Dear Mr. North,

Many thanks for your prompt reply to my letter. I am very glad the Kelly letters did not go astray, but you omitted to tell me the date of the last letter I copied; please do so in your next so that I can let you have the series complete, without overlapping or omissions.

How I should like to be present at that Lambeth exhibition at the feet

Club! Do you think they would care for a contribution from me in the shape of photos of relics of Lamb which are in this country? These are

- (1) Photo of a round mahogany table, once the property of Mr Westwood, at which the Lamb dined when boardy with the W's, & mentioned by Lamb as his 'table d'hôte'.
- (2) Photo of a pair of silver Candlesticks, which Mary Lamb gave to Mr Westwood on leaving their house for Edmonton.

(3) Photo of a miniature of Mrs Reynolds, Lamb's old governess, as a young woman. Given by Lamb to Thomas Westwood.

These are all in the possession of a descendant of Thos. Westwood.

There is also a charming, unknown portrait of Fanny Kelly in our National Portrait gallery, of which I have a photo, & could easily get another for the exhibition if desired.

Perhaps you will find out whether these little contributions would be acceptable. I should love to have a catalogue, if one is issued, also one of the Ainger letters, if you can secure one.

Kind regards

Yours sincerely

J. A. Anderson
