FROSH AND SOPH ROPE WARRIORS PREPARE FOR DIP IN CLIFTON POND

Class Differences Will Be Settled On Field of Battle Today

RULES ARE SUBMITTED

Fair Play is Guaranteed By Committees In Charge

The contest of strength and prowess between the Freshmen and Sophomore men of the University will be witnessed Friday afternoon, at 3 o'clock when the two classes, armed to the teeth and ready for the grim struggle will assemble on opposite sides of Clifton Pond for the annual Tug-of-War. The Tug-of-War is one of the most imposing and sensational events of the University year with the cable drawn across the pond and the ardent supporters of each class urging them on, cheering them and fighting with them until the last second of play when the vanquished strugglers are dragged into the icy waters of the pond.

The following rules for the conduct of the Tug-of-War have been set down:

1. That the contest shall be held at 3:00 p. m. on Friday, October 14, at Clifton Pond.
2. That the contest shall be refereed by three members of the faculty and Junior and Senior members of the Student Council, as well as the commandants who shall act as starters.
3. That the rope shall be placed in such a position that each side shall have an equal amount of available rope.
4. That the captains of the team shall draw for the side of the pond.
5. That the senior class shall see that the cable shall be returned to the University immediately after the contest and not taken to town.
6. That fair play shall be guaranteed in every respect.
7. That the buildings and property of the University shall not be marred by numerals or in any other way.
8. That afternoon classes shall be dismissed for Freshmen and Sophomores and seventh hour classes for all.

Roberts,
Bureau.

UNIVERSITY CHAPEL TO BE STUDY HALL

The University Chapel, which is rarely used except during convocation meeting or chapel exercises, will henceforth be converted into a study hall for the students, at such times as there are no meetings or exercises scheduled to take place within the room.

This movement is being fostered because of the lack of room for students to study between classes. The library is much too small to accommodate the students who seek refuge there on rainy days as it only seats approximately 125 persons. Thus many were forced to sit in cars or walk about on the campus between classes and in that way waste much valuable time. With the chapel open everyone will be able to find a place in which to study. Someone will be there to see that quiet is maintained and it is thought students will find this an excellent place for preparing their lessons.

NOTICE

All students who are interested in the Rhodes Scholarship are requested to see Miss Buchagnani in President McVey's office and secure application blanks immediately. The University of Kentucky is allowed to name four applicants and as yet only one student has applied. The applications must be filed before October 29.

MISS ROBERTS RECITES AT PATTERSON HALL

Tea Served by English Club At close of Program

Numbered among the delightful affairs of this week was the recital given, at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon, at Patterson Hall by Miss Elizabeth Roberts, the young Kentucky poet, who is the guest of friends in Lexington. The recreation hall, in which the program was given, was decorated with ferns and vases of marigolds while the platform upon which Miss Roberts sat was banked with flowers.

Prof. L. L. Dantzer, head of the Department of English at the University, presided and introduced Dr. Noe, a close friend of Miss Roberts, and who with a beautiful tribute to her work and her achievements, presented her to the audience.

Miss Roberts who was reared in Springfield, Kentucky, is essentially a children's poet but through her charming verses has achieved honor and recognition from grown-ups as well. She was singularly honored by having been elected president of the Poetry Society of the University of Chicago and by having several poems published in the Atlantic Monthly.

At the close of the recital tea was served by the members of the English Club, to faculty and friends. Long tables attractively arranged and placed at each end of the room were presided over by Mrs. L. L. Dantzer and Miss Dora Berkeley who assisted by the members of the English Club served tea to one hundred and fifty guests.

STROLLERS TRY-OUTS TO BEGIN OCTOBER 20

Members Selected Differently; Must Fill Out Questionnaire

Try-outs for membership into the Strollers, dramatic organization of the University, will begin Thursday, October 20. The officers of the organization have drawn up a questionnaire which applicants for membership must procure, fill out and return not later than Monday, October 17. These blanks may be obtained from John E. Burks or other members of the Strollers.

The method of conducting tryouts this year has been changed with the intention of providing means to devote more time to those who desire membership and also give them a better opportunity of displaying whatever dramatic ability they may possess, to a better advantage.

NOE URGES ADOPTION OF SCHOOL AMENDMENTS; PURPOSES EXPLAINED

Says Amendments Will Correct Fundamental Ends In Educational System

IS IMPORTANT ISSUE

Office of Superintendent of Public Instruction Granted By Legislature

Prof. J. C. T. Noe, head of the department of Education was the principal speaker at Chapel Tuesday morning, taking the place of Mr. Jones of California, who was unable to fill this appointment, as had been announced. Professor Noe's address was an explanation of the two proposed educational amendments to the constitution of Kentucky.

