ALL KENTUCKY BASKET BALL QUINTETTE

As Picked by Our Coach Would Have All Players Come From the State Team.

OTHER TEAMS ARE MENTIONED

(By Alpha Brumage)

I have been asked to pick an All-Kentucky Intercollegiate Basket Ball Team. I do not feel at all competent for I haven't seen all the teams in Kentucky play. I am very glad, however, to pick a team from the material I saw.

However, I wish it understood that the material on the team I pick is not chosen from all the teams of the state but only selected from the material of a few of the best teams. It might be that this team could not be called an All-State team for undoubtedly there is some material I have not seen that merits consideration. I have seen the following teams play: State University, Central, Transylvania, and the University of Louisville. One other team, Georgetown, which had a very good season, I have not seen in action. No doubt this team has men who should be considered for this mythical quintette. The following college teams I did not see play: St. Marys, Bethel, Cumberland College and Kentucky Wesleyan. Not all of these teams finished well, but that is not saying they did not have material that should be considered in a selection of this kind.

Central University had only one man who played more than an ordinary good game. This was Coleman, who played center. Coleman is a big, strong fellow with a good eye for the goal, and seemed to understand the game well but was very slow. He was too easily covered to be considered for faster company. Transylvania had only one man, who, in my judgment, was worthy of special mention. That was the midget guard, Barbee. If this man had been of medium size he would be the fastest man in the game in the State today. Rhoten and Barnett, on the Georgetown College team are reported to be good men. I did not see them play and hence cannot compare their work with the work of the other men. The University of Louisville had three good men, Rodgers, Baker and Caldwell. These three men were the strength of the Louisville team. Rodgers was an excellent forward and lead his team in scoring.

All the material for my All-Kentucky team I would select from the squad at the State University. I do not hesitate to say that the best six men at the University should be considered for the head of the list. I say this because of the consistent winning of the State University team, even in spite of adversity and the resulting changes made in the line-up of the team. The shifting of the players from one position to another only tended to emphasize

47 TO 13 SCORE TO BE RECONSIDERED SATURDAY NIGHT

Captain Tigert's Men Reported to be in Starring Condition.

INTEREST CENTERS ON FACULTY

On the 6th of March our faculty took Richmond's teachers across to the melody of 47 to 13. This score will be reconsidered here next Saturday night. Dr. Tigert announces Rhodes, Schmitter and Spears as guards and Rasmussen, Downing and Spahr as the forwards, while he hopes to hold Keith at center. The Richmond forwards will be Bernard, captain of team and Athletic Director of the E. K. T. and Prof. Wooten, Center Keith and Hoskins and the guards will be Pullen and Johnson. We want to watch Bernard and "remember the Richmond" of three years ago. The students should take this game by storm and show the Crabbe brigade that State University has some men in its faculty ranks as well as among the students. The reputation of our classroom heads depends to a measure on this engagement. There will be two referees, King and Bowman. If these two prove inadequate, others will be recruited from the hustings.

STRIVING FOR PEACE BUT READY FOR WAR

Great Opportunity For College Youth Men to Get Military Instruction in Camps.

FOUR CAMPS.

The Students' Military Institution Camp which was held last summer at Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, was a marked success, all the men who attended agreeing that they had never had a better time during the summer as so little cost. Not only was the life one of enjoyment and pleasure, but it gave the men an intensely interesting insight into and experience of army service conditions. The practical value of the information received, the extensive field covered, and the interesting way in which the men were taught cannot be too strongly emphasized.

An idea of the camp can be gained from the following survey which explains in full detail the cost, daily life, and benefits to be derived.

On July 31, the men left Gettysburg and spent the remaining time on a hike to Mt. Gretna, at a distance of 65 miles. The journey was made in 7 days, the men moving and acting as a regular army on the march. Each man carried light packs besides his rifle, but had little trouble in making the trip as they took it in easy stages, engaging in sham battles with the regulars at frequent intervals. The men slept in shelter tents on the ground or on hay procured from some neighborhood farmer.

After arriving at Mt. Gretna the men put up the regular pyramid tents in

BASKET BALL TOSSING HAS CEASED

The Most Successful Season in the History of the University.

ONLY TWO GAMES DROPPED

The basket ball season just ended has been one of the most successful in the history of the game at the State University. Sixteen games were scheduled, fifteen played and thirteen won. The last game of the season, which was scheduled with the strong Muskingum College team was not played on account of their failure to arrive at the time the game was scheduled. The Wildcats played in hard luck in all games after the third week in January, yet the team was able to pull through with a complete string of victories after that date. The first hard luck was the loss of Tom Zerfoss, the speedy little forward who promised to break all previous records in point getting. Next Preston was ruled out of the game by the faculty athletic committee on a mere technicality. Then Carl Zerfoss, who had been filling one of the positions so nicely, was compelled to leave the game on account of sickness. Still the team continued to finish in front and were not headed at any time. Perhaps no other team representing the University met adversity for as consistent playing.

