DATES FOR ORATORICAL PRELIMINARY CHANGED

Eligibility Rules Are Announced for Entrance to Oratorical Contests

TO BE BIG EVENT

The preliminary contest for the purpose of selecting the representatives of the University of Kentucky to compete in the two big oratorical contests to be held in Lexington in March, 1920, has been postponed to January 14, 1920.

The contest of the State Association is to be held on March 1, 1920. Representatives of Berea, Kentucky Wesleyan, Transylvania, Centre, Georgetown Colleges and the State University will take part. To be eligible to compete in this contest a student must be an undergraduate, who does not hold a Bachelor's degree and who is pursuing a regular course of study at the time of the State contest. Students who are over twenty-seven years of age are barred from the contest. Contestants must also be members of either the Patterson or the Union Literary Society.

The rules governing the character of the orations require that no oration shall contain more than two hundred words and such quotations shall be indicated by quotation marks. Any outline, synopsis or analysis attached to an oration shall be considered as part of the oration in making this count.

The prize for the winner of the contest of the Kentucky Association is a loving cup awarded by the State Association. A forensic "K" on a gold medal will be awarded by the University to her own representative.

The winner of the Kentucky State contest becomes eligible to compete in a series of contests leading to the championship of the States of Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Nebraska, Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota, Michigan, Kansas, North Dakota and South Dakota. The State has been unanimously elected to membership in the Interstate Association of the Middle West.

The winner of the Kentucky State contest which is to be held at the University of Kentucky on March 1, 1920, will represent the State on April 2, 1920, in a contest against the winners of first honors in Ohio, Indiana, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan and Illinois. This Eastern Division contest will be held at one of the colleges in Wisconsin. If the Kentucky man wins one of the first three places in that Eastern Division contest, he will compete for final honors against the winners of the first three places in the Western Division. The final contest will be held on May 7, 1920. This series will make the K. I. O. A. contest especially important this year.

U. K. MEN ATTEND BIG CONFERENCE

Dr. McVey Discusses Vocational Training

Dr. Frank L. McVey, Dean Paul P. Boyd and Ezra L. Gillis went to Louisville last week to represent the University of Kentucky at the twenty-fourth annual meeting of the Association of Colleges and Secondary School of the Southern States held there December 4th and 5th.

President McVey addressed the convention Friday, his subject being, "Is There a Tendency to Vocationalize Our Colleges of Liberal Arts and Sciences, and If So to What Extent Is It Wise to Follow This Tendency?" This meeting of the Association was the first held in Kentucky since that held in Lexington some twenty years ago.

DR. McVEA DELIVERS CONVINCING ADDRESS

President of Sweet Briar Speaks in Chapel

In a convincing address in Chapel Tuesday, Dr. Emilie McVea, president of Sweet Briar College, spoke on "The World and Our Responsibilities to It." There are three reasons why the colleges and universities feel that they can justify their demands for endowment funds," said she. "First, the universities teach men to open their eyes. Second, they discover new things for men to see. Third, they help us to understand the present in the light of the past.

"The question is, are we worth what we get out of our education? There should be no bargain counters in life," the speaker went on. "We must make ourselves worth what our University gives us. It is our business to interpret the meaning of that great word Democracy in the cities, towns and counties from which we come.

"We all hear a great deal about this country's program of Americanization. Let us ask ourselves what kind of Americanization we are going to teach?"

U. K. REPRESENTED AT SOUTHERN CONFERENCE.

Dr. Tigert and "Daddy" Boles Leave for Alabama.

J. J. Tigert and S. A. Boles left Lexington Wednesday for Birmingham, Ala., to attend the annual meeting of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association which will be held in that city December 12 and 13. Dr. Tigert is the delegate from the University of Kentucky, and Mr. Boles is also attending the convention in the interest of athletics in Kentucky. Many important questions, such as the eligibility of Freshmen in intercollegiate athletics and other subjects of vital importance will be discussed at the convention.

TIGERT IS INSPIRING SPEAKER AT Y. SERVICE

Compares Body to Ancient Temple in Speech

CHANDLER SINGS

Once more soft cushioned wicker chairs were placed beside the battered Recreation Hall chairs and once more dining room furniture and parlor furniture were dragged into use to accommodate students and faculty members who attended the "Y" meeting held at Patterson Hall Sunday evening. Dr. John J. Tigert made a humorous and at the same time inspiring talk upon the "Temple of God." "Happy" Chandler, accompanied by Elizabeth Kimbrough, sang, "God Will Take Care of You."