Dr. McVey after conducting the devotional exercises introduced Professor Noe. He began his remarks by laying particular stress on the importance of these proposed amendments by saying that in his opinion they are the most important issues that Kentucky has voted on for many years. Among other things Professor Noe said that the business of education is the greatest business of Kentucky or of any other state, that Kentucky rates with the highest in native ability but that her educational system is in a deplorable condition, consequently she is suffering from ignorance which results in prejudice and her great natural resources are remaining undeveloped.

One of the proposed solutions, Professor Noe believes is to make Education a profession by giving the office of Superintendent of Public Instruction to a professional educator. Under the present law a man can only serve in that office for four years and it takes four years to understand the office well enough to avoid blunders. The present law removes the trained and experienced man from the office and puts an inexperienced man in his place. Again, under the Constitution the Superintendent must be elected at the same time as the Governor and nominated by a political party. At the party conventions this office is usually the last one mentioned and some man is selected for geographical reasons or to lend strength to the ticket. Under the proposed amendment the office of Superintendent of Public Instruction is to be put into the hands of the Legislature. They will create a non-partisan Board of Education and will designate the qualifications and mode of election of the superintendent and he will hold office as long as he renders satisfactory service to the state.

The second amendment is proposed for the financial assistance of the poor school districts of the state. Under the law the children of school age are counted and that number divided into the state fund. For the wealthier districts this is well and good but in the poor ones it is impossible to have enough funds under the per capita distribution to conduct an effective school. The amendment proposes to create a bonus by releasing 10 per cent per capita of the school fund to be distributed according to the needs of the districts.

The Professor closed this explanation with a plea for better education in Kentucky and for equal scholastic opportunities for every child.

ATTENTION!

All University mail for students will be placed in post office boxes located as follows—Art and Science students, Administration Building; Agriculture students, Agriculture Building; Law students third floor of Science Building; Engineering students, Dicker Hall.

Students are held responsible for one visit each day to these boxes. All students are requested to call at the Registrar's office and leave their Lexington address.

EXTENSION SCHOOLS OPENED BY UNIVERSITY IN KENTUCKY TOWNS

Department of English, History and Education Conducting the Movement

TEACHERS TO ATTEND

Largest School in Group Located at Paris

The Department of University Extension of the University of Kentucky will open some extension schools in different parts of the State this week. Perhaps the largest of these will be an extension school at Paris, Kentucky. Two and perhaps more University professors will conduct a series of lectures there under the direction of the Department of University Extension. Doctor Edward Tuthill, head of the Department of History and Political Science, will conduct a series of lectures on History. Professor E. F. Farquhar of the Department of English will conduct a series of lectures perhaps in Contemporary Drama. These courses will be attended by the teachers of Paris Public Schools, Paris High School, the teachers of the Public Schools of Bourbon County, and it is also expected that a number of ladies from the woman's club in Paris and vicinity will attend. Teachers from the Bourbon County High School at Millersburg will also attend.

The University is also opening this week a course of lectures in Georgetown, given to the teachers of the Georgetown City Schools. The course, which will be in the field of Education, will be conducted by Dr. Edward Sies, Professor of Educational Administration at the University of Kentucky.

The University is also planning a course in the Mountain Section in Southeastern Kentucky. In the city of Harlan, the University will conduct a series of lectures in the field of Education. Mrs. C. N. Bolinger, a graduate of Teachers' College, Columbia University, and for some time supervisor of training schools in New Jersey, and connected with the State Department of Education in Vermont, has been engaged to conduct the course at Harlan. Mrs. Bolinger is a resident of Harlan, and the University.

PHOTOS FOR ANNUAL TO BE TAKEN SOON

Kentuckian Office Located in Journalism Rooms

Plans have been made with the photographers, Caulfield and Shook, to take the pictures of the students for the annual. The sale of annuals has been started and is going over successfully. Several have entered the contest to sell the greatest number of annuals allured by generous prizes, but it is still open to students who wish to hustle.

The 'Kentuckian' is being housed this year in the Journalism rooms. A partition has been made dividing the outer room into two offices which will be occupied by the 'Kentucky Kernel' and the annual. Frances Marsh, editor-in-chief, and C. V. Watson, business manager will be in the office every afternoon to make any further arrangements about the pictures of individuals and of organizations who have not yet reserved space.

Ed Gregg, entered school last week and will take up his work as art editor. His work on the annual of last year will be remembered and his return speaks well for the success of this year's publication. An effort is being made to make the annual of '22 the most artistic in the history of the University. The cooperation of the Art Department has been enlisted and a great amount of the work will be put out from this department under the direction of Ed Gregg. All students in the University are permitted to submit work either in the literary or art department.

MISS RENICK'S DEATH SADDENS UNIVERSITY

Funeral of Popular Student Attended by Many University Folk

The many phases of Kathleen Renick's short life were represented in the large assemblage of friends who gathered Sunday afternoon at the home of her parents in Bell Court, for the last service love and sorrow can render its dead.