Some of the best teams in the South were defeated. Only twice were the Wildcats beaten. Once by the strong University of Virginia team and again by the Cadets at V. M. I. It is doubtful if either of these teams could have won over the State on a neutral court. The Virginia team was one of the best played this season. The V. M. I. team was only fair. Had that team been played at any other time than on the end of a long, hard trip, the result would have been different.

All games played with S. I. A. A. teams were won. No other S. I. A. A. team had such a record this last season. It looks quite likely that the Wildcats have the call on all the other teams of the Association. Certainly no team can claim the championship over the State and none has as strong a claim to the championship. Only two Ohio Conference teams were played and both were defeated by a small score.

The men played most consistent throughout the entire season. Only once did the men fail to play good ball and that was in the V. M. I. game. The line-up was changed frequently to fill the positions of some man who was compelled to stay out of the game, yet the changes did not affect the playing of the men. Every man showed a remarkable versatility which strengthens the claim that the team was composed of excellent players. Karl Zerfoss, Tom Zerfoss, Preston and Morgan lead in the scoring. These men showed ability to score in every game. Scott, Capt. Tuttle and Gumbert were great guards. James Parks and Schrader were good men to fill a position

BASKET BALL SEASON ENDS WITH FRESHMEN GAME

Champions of All Teams Under Varsity and Have a Good Record.

HAVE TAKEN UP THE MIT.

Last Thursday afternoon the Freshmen basket ball team ended the season with a handsome victory over the Broadway Christian Church team. The team has held together exceedingly well during the season and have given some good exhibitions of basket ball. Out of the six games played only three were won, but this is no discredit to the team. The games lost were by small difference of scores, while the games won showed better playing than is usually seen by class teams. The games played were: The two games with Lexington High were victories to the high school boys by small scores, the first 25 to 26, the second 20 to 15. The Cynthiana team won by the score of 20 to 18 on their home floor. The Freshmen trimmed the Sophs to the tune of 20 to 9. Versailles Y. M. C. A. lost to them 37 to 19. In the last game the Freshies beat the Broadway church team by the score of 35 to 15.

The line-up in the game Thursday was:

- Schwantz and Hopkins.....F
- Sandlin.....C
- Gumbert (c) Clark, Peak, Ellis.....G

There are good indications of a winning base ball team to represent the class of 1917 this spring. Already part of a schedule has been arranged by Prof. Weaver and Pres. Clark. Cynthiana High will be played at Cynthiana, April 24, and at Lexington, May 15. The class games will be played near the last of April. A game has also been arranged with Lexington High but no date has yet been set.

tion in case of substitution. Parks played great ball when ever called upon. Capt. Tuttle proved a great leader for the team as well as one of the best players in the South and always had his men well organized and fighting hard for the school and students.

All of the members of this year's team are due to return to school next year except Preston, who will graduate in June. An effort will be made to take on more of the S. I. A. A. teams next year. Everybody wants an opportunity to measure strength with the best in the South. Another winning team is expected next year.

A partial summary of the results of this season is as follows:

- Games played—fifteen.
- Games won—thirteen, lost two.
- Five S. I. A. A. games won, none lost.
- Two Ohio Conference won, none lost.
- Points scored—466.
- Opponents scored—256.
- Average points per game—31.
- Opponents points per game—19.

Resulting from the action of Chicago's Student Council, athletes will be barred from all class offices.

WEATHERFORD CAMPAIGN PROJECT OF THE Y. M. C. A.

Four Best Speakers Spend Week in Interest of Modern Religion.

IMPORTANT MEETINGS DAILY

A student campaign for modern religion, similar to the 1913 "Hurrey" meetings, was held last week in the University, beginning Thursday morning and ending Sunday afternoon. Three of the biggest men in the country in student Y. M. C. A. work were here for four days, and two of the national and territorial leaders of the Y. W. C. A. conducted meetings for the women.

Co-operating with the student leaders in seeing the campaign through was a faculty committee, consisting of President Barker, Prof. E. L. Gillis, Rev. S. P. Hawes, Prof. J. J. Tigert, Major A. W. Gullion, Judge Lyman Chalkley and Dean Anna J. Hamilton. Able work was also done by L. M. Terrill, State College Secretary for Kentucky, in assisting the local officers.

Dr. W. D. Weatherford, International Secretary for the South, was the leading speaker for the men. He gave five public addresses: "The Personal Significance of Sin," "The Social Significance of Sin," "The College Man's Battle," "The Shadow of a Great Rock," and "The Liberty of Life." The total aggregate of students hearing these addresses was 1,020, making an average attendance of 204.

Miss Louise Holmquist, National Secretary of the Y. W. C. A., assisted by Miss Frances Smith, of St. Louis, led the meetings for the girls. As these meetings occurred downtown in the Woman's Club and in conjunction with other groups from Hamilton, Sayre, and girl residents in Lexington, no definite record was kept of the attendance of the State University girls, with the exception that it was noticed that our students strongly predominated in numbers at all meetings.

