

Judge Eastlake presents his compliments to Mrs Green whose letter has followed her with the lumber, which must account for the delay in acknowledging it.

Judge Eastlake begs to assure Mrs Green that she will have much pleasure in mentioning the work in question "Lord