An adoring family circle including her sister, Frances Renick, '24 student at the University; scores of college friends, teachers, men and women, who had worked and played with her and had loved the joy she put in both; fraternal sisters in Chi Omega and Mortar Board in which she was initiated last June a few months after the fatal illness claimed her; church friends who had loved her radiant faithful service and the spirit that illumined it—all were represented in person and in

RADIO CLUB WILL BE REORGANIZED SOON

The University of Kentucky Radio Club which was founded in 1916 is to be reorganized and in view of having a profitable year. The first meeting of the year will be held Tuesday Oct. 11, at 7 p. m. on the third floor of the Civil and Physics building. Dean Freeman, who is exceedingly well versed in all lines of radio work, will address the meeting.

The club is to install a complete new and modern receiving equipment some time in the near future, to start work as soon as the condition of the atmosphere permits.

All students in the University who are interested in radio are urged to be present as there is to be an election of officers to serve the entire year. A good time is in store for all who attend the first meeting.

WILDCATS TROUCE THE MARSHALLANS IN HARD FOUGHT GRID CONTEST

Two Teams Run in by Juneau During Battle With The West Virginians

SCORE IS 28 TO 0

260 Pound Center Stops Kentucky Line Plunges

Juneau's eleven easily defeated Marshall in the second contest of the year on Stoll field last Saturday afternoon by the decisive score of 28 to 0. Three tallies were put across in the first half and the other in the final period.

Despite the 260 pounds of beef in the form of one Crowe, center on the visiting outfit, and a brain and determination behind it Pribble, Sanders and Fuller made big gains thru the line for the sum total of 107 yards. Pitzemberger and Hay, guards on the defeated team aided the powerful Crowe materially in stopping the onrush of Boyd, Fest, Enlow, Hickerson, Ramsey, Server and Fleaman. During the entire season it is improbable that the Blue and White will encounter a much larger line.

The first touchdown came just after Colpitts recovered a fumble when the Wildcats were within smelling distance of the Goal. Lavin went over on the fourth down.

The second tally came after a series of rushes up the field by Fuller and a beautifully executed pass to Lavin which put him within one yard of the line. Sanders put it across.

Rice caught off a nice pass behind the goal for the third pointmaker. Substitutes and Pribble bucked the ball over in the last period for the official 28. Brewer, Neal, and Brown were having a track meet on the gridiron, while the guards tackles and ends kept the opposing players out of the way, when the final tooter tooted.

The game was good nevertheless. Both teams were fighting all the time, although things were rather clack in several instances in the last half. It was an excellent game before the hard contest with Vandy next week end. (Note—The bay window on the powerful center from Marshall was not fat. It was all muscle; each man who ran his head into it will testify accordingly.)

BLUE AND WHITE WILL MEET COMMODORES NEXT

Kentuckians Have Never Defeated The Eleven From Vanderbilt

The annual Vandy-Kentucky game will be staged Saturday on Stoll field. This year the Blue and White is going to defeat the Tennesseans and it will be the first victory for the Wildcats over the Commodores since Gabriel blew his horn and since Solomon, ye wise man of old, took unto himself the 29th wife.

There are obstacles, in the way of dope and whatnot but, "what is dope that thou art mindful of him?"

Mercer succeeded in holding the U. of Ga. to 28 to zero two weeks ago. Vandy trounced the defeated school high into Babe Ruth's home run record, 42 to 0 last Saturday. Saturday we trounce Vanderbilt. Never has Kentucky scored on the coming team.

When Doc Rodes was quarter in 1916 the Blue and White took the ball to within three yards of the coveted goal but was unable to take it one jot further.

In 1919 our squad outplayed them for a scoreless tie; last year they won, 20 to nothing and this year Juneau and thirty nine men, good and strong, are awaiting their arrival.

The men have been instilled with the pent up energy of years and are going to put everything and a little more into the fray.

The game one of the football classics of the South, purports to be the best in years.

The freshmen and band will form in the usual place, and parade over on the field. The referees whistle will blow at 3:00 o'clock and the gates will open three quarters of an hour earlier.

The following girls were in the infirmary for a few days last week because of slight illnesses: Mary Colvin, Katherine Hanley, Margaret Black, Kitty Conroy, and Elsie Rache.

Sarah Cardwell spent last week-end at her home in Harrodsburg.

Helen Taylor and Mary Swinney were guests at the Kappa House last week.

Coleman Hunter of Winchester, was a visitor on the campus last Tuesday.

Margaret Lavin spent last week-end at her home in Paris.

Ed Gregg, Louisville, at editor of the 1920 and 1921 Kentuckian is being welcomed back to the University by his many friends. He has matriculated in the College of Arts and Sciences.

Ann Hickman visited relatives in Flemingsburg last week-end.