Max Exner, M. D., International Sex Education Secretary of the Y. M. C. A., gave four of the clearest and most helpful addresses ever heard on this line in Lexington. His two audiences in his University heard him on Friday and Sunday afternoon, with the subjects: "The Young Man's Sex Problem," and "Sex and the Religious Life." 300 men heard him on Friday and 70 on Sunday. His poke also at the High School on Friday to 200 boys on the subject, "Nature's Way of Making a Man." 100 Transylvania men heard him on Saturday morning.

One of the most interesting speakers was R. H. Edwards, International Social Service Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. He made seven addresses in all and reached a total of 555 different people speaking on a different subject to each of his seven audiences. These included the students in the following departments: Education, Law, Science and Agriculture. In addition to addressing 250 Transylvania stu-

KEITH VAUDEVILLE—BEN ALI.

Beginning with the matinee today Keith Vaudeville will be the attraction at the Ben Ali for the rest of the week, with daily matinee. The bill selected for this week is one of the best that could be procured, and is sure to prove as pleasing as those presented in the past. The arrangement is somewhat different and the acts selected are a decided change from anything presented here in the past. Although the bill is not complete enough is known to assure the public of a rare treat. Ernie and Ernie, the monopede and German girl, are a whole show in themselves; Cartmelt and Harris, singing and dancing, present something new; Sam Curtis and Company, in a marital episode, entitled "Good Bye, Boys," have a delightful comedy sketch; Haydon, Burton and Haydon, in artistic oddities, and three others to be announced sound out a high class entertainment. "Within the Law" is booked for an early appearance.

THE PHILOSOPHIAN.

The Philosopher Literary Society will hold its regular meeting, Tuesday, March 17, 1914.

The program for this week is a headliner, and a splendid attendance is expected.

Social Service—Dr. Tutthill.
Vocal Solo—Miss Corinne Noel.

COUNTRY BOYS' CREED FOR YOUNG VIRGINIA FARMERS

In every schoolhouse in Prince Edward County, Va., a placard containing a creed for the American country boy and dedicated to the Boys' Corn Club of Virginia, has been posted. It reads: "COUNTRY BOYS' CREED."

"I believe that the country which God made is more beautiful than the city which man made; that life out of doors and in touch with the earth is the natural life of man. I believe that work with nature is more inspiring than work with the most intricate machinery. I believe that the dignity of labor depends not on what you do, but how you do it; that opportunity comes to a boy on the farm as often as to a boy in the city; that life is larger and freer and happier on the farm than in the town; that my success depends not upon my location, but upon myself; not upon my dreams, but upon what I actually do; not upon luck, but upon pluck. I believe in working when you work and in playing when you play, and in giving and demanding a square deal in every act of life."

THE BEGGAR.

Maimed and poor, with clothes threadbare, he begged of the passers by. Whose coats were warm, but hearts too cold, to hear a maimed man's cry.

"Till a little boy with rosy cheeks passed with his sister small, Three flowers he wore upon his coat to the beggar he offered all, The beggar said, as he shook his head, "one will do for me." He kissed the hand that held the flowers, and took one of the three.

Debates, in which Latin only will be spoken, are scheduled at Boston University.

PATT. HALL.

Miss Marguerite Schweers is ill at her home in Frankfort.

Miss Mary Mayes was the guest of Miss LeL Roberts, for the Sophomore dance.

Mrs. H. D. McChesney, who has been visiting at the Hall for some weeks, left Monday for her home.

Miss Julia Eastin was the guest of Miss Elizabeth Eldridge, Sunday.

Mrs. Hopkins, of Louisville, came up Tuesday for the play that night.

Miss Katharyne Farra, of Midway, was the guest of her sister, Miss Betty Farra, Sunday.

Saturday we all stood on the front steps, posing for our picture.—One more item that goes to make the Annual worth while.

Miss Dorothy Chambers, of Paris, was an honored guest at the Hall Saturday.

Miss Alla Turner is at present our principal invalid.

"Moving Day" is over and all those who were compelled to oin the ranks of the movers, have gotten settled comfortably in their new homes.

Miss Mariam Ginn spent the week end with her mother and sister at the Hall.

Misses Holmquist, Smith and Brown who were here all last week engaged in Y. W. C. A. work, left early this week to continue their work in other fields.

BROKE, BROKE, BROKE.

Broke, broke, broke,
Of my hard-earned bones, Oh, gee!
And it helps dull little to utter,
The thoughts that arise in me.

Oh, well for the two-dollar shows,
And the flowers and candy each day;
Oh, well for the haunting thought
That intrudes, "Does the whole thing pay?"

And the "blowing" still goes on,
As it has in years gone by;
And the past of social pleasures,
Brings back the same old cry.

Broke, broke, broke,
Not a single cent, Oh, gee!
And the dough that I spent for that little girl,
Will never come back to me.

