Sept. 18. (Monday)

Dear Mr. Rees,

I am much flattered by your request that I should review the Life of Salisbury in the Sunday Times and if I had been free it would have interested me very much to undertake this task. But unfortunately it will be impossible for me at the moment. I shall be resuming work next week on a Committee which is inquiring into the position of Indian Students in this country & we have to visit London University, Newcastle University & the Welsh Colleges before the middle of October when we go to India.

I shall therefore have no time to read and review Lady Swendin's Life of her father.

I am with many regrets

Yours sincerely

Lytton