The Philosophian Club had its first meeting for the year Tuesday night. Miss Margaret Settles, President, was in charge. A general business session was held, and plans for the year discussed.

SYMPATHY EXPRESSED BY SENIOR CLASS

The following memorial has been put upon the minutes of the Senior class at the death of Miss Kathleen Renick:

"From among the ranks of our classmates we miss this fall the face of one who thus far on our journey has been to each of us an inspiring presence; we miss the voice that had for all and at all times a note of gladness and of cheer; we miss the spirit that entered so readily into all things of interest to our class and to our University.

To us, the Senior Class, now entering upon the last quarter of our pilgrimage, this loss has brought a heritage of deeper seriousness, and of deeper sympathy. We will go on toward our goal without this beloved classmate, but we will do so with an added feeling of our responsibility.

And as we go, tho we shed a tear at the thought of our bereavement, yet there comes also a calm beautiful serenity as we think of her as having 'wrapt the drapery of her couch about her, and, sustained and soothed by an unflinching faith, lain down to pleasant dreams'

Dean Freeman gave an interesting address to the large audience present at the re-organization meeting of the Radio Club held in the Civil and Physics building 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, October 11. The year promises to be an auspicious one for this Engineering Society.

HORACE MANN HOLDS INITIAL MEETING

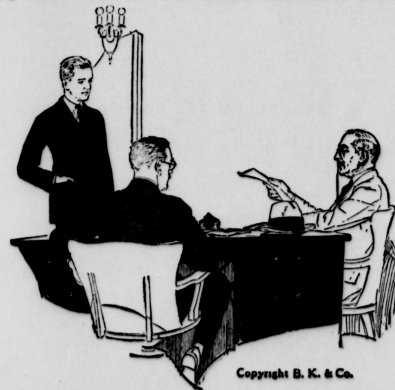

"Big Jim" Server Displays Literary Taste and Becomes Member

"Big Jim" Server has turned literary. After a very interesting program consisting of "Personal Experiences of a Book Agent" by Affie Hammond, Current Events by Catherine Hendricks and a debate, "Resolved that Highway Robbery should be punished by death," Clay Porter, affirmative and Charles Hubbard, negative, "Big Jim" gave his name to the secretary for enrollment as a member of Horace Mann Literary Society. He said that he had suddenly realized that he had spent most of his time training for athletics and had decided that he needed to cultivate a taste for things literary.

The program committee asked him to take the affirmative of a debate "Resolved that Labor Unions should be Abolished." He accepted. The debate is to be held 7:30 next Thursday evening in Education building. Everyone is invited. You have seen Big Jim fight on Stoll field. You will want to see him fight in his new role. His colleague is C. Anderson and his opponents are Dewey Welch and Lenore Patrick.

W. W. Chambers, of the class of '16 in Law was a visitor in the Law Department Monday. Mr. Chambers is now practicing law in Tennessee.

Every man should study himself, decide what role he's going to play in life, and then dress the part. Alumni Notes

Kentucky Day will be an annual feature, according to a decision of the Executive Committee of the Alumni Association. The first annual observance of the day, September 10, was featured by luncheons, dinners and picnics of twenty-one alumni clubs and temporary organizations. Thirteen of these meetings were held in other states.

In Kentucky "Education Week" was observed from September 4 to September 10, with daily meetings in 100 counties. In these county rallies local alumni of the University of Kentucky co-operated with officials of city and county schools and with the State Department of Education. Kentucky Day marked the close of the week. Where a separate meeting for alumni of the followers of the Blue and White joined in a general educational meeting. Alumni and faculty of the University were speakers at the educational meetings held throughout the week.

Letter campaigns were carried on by the alumni chairmen in eight states; Kansas, J. A. Yates '10 Pittsburgh; Texas, Leo Brewer '08 San Antonio; Louisiana, Styles T. Howard '04 Tallulah; Virginia, George H. Gilbert '05 Richmond; Florida, Joe Roemer '14 Gainesville; Georgia, T. H. Burruss Jr. '11 Macon; Oklahoma, John Vick Faulkner '95 Manitou.

Meetings by clubs and temporary organizations were held at Evansville, Ind.; Denver, Chicago, Birmingham, Detroit, Huntington, New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Raleigh, New Haven, Cincinnati, Washington, and in Kentucky at LaGrange, Paducah, Frankfort, Lexington, Louisville, Lebanon, Owensboro and Pineville.

Thornton Lewis '06, who has been associated with the Buffalo Forge Company for fifteen years has joined the York Heating & Ventilating Corp., Philadelphia, as vice-president and general manager.

Thomas Robinson '14, who was a recent visitor at the University, is mine foreman and engineer for the Perkins-Bowling Coal Co. at Sassafras, Perry County, Kentucky. The property is just being developed. When operating at capacity the mine will have a daily output of 1,800 tons and will employ about 600 men.

