Dear Miss Kelly,
All our pleasant prospects of seeing you here are dashed.
Poor Mary was taken last night with the beginning of one of her sad illnesses which last so long. I am here in a new house ^{with her and} ~~without her company~~. What I expected to be so comfortable, has proved gloomily. But I hope she will get thro' it, & enjoy our choice. I hardly know what I write. God bless you, and our common friends.
Yours most truly
