

a few copies of a half naval book of mine
"The Man without a Country"

I am afraid you no longer have the use of her Library, - and take the liberty of enclosing a copy to you, - which will arrive I hope, - under another cover -

Believe me, - with great respect
Always yours
Edward E Hale.

Roxbury; Mass -
Sept. 26. 1860

My dear Admiral Dewey;
I am sorry to learn from my sister that I have missed a visit from you, in my absence from home -

I shall do myself the honour to return it when I am next in Washington
I left on the Olympia