Dr. Tigert, in his talk, likened the temple to the human body, its consecration being that act by which one is dedicated to the service of God; the heart, representing the Holy of Holies out of which come the issues of life; the temple was the repository of law as the human body is the repository of law; not laws written on tablets of stone but laws written in the human heart.

"The temple," said Doctor Tigert, "is a place of sacrifice and the body is also a place of sacrifice. It is necessary for us to sacrifice our physical and natural propensities that God may have some place in our development; that we may transform our bodies from material things to transcendental spiritual things. God has given man the ability to choose and it is therefore necessary for him to select and imitate the best of life."

During the social hour which followed, tea and sandwiches were served and "Happy" Chandler, accompanied by Elizabeth Cook, rendered several solos—"Lonesome for You," "Because," "At Dawning," "The Rosary," "When You Look in the Heart of a Rose," etc.

Lovendale Proves Skillful Photographer; Will Go to Virginia Military Institute.

All dates to be made with J. Victor Lovendale, White's photographer, who is making the Kentuckian pictures, must be arranged before Monday, at 3 o'clock. Mr. Lovendale announces that the proofs for the pictures and extra personal orders will be handled by a young woman, whom White will send down from New York at an early date.

Mr. Lovendale wishes to express his appreciation for his kindly reception and treatment here at the University. He is an artist in his work and he has given wide-spread satisfaction. Mr. Lovendale photographed the pictures for "The Better 'Ole" and for "Lombard, Ltd." He will go to do work for Virginia Military Academy after finishing here.

ASSOCIATION OF KY. COLLEGES HAS MEETING

15 Entrance Units for All Kentucky Colleges Favored

Fifteen units as a requirement for entrance to Kentucky Colleges and the bestowal of only one degree, that of Bachelor of Arts, on graduates of the College of Liberal Arts, will probably be adopted by Kentucky Colleges as a result of conclusions reached by heads of institutions of higher learning Saturday at the fourteenth annual meeting of the Association of Kentucky Colleges.

Will B. Campbell, president of Kentucky Wesleyan College, Winchester, was elected President of the Association for 1920.

As a result of this meeting also Junior colleges of Kentucky will from this time on be given partial membership in the association.

This was the first meeting of the association in two years, the war and the influenza epidemic interfering with the convention last year. The sessions were held Saturday, beginning at 10:30 o'clock in the morning, in the Little Theatre. The president, Frank L. McVey, presided.

Thirty-six representatives of Kentucky colleges were present.

Will B. Campbell, who was unanimously elected president, is the most recent addition to officers of the college world in this state. He was elected last summer. T. R. Leigh, of Georgetown, was elected vice-president and Frank L. Rainey, of Centre College, Danville, secretary and treasurer. Professor Rainey will enter upon his twelfth year in this office.

In addition to the officers, the following were elected members of the Executive Committee, Dean John L. Pat-

LOAN COMMITTEE GIVES REMARKABLE FIGURES

Investigation Shows High Percentage of Students Earning Expenses

The investigation recently completed by the Faculty Loan Committee has brought to light some remarkable and interesting facts in regard to the earnings of the students of the University. The student body has shown one of the highest percentages of wage earners of any of the universities of the country. Of the 90 per cent. of the student body who filled out questionnaires sent out by the committee it was found that out of 400 men students, 63 per cent are either earning their entire expenses or earning part of their way through school. Of this 63 per cent. 27 per cent. are earning their entire way, 12 per cent. half of all their expenses and 25 per cent. are earning approximately a fourth of their expenses while in school.

Of those earning money during the summer and the school term it was found that 20 per cent earn their entire way through school by working in summer and during the school term, 22 per cent. earn two-thirds of their way and 21 per cent. earn at least a third of their way.

Statistics given by the women of the University showed that 22 out of the 240 girls are helping in some manner to defray their expenses and of these 22 five are earning their entire way.

The College of Arts and Sciences has the highest percentage of students who are earning money by the week, but the College of Engineering and the College of Agriculture have larger numbers of students who work in the summer.

Out of 39 Junior Engineers 38 are wage earners. It was shown by the survey of the classes that the Freshmen and Senior classes lead with high percentages while the Sophomore and Junior Classes are low in their percentages.

The purpose of the survey by the Faculty Loan Committee was to ascertain just how many of the students are wage earners and to get the statistics compiled. These will be placed before the people of Kentucky with a view of showing the needs of students at the University of Kentucky for larger and more liberal contributions to the loan fund and to scholarships. The Faculty Loan Committee has always been active in the aid of deserving students, usually the upperclassmen, Juniors and Seniors, who lacked sufficient funds to enable them to complete their college work but on account of inadequate funds this work is necessarily limited.