Mrs. Robinson, formerly Miss Pauline Hank '14, was in Lexington also visiting her sister Miss Nell Hank, a senior in the College of Arts and Sciences. Tom Jr. four and a half years old and Charles Edward, two and a half are nominees for the Wildcats of '88.

"The class of '11 must be 100 per cent paid up, full fledged members of the Alumni Association. Our motto was "Stick to It" and we must live up to it. My new address is 2515 Wickham Avenue, Newport News, Virginia. (Mrs) Oline Cruckshank Wilson, Class Secretary."

Mrs. H. Wilson, formerly Miss Fanny Weir '06 is living at 1236 Hampton Ave. Newport News, Virginia.

Donald T. Wright ex '20, owner and editor of the Waterways Journal, St. Louis, was a recent visitor at the Alumni Office.

Bill Mathews '08 visited his brother Dr. Walter Mathews in Lexington last week.

Chifford T. Dotson '17, attorney at Harlan, Ky., atoned for paying his dues two weeks late by getting three new members for the Association.

J. Donald Dinning '21 former editor-in-chief of the Kernel is studying law at Yale, his address—1564 Yale Station, New Haven.

Henry F. Cromwell '16 is a technical representative of the Hercules Power Company now covering the South. He was on the University campus for a day. The firm has taken over naval stores and is using a new process on rosin, turpentine and pine oil.

Charles E. Planck '19 says "I have been leading a rather high life recently, having just completed three trips on which I took pictures of neighboring towns from the air. They will appear in the rotogravure section of the Sunday Free Press (Detroit). I am planning to come home for the Thanksgiving game."

College Woven's Club Discusses Dress

All College Women in Lexington are Urged to Join the Association

Tuesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock the Central Kentucky branch of the Southern Association of College Women held the first meeting after the summer vacation at the home of Mrs. Edwin Stanton Good, Rose Cottage, on South Limestone.

The theme for the year is "Modern Tendencies," and the subject for discussion was, at this meeting "Tendencies in Dress." Mrs. Ansel F. Hemmway was chairman of the program, assisted by Miss Willis and Miss Pettis.

A skit to illustrate the subject was presented by Mrs. Hemenway and Mrs. Good. Afternoon tea followed the formal session. Mrs. Thomas Cooper was chairman of the social committee assisted by Mrs. L. J. Horlacher, Mrs. E. A. Bureau, Miss Gladys Lowe, Miss Geradine Willis.

The officers of the club are: president, Miss Mabel Politt; vice-presidents, Miss Alice Karr and Mrs. D. J. Healy; secretary, Miss Anne Garnet; treasurer, Mrs. Bureau.

The club is making an earnest effort to have every college woman in Lexington become a member of the American Association of University Women and to enroll in the local branch. Invitations have been mailed to them all, numbering about one hundred, to join.

"POLITICS IS HELL"
Shakespear.

Kentucky has long been noted for its politics and the University is no exception to the rule. For the past week the campus has fairly buzzed with excitement over the coming elections and everywhere were seen would-be politicians and ward bosses scurrying about from one group to another attempting to enlist their support for some candidate.

The elections are to be held next week and the results of the campaigning will be made known, but it will not be known whether the winners of the elections will be the ones fitted for the places. How can it be when the elections are not being held as classes voting for the most capable member of the class to be the leader through the year, but as several colleges and fraternities scheming among one another to enlist the majority vote?

It seems as though fairness in election is lost when representatives from a college will make the members of a Sorority a proposition that they will support a member of said sorority for class office and will vote for said sorority in the popularity contest provided the college ticket is supported by the sorority. We do not mean to imply that any certain college has been so political as to make this proposal but we do not believe that the student body as a whole is in favor of any such proceedings.

It does not seem to be necessary for a college to organize and agree to support a certain candidate just because he is a member of that college, yet that is what is being done and that is what has been done here for the past few years. Why can't we get away from such a procedure and in our class elections not allow ourselves to be dominated by any group or college on the campus.

Not Good Form

There is an element in every university that takes great delight in giving the school a black eye whenever the opportunity avails itself, and this institution is no exception to the rule. We refer to those students who have not quite evolved from the high school stage of irresponsibility. Last week there was a football game on Stoll Field between a local high school team and a team from a nearby town and it was whispered about that some of the University students were going to do that time honored but unsportsmanlike trick of "rushing" the gate.

Fortunately these plans did not materialize as the officials called upon the University faculty to prevent such an outrage and the University was prevented from having the disagreeable duty of apologizing for the rudeness of its students.

Society

Kentucky Epsilon chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon entertained with a house dance at their home on South Limestone Saturday evening from 8:00 to 12:00 in honor of their pledges. Armstrong furnished the music and leas and cakes were served during the course of the evening.