REPUBLICAN CLUB ORGANIZED

At the instance of C. W. Hoskins, W. W. Chambers, M. O. Wheeler, O. M. Edwards and Charles C. Wilson, a meeting of all Republicans in the University was called for 7:30 o'clock Friday evening, March 13th. A large crowd responded and most enthusiastic meeting resulted. Charles C. Wilson was elected president; W. W. Chambers, vice president, and M. O. Wheeler, secretary. A committee of five was appointed to prepare a constitution to be submitted at the next meeting, which is to be held March 20th, at 7:30 p. m.

The purpose of the organization is that of a political club, to study the history of the party, the lives of its illustrious leaders, and the political question that are before the people today. These men do not believe that the Republican party has outlived its usefulness, to the contrary, they believe that it will come back a winner in 1916. The "Mugwumps" are already coming back into the fold by the thousands. These fellows believe that when the people come to compare the wishy-washy diplomacy of the schoolmaster and his tin-horn secretary of State with the solid administration that preceded them and that when the experiments of the Democratic Congress begin to pinch the people that they will cry out "Oh Lord, how long? Deliver us from this Babylon. Let us walk again in the sunny vales of Canaan, where peace and plenty abide."

ALUMNI NOTES.

At a recent meeting of the Kentucky State University Alumni Association of Chicago the subject of the visit to Chicago of the Senior Engineering Class was discussed and the members of the Association expressed their gratification that they will be present to welcome the visitors.

This is a meeting which we consider of importance because it brings us in contact with the men who are starting out from the University as we did a few years ago, and also with some of the men we knew during the time we spent at the University.

Some of the men will locate in Chicago, and we wish that each of them, and also that each member of the other departments of the University who comes to Chicago, will write to me or to the secretary, Mr. H. N. Lowry, and advise us when he will arrive. We will be pleased to assist him in securing a suitable location, and to initiate him as far as possible into the pleasures to be derived from life in Chicago.

Athletic Notes

HERSHEL SCOTT,
President "K" Association.

At a recent meeting of the wearers of the "K," Hershel Scott was elected president to take the place of "Brick" Chambers, who has been president since the beginning of the last school year. Not only is Scott one of the best athletes in school, but he is one of these great big, high-hearted men who has the interests of the school at heart. A higher type of athlete than Scott is seldom found and certainly never a harder and more conscientious worker. He will be a worthy successor to Chambers as head of the association and will make that body a strong factor for bigger and better athletics.

FRESHMEN ARE GIVEN CLASS CHAMPIONSHIP UNDER VARSITY

By the decision of Coach Brummage and the athletic committee the Freshmen basket ball team was given the championship of the University under the Varsity team. The Freshmen have played and defeated all the class teams of note in the school and so are given the title. Should any team wish to dispute this claim of the Freshmen, it will have to back their claim by playing the Freshies a game. The Freshmen have also played several teams from other schools and have made a remarkable showing as a class team.

PUNTS, SPRINTS, FREE-THROWS AND STRIKE-OUTS

Karl Zerfoss, after winning the basket ball game against the University of Louisville, March 3rd: "This is our thirteenth victory, made on the third day of the third month and on the third day of the week. Our score was twice thirteen and the opponents' thirteen."

The interest shown by the high schools in the State-wide track meet to be held here on the 7th, 8th and 9th of May is encouraging. The prospects are for a bigger and better meet than ever before.

Tom Zorfoss is back at work again after a two-month lay-off on account of an injury to his knee. Tom wants to play third base on the base ball team. If Tom can play as well on the diamond as he does on the gridiron and basket ball court, his services will be indispensable to the team.

More claimants for the girls' basket ball championship of the State appear nearly every week. The first claimant was the University of Louisville girls. Since their defeat by our girls they have been beaten by the Transylvania girls, who in turn claim championship. Now comes a claim by the Kentucky Wesleyan girls after defeating a high school team from Shelbyville. Where did the Shelbyville girls get the championship? Perhaps Georgetown gave it to them.

It looks good to see Crutcher back at hard work again. Crutcher has announced his determination to make a place on the track team and has already begun training. Big Woodson, who has also been hibernating since Thanksgiving, is back at work.

Under the supervision of Captain Wright, one or more portable batting cages will be constructed for the use of the base ball men this spring. Two of the mechanical engineering students are working on them outside their shop hours.

Abe Roth has announced he will not try for the track team this spring on account of the heavy work he has during the spring term. The loss of Abe will be a hard one on the track team as he has been a certain point winner in all meets he has entered. Abe has a big hearted way of looking at things and it is hoped he will change his mind when outside work begins.

The Freshman basket ball team has played great basket ball this season and should afford some good material for the Varsity next year. Sandlin, Jones and Schwant have been great point-getters while Hopkins, Peak, Clark and Hubble have guarded well. Gumbert, the team captain, was drafted by Tuttle in mid-season, and has played great ball on the Varsity.

Prof. C. P. Weaver has been giving his services to the Freshmen basket ball team in preparation for their games since February 1st. The team has been greatly helped by his work and all greatly appreciate what he is doing.