The purpose of the questionnaires sent out for the students to fill out and return, was to get the statistics tersen, University of Louisville, Professor Clark, Berea; Dean P. P. Boyd, University of Kentucky, and C. C. Freeman, Transylvania College.

Professor Henry Lloyd, of Transylvania was chairman of the Committee on Nominations.

The recommendation that fifteen units be required for entrance to Kentucky collegiate institutions came as the result of the report of Dean Thomas McCartney, of Transylvania College, chairman of the Committee on Accredited Schools. Dean McCartney reported that not more than two colleges of Kentucky require the same subjects or the same amount of credits for entrance. This makes inconvenience in transferring students from preparatory schools and in arranging the curricula of colleges, Dean McCartney said.

It was brought out in the discussion that colleges and preparatory schools would give students fifteen credits for entrance to college if required to do so.

In line with the co-operation of high schools and preparatory institutions and colleges was the address of Dr. Frank L. McVey who spoke on "Preparation for College."

Dr. McVey urged that high schools of Kentucky be influenced to narrow their curricula and to give more training in important studies rather than to offer a wide variety of subjects to pupils and give them only surface training.

EXCHANGES

URBANA, Ill., Dec. 7.—The oldest soil experiments held in the United States is on the campus of the University of Illinois.

It is within five minutes' walk of the agricultural college building and thousands visit the experiment field every year. This oldest field was started by George E. Morrow, who was a professor of agriculture at the university for 17 years, and the fields are known as the Morrow plots. On a part of the field corn has been grown on the same land every year since 1879, on another part corn and oats have been grown in alternation, and on a third part corn, oats and clover have grown in rotation.

On an adjoining tract of land, 50 additional experimental plots laid out by Dean Eugene Davenport a few months after he came to Illinois in 1895, a five-crop rotation system with corn, oats, wheat, clover and alfalfa is now in operation.

At the end of this year the Morrow plots will have been under experiment for 40 years and one more year will complete a quarter century of carefully conducted investigations and accurately recorded agricultural facts from the more extensive Davenport plots.

The University "Y" Associations maintain employment bureaus for the benefit and help of students who desire work and they are ready at all times to give the students any help in their power in getting employment.

NEW FURNITURE ADDS TO HALL'S APPEARANCE.

The Recreation Hall at Patterson Hall has been made more beautiful by the addition of a set of wicker furniture. This furniture is upholstered in an attractive shade of delf blue, which harmonizes with draperies and other fixtures of the hall. It consists of six new pieces, two rockers, two straight chairs, a lounge, and a table, which at the present is decorated with potted plants and ferns. A Victrola has also been added, and the Recreation Hall has assumed a most home-like atmosphere. It is now a source of great delight to the young women of the University. We wish to express our thanks to the Board of Control for these additions.

DATES FOR ORATORICAL PRELIMINARY CHANGED

The Southern Oratorical League test which will be held in Lexington on March 5, 1920, will be one of the two biggest events of its kind in the United States. Representatives of the State Universities of Virginia, North Carolina, Alabama and Kentucky, and of Johns Hopkins University and Vanderbilt University will take part. The rules governing eligibility and orations for this contest are as follows:

"Only persons who are pursuing undergraduate studies at the time of the contest and who have not received academic degrees shall be admitted as competitors.

"No speech in the contest shall exceed twenty minutes in delivery. Speeches must deal with political, social or economic subjects of current interest. No speaker in delivering his speech shall use quotations without making it clear that he is quoting. The amount of quoted matter in one speech must not exceed 200 words."

The prize to the winner of this contest will be $60 in cash awarded by the Southern Association. A forensic "K" on a gold medal will be awarded to Kentucky's representative.

Kentucky's representatives in both of these contests will be chosen on January 14, 1920. If the winner of the preliminary contest meets the eligibility requirements of both associations he will be permitted to represent the University in both contests, on March 1 and on March 5. If the winner of the preliminary contest meets the requirements of one association and not of the other, he will represent the University in the contest for which he is qualified. The next highest contestant in the preliminaries who meets the eligibility requirements will be chosen to represent the University in that contest for which he is qualified. The preliminary contest will be judged by a board of judges consisting of three members of the faculty. Manuscripts of the orations of contestants in the preliminaries must be given to Professor E. C. Mable not later than January 10, 1920.

Students who plan to enter these contests are requested to report to Professor Mable at once so that they may get well started on their speeches and be able to do effective work on them during the Christmas holidays.

