

13 March 1911

My dear Lord Justice

If the gods are propitious I shall be out of London for a week covering the 25th. I want to take my wife to the sea side, and after the Estimates I too shall ~~need~~^{need} fresh air. I wish I had been free to accept your very kind invitation to dine with you at the Savage Club. The experience would have been new to me.

Yours very sincerely
Reginald A. Kenner