The faculty basket ball team had a very interesting game with the faculty of the State Normal School at Richmond on the sixth inst. Our faculty won very easily by a score of 47 to 12. Prof. Tigert, Prof. Downing, Prof. Spahr, Prof. Rasmussen, Prof. Snider and Prof. "Doc" Rhoades made up the team. Prof. Tigert lead in the scoring with eight field goals while his teammate, Prof. Rasmussen, was a close second with seven. A return game will be played at the city auditorium next week. The faculty team will also play a game with the faculty team from Berea College.

Alpha Brumage, Physical and Athletic Director, addressed a meeting of the patrons of the Frankfort High School in Frankfort on the sixth inst., on the subject, "Physical Training in the Graded and High Schools." The Frankfort people are making a great effort to build a gymnasium for their school boys and girls. It will not be long until every city and village school will have gymnasiums.

The faculty of Oberlin College has passed a regulation requiring students to have good scholastic standing before doing any work in college activities.

TIGERT SELECTS ALL-KENTUCKY INTERCOLLEGIATE ALL-KENTUCKY TEAM.

Preston, of State, being counted out, Coleman, of Central, and Barnett, of Georgetown, two big men, are the two best centers, with Coleman probably the better of the two by an eyelash. One forward goes to T. Zerfoss, of State, and the other to Rhoton, the plucky little captain of the K. I. A. A. champions. I do not see how a better pair of guards could be found for the All-Kentucky Intercollegiate than Tuttle and Scott, of State. Rhoton would make an ideal captain, as he has been a wonderful help to Coach Hinton and to his team-mates in this particular.

The Line-Up.

Coleman, Central University, center. Rhoton, Georgetown College, right forward and captain.

T. Zerfoss, State University, left forward.

Tuttle, State University right guard. Scott, State University, left guard.

Intercollegiate All-Kentucky Women's Team.

The University of Louisville met Transylvania and State Universities twice, winning from each in Lexington by large scores, 32 to 15 and 23 to 12, respectively, but lost both of the return games in Louisville by one point. State and Transylvania failed to meet. This leaves the championship pretty much the same kind of a puzzle we find in the men's teams. Though State University established a clear claim to the championship the two previous seasons, defeating Louisville decisively, yet on this season's play Louisville would seem to have the better of the argument by a shade, having amassed 42 points to State's 32 points in the two games played.

In selecting the All-Kentucky team for women, no one would hesitate to pick Miss Gough, of Louisville, as the first choice and captain. She would play right forward, being by far the best point scorer in the State. Miss Bailey, of Transylvania, would make an excellent running mate for Miss Gough at left forward. Miss Wimp, of Louisville, and Miss McChesney, of State, are two other good forwards, but the latter did not play the position long enough to be reliable in shooting. The center position lies between Miss Hughes, of State, and Miss Hoskins, of Louisville. The latter is an excellent player, but Miss Hughes would gain the place over her because of superior strength and size, though not so strong as the Louisville girl on the defense. Miss Durbin, of Transylvania, is large and splendid on the jump, but her lack of speed and goal-shooting place her below the others mentioned. Miss Heller, of State, proved the best guard of the year. She is large and powerful and more than any one else was responsible for Louisville's defeat at the hands of State. Miss McChesney, with her wonderful speed and experience at forward this year, would make an ideal running guard to play with Miss Heller.

The Line-Up.

Miss Gough, University of Louisville, right forward and captain. Miss Bailey, Transylvania University, left forward.

Miss Hughes, State University, center.

Miss McChesney, State University, right guard.

Miss Heller, State University, left guard.

FRESHMEN DANCE.

To Be Given by the Class of 1917. Juniors Will be Invited as a Class.

The social function of the Freshmen this year will be a class dance. At a meeting last Thursday it was unanimously decided that the class should entertain with a dance as to be given in the Armory. There had been considerable discussion as to the nature of the Freshmen entertainment, and now that a dance has been settled upon, it promises to be a very pleasant affair.

No definite arrangements have yet been made, but the committee in charge will provide the very best music and refreshments will also be served. The Juniors are to be invited as a class and will be received by the Freshmen without individual bids. Others will be presented with cards of admission.

END OF THE FRANK-
FORT EMBROGLIO

It has been said that every time the Legislature meets, the State of Kentucky receives a back-set of five years. This thrust, however, is unable to be justified. If that were true we would have become forty-five years behind since 1900. The State of Kentucky does not want for the resources of the earth. It is not in debt very deep monetarily. The great need we have is men, enough interested in a healthy commonwealth to go to the General Assembly and right the wrongs they howl about.

Last night was the end of the world with the Assemblymen and they passed the early morning hours playing football with paper baskets and squalling like irresponsible savages. The Senate was calm always, showing the sense of added years and the earnestness of a deeper trust imposed in them.

State-wide prohibition was lost in the Senate and the liquor springs will be bubbling two years longer in Kentucky. The two and a half cent rate was smothered as well. When you try to find in the entire session a piece of constructive legislation you search in vain. The very nonsense of building another monument to Goebel for the sake of politics. A capital with Lincoln inside and Goebel standing out in front wearing the cloud of martyrdom on his brow!