NOTICE TO STUDENTS.

To the students of the University:
Following is the Senate rule regarding absence before and after holidays:

"Absence from classes immediately preceding and following a holiday or examination period shall be reported at once to the Registrar. Students absent at these times must present their excuses in writing to the Discipline Committee immediately upon return to the university. If the excuse is not satisfactory to the committee, one-half credit will be deducted for each day or fraction of a day of absence."

The time for presenting excuses to the chairman of the Discipline Committee, C. R. Melcher, has been extended to Friday noon, December 12. If by that time no excuse is presented the Discipline Committee will take it for granted that the student has no reasonable excuse to offer.

CHARGES AGAINST CENTRE NOT CONVINCING.

It is with extreme astonishment and surprise that such a thing should be deemed possible of any Kentucky college that the Kernel notes in the columns of newspapers of recent date, a wholesale indictment of Centre College, our neighbor institution, by West Virginia, making charges so disgraceful in their import as to leave forever the stigma of professionalism on the little Kentucky college, if it does not immediately refute them beyond the shadow of a doubt.

The charges, made by one Major Earl Smith, a West Virginia University alumnus, and said to be the result of investigations made by him, set forth that "Red" Roberts, of Somerset, Ky., who is well known in this section of the State, is none than one of the former Nesser brothers, formerly members of one of the great professional teams of Ohio, and that his brother, also red headed, "plays end or half" on the Centre team. The so-called investigator also claims that McMillan is a professional player known as Scruggs, and that several other professionals played on the Centre eleven.

Major Smith says the team was brought together by "Moran, coach, who came from Texas, and Jim Duffee, Columbus, Ohio, sportsman and referee," and that the money necessary to hire these men was put up by "race horse and hotel people of Lexington, that big, sporting Kentucky town."

If the main facts in Major Smith's charges are no more reliable than the details printed herewith, the whole thing would make an entertaining fairy story but nothing else.

The writer knows that McMillan and Roberts played on the Somerset High School football team before entering Centre in 1917, at the time according to Major Smith, that they were playing professional ball in Ohio, and it is hardly possible they could be in two places at once, except in a fairy story in which Major Smith seems a past master.

The Kernel, a Kentucky publication, wishes to express its sincere hope and confidence that Centre will at once dispel all such rumors that besmirch its fair name and bring disgrace upon one of the oldest and most honored of Kentucky colleges. The charges look at present to be merely a manifestation of "sour grapes" of fairly defeated opponents, whose champion takes this means to bring solace to their wounded vanity and lessen the sting of defeat by an adversary whom they thought was insignificant; but if these charges are proved untrue, and the Kernel has every reason to believe that they will be so proved, no censure would be too great for the one who brings such accusations against the good name of so venerable an institution as is Centre.

Centre College should at once take steps to brand these charges as false, and bring down upon the heads of their authors the just rebuke that all false charges merit, if they be false.

It is exceedingly unfortunate that such controversies should arise between educational institutions of high standing, and especially of such serious nature as this purports to be. No matter how the matter ends, it should be a lesson and reminder to all who may have at any time in the future an inclination to air their views of any college through the columns of the press, to use such caution in their speech as to be more convincing than Centre's accusers seem to have been in the present instance.

Since the foregoing was put into type, the Kernel has been reliably informed that the author of the charges against Centre has acknowledged his mistake and has made full reparation for the attack on the good name of that institution.

The Kentucky Colonel says: "In speakin' of the Lykelle Pome be suah and don't pronounce it with the accent on the last syllable. It is Lyk-elle that it will sound Lyk-elle."

Mademoiselle On Dit says: "A girl always knows when a man's in love with her, but a man can almost break a girl's heart and never know it." The Knight of the Lexington Drug retorts: "Isn't that just like a woman? She leads on a man she doesn't care a straw about and turns a cold shoulder to the one she's crazy about and then accuses him of breaking her heart! Just like a woman."

Lykelle Pome.

There once was a fair suffragette
Who said, "Wait 'til the ballot we get.
Prohibition shall rule,
Factory kids go to school,
And a woman be president yet!"

Miss Blanding—"March—on tuptoe —one, two, three, four—common walk."

Deanie Harbison—"Did—dddid you say 'camel walk.'"

Prof.—"What's the answer to this problem?"

Co-ed—"Sixty."

Prof.—"How did you get it?"

Voice from back of room—"Looked in the back of the book."

Dot Blatz—"Pitt would have been Prime Minister for a longer time if he hadn't died."