The chaperones were: Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Rollie Guthrie, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Webb, and Mrs. Tapp.

Phi Kappa Tau Fraternity of the University of Kentucky entertained with a dance at their home on South Broadway Saturday evening from 8:00 to 12:00 in honor of their pledges. Slomers Orchestra furnished the music. The house was decorated in the fraternity colors, red and gold, and these colors were carried out in the leas and cake.

PROFESSOR FARQUHAR SAID

"There is child-poetry and poetry about children. There are child-poets. Imagine a woman with an adult experience and a discipline in art, nevertheless able to be a child again and report its sensuous experience. She will make child poetry more than a jingle, more than nonsense. She will make it a richly suggestive philosophy of life, its form and language all for children, its wisdom all for the adults and their imagination. She will make poetry that releases all the significance in what children so trivially report.

Miss Elizabeth Roberts is the woman who has become the child we all were. That is the first thing one wonders at. All her art results in a restraint that keeps her poetry in the child mode. It is art—but of a child's heart. I do not imagine anyone can read her poetry quite so well as Miss Roberts herself does it. That is her role, for the poetry ought to be oracularly delivered as by a child-priest."

ALPHA GAMMA PHO ANNOUNCES PLEDGES

Alpha Gamma Pho announces the following pledges:

H. S. Long, Bedford; H. B. Lane, J. C. Brown, Buffalo, Ky.; John Shaw, Hickman; Jerome Welsenberger, Covington; R. L. Carter, Clifton; Merrill Dowdn, LaGrange; Homer Kister, Princeton, Indiana; A. Wilson, Auburn, Kentucky.

A Gateway—Electrical

ONLY a forty-foot gateway bounded by two brick pilasters and ornamental lamps, but it is unlike any other gateway in the entire world.

For back of it is the General Electric Company's main office building, accommodating 2300 employees. And just next door is its main laboratory with the best equipment for testing, standardizing and research at the command of capable engineers. Then down the street a mile long—are other buildings where electrical products are made by the thousands of electrical workers who daily stream through.

Through this gate messages and representatives from a score of other factories and over fifty branch offices come and go every hour—an endless chain of coordinated activities carrying on and enlarging the scope of over a quarter century's work for the betterment of mankind.

What a story this gate would tell, if it could, of the leaders of the electrical industry and of ambassadors from other industries and institutions—and from foreign lands. The story would be the history of electric lighting, electric transportation, electrified industrials and electricity in the home.

EXTENSION SCHOOLS OPENED BY UNIVERSITY

city found it quite convenient to engage her services.

Other extension courses in various parts of the State are under consideration. The conduct of schools off the University campus and the conduct of correspondence courses are two of the leading features of the extension work of the University. The University frequently has calls for extension work in the way of college courses where it is not possible to carry on the work. An urgent request for a college course in Ashland this year for the benefit of the Catholic Sisters there had to be declined owing to the fact that Ashland is too far from the University to send a man on the regular staff, and it was not possible to find a qualified person in the vicinity who would be willing to give a course.

It is very likely that some arrangements will be made by next year for a full time professor in the field of education to devote his time entirely to the conduct of extension classes over the State. There is a growing demand on the part of teachers in the State for extension courses to be brought nearer home in order that they may take advantage of them while yet engaged in teaching. The University has hitherto been able to spare from its funds only a meager amount for the conduct of extension work. President McVey contemplates asking the Legislature to provide some relief for this type of work, as it is not possible for the University to spare from its limited funds any large amount for the conduct of extension work.

The extension movement, especially in the North, has taken a large place in the educational affairs of the larger and even smaller state universities. The University of Wisconsin, for example, spends almost as much on general extension work as the State of Kentucky spends on its entire university. There is unlimited opportunity in the kind and variety of educational service that can be given to the people where adequate funds can be provided.

The Department of University Extension at the University of Kentucky is conducted by a committee consisting of W. D. Funkhouser, Chairman, Enoch Grehan, McHenry Rhoads, J. T. C. Noe, and L. L. Dantzier. Wellington Patrick is Director of the Department.

the prodigal offering of flowers.

Kathleen Renick left a record seldom equaled in her short period at the University. She entered February, 1919, and almost exactly two years later she was confined with the illness that caused her tragic death. Miss Renick's scholastic standing was brilliant, her daily preparation of her studies conscientious, in a girl of her type, considered almost quaintly so. She was prominent in the Art Department and gymnasium exhibitions, even teaching that subject at Margaret College, Versailles, last winter. She had one of the busiest offices of the Press Association, took part in the "Robin Hood" ballet, and was an officer in the Women's League, giving of her talent freely.

In all her campus life, the animation and sweetness that characterized her girlish beauty were welcomed and general bereavement is felt throughout the University. Only sympathy can be extended to those who loved her and knew her best.

Her friends were not limited to the circle with which she was affiliated, but were numbered by her acquaintances.

