Dear Sir:

I have received your letter & the kind present of your book of verse that accompanies it.
I cannot do justice to reading
it while I am here in town,
but when I get back to the Country I shall be able to do so.

The one or two poems that I have already looked at impress me much.

Yours truly
Wm. Hardy.