Harding and Cook were shooting pool.
Cook won and Ed remarked nonchalantly—"Cook, you pay for this, I don't want to break this two bits."

PAROXYSMAL PARODIES

In the language of the poet
Though the meter may be wrong,
(There are many who won't know it)
I'll express myself in song.

I've read the lines that Frizzy wrote,
'Tis time that others had their turns;
And "Freshies" poems get my goat,
So let me be while genius burns.

'Twas in the day of Troy and Tyre,
While Jennie Wren was young,
That fierce old Haman did aspire
To have proud Mordecai hung.

The little paramoecium, growing frantic,
With his setae all arrayed,
Vowed he'd cross the broad Atlantic,
Would he swim? no, he would wade.

"My gas is gone," the balloonist spoke,
'I'll park in this cloud a while And fix my Kipp Generator which is broke
'It's as fractious as a chile"

Epizootically speaking, science is absurd,
Not in idle words I speak it, but assiduously
Voicing the sentiments of every bird, Studying valence and formulas piteously.

"Open up old boy," said the starfish to the mussel,
It happened off Panama,
And the slanting ray of the departing day,
Was the last the mussel saw.

The meeting came quite unexpected,
It happened in this way,
A long freight train became disconnected,
At the end of a perfect day.

We will not linger on this theme,
When all the earth is glad,
But from the farmer's words 't would seem,
'Twas the only colt he had.
—Ambrose.

THAT AWFUL PICTURE!

Behold the constant procession of gloom-filled sufferers ascending the Armory steps nowadays! Old and young, from careworn Seniors to giddy Freshmen are having their pictures "took." For the co-ed, there is a rather agonizing preliminary.

First comes the question of hair!
For the half-hour date with the photographer, the maiden debates on the date of the shampoo. One's hair shouldn't look too fluffy and halo-like and still it mustn't lie close to one's head like the skin on an onion—and then, Argument: What about the old faithful net?

The boys may discuss the relative merits of a jeweled stickpin and those of a plain, elegant gold one, although we can't believe that they are that Beau Brummelish, but certainly, whether tulle is becoming in an evening dress picture is a more vital question now at Patt. Hall and fair co-eds have been rended bitterly as to the respective "taking" qualities of the evening dress and middy.

The date is painful enough, for what good Christian enjoys the ordeal of the camera! No wonder the Hindu bets dangerous around even a small kodak! Did you ever look the same after you have been frozen rigid by the menacing look of the presiding evil genius, whose best-known quality is his soft words of honey? Your tongue cleaves to the roof of your mouth and you grow gloomy. When told to smile, oh! what a sickly result!
Oh, agony that is to come—the proofs!

"ABSENT DORM" IS NEW PUBLICATION

Harry Cottrell was recently appointed to the position of Associate Editor on The Absent Dorm, successor to The Weekly Dorm, a student publication which was founded in the fall of '17, during the last year the dormitories existed, and published at times during the school year when the Kernel "did not appear on the campus."

Owing to the fact that the members of last year's staff were engaged in the war and were not in school, the paper did not appear, but this year it will be published and the editor-
-in-chief, Robert Mitchell, Jr., promises that this year's paper will be an improvement over past issues. Examination week will probably be the first time the paper will appear.

Mr. Cottrell is the second assistant
Mr. Mitchell has had since this paper was founded and both of his co-workers have been pledged and initiated by Alpha Delta Sigma after being appointed on the staff, Chas.

Announcements have been made on the campus to the effect that all the Lexington churches having Bible Sun-of a debate at the meeting of the Union Literary Society last Friday, and the affirmative, supported by Alprin and Konkright, proved victorious over the negative, upheld by Zuckerman and Gartin. After the debate the program was concluded with an interesting talk on the "Mountains of Kentucky," by Sylvester Woods.

Patterson Literary Society.

The declamation contest of the Patterson Literary Society for the Crum Medal took place Friday night in the Little Theatre with Professor Mabie presiding as chairman. Seven contestants fought for the honors, among them officers and prominent members of the society. Several of the contestants were old men who had been in declamatories before, but the majority were either new members or old members for whom this was the first contest.

The judges, Prof. T. T. Jones, Mr.
A. W. Whiting and Dr. Guy Smith, awarded the honors as follows: First, W. I. Moore, "The Black Horse and His Rider"; second, J. B. Prewitt,
"The Old Man"; third, F. P. Bell,
"Ingersoll on Napoleon." The other contestants were, George Gregory,
"Mother and Poet," by Elizabeth Barrett Browning; H. B. McGregor, "The Greatest Thing in the World"; R. D.
Warth, "Lasca" and J. H. Davis, "Lincoln's Gettysburg Address."