STROLLERS TRY OUTS TO BEGIN SOON

Any student in the University who wishes to tryout for eligibility into membership in the Strollers will be obliged to take part in a short one-act play. The play may be selected by persons taking part in it and they may select the members of the cast. However in case any student wishes to receive help from members of the Strollers, plays may be procured from Margaret Smith or Katherine Conroy, in the Kernel office.

Any one wishing to try out who has not already made arrangements for the play in which they are to take part should begin at once as the date for the try outs has been set for October 20. Persons who have already been assigned plays should begin rehearsals immediately.

After the questionnaire, stating the name of the play in which the applicant is playing, has been handed in to the Strollers a certain date and hour will be assigned for each play and each one must be ready for presentation. The three plays pronounced by the Judges as the best from among the group presented will be staged "Amateur Night," October 31, and the play selected as the best of those three will be awarded a prize of ten dollars and will be adjudged of special merit.

CAMPUS CHATTER

The Psychology Club met Thursday afternoon at 4:30 in the psychology laboratory. An interesting program was rendered, consisting of reports on articles of psychological nature, made by W. I. Moore and Elizabeth Snapp. Membership in the club is open to all students who have had a course in psychology and are especially interested in the subject.

Fifty new girls took part in the recognition services of the Y. W. C. A., Sunday night. The services were conducted by Edna Snapp, president of the Y. W. C. A. The girls took the pledge of membership.

Miss Carolyn Sharpe gave a talk on "The Difference Between You and Me" and also explained the budget system to the girls. The Y. W. C. A. budget for this year is $1,500 and this amount must be raised thru the pledges of the members.

Berl Boyd, senior in the College of Law, is a democratic nominee from Groves County for Representative in the Kentucky Legislature. Mr. Boyd made a most remarkable race, having entered the campaign after the close of school in June with two other candidates in the field. In the August primary 8200 votes were cast in the county, Boyd receiving 400 votes more than the other candidates combined. He is a member of the football squad and is student editor of The Henry Clay Law Journal.

John F. Williams, of Catlettsburg, has entered the Sophomore class in the College of Law.

Clifford Smith, former University law student, who won the Southern Oratorical Contest for Kentucky in 1919, visited the Law Department this week. Smith was enroute to the University of Chicago.

The Union Literary Society will meet Friday evening, 7:30 o'clock, in the room on the third floor of Gym Building. All old members are urged to be present and as many new students who will be invited to attend. The meeting will be for organization and there will be an informal program. The meeting will not last for more than an hour.

H. M. Henry, graduate of the College of Engineering, class of '18 was in Lexington this week. He is now with the H. L. Doherty Company, Toledo, Ohio, doing some important development work in connection with the manufacture of artificial gas.

Henry Cromwell, 1916 Industrial Chemistry, visited friends and relatives at the University last week. Mr. Cromwell since graduation spent 2½ years in San Diego, Cal., with the Hercules Powder Co. Since then he has been with the same firm in Wilmington, Delaware.

Prof. W. S. Anderson, head of the Department of Genetics and Eugenics at the University, will give a talk on "Inter-Marriage" at the next meeting of the University Menorah Society on Friday October 21, at 4:30 o'clock in the Little Theatre.

Professor Anderson recently returned from the National Eugenic Conference held in New York.

President McVey will go to Cincinnati Thursday where he speaks before the Rotary Club on "The Need of Leadership."

The Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. will hold a joint meeting at Patterson Hall Sunday evening at 6:30 and community singing will be the main feature. If you want to meet your friends, be there!

Reverend Savage, of the Park Avenue Methodist Church, who has had experience in war work, will lead the singing. Robert Clem is to give a solo and Benton Taylor is to entertain the gathering with his violin. The Y. W. also has plans for the evening but has not yet announced them.

Louisville Club Holds First Meeting

The Louisville Club met Friday, October 7, with Ed Gans presiding. Daysie Lee Tinsley, secretary, read a letter from Herbert Graham, of the Alumni Association, in encouragement of sectional clubs. Because of the small attendance, election of officers was postponed until the next meeting, Wednesday, October 12. Tea and sandwiches were served and a social time enjoyed.

In Selecting a University—

For a college education, there are five things to be taken into consideration:

1. The men at the head of the Institution.
2. The scholastic standing and ability of the Teaching Staff.
3. The location and advantages of environment.
4. Equipment, buildings, laboratories and libraries.
5. Cost.

In all these respects the University of Kentucky commends itself to those seeking a higher institution in which to carry on their education.

All Departments, including Liberal Arts, Sciences, Agriculture, Law, Education, Mining, Civil, Electrical and Mechanical Engineering.

The Government needs trained men and women; college training will bring the result.

