

Boston May 12th 1836

Mr Harris

Sir,

When I saw you last in Boston, you told me that there was a paper, if I recollect rightly, in your bookstore containing some subscribers for my paper called Tractarian No. Will you be so kind as to favour me with a line, stating how many subscribers, there are, how many of the books I had better send you, and take the trouble to deliver them No. 1 and whether you would take a few on commission, and at what rate &c.

With respect,

Your obedient servant,

Thos B Thompson.

Author of a poem called Sensible Frustration also Editor of the New England Farmer
