coach, compiled a 79-53 record at U of L. She directed all aspects of the Louisville program, including scheduling, recruiting, preparing the budget and supervising the athletes' housing. Last season she guided the Cardinals to their first Metro Conference championship and a 17-17 record, defeating highly respected Memphis State in the pre-season tournament finals.

Her 11-year coaching career began at Butler High School in Louisville. Her first coaching assignment at the collegiate level was at Eastern Kentucky University. In addition to her coaching duties, Hall is the chairperson of both the Southern Region II Sports Committee and the KWIC Division Basketball Committee. Earlier this year she was nominated to the National Basketball Committee and the Outstanding Young Women of America.

Hall graduated from Indiana State University in 1966 with a degree in Health and Physical Education. She earned a Master's degree in P. E. from Eastern in 1974.

UK Cheerleaders

What's Number Two in the nation and Number One in the hearts of all Kentucky Wildcat fans? The unanimous choice is the University of Kentucky Wildcat cheerleaders!

The 1979-80 squad finished second behind Indiana State in the National Collegiate Cheerleading Championship held in Los Angeles.

The competition was broadcast nationwide last spring on network television.

The UK cheerleaders are practicing a "new look" for the 1980 basketball season. Because of Southeastern Conference regulations restricting cheerleader routines, the Wildcats will be building smaller pyramids but creating more entertaining and crowd-pleasing routines.

New this year to the squad is the UK Wildcat, Ralph McBarron, a senior majoring in marketing from Louisville.

This season's spirited squad includes eight persons from last year's championship team, plus six newcomers.

“The Sun Shines Bright on our New Kentucky Home”

We hope Stephen Foster would not take offense at our liberties with his lyrics. Foster, as you know, felt a keen sentimental attachment to our state as portrayed in the words to his most famous composition, “My Old Kentucky Home.” Like Foster, we at the morning HERALD and afternoon LEXINGTON LEADER are proud to serve Kentuckians.

But our new home, unlike Foster's, is not “far, far away.” Located at the intersection of Main & Midland on the east end of downtown Lexington, the new home of your HERALD and LEADER has been aptly described as “the most technologically advanced newspaper production facility in the nation.”

A $23 million investment in the future of Kentucky, our complex features sophisticated equipment manned by skilled professionals, a working combination geared to deliver you the best possible newspapers.

Two computerized Goss Metro offset presses, the latest development in newspaper printing technology, highlight the innovations of our new home. Visible from Midland Avenue behind almost three stories of unique glass frontage, these towering, high speed presses can produce up to 65,000 newspapers per hour and guarantee color reproduction second to none in Kentucky.

Add to that an impressive array of other improvements, ranging from high speed, automated inserting equipment to separate video display terminals for each Herald and Leader reporter to rail facilities for the direct delivery and storage of 3,500 tons of newsprint, and you can readily see our firm commitment to the future of Kentucky.

Each and every improvement, of course, has been designed with one overall goal in mind—to deliver more of what you buy a newspaper for. We believe our new facilities will help us attain that goal. That's why we can say with confidence, “The sun shines bright on our new Kentucky home.”