We need to build more and better schools to be monuments to all. We want schools where the head and heart can be trained and not so many asylums and jail houses are needed.

Frankfort teaches a wholesome lesson to a close observer when he notices that there is only a river between the lawmakers and lawbreakers and the bridge across is wide.

For some time there has been a large fish net stretched on the capital grounds waiting and drying until the Legislature closed and the "sucker" season is over.

If we never go ahead until we know we are right, there is little chance of ever getting there because it has been our lot to learn that when so many people get to differing with you it is hard sometimes to keep from differing with yourself.

How fickle is fame! One man said, "Millions for defense, but not one cent for tribute," and was made immortal by those nine words. One patriot said, "Give me liberty or give me death." Another said "A little more grape, Captain Bragg." These few words soliloquies seem to take well and we suggest to Villa that while he is yet unpunctured, he spout off a little to the history gallery.

REVIEW OF BASKET BALL SEASON

It seems fitting that some discussion should be given the basket ball season which has just closed. When Coach Brumage took the squad in hand he was fortunate in having some good men as a foundation, among whom were Preston, Tuttle, Scott, Morgan, Schrader and Karl Zerfoss. In addition to these several new men showed up well and added strength to the team, the work of Tom Zerfoss and Gumbert being especially worthy of comment.

Everyone is well pleased with the coaching done by Mr. Brumage and was pleased with the schedule arranged by Manager R. A. Norris.

The plan of holding the games in the City Auditorium has allowed a greater seating capacity, yet the seats do not afford the spectators an unobstructed view unless those except occupying the first and second rows stand during the game. The attendance this year has been better than ever before, due perhaps to the season tickets.

The number of victories was large there being only two defeats and those sustained on the trip when the boys were not at their best and also due to unfavorable floors.

We were unfortunate in losing Preston and Tom Zerfoss near the middle of the season which hurt the team considerably.

We forbear individual comment but, taking a comprehensive view of the season, wish to express our thanks for the men who gave their time and efforts in turning out a winning team and in this we must not forget the scrubs who heped so much in training the team. The basket ball season has satisfied all of us and stamp it with our approval.

AN OLD STORY.

The editor sat in his sanctum his feet were on the floor,
His mien was fierce and vicious, his eye was full of gore,
His hair was tousled and matted, his pencil sawed the air,
Papers littered the floor while his fingers tore his hair,
He was not drunk or crazy, he was not wild from booze,
But he could not go to press because there was no news.
—Exchange.

Percy—"Josephine promised me her hand last night, Mr. Smith, and I just dropped in to ask if there is any insanity in the family."
Mr. Smith—"There must be."

Bob—"What would you do if you were in my shoes?"
Mary—"Point 'em towards the door and give 'em a start."

WHO'S WHO AT STATE.

To think of subjects and persons of importance is always a source of great pleasure. To know and have as a friend a youth who is intelligent, manly and enraptured with zeal always presents many kind thoughts and blessings upon his comrade.

From the mountains of Kentucky there came a young man by the name of Henry L. Spencer, to State, who has always performed wonderful things in his undertakings. Before coming to State he had spent several days in a Georgian High School, where he graduated with honors. Henry is very typical of the mountain people, with a big heart and a clear conscience.

Prior to his Senior year Spencer was very closely related to the law department and the Union Literary Society. In the Henry Clay Law Society he has always been a faithful member. In the Union Society Spencer has always been present and endeavoring to his fellow members on the real literary highway.

Thus seeing in him a man of ability and energy he was chosen class orator by his Senior friends. Not only does he deal in forensics, but for the year has been editor-in-chief of the Kentucky Law Journal. Under his supervision and by the aid of his pen the Journal has become a paper of much worth to the University as well as the Law Department.

Henry expects to journey over to Jackson after receiving his diploma, where he will practice faithfully the science of jurisprudence. We know that success only awaits him at the bar, for he is one who will weave the golden web of opportunity and live a life crowned with honor.

THE EMOTIONAL YOUNG MAN.

The exceptional young man is the one who looks upon his employer's interests as he would his own, who regards his vocation as an opportunity to make a man of himself, an opportunity to show his employer the stuff he is made of, and who is always preparing himself to fill the position above him. The exceptional young man is the one who never says, "I was not paid to do that;" "I don't get salary enough to work after hours or to take so much pains." He never leaves things half done, but does everything to a finish.

The exceptional young man is the one who studies his employer's business, who reads it's literature, who is on the watch for every improvement which others in the same line have adopted and which his employer has not, who is always improving himself during his spare time for larger things.—Andrew Carnegie.

WHY SHE SPURNED HIM.

"Nay, touch me not," Eliza cried,
When I would fain embrace her;
"I vow I'll give an awful scream,
Unless you keep away, sir."

"What! has your love," I madly asked,
"As quick as this abated?"
"Of course not, silly," she replied,
"But I've been vaccinated."