The different selections were each delivered with such a degree of perfection that it was difficult to say who really deserved the honors.

Horace Mann.

At the meeting of Horace Mann this week John Fox, Jr. was the theme of the program. Alta Chandler discussed the "Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come" and Elizabeth Kimbrough analyzed his best short story. A criticism on John Fox as a descriptive writer was given by Miriam Kincheloe.

FRATERNITY GIVES SHOWER FOR BRIDE

The Lambda Alpha chapter of Chi Omega entertained with a miscellaneous shower in honor of Mrs. Mc-Clarty Harbison, an alumna and a recent bride, at "Tynebrae," the country home of Miss Martha McClure, Friday afternoon.

The house was lighted by candles and flowers were used in all the rooms. Refreshments of ice cream and small cakes were served, and the mints in carmine and straw, the fraternity colors. To the music of the wedding march, small Jane Freeman and Franklin Farquhar entered the room dressed as bride and bridegroom, followed by the guest of honor.

The guests formed an aisle for the procession, which halted at a table heaped with the numerous beautiful gifts hidden by a white cloth. The tiny bridegroom removed it and presented Mrs. Harbison with the gifts.

Those present were the patronesses,
Mrs. Edward Wiest, Mrs. W. E. Freeman and Mrs. E. F. Farquhar, and the following alumnae, members and pledges: Betty Davis, Margaret Har-bison, Carlisle Chenault, Margaret

KENTUCKYLIVE STOCK MAKES GOOD SHOWING

Prizes Won in International Exhibition

Kentucky live stock made an excellent showing at the International Live Stock show which came to a close in Chicago, Saturday, December 6, as is shown by the following extract from the Blue Grass section of The Lexington Herald:

Kentucky live stock breeders are very much pleased to learn that the University of Kentucky has adopted the policy of growing and fitting steers to show at the State Fair and International Live Stock Show. This was the first year the State University has gone out with any live stock and while they did not receive any of the high placings, are to be congratulated on this great effort and encouraged in selecting better steers for next year. This is a great work for the students in animal husbandry and if this policy is carried forward will be a wonderful help to the students who are naturally inclined to live stock.

Prof. E. S. Good has already secured calves to fit for next year's show and has been working on them for two months. He believes he has a better lot than he started with last year and hopes to get them ready to show at the Kentucky State Fair next September.

Now that we have a breeding herd of cattle at the Experiment Station we should be able to produce some real prize winning steers.

A pen of three Berkshire barrows under six months, a feature of the Kentucky exhibit, was second prize winner in its class at the live stock show at the International Live Stock exhibition in Chicago last week. This was the highest award bestowed upon the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky, at the International.

Dean Thomas P. Cooper, E. S. Good, L. H. Horlacher, E. S. Farmer, and other representatives of the Experiment Station and members of the student stock judging team returned home Friday night after attending the annual convention of the International Live Stock Exposition in Chicago, November 29 to December 6.

E. G. Godbey was high man on the Kentucky student judging team, ranking thirty-seventh among 91 students. The Kentucky team as a whole ranked fourteenth in the student stock judging contest with a score of 3,643. The team from Texas stood first with a score of 4,119.

Other Kentucky exhibits which took prizes were a Berkshire barrow under six months, which was given a third prize, and a pen of three grade ewes in mutton improvement, which received a third prize.

A part of the stock sent to Chicago for the Kentucky exhibit will be sold this week in Chicago, Prof. E. S. Good said Saturday. The rest will be brought back to the Experiment Farm. The pen of three Berkshire barrows, which took a second prize, will be re-fitted and shown again next year, it was announced.

ENTHUSIASM EVIDENT ON BASKETBALL FLOOR

Armory Crowded With Candidates for Various Teams

Training for the coming Campus League Basketball series is now in full swing. Last Friday afternoon the candidates for the various teams reported to Mr. Boles, who, with the assistance of Coach Gill, began the organization of the eighth Campus League teams.

Each afternoon this week the basketball floor in the Armory has been crowded with enthusiastic youths aspiring to places on their Class or College Squads. Light practice has been in order, and there have been several afternoons of scrimmage between the temporary squads. Coach Gill is on the floor each afternoon to make suggestions and to see that the matter of squad organization is completed before the Christmas holidays, immediately after the holidays the first games of the series will be played.

