

+

ABBAY OF GETHSEMANI
TRAPPIST, KENTUCKY

April 7, '60.

Dear Victor.

At our last enjoyable meeting recently I forgot to mention that I had once again changed my mind in regard to the copyright line. It has occurred to me that if by any chance the book were pirated the consequences would be extremely unpleasant, as much attention would be drawn to those precise elements in it which should be more or less unnoticed.

Consequently I think it is best to be on the safe side & have it copyrighted. The copyright line as you showed it to me, either on the reverse of the title page or the title page itself, would be quite satisfactory.

I cannot say how glad I was to see you & Carolyn again on such a nice day.

Looking forward to hearing from you & seeing you very shortly - & with best wishes for Holy Week &
Easter - God bless you

Cordially in Christ

f. m. Louis