YOUNG MEN IN SEARCH OF THEIR SOUL-MATES

Bachelors are generally picayunes is a belief among not a few women. But they are not. To be a bachelor is not to be mean, stingy, crabbed or displeased with women. Many a man has loved the world and its beauty and yet has not been fortune-favored in his search for the "Supreme Her." Look at the grass-widowers everywhere and see, too, the widows, grass and sod. See how many old maids and bachelors are scattered about among the happily married families. All these strange and lovely "birds" both of feather and plume are misfits in a world of love and companionship. Much rather would I be a bachelor than a divorced house-husband.

We are not gifted like the birds and varmints. They find their fur and feather life-comrades per accidents and go on in glee together. But we find our brides in another way. We see a lady and after a few gazes and winks decide she is not the mate of our soul. We dance with them, prance and spoon and croon and bay at the moon, pray over it, then cuss about it and ultimately conclude that we have not yet discovered the Queen of Dreams, the Sugar-Bowl Duchess, or the One Apple-Eating Freak of our lives. The trouble is found in the superstition that there is a soul-mate and if we fail to find that "divine and destined She," we are lost.

The legend of a "One Ordained Turtle Dove" is as false as the old idea of witchcraft, and a very good way to select her is to close the eyes, not entirely shut, and take one and trust to God for the future.

EDITORIAL.

The editors of this page have not inclined to editorializing, believing that the editor-in-chief of the paper is well able to hold that material. Today, however, the sun's rays are so enticing, the air so invigorating and the blue of the sky so appealing that we are filled with a mighty temptation to leave even the routine composition of the news and rush out into the open fields, throwing away our bonds and shackles in the realization of life's freedom.

It is the danger that lies in yielding to this temptation which leads us to write. The final term of the year is at hand. The use you make of it may have a stronger bearing than you think on the ultimate success of your college course. Each term has its distractions, some more disturbing than others, the music of ivory against ivory in the pool room, the idle conversation. Now comes to the red-blooded youth the call of the fields and unable to answer the call in person, his thoughts fulfill his mission. Brace yourselves against the attack and make the acquirement of training for life's battle the guiding star of your endeavors. "Forewarned is forearmed."

The faculty of Denison University have voted to abolish sororities at Shephardson College, the women's department of the institution. The method to be pursued will be to forbid the pledging or initiation of any new members. In this way the chapters will automatically become extinct within four years.

The will of Lord Strathcona, former Dean of McGill University at Montreal, among other bequests, leaves a million to the Royal Victoria College at Montreal, $25,000 to the University of Aberdeen for the creation of a chair in agriculture and $100,000 to Queen's University at Kingston, Ontario.

THE FOURTEEN FARADAY SOCIETY TO ENTERTAIN

Informal Reception in Mechanical Hall on Eve of Departure for Chicago.

Saturday night of this week marks the closing of Senior class work, the passing of the last mile-stone before the goal, the final step but one on the ladder to scholastic attainment. The morrow will bring the long-anticipated Chicago trip, the thesis, the final lap in a collegiate marathon. It is indeed fitting, that so important a date should not pass unnoted, but rather that it should be made the occasion of a most memorable affair. With accustomed enthusiasm the "Faradays" are preparing to invite their friends among the gentler sex to unite with them in this big event. Indications point to a most pleasant evening for both, a fitting prelude to the journey ahead. When the last "Good-nights" have been said and each one has directed his lagging steps toward the place he calls home, may the memories of this final party bring a smile to the lips, a gentle balm to the weary brain and a forgetfulness of all the petty strifes and worries now agone.

THE SENIOR TRIP.

The custom, of many years' standing, giving to the Senior class an opportunity of visiting the great city of Chicago with its myriad activities, tremendous engineering problems and mammoth industries, has become an integral part of the Mechanical and Electrical Engineering Course. Inaugurated many years ago, by the far-seeing Dean Anderson, its benefits are now apparent to the most casual observer.

It is not, however, altogether the mere inspection trip that forms the model for this little journey into the West. On the last night of the stay in the Windy City the class is entertained by the State University Alumni Association of Chicago," and there springs up between the "old grad" and the ambitious Senior a comradeship of which too much cannot be said in praise.

The trip will this year be taken by the entire Senior Class, accompanied by Dean Anderson and Mr. Cassidy. Among the places to be visited might be mentioned the Western Electric Company, the Pullman Car Company, the Gary Steel Works, the Water Supply Intake on Lake Michigan, and numerous others equally of value to the budding engineer. The party will leave Lexington the night of the twenty-second, returning the night of the twenty-ninth.

THE JUNIOR TRIP.

Some two-score of the Class of 1915 boarded the north-bound Q. & C. Tuesday afternoon and the Junior trip was begun. Opening with a day in Cincinnati, the itinerary calls for a day in Hamilton, one in Dayton and the return to Cincinnati Saturday. Included in the list of places to be visited might be mentioned the National Cash Register Company, the Niles Tool Works, the Hamilton Corliss Engine Works, the American Tool Works and several others of equal standing in the industrial world. As in the case of the Seniors, the Juniors will temper the routine of inspection with a theatre party in one or two of these towns, rounding out a profitable day with an evening's enjoyment. Prof. L. K. Frankel is in charge of the party and under his leadership there promises much benefit to accrue. The return from Cincinnati will be made on Saturday night.