Two or three of the teams have already completed their organization and have elected a captain and a manager. However, most of the teams are handicapped either by a super-abundance of material from which to choose a quintette or a lack of material. For instance, the Freshman squad is now composed of more than twenty men, while the Junior and the Senior squads have barely enough men for a complete team each. The College teams have good material, but the squads seem to lack leaders, and the development of their organizations has been slow. However, all eight of the squads will be selected and will be rounded into shape before the middle of next week. The bronze basketball watch fobs which are to be given to the seven men and the manager of the team winning the Campus League championship are furnishing additional inspiration to the aspirants to the various squads, and great deal of interest is being demonstrated in this series.

WILD CAT QUINTETTE PROMISES BIG SEASON

Old "K" Men Compete With Newcomers for Basketball Honors

The Wildcat Basketball quintette of 1920 promises to become one of the fastest and best organized machines this University has had in many years. Judging from the material reporting at first practice there will be an open season for baskets and no bag limit for the 'Cats.

Competition is waxing strong between old men and the many new ones who are fighting for their rights. The old men to report for the first practice were Everett, Burnham, Shanklin, Lavin, Morris and Parker. Ireland, an old "K" man, is back for the season, and Blakey, a letter man of Centre, is eligible this year, while Wilhelm and other men are back after one or more years' absence from college. The other men out for honors are Clark and Carr, from Somerset

TO HOLD BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT HERE

Kentucky High School Team to Be Guests of University.

The annual Kentucky Athletic Association basketball tournament will be held at the University March 12 and 13. It was announced last week by Athletic Director Boles, who is sending out letters to all high schools in the State urging them to send a team to participate in the contest.

The High School tournament which was held at the University last year was won by Lexington High over seven other high school teams. This year at least twelve teams are expected to take part in the contest.

Expenses for eight men from each high school will be paid by the Athletic Association of the University and entertainment will be furnished the visitors while in Lexington. A silver loving cup will also be given to the winner of the tournament and the team will be declared State champions.

"K" MEN AND WOMEN ORGANIZE FRIDAY

Officers Elected and Committee Appointed to Draft Constitution.

A meeting of all the letter men and women of the University was held Friday afternoon, December 5, in Chapel, for the purpose of re-organizing the University "K" Association. Thirty men and women who have won letters in Kentucky athletics were present at the meeting.

Eger Murphree was elected president of the organization, Lily Cromwell, vice-president and Patrick Campbell, secretary-treasurer. A committee, composed of Messrs. Campbell, Lavin and Thompson, were appointed to draft a constitution for the organization. Every effort will be made to improve the athletics of the institution and to secure winning teams in all branches of collegiate sport.

In Selecting a University

For a college education, there are five things to be taken into consideration:

1. The men at the head of the Institution.
2. The scholastic standing and ability of the Teaching Staff.
3. The location and advantages of environment.
4. Equipment, buildings, laboratories and libraries.
5. Cost.

In all these respects the University of Kentucky commends itself to those seeking a higher institution in which to carry on their education.

All Departments, including Liberal Arts, Sciences, Agriculture, Law, Education, Mining, Civil, Electrical and Mechanical Engineering.

The Government needs trained men and women; college training will bring the result.

DEPARTMENTAL CLUBS

The Romance Language Club.

The Romance Language Club met Monday evening at the home of Miss Katharine Tucker, on High Street. Mrs. Edith Wharton's book, "The French People and Their Ways," was reviewed by Miss Florence Barrett. Spanish poems were discussed and representative poems read by Alberta Wilson. During the informal social hour that followed Prof. Zembrod sang some French songs very delightfully.

Pre-Medical Society.

At its regular meeting last Monday, the Pre-Medical Society had for its speaker Dr. Tuley, Dean of the Medical Department, University of Louisville. Dr. Tuley first spoke on the history of medicine in Kentucky and then made a survey of the work which is required of a pupil upon entering a medical school. He also gave the pre-medical students a little idea of what their work would be in the medical school.

Ag. Society.

At a meeting of the Ag. Society on Monday, December 15, at 7:30 o'clock, in the new Chemistry Building, a program of unusual interest will be given. A moving picture called "Tractorizing Dad," showing the various uses of the tractor on the farm, is to be the main feature of the evening. The film narrative contains a love story and many funny incidents throughout. The exhibition will be free to the public.

Freshmen Engineers.

At a meeting last week the Freshmen Engineers decided to name their society after Col. George W. Goethals, the prominent engineer who had charge of the construction of the Panama Canal. The constitution and by-laws were presented by a committee previously appointed by the president. They were accepted by the society thus completing the organization of another society among the many useful ones now on the campus.

Henry Clay.