MANY TRY FOR MIKADO; STRONG CAST ASSURED

Probably Will Be Given as Part of "Homecoming Day" Program

The announcement that the first production of "The Mikado" would probably be given on the night of November 24, as a fitting close of Kentucky's Homecoming day, is being received with a great deal of enthusiasm by students, faculty and friends of the University. "The Mikado" offers opportunity for a wide range of talent in that for those who do not make the principal cast, there is a chorus of many voices.

Plans are being made whereby attractive Japanese costumes and unusual stage settings will add to the picturesqueness of the production. The cast is yet tentative but those who have shown up well in the tryouts for the male parts are: Riley, Clem, Dahringer, Brooks and Sullivan. These men are contesting for the "Mikado," Nanki-Poo—son of the Mikado who is disguised as a minstrel and who is in love with Yum Yum; Ko-Ko—Lord High Executioner of Titiqu; Pooh-Bah—Lord High Everything Else; Pish-Tish—A noble Lord.

For the feminine parts there are: Yum-Yum—Elizabeth Clare, Mary Lyons; Peep-Bo—Jo Evans, Miss Covington; Sue Chenault; Pitti Sing—Marion Seeger, Louise Connell; Katsi-sha—an elderly lady in love with Nanki-Poo—Mary Campbell Scott.

"The Mikado" of Gilbert and Sullivan is one of the oldest and greatest of comic operas and it is giving the students of the University an opportunity to express themselves through music of the highest type. Remembering the success of "Robin Hood" of last year, one can only look forward with pleasure to the production of "The Mikado."

Frosh—Soph Soccer Contest To Be Oct. 21

Under the direction of Miss Sarah Blanding the annual soccer game between the freshmen and sophomore girls gymnasium classes will be played on Stoll Field Friday afternoon, October 31. The freshmen defeated the sophomores last year by a score of 1 to 0. Several members of the old team are back and many new ones are trying out for places on the team. The Freshmen class has some excellent material, and they are making a good showing in practice. The soccer game promises to be one of the most exciting and hard fought that has ever been played on Stoll Field.

There will be no admission fee and everyone is cordially invited to attend.

RABBI JACOB MARCUS ADDRESSES SOC ETY

University Menorah Club Hears Interesting Lecture

Rabbi Jacob Marcus, of Hebrew Union College, Cincinnati, Ohio, delivered an exceptionally interesting and instructive address before the University Menorah Society Friday afternoon, October 7. The subject of his lecture which was particularly applicable to adherents of the Jewish faith and any student of Eastern customs, modes of life and religions was "The Dawn of Jewish History."

Rabbi Marcus, thru the course of his lecture said in part:

"The period of five hundred years that preceded the rise of Christianity is important because it witnessed the birth of individualism and the dispersion of the Jews throughout the Roman Empire. The stress on the importance of the individual in society made personal religion possible. The dissemination of Hebraic ideals thru out the lands of the Mediterranean basin prepared the way for the ready acceptance of Biblical ethics which constituted the basic appeal of Christianity."

"Jewry and its theologians have always looked upon Christianity and Islam as daughter faiths carrying on the work initiated by the mother religion. The universal elements common to all three groups, those elements that have served to appeal to the best in all humanity, without regard to the accidents of the race and nationality, are the belief of one God; a divine revelation, a belief in some form of immortality and a general acceptance of the basic ethical principles of Hebraism, most succinctly expressed in the Ten Commandments."

"Jewry of today is profoundly indebted to Christianity for the work it has done in carrying prophetic ideals to millions of heathens and in infusing them with a spirit of moral obligation to society."

"The Church as an institution is to be congratulated, particularly, because more than any other group throughout the centuries, it has conscientiously fostered and developed art and music."

ARTIST CONCERT SERIES

Evelyn Scotney, Coloratura soprano of Metropolitan Opera Company, New York City, will appear in concert at Woodland Auditorium, Wednesday, October 19, giving the second of the Artist Concert Series of the 1921-1922 season. Miss Scotney has been one of the leading singers in the greatest American musical organization, several years and is receiving general ovations on the concert stage. She will be assisted in her Kentucky concert by Ignor Sokoloff, 'cellist of the Philadelphia Symphony Orchester accompanied by Rudolph Gruen, pianist. Tickets for the Scotney concert are now on sale at the Lexington College of Music, telephone 639-x and the seat sale will open in the Artist Concert Series both in the lobby of the Ben All theatre, Saturday morning, October 15, telephone 2891. Season tickets may be used for the Scotney concert.

Agricultural Society Acts as Host at Social

The Agricultural and Home Economics Society was host Monday night at a social given in honor of the faculty and students of the College of Agriculture at the Agriculture building. This was the first meeting of the year so the social was started with the playing of some very clever "get acquainted" games. A series of stunts were given by various members of the society. After the serving of refreshments there was dancing.

The first regular business meeting of the society will be held next Monday night and a very interesting program has been planned.