UNION LITERARY SOCIETY.

Holds Interesting Meeting.—Election of Officers.

Saturday night the Union Literary Society met in regular session, and one of the most interesting meetings of the season was held. There was a large attendance and all took an active part in the meeting. Because of the importance of the occasion, the debate was dispensed with and the election of officers for the third term was taken up.

The highest honors of the society, that of president, was placed upon Joseph Roemer. His work in the past has brought many honors to the Society, and has caused him to be admired by all the members.

Those elected were:
President—Joe Roemer.
Vice President—Otto Jones.
Secretary—J. H. Coleman.
Treasurer—O. W. Crowder.
Prosecuting Attorney—T. N. House.
Corresponding Secretary—Clarence Clark.

Librarian—Geo. R. Smith.
Janitor—Donavan.
The program next Saturday will be a try-out for the Freshman team, which is to meet the Freshman team of the Patterson Society. The subject to be debated is, "Resolved, That the right of suffrage should be controlled by educational qualifications." A warm discussion is promised.

size the versatility and strength of the men. Bad luck was with the team at all times after the last week in January, but the men always rallied in their fight and were never really outclassed. For this reason I pick all men from the State University team.

Perhaps the best man in the State at center was Preston. It is alleged that he was the best man in basket ball last year and again this year. Preston's work in the first nine games of the season was high class. His defensive and offensive work, his goal shooting and his all round generalship could seldom be criticized. However, because of his being suspended by the faculty athletic committee on account of alleged professionalism I will not consider him for the All-State team. For his place I will name Carl Zerfoss. Zerfoss developed into one of the best players on the team. In early season he seemed to be outclassed a bit by five of the men, yet he never failed to deliver when he was called upon. After mid-season, when he was called to play first one position and then another, he was always to be relied upon. At times his work was nothing short of phenomenal. For the forward positions Tom Zerfoss and Ralph Morgan were always consistent performers. Tom was a great point getter and showed faster class than any other forward met this year. Morgan's work was never of the sensational variety, but no guard could ever leave him without danger of being scored upon. Tuttle and Scott, in my opinion, are the best guards this State has seen in years. I have never seen two guards who performed as well as they. Either could run the floor and get a goal at any time, while as for holding their forwards to a nothing score, they could come as near as any men. I would place Tuttle in charge of the team the same as he was all year. Thus my team would be.

Forwards—Morgan and Tom Zerfoss.
Center—Carl Zerfoss.
Guards—Tuttle (capt.) and Scott.

You will notice that I have made no mention of the players on the various Y. M. C. A. teams. I have made this team strictly a college affair. I do not think the Y. M. C. A. teams should be classed with the college teams because of the different style game they play. Nearly all the association teams play only a A. A. U. game and very few make any showing at the intercollegiate game.

For a second team I would place Park and Gumbert of the State University team at two positions and would get the other three men from the teams of the K. I. A.

which they lived more comfortably. Using the state rifle range many of the students qualified for "marksman" by making 92 out of a possible 150. Camp was finally broken on August 14, the men receiving their certificates of attendance.

The War Department, following the successful plan of last summer, will establish this summer four Military Instruction Camps for College Students and graduates between the ages of eighteen and thirty, to last for a period of five weeks. In the camps a fine training is given to the men in infantry drill and manoeuvres, and they are also instructed in the work of the artillery, cavalry, engineer and signal corps, in their relation to infantry attack, defense, etc. The work is constantly varied, the elementary part is rapidly covered, and the more important problems are dealt with by able officers of the U. S. Army.

The War Department details troops of all branches to these camps for the better instruction of the men. The idea back of the camps is to build up a reserve force from which officers of volunteers can be drawn in time of war. The total cost of attending the camps is $22.50—$17.50 for subsistence and $5 for uniform.

One camp will be at Burlington, Vt., from July 6th to August 7th, inclusive; another at Monterey, Calif., from June 26th to July 31st, inclusive, and another in the mountain and spring region of Virginia, or a little to the South, and the fourth on the eastern shore of Lake Michigan, the exact location and the dates for the two latter encampments to be announced later.

BEHOLD, BYSTANDER!

Perhaps you have heard of oratory. Well, we all have, but the kind we've heard our grandfathers speak of is seldom heard nowadays.

In the balmy days of Clay and Webster, oratory was a talent, which, when possessed, made its possessor almost superhuman; men traveled a long way to hear an orator; they were raised and lowered by the flow of flowery and stupendous words; they extolled him to the skies and went home with his name forever a blaze of brilliant fame.

However time, as fickle as fashion, has changed and the gay colored frocks of oratory have gone out of style. Sound reason better fits the hearers.

But nevertheless, we all like to hear an occasion fight into that ancient art of our forefather. Opportunities present themselves and we grab the chance. So if you like oratory, that old Ciceronian kind, come to chapel Friday night, March 27.