The Henry Clay Law Society met

last Thursday evening. After the invocation by Burchett, acting chaplain, a debate was held, the subject of which was, "Resolved, That the miners of Kentucky were justified in refusing to comply with the government's order that they go back to work." The affirmative, White and Boyd, won over the negative, Ilderton, Eblen and Haley.

LECTURE COURSE IN BLUE GRASS TOWNS

Mt. Sterling and Maysville to Hear Lecture by U. K. Men.

Series of lectures will be given in Mt. Sterling during the next few months by members of the faculty of the university. The program has been arranged through the co-operation of the University Extension Department and the Woman's History Club of Mt. Sterling.

Maysville, under the auspices of the Maysville Community Club, will have the same course of lectures this winter.

Why Not Trade Here?

—BECAUSE—

The selection of suitable drug store goods is better here than usual for the very simple reason that not only do we stock practically anything and everything that any drug store anywhere could offer you, but we arrange and display them in such a way as to make selection easy, rapid and satisfactory. The quality of everything we sell is high-grade. True, there are medium priced and low-priced goods, but value for value, price for price, there are better offerings here than elsewhere. When the question of drugs is considered there is but one quality and that is the highest that science can produce.

ABOUT THE CAMPUS

The Kernel is in receipt of a letter from Kentucky Wesleyan College, expressing appreciation for a visit which H. B. McGregor, president of the Patterson Literary Society, made at the request of M. C. Redwine, a University graduate of the Class of '19, to that college in Winchester last week. It seems that other schools are having the same trouble we are experiencing in arousing interest in literary work, and McGregor was requested to make a talk on the value of Literary Societies.

Dr. Frank L. McVey and Dr. J. W. Pryor are on the program at the Kentucky Conference of Educators to be held in Louisville Friday and Saturday. The conference is under the auspices of the United States Bureau of Education and the Public Health Service for the purpose of discussing the subject "Sex Education in the High School."

The Extension Division of the University has been officially designated as the distributing center for Kentucky for educational films sent out by the United States Bureau of Education and the first shipment is already on the way here. As soon as the films arrive a program will be worked out and a motion picture circuit among High Schools of the State will be formed. A campaign will also be started to promote the use of motion picture machines in the schools of the State.

The Senior students in the Department of Farm Management, who hold meetings every Friday from 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock, were entertained by Professor Forester at the last meeting, at his home, 151 East High street. There are seven students who are following up the regular class work with this work and interest in Farm Management has increased very much.

E. M. Prewitt, Department of Dairying, has returned from Oldham and Campbell counties and reports excellent work being done in the Cow Testing Associations which were formed in those counties during the last few months. The work in Campbell county is under the supervision of J. M. Ligon, Class of '15, and Robert "Bob" Heath, Class of '16, has charge of the work in Oldham. Both were graduated from the College of Agriculture and were just discharged from the service when appointed to the positions they now hold. Already, a friendly rivalry has sprung up among the members of the Associations, and to date E. J. Clore, of O'Bannon, Oldham county, holds the record for production of butterfat. One of his cows—a grade Shorthorn—has produced forty-seven pounds of fat during the thirty-one days of October. Mr. Prewitt goes to Boone county within a few days to organize an association where "Willie D." Sutton is serving as County Agent.

NOTICE.

Seniors! Members of fraternities and other organizations! This week is your last chance to have your picture taken for the 1920 Kentuckian. Make your appointment any time between 9 o'clock and 3:20 o'clock at the studio on the third floor of the Gymnasium Building.
J. ED. PARKER, JR.,
Business Manager.

MOTTOES DON'T COUNT.

(Occidental.)

"You may bring to your office and put in a frame,
A motto as fine as its paint,
But if you're a crook when you're playing the game,
That motto won't make you a saint;
You can stick up the placards all over the hall,
But here is the word I announce,
It isn't the motto that hangs on the wall,
But the motto that you live that counts!"

"If the motto says 'Smile,' and you carry a frown,
"Do It Now," and you linger and wait,
If the motto says 'Help,' and you trample men down,
If the motto says 'Love,' and you hate,
You won't get away with the mottoes you stall,
For truth will come forth with a bounce,
It isn't the motto that hangs on the wall,
But the motto that you live that counts!"

NOTICE.

To members of the faculty,
University of Kentucky:
This is to inform you that the Christmas holidays will begin at the close of the seventh hour, Friday, December 19 and will close at 8 a. m. Tuesday, January 6, 1920.
Very truly yours,
EZRA L. GILLIS,
Secretary to the Council